CUBA RELIEVED OF SPAIN'S YOKE!

Government of Island Formally Turned Over to American Commission.

Old Glory Now Floats Over Havana--Ceremonies of Transfer Were of a Simple Nature---Spanish General Was Moved to Tears.

The sovereignty of Cuba passed from Spain to the United States at noon Sunday.

The form of the transfer which took place at Havana was simple, consisting only of an exchange of speeches in the salon of the palace, the hauling down of the Spanish flag and the raising in its stead of the flag of the United States on the flagstaff of the palace roof. Salutes were fired from the heavy guns of the forts and the warships before and after the change of flags.

The raising of the stars and stripes was greeted with cheers by the people who covered the roofs around the palace and plaza.

No crowd was permitted to gather in the streets in the vicinity of the palace to witness the epoch making function. At 9 o'clock a guard composed of the second battalion of the Tenth infantry marched into the Plaza de Arms, under command of Captain Van Vliet, and formed around the square.

Brigadier General Clous, the master of the day, at 10:30 o'clock issued instructions to the officers who were to take charge of the various departments of the government at 12 o'clock. Colonel Dudley was assigned to the department of justice, office of the secretary of the captain general; Major L. W. V. Kennon, adjutant general of the department, to the department of commerce and agriculture; Colonel T. U. Bliss, of the commissary department, to the treasury; Captain Frank B. Hanna, assistant adjutant general to the department of public instruction, and Colonel Dunwoody, of the signal corps, to the public works department. Each of these officers was instructed thus:

"On the firing of the last gun of the first twenty-one at noon you are to go to the place assigned you and demand possession of the office in the name of the United States."

These orders were given under the arcade of the palace. Each officer had with him a Cuban interpreter.

At 11:45 Major General Lee, military governor of the province of Havana, with his staff, joined General Brooke. The latter then crossed the street to the palace, General Lee on one side of him and General Chaffee on the other, followed by the other American generals and the Cuban officers. The Cubans wore dark blue uniforms, brown felt hats and gray gloves and they carried machetes.

A flourish of trumpets greeted the procession and the Spanish troops presented arms as the Americans entered the palace. The Cubans remained outside until escorted in by members of General Brooke's staff, the Spanish soldiery remaining all the while at "present arms."

At this point Captain General Castellanos entered the salon without ceremony and greeted General Brooke and others.

British Vice Consul Jerome introduced him to General Mayia Rodriguez. Shaking both the hands of the Cuban officer, in the usual Spanish fashion, General Castellanos said:

"We have been enemies, but I respect you for your correct attitudes and opinions. I have pleasure in shaking your hands."

General Rodriguez replied:

"I thank you, general. I feel sorry for the Spanish army which has defended the banner it has sworn to defend. I also have pleasure in shaking your hands."

Captain General Castellanos then took his position near Major General Brooke.

At the last stroke of 12 the boom of a gun brought all eyes to the point in the room where stood the captain general, who was talking with an American officer. Immediately all was silence. The captain general stepped to the left, taking his position directly in front of his staff. On his right stood Captain J. S. Hart, interpreter to the United States military commission. Next to Captain Hart, in the order named, were Generals Chaffee, Brooke, Ludlow, Lee, Wade, Butler and Clous. Immediately behind Chaffee was Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia.

American Flag Goes Up.

At this moment the band on the plaza was playing the Spanish national hymn. As the guns at Cabanas fortress ceased firing there was a breathless pause in the salon. Everybody knew that the American flag was being raised on the staff on the roof of the palace by Major Butler, son of General Butler, and that the stars and stripes were going up on all the other official staffs in Havana.

After a second of silence the band on the plaza played "The Star Spangled Banner," while the guns of the fleet and fortresses began to roar out the national salute of twenty-one guns.

Immediately Captain General Castellanos handed the manuscript of his speech to Captain Hart and began to speak.

Addressing himself to General Wade, president of the United States military commission, though he seemed to look at the floor, General Castellanos said:

Gentlemen—In compliance with the treaty of Paris, the agreement of the military commissioners of the island and the orders of my king, at this moment of noon, January 1, 1899, there ceases in Cuba Spanish sovereignty and begins that of the United States. In consequence I declare you in command of the island, with the object that you may exercise it, declaring to you that I will be first in respecting it. Peace having been established between our respective governments, I promise you to give all due respect to the United States government, and I hope that the good relations already existing between our armies will continue until the termination of the evacuation of those under my orders in this territory.

After Captain Hart had translated the address General Wade said to General Brooke: "I transfer this command to you."

Major General Brooke said: "I accept this great trust in behalf of the government and president of the United States, and"—addressing Captain General Castellanos—"I wish you and the gallant gentlemen with you a pleasant return to your native land. May prosperity attend you and all who are with you."

Generals Brooke and Castellanos then shook hands, after which General Castellanos and staff retired from the throne-room.

Meanwhile the officials of Spain were saying farewell to their nation's seat of power in the new world. Turning to his officers, General Castellanos said with tears in his eyes:

Gentlemen—I have been in more battle than I have hairs on my head, and my self-possession has never failed me until today. Adieu, gentlemen, adieu.

At the corner of the plaza, with tears in his eyes, he turned to take a final look at the palace. He could see the American generals on the balcony. Without a word he turned sharply in the direction of the wharf. History had reversed the "Last Sigh of the Moor." At the dock Generals Clous and Chaffee bade him farewell and the retiring captain general put off for the Spanish transport Rabat.

Major General Brooke held a reception in the palace salon, the various officials paying their respects and promising allegiance to the United States. First came the doctors of the University of Havana, President Barriel at their head. Next came the municipal authorities headed by the mayor, and after them the Economical Society. Then came the firemen. Numerous speeches were made, to all of which General Brooke briefly replied.

President Notified.

The United States military commissioners wired President McKinly at 12:30 o'clock that the governor general of Cuba had formerly surrendered to the commission the government of Cuba and that the American flag had been hoisted. In reply, General Wade, president of the commission, received the following:

"I congratulate the commission upon the successful termination of its mission and the peaceful occupation of Cuba by the United States.

"WILLIAM MCKINLEY."

General Brooke also received the president's congratulations.

THE LIABILITIES GROW.

A Boston Failure Proves To Be of Big Proportions.

While no statement has yet been made the total liabilities of the Assabet Manufacturing Company at Boston, Mass., may reach from $1,000,000 to $1,200,000. The heaviest indebtedness to any one firm is stated to be about $50,000. Another firm is said to hold $35,000, while other houses vary in approximate amounts from $7,000 to $10,000.

SPANISH PRESS COMMENTS

Are Sad In Tone But of a Dignified Nature.

The New Year editorials in the Madrid press are sad and dignified reminders that the hoisting of the United States flag in Cuba and the Philippines means the closing of four centuries of Spanish colonial history.

With suppressed emotion, rather than bitterness, the papers exhort the people to have confidence in their recuperative powers.

While at no ... during the trial had Mrs. Botkin expressed herself as anticipating such a verdict, she received it with remarkable calmness, exhibiting no trace of emotion, though she sat close to her sister, Mrs. Roberts, and seemed to look to her for sympathy. After the jury had been polled in the usual manner, Judge Cook announced that sentence would be pronounced on Saturday, January 7th. He then remanded the prisoner to the custody of the sheriff, to be imprisoned in the county jail until called to pronounce sentence, when she will be removed to the penitentiary.

When the courtroom was cleared, after Mrs. Botkin had announced to the deputy sheriff in a clear voice that she was ready to go with him to prison, occurred the only sensational incident of the evening. The condemned woman attempted to rise, when her highly strung nerves seemed to relax and suddenly she fell back into the arms of Mrs. Roberts.

It was thought that she had fainted, but in a moment a glass of water revived her and she resumed her usual appearance, though the intense nervous strain was still apparent in the twitching of her facial muscles and the quick movement of her hands as her fingers drummed on the table. In a few minutes she apparently shook off all signs of excitement and quietly accompanied the deputy sheriff out of the courtroom.

OPPOSED TO PENSIONS,

But Alabama Veterans Approve Caring For Graves.

A Birmingham, Ala., dispatch says: Camp Hardee, United Confederate Veterans, held a social session Friday night and among other features were a number of speeches by prominent confederates. A sentiment against asking the federal government for pensions was expressed and McKinley's suggestion that the government assist in taking care of the graves of the confederate dead was heartily endorsed.

COL. BRYAN BANQUETTED.

Traveling Men of Nebraska Tender Him a Reception.

A complimentary reception and banquet to Colonel W. J. Bryan was tendered at Lincoln Friday night by the Nebraska Traveling Men's Bryan Club.

Invitations were sent to 250 admirers of Mr. Bryan, which were with few exceptions accepted. The only notable absentee was Congressman Bailey, of Texas, who was to have responded to the toast "Democracy."

Mr. Bryan responded to the sentiment: "America's Mission; Let Not the Crime of the East E'er Crimson Thy Name, Be Freedom and Science and Virtue Thy Fame."

Advices from Hong Kong state that the British steamer Glenavon, Captain Pithie, which sailed for London Thursday, has been wrecked on a rock. Part of her crew has been saved and landed at Hong Kong. The captain, the chief officer and the second and fourth engineers are missing. The Glenavon hailed from Glasgow and was of 1,920 tons register.

... potentiary to Washington. He remained at his post from October, 1863, until January, 1868, having rendered most important services to his country.

"On his return to Mexico he was appointed secretary of the treasury, but was obliged on account of ill health to give up that office in 1872. For three years he remained in Soconusco devoting himself to agricultural pursuits, and from 1877 to 1878 was again secretary of the treasury. In 1880 he served as postmaster general. In March, 1882, he came back to Washington as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary, and has remained in that capacity ever since, with an interruption of only ten months in 1892, when, for the third time, he was called to serve as secretary of the treasury.

"As representative of his country in the United States Senor Romero has shown himself a most efficient and able diplomat. His efforts have been most successful in strengthening the friendly ties between the two nations, and with this object in view he has written a great deal, his productions always receiving the highest encomiums from the press.

"Senor Romero was a member of the International American conference, and in that body served with great distinction, having been one of its two vice presidents. As representative of Mexico in the conference he voted for the establishment of the bureau of American republics, and ever since its organization has shown an active and zealous interest in its progress. He was a member of the executive committee of the bureau when that body was first organized, and on every occasion has lent his valuable aid to the work of the international union of American republics."

This sketch necessarily fails to do justice to the life-work in behalf of his country performed by the dead man. He has seen his native country steadily rise from a nation of revolutions and disorder to an honorable position among nations as a progressive, stable and prosperous republic. In much of this he had had a share.

ASSIGNMENT OF OFFICERS.

Future Duties of Admirals and Commodores Mapped Out.

The following assignments were announced by a high official of the navy department Friday as having been determined by Secretary Long:

Commodore J. W. Philip to command the Brooklyn navy yard.

Captain Louis Kempff to command the naval station at Guam and to be naval governor of that island.

Rear Admiral Schley and Rear Admiral Howison to be assigned to sea duty.

DREYFUS IN PARIS?

Alleged That He Was Secretly Removed to the Capital.

A special to The New York Herald from Paramaribo, via Hayti, says: It is reported here that former Captain Dreyfus has been removed from his island prison to Cayenne and sailed from there for France on December 4th last, on a convict transport.

No details regarding the departure of the prisoner or as to his ultimate destination can be ascertained.

The Town Cow.

We all know her. She know... She knows everybody who lives ... village of which she is a pro... citizen. When we enter a new town we always recognize this cow at sight. She has long, wabbly legs, a pale blue eye—two, in fact—with a sad, mournful look in them. Her feet present an intellectual expression which is very charming to all, and she has a low, sweet voice which sounds like a cross between that of Patti and a steam calliope in the circus procession.

At no time does this specimen of bovine ever so far forget herself as to give her unfortunate owner milk. She gives him nothing except a kick on the northern portion of his shin bone that causes him to forget more religion in two seconds than he has been able to acquire in the last twenty years of glorious manhood. Her greatest desire is to eat.

I once owned a cow who r... from a comfortable home to b... the despised town cow. She l... home of luxury and became a comm... tramp, losing the respect of all th... other cows in the country where she had been reared in splendor. She drifted away from her youthful associates and was scorned by the entire community.

Although she wore her horn done up in the latest style, she had ceased to be attractive. Even her mother deserted her. That was one time when a mother's love did not, could not, last. Her daughter rapidly went from one dissipation to another, until one day, in an unguarded moment, she broke into a countryman's wagon and eat a bushel of peas and immediately afterwards attempted to drink the town pump dry. Poor thing! She soon began to weep and bemourn her fate. But it was too late! The time had come. She was doubtless unprepared. The citizens gathered around in idle curiosity. The more humane forced a tear in their eyes as they watched the life ooze out into the previous henceness. It was a tear of joy. She had eaten her last meal from a rural wagon; she had frightened the last woman from the streets, and in her final agony she gave her poor foot, which was chilled in death, a terrible flounce and struck the mayor of the village, who had often had her in the pound pen, on his right knee (he thought it was the wrong one) and dislocated the cap. Then, with a smile of triumph, she quietly passed away to try the realities of an unknown future.

We should all learn from this sad but true story to be more attentive to the poor, friendless street cow. We should do all we can to make her life one continual stream of sunshine, and strew her pathway with roses and cologne.

THE CHRONICLE

F. W. GIST, Editor and Publisher.

Who wrote it 1898?

This division will be called in the Supreme Court next Monday.

It might be just as well to keep your eye on Bryan, free silver and anti-expansion.

That was a deserved compliment making Frank Nelson, jr., chairman of the campaign committee for Anniston in the court house fight.

The United States should have no colonies. Let her protect her commercial interests while giving freedom to the former slaves of Spain and she will have done enough.

A special from New York says ten big concerns have failed there since Christmas, and that not one of them advertised; and that not a store failed which did advertise. A hint to the wise, etc.

The educational future of a half million children will rest with the coming constitutional convention. Let the people see that their delegates stand right on that as well as other questions.

It is said that the President has at last found out that it was a mistake to dress up a lot of negroes in uniforms and call them soldiers, and that these will be mustered out in as short order as possible.

County commissioners ought to be endowed with the right to pass upon local legislation, and the legislature left to do general work only. To do that would relieve the necessity of meeting but once in four years.

The Chronicle has a splendid representative in the person of R. B. Posey, of Harpersville. He always keeps his territory up to date, and sends us good news. We want one like him at every place in the county.

The discussion over the length of the century waxes hot. Some say it includes this year and next year, too, but the mass of mankind will swap centuries next New Year's day when they swap figures.—Age-Herald.

And the mass of mankind will be just one year ahead of the turn of the cycle.

A correspondent writes to us not to fail to work for a constitutional convention. We shall not fail, but if our efforts are to do any good more people should be reading the paper. Will not all those who are interested help us to circulate the paper among the people?

The Woman's Column of The Chronicle has been turned into a Department of Current Criticism. If the present issue is a criterion nothing new or old will have long to wait for its time to come to be criticised. However we feel much relieved of the burden of filling the space.

Circuit and chancery courts are a relic of the days when the country was sparsely settled and when few men were competent to wear the judicial ermine. They ought to be abolished, and each county ought to have one court, with civil, criminal and equity jurisdiction, open for business all the time.

Among the deaths of the past week the most noted were those of Senator Justin S. Morrill, of Vermont, and Ambassador Romero, of the Mexican Government, both of which occurred in Washington. Senator Morrill was the oldest member of the Federal Senate in years and service. He owned large interests in the Brierfield iron property.

The Age-Herald very beautifully and very truthfully describes the world as waking to the fact that it is fast coming into the possession and domination of the Anglo-Saxon race. It all forces upon us the thought that it is high time for us to see to it that we place local affairs in their hands if we expect to be up with the great procession.

The Advertiser says that the constitutional convention "will be no place for broken-down political hacks or unbaked youngsters," and adds that "men will be needed, intelligent, conscientious and trustworthy men." The Advertiser is right, and we might add that men with stiff backbones are very desirable, men with heads of their own and the nerve to use them.

A correspondent of the Advertiser wants the constitution to prohibit the mortgaging of the homestead. He is right. It ought also to cut down the exemptions in both real and personal property, and do away with the waiver business. If the women and children are to be protected by exemptions, it ought to be such protection as will protect.

The Montevallo News prints a statement of its receipts for the past year which foots up only $240, and then roasts the town for the small showing. Without entering into details we take pleasure in stating that the profits of The Chronicle, above office and family expenses for the past year, have been double the amount given by the News as its gross receipts. Whether the papers themselves, or the towns, or both are responsible for the difference we leave the public to judge.

Shelby County ha... law, and the commissioners are wrestling with it. It seems that very few people knew anything about it, although it was approved December 13. We can not give the details in this issue, though the general intention is to establish a system of special taxation. It provides for a precinct superintendent instead of apportioners, and cuts down the days of road duty to four. It provides for a tax of not less than one-tenth nor more than one-fifth of one per cent. We shall give more information on the subject next week.

The coming campaign for a constitutional convention and for delegates will be a contest for the future control of the State's affairs by the white people of the State, and there can be no dodging the issue. Incidentally there will be other points involved, which will be fully discussed. The people should inform themselves on the needed changes, that they may be better able to choose their delegates. We would be glad to hear from our readers on these incidental subjects and upon the methods desired in selecting the delegates.

How to Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents or one dollar.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, if you send your address to Dr Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing be sure and mention that you read this generous offer in The Chronicle.

Mrs. H. H. Formby, Jackson's Gap, Ala., writes: I am 84 years old and subject to liver complaint. I never used a medicine which benefited me like Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine. It is prompt and specific in its action and perfectly harmless. The Zeilin and Black Draught I used are not to be compared with it. I will not use them.

Who stands responsible for frauds and imitations offered by your druggist as the same as Simmons Liver Regulator? Simmons Liver Regulator has earned its reputation and is known throughout the country as the best remedy for stomach and liver diseases. Beware of substitutes. Professor Spi... spent the holidays at East Lake with his wife, who is still sick, but we are glad to state is improving.

Rev. A. E. Burns filled his appointment Saturday and Sunday last, preaching good sermons to very attentive congregations.

There was a considerable amount of whisky drunk around here last week, and many a woman's heart was made to bleed by her husband coming home drunk; many girls were made to weep by papa being drunk; many mothers were made to cry because of their sons being filled up on the damnable stuff—whisky. How long, oh, how long will this degradation continue? We hope not long. If those people could only see themselves as others see them, probably they would stop.

The year 1898 has gone, and in many respects it was a remarkable year. To some it was a year of despair and sorrow; to others it was a year of joy and happiness. It was a remarkable year in politics and war. Two great political parties were involved, and two great nations were engaged in war. What the present year will bring forth we know not, but let us hope that it will be a year of peace, happiness and prosperity. Good bye, old year, welcome new.

"Some years ago I was down with fever. When I recovered I had dyspepsia and was nothing but skin and bone. I spent hundreds of dollars with doctors, but none did me any good. A friend told me to take Simmons Liver Regulator, and to-day I am as strong as any man. I believe I would have been in my grave if it had not been for Simmons Liver Regulator." W. P. MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Proceedings of Meeting Held Tuesday.

The Medical Society of Shelby County met in regular session on the 3d instant. The attendance was not unusually large, yet the session was of more than ordinary interest. This, the first meeting of the new year, was election day.

President E. G. Givhan was elected by acclamation to fill his own chair, after which he addressed the society, thanking them for such an expression of approval; yet he would have preferred the election of some other member who had not served the society as president. Thus, responding in a beautiful short speech, accepted, and stirred up the society by pointedly portraying the duty of each and every member and official belonging to this organization. Said he loved his chosen profession, and that he was never so contented as when working to alleviate suffering humanity, and closed by saying: "In this we start in the new year; let us start anew to promote the best interests of the Medical Society in Shelby County." H. I. Williams was unanimously elected vice-president; J. R. Morgan was elected secretary and treasurer; and H. C. McAdams was elected to fill the vacancy on board of censors.

Dr. Gunn read, from a medical journal, quite an interesting article on parturition. The society entered into the discussion of the increase of phthisis pulmonalis, in which all took part.

The society, having spent in its initial meeting for the new year one of the most pleasant days for many past, adjourned to meet again in Columbiana on the 1st Tuesday in February next. J. R. MORGAN, Sec'ty.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from the second attack of la grippe this year," says Jas. A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against ten for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" Editor Graham Loses his Father.

The following special to the Advertiser from Calera will be read with regret by the many friends of N. A. Graham in this county:

Editor N. A. Graham, of The Shelby Sentinel, who was called to Tampa, Fla., a few days ago by the serious illness of his father, telegraphed Mrs. Graham this morning that his father died Sunday evening. The deceased was 85 years old, and was for ten years prior to the civil war, probate judge of Lowndes County, and for a number of years practiced law in Wetumpka. He was also a noted divine in the Presbyterian church, and for the past twenty-five years has been actively engaged in preaching.

Mr. Graham's aged mother has recently suffered a third stroke of paralysis; and is now near unto death's door.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

You are perhaps aware that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of la grippe. During the epidemic of la grippe a few years ago when so many cases resulted in pneumonia, it was observed that the attack was never followed by that disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. It counteracts any tendency of a cold or la grippe to result in that dangerous disease. It is the best remedy in the world for bad colds and la grippe. Every bottle warranted. Uncle Jeff Elliott went over to Birmingham last week. Ye editor found him there Saturday morning and brought him home.

Woman's complexion depends for beauty upon digestion. Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine regulates the stomach, liver and kidneys, and secures the blessings of good digestion.

On Tuesday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hall held a reception at their lovely home in honor of their guest, Miss Van Vrankle, of New Orleans.

Trade was excellent in our city during the holidays. Besides the large amount of staple goods sold, the trade in Christmas goods was heavy.

Three negroes were brought down from Vincent a few days since and placed in the county jail. They are charged with disorderly conduct and carrying concealed weapons.

J. H. Hammond is beginning the new year with a splendid stock of groceries. He has been quite successful the past year, and has proven his commercial ability by his large sales. He will keep up his reputation.

Memory is a little treacherous at times and causes one to forget some things well worth remembering. Impress upon your mind that Simmons Liver Regulator is made only by J. H. Zeilin & Co., and that no one else makes or knows how to make it. Look out for imitations and frauds. Don't be fooled when you ask for Simmons Liver Regulator. Be sure and see that the word Regulator is on the package.

A Pounding.

The generous hospitality of the good people of Harpersville has so long been proverbial, that their recent exhibition on this line can hardly be a surprise. Instead, people who know them will say, "Well, that is just like them."

It is frequently the case that the preacher and his wife receive a liberal "pounding" from the people among whom he lives, but to receive a "pounding" from another church on the work, and that 17 miles from home, is a rare experience indeed.

This experience my wife and I enjoyed last Saturday night in Harpersville, at the home of Brother Thompson. Having received no intimation of their purpose, it provoked all the joy and appreciation of a great and agreeable surprise.

We thought it very strange that so many came to the house without coming in; but the mystery was soon explained to our great satisfaction. This eloquent and substantial expression of the love of these good people, filled and thrilled our souls with gratitude and made us long to clasp each hand in blessing.

We pray God, "who is able to do exceeding abundantly above all we can ask or think," to richly reward each contributor according to His infinite love, and so make for them the New Year bright and glorious.

NEW PEARL FISHERIES FOUND.

One Little Boat Gathers Up Twenty-two Pounds of Gems.

New pearl fields of great richness have been discovered off the coast of New Caledonia on the west side, according to United States Consul Wolf at Neumea. He says that one shell contained the fabulous number of 256 pearls, and one little boat of one and one half tons furnished last year 22 pounds of pearls. Up to this time the water has not been sounded to a greater depth than six feet seven inches, but the fisheries are to be further exploited by French and Austrian syndicates. Mr. Wolf says that the quality of the pearl shells is remarkably fine, and he urges that Americans profit by the discovery, although haste is necessary on account of the enterprise of foreign firms. New Caledonia is an island lying east of Australia. It belongs to France.

STORIES OF RELIEF.

Two Letters to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. JOHN WILLIAMS, Englishtown, N. J., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot begin to tell you how I suffered before taking your remedies. I was so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without falling. I had womb trouble and such a bearing-down feeling; also suffered with my back and limbs, pain in womb, inflammation of the bladder, piles and indigestion. Before I had taken one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt a great deal better, and after taking two and one-half bottles and half a box of your Liver Pills I was cured. If more would take your medicine they would not have to suffer so much."

Mrs. JOSEPH PETERSON, 513 East St., Warren, Pa., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have suffered with womb trouble over fifteen years. I had inflammation, enlargement and displacement of the womb. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was so dizzy. I had heart trouble, it seemed as though my heart was in my throat at times choking me. I could not walk around and I could not lie down, for then my heart would beat so fast I would feel as though I was smothering. I had to sit up in bed nights in order to breathe. I was so weak I could not do anything.

"I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used three packages of Sanative Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think I could have lived long if Mrs. Pinkham's medicine had not helped me."

Chickens EARN Money

IF YOU GIVE THEM HELP.

You cannot do this unless you understand them and know how to cater to their requirements; and you cannot spend years and dollars learning by experience, so you must buy the knowledge acquired by others. We offer this to you for only 25 cents.

YOU WANT THEM TO PAY THEIR OWN WAY,

even if you merely keep them as a diversion. In order to handle Fowls judiciously, you must know something about them. To meet this want we are selling a book giving the experience of a practical poultry raiser for Only 25c. twenty-five years. It was written by a man who put all his mind, and time, and money to making a success of Chicken raising—not as a pastime, but as a business—and if you will profit by his twenty-five years' work, you can save many Chicks annually, and make your Fowls earn dollars for you. The point is, that you must be able to detect trouble in the Poultry Yard as soon as it appears, and know how to remedy it. This book will teach you.

It tells how to detect and cure disease; to feed for eggs and also for fattening; which fowls to save for breeding purposes; and everything, indeed, you should know on this subject to make it profitable.

WO amiable American women have been making prodigious sums from novels that are not much considered, one way or the other, by snuffy literary critics. Fortunately, neither of these estimable women has ever known to lay claim to cousinship with Literature of the sort that is spelled with a large L, but they have apparently given pleasure to a greater number of readers than any other women now living in this country. They are Augusta Evans Wilson and Clara Louise Burnham.

Mrs. Wilson's receipts in copyrights in the last quarter century have amounted to more than $100,000. Her "Vashti," which followed swift upon the heels of the fabulously successful "St. Elmo," sold for $15,000 spot cash, the publisher afterward restoring copyright to the author in addition.

"Miss Gusty" the natives call her in her own beloved Mobile, according to the pretty Southern provincialism. And "Miss Gusty" is their idol and their fetich and their joy.

She is a dear, refined old lady now, with stately, old world manners, a white cap and an old-time monster brooch that bears her lamented husband's profile in cameo.

nial home, in fashionable Government street, in Mobile, or at her country place of Ashland, that tropical paradise of foliage and bloom.

Mrs. Wilson has been importuned of late, by eastern publishers, to make her own price for a series of short stories. But the dear, conservative old lady is obdurate. "When one has a-plenty, both of money and of fame," says she, "does one want more?"

"At the Mercy of Tiberius," her latest born, which reaped for her another golden harvest, she deems the best of all her books.

Assuredly there is money in mediocrity and popularity in platitudes, since versatile Mrs. Burnham, who can do many things better than she writes, is digging nuggets with her pen and finding herself in pre-eminent demand at all the public libraries. No other novelist, statistics show, is so much read by the youthful public nowadays. She is the young girl's idol. "Dear me!" laughs Mrs. Burnham, "how wealthy I might become if each reader of my stories dropped a nickel in the slot for the benefit of the author!" The success of this woman's books has recently increased her royalties from 10 per cent to 15. If they are not literature, strictly speaking, and this, the author herself smilingly acknowledges, they are at least wholesome enough, and nobody is the worse for an acquaintance with "De Latimer," "The Wise Woman," "Miss Archer Archer," or any of the others of Mrs. Burnham's innocent brain brood.

She is the daughter of George F. Root of Chicago, now dead, who was the author of "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys!" and a host of other popular American songs. Mrs. Burnham's summer cottage, The Mooring, is a gem on Bailey Island, Casco Bay. It is her Maine neighbors here who unconsciously supply the immensely popular lady with a large proportion of her copy.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

Legislative Work to Be Resumed.

Wednesday will witness a resumption of legislative work in committee. On that day the joint special committee on the revenue bill will commence its work. The proposed measure is to be considered in detail and then reported to the legislature.

Do Not Ask for Pensions.

Camp Hardee, United Confederate Veterans, of Birmingham, held a social session Friday night. A sentiment against asking the federal government assist in taking care of the graves of the Confederate dead was heartily endorsed.

Killed by His Brother.

A most deplorable casualty occurred at Letohatchie Friday evening. Little Alex, the 8-year-old son of Mr. E. B. Chestnutt, one of the most prominent citizens of Lowndes county, while out hunting, was accidently shot and killed by his brother Edward, aged 12.

The state democratic executive committee will be called to meet in Montgomery about January 25 for the purpose of outlining a plan for campaign for the constitutional convention fight. R. H. Lowe, state chairman, so declares.

Will Rebuild at Once.

President Nat Baxter, of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, has received a telegram from the Semet-Solvay company, of Syracuse, N. Y., saying that they will rebuild their by-product plant at Ensley City, which was partially destroyed by fire last week.

Warnock's Slayer Arrested.

William Golson, the notorious negro murderer, who shot and killed Robert Warnock, chief deputy sheriff of Jefferson county, on Sunday, November 27, was arrested and jailed in Birmingham Friday. Golson was captured by Patrolmen Jack McDonald and Patton, of the Birmingham police force, near Alley C and Nineteenth street.

Ex-Governor Smith Dead.

Former Governor William Hugh Smith died at his residence in Birmingham Sunday morning at the age of 72 years and six months, and after an illness of about ten days. Governor Smith was born in Georgia on the 26th of April, 1826. In early life he removed with his parents to Randolph county, Alabama, and was there educated at the common schools.

The governor was made the state's chief executive to succeed the late Governor Patton in 1868, and served until he was succeeded by Governor Lindsay at the close of 1870. Before the war between the states he had represented Randolph county in the general assembly of Alabama.

UNDERSELL THE WORLD.

The Sloss Iron and Steel company has just made a shipment of pig iron to one of the manufacturing cities of France. This shipment netted a fair profit, although a duty of $1 per ton, that France levies on pig iron from the United States, was paid. This exportation proves very conclusively, local iron men declare, that Birmingham can undersell the world, even when embarrassed by an onerous tariff of a foreign country. Within the past few days shipments to Europe have been made by local furnaces as follows: To Genoa, Italy, 1,201 tons; to Triste, Italy, 50 tons; to other European points, 1,220 tons.

BRIEFLY MENTIONED.

F. McNamara has been appointed postmaster at Henry Ellen, Jefferson county.

Ten cases of smallpox have developed in the past ten days in Selma, one of which has proved fatal. Every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

Col. James W. Cox, of the First regiment Alabama National Guard, has tendered his resignation to the governor and it has been accepted. No election has yet been ordered to fill the vacancy. Colonel Cox made an excellent officer and business reasons are given alone for his retirement.

Near Trinity last week an unknown young man was picked up in the road and carried to a farmer's house, where he died shortly afterward. He was about 26 years old, was well dressed and evidently belonged to a good family.

The governor granted the following pardons Friday: Charlie Williams, convicted of burglary, from Elmore county, and sentenced for forty-four months; Dan Harris, murder in second degree, from Tallapoosa county, and sentenced to three years.

Gov. Johnston has receved from the national government a check for $3,384 on account of the transportation of the national guard, when it was being mustered into Uncle Sam's service.

FIJIAN FIRE CEREMONY.

Two New Zealand medical men, Doctors Hocken and Colquohona, recently visited Fiji, where they had an opportunity of witnessing the now rare fire ceremony of the natives. It is so rare that the power is now confined to a single family living on an islet twenty miles from the Fijian metropolis, Suva. These people are able to walk, nude and with bare feet, across the white-hot, stony pavement of a huge oven.

An attempt was made on this occasion to register the heat, but when the thermometer had been placed for a few seconds about five feet from the oven it had to be withdrawn, as the solder of the covering began to melt. The thermometer then registered 282 degrees, and Doctor Hocken estimates that the range was over 400 degrees.

The fire walkers then approached, seven in number, and in single file walked leisurely across and around the oven. Heaps of hibiscus leaves were then thrown into the oven, causing clouds of steam, and upon the leaves and within the steam the natives sat or stood. The men were carefully examined by the doctors before and after the ceremony.

The soles of the feet were not thick or leathery, and were not in the least blistered. The men showed no symptoms of distress, and their pulse was unaffected. Preliminary tests failed to show that there had been any special preparation. Both doctors, while denying that there was anything miraculous about the experiment, expressed themselves as unable to give any scientific explanation.—London Chronicle.

Isolation of Dawson City.

It is a curious and almost anomalous position that Dawson occupies. There are few if any towns of its size in all the world so locked away from the outside world for nine months in the year. Think of it! A city of 16,000 souls, and the center of a district of 30,000, a live, busy city, with the streets thronged with men, its big warehouses, its growing interests and civic problems, shut away entirely for at least three months in the year, during those seasons when the ice is forming and breaking, and with only occasional laborious communication during three other months. Whatever happens of fire or flood or fortune, it must remain for many weeks or months unknown to the larger outside world.

Though 78 years old and compelled to spend most of his time in bed, Herbert Spencer still manages to do a little work. He has just finished a revision of the first volume of his "Biology," bringing it down to date. He left London some time ago, and now lives quietly at Bath. Mr. Spencer's special trouble is with his heart, and weeks sometimes pass without his being able to so much as dictate a letter.

The Sac and Fox Indians on the Tama reservation in Iowa refuse to send their children to the school built for them by the government at a cost of $40,000. The Spider's Appetite.

The spider has a tremendous appetite and his gourmaudizing defies all human competition. A scientist who carefully noted a spider's consumption of food in twenty-four hours concluded that if the spider were built proportionately to the human scale he would eat at daybreak (approximately) a small alligator; by 7 a. m., a lamb; by 9 a. m., a young camelopard; by 1 o'clock, a sheep; and would finish up with a lark pie in which there were 100 birds. Yet, in spite of his enormous appetite, a spider has wonderful power of refraining from food, and one has been known to live for ten months when absolutely deprived of food. A beetle lived in a similar state of unrefreshment for three years!—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Healthy, Happy Girls

often, from no apparent cause, become languid and despondent in the early days of their womanhood. They drag along always tired, never hungry, breathless and with a palpitating heart after slight exercise so that merely to walk up stairs is exhausting. Sometimes a short, dry cough leads to the fear that they are "going into consumption."

They are anæmic, doctors tell them, which means that they have too little blood. Are you like that? Have you too little blood?

More anæmic people have been made strong, hungry, energetic men and women by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People than by any other means. They are the best tonic in the world.

Miss Lulu Stevens, of Gasport, Niagara Co., N. Y., had been a very healthy girl until about a year ago, when she grew weak and pale. She lost her appetite, was as tired in the morning as on retiring, and lost flesh until she became so emaciated that her friends hardly knew her. The doctors declared the disease anæmia, and gave her up to die. A physician who was visiting in Gasport prevailed upon her to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She did so, and was benefited at once. She is now well and strong—the very picture of health.—Buffalo (N. Y.) Courier.

VOL. XIV. COLUMBIANA, SHELBY COUNTY, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1899. NO. 4.

A SUMMARY OF THE TREATY.

The Document Made Public By the President.

ITS PROVISIONS IN BRIEF.

Is Now Before the Senate For Ratification.

The American-Spanish peace treaty has been made public. The document consists of seventeen articles.

The first, second and third articles relate to the relinquishment of Cuba, the cession of Porto Rico and the Philippines as heretofore given out by the press.

"Article four provides that the United States will, for the term of ten years from the date of the exchange of the ratifications of the present treaty, admit Spanish ships and merchandise to the ports of the Philippine islands on the same terms as ships and merchandise of the United States.

Article five designates that "the United States will, upon the signature of the present treaty, send back to Spain, at its own cost, the Spanish soldiers taken as prisoners of war on the capture of Manila by the American forces. The arms of the soldiers in question shall be restored to them.

"Spain will, upon the exchange of the ratifications of the present treaty, proceed to evacuate the Philippines, as well as the island of Guam."

According to article six, Spain will, upon the signature of the present treaty, release all prisoners of war and all persons detained or imprisoned for political offenses in connection with the insurrections in Cuba and the Philippines and the war with the United States.

"Reciprocally, the United States with release all persons made prisoners of war by the American forces and will undertake to obtain the release of all Spanish prisoners in the hands of the insurgents in Cuba and the Philippines.

"The government of the United States will, at its own cost, return to Spain, and the government of Spain will, at its own cost, return to the United States, Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, according to the situation of their respective homes, prisoners released or caused to be released by them, respectively, under this article.

Article seven provides that "the United States and Spain mutually relinquish all claims for indemnity, national and individual, of every kind, of either government or of its citizens or subjects, against the other government that may have arisen since beginning of the late insurrection in Cuba and prior to the exchange of ratifications of the present treaty, including all claims for indemnity for the cost of the war.

"The United States will adjudicate and settle the claims of its citizens against Spain relinquished in this article.

Article eight relates to the property rights in the ceded territory.

Article nine states that "Spanish subjects, natives of the peninsula, residing in the territory over which Spain by the present treaty relinquishes or cedes her sovereignty, may remain in such territory or may remove therefrom, retaining in either event all their rights of property.

Article ten provides that "the inhabitants of the territories over which Spain relinquishes or cedes her sovereignty shall be secured in the free exercise of their religion.

Article eleven provides that "the Spaniards residing in the territories over which Spain by this treaty cedes or relinquishes her sovereignty shall be subject in matters civil as well as criminal to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country wherein they reside.

Article twelfth relates to judicial proceedings pending at the time of the exchange of ratifications of the treaty in the territories ceded.

Article thirteen relates to the rights of property secured by copyrights and patents acquired by Spaniards in the island de Cuba and in Porto Rico, the Philippines and other ceded territories at the time of the exchange of the ratifications of the treaty.

Under the provisions of article fourteen Spain will have the power to establish consular offices in the ports and places of territories, the sovereignty over which has been either relinquished or ceded.

Article fifteen sets forth that "the government of each country will, for the term of ten years, accord to the merchant vessels of the other country the same treatment in respect of all port charges, including entrance and clearance dues, light dues and tonnage duties, as it accords to its own merchant vessels, not engaged in the coastwise trade. This article may at any time be terminated on six months' notice by either government to the other.

Article sixteen is as follows: "It is understood that any obligations assumed in this treaty by the United States with respect to Cuba are limited to the time of its occupancy thereof; but it will upon the termination of such occupancy, advise any government established in the island to assume the same obligations.

Article seventeen provides that "the present treaty shall be ratified by the president of the United States by and with the advice and consent of the senate thereof and by her majesty, the queen regent of Spain; and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Washington within six months from the date hereof, or earlier, if possible."

FATAL HEAD-END COLLISION.

Four dead, two injured, one of these, perhaps, fatally, and the loss of property of the Southern railway to the amount of about $100,000, is the result of a wreck which occurred Sunday morning on the Knoxville and Ohio branch of the Knoxville division of the Southern railroad, one and one-half miles west of Elk Valley. The dead are: Engineer J. D. Maxey, Fireman Frank Readdy, colored; Brakeman Lonza Hoover, colored, and Flagman W. A. Dillon.

All of these were burned to death or killed underneath the ruins of three engines and a number of cars and coaches of the two wrecked trains. It is known that Engineer Maxey was burned to death in or beneath his engine.

The wreck occurred at 11:30 o'clock. It was a head-end collision, freight train No. 68, second section, and mixed local train No. 3 met in an awful crash. Both of the trains were running at the rate of about thirty-five miles per hour, and the accident occurred so that the trainmen were not able to jump and attempt to save their lives. No. 3 was running fifteen minutes late, having waited at Knoxville for connection with a western train, and had the right of way.

All the freight trains of the Knoxville and Ohio division had been notified that the mixed train was on a late run, and the only cause for the accident that can be given is that Engineer Maxey, of the freight train, misread his orders. It would have been an easy matter for him to have read the order telling that the passenger train was fifty minutes late, instead of fifteen minutes late.

PLAIN TALK BY ALLEN.

Nebraskan Says Butler Proposition Should Be Relegated to Oblivion.

When the senate convened Saturday Mr. Pasco, of Florida, presented a memorial from a camp of confederate veterans of Ocala, Fla., protesting against the adoption of the proposition of Mr. Butler, of North Carolina, to pension ex-confederate soldiers. In this connection, Mr. Allen, of Nebraska, said:

"I believe a word on this subject is due at this point. I do not believe there was a serious purpose on the part of the senator who is author of the proposed amendment to pension confederate veterans. I think the author of the amendment, like the President of the United States, was carried away by his feelings. In my opinion, though, too much attention is being paid to it.

"It would have been injustice to the rank and file of the Confederate soldiers to say that they would consider seriously any proposition to receive pensions. They have cared for themselves for a third of a century. They have cared for their cemeteries and for their dead.

"It seems to me that the whole matter can be closed by saying that both the president of the United States and the author of amendment were carried away by their enthusiasm. In my judgment, speaking from the standpoint of a northern soldier, it is time to close this incident. It may be closed by the happy thought t at all bitierness and sectionalism have been wiped out by the late Spanish war."

CONFIRMATIONS BY SENATE.

Nominations By the President Go Through the Upper House.

A Washington dispatch says: The senate, at Saturday's session, confirmed the following appointments: J. D. Yeomans, of Iowa, to be an interstate commerce commissioner; R. A. Mosley, Jr., of Alabama, consul at Singapore. Also a large number of postmasters and promotions in the United States volunteers, including the cavalry regiments.

STEEL PLANT OPENS UP.

Extensive Works at Middlesborough, Ky., Resume Operations.

A dispatch from Middlesboro, Ky., states that C. P. Perry has floated bonds for $300,000 on the Watts steel plant at that place and the plant resumes at once. This is the largest basic steel works in the south and employs in the neighborhood of seven hundred workmen. It was built in 1893 at a cost of $750,000.

ASSIGNEES MAKE ESTIMATE

Regarding Assets and Liabilities of Assabet Company.

Creditors of the Assabet Company held a meeting at Boston, Mass., Friday, and appointed a committee to examine the affairs of the corporation.

The assignees reported the liabilities at about $1,400,000. The assignees have scaled down the assets to what they consider a conservative basis and estimate the quick assets $980,000 and the plant, etc., at $1,080,090, total $2,060,000.

It was the general feeling of those present at the meeting that the difficulties of the corporation would be adjusted without serious loss.

BILL FOR EXTRA PAY

Of Volunteers In Lieu of Furlough Introduced In House.

At the opening of the session of the house Friday Mr. Marsh, republican, Illinois, asked unanimous consent for the consideration of a bill to grant to officers and men of the volunteer army upon their muster-out two months' extra pay if they have served within the limits of the United States. This extra pay to be in lieu of furlough or leave of absence.

INSURGENTS FIRM; ISSUES MANIFESTO

Aguinaldo Advises His Followers To Demand Independence.

MESSAGE FROM GEN. OTIS.

Filipinos Make Threats of Burning the Town of Iloilo.

Advices received at Washington Saturday from Manila state that within a few hours after the proclamation by Major General Otis in behalf of President McKinley, the agents of Aguinaldo billed Manila with a manifesto which attracted considerable attention.

The revolutionary president protested against General Otis signing himself military governor of the Philippine islands. Aguinaldo, in his manifesto, declared he had never agreed at Singapore, Hong Kong or elsewhere to recognize the sovereignty of the Americans, and insists that he returned to the Philippines on an American ship solely to conquer the Spaniards and win independence. He asserts that both his proclamations, on May 24th and June 12th, stated this fact officially, and he claims that Major General Merritt confirmed this by a proclamation several days before the Spaniards capitulated, stating clearly and definitely that the American forces came to overthrow the Spanish government and liberate the Filipinos.

In conclusion, Aguinaldo declared that he had natives and foreigners as witnesses that the American forces recognized, not only by acts that the Filipinos were belligerents, but by publicly saluting the Filipino flag "as it triumphantly sailed these seas before the eyes of all nations."

Aguinaldo then solemnly protested, in the name of the diety who empowered him to direct his brethren in the difficult task of regeneration, against the intrusion of the American government, reiterated that he can produce proofs that he was brought here on the understanding that the Americans promised him their co-operation to attain independence.

The revolutionary leader then called upon all his followers to work together with force and assured them he is now convinced that they will obtain absolute independence and urging them never to turn "from the glorious road" on which they have "already so far advanced."

Major General Otis attaches no importance to the manifesto. He says he feels confident that the opinion of the better classes of the Filipinos is not expressed in it, but as to whether the Filipino masses can be controlled and the Filipino army kept in check, he does not know, although he hopes for a satisfactory outcome of the trouble.

Message From Otis.

The war department received another dispatch Sunday from Major General Otis, commanding the United States troops in the Philippines. The officials observe unusual reticence with respect to its contents, but it is understood that the information contained is of and unfavorable character or such as to give undue concern to the administration.

So far as the officials are willing to admit, the dispatch skows no material change in the conditions existing at the time of previous advices. One officer said it contained nothing of a character alarming, serious or exciting. There had been no collision with the insurgents, he added, and not a shot had been fired.

The president's proclamation to the Filipinos had been published in Manila, but General Otis did not say to what extent it had been made known to the inhabitants in the other parts of the group of islands, nor whether it had been published at Iloilo. At the latter place General Miller has been directed to land the troops under his command now on the transports there, but the dispatch from General Otis did not indicate whether this had been done or not.

Insurgents Make Threats.

A later dispatch from Manila says: Colonel Potter, the special emmisary of General Otis between Manila and Iloilo, arrived at Manila Sunday afternoon with dispatches from the latter point. The streets were baricaded, and it was reported that the principal buildings had been "kerosened," the insurgents having threatened to destroy the whole business section by fire at the first shot of bombardment. The banks were shipping treasure to the United States transport Newport and other vessels. The family of the American vice consul has gone on board the Newport.

Colonel Potter reports that President McKinley's proclamation had to be typewritten aboardship, as the printers on shore declined to do the work, and when the text of the proclamation was read to them they ridiculed the notion that conciliation was possible.

STORY WAS INVENTED.

Spaniards Were Not Massacred By Insurgents, as Reported.

According to the statements of people who have just arrived at Hong Kong from the island of Balabac, south of the island of Palawan, there is no truth in the report that the Spaniards there have been massacred by the Filipinos.

They say the story is an invention of the priests to prejudice the Filipino cause.

INSTRUCTIONS DEMANDED.

Senate Wants To Know Directions Given the Commissioners.

A Washington special says: The resolution introduced, Thursday, by Mr. Hoar calling upon the president, if not in his judgment incompatible with the public interest, to communicate to the senate the instructions he had given the commissioners who negotiated the treaty of Paris, the correspondence which had passed between him and the department of state and the commissioners and the reports made by the commissioners either to him or to the department of state, was laid before the senate early in the session Friday.

Mr. Davis, one of the commissioners, and chairman of the committee on foreign relations, moved that the resolution be referred to that committee.

Mr. Hoar: "Mr. President, I object to such a reference of the resolution. It seems to me that the senate ought to have the information called for by the resolution, if in the judgment of the president it would be proper to communicate it. I hope the motion will be defeated."

Mr. Davis: "I hope the motion will prevail."

After a little debate in which Mr. Hoar, Mr. White, California, and Mr. Allen, Nebraska, brought out the fact that the call on the president for information was not mandatory, and Mr. Davis said that not to refer the resolution to the committee in charge of the matter would be unprecedented. The latter invoked the rules of the senate and had the doors closed for an executive session.

In the secret legislative session of the senate the proceedings continued on the same lines as in the open session, the senate finally agreeing without a division to the resolution calling for the instructions.

At 12:35 p.m. the senate, reconvened in open session, and Mr. Platt, Connecticut, secured the adoption of a resolution calling upon the secretary of the interior for information concerning the cutting of dead and fallen timber on the Chippewa Indian reservation in Minnesota.

Mr. Caffery, Louisiana, then addressed the senate on the joint resolution offered by Mr. West, Missouri, declaring that under the constitution of the United States no power is given to acquire territory to be held and governed permanently as colonies.

Mr. Caffery's speech was a constitutional argument in support of the declarations of the resolution. He declared that the resolution went to the very root of the question of the power of the United States to establish permanently governments in territories far distant from our own lands. He proposed, he said, to institute an inquiry into the basic principles of the powers of this government.

FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

Nine Men Killed In An English Shipbuilding Yard.

A London dispatch says: A big boiler, while being tested in Hewitt's shipbuilding yard at Barking, burst Friday and the superintendent of engineers and eight men were killed.

About forty were injured, some fatally. The bodies of the dead were frightfully mutilated. A lad was found dead 300 yards from the scene of the disaster. A number of men and boys are missing.

The terrific force of the explosion may be judged from the fact that one of the huge plates of the boiler plunged through a building a quarter of a mile distant and that debris was hurled hundreds of yards in all directions. The factory itself, which covered several acres, was practically razed and all the dwellings and shops in its immediate vicinity were to all intents and purposes wrecked and windows were shattered a mile away and telegraph and telephone wires were blown down on all sides.

Distressing scenes were witnessed among the mothers, wives and other relatives of the employees.

WRONGFUL CONSTRUCTION

Was Placed On Orders Regarding Cuban Customs Money.

A Washington dispatch says: There has been no change in the original order issued by the war department for the regulation of the customs in Cuba. Any modification made by the Havana authorities therefor in favor of Santiago was nothing more than a recurrence to a proper construction of that order.

BRYAN IN CINCINNATI.

Duckworth Club Gives Its Annual Jackson Banquet.

The Duckworth club, of Cincinnati, gave its annual Jackson banquet Friday night.

This club has given many notable banquets, but the one mentioned was the most distinguished in its history, because of the presence of Col. Wm. J. Bryan.

Democratic leaders from all over the state held conferences with him during the day, joining in the large reception given Colonel Bryan at the chamber of commerce at noon. Over 400 plates were turned at the Gibson house Friday night, and the decorations were elaborate.

Rome's Chief of Police Located.

Ex-Chief Pink Shropshire, of Rome, Ga., has been located in Los Angeles, Cal. Shropshire left Rome some weeks ago short in his accounts $300 to the city. Shropshire was many years chief of police and had been prominent as a political leader.

Four unknown Americans attempted to hold up the Mexican Central passenger train near Juarez, Mex. They were frightened away by trainmen and passengers.

CUBAN GENERALS HOLD CONFERENCE

They Want to Know What Present Status of Cuban Army Is.

EVANS MAYOR OF HAVANA

Ex-Governor of South Carolina Appointed By Ludlow.

A special from Havana says: Twenty-five Cuban generals and chiefs met at Mariano Saturday to consider the position of the Cuban army.

A document was drawn up for dispatch to General Rodriguez, asking him to call a general meeting of officers to take action first, upon the need of a sum of money to enable the officers and privates of the army to make a new start in life; and, secondly, with regard to the lack of respect shown to the Cuban officers by the people of Cuba and the Americans. The latter matter has special reference to the refusal of the municipal police to salute General Sanguilly and other officers.

The meeting Saturday resulted in a three hours' talk, criticizing but not unfriendly to the Americans, and no disposition was shown to assume an attitude of protest or opposition. On the contrary, a willingness to disband was expressed, provided money was forthcoming to give the men composing the Cuban army a new start. As one of those present put the case:

"As the United States collects the island revenues, we must look to the United States."

Surgeon General Sternberg, of the United States army, has inspected Major Geral Lee's camp and found 91 of the 10,000 troops in the command ill. There was, however, not a single case of yellow fever or smallpox.

Major Gsneral Ludlow, military governor of the department of Havana, has chosen John Gary Evans to succeed the Marquis de Estaban, as mayor of Havana.

Major General Brooke will shortly direct the release of all political prisoners in the island.

Generals Wade and Butler sailed Saturday on the steamer Mascot, and General Clous left Saturday night on the Concho for the United States.

CZAR ACTS QUEERLY.

His Intentions as to Disarmament Proposals Are Questioned.

The Sebastopol correspondent of The London Times, who has been touring in European Russia for two months to discover if possible some evidence on the part of the Russian government to give effect to the disarmament proposals of Emperor Nicholas, says all his observations were quite to the contrary. The correspondent says:

"At the naval dock yards I found feverish activity. Not a man has been withdrawn from the frontiers. The ministers of war and marine have been inspecting all the important military and naval stations, urging an acceleration of the preparations for defense, but apparently never mentioning the czar's manifesto.

"The number of men enrolled in the army and navy during the months of October and November last were larger than ever.

"Reinforcements are being sent to the far east as fast as they can be transported, and all the garrisons along the frontier increased."

GROSVENOR TALKS.

The Ohio Congressman Discusses Prosperity In the House.

The house of representatives was engaged all day Saturday on the legislation of the executive appropriation bill and completed it substantially as reported except for the items for the civil service commission, which went over.

There were several side debates during the day. One of these brought out Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, in a speech of an hour on current political questions.

Mr. Grosvenor outlined the platforms of the two parties, dwelling especially on the low tariff and silver policies of the democratic and the protective tariff and gold standard policies of the republican party.

JESSE JAMES EXONERATED.

Two Boys Confess to the Robbery of Missouri Pacific Train.

The Journal, of Topeka, Kas., prints a sensational story to the effect that two Topeka boys, Seth Rosebrook and Charles Stowell, eighteen years old each, who were arrested during the fall festival last September for holding up a farmer and who were sent to the reformatory, are responsible for the Missouri Pacific hold-up and express robbery near Leeds, Mo., September 23d last.

This is the robbery for which Jesse James, Jr., is now under indictment and arrest in Kansas City.

FALL RIVER DIVIDENDS.

Cotton Mills Earn Over Two Per Cent For Stockholders.

A dispatch from Fall River, Mass., says: A list of dividends paid by the local mills during the past year shows an average of 2.22 per cent on a capital of $23,493,000.

The year of 1898 was a hard one, notwithstanding the reduction of wages in the first of the year and the curtailment later. The present outlook is, however, bright.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Thursday.

SENATE.—Little business except that of a routine character was transacted by the senate today. A resolution offered by Mr. Hoar, directing the committee on foreign relations to report to the senate whether the treaty of Paris makes any provision for the claims of the citizens of the United States against Spain, which was in existence before the present war and the status of such claims after the ratification of the treaty, was adopted. Mr. Caffery continued and concluded his speech, begun before the holiday recess in opposition to the pending Nicaraguan bill. Mr. Hoar introduced a resolution requesting the president to communicate to the senate all instructions given by him to the commissioners who negotiated the treaty of Paris; all correspondence, and all reports made by the commissioners. The resolution went over. The senate bill providing for the classification of clerks in first and second-class postoffices was passed. The bill also fixes salaries. It divides the clerks in first-class offices into eight grades, at salaries ranging from $500 to $1,000.

THE HOUSE.—Several bills of no great general importance were passed by the house today soon after the assembling of that body. The remainder of the day was occupied in continuing the consideration of the bill to codify the laws of Alaska. The following bills were passed: A bill to regulate the terms of courts in the eastern district of Tennessee; to amend the revised statutes so as to allow the United States five peremtory challenges in criminal cases; to permit ship owners to file indemnity bonds and to release the International Cotton Compress company, of New Orleans, for liabilities for $3,489 internal revenue taxes.

Friday.

THE SENATE.—Immediately after the senate convened today the resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Hoar, calling upon the president for information and instructions given to the commissioners who negotiated for peace, was laid before the senate. The resolution was adopted in secret session. In support of the resolution offered some time ago Mr. Vest, of Missouri, in opposition to expansion, Mr. Caffery, of Louisiana, delivered an e ended speech. At the conclusion of Mr. Caffery's argument, Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, announced on behalf of the Nicaragua canal committee, the acceptance in a modified form of the amendments offered by Mr Berry before the holidays to the pending canal bill. The bill was modified and amended and was ordered printed. The senate then adjourned.

THE HOUSE.—At the opening of the session of the house Mr. March (rep.), Illinois, asked unanimous consent for the consideration of a bill to grant to officers and men of the volunteer army upon their muster out, two months extra pay if they have served beyond the limits of the United States and one month's extra pay if they have only served within the limits of the United States. This extra pay to be in lieu of furloughs or leave of absence. The anti-civil service reformers scored a victory. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was taken up for consideration and when the appropriation for the civil service commission was reached, Mr. Evans (rep.), Kentucky, made a motion to strike it out. The motion has been made annually for a dozen years or more, but has invariably failed. But today the opponents of the law laid great stress on the fact that they could not get a direct vote upon the proposition and were therefore compelled to seek its nullification in this manner. Even these appeals failed to bring out the full strength of the opposition, though the motion to strike out carried by a narrow majority—67 to 61. This was in committee of the whole, where no record is made of the vote. Mr. Moody (rep.), Massachusetts, gave notice that he would demand a record vote in the house, where the friends of civil service expect to reverse the decision. Adjourned.

Saturday.

The SENATE.—At a brief session of the Senate today the first of the regular appropriation bills to be reported to that body, the District of Columbia, was passed. It carried a trifle over seven millions of dollars, and was passed practically without debate. The presentation of a memorial from a camp of confederate veterans in opposition to the proposition of Mr. Butler (pop.), of North Carolina, to pension ex-confederate soldiers, was made the text by Mr. Allen (pop.), of Nebraska, for some remarks, in the course of which he said that Mr. Butler, in making his proposition, and the president, in suggesting that the nation care for the confederate dead, had been carried away by their enthusiasm.

THE HOUSE.—The house of representatives was engaged all day on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill and completed it substantially as reported except for the items for the civil service commission, which went over until Monday. There were several side debates during the day. One of these, brought out Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, in a speech of an hour on current political questions.

J. R. Murdock, a farmer living near Walnut Grove, was thrown from his wagon and run over, sustaining, it is believed, fatal injuries. He was on his way to market with a load of cotton. When near Attalla his horses became frightened and ran away.

The section around Limrock has been visited by heaviest continuous rains known in years, doing great damage to ungathered corn and other crops.

CURRENT EVENTS IN ALABAMA.

P. E. Culli has been made administrator of Etowah county.

John C. Caldwell was elected mayor of Caldwell after a hot race.

The roll of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, at Auburn, has reached 400.

The store house occupied by Lamar Crook, at Snow Hill, together with the stock of goods, was destroyed by fire.

Fort Payne is happy over the fact that her flour mill is now complete in every detail and is busy turning out the best flour on the market.

The large combination freight and passenger depot at Greenville was completely destroyed by fire last week. The building was very old, having been built a quarter of a century ago.

Private Soule Cannon, of Company E, Third Mississippi, stationed at Albany, Ga., died in the city infirmary at Selma. He was stricken there several days ago while en route to join his command.

The Birmingham Railway and Electric company has let the contract for the equipment of its Bohren's park street car line with electricity. This is the only mule car line remaining in Birmingham.

Dr. J. M. McLaughlin was elected mayor of Springville in the recent election. There was no opposition to Mr. McLaughlin, though there was some contest among the democrats and populists for aldermen.

Mrs. William Carroll, mother of W. J. Carroll, superintendent of Attalla Light and Water Works, was dangerously injured a few days since. While in a state of somnambulism she walked from a high porch, fracturing her arm and otherwise injuring herself.

A barn belonging to a white farmer named Green was burned at Banks, with corn and other produce. Suspicion was directed towards Marshall McGregory, a negro in Mr. Green's employ. Friday morning his body was found hanging to a tree near where the barn had stood.

A disease which is killing the hogs around Courtland by the wholesale has made its appearance. The malady, whatever it is, attacks the throat of the beast, and, suddenly, without any warning whatever, they drop dead. The farmers are losing their hogs in large numbers and everybody is alarmed for fear they will lose all their year's supply of meat.

ALABAMA AT SHILOH.

State Asked to Assist in Locating Commands.

Governor Johnson has received the following from Cornelius Cadle, of Cincinnati, chairman of the Shiloh battlefield commission, which explains itself. The governor will submit the matter to the general assembly for that body's consideration, and action in accordance with the suggestions of the letter probably will be taken:

"At the battle of Shiloh, April 6 and 7, 1862, there were engaged the following Alabama troops:

"Atillery—Batteries Ketcham, Gage, Robertson.

"Cavalry—Brewer, Smith, Robbins, Clanton, Matthew's Rangers, Prattville Dragoons—twenty organizations in all.

"This commission is marking all the positions of the American soldiers engaged on the Shiloh field, and in their work, are asking the aid of the survivors of the battle.

"A number of the states at our suggestion have appointed commissions to aid us, and they have been with us, and I respectfully suggest that you take the steps necessary to the same end."

To Enlarge Its Capacity.

J. B. Harrison of the American Pipe and Foundry Company, owners of the Howard-Harrison pipe plant at Bessemer, confirms the report that the Bessemer plant is to be enlarged to twice its present capacity. The sum of $200,000 will be expended in this work, and when it is finished the plant will be the largest single pipe manufactory in the world. The enlargement will take place in the spring, and will be completed by midsummer. The company will also move its principal offices to Birmingham in March. These steps were decided upon at a meeting of its directors, held in Chattanooga during the early part of the week.

Historical Convention Appointed.

Governor Johnston has appointed the members of the Alabama historical commission. They are: Thomas M. Owen, of Carrollton, chairman; Dr. W. S. Wyman, of the University of Alabama; Col. Sam Will John, of Mobile, and Prof. Charles C. Thach, of the Alabama Polytechnic institute. The Alabama history commission was created by act of the general assembly, passed in December. The creation of this important commission was suggested by the Alabama Historical Society. The members of the commission will serve without remuneration, but a bill was passed authorizing the annual printing of the commission's production.

Heavy Coal Exports.

A prominent coal operator of the Birmingham district says that the export coal business is heavier now than it has been for many months. Immense shipments are being made through New Orleans, Savannah, Pen-Pensacola and Brunswick. These shipments are going forward in spite of the heavy local demand, and indicate that operators are obtaining a good price for coal sold abroad. The sales are chiefly made in the West Indies.

THE CHRONICLE

F. W. GIST, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Entered in the post-office at Columbiana Ala., as second class matter.

IN BEHALF OF COMMON SCHOOLS.

THE CHRONICLE publishes a form of petition which ought to go up from every neighborhood in Shelby County to the legislature by the time of its reassembling. We ask our readers to make a copy of this petition, or cut it out of the paper and circulate it among their friends; and if returned to us we will forward all together to the proper source at Montgomery.

Those who are interested in the education of the masses ought certainly to do this much toward the cause. How many of these petitions will be sent to us before the 20th instant?

To the General Assembly:

Gentlemen—In view of the pressing need of better school facilities for the 800,000 children of Alabama, and realizing the necessity of immediate legislation to place our school system on a par with those of our neighboring States, we, your petitioners, pray:

1. That you shall provide such increase in the school revenues of the State as will enable the rural schools to continue in session for at least six months of each year.

2. That you shall provide some adequate method of determining the competency of teachers who are placed in charge of the common schools of the State.

3. That you shall protect teachers and children of the State from the incompetency of supervising officers. Whether the county superintendent be elected or appointed, it is of vital importance that the office shall be restricted to those qualified to instruct and lead the teachers under their supervision.

The three vital defects in our State school system as at present administered are to be found in (1) maintenance, (2) incompetent teaching, (3) incompetent supervision. That laws shall be enacted during the present session of the legislature to remedy these defects is the burden of this prayer and petition.

Please preface with the town and date.

THE only kicking we have heard against the new road law, as a whole, has come from Mr. Sturdivant's own party.

EVERY State and county officer should be elected for not less than four years and be ineligible for reelection. Let that be one of the changes when the convention meets.

IN the passage of the road law, Mr. Sturdivant took the cow by the horns and came near throwing her over the fence the first lick. A few more pushes and the roads will be clear.

THE first and only thing Mr. Sturdivant did for his constituency was to raise their taxes, and he didn't ask the people's advice about it either. Pretty risky thing for a Populist to do.

REPRESENTATIVE Sturdivant evidently goes on the proposition that a legislator knows better what the people need than they know themselves. In the present instance he was pretty near right.

IF a Democrat had proposed and had the new road law passed there would have been a howl from Dan to Bersheba; as it is the howl will be very tame, though all the sovereigns are not satisfied.

ALL Populist papers are acknowledging that that the convention will be held. We are glad to see that they have at last found out how the people stand on public questions; but it took them a long time to learn.

IT is now intimated that General Wheeler will be made major-general in the regular army, which he will accept and retire from civil office. This we think would be a fitting close for his life. He is a military genius, and properly belongs in that sphere.

AS AN argument in favor of the proposition that the present century will end on December 31, 1900, the Age-Herald asks, "If a man owed you $1,900 would you accept $1,899 in full payment?" From the lights before us we think we would, if he insisted on it.

THE State Democratic executive committee will meet on the 26th to formulate plans for the nomination of delegates at large and for the conduct of the campaign for a constitutional convention. Let us hope that the senatorial districts will be allowed to nominate their own candidates, which is but fair and just.

WASHINGTON is the first negro city in the world, containing as it does more colored people than either St. Louis or Baltimore.—Age-Herald.

And that is the secret of there being no local home rule. The Republicans years ago were afraid to risk their property interests to the mercy of the negro voter, so they disfranchised everybody.

SOME funny things creep into the county expense account. We notice in the last report of our county treasurer this item: "Building courthouse, Beat 11, J. M. Spearman, $50." The good people of that precinct are to be congratulated on having a courthouse of their own. We suggest to our friends in Calera that they satisfy their desires in this way. Doubtless the commissioners will give them equal privileges with Beat 11.

SINCE the thirty-three delegates from the State at large must be voted for by the whole State, but must be apportioned among the senatorial districts, they ought to be nominated by districts. When the State convention meets let the delegates from each senatorial district meet separately and nominate a candidate. This will give each locality the choice of its own delegate, which is certainly in keeping with the spirit of home rule which we all believe in.

THE NEW ROAD LAW.

We publish in this issue the new road law, which applies to this county. Though it is too late to do so we desire to call attention to some of the defects as we see them. As to the general intention of the law, we think it is good. The principle of taxation upon which it is based is clearly the only successful basis for good roads, besides being fair and just. If good roads enhance values—and they certainly do—the property holders ought to share the burden in proportion as they are benefited. This can only be done by taxation.

As to the details of this law we can best judge by taking them up in order.

We do not know that the superintendents ought to have been confined to the road age, for, as they are paid this service, many good men who are over age could be found who would be better than any within the limit, and surely the success of the law will depend most largely upon its intelligent and faithful execution by the superintendents and overseers.

We find no fault with the duties of the superintendents, and the leaving of small contracts with overseers will be a saving, as their pay will not be so large as that of a commissioner, who now does such work.

Sections 4 to 9, if strictly enforced, will be found to be of benefit.

Sections 10 and 11 appear to be a little incompatible, in that the commissioners do not have a chance to pass upon accounts until after they are paid, when, it occurs to us, it is too late to approve or disapprove.

Section 13 seems to forestall the raising of the special fund, and will force the expenditure of money from the general fund for the purchase of tools.

Section 16 is perhaps open to a greater share of criticism than any other. The prime object of the law is to work the roads by hired labor, on the well-established theory that one hired hand will be worth more than three who work under the general law. In placing the days of labor at 4 days and the amount of forfeit at $4 the author has prevented this object. Few men in the country will pay $4 when they can work themselves or hire a substitute at 50 cents per day. If the days were raised to six and the forfeit reduced to $3 most men would pay, and $2,500 more would be added to the fund. More could be accomplished with this than with all the work done on the roads in this county during the past year. This section ought by all means to be changed.

We doubt the wisdom of confining the hired work to the month of August, or of confining the general work to twice a year. Emergencies might arise which would require work at other times, and in fact the superintendent ought to be the better judge of the best time to work the roads in his district.

We are not sure but that one serious objection to the law lies in the large number of overseers contemplated. Probably one overseer to the precinct would be unwise, but each overseer could doubtless handle a long stretch of road more efficiently and at less cost. That now is discretionary with the superintendents, but it might be better to compel the appointment of just as few as possible. Certainly the more territory one man covers the better attention he could afford to give it and the fewer tools would be needed. The latter item is worth considering.

The question presents itself whether this law does not repeal the road laws of the incorporated towns in the county. If it does not the citizens of incorporated towns will have to pay the special tax without any special benefits. If it does, then the schools, which get one-half the street tax, will suffer.

It occurs to us that the law ought to have postponed active operations until the fund was raised, but, of course, that depends upon the financial ability of the county to put it in force out of the general fund.

The success of the law will depend upon the honesty and faithfulness of those appointed to carry it out. There is room for more or less stealing, as in the distribution of every fund, but with good and competent men, and a few needed changes in the law, we think it will be productive of better roads. They are needed.

WE have at present a law exempting from the payment of poll tax all male citizens under twenty-one and over forty-five years of age. The law is clearly unconstitutional and manifestly unfair and unjust. The lower limit is correct. In that no one under that age can vote or exercise the functions of citizenship; but to relieve men over forty-five years of age is arbitrary and without good reason.—Educational Exchange.

If everybody liable to poll tax under the law were made to pay up there would be no need to talk of extending the age limit.—Mobile Register.

Both the above propositions are sound, but incomplete. If the payment of the poll tax was made necessary to the voting privilege both shortcomings would be remedied.

CURRENT CRITICISMS.

By Mrs. F. W. GIST.

There is little if any discussion at present on Southern kitchens, but of the necessities of our Southern people this is among the most prominent.

A good, comfortable, cozy, convenient kitchen is a treasure of all treasures to the housewife, and every woman ought to feel comfortable, clean and at home in her kitchen, and ought to feel perfectly at ease and enjoy her next-door neighbor or other lady friends being seated with her in the kitchen while she seeds the raisins or watches the bread brown. But alas! how many of us "down South" can do this? A few of the best residences in the cities have good kitchens; but look through the rural districts, small towns and villages and we find in many instances handsome dwellings and residences, beautifully painted and decorated inside and out, handsome wall paper, double parlors, cabinet mantels and scores of luxurious connections, and we wander back to the kitchen, where the family meals are to be prepared, and guests are to be provided for, and probably immense entertainments and house parties are to be refreshed from the condiments compounded inside the room, which proves to be the poorest shanty, possibly 6 or 10 feet square, and its sole furniture a cooking stove, a glass window, or maybe a wooden shutter window, a cook table composed of a dry goods box, and possibly a box of wood. The bare floor, black and greasy, for water is unknown in most kitchens in the country, except as the cook lugs it from a neighbor's house or possibly from a well down at the barnyard. What must be the drudgery of a woman who cooks and prepares meals for a fastidious family under such conditions! Many of my readers will say no fastidious family would put up with such conditions for either a housewife or hired servant. Yea, verily! dear reader, thousands of them are to be found here in the South. About the worst failing I know of with men in the South is their lack of ingenuity, industry, tact or inclination to make conveniencies for housewives and building good kitchens.

One says it is not willful neglect in the men—it is poverty—they are compelled to throw up anything that will shelter from rains and winds in order to have homes at all. Not every time is this the case. How about those we have just pictured? Our Girls' Industrial School at Montevallo is going to put a bug in our girls' ears, and that bug will sing to the young men, "A good kitchen, no matter how small or humble our home is to be, a good kitchen, a good kitchen must come." And it ought to come. Every man who loves to eat ought to be interested in an uprising in the South for better, more convenient and well-appointed kitchens. We scarcely blame the housewife who is almost a stranger in her kitchen when that interesting adjunct is a bare, dirty dungeon.

Williams Jennings Bryan has raised himself several feet in the estimation of a large following of people in America in his pronounced denunciation of of the imperialistic policy idea. People who were getting somewhat wearied with his free-silver agitation have ceased their intimations of a criticism, and all join in one hilarious applause for the brave and far-sighted leader of American Democracy and anti-expansionist. Few indeed can now question or doubt his Americanism or democracy. It has been said that Bryan knows nothing but silver, and McKinley knows noting but tariff. However, existing conditions are crowding other matters on their brain, and no doubt they will head the tickets of their respective parties in the next Presidential campaign.

We are sure that Miss Helen Gould is thoroughly disgusted with newspaper representatives for connecting her name in the manner they have been doing with that of General Joseph Wheeler; and in all probability General Wheeler himself is disgusted. But what care the writers? They must speculate and write no matter who it hits or hurts. And so it is—no woman, married, single, old, young, ugly or pretty can be either patriotic, public spirited or even rich without somebody trying to attach a man in her care. And Miss Helen Gould and General Wheeler are not even excepted, and must come along in the common category of mankind and human gossip, no matter how distasteful it may be.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Some of the ladies of the Methodist church of this place have for several years engaged in missionary work, and now, as in the past, have a society at full work. The District Society will meet here in May.

In the beginning of a new year there is nothing more appropriate than that we should begin with it to work more assiduously to increase the interest and more widely diffuse the missionary spirit among all the good women of our church. It is the desire of the president to have the work so distributed and diversified that each member of the society may find real joy and profit in the work, and a more animating zeal in all we undertake for our Master.

The society meets at the Methodist church on the Thursday afternoon after the second Sunday in each month. All ladies, who are not members of the society who at any time wish to attend these meetings, will at all times receive a cordial welcome and have extended to them the privilege of participating in all the exercises and witnessing the proceedings.

The society has commenced a circulating library, for useful and interesting reading, in order to extend information and inspire thought and heart. Anyone may enjoy the reading of any of the books by the payment of 10 cents for each book read.

ROAD LAW.

No. 98. ENROLLED—AN ACT H. 340.

To better provide for the working of the Public Roads of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin and Shelby Counties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Alabama, That the Court of County Commissioners of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin and Shelby Counties, shall, at their first regular meeting after the passage and approval of this Act, and biennially thereafter, appoint one Superintendent of Public Roads in each precinct in said Counties, who shall be subject to road duty, and shall serve for a period of two years.

Section 2. Be it further enacted, That the duty of each precinct Superintendent of Public Roads shall be as follows: 1. To appoint good and intelligent overseers in his respective precinct, who shall be subject to road duty. 2. To apportion to overseers in his precinct all public roads to be worked, subdividing the same, so as to make them as near equal as possible, taking into consideration roads which are rough and hard to keep in repair. Overseers on such roads should not have as many miles assigned to them to keep in repair as those who shall have been allotted better roads. 3. To make out a list of the names of all the hands in his precinct who shall be subject to road duty, and deliver to each overseer a prorata list of the names of such hands. 4. To furnish to each overseer a specification stating the manner in which his road shall be worked, and requiring him to work his road twice in every year—January and August. 5. To see that overseers in his precinct shall cause to be erected mile posts and sign boards. 6. To report to the Grand Jury of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin and Shelby Counties every six months, the condition of all the public roads in his precinct, good or bad. 7. To report to the Grand Juries the name of any overseer in his precinct whose road is in bad condition. 8. To report to the Court of County Commissioners the names of all the overseers in his precinct and the roads over which they shall have been appointed. 9. To make out a list for one road plow and one road scraper for each overseer in his district on whatever roads such implements can be used to any advantage, to be presented to the Judges of Probate of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin and Shelby Counties.

Section 3. Be it further enacted, That any overseer in conjunction with the District Superintendent of Public Roads, may contract for the building of small bridges, causeways and culverts, or may contract for such timber and material as may be necessary for repairing the same; and shall also contract for the establishment of mile posts and the erection of sign boards.

Section 4. Be it further enacted, That each overseer, in notifying the hands apportioned to him by the District Superintendent to work on public roads, shall give each one of them sufficient warning, the notice required by law. He shall make a memorandum of all the defaulters, to be proceeded against under the general law.

Section 5. Be it further enacted, That the overseer in notifying hands to work on public road, shall tell them what kind of tools to bring with which to work.

Section 6. Be it further enacted, That any overseer of a public road in said counties shall dismiss from service any hand, whether working for himself or as a substitute, who shall fail or refuse to do good and sufficient work, or who shall hinder other hands from labor, or who may be intoxicated, or who shall refuse to obey all reasonable orders; and such person shall be proceeded against as though he had failed or refused to obey the notice to work on the road, for which he was warned.

Section 7. Be it further enacted, That each precinct overseer shall take good care of all the tools and implements turned over to him by the Court of County Commissioners, and shall use the same only to work on the public roads of said counties, and to deliver the same to his successor at the expiration of the term of his services, taking a receipt of said successor for them; which receipt shall be in the name of the Court of County Commissioners of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin or Shelby Counties, and as an illustration, shall read somewhat like the following: "Bay State Furnace, January———1897 (as the case may be). I have this day received of the Court of County Commissioners of St. Clair County, per John Styles (here writing the real name), overseer on public road leading from Bay State Furnace, to Big Valley road, one road plow and one road scrape, or six shovels and four picks (as the case may be), and I hereby agree to use them only in working the road assigned me and pledge my word to take good care of the same. Dallas, C. A., overseer." Such receipt shall be delivered to the Judges of Probate of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin and Shelby Counties to be filed away.

Section 8. Be it further enacted, That each precinct overseer, whenever he may think necessary to do so, shall hire at a reasonable price, an ax [ox], horse or mule team, or teams, to work, to plow, or scrape for the purpose of repairing public roads.

Section 9. Be it further enacted, That each overseer in said counties shall be appointed to serve for a period of two years; and when his time shall have expired, he shall be relieved of road duty for a period of two years.

Section 10. Be it further enacted, That all orders for the payment of the hire of teams, and for contracts for small bridges, causeways and culverts, mile posts, sign boards, timber and material, shall be addressed to the Judges of Probate, and in favor of the person to whom money shall be due. Such orders shall be signed by the overseer, and countersigned by the District Superintendent of the public road in whose favor such debt or debts shall have been contracted. But no order shall be valid or paid unless countersigned by the District Superintendent of Public Roads, without good cause can be shown to the Court of County Commissioners of said counties why such order should be honored, and in all cases the order shall be subject to the approval of the Court of County Commissioners.

Section 11. Be it further enacted, That when orders shall have been presented to said Judges of Probate for payment, signed and approved in accordance with Section (10) ten of this Act, said Judge of Probate shall draw his warrant on the Treasurer of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin or Shelby Counties for the amount which shall be due such person, and the Treasurer shall pay the same, and charge to the debit of said county. Said Judge of Probate shall then make a record on the minutes of the Court of County Commissioners of said order, or orders, stating in whose favor, when paid, and the amount.

Section 12. Be it further enacted, That the Court of County Commissioners may remove at any time, any District Superintendent of Public Roads, for neglect of duty, incompetency, drunkenness, or for any cause that may induce it to believe that he is not a suitable person for the place, and shall appoint another person to fill the unexpired term; and such District Superintendent, so removed, shall then be subject to road duty as other hands, and his name shall be placed on the list by his successor, and shall be warned by the overseer in his precinct to work on public roads: Provided, further, should the place of District Superintendent of Public Roads become vacant by death, a suitable person shall be appointed by said Court of County Commissioners to fill the unexpired term.

Section 13. Be it further enacted, That said Judges of Probate shall correspond with hardware houses, to ascertain the lowest figures on road plows, road scrapes, shovels and picks, immediately after the passage of this Act. He shall state in his letters of inquiry, the style of the plow, kind of scrape, shovels and picks, and the number of each he may desire to purchase as the agent of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin or Shelby County. All tools and implements shall be purchased for cash, so as to buy the goods as reasonable as possible. But no inferior tools or implements shall be purchased: Provided, further, should the financial condition of the counties be such that will not warrant the buying of all these road plows and road scrapes for all the public roads at one purchase, the said Judges of Probate shall only purchase a certain number of each in keeping with the financial condition of said County, and let such overseers have the same that can use such labor-saving implements to a better advantage than can those on other section of roads. But whenever, or as often as the financial condition of the counties will justify it, said Judges of Probate shall purchase from time to time, the implements as aforesaid, until all the overseers in said counties shall have one road plow and one road scrape on roads that can be worked to advantage with them.

Section 14. Be it further enacted, That as often as said Judges of Probate shall make a purchase of implements as aforesaid, he shall draw his warrant on the Treasurer of said counties in favor of the person from whom such purchase shall have been made, and said Judges shall make a record of the same on the minutes of the Court of County Commissioners, stating in whose favor, when paid, and the amount.

Section 15. Be it further enacted, That as often as said Judges of Probate shall have received said tools and implements for distribution they shall notify each precinct Superintendent of Public Roads of such fact, and the number of each kind of implements for each precinct. When said Superintendents shall have received such notice, each precinct Superintendent of Public Roads shall give an order to each one of his overseers in his precinct to said Judges of Probate for one road scrape and one road plow, for roads that can be worked to an advantage with them, and an order to other overseers for shovels and picks, for rough or hard roads to keep in repairs. Should there not be sufficient number of tools and implements with which to supply all of said overseers, then the District Superintendent of Public Roads shall use his discretion as to which overseers he shall let have the tools and implements which shall have been selected for his district. When said Judges shall have delivered them to said overseers, they shall take a receipt from each one of them in the name of the Court of County Commissioners of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin or Shelby County.

Section 16. Be it further enacted, That all hands subject to road duty, under the general law, shall be required to work on public road (4) four days in each year or pay in money to his overseer one dollar ($1.00) a day for each day he shall fail to work; which money must be paid his overseer on or before the day he is warned to commence work. The overseer receiving the money must immediately hire a hand to take his place on the road and report it to the District Superintendent of Public Roads. Provided, further, no hand shall be required to work public road oftener than twice a year, nor more than two days each time, for the county.

Section 17. Be it further enacted, That the Court of County Commissioners of said counties shall levy a special tax of not less than one-tenth, or more than one-fifth of one per cent on all taxable property of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin and Shelby Counties, to be assessed and collected as other taxes, and when paid into the Treasury, it shall be kept separate from other funds and used only for the purpose indicated in this Act; which special tax shall be a part of that which is authorized by the Constitution for county purposes.

Section 18. Be it further enacted, That at the first terms of the Court of County Commissioners of St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin and Shelby Counties, after the passage of this Act, and after the assessment of special tax provided for in this Act, it shall calculate the amount of money that will be due each road district from said special tax and send a statement to each District Superintendent of Public Roads, naming the amount of money due such district. After having received such notice, said District Superintendent shall then make a calculation as to how much money there will be for each road in his district, and shall state to each district overseer the amount of money which is due his respective road, allowing some roads more money than other roads in his district, should they be more difficult to keep in repair than those of others in said district, where scrapes and plows cannot be used to advantage; and for the use of such roads the Court of County Commissioners of said counties shall furnish such overseers with good picks and shovels, and anything else that may be necessary to put and keep them in good condition.

Section 19. Be it further enacted, That after the overseers in said counties shall have worked their hands the two (2) days, in August they shall hire hands at reasonable wages, to work on public roads until all of special fund, allowed them, shall have been exhausted, including one dollar a day for each overseer.

Section 20. Be it further enacted, That each overseer of said counties, after he shall have served the four (4) days on public roads, shall work not less than six hands a day in exhausting the special road fund for his road: Provided, further, for neglect of duty, indolence, drunkenness, or for any other valid cause, such road overseer shall be removed by the District Superintendent and another person put in his place, to work out said special tax money.

Section 21. Be it further enacted, That the District Superintendent of Public Roads shall be paid one dollar a day out of the general fund in the Treasury for the days he actually served in the discharge of his duty provided in this Act: Provided, further, that said Superintendent shall make out his account against St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin or Shelby County, overseers and their hands, and shall present the same to said Judges of Probate for settlement. Then said Judges, as in other cases, shall make a record on the minutes of the Court of County Commissioners, stating in whose favor, when paid, and the amount. The Treasurer shall then make the proper credit entries as claims against St. Clair, Cherokee, Franklin or Shelby County. But in all cases, the claims of the Superintendent, overseers, and all other persons shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioners' Court.

Section 22. Be it further enacted, That after the District Superintendent of Public Roads shall have served two years, as such Superintendent, he from road duty, shall then be exempted for a period of two years.

Section 23. Be it further enacted, That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

If irritable, out of sorts, depressed in spirits, have a dull headache, take a few doses of Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine for quick relief.

THE CHRONICLE has just received news of the death of Silas Adams, an old and respected citizen of this county, who died at his home near here a short while since.

Constipation leads to liver trouble, and torpid liver to Brights disease. Prickly Ash Bitters is a certain cure at any stage of the disorder. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

Rev. S. N. Burns presents us with a novelty in the shape of a hen egg. It is very large and has double yolks; the hen laying no other kind. The egg given us weighs 4 ounces.

If your stomach is disordered, bowels irregular, and you don't feel well you need Prickly Ash Bitters. It is very effective in removing this condition. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

Our neighboring city Calera is talking about erecting a canning factory. It is to be hoped that talk will not be all. Small industries build up a country faster than large ones.

If gloomy and nervous and looking on the dark side of things, take a few doses of Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine, and the gloom will disappear.

Register White has completed the transcript in the Alabama Iron & Steel Co. cases. It is perhaps one of the largest ever made in the county; cover more than 1,000 pages of typewritten matter.

Woman's complexion depends for beauty upon digestion. Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine regulates the stomach, liver and kidneys, and secures the blessings of good digestion.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from the second attack of la grippe this year," says Jas. A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against ten for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" Rev. S. N. Burns announced from the pulpit Sunday that, beginning with the second Sunday in next month the pastors of the various churches of the city would combine and hold a series of meetings.

KIDNEY TROUBLES.

The kidneys cleanse the blood, and on their activity depends the health of the body. If the liver becomes so torpid that it interferes with the work of the kidneys the body suffers and dropsy results. The most valuable feature in the curative effect of Prickly Ash Bitters is its stimulating influence in the kidneys. It heals and strengthens those organs so that they resume their blood cleansing and urine gathering functions, purifies and regulates the liver, tones up the stomach and digestion, and by a mild yet thorough cathartic effect all poisons and billious impurities in the bowels are driven out. It quickly restores strength and health. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

The dramatic talent of Vincent has been organized, and has already given some excellent performances. They are going to visit the surrounding towns, having received much encouragement at Childersburg recently.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

You are perhaps aware that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of la grippe. During the epidemic of la grippe a few years ago when so many cases resulted in pneumonia, it was observed that the attack was never followed by that disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. It countefacts any tendency of a cold or la grippe to result in that dangerous disease. It is the best remedy in the world for bad colds and la grippe. Every bottle warranted. For sale by Williams Bros.

One's system, as a rule, is left in a very bad condition from la grippe, which opens the way for many other diseases, such as catarrh, pneumonia consumption. Avoid these dangerous results by taking our "Anti-Gripp."

COLUMBIANA DRUG CO.

To the Pubiic.

We are authorized to guarantee every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be as represented and if not satisfactory after two-thirds of the contents have been used, will refund the money to the purchaser. There is no better medicine made for la grippe, colds and whooping cough. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Try it. For sale by Williams Bros.

We have just received news of the death of W. R. Carter at his home in Shelby on Tuesday. He has been in bad health for some months past, but was not considered seriously ill. He was for one term the sheriff of this county, and was well known to most of our citizens.

When people are obliged to take medicine they want what will give quick relief. Therefore, when you ask your druggist for Simmons Liver Regulator and he offers you a counterfeit of similar name be careful. Take only Simmons Liver Regulator which you know gives prompt relief. Examine closely the trade mark and labels. The red Z trade mark is on every package of Simmons Liver Regulator, and if you will see that the word Regulator is there you cannot be deceived.

The Methodist missionary society, under the leadership of Mrs. S. N. Burns, is enlisting quite an interest with their circulating library. We extend them a hearty right-hand fellowship, and predict much good will be accomplished in various ways by this society of earnest, zealous workers.

No healthy person need fear any dangerous consequences from an attack of la grippe if properly treated. It is much the same as a severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed for a severe cold and a prompt and complete recovery is sure to follow. For sale by Williams Bros.

The Woman's Club of Columbiana will hold an important meeting at Central Hotel next Saturday at 3 o'clock. All members please be on hand.

The Presbyterian juvenile missionary have a membership of 21, and have undertaken to send a little girl to Orphans' Home at Talladega.

Will the sallow-complexioned, billous looking young man who was seen in town all day yesterday, call at this office at his earliest convenience? We wish to explain to him the virtues of Simmons Liver Regulator as a remedy for billousness, constipation, sick headache, dyspepsia and all stomach and liver diseases. If appearances count for any thing, the young man referred to needs to take Simmons Liver Regulator without further delay.

NEW ROAD LAW.

Tax Levied and Superintendents Appointed.

The commissioners wrestled with the new road law last week, but could come to no conclusion. Much opposition was manifested, principally because of the various details coming in conflict with the financial condition of the county. The law makes it the duty of the probate judge to buy tools for cash, and as the special fund can not be raised till next fall the court was puzzled to know how to obey this feature of it.

The commissioners took an adjournment to sleep over the matter, and Monday they met again. In compliance with the law they have levied a special tax of one-fifth of 1 per cent, which is the full limit of the law. It is estimated that this will raise a fund of about $7,500. This they have apportioned among the roads, giving first $1,500 to the purchase of tools, and $27 to each overseer as the latter now exist. By beats this apportionment will be as follows:

	8	506
	9	378
	10	551
	11	297
	12	102
	13	135
	14	105
	15	270
	16	216
	17	270
	Total	4947

It seems that the commissioners anticipated that the district superintendents will divide the roads up as they now stand, which they are not obliged to do. By a reference to Section 18 it will be seen that it is the duty of the district superintendent to apportion this money among the overseers according to the condition of their respective roads. Each superintendent will have the amount of money named above to be thus divided. Whether overseers will be able to proceed under section 19 until some money has been raised will depend upon whether he can hire hands to wait for their money.

Beat 1.—J. P. Dykes.
2.—F. A. Coston.
3.—Powell Blair.
4.—A. F. Hutchings.
5.—Robert Atchison.
6.—J. A. Griffin.
7.—B. L. Smith.
8.—R. W. Poindexter.
9.—Lank Crumpton.
10.—J. W. Glaze.
11.—Montgomery Fancher.
12.—Dr. J. M. B. Johnson.
13.—R. F. Cox.
14.—Ezekiel Isbell.
15.—Jesse Payton.
16.—Isaac Tredwell.
17.—John M. Lyons.
18.—J. O. Dorrough.

It is the concensus of opinion that some amendments should be made to the law at once, so as to make it easy of operation, and doubtless an effort will be made to have it done. Unless it is not much improvements will be made upon the roads this year. There will be barely time to get in the two days in this month, and if the roads have to lie till August and then get only two days they will get in a very bad shape. Indeed, under section 19 of the act no hired labor can be performed on the road until one year from next August, and only 8 days of regular labor up to that time.

Some dissatisfaction is expressed at the act as a whole, but most of the opinions already heard are favorable, except as to a few of the details, which all agree will bear a change. Scarcely anybody knew of the law until it was passed, and but few heard of it until last week, and several who favor the principle of the law agree that Mr. Sturdivant should have taken more time and some advice and put the bill in better shape before its passage.

Where there is smoke there's fire, and where there's billousness, constipation, frequent headache and indigestion there's a diseased liver. Simmons Liver Regulator will quickly restore the liver to healthy action and cure these disorders. Be sure you get Simmons Liver Regulator, as some preparations of somewhat similar name may be offered you. See that the word Regulator is on the package and you will know it is Simmons Liver Regulator.

They Should Know it.

Many women suffer untold agony and misery because the nature of their disease is not correctly understood. They have been led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for the many ills that beset womankind.

Neuralgia, nervousness, headache, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, rheumatism, a dragging pain or dull ache in the back, weakness or bearing-down sensation, profuse or scanty supply of urine with strong odor, frequent desire to pass it with scalding or burning sensation, sediment in it after standing in bottle or common glass for 24 hours are signs of kidney and bladder trouble.

The above symptoms are often attributed by the patient herself or by her physician to female weakness or womb trouble. Hence, so many fail to obtain relief, because they are treating, not the disease itself, but a reflection of the primary cause, which is kidney trouble.

In fact, women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same remedy.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is easy to get at any drug store for 50 cents or $1.

To prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Kindly mention THE CHRONICLE, and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

A New Year's Prayer.

Dear Father, in Jesus name, by Thy Holy Spirit's power, search my heart and cleanse me from every spot and stain and make me pure and holy in Thy sight.

Whatever may have been wrong in me in the past, O make it right, even now. If I have kept back from Thee anything—anything, O receive it now! Help me all through this year to "rejoice evermore, pray without ceasing, and in everything to give thanks." Give me, dear Father, the spirit and the mind of my Master, and fill me with all Thy fullness. Saturate me with Thy love; baptize me with the Holy Ghost; and enable me to exhibit in my daily life His glorious fruits. May Thy will be done in me and by me forever. Take me, break me, and make me, mind, soul, and body, just what Thou wouldst have me to be; send me each day just where Thou wouldst have me to go; help me to do each hour just what Thou wouldst have me to do; and give me grace to suffer entirely for Thy glory. As Thy servant, accomplish through me the highest possibilities of every opportunity. Help me to be "instant in season and out of season," and always as "wise as a serpent and harmless as a dove." O grant me such a love for Thy Word, for secret prayer, for souls and for all Thy service as I have never yet enjoyed. Help me to see in every old man, a father; in every old woman a mother; in every young man or boy a brother; in every young woman or girl, a sister; and in them all, the blessed Saviour. O help me to live so full of Christ, so void of self, that every one, whom I shall meet, will fall in love with my Saviour and accept Him without delay! May Jesus be my first thought in the morning, my joyful meditation through the day, my last thought before falling to sleep, my dream through the night—my all in all. O prepare me for what Thou art preparing for me; qualify me to meet every obligation of life; and equal me to every emergency.

In each of my loved ones and friends let Thy righteous will be done. All over the earth, let Thy glorious kingdom come. "Even so come, Lord Jesus," and glory be to Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Amen!

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Something About the Greatest Weekly Newspaper in the Country.

REDUCED RATE FOR TWO PAPERS.

Take Your Home Paper and The Constitution and be Happy.

We call special attention to our clubbing arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing price of the two papers being only $1.50 per year, subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the claim of circulation made by The Constitution and put up a forfeit of $500 that it could be disproved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm. Mr. George P. Rowell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has just been brought to a close, the reports of no newspaper in the South could compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative sailed with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and of the 120 correspondents who went to Cuba, he was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. His special representative also accompanied the fleet in the Caribbean sea, and its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with the promptness of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manila, the death of Ensign Bagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all given in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

The Weekly Constitution makes a special feature of its agricultural page, which is presided over by Colonel R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment farm, and a man who is recognized as an expert on all agricultural topics. He gives a full page every week on agricultural matters. A page is devoted to the women and a page to children, these two departments being presided over by Mrs. William King.

Among the regular staff members of The Constitution are Joel Chandler Harris, Frank L. Stanton and others well known throughout the country; while among its special contributors are such men as Wallace P. Reed, Bill Arp, Sarge Plunkett, Betsy Hamilton, Dr. Talmage and others of national reputation.

The Constitution has just completed the thirtieth year of its existence, Clark Howell being the editor and Col. W. A. Hemphill its business manager. Its name is a household word in every southern state, from Virginia to Texas. It has always been in especially close touch with the agricultural masses of the South, and in having reached a circulation which carries it into 150,000 homes it has won a unique distinction which ranks it among the greatest of American weekly newspapers.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscribtions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every southern home!

The Alabama Fertilizer

Is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State, to be the best all around fertilizer for cotton and corn.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Everyone of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified acre of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER. The only objection ever raised to the ALABAMA FERTILIZER was that it costs too much.

The present price is no more than that of standard fertilizers. When requested, the ALABAMA FERTILIZER will put up, without extra cost, in bags treated by the Mununia Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process, thereby insuring the perfect preservation of the bags for an indefinite time, and saving the contents from loss by waste in handling. These preserved bags when emptied and thoroughly washed will be found as good and strong as new, and equally useful for other purposes. Every person, farmer, merchant or dealer vitally interested in the economical production of good crops should advocate the use of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

A Narrow Escape.

In his book, "The Crimea of 1854," Sir Evelyn Wood, V. C., relates the following anecdote: "I was making for a place where the parapet had been worn down by men running over it, in order to avoid the exertion of mounting up even four feet, when a young soldier passed me on my left side, and, doubtless, not noticing I was wounded, knocked my arm heavily, saying, 'Move on, sir, please.' As he passed over the parapet with his rifle at the trail, I caught it by the small of the butt to pull myself up. He turned round angrily, asking, 'What are you doing?' And while his face was bent on mine, a roundshot, passing my ear, struck him full between the shoulders, and I stepped over his body, so exhausted as to be strangely indifferent to the preservation of my own life, saved by the soldier having jostled me out of my turn at the gap."

CONSULTING A WOMAN.

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Inspires Confidence and Hope.

She puts it off as long as she dare, and is only driven to it by fear of cancer, polypus, or some dreadful ill.

Most frequently such a woman leaves a physician's office where she has undergone a critical examination with an impression, more or less, of discouragement.

This condition of the mind destroys the effect of advice; and she grows worse rather than better. In consulting Mrs. Pinkham no hesitation need be felt, the story is told to a woman and is wholly confidential. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass., she offers sick women her advice without charge.

Her intimate knowledge of women's troubles makes her letter of advice a wellspring of hope, and her wide experience and skill point the way to health.

"I suffered with ovarian trouble for seven years, and no doctor knew what was the matter with me. I had spells which would last for two days or more. I thought I would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I have taken seven bottles of it, and am entirely cured."—MRS. JOHN FOREMAN, 26 N. Woodberry Ave., Baltimore, Md.

BETTER THAN BUTTER

Butterine is. That is, it is better than very nearly all butter. The best butter that can be produced is as good as Butterine. It isn't better. It can't be. And the butter is as good only at the moment it comes from the churn. It doesn't stay so. Butter and Butterine remain on a parity only for a few moments. The butter begins to deteriorate immediately. The Butterine doesn't.

Why do you not buy Butterine?

It's because you are prejudiced. You have been told that Butterine is artificial. What does artificial mean? It means a variety of things according to circumstances. Butterine is artificial. So is butter. Butterine is manufactured by a process. Butter is manufactured by a process. One is just as artificial as the other. The elements of both are produced by nature. Both come from the same animal.

And these elements are practically indentical. That's why butter can't be better than Butterine. Pure Klondike gold can't be any better than pure Cripple Creek gold. Gold is gold. Certain elements are the same whether in butter or Butterine—whether in the milk or the fat of a cow.

The difference between Butterine and the best butter is mostly in the process of making. The Butterine process is superior and is a guarantee of purity.

And with all its merits Butterine costs less than butter—only 15c. per pound. And at this low price we will send it to you express prepaid.

FOR FARM AND GARDEN.

What to Do With Soft Corn.

If there is room under shelter, soft corn should be spread thinly on the floor, so as to keep it from heating. When freezing cold weather comes, it will freeze dry, and may then be ground in the cob with greater advantage than to use in any other way. But there will be a considerable part of the poorest corn that has little corn on it, and which is mainly cob. This can be better given while soft to cattle than fed in any other way. In drying corn cobs, most of their nutriment is lost, and only when there is considerable corn on them will it pay to grind them for feed.

To Prevent Indigestion.

A common mistake made by farmers, and one that causes many cases of acute indigestion (a disease that frequently proves fatal) is this, a horse or a pair that has been getting little or no grain and have been doing slow work on the farm, is required to go to market or some other place that necessitates a long drive, is given a large feed of grain in order to fortify for the journey, and then hitched and driven as soon as it has finished its meal. The animal, not being used to either the grain or the road work, is very likely to suffer from indigestion. The better way is to let the animal do his work on his usual food, and then, after the journey has been gone and the horse is in his own stable and about to have some hours' rest, give him some grain. When possible, horses should not be put to hard or fast work soon after feeding, nor fed grain too soon after performing excessively hard or fast work.—Farm, Field and Fireside.

Hedges as Vermin Breeders.

Nobody now talks about the hedge as a cheap fence, though its other recommendation of being permanent unfortunately still holds good. Except for a border around some suburban residence the hedge is a nuisance, and is now little planted. In the country it is especially objectionable, as it keeps on growing unless cut back every year or two, and its roots extend on either side, robbing the cultivated land of moisture and plant food that the crops require. Most commonly the hedge is built around the orchard, possibly with the idea that it will protect the fruit from thieves. Instead of this the hedge is apt to stir the ambition of all the boys in the neighborhood to try whether they cannot get through it, and we never saw the hedge that could keep an active boy out of where he wanted to go. But the worst of all the evils of the hedge around an orchard is that it is sure to be surrounded by tall grass, making the best possible harbor for rabbits, which will go through and strip the bark from apple trees. In most cases, too, the rabbit will strip the bark from the hedgerow trees, thus killing them and destroying the hedge.

The Corn Crib.

Much corn is still stored in the old-fashioned rail pens. These should be placed in the open spots where the air can circulate freely and there are no trees to prevent drying after a rain. Build well off the ground, so that the floors of the cribs will be at least a foot above the surface. Then dogs can go under easily and little trouble will result from rats or other vermin. Do not attempt to build the cribs too high. Much extra work is thus made necessary in unloading and the wind has more effect on the roofs. Allow the cribs to remain open for several weeks, then cover with boards and fasten them down securely. Be especially careful to get a tight roof, otherwise the water will do much damage to the upper layers of corn. Of course where board cribs are in use the cover is a permanent one and will prevent any water getting to the corn. These cribs are the best, but are more expensive, and while one or more should be built on every farm, the surplus corn which is hauled to market during the autumn and winter or early spring can be securely stored in cheap rail cribs. These board cribs should also be built well off the ground.—New England Homestead.

Cottonseed for Hog Feeding.

In a work recently published by W. A. Henry, entitled "Feeds and Feeding," he has this to say of feeding cottonseed to hogs: "All efforts to determine the poisonous principle in the cottonseed, if there really be one, have thus far proved futile, and the matter is still a mystery. The ill effects have been ascribed to the lint of the seed, to the leathery seed coats causing injury to the delicate lining of the digestive tract, to moulds, to changes in the composition of the meal when exposed to the air and to some definite poisonous principle in the seed itself, as in the case of the castor oil beans." Good authorities assert that the cottonseed is also fatal to hogs. Sometimes they will thrive on it for a time, but finally, it will kill them quickly. Some months ago an experience was given of a gentleman who had farmed many years in Tennessee. His hogs had access to cottonseed that had been in shallow water for some time, entirely below the surface, but within reach of the hogs. All of them seemed to thrive on the feed, but it was not shown how long they fed on it. Altogether it would be safer not to "monkey with it."—Connecticut Farmer.

Where Clover Will Grow.

Red clover will not grow in soils containing an excess of organic acids. It is believed that "clover sickness," which prevents the growth of clover upon the same field for an indefinite period, is due to the formation of an excess of humic acids which interfere with the growth and development of the nitrifying soil bacteria. When such a condition arises in the soil an application of lime neutralizes the acids and restores its fertility. To prevent the one-sided exhaustion of any soil which follows the continuous cultivation of this crop, and to utilize its full value as a gatherer of nitrogen, red clover should only be used in rotations.

The best fertilizers for red clover are lime upon all acid soils, muriate or sulphate of potash on sandy soils, and superphosphates on the heavier clay soils. An application of well-composted manure, or liquid manure, will prove of benefit to any leguminous forage crop when there is enough lime in the soil to combine with the humic acids produced during decomposition; but large amounts upon land already rich in humus do not usually give a satisfactory increase either of the crop or its crude protein; neither do commercial nitrogenous fertilizers seem to materially increase the total quantity of crude protein in the hay. Agricultural Year Book.

A Use for Creamery Wastes.

Why not save the drainage and washings from cheese factories and creameries for fertilizer? We have noticed where this waste product reaches the land it acts as one of the best fertilizers, especially for grass. We know of a sloping piece of land near a creamery over which the drainage has been spread by small ditches, and without any other fertilizer it cuts two heavy crops of hay each year. It would no doubt produce other crops equally as well. Previous to this, the land was very poor. It is certainly worth $100 or more yearly to this small piece of land, and even then is not economically used. This fertilizer, which is allowed to waste, amounts to a very large sum throughout the country annually. At a conservative estimate, it would be worth from $150 to $200 to each factory yearly if properly saved, as it should be.

The following suggestions as to the method of saving it might form the basis of some useful experiments in this line. Arrange a tank at the side of the factory to hold about seventy-five bushels; make it out of wood, and line with galvanized iron. Place a spout under the flooring of the factory where the washings run through, so as to catch and convey them into the tank. Some dry muck or sawdust, if near a mill, would be useful to absorb the liquid and make it more convenient to handle. All the goodness will settle to the bottom and the water on top. Place some faucets in the side of the tank and draw off each day all the clear water. The tank should be covered to prevent the escape of odors and contents removed once every one or two weeks. It is a more cleanly way of disposing of the washings than allowing them to soak into the ground around the factory. It could be sold to some of the patrons near the factory, who would, no doubt, be glad to buy it, and, as most factories are co-operative, directly benefit the patrons. —A. E. Sargent in Farm and Home.

Good Feed for Dairy Cows.

The first thing to ensure a successful production of butter is a herd of good butter cows, but butter from the very best can be spoiled in the manipulation. In fact, I believe the feed and care of the herd have more to do with the product than the breed. The milch cow is in a great measure a machine, the feed, the raw material and the milk, butter or cheese the manufactured product. As a manufacturer cannot turn out all wool from shoddy, neither can a dairyman make the best of butter from poor feed, and by poor food I mean brewers' grains, sour or fermented foods, or anything that will cause garget or other injurious effects on the health of the animals.

My herd consists of a mixture of breeds, Jersey predominating. My feed is hay and corn stover with grain. For a grain ration, the best I know of from many years' experience is corn and oats—four bushels to three respectively ground together, with wheat bran and cottonseed meal. Feed an equal quantity of ground corn and oats and wheat bran with a moderate ration of cottonseed meal, never exceeding a quart to a feed of the latter. At every feed add some salt. By a regular feeding of salt there is a constant flow of milk, a more healthy condition of the secretive organs, a better assimilation of feed, better digestion, the product is always uniform, the cream rising and the butter coming every time just right.

My plan is to first clean out my stable in the morning, then milk and remove from the stable as soon as milked and strain into creamer. I then feed the cows their ration of grain and sometimes roots immediately after milking, and no unpleasant effect will be produced in milk or butter. I give a bushel of turnips well cut up to ten cows, with grain and salt. To prevent the scattering of grain, I moisten very lightly, but do not stir it up. I simply turn in some water, having it warm in cold weather. After the feed of grain I feed hay, or corn stover cut and mixed with hay, sometimes moistened, but a feed of something dry immediately afterward, so the cows will go out and drink. After watering I give a poorer quality of hay. I want nothing but early cut English hay with clover predominating, but most farmers have other varieties and must plan to make the best use of them. The cows are through eating by 9 a. m. and get nothing till 3 p. m., when they are fed again, watered, have their grain ration and are then milked and left for the night.—H. M. Childs in American Agriculturist.

The Grandeur of Forest Fires.

As a grand and awful spectacle a forest fire in the mountains, especially at night, has probably no equal. Every tree becomes a huge sprouting torch, a hell of fire below, a moving chain as of volcanoes, miles in length, approaching at the speed of a fast walker, out of which long walls and towers and spires of blood red flames leap up and lick the stars. Black smoke perforated by geyser-like fountains of sparks, which rush upward far into the listening night as from the tall chimneys of countless furnaces. The jagged and tottering trunks of pine and tamarack; the calcined rocks; the festoons of shriveled and spray-like moss; the incandescent tops of resinous trees and forest wrack driven before the hurricane, the crash of falling timber; the rending of the air; the mighty rush of blistering wind and seething tumult of flame; the stricken beasts of the forest; the falling of the birds; the snowy peaks of the imperturbable mountains, and the silent blue black arches of the sky.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Widows Have the Best Chance.

A woman's chance to marry at from 15 to 20 years of age is said to be 14½ per cent. From 20 to 25 the chance is increased to 52 per cent; from 25 to 30 it diminishes to 18; from 30 to 35, 15½ per cent. From 35 to 40 the chances of an unmarried woman sink to 8¾ per cent; from 40 to 45 a still further diminution is seen, her chance being but 2½. From 45 to 50 the old maid's chance of getting a husband is but three-eighths of 1 per cent, while from 50 to 55 she is supposed to have but one-quarter of 1 per cent of a chance. It should be added, however, that the table of averages does not apply to widows.

REIGNS WITHOUT WOMEN.

Barren Land Where Masculine Will Rules Supreme.

There is at least one tiny section of the globe where women are conspicuously absent from society and where man reigns supreme, undisturbed by the vagaries and caprices of even a single woman's will.

There is only one territory of any size—and never has been but one—occupied by any considerable population from which women is absolutely excluded. Yet such a place exists today and has existed for centuries. As far back as history reaches to all females it has been forbidden ground. This country without women is situated on a bold plateau between the old peninsula of Acte, in the Grecian archipelago, and the mainland. Here in the midst of the cultivated fields and extensive woodlands dwells a monastic confederation of Greek Christians, with twenty-three convents and numbering more than 7,000 souls. Not one of the monasteries dates from a later time than the twelfth century. A few soldiers guard the borders of this land, and no woman is allowed to cross the frontier. Nor is this all; the rule is extended to every female creature, and from time immemorial no cow, mare, hen, duck or goose has been permitted to enter this territory.

ECONOMY IN INDIA.

What Cheap Labor Means in Food for the Worker.

United States Consul Patterson, at Calcutta, has supplied to the bureau of commerce of the state department some statistics relative to the costs and means of subsistence of laborers in India that exhibit in a striking manner the extreme economy practiced by the natives. His tables show that the highest wages paid for skilled labor is $4.50 per month for jute mill hands, while $1.80 is the monthly wage of able-bodied agricultural laborers. But the consul says that in northwestern India wages are much lower than the figures quoted. The laborers live altogether on grain, using about one-half pound per day each, costing on an average from 2 1-2c to 3c. Yet with this food they do the hardest kind of manual labor and keep their muscles well developed, their endurance in carrying heavy loads being remarkable. A majority of the laborers not only exist on these small wages, but manage to keep families and save money.

Cures All Diseases of Women.

MANY women are under the impression that the diseases peculiar to their sex are natural and incurable because so many suffer constantly from them. This is a mistake. Few women are so badly diseased that they cannot be cured. It is true, that had they taken a remedy that was efficient when the first symptoms of disease appeared, a more rapid cure would have been the result. No woman should neglect herself. When the monthly period becomes too frequent, painful, profuse, obstructed, or irregular in any way, or if she suffers from falling of the womb, whites, or any other female trouble, she should at once resort to the use of

Probate Judge Fly

MISS MORRISON'S STATEMENT

ACTRESS TELLS THE JURY OF BAD TREATMENT AT THE HANDS OF LEIDEN.

SOME DAMAGING TESTIMONY

The trend of the testimony showed that she laid in wait for Actor Frank Leidenheimer and when the opportunity came she pulled the pistol she carried concealed in the folds of her dress and fired into his face. After he had falled she stooped over him and deliberately fired a ball into his writhing body.

The examination of witnesses for the state occupied the morning session and the court adjourned until the afternoon.

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT.

Immediately on reassembling at 2 o'clock, the court ordered the examination of witnesses to proceed and Miss Morrison was called to the stand. The accused woman was quite flustrated at first and seemed to be very much excited, but she soon became calmer and proceeded to give her testimony in an emphatic and clear, though rather dramatic manner. She stated that she had been subjected to all kinds of insults by Leiden; that when Leiden found that she was married he had subjected her to systematic insult and abuse and had continued it until it became unbearable.

The first witness called was W. J. Patterson, the stage manager of the Chattanooga opera house, who testified as follows:

"Liendenheimer said nothing to Miss Morrison or made any effort to assault her when she fired the shot. She shot him before he could speak. The shot was fired the second she saw him."

His story was very damaging to Miss Morrison. On questioning him on Liedenheimer's actions, he swore that he acted the gentleman and tried to avoid any trouble with Miss Morrison, who seemed to be ill-tempered and insulting.

Leon H. Joseph, electrician at the opera house, was next called and his evidence was the most damaging of all for the defense. The attorneys endeavored to make him say he had discussed the case with the prosecutor and fixed up the testimony, but he denied it bitterly.

Here the attorneys on both sides got into an argument, and it looked as if it would be a personal difficulty, until the sheriff made all sit down and the judge ordered the first attorney under arrest who again made a disturbance.

Attorney Latimore asked Witness Joseph if Leidenheimer, the murdered man, was not a Jew. He replied he did not know. At this instant, Mrs. Antz, sister of Leidenheimer, who was present, jumped up and said:

"You lie if you say he was a Jew. You are trying to prejudice the jury."

Judge Estell announced that all demonstrations must stop.

Rogers Ryley, of New York, who was assistant manager of the "Mr. Plaster of Paris" company, was the next witness. His testimony caused a great sensation. When he commenced to testify Miss Morrison began to cry and hide her face. He swore he heard her say to Leidenheimer the morning before the murder: "I'll put a ball through you yet very soon." He swore that he saw her the night of the murder and that she had her street dress on and was not made up for the stage, and did not have her stage dress on or her stage make-up.

Here a dispute arose between the attorneys. Judge Estell became enraged and left the stand. He got between the lawyers, took a paper from their hands, and said:

"This farce must stop. I'll decide this controversy. Mr. Riley, you tell all you know. We are going to get at the bottom of this case, and are not going to have anything covered up."

Mr. Riley was then turned over to the defense to be cross examined.

While all this was going on Miss Morrison was spending her time in the courtroom crying and making demonstrations.

When Miss Morrison was called she arose and walked with a confident air toward the witness stand. Every eye was eagerly upon the occupant of the witness box. The seal upon her lips was about to be broken and a tale of romance, cruelty, persecution, insult and tragedy, all of which reads like a work of fiction, was about to be unraveled. Colonel Joe Clift, for the defense, took the stand through the story of her wrongs and her wanderings. She began her story as follows:

"My name is Julia Morrison James. My stage name is Julia Morrison. I am in the theatrical profession. I was born in Kansas, as well as I know. I had some foster parents. I can't state exactly how long after I was born before my mother died. I do not know whether my father lived after my real mother's death. I was married before I was fourteen years of age. I didn't know until after my marriage that they were not my real parents. Their treatment was most severe. They would put me up in a corner and take my ears and hold them against the wall and beat my head.

"My husband and myself went from LaFayette, La., to Paterson, N. J. I then clerked a short time in New York. For a while we boarded on West Fortieth street, then East Fortieth street. I then went with the 'Mr. Plaster of Paris' company.

"After I was employed by Harris, I stayed in New York awhile and rehearsed—went to rehearsals every day and worked hard. Leiden was with the company at that time. Upon the first few occasions he was very gentlemanly. He found no fault whatever. He told me I was great and excellent. I exhibited to Mr. Leiden my costomes which I had to wear.

"In Peekskill, New York," the witness continued, "Leiden came up to my room. The door was open and I was lying on the bed with my head toward the door. I supposed it was my husband who came in. The next I knew there was a pair of arms around me, and he made an indecent proposal.

It became necessary for the witness to tell what Leiden had called her, and she said, "Can't I write these horrible things?" When told she must use the language, she proceeded.

"I heard Leiden say to his assistant not to send out a lithograph of myself, as he expected to get rid of the——" Here the witness used words unfit for print.

"He frequently called me a bitch." Here the witness used language unfit to print.

Referring to the incidents before the tragedy at the Chattanooga opera house, just previous to the tragedy, she said:

"I arrived at the opera house a minute or two before 12. I heard Mr. Leiden say to somebody, 'What must I do with her?' He looked so angry that I started toward the steps. He came and shook his fist in my face. He said: 'I didn't call the rehearsal because the piece needs rehearsing, but to see if you would come.' He said, 'I would address you as a lady if I thought you were a lady, you bitch.' He said that I wasn't fit to be in a dog show. He kicked me in the abdomen and slapped me with his hand. He started to slap me again, but Mr. Breeding interfered. He wouldn't let him hit me again. He asked me why in the hell I didn't send that damned pimp of mine up, and he'd break his neck.

"I made no threat that I remember of to put a ball through Leiden. I always carried a pistol in my bosom. My husband gave it to me in LaFayette, La. I made no statement that I would see Leiden before the curtain went up that night. There is no truth in that.

"That night I went to the opera house with a maid. Mr. Breeding showed me my dressing room. I had on a street costume. The time I was to appear on the stage in the play was fifteen or twenty minutes off from the time the curtain went up. My part did not require me to absolutely dress at all. The very dress I have on Mr. Leiden told me I looked beautiful in and I had worn it in the play.

"After reaching my dressing room I took off my hat, opened my grip and took out my keys to open my trunk." That evening, she stated, Leiden had gone to the toilet room where she was, while she was sick, and had offered an indignity, which she told to the court, and which is unfit for the prints.

"I pushed him away and pushed him out of the toilet. He slapped me violently. A colored girl came after me. The colored girl followed me up the steps. There was no one in front. I found the steps very narrow. I was just in the act of stepping up the steps when Mr. Leiden leaned over and said in a low voice, 'What in the hell do you mean, you——; I'll kill you!' I lost consciousness here. I believed he was going to carry out his threats. I have no recollection of firing one, two or three shots. I remember nothing else until the officer came up and said, 'Come, lady!'"

At this juncture the court adjourned until Saturday.

THE USUAL HAPPENED.

Workmen Thaw Dynamite; One Dead and Others Injured.

Four quarrymen on the Tennessee Central railroad near Rockwood, Tenn., attempted to thraw out a stick of dynamite which had been frozen up in a box. The dynamite, of course, exploded, and one man, a negro, was killed and three others fatally injured, two of them dying two hours after the accident.

WILL PAY DEPOSITORS.

The Produce Exchange at New York to Resume Business.

The trustees of the New York Produce Exchange Trust Company have made all arrangements for the resumption of business.

General Samuel Thomas, vice president of the reorganized company, authorized the statement that when the doors open again every depositor who may desire his money will be paid in full.

BRYAN SPEAKS

At Banquet In Chicago On Occasion of "Jackson Day" Celebration By Democrats.

Six hundred Democrats gathered in the banquet hall of the Tremont house at Chicago Saturday evening to observe "Jackson Day" in an appropriate manner. William Jennings Bryan was the honored guest and chief orator of the occasion.

It was nearly midnight when the orators were in full swing, and Mr. Bryan's address was last on the list. Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, acted as toastmaster.

Mr. Bryan, in opening his address, recounted the political situation as it had existed at each successive "Jackson Day" banquet which he had attended in Chicago, and then coming down to later issues he discussed the currency bill, of which he said:

"The currency bill fastens us to the financial systems of the old world and subjects us to the disturbances which affect them, while it places the control of the volume of paper money in the hands of a bank trust, which will be as merciless to the people of this country as Weyler was to the reconcentrados. The fight for bimetallism, at the ratio ot 16 to 1, has not been lost. The increased production of gold has shown the advantage of more money, and has answered the arguments so often made that the parity could not be maintained because of the overproduction of silver."

Mr. Bryan declared that the Republican party is unable to enact and enforce anti-trust laws, and that the Democratic party when in power will meet the issue with a plain and positive remedy. On the subject of "imperialism," he said:

"The question of imperialism will occupy a prominent place in the next campaign. It matters not whether the war in the Philippines ends in the near future or continues until election. The people must determine the policy to be pursued in regard to the Philippines. That policy must contemplate the ultimate independence of the Filipinos or their permanent retention under American sovereignty. If the islands are to be retained permanently the inhabitants must be given the hope of full citizenship or they must be condemned to the lot of subjects. Who desires to admit them to share and share alike with us the destiny of this republic?"

The entire policy of the administration in relation to the Philippines, he declared to be utterly wrong. His speech was received with great enthusiasm.

Other speakers of the evening were General Joseph B. Doe, of Wisconsin; Thomas F. Barkworth, of Michigan; James H. Milligan, of Kentucky, and Howard S. Taylor, of Illinois.

GENERAL GREELY HURT.

Drunken Man Throws Him Out of His Own House.

A Washington dispatch says: General A. W. Greely, the chief signal officer of the army, and the well-known Artic explorer, lies in a serious condition at his home, No. 1914 G street, northwest, as the result of an assault committed on him about half-past 8 o'clock Sunday night by Joseph C. Furnace, a messenger in the employ the Adams Express company.

Furnace was drunk at the time, and having lost his way on the street, disturbed the Greely household by trying to gain admission. General Greely appeared at the door and began to remonstrate when Furnace seized him and threw him out bodily.

"FOR BREACH OF PROMISE."

Niece of General Wheeler Brings Suit Against Chicago Man.

Miss Etta Thomas, a niece of General "Joe" Wheeler, began suit in the superior court at Chicago Saturday against William H. Fahrney, a prominent west side society man, asking $100,000 damages for alleged breach of promise to marry.

Widow Jackson Invited.

The North Carolina delegation in congress sent a telegram to Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, inviting her to participate in the banquet to be given in Washington January 12, to aid the erection of a monument to General Robert E. Lee.

MORE TERRITORY SECURED.

Watson Announces That We Have Captured the Island of Sibutu.

The United States navy has taken possession of another island in the east. The news of the seizure was contained in the following dispatch:

"CAVITE, January 5, 1900.—On December 21st, Wentsbaugh, commanding the Albay, a little gunboat, hoisted the flag on Sibutu island and the chief dato provided and raised the pole. Natives and north Borneo authorities pleased. WATSON."

CAPERS DEPRECATES WAR.

South Carolina Bishop Strongly Criticises Government's Policy.

Bishop Ellison Capers, formerly a confederate general, in his annual visit to Trinity Episcopal church at Columbia, S. C., Sunday criticised the national government in the prosecution of war in the Philippines. He lamented the fact that a Christian nation was using shot and shell to remove a less fortunate people from the way of its march of progress.

JULIA'S DEMEANOR NOT EMOTIONAL

Her Self-Possession Displeases Her Lawyers, It Is Said.

A MISTRIAL IS PREDICTED

Two Jurymen Found To Be of Questionable Qualification.

The hearing and testimony in the Julia Morrison trial was resumed at Chattanooga Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, the prisoner, Miss Morrison, being again called to the stand for cross-examination.

Miss Morrison took the stand and the letter to Manager Harris in which she made complaint of Leiden was shown to the witness, and her employment contract with Harris, and she was asked to identify the signatures. She examined them and said that they were signed by her. "The letter to Harris," she said, "was written at the dictation of my husband."

Continuing on her cross-examination in answer to a question from the state's attorney, she said: "My foster mother did not tell me why she adopted me. She said she got me in Kansas; didn't tell me where. I have never seen or made any real search for my real parents or relatives. My foster parents said my real parents were dead. I do not know the first names of my parents. Do not know their business."

A large number of depositions were introduced by the defense. Most of these were by employes of play houses in other cities, and were intended to show that Leiden's abuse of Miss Morrison was of frequent occurrence; others were from people who had known the defendent and whose depositions were to show that her character was good.

It was learned Sunday that the attorneys for the defense were somewhat disappointed at the impression Miss Morrison made on the witness stand. She was entirely too self-satisfied, and did not display enough emotion and modest reticence. She went through the ordeal most of the time with a smile on her face, and did not seem to realize the gravity of her situation.

It was also learned that one of the jurymen had killed a man and had been tried for murder, and this gave the state something to think over. Ben McGill, the juryman referred to, when a young man at school, about ten years ago, while engaged in a game of baseball, struck one of his companions on the head with a bat, inflicting an injury from which death ensued. McGill was put on trial for his life, but it appearing to the jury that the quarrel was sudden and that McGill did not intend to kill his antagonist, returned a verdict of involuntary manslaughter and the case was dismissed by the judge with a fine of $500.

Another juryman, it was learned, was a nephew of the chief counsel for the defense, and another expressed a decided opinion before he was accepted on the jury of the justification of Miss Morrison in killing Leiden. With these stories current, there is a general belief that the trial will result either in a mistrial or an acquittal.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Antz, brother-in-law and sister of Leiden, left Sunday night for Bristol, Tenn., and it is stated that they have some very startling evidence that they expect to get at that place to be introduced in the latter part of the hoaring.

GIN MAKERS COMBINE.

Six Concerns Organized and Placed Under One Set of Officers.

The organization of the Continental Gin Company has been affected with a capital of $2,000,000, and the following plants have entered the consolidation: Daniel Pratt Gin company, Prattville, Ala.; Smith & Sons, Gin and Machine company, of Avondale, Ala.; Winship Machine company, of Atlanta; Eagle Cotton Gin company, of Bridgewater, Mass.; Munger Improved Cotton Machine Manufacturing company, of Dallas, Texas, and Northington-Munger-Pratt Gin company, of East Birmingham, Ala

Strikers Return To Work.

C. C. Yonge, manager of the Sanford Lumber company's mills at Carryville, Fla., and Arthur McConnell, leader of the Knights of Labor in this district, have amicably adjusted the differences between the strikers and the mill owners, and the men go back to work.

To "Observe" Hostilities.

General Otis has cabled the war department that in accordance with instructions, Captain Reichmann, 17th infantry, now in the Philippines, has been ordered to South Africa to report upon military operations in the Transvaal.

MOTHER WAS DESPERATE.

Rushed Into Flame, Where Men Feared To Go, and Rescued Children.

Mrs. Emanuel Hoffman dashed into her burning dwelling at "Springfield" farm, near Williamsport, Md., after several men had been driven back by the smoke and intense heat, Sunday night and heroically saved the lives of her three children. The flesh was almost entirely scorched from her hands and her face and neck are painfully burned. Her two-months-old babe is also seriously burned, but physicians say its life is safe.

BRITISH SORTIE THAT FAILED

Veldt Was Thickly Dotted With Bodies of the Dead.

BOERS WERE INVINCIBLE

Red Cross Flags Were Interposed to Stop Hostilities.

"At dawn today Colonel Baden-Powell organized an unsuccessful attack upon a strong position of the enemy at Game tree, two miles from Mafeking, from which the Boers have been maintaining a desultory but annoying shell and rifle fire for several weeks. The railway has recently been reconstructed between the town and Game tree, where the Boers had destroyed it, the final repairs being made in preparation for the sortie.

During the night the armored train, with Maxim and Hotchkiss guns, under Captain Williams and troops, took up positions for attack from two sides. Captain Lord Charles Bentinck and a squadron were in reserve upon the left, while the extreme left wing was occupied by artillery under Major Panzera and a galloping Maxim of the cape police, the whole being under Colonel Hore.

"Emplacements were thrown up during the night, the order being to attack at dawn and the artillery fire to desist upon prolonged tooting of the armored train. At daybreak the guns opened fire and rapidly drew the reply of the enemy, our shells bursting within effective range. Captain Vernon gave the signal to cease firing and to advance, his squadron leading off.

"As our men engaged the position with their rifle fire it was soon found that the strength of the fort was greater than we had supposed. The enemy concentrated such an exceedingly hot fire that the advance of Captain Vernon was almost impossible, but with remarkable heroism a few men actually reached the sand bags of the fort within 300 yards of the area of the fort.

"But nothing living could exist there, since the ground was swept by Mauser and Martini bullets. The men who charged through this zone of fire suffered terribly, and in following their officers to capture the fort twenty men lost their lives. Captain Sandford was the first to fall, and Captain Vernon, already twice wounded, and Lieutenant Paton were killed at the foot of the fort. These two officers, climbing a ditch which surrounded the fort, thrust their revolvers through the enemy's loopholes only to be shot themselves the next moment.

"Gametree is surrounded with scrub which concealed many sharpshooters, and their accuracy of fire still further confussed the men who had followed Captain Vernon and who saw him and his brother officers killed. Being without commanders, they were driven off at one point, but they endeavored to scale the fort at others. They found the position of the Boers, however, almost impregnable.

"When we retired under cover of the armored train so many men had been wounded that a suspension of hostilities occurred under the auspices of the Red Cross. The veldt around the Boer position was at once dotted with flags of mercy and it was seen that our wounded were scattered within but a short radius of the fort. We had almost completely surrounded it; and, had it not been so extraordinarily well protected, we should have been in possession."

PAY WAS TOO SLOW.

K. of L. Members Quit Their Jobs at Caryville, Fla.

Members of the Knights of Labor employed at the Sanford Lumber Company's mill at Caryville, Fla., demanded a few days ago that they be paid weekly instead of monthly. The demand was refused, and Friday afternoon the hands struck. All work at the mill then ceased.

Bribery Charges Up.

The senate committee on privileges and elections began its investigation Friday of the charges of bribery made in connection with the election of Senator Clark, of Montana.

DEPRIVED OF MEDICINE,

Little Children of Christian Scientists Die of Diphtheria.

The Pittsburg, (Pa.,) Dispatch says: Diphtheria and Christian Science have had a bitter battle in a New Brighton family for the past two weeks. Diphtheria has won so far. Two children are dead, while a third child and the father are dangerously ill with the same disease.

Not until forced to do so by the local authorities would the parents permit a physician in the house, and even then the father refused to give the medicine prescribed, and the health officials were compelled to take the family in charge.

THIS IN KENTUCKY COURT.

Trial Ended When Guns Were Pulled and Two Killed.

News has been received of a general fight on Otter Creek, Clay county, Ky., in which Lige Lewis and General May were shot and killed, and four other participants seriously wounded. The fight occurred at a school house on Otter Creek, where one of the Jacksons was on trial before a magistrate for killing another Jackson.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY.

A glass factory has been started at St. Helens, England, in which the whole system of blowing is replaced by an automatic arrangement of molds and blowpipes worked by compressed air. The output has been much increased.

A hard rubber steam acid pump is made by a New York firm. It is designed specially for conveying acids, chemicals or any volatile liquid. All parts which come in contact with such substance are of hard rubber. These parts are held by and mounted on iron, which takes up all the strain incident to the work performed. These pumps are operated by steam like the ordinary steam pump or by electric motor.

Several months ago a bather was diving in shallow water and fractured several of the spinal vertebræ. He was taken to Roosevelt hospital, New York City, and an operation was performed upon him for the removal of the fractured pieces of bone. The result of the operation has been very satisfactory and the improvement from day to day is marked. He is now regaining the sense of touch and has some slight control of the muscles.

As there is considerable typhoid fever in Natal, all the British troops which have been transported to South Africa have been given the option of being inoculated with the anti-typhoid serum, and, according to the London Lancet, 70 per cent. have availed themselves of the opportunity. The inoculating with serum has worked most successfully at the Indian posts where it has been tried, and the present operations in South Africa which are being conducted on so large a scale will demonstrate the availablily of the serum treatment in the prevention of enteric fever so often prevalent with armies in the field.

Hans S. Beattie, who was formerly street cleaning commissioner of New York City, considers that the street railway system might be used to help solve the garbage and ashes problem in New York City, and to aid in the expeditious removal of snow and ice. The withdrawal of 300 horses and carts from the most congested part of the city during the busy hours of the day would, in itself, be a benefit. If the street car lines should be utilized, many of the dumps which now occupy valuable piers could be done away with, and the rental value of these dumping stations if they should be released to the commerce of a port would bring in a substantial financial return to the city.

The common and old-fashioned idea is that the tints of autumn foliage are caused by frost. Stated briefly the causes are these: The green matter in the tissue of a leaf is composed of two colors, red and blue. When the sap ceases to flow in the autumn and the natural growth of the tree ceases, oxidation of the tissue takes place. Under certain conditions the green leaf changes to red; under different conditions it takes on a yellow or brown tint—due to the difference in combination of the original constituents of the green tissue, and to the varying conditions of climate, exposure, and soil. A dry climate produces more brilliant foliage than one that is damp and warm. This is the reason that our American autumns are so much more gorgeous than those of England.

BEQUEST IN A BIBLE.

Snug Sum of Money Found in Tattered Book Bought at Auction.

New Bibles are now so cheap that old ones have little or no marketable value, but the experience of a casual buyer, says the London Telegraph, may lead to a run on tattered copies of the Scriptures in search of hidden treasure—not spiritual, but material. And the fact that it cannot be discovered without examining the volumes may lead to ultimate profit, even though there may be mundane lucre between the boards.

According to the Church of England Pulpit, a young fellow named Richard Collings, employed in Smithfield market, purchased at an auction a few years ago for $1.37 an old leather trunk containing clothing, books and tools. Among the articles was a venerable, much used family Bible. A few Sunday evenings ago, during the absence of Collings from home, his wife commenced reading some of the chapters to her two young daughters, and while turning over the leaves she came upon several which were pasted together. She immediately set to work to separate them with great care, and when success crowned her efforts the good woman was intensely surprised to find hidden between the gummed pages $25 in Bank of England notes. They were enclosed in an envelope, were frayed and dirty, and on the back of one was written in ink the following remarkable bequest:

"I have worked very, very hard for this, and, having no relatives, leave thee, dear reader, whosoever shall be the owner of this Holy Book, my lawful heir."

Mitigating Circumstances.

"I beg your pardon," exclaimed the man in the automobile.

"Well, that's an improvement, anyhow," said the man who had been run over, picking himself up and looking around for his hat. "When a fellow with a delivery wagon runs over me he never stops his horse to beg my pardon."—Chicago Tribune.

SOME STARTLING RUMORS

Report Has It That Republicans Will Forcibly Resist Seating of Goebel If Found Necessary.

A special from Lexington, Ky., says: On the advice of ex-Governor Bradley, leading counsel for the Republicans in the contest being made for the state offices, they will hold out against the Democrats, even though the legislature and the state election commission decide that the Republicans are not entitled to the offices. He thinks this action would result in throwing the contests into the federal courts for final settlement.

Probably one thousand stanch Republicans will be summoned to Frankfort, ostensibly as witnesses in the contests, but each man will go heavily armed and he will be ready to fight to the death for the defeat of Goebel. Already companies of such Republicans have been formed in several of the leading cities and they have been drilled in the duties they will have to perform if the Goebel men try to take the offices. Each one of the Goebel leaders is to be covered by two of the republicans, and if they make a hostile move they are to be shot down.

Of course this action would produce a riot and Governor Taylor would have to call out the militia to quell it. He would then declare the state under martial law and he could follow this up by asking the national government to his aid. The work of preparing the militia for an outbreak has gone on steadily since the election and now it is ready for any emergency.

Signal cannon have been placed at all leading points and when they are discharged there will be a hurried gathering of the troops in the respective armories. All rabid Goebel men have been eliminated from the militia, and as it is at pressnt constituted every man in the service will fight to prevent Goebel from taking the governor's chair if ordered to do so.

Major P. P. Johnston, the Brown Democrotic candidate for lieutenant governor, in an interview said he believed Goebel was about to steal the governorship, and that he will meet with no such armed opposition from the Republicans as is threatened. He says the Republicans are afraid to fight.

Urey Woodson, national Democratic committeeman and a member of the ways and means committee, says:

"Mr. Goebel will be in possession of the governor's office between January 25 and and February 1st. Blackburn, and not Goebel, is the man who insisted on carrying the contest up to the legislature."

GILMORE WAS RESCUED.

All Doubt As To Lieutenant's Safety Is Now Removed.

Official confirmation has come from both General Otis and Admiral Watson of the first reports from Manila of the release of the American prisoners, and there is no longer any doubt that Lieutenant Gillmore, of the Yorktown, is among the number. General Otis's dispatch reads as follows:

"MANILA, January 6.—The prisoners now en route from Vigan arrived tonight, and a list of them will be telegraphed tomorrow. Captain Gillmore is among the number."

Admiral Watson's advice is as follows:

"MANILA, January 5.—Colonels Hare and Howe have recaptured all of the American prisoners, including Gillmore, now at Vigan."

Three Die In Flames.

A tenement house fire in New York Saturday resulted in three deaths and seven persons being injured. The deaths are: Mrs. Mary Sutherly, a widow; Frank Sutherly, nine years old; James Sutherly, 22 months old.

TONS OF TOBACCO BURNED.

Three Thousand Hogsheads Reduced to Ashes at Richmond, Va.

At Richmond, Va., Friday evening fire broke out in the Merchants' and Planters' tobacco warehouse at Fifteenth and Cary streets. In it were stored some 3,000 hogsheads of tobacco. Kingan & Co. suffered a loss of some $30,000; fully insured. The loss on the tobacco in the Merchants' and Planters' warehouse is estimated at $350,000, with insurance of about $300,000. The building was fully insured. Total estimated loss, $400,000; insurance, $350,000.

REMAINS NOT WANTED.

The Body of Lynched Man Refused Acceptance By His Parents.

Police Sergeant Watt, of Lynchburg, father of W. W. Watt, who was lynched at Newport News for assaulting Mrs. Simpson, on learning that his son was guilty, declined to go to Newport News and arranged by telephone for the burial. Watt's sister, who is a teacher in a Lynchburg school, also telephoned if her brother was guilty she did not want the body sent home, so it will be sent to the Richmond Medical college.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE MEETING.

The Democratic executive committee of Shelby County is hereby called to meet at Columbiana on Tuesday, January 30, 1900, at 11:30 a. m. Each member is earnestly requested to attend.

W. B. Browne, Chairman.

NO LOOKING BACKW. RD.

We republish from an exchange a resume of the acquisition of territory by this government during this century. It will give some idea of the good results of the application of that policy. It is also shown to be a Democratic policy, all the territory, with the exception of Alaska, having been acquired under Democratic administrations.

The only thing about which Democrats can possibly differ is the advisability, from an economic standpoint, of applying this policy to the territory already acquired from Spain. In fact, having acquired the territory, the only question is, Shall we keep it and how? Democracy has always stood for expansion of territory, not for purposes of power, but for the advantages of increased commerce and trade, while at the same time it has stood for the extension of civil freedom to the acquired peoples.

We can not shut our eyes to the advantages to accrue from the control of these new islands, any more than we can deny the good that came from the building of the great "empire of the West." The Democratic party may commit political suicide by repudiating the teachings of Jefferson and the long line of faithful disciples, but the country will never stop to listen to the vaporings of those who try to lead it astray. The watchword of this century has been "Progress;" it will not be discarded at the close for some man's selfish ambition.

Under the workings of the back-tax law the farmers of this county are paying taxes on an average of at least 75 per cent of the full value of their lands. Governor Johnston's corporation lands in Walker County were assessed at less than 20 per cent of their value. That's the kind of a friend he is to the common people.

In its last issue The Advocate said something to the effect that "on account of the Democratic examinations there were few teachers that passed, and there will be a scarcity of teachers." If our neighbor would inform itself it would be able to give more reliable information to its readers. Only those teachers working under conditional contracts were passed upon. The remainder are being passed upon now.

Will the Court Journal tell us how much of Chap Cory's time is spent in the business management of that paper, or in the service of Johnston as a candidate—which amounts to the same thing—and if he deducts it from his salary as private secretary? Also how much time the adjutant-general has spent campaigning for the Governor, and if he deducted it from his salary? There are others the Journal might include in its statement, beginning with the Governor himself.

The Court Journal don't like the Morgan conference because it was held in a room in the Morris Hotel. We plain people would rather risk a conference held in a rented room in a public house than one held in the backroom of the Alabama National Bank or in the Governor's private office. Near the vaults that hold the money or in the room where appointments are made is a very good place to do effectual work, but strictly honest plain people prefer a place that is rented for the purpose.

The Court Journal complains that the Morgan committee is composed of lawyers, officeholders, and speculators. Well, the practice of law is an honorable calling; the officeholders got their commissions from the people and are responsible to them for their actions; it is a little strange that one speculator should go back on another, but Mr. Pinckard probably knows Mr. Johnston along that line, and he is therefore for Morgan. The lawyers supporting Morgan will compare favorably with those supporting Johnston. The officeholders supporting Johnston are creatures of his own power, while the speculators in his columns are mostly his partners in various deals. Altogether we like the comparison.

The new century question is one of figures purely, and is entirely open to mathematical demonstration. The beginning of the first century was January 1, A. D. 1. No one can deny that the 20th century begins 1,900 full years from the time the first began. The following simple addition will demonstrate it:

	Year.	Mo.	Day.
First century began.....	1	1	1
Twentieth century begins	1901	1	1

Or from another standpoint: All agree that the first year ended December 31, A. D. 1. Then the 19th century would end 1,899 years after the first year ended. Therefore:

	Year.	Mo.	Day.
First year ended.....	1	12	31
Nineteenth century ends	1900	12	31

or, on December 31, 1900.

MR. BRYAN ON EXPANSION.

In a recent interview Mr. Bryan thus expresses himself on the subject of expansion:

I am a firm believer in the enlargement and extension of the limits of the Republic. I do not mean by that the extension by the addition of contiguous territory, nor to limit myself to that. Wherever there is a people intelligent enough to form a part of this Republic, it is my belief that they should be taken in. Wherever there is a people who are capable of having a voice and a representation in this government, there the limits of the Republic may be extended. The Filipinos are not such a people. The Democratic party has ever favored the extension of the limits of this Republic, but it has never advocated the acquisition of subject territory to be held under colonial government.

In the above expression Mr. Bryan admits the Democracy of expansion. He also by implication admits that there is a difference between expansion and imperialism, and in the closing sentence defines that difference. However, he seeks to limit the sphere of extension to those people who are intelligent enough to understand at once the theories and practices of our form of government. He rather intimates that the Democratic party has always so limited the sphere of the application of this policy. Herein we think Mr. Bryan errs.

If we have read history aright, Mr. Jefferson favored the annexation of Cuba in his day. It is doubtful if the Cubans then, or now, possessed that degree of intelligence which Mr. Bryan would make the test. Really, intelligence would not always make men fit. Experience would be the better test of capability.

But it is enough for the present that the recognized leader of the Democracy has so far expressed himself as to leave no doubt that expansion is Democratic; that there is a difference between expansion and imperialism. Governor Johnston and his followers have heretofore classed all those who favor extending our territory under the general head of imperialists, and have proceeded on the idea that there is no distinction. Since Mr. Bryan has spoken the above they will have to revise their position, and they ought to be manly enough to acknowledge the injustice done Senator Morgan in calling him an imperialist. Following Mr. Bryan's own test, which we have shown to be limited, they can say no worse of the Senator than that he mistakes the ability of the Filipinos to enter into our very highly intellectual system of self-government.

Indeed, Mr. Bryan goes further in the application of this theory than Senator Morgan has ever gone. He says, "Wherever there is a people intelligent enough to form a part of this Republic, it is my belief that they should be taken in." Wherever covers a large space. Most of the South American people are intelligent enough; all the people of Europe are intelligent enough; many of the people of Asia are intelligent enough; a few of the people of Africa are intelligent enough. Mr. Bryan would reach forth the hand of grasping to the four corners of the earth, but he would leave the beclouded Filipinos to grope in the darkness of personal dictatorship, because, forsooth, they are not intelligent enough to understand our ways. There are many people intelligent enough the acquisition of whom would bring no advantages. Reason and humanity would, we think, dictate the acquisition of territory necessary to the extension of commerce, and the ultimate application to its government of the principles of home rule, principles that the most intelligent Republicans have never imbibed, and which may be best learned through experience, as our own people have learned them and as they have been applied to all our territories.

SOME TRUST FIGURES.

The following are some of the recent increase in prices due directly to the control by trusts of the articles mentioned.

Stoves have increased 30 per cent.

Wagons have increased from $4 to $5.

Fourteen-inch plows that sold for $10 now sell for $14.

Rope that sold for 9 cents per pound now sells for 12 cents.

Bolts and rods have gone up 75 per cent.

Tin has increased from $1.50 to $2 a box.

Cultivators have increased from $3 to $4.

Hoes, forks, rakes, shovels, spades and such articles have gone up to the consumer 45 per cent.

Nails, per keg, have gone up from $2.20 to $4.10; barbed wire, galvanized, from $2.40 a hundred pounds to $4.

Binder twine which cost 7 cents a pound now costs from 11 to 12½.

Glass has increased 40 per cent.

This does not include the decrease in the number of laborers in those lines of industry. In the face of these figures Governor Johnston congratulates himself that he has brought into Alabama a trust of $20,000,000 capital to further control the manufacture of iron and the production of coal. We are anxious to see whether his pet pays taxes this year or next or ever on $20,000,000 of property.

Over in our sister State of Mississippi Mr. Sullivan has just been elected to the federal Senate. He made the race on the issue of expansion and won. Mississippi remained true to the Democratic creed, true to her own interests. We think Alabama will do likewise.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

Elsewhere will be seen a call for a meeting of the Democratic executive committee of this county on the 30th of the present month. The business of this meeting will be the arrangement for a primary or convention for the nomination of county candidates and for the selection of delegates to the State convention. Of course the date will be fixed to conform to the action of the State committee some ago. The method of nomination will be for the committee to decide.

We favor a primary election in each precinct for the selection of delegates to a county convention, and at that primary we would like to see a direct vote on the Senatorship. We also desire to see every white man in the county who will accept the principles of the party and promise to vote for its nominees invited to participate in that election and express his choice for Senator.

We hope every member of the committee will be present at the meeting and vote in favor of the above plan. We want the doors opened for recruits from the white people, and we want to see how the Democrats of the county stand on the principal issue.

As there will be few candidates for county offices a primary for that purpose would accomplish no good; but if the Democrats by ballot elect good men as delegates to the county convention they will make wise selections for county candidates. Now let the committeemen begin the campaign by an energetic attendance upon this meeting, and their example will be followed by an enthusiastic support of the ticket and by victory in August.

Twenty-two of the 35 members of the Morgan committee were ardent supporters of Johnston against Dick Clarke in 1896. He doesn't seem to hold his friends.

A CENTURY OF EXPANSION.

What the Acquisition of Territory Has Accomplished for Us.

One hundred years ago the Mississippi from the mouth of Red River to the Lake of the Woods was geographically the western frontier of the United States. Historically, the pioneers of Ohio and the Nortwestern Territory and the unborn States of Indiana and Illinois were descending the declivity of the Appalachian Mountains and disappearing in the forests whose solitude extended from Fort Dearborn to Natchez.

Beyond the Mississippi to the Pacific was an undiscovered country, under the dominion of France, England, Mexico and Spain, a mysterious region of unexplored deserts, of illimitable prairies and plains; of nameless rivers and colossal mountain ranges; the land of dreams, of romance and adventure, as unknown as the interior of Africa today. St. Louis, New Orleans and Pensacola were foreign towns, and the name of Chicago, now one of the chief cities of the world, was not written on the map.

The entire population of the Union was about the same as that of the State of New York in 1900. Its area was not much in excess of 800,000 square miles, and its organic law had no provisions for acquiring foreign territory, for holding colonial dependencies, nor for the incorporation of alien communities.

The foundation of the empire of the west was laid by the purchase in 1803 for $15,000,000 of the province of Louisiana, which more than doubled the national domain, adding 1,171,931 square miles, comprising Alabama and Mississippi north of parallel 31 degrees, all of Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota west of the Mississippi, Nebraska, the Arkansas River, Colorado, Montana, Wyoming east of the Rocky Mountains, Oklahoma and the Indian Territory. This stupendous acquisition, now the granary of the world, the inexhaustible storehouse of the base and precious metals, rich in every element of future opulence, was denounced by Josiah Quincy, of Massachusetts, when Louisiana was admitted, as a virtual dissolution of the Union, justifying all the States in preparing for amicable or violent separation.

The annexation of Florida by treaty with Spain in 1819, of Texas by joint resolution of Congress in 1845, of Utah, Nevada, Arizona, western Colorado and New Mexico by conquest from Mexico and by the Gadsden purchase, which added more than a million square miles to our possessions, were due to the determination of the South to retain control of the Senate for the protection of slavery, but by the operation of economic laws, culminating in the war of the rebellion, all except Florida have become integral parts of the Empire of the West.

Great Britain in 1846 surrendered a doubtful claim to Oregon, Idaho and Washington, and Russia by treaty March 30, 1867, ceded Alaska, with 577,390 square miles, for $7,200,000. So that the sun never sets on our boundaries, and when at 8 his evening rays glow upon our western frontier at Behring Straits his morning beams gild the headlands of Maine.

In less than one hundred years the untrodden wilderness of 1803, ten times greater in extent than France, has become the abode of thirty million people residing in twenty-four States and three territories, sending forty-eight Senators to the national Congress, with agricultural productions that control the food markets of the whole civilized world.

Nonresident Notice.

The State of Alabama, Shelby County
In Chancery at Columbiana, Ala., Sixth District, Northeastern Chancery Division.
Joseph R. Davis, complainant, vs. Susan E Davis, defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of J. L. Peters that the defendant, Susan E. Davis, is a non-resident of the State of Alabama and that her place of residence is to affiant unknown, and further that, in the belief of said affiant, the defendant is over the age of twenty-one years.

It is therefore ordered by the Register that publication be made in The Chronicle, a newspaper published in the city of Columbiana, Ala., once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring her, the said Susan E. Davis, to plead answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 8th day of January, A. D., 1900, or in thirty days thereafter a decree pro confesso may be taken against her.

CURRENT CRITICISMS

By Mrs. F. W. GIST.

Mrs. S. T. Rorer is still roaring away in the Ladies' Home Journal, and is now filling up space with a series of instruction on how to train a green servant. She is no doubt racking her brain and searching diligently in her effort to instruct somebody. The average Southern woman, we believe, is not only a better cook than Mrs. Rorer, but also possesses far superior skill and tact in "training a green servant." We have yet to discover a new thought or expression from her on the subject. The illustrated tableaux of fine dishes, also gotten up to fill pages of this popular journal, are very pretty to look upon and serve well for little girls and small children to trim out carefully with a pair of scissors and decorate the walls of their dolls' dining rooms with.

***

Paul Pry, in last Sunday's Age-Herald, writes interestingly on Dr. Savage's new book, Life Beyond Death. In her quotations from the work we find this striking thought: "I do not believe for a moment that I have a soul. If I have I might lose it. As the theologians say, I believe I am a soul and have a body." This is certainly the more rational and reassuring view to take on the subject. Mrs. Smith's entire criticism is one of the best we have seen from her pen.

***

Senator Pettus has complimented us with a copy of Life and Character of Nelson Dingley, and in these eulogies one finds much to admire and reflect upon, obliterating the fact that he was a partisan Republican. The notorious Dingley tariff bill brought down such a deluge of wrath, antagonism and criticism from Democrats from all over the country, one is liable to overlook the commendable traits of character and superior abilities of the man. A lesson everyone should learn and treasure up is never to confuse political differences and deficiences with personal character or actual ability. The stench of latter-day politics is in the tendency to debauch and cover with corruption the personal character of every candidate for public office. Can't our American manhood rise above these conditions? Or will they continue to trail their consciences in polluted dust of campaign lies?

***

One bright little woman in Alabama is continuously writing sarcastic things, mostly in jest to be sure, yet scarcely ever complimentary to her own sex, while she is ever saying a deal of small things and complimentary boomerang about some man or men. She seems to have a mania for saying "catchy things" that will take with her gentlemen friends. We don't like to see a woman resort to that kind of coquetry to win favor; in fact, no sort of coquetry will win genuine respect or deep admiration.

***

The Republican party in the coming national campaign can not hope to win many votes on their recent policy of expansion. Testimonials from all parts of the country are rushing out in proof that expansion is a Democratic measure, old as the hills.

Mr. Blackman, the Age-Herald cartoonist, surely has a fortune ahead if he will only persevere.

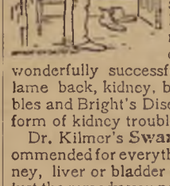
New Jersey is expanding in trust organizations beyond anything of the sort we have observed in latter-day sinfulness.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.



It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Hon. Thos. Williams, of Elmore county, Alabama, ex member of congress, statesman, orator, writer and one of the best informed men on the theoretical and practical application of commercial fertilizers. He is one of the largest cotton planters in the state, and produces his great crops upon poor sandy uplands by the skillful use of commercial fertilizers. He uses the Alabama Fertilizer exclusively—after having tried nearly all other leading brands of complete fertilizers. His words, like rifle balls, are few, and go straight to the mark:

WETUMPKA, ALA., September 9, 1899.

Dear Sirs:—Speaking from experimental tests, in results I am assured the Alabama Fertilizer sold by you, is not excelled by any on our market, and I commend it to the public as a genuine fertilizer productive of good results.

The bags treated by the Vegetable Fibre Preserver used by the Alabama Fertilizer Co., successfully resisted the action of the weather and the chemicals contained in the fertilizers, also preventing all loss from wasting.

Yours truly,

THOS. WILLIAMS.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT ANALYSIS.

Bulletin No. 12 issued by the Alabama Department of Agriculture, shows the actual commercial value of the Alabama Fertilizers to be 19.33 per cent more valuable than all the complete fertilizers or guanos offered for sale in the State of Alabama for the season covered by said buletin.

Bulletin No. 15, just issued by the Department of Agriculture, shows the actual analysis, from samples sent to the Department by dealers and consumers throughout the State, that the Alabama Fertilizer is actually $3.54 per ton or 24 per cent better than the guaranteed analysis by the Alabama Fertilizer Co., and this answers the question so often asked, "why the Alabama Fertilizer produces so much better crops than other fertilizers of equal guaranteed analysis?" The Alabama Fertilizer will be shipped in the Mummia Vegetable Fibre Preserved Bags. There is no other preserved bag on the market of any value.

The Commissioner of Agriculture recommends and endorses it in the following words:

"I therefore unhesitatingly say that I believe the bags treated by the Mummia Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process will resist the action of the weather and the chemicals contained in fertilizers; that the meshes of the bags are so filled by the process as to prevent all wastage, and that if generally used by manufacturers, would be of inestimable value to carriers, dealers and consumers.

(Signed) "I. F. CULVER,
"Commissioner of Agriculture."

These Mummia Preserved Bags are almost indestructible by the weather or Fertilizers. Can be hauled in the rain without material damage to bag or contents. Fertilizers put up in these bags can be hauled out to the farm at any time and kept ready for use.

The Alabama Fertilizer is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State, to be the best all round fertilizer for cotton and corn.

ALABAMA FERTILIZER RECORD.

It has produced nearly four bales of cotton on one acre of poor sandy upland.
One hundred and thirty-two bushels of corn on one acre of poor sandy upland.
Two thousand and forty one bushels of corn on twenty acres of poor upland.
Land and corn accurately surveyed and measured by competent disinterested and honorable men.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Every one of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the Alabama Fertilizer.

This trade mark is registered. It is our property. It is not likely to be counterfeited, as that would subject the perpetrator to the danger of heavy fine and imprisonment (see U. S. laws respecting copyrights). It is on every genuine sack of Alabama Fertilizer.

As required by state law the word "Alabama" in large letters is found on every bag of fertilizer offered for sale in this state. Some unscrupulous persons have employed this means to deceive you.

See that the above trade mark is on the bag, and take none offered you as the Alabama Fertilizer without it.

A. F. Wilson, of Montgomery, president of the Calera Land Co., was in town today.

The furniture store of Lester & Co. has been recovered and the shed to the front strengthened.

We learn that a new paper has been started at South Calera, though we have not seen a copy.

J. W. Dykes has secured a position as salesman with a mercantile establishment at Easonville.

Miss Bama Milner has returned to her home in Leeds, after a stay of several months in the city.

James Milstead, who has been spending the past year in the west, has returned home on a visit.

J. M. Baldwin, jr., of Weldon, came in to renew his subscription, and gave us a pleasant call, Saturday.

The family of J. R. Beavers moved last week into the German cottage formerly occupied by Mrs. Vest.

We have experienced all kinds of weather this week—cold, chilly, cool, pleasant, damp, wet and otherwise.

Will Thomas went over to Birmingham this week and accepted a position with May & Thomas, hardware dealers.

Rumor has it that a progressive merchant and business man of a sister town is going to locate in our city in the near future.

Quite a number of teachers were in town last Saturday to receive their public money, the county superintendent being with them.

The teachers of the Methodist Sunday school will meet at the parsonage Friday night, and will endeavor to have class meetings regularly.

D. R. McMillan was summoned to Stockton Saturday by the serious illness of his brother, Neil, but returned this week, leaving him much improved.

Every lady in the community ought to take advantage of Mrs. L. C. Armstrong's clearance sale. Goods must be closed out to make room for spring opening.

A new drug and general grocery store combined will be established at this place in a few days, with a former young prescription clerk of this city as proprietor.

This paper was a little previous last week in stating that Gordon DuBose had completed arrangements to establish a bank at Clanton. He went down to investigate.

If you see a crowd of men on the streets talking vociferously and gesticulating frantically, don't become frightened—they are only Billy-Masoning the century question.

Rev. J. K. Milner left several days since for Georgia and will have the pastorate of a church at Rossville. He was granted license to preach at the last meeting of Presbytery.

As the result of some strife between the united mine workers and the Montevallo Coal & Railway Company at Dogwood a few weeks ago, the union laborers have found themselves without a job. The company has decided to employ convicts in its mines, and a number have already been put to work there. The convicts, it is said, have been leased from this county and from Dallas, and are all young men. Only a few non-union men are at work in the mines alongside the convicts.

Wilsonville Waifs

Robert Hansell is assisting his brother in despatching the railroad business, he being an operator himself.

Rev. W. T. Holdridge preached his initial sermon at the Methodist church Sunday morning and made a spleddid impression upon his hearers.

H. A. Dalsheim, salesman for a dry goods house in Columbus, Ga., is visiting his family for a few days.

Weaver & Mason have dissolved partnership, Mason having withdrawn to engage in other business.

The number of pupils in school now will reach 125, and is calculated to extend beyond these figures soon.

James Evans has recently moved into the Will Tinney residence, Will having moved his family to Bolin Villa, where he will be more accessible to his work.

J. M. Brown, check clerk for Helena Coal & Transportation Co., was in town the latter part of last week visiting his daughter.

Thursday morning the fire alarm rang out and the people concentrated their physical forces upon E. Williamson's residence, which was enveloped in a conflagration of fire and smoke. At first view it seemed like a speculative attempt to extinguish the flames. However, about a half dozen good fire fighters mounted the building and began tearing off the roof and applying shower baths. Soon the pump handle was broken and all energy seemed to relax for awhile, but new determinations were grasped and the men resolved to save the burning building despite the bad luck. So they resorted to Messrs. Pope add McGowen's water supply on each side of them, and improvised a human well chain by which water was had in abundance. In half an hour after the the fire was extinguished, and not much damage was done, save that of the immediate burning and the damage done to furniture which had been moved from the building during the fire. They even went so far as to take up carpets in the front rooms. The fire originated in the kitchen while dinner was being prepared and was not discovered until it had gotten a good lease on the building. The building and furniture were partially covered by insurance; consequently a fire insurance agent was on the premises next day to adjust the damages, which were about $200.

The Southern's new superintendent, Mr. Hayden, passed up the line Monday eve en route to Rome. Mr. Ewing has been transferred to Knoxville division.

Shelby.

As B. S. Q has given up, I will pick up a few of the drop stitches in his knitting work.

On Christmas night Mr. and Mrs. Mack Carter gave a dinner party to a select company of the young people of Shelby.

There was a delightful gathering of relatives of the family at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Averyt December 28 on the occasion of the marriage of their daughter, Isla, to Mr. Charles A. Bowles. Mr. Bowles is shipping agent of the Shelby Iron Co. and is a business man of rare energy and capacity. Miss Isla is an accomplished young lady, a graduate of Judson Institute, and a useful and influential member of our community. We are glad their home is to be among us.

The S. I. Co. has been shipping about five hundred tons of iron a day of late.

James Walker has gone to Albertville to take a position in the drug store of Ernest W. Averyt.

S. Q. Y

Bird hunters are quite numerous about our city, and quail and larks can be found in large numbers in the woods and old fields near the city. Some hunt for the sport, others for profit, and one young man of the city has realized quite a snug little sum this season by shipping his birds to the market in Birmingham.

Next Tuesday evening at the White House the Christian Endeavor Society will give a social and spelling bee. Aside from the spelling bee there will be music and other things for pleasure and improvement. Let everybody go, and be sure and remember every one is expected to spell or pay a fine of 10 cents. The young people of the society promise you a pleasant time.

The miners at Aldrich inaugurated a strike this week because the company had employed and refused to discharge a laborer known among the men as a "black list" miner. The man came from Dogwood and did not prove congenial company to the union laborers. Mr. Aldrich was notified that his men would quit if the new fellow was not discharged, but he wired the superintendent to retain him; hence the strike.

Send us your renewal

Calera Cullings.

The following items were crowded out last week:

Great demand for houses.

The Holcomb-Pratt sawmill is gone.

Capt. J. R. Pratt, of Mississippi, was here two days of Christmas. Several of his old sawmill employees returned with him.

Tommie Francis, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is improving.

Miss Bessie Jones, of East Lake, spent the holidays with her sister, Mrs. Joe Aldridge.

Abundance of trade and freight on the three roads.

Now that the Christmas holidays are over, let all of the committeemen go to work raising the funds for fencing the Confederate graveyard at Shelby Springs. Let's have the funds ready by 1st or 15th of February. One dollar from everyone would be bountiful.

Harpersville.

Local news is scarce.

Several drummers were in town on Tuesday.

Rev. Mr. Bently preached two good sermons at the Baptist church Saturday and Sunday last.

Farmers are beginning to make arrangements for another crop.

A. M. Jones had a horse to die one day last week, and G. W. Downs a mule.

The scheme planned out by some of our stock law men to buy the poor man's cows for a little of nothing don't seem to work worth a cent. Our farmers vow that their stock may die on their hands before these would-be bosses shall have them, and they are right.

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, J. H. Martin, last Sunday evening, Mr. Robert Owens Hardrick and Miss Sallie C. Martin, Rev. S. N. Burns officiating. We were indeed sorry that circumstances were such that we could not attend, but understand that it was a nice affair. The happy couple have our best wishes for their future welfare.

Those wedding bells are beginning to sound again and "they say" this paper will not issue again before another young couple of the city will be made one. Wonder who they can be talking about?

Our town is without a marshall. The taxes and licenses are uncollected and the school funds are out. Unless a marshall is secured the school will have to stop. If our citizens do not want the school to go on they have adopted a very good plan to stop it. If they do want a school they ought to make the marshall's bond. Any government is a farce without the hearty support of the citizens.

The new revenue ordinance for this city for the present year has been prepared. It is practically the same as the old one, with but few exceptions. Boarding houses, which have been paying the same license as hotels all along, will now be required to contribute only one half of the amount into the city treasury. Those boarding teachers or pupils exclusively will not be expected to pay license, and widows are allowed "one boarder for company's sake."

They Should Know it.

Many women suffer untold agony and misery because the nature of their disease is not correctly understood. They have been led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for the many ills that beset womankind.

Neuralgia, nervousness, headache, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, rheumatism, a dragging pain or dull ache in the back, weakness or bearing-down sensation, profuse or scanty supply of urine with strong odor, frequent desire to pass it with scalding or burning sensation, sediment in it after standing in bottle or common glass for 24 hours are signs of kidney and bladder trouble.

The above symptoms are often attributed by the patient herself or by her physician to female weakness or womb trouble. Hence, so many fail to obtain relief, because they are treating, not the disease itself, but a reflection of the primary cause, which is kidney trouble.

In fact, women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same remedy.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is easy to get at any drug store for 50 cents or $1.

To prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Kindly mention THE CHRONICLE, and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

TO THE DEAF—A rich lady, cured of her deafness and noises in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear Drums, gave $10,000 to his Institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the Ear Drums may have them free. Address No 152, The Institute, "Longcott," Gunnersbury, London, W. England.

If you eat without appetite you need Prickly Ash Bitters. It promptly removes impurities that clog and impede the action of the digestive organs, creates good appetite and digestion, strength of body and activity of brain. For sale by Drs. Williams Bros.

For driving out dull, bilious feeling, strengthening the appetite and increasing the capacity of the body for work, Prickly Ash Bitters is a golden remedy. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

Take a dose of Prickly Ash Bitters at night when you go to bed and you will feel bright and vigorous next morning. It will insure you a copious and healthy passage of the bowels, improved appetite and digestion and increased energy of body and brain. It beats stimulating drinks because its reviving influence is natural, hence permanent. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

ABOUT ENVELOPE ETIQUETTE.

Message Must Be Sealed to Be Deemed Entirely Correct.

The latest fad with the ultra-fashionable is the absence of the envelope. We have gone back to the days of the olden times, when the red wafers and the sealing wax and the folded paper were all that custom demanded or knew. The modern or recalled fashion has substituted the daintiest tinted wafers to match the paper, heliotrope, robin's egg blue, cerulean lilac, fawn or cream, for the mucilaged flap of the envelope. One must write on a big sheet if it is a letter; on the smaller size if notes, invitations, etc.; fold and seal, and then a wafer may be added for extra strength, or the seal alone will answer, if one desires. Sometimes the paper is folded like the cocked hats or the dainty squares, which not even the curious postman would trouble to dally with, and then, if one will, the seal and wafer may be dispensed with. Do you want to know how to fold these dainty missives? Then just ask grandma. I warrant she has not forgotten, for, if all's true that's said, she had plenty of them in her younger days. Just ask her. She'll deny her billets doux at first, no doubt, but she'll be pleased just the same to recall them and teach you how they came to her. The envelope is a barbarism evolved by a suspicious inventor, or maybe by one who was practical rather than artistic. However, fashion moves in cycles, and the cycle of the envelope is passing. If you intend to adopt this new style of sending letters be sure that your paper is heavy weight enough to stand the journey, and when you receive one in turn do not cut and slash as you have been accustomed to do with the envelope, but remove the wafers, break the seal and the writing will greet your eye untorn.—New York Press.

American Restlessness.

The restless energy of the American people is amusingly illustrated by "Ian Maclaren." A thin, alert man had immediately followed his card into Doctor Watson's study, and forestalling its reading, exclaimed: "My name is Elijah K. Higgins, and I am a busy man. You are also busy and have no time to fool away. Four days is all I can give to the United Kingdom, and I wished to shake hands with you. Good-by, I am off to Drumtochty." Germany has recently celebrated the hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of her greatest writer, Goethe, whose most famous dictum deserves a fuller appreciation in the United States. "Ohne Hast ohne Rast," has been heeded but in part. 'Without haste" takes precedence over "without rest."

Keeps My Hair Soft

"I have used your Hair Vigor for five years and am greatly pleased with it. It certainly restores the original color to gray hair. It keeps my hair soft and smooth. It quickly cured me of some kind of humor of the scalp. My mother used your Hair Vigor for some twenty years and liked it very much." —Mrs. Helen Kilkenny, New Portland, Me., Jan. 4, '99.

Used Twenty Years

We do not know of any other hair preparation that has been used in one family for twenty years, do you?

But Ayer's Hair Vigor has been restoring color to gray hair for fifty years, and it never fails to do this work, either.

You can rely upon it for stopping your hair from falling out, for keeping your scalp clean and healthy, and for making the hair grow rich and long.

THE NEXT CONVENTIONS.

LARGE CITIES NOT CLAMORING FOR THE NATIONAL GATHERINGS.

The Assemblages Where Presidential Candidates Are Nominated Found to Be Expensive Affairs — Demands Which Cities Have to Meet — Gathering Places.

The call has already been issued for a meeting of the Republican national committee, at which will be decided the time and place for holding the next Republican national convention. According to present indications the large cities are not likely to race for this honor with the zeal that they have formerly exhibited. Several of the Chicago newspapers are saying that that city does not again want either conventions at any price. St. Louis is likely to make only a perfunctory bid, if any at all, for either convention, as that city has all the advertising enterprise is can grapple with in the Louisiana purchase centennial exposition, for which it is now preparing. The big cities have come to believe that national conventions do not pay. The day of prolonged wrangles and big convention fights appears to have passed, and it was those things that made a convention of financial advantage to a city, its hotels, saloons, stores and transportation companies. Every hotly contested convention attracts aiders and abettors of the various factions as well as interested spectators by the thousand. Of late conventions have been three-day ratification meetings largely.

A national convention is a pretty expensive luxury for the city that undertakes it. It is said that the Republican convention of 1896 cost the public-spirited citizens of St. Louis $40,000. They had to pay for the building of a convention hall, the printing of the tickets and the badges, for electric lighting and other incidentals. It cost Chicago about $25,000 to entertain the Democrats in the same year, and the sum would have been larger had it been necessary to erect a convention hall.

T. E. Byrnes of Minneapolis, who was sergeant-at-arms at the St. Louis convention, says that the people of that city became very weary of the the enterprise last time before it was over. "I mean," said he, "that the bills which were incurred by my office for legitimate expenses did not make the backers of the enterprise happy. There was a shortage of almost $4000 after the citizens' committee had drummed and drummed until the entire city was tired. This shortage was finally made up by a handful of rich men, who grumbled a good deal over it. They did not receive a cent's worth of benefit from the convention and yet had to meet the bills to preserve the city's good name.

"I wrote 18,000 letters," Mr. Byrnes added, "and every one was to a man who had written to us, and who was entitled not only to a reply, but to a courteous one. What were the letters about? Tickets and convention appointments, mainly. Every letter which I answered was written manifold, and a copy of the answer was filed with the original letter. The applications for tickets began as soon as I had received my appointment and continued down to convention day, a period of six months. My correspondence was so heavy that at times I was compelled to have three or four stenographers. For these the St. Louis citizens' committee had to pay."

While Mr. Byrnes was one of the most successful sergeants-at-arms, he did not escape criticism. At a secret session of the Republican national committee in the Southern hotel, St. Louis, the day before the convention opened, one of the members arose and insisted that Mr. Byrnes be discharged on the spot. The speaker had asked for a certain number of tickets and his request had been ignored. Mr. Byrnes not even condescending to answer his letter. The offended member was a very prominent man in Republican councils; so, assuming that a mistake had happened, somebody moved to take a recess for luncheon, with the understanding that Mr. Byrnes was to be on hand after luncheon and give an explanation. According to program, Byrnes appeared. Again the offended committeeman made his bitter speech, and Byrnes responded, showing that he had sent the tickets to the member's hotel room the day before and had taken his private secretary's receipt for them, which receipt was thereupon exhibited to the amused committee. Apologies were in order. The complainant, it seemed, had not been in his room for two days and so did not know what had been going on for two days.

In Chicago, in 1896, t ere was also a good deal of trouble in raising the money for the entertainment of the convention. It finally came out of men who, as at St. Louis, received no benefit from it and would rather have seen it go somewhere else. These men, in both cities, are said to have served notice that in the future they would not respond to the eleventh hour appeals of this sort, and that local committees which engage to entertain national conventions must themselves be ready to pay the bills. A good many Republicans, on account of the interest of the Pacific slope in the expansion question, are thinking very favorably of San Francisco as a proper place for a convention which will renominate McKinley, and announces a definite party policy regarding the Philippines and trade expansion in the Orient. At the time, on account of the change of heart in Maryland, many leading Democrats believe that it would be a good plan to hold the Democratic national convention in Baltimore, which used to be a great convention city.

Chicago is the best convention city in the country, as far as permanent facilities go, and Kansas City is the place now making the greatest effort to secure a convention. It would not be strange if the Republicans finally went to Chicago, without any very energetic urging, and the Democrats to Kansas City. Denver and Milwaukee are among the few claimants.—New York Post.

It is estimated that Missouri farmers received over $8,000,000 for their mules in 1898. The number shipped from St. Louis was 117,602.

THE LAST OF A TRIBE.

Customs of Iowa Indians on Their Reservation in Oklahoma.

Most of the seventy-eight remnants of the once powerful Iowas live on their allotments near Perkins, Oklahoma. They are not men with the hoe, as most of their choice lands are either uncultivated or else tilled by the whites. They employ their time in eating, sleeping, dancing, grunting, visiting and worshiping. They consider all the serious doings, including horse-racing and trading squaws, as religious ceremonies.

Their religion is a grotesque mixture of paganism and Christianity. They are ardent sun-worshipers, calling often upon Jesus, who they say is the glorious orb of day. They believe in spiritual horses, dogs and ever-green prairies where no troublesome white man or bad Indian can molest them.

Bill Dole, a very unctious old limb of the expiring tribe, said: "I have eleven squaws and papooses up there and lots of spotted ponies eating grass up there on the evergreen prairies. I can see them on every cloudless day." Bill, however, got married again last week to a four-times widow. Most of their wigwams are adorned with gorgeously colored pictures of scriptural scenes.

They still persist, in spite of having been notified repeatedly not to do so, in depositing their dead on the surface of the earth. The graveyard in the old, deserted Iowa village on Bear creek, Lincoln county, is a disgusting, sickening boneyard. Gluttonous turkey buzzards and irreverent hogs fight over the remains.

Dan Tohee, a lineal descendant of the 2000-year-old royal Tohee family, officiates as chief of the little tribe. He looks very dignified, never gets drunk nor trades wives, and is not much of a liar. His brother Dave, however, seems to be the black sheep or the Tohee family. His sixth squaw died last spring, and after howling seven nights around her dead house, he put a $25 marble cross near her resting place and began preparations for a union with squaw No. 7.

The Iowas delight to drink a slightly intoxicating concoction made of fermented and boiled corn, sumach berries, sugar and wild onions. After gulping down copious drafts of the beverage they get exceedingly happy and talk about the good times coming when only Iowas will inhabit the whole of Oklahoma.

Getting some of the white man's education is one of their greatest hardships. The young Iowas, "like snails, crawl to school." They play sick, and sometimes even dead, to keep from attending. The older consider the younger ones martyrs during school hours and often help them to evade the task. Two years ago they induced the Indian department to allow them to have a school right at home. They had a costly building erected and several teachers were hired, but, alas! only about six juvenile redskins attended the school.

The Iowas hate working on the roads even worse than any other kind of labor. Eight of them started on a protracted visit to Nebraska last summer simply to escape from working three days on the roads which they travel more than any white man.

They regard all physical and other ailments as the work of "imps within" and take strong emetics and vomit the evil spirits through the knotholes into hollow trees. Perhaps, through some sort of a faith cure process this always seems to make them all right for awhile.—Chicago Record.

The Area of the Philippines.

In several government documents the area of the Philippine Islands is put at something over 114,000 square miles; in the latest at 114,326. In the "Guia Oficial de las Islas Filipinas, para 1898; Publicada por la Secretaria del Gobierno General; Manila, 1898," the area of the archipelago is given as 355,000 square kilometres, without including the Jolo (Sulu) group. As the number of square kilometres multiplied by .386052 will give the number of square miles, the area of all the islands, less the Jolo group, amounts to 137,057 square miles. Further, the statement is generally made that the archipelago of the Philippines contains from 1000 to 200 islands, and the "Guia Oficial" says the number is more than 1200. But in examining the "Derrotero del Archipelago Filipino, Madrid, 1879"—that is, the Coast Pilot of the Philippines, covering more than 1200 pages—we find that the Islas, Islitas, Isletas, Islotes, Islotillas and Farallones thereon described amount to 583. Of course, this does not include reefs, rocks or hidden dangers. —Professor George Davidson to the Geographical Society of the Pacific.

Dewey and Roosevelt Under Dentists.

According to a Spruce street dentist, both Admiral Dewey and Governor Roosevelt, the beloved "Teddy" of the Rough Riders, are arrant cowards when it comes to facing the terrors of the dental chair. In commenting on this universal dread of the pain that comes from tooth surgery, the dentist disclosed a bit of professional history none the less interesting because of its anonymity. He told of a veteran of the civil war, an officer who loves nothing better than to recount his martial adventures over a cold bottle in the Union League, and whose bravery on the field is a matter of historical record. And yet this grizzled veteran, when he finally plucked up sufficient courage to have a troublesome tooth pulled, admitted to the dentist that he had rung the door bell on three previous occasions and then skurried around the corner before the door was opened, like a truant schoolboy. After all, it's the little things in life that frighten us most.—Philadelphia Record.

Proper Quantity of Food.

Dr. Pavy, one of the most eminent authorities upon diet, says that the average man in a state of absolute rest, can live on sixteen ounces of food a day, a man doing ordinary light work can live on twenty-five ounces, and a man doing laborious work needs from twenty-six to thirty ounces. This is food absolutely free from water, and it must be remembered that everything we eat contains more or less water, so that from forty-eight to sixty ounces of ordinary food are necessary according to the work in which a man is engaged.

STATEMENT OF ALABAMA'S COAL OUTPUT.

Suit Against Loan Association---Colored Preacher Commits Murder. The Paris Exhibit---New Railroad Opened---Brevities.

The production of coal in Alabama in 1899 is estimated at 7,500,000 tons by State Mine Inspector J. DeB. Hooper. The production has increased at a very rapid rate since 1897, as is shown by the official figures for 1897 and 1898 and the estimate for 1899. The output for these years was as follows: For 1897, 5,893,771 tons; for 1898, 6,527,766 tons; for 1899, 7,500,000 tons, estimated. Increase in 1899 over 1898, nearly 1,000,000 tons. It is estimated that the production in 1900 will approximate 10,000,000 tons.

State Mine Inspector Hooper reports 40 fatalities resulting from accidents in the mines 1899, compared with 45 in 1898 and 38 in 1897. There were four fatalities in the mines in December, 1899.

Suit Against Loan Association.

A bill has been filed in the city court of Montgomery by F. F. Tennello, against the National Building and Loan Association, asking for a receiver on the ground of alleged mismanagement on the part of that company, and that it be declared insolvent. The company has an authorized capital of $25,000,000 and a paid up capital of $4,000,000, and is doing business all over the south. B. J. Baldwin is chairman of the committee on loans, Jacob Greil, president; M. P. Legrand, treasurer, and Alva Fitzpatrick, secretary, all of whom are among the leading and wealthiest citizens and business men of Montgomery.

Colony to be Located in Limestone County

A deal is on foot now to establish a colony of Danes and Norwegians in Limestone county. A representative of the colony was in Athens this week, and before leaving he negotiated for a thousand acres of land lying near Athens on the main line of the Louisville and Nashville railroad. He will bring with him at an early date a large number of families to settle this tract of land, and also he will locate his planing mill, sash and blind and door factory in the colony as a nucleus to other industries. His name is Oliver Hansen, and he is a Norwegian, but has associated with him in business his brother and a Dane, all of whom want to come south.

Colored Preacher Commits Murder.

At Talladega Rev. Thomas Whatley, a well known negro preacher, shot and instantly killed Anna Duncan, a colored girl who resided at his home. There were but three persons in the house at the time of the shooting, the murderer, the murdered girl and Whatley's wife. It is said Whatley was drunk at the time, and claims it was an accident.

Alabama's Exhibit at Paris.

Commissioner Motz, who will have charge of Alabama's interest at the Paris fair, has made a tour of the state during which he arranged for a large number of items to be placed in the state exhibit at the fair. Birmingham and Montgomery will attempt to carry off the honors of the state in the local exhibits.

Miners Replaced by Convicts.

President George Young, of the United Mine Workers of America district of Alabama, has returned to Birmingham from Dogwood mines, in Shelby county, where he failed to effect an adjustment of the miners' wage troubles. The Montevallo Coal and Railroad company, operators of the mines, have replaced the United Mine Workers by convicts from Dallas and Shelby counties. Forty-six convicts have been leased and five non-union men are working with them. This is the third mine in the state to employ convicts.

Accidentally Killed.

A special from Cordova says that Elijah Mulligan, while out bird hunting near that place with a couple of friends, was killed by the accidental discharge of his own gun. He was crossing a fence and in some way struck the hammer of his gun. It discharged and the entire load entered his right breast, causing death in a few moments.

Fell Into a Well 70 Feet Deep.

Miss Mary Hudson, of Walden, Ga., while looking into a seventy-foot well, lost her balance and fell to the bottom. A young man who was with her at the time succeeded in rescuing her. Beyond a few scratches, she was uninjured.

Ed. N. Smith, a white man about 35 years of age, was asphyxiated at the Ensley furnace a few days ago.

State Fair Funds Exhausted.

At the meeting of the Birmingham Commercial club a few days ago, the matter of the failure of the Alabama State Fair association to meet its obligations was brought up, and the furore which it was creating over the state. After some discussion President F. Y. Anderson expressed opposition to any action in the matter, saying that it would set a precedent by which every shipwrecked corporation might look to the club to help it out. Accordingly no action was taken. However, the discussion developed the fact that a number of state newspapers have received worthless checks from the fair association in payment of advertising, and that these papers are very sore, some having roundly denounced not only the fair management, but the city of Birmingham as well. The fair management simply say that their funds are exhausted.

New Coal Mining Companies.

It is given out that the Republic Steel and Iron company are opening a mine which will shortly have a capacity of 2,500 tons a day; the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company will have several new mines in operation and old ones enlarged shortly; the Jenifer Furnace company is operating old mines at Connellsville; the Bruce Mining company has opened new mines near Cordova; the Pratt company have opened new mines in the vicinity of Blossburg and will shortly be getting out coal; the Hunter Coal company will open new mines in the vicinity of New Castle; the Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron company will enlarge old mines and open new ones in the Birmingham district and other companies will get out extensive amounts of coal, adding to the general output of the district.

Progress of Steel Making

The blooming mill of the Alabama Steel and Shipbuilding company's new million dollar steel plant at Ensley has begun operations and is working satisfactorily. The first run was made a few days ago. The product was found to be perfect. In a few weeks the big steel mill will be in full blast, three furnaces being in operation now and the remaining seven being nearly completed. It will be several weeks before the steel wire and rod mill, which will consume a large part of the steel plant's output, will be ready for operation. The wire and rod mill when finished will represent an investment of $2,000,000 instead of $1,500,000, as was originally contemplated.

Gin Combine Completed.

The organization of the Continental Gin Company has been completed and the officers have been chosen. Mr. W. T. Northington has been elected president. Birmingham has been designated headquarters, and the capital stock is $2,000,000.

Machine Works Reorganized.

The Florence Machine works, organized a little over a year ago with a capital stock of only $2,500, by Messrs. N. F. Cherry, R. M. Martin and A. P. Harland, is now being reorganized with a capital stock of $20,000, and will be made one of the most complete industries of the kind in the state.

First Passenger Train.

The first through passenger over the lately finished branch of the Louisville and Nashville railroad from Pensacola to Selma arrived in the latter city Friday. The officials are well pleased with the road and say that a regular schedule passenger train will be put on in about a week.

Philadelphia Furnace in Operation.

The Philadelphia furnace at Florence made the first cast of iron a few days ago, twenty-four hours after the fires were lighted in the big plant. The Philadelphia has been idle for seven years, and has been repaired at a cost of $60,000.

STATE BREVITIES.

A number of the Louisville & Nashville shop employes at Decatur have started a co-operative store here on Second avenue. They keep all the necessaries of life.

The Talladega furnace and Highland City cotton factory are both ready to begin operations. A shortage of laborerers to operate the same necessitates the delay in starting.

W. L. Montgomery has recently moved to Decatur and established a cigar factory. His product took so well that he was this week compelled to employ a dozen more cigarmakers.

The preliminary trial of Brice McLemore at Huntsville, who is charged with the murder of Lester Carter, came to an end Friday, and Judge Stewart bound the defendant over to await the action of the grand jury, fixing his bond at $2,500. Bondsmen were promptly secured.

PICKED UP THE PIN.

And Has Had Nothing but Bad Luck Ever Since.

"These homely old superstitions we have all heard since childhood are very mysterious things," said the recording secretary of the New Orleans Ananias club to the New Orleans Times-Democrat man. "Take the one, for instance, about finding pins. Last week a friend of mine, who is rather portly, saw a pin lying on the sidewalk. He didn't want to pick it up, but was afraid to pass it for fear of bad luck, so he stooped over, slowly and painfully. As he did so he busted a pair of $2 silk suspenders and ripped a pair of $9 trousers. At the same time his $6 gold eyeglasses fell off and smashed all to pieces, but he got the pin and rose up suddenly, being mad, just in time to bring the back of his head in contact with a piece of scantling which a carpenter was carrying along the pavement. The concussion raised a bump as big as a goose egg and knocked off his new white alpine hat, which rolled into the gutter and was ruined. Nevertheless, he still hung onto the pin and stuck it under the lapel of his coat. In taking off the garment at his office he scratched himself on the back of the hand with the point, and a couple of days later inflammation set in. You see, the confounded pin was brass and probably covered with germs. Anyhow, his hand swelled up until it looked like a ham, and he hasn't been able to use it yet. As he happens to be a bookkeeper the thing has already knocked him out of a week's work and may lose him his job. The worst of it is, he doesn't dare to throw away the pin for fear of having bad luck. These old superstitions are certainly very curious—very curious indeed."

Soldier and Courtier.

Lord Kitchener of Khartum is a straightforward soldier, but he does not scorn the art of turning a compliment gracefully. It has long been said of him that he is proof against all feminine charms, and when he waited upon her majesty at Windsor, the queen was curious enough to put a pointed question. "Is it true, my lord," she asked, "that you have never yet cared for woman?" "Yes, your majesty," replied the sirdar, "quite true—with one exception." "Ah!" said the queen, "and who is she?" The sirdar bowed. "Your majesty," said he.

DINGLEY'S DEATH DEEPLY MOURNED

Condolence Pour In Upon Mrs. Dingley From All Sections.

MANY PERSONAL TRIBUTES

From Associates of Dead Statesman In Public Life.

A Washington special says: Profound sorrow was manifested Saturday in every walk of public life in the announcement that Nelson Dingley, of Maine, had passed away. At the late home of Mr. Dingley there were many evidences of that deep personal esteem in which he was held.

Messages of condolence came from every quarter of the country and to these were added the personal condolence of cabinet officers, senators, supreme court justices and members of the house.

Secretaries Alger and Wilson were among the earliest callers, and following them came nearly every man in congress with whom Mr. Dingly had been associated during his long and notable service.

Mrs. Dingley was prostrated with the shock and with the tensions of many days of constant vigil at her husband's bedside. But she was reported to be bearing up bravely and no serious apprehension was expressed as to her condition.

At the house of representatives the death of Mr. Dingley came as a personal bereavement to the many with whom he had long been associated.

President McKinley sent a very feeling letter in his own hand to Mrs. Dingley, expressing his grief and that of Mrs. McKinley. It was as follows:

"EXECUTIVE MANSION, January 13. —Dear Mrs. Dingley: Have this moment learned of the death of your distinguished husband and write to express the profound sorrow which both Mrs. McKinley and myself feel for you in your great affliction.

"We mourn with you in this overwhelming loss, which will be deeply felt by the whole country. From my long and intimate association with him, it comes to me as a personal bereavement. A great consolation in this sad hour is a recollection of Mr. Dingley's exalted character, his honest virtues, his quiet, useful, distinguished life and his long continued faithful service in behalf of his fellow citizens, who will always cherish his memory as that of a great statesman and patriot. With sympathy, believe me always sincerely, WILLIAM MCKINLEY."

A number of letters of condolence were also received from members of the cabinet and one from General Joe Wheeler.

Speaker Reed said of the death of Mr. Dingley:

"I have never known the sense of loss to be more nearly universal than in the case of Governor Dingley. His death comes at a time when the need of his services will be most keenly felt. Not only have we lost his knowledge, but we cannot at once create in any one else the confidence we had in him. Mr. Dingley had rendered conspicuous public service in his own state before he came to Washington and his success here was no surprise to us. His habits of labor and untiring industry gave him the greatest command over the subjects to which he devoted his attention.

"The house, finding that he always said something and wasted no time in saying it, accorded to him the high compliment of silence and attention.

Announced In the House.

The house of representatives assembled Saturday morning under circumstances of deep and universal sorrow in the death of Representative Nelson Dingley, of Maine. As Speaker Reed entered the chamber, a hush fell upon the members as they rose, and with bowed heads listened to the eloquent tribute from the chaplain, Rev. Dr. Coudon.

Mr. Boutelle, the senior member of the Maine delegation, was recognized for a brief and feeling announcement of demise of his colleague.

Mr. Boutelle then offered a resolution that the funeral services be held in the hall of the house and that a committee of nine members of the house be appointed to attend the funeral at Lewiston, Me.

DINNER TO SENATOR GRAY

Given By Wilmington, Del., Chamber of Commerce.

United States Senator George Gray was tendered a complimentary dinner by the local board of trade in Wilmington, Del., Saturday night. President McKinley. his cabinet and all the members of the peace commission sent letters of regret. There were 200 guests in attendance.

Senator Gray was the chief speaker of the evening, and responding to the toast: "Our Guests of Honor." In the course of his speech he said that the United States could not avoid taking the Pacific islands, but says that they will be wisely disposed of.

TREASON OCCURRED.

Court, However, Will Quash Sentence Against Dreyfus.

A Paris dispatch says: The Matin and the Gaulois say they understand that the inquiry of the court of cassation into the Dreyfus case is on the point of terminating and that the court will probably report that acts of treason actually occurred, but that sufficient proof of the guilt of Dreyfus does not exist and that his sentence, therefore is quashed.

HOAR MAKES A HIT.

Introduces Resolution Declaring For Philippine Independence.

A resolution of more than ordinary significance and importance was introduced in the senate Saturday by Mr. Hoar, of Massachusetts. It is as follows:

Resolved, That the people of the Philippine islands of right ought to be free and independent; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the Spanish crown, and that all political connection between them and Spain is and ought to be totally dissolved, and that they have, therefore, full power to do all acts and things which independent states may of right do; that it is their right to institute a new government for themselves, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness; and that with these rights the people of the United States do not propose to interfere.

"I should like to have it adopted immediately," said Mr. Hoar.

"I object," said Mr. Davis, of Minnesota, chairman of the foreign relations committee, and the resolution went over.

The resolution of Mr. Allen for the appointment of a committee of five senators to investigate the conduct of the late war was laid before the senate and Mr. Allen took the floor in advocacy of it.

Mr. Allen said he had no desire to embarrass the president, but so many complaints have been made by the press and individuals of the conduct of the war that he thought it time for a rigid and impartial investigation of the war to be made.

While the question was being discussed a message was received from the house announcing the adoption of the resolution on the death of Representative Dingley.

Fitting resolutions of respect to the memory of Mr. Dingley were adopted and then Mr. Hale, of Maine, delivered a brief eulogy on the distinguished statesman, moving that the senate adjourn.

Prior to the putting of the motion to the senate, Mr. Gallinger, in the chair, announced the committee of senators who are to join a like committee of the house to accompany the remains of the distinguished statesman to Maine. The senate then adjourned.

GEORGIANS OFF FOR CUAA.

After a Long Wait the Third Regiment Sails From Savannah.

The Third Georgia regiment, under command of Colonel R. L. Berner, went to sea on the transport Roumania from Savannah Saturday morning.

About thirty of the men got discharges just before the ship sailed and did not make the trip.

Some fifteen or twenty members, who were on hand the day before, failed to respond to their names when the roll was called on board and the vessel left without them, as a consequence. There will probably be a number of courtmartials when they are caught and carried to Nuevitas.

The departure of the regiment takes from Georgia's shores one of the best of its volunteer regiments which were formed for service in the Spanish war. The men of the regiment are representative and they will reflect credit upon the state wherever they may go.

The regiment has been assigned to duty at Neuvitas, Cuba, a town on the north coast. There the regiment will do garrison duty with the Eighth cavalry, which went to the front some weeks ago.

The Third entered the service shortly after the hostilities with Spain began last spring and for months the men were in camp at Griffin under command of the former Colonel John S. Candler. When Colonel Candler resigned Lieutenant Colonel Berner assumed command with Lieutenant Colonel R. E. L. Spence in second place.

It was in November last that the regiment was moved from Griffin to Savannah.

GEN. OATES RELIEVED.

Honorably Discharged From Service By War Department.

A Washington special says: Formal orders were issued by the war department Saturday relieving Brigadier General William C. Oates, of Alabama, from further duty with the Second army corps, and honorably discharging him from the military service.

A WHOLESALE CHALLENGE

Issued By "Lanky" Bob Fitzsimmons, Champion Pugilist.

Robert Fitzsimmons announces that he proposes fighting every man who wants to meet him during the coming year, and then he expects to retire from the stage. He says:

"When I wanted to retire they would not let met me. Now I am ready to fight. I'm going to start out this year and fight all of them, heavy and middle-weights. I don't care whether they have any reputation or not, I'm going to lick them all if I can. Then I will retire."

ENGLAND STORM SWEPT.

Gales Cause Loss of Life and Heavy Damage to Property.

Advices of Friday from London state that widespread devastation on land and sea has been the result of the storm which has raged during the past few days, and the aggregate losses to property are immense.

London has been practically isolated, communication with all parts of the provinces being seriously interrupted. There have been many wrecks of minor importance and several lives have been lost around the coast.

EAGAN'S TESTIMONY IS BARRED OUT

The War Board Cannot Receive It Until Changes Are Made.

MILES CALM AND QUIET.

General Is Awaiting Action of War Department.

A Washington special says: The war investigation commission Friday passed a resolution of censure on General Eagan for the language used Thursday when he appeared to answer the charges made against the commissary branch of the army by Major General Miles, and returned to him the carefully prepared type-written statement which he left with the commission after reading it to that body. With its return was sent a letter explaining the reason for this action and a copy of the resolution.

Everybody is discussing this controversy. In and out of congress it is almost the sole topic. The excitement caused by General Eagan's unprecedented attack is scarcely second to that pursuant upon the official declaration of war last spring. The army has rushed to the defense of Miles. Almost the entire city denounced Eagan, and at the first blush is prepared to believe in Miles against all his defamers.

General Eagan does not stand high in army circles, and is generally disliked. He is not an American by birth, but was born in Ireland, and often makes himself particularly offensive in his abuse of England. General Eagan came into the army at the beginning of the civil war as a first lieutenant, but was mustered out in 1865. In 1867 he was given a commission in the regular army as a second lieutenant. He served well in the Indian wars and was brevetted for bravery once for fighting the red men in the lava beds. This is the only heroism of his career that his friends point to with any pride. There have always been charges pending against him as a commissary general.

General Miles Talks.

General Miles, when asked what official action, if any, would be taken regarding General Eagan's attack, replied that he had not made any statement on the subject and did not intend to forecast the proceedings of the war department.

When it was suggested that the war department was estopped from any proceedings against General Eagan on the ground of the protection promised by the president to all witnesses in their testimony before the war investigation commission, General Miles said there might be some dividing lines between testimony and personal abuse; that in his opinion any court of justice or, for that matter, a public court would have stopped a witness who had used before it such language as was used before the war commission by General Eagan. Miles further said:

"I did not want to appear before the war commission in the first place. when they wrote me suggesting that I voluntarily appear before them, I replied that I believed it to be for the best interests of the service for me not to volunteer any testimony. When I was ordered before the commission and they asked me concerning certain facts that I then had in my possession, I was obliged, as a matter of honesty, to answer them and produced official complaints as my best reply.

"Even then I did not tell them all the facts which I had discovered by my own investigation. The inquiry was carried on quietly through the proper branches of the war department, and was begun as a matter of duty by the commanding general after the receipt of an immense number of complaints. That investigation is still being prosecuted, and I still think, as I said before, that it would have been much better had the officers of the war department who have in charge the care and proper feeding of the soldiers been allowed to attend to those matters quietly in their own way."

Cabinet Discusses Matter.

At Friday's cabinet meeting a large share of the time was consumed in a discussion of General Eagan's testimony before the war investigating commission. The cabinet members, however, were unusually reticent with respect to what was said, and declined to express any opinion as to what, if anything, would be done in the matter, which is now in the hands of the president and Secretary Alger. Nevertheless, all members of the cabinet commend the action of the committee in declining to receive the manuscript of General Eagan's testimony.

It is said that high authorities in the war department take the position that Eagan enjoys immunity from punishment by courtmartial, the president having promised immunity to witnesses before the commission from prosecution on account of facts testified to by themselves, and that the department cannot take cognizance of the matter.

ELECTION NOT SATISFACTORY.

Tennessee Legislature Will Vote Fo Senator Again.

A Nashville dispatch says: Because of the existence of some doubt as to the legal organization of both houses of the legislature on January 3d, and the legality of the vote for senator on January 10th, when Senator W. B. Bate was re-elected, it has been decided to take a second vote in both houses for senator, so as to free Senator Bate's election from all objections.

DINGLEY PASSES AWAY.

Prominent Republican Leader the Victim of Double Pneumonia.

Hon. Nelson Dingley, of Maine, leader of the republican side on the floor of the house of representatives, and representing the second congressional district of Maine in that body, died in Washington Friday night of heart failure, resulting from extreme weakness due to double pneumonia. He was unconscious during the day, and the death came quietly, without consciousness being regained.

To within a few hours before his death the family firmly believed, as they have throughout his illness, that Mr. Dingley would recover, and it was only when it became apparent that he was dying that they gathered at his bedside.

There were many genuine and heartfelt expressions of sympathy when it became known that the congressman was dead.

In speaking of Mr. Dingley's death Senator Hale said:

"In the present condition of public affairs, Congressman Dingley's death is a very great national loss. In all questions relating to finance, to the revenues of the country and to the adjustment of great financial questions, Mr. Dingley was above all others in authority. It is difficult to say who can take his place. He had the confidence of his associates in the house, the confidence of the senate, the confidence of the president and the confidence of the entire country. Maine will especially lament him. Early and late he had devoted himself to the interests of the state, and his people believed in his fidelity, patriotism and wisdom."

NEWS FROM MANILA.

Report That General Otis Has Affairs Well In Hand.

A cable dispatch received Friday from Manila says: The situation is undoubtedly critical, but Major General Otis has it well in hand and there is no such certainty of trouble as may be believed.

The rebels are concentrated on the outskirts of the town and their leaders have issued strict orders that they shall act only on the offensive.

An accident might precipitate trouble, but the idea of a rebel attack upon Manila is ridiculous, as the Americans absolutely control the position.

Aguinaldo has republished the second manifesto in reply to the proclamation of General Otis, which was recalled on its first appearance, but it has proved ineffectual.

On Wednesday a false alarm, due to trival incidents occurring simultaneously in opposite parts of the city, led to a general call to the United States forces. In fifteen minutes the entire city was covered.

The promptitude of the Americans, while it created a scare for the moment, effectually restored confidence throughout Manila and dispelled the excitement due to a passing fear on the part of the citizens that an outbreak was imminent.

It is possible that the Filipinos, after the diplomatic conferences that have been had between the representatives of General Otis and Aguinaldo, have finally come to understand that the cautious and conservative policy of the Americans is not due to fear and that they will accept the inevitable with good grace. It is evident that at present they are unable to appreciate the full meaning of the independence demanded and that when they do understand its extent, the American propositions will be acceptable.

INDICTED WHISKY DEALERS.

Opened Doors on Election Day In Order to Test the Law.

An Atlanta dispatch says: Five true bills were returned by the Fulton county grand jury Friday against whisky dealers in the city for selling liquors on an election day.

The cases are intended for test cases, and the outcome of them involves an impartant construction of the law and much interest attaches to the disposition of the cases. Bonds were promptly given.

DEED OF A MANIAC.

Crazy Man Kills Wife and Babe, Then Himself.

Reports reached Paris, Tenn., Friday from a remote part of Henry county, of a double murder and suicide by a man named Hudgins.

The report states that in a fit of insanity he killed his wife and baby and then cut his own throat with fatal result.

SUFFRAGE RESTRICTIONS

Will Be Imposed By the North Carolina Legislature.

A Raleigh, N. C., special says: No subject before this legislature at all approaches in interest that of the election law and suffrage restriction. The general sentiment of the democratic leaders in both branches of the legislature is found to be strongly in favor of the Louisiana law as to suffrage, the main fear being as to its constitutionality. Some think the Mississippi law should be followed as far as possible, because it has been declared constitutional, and then features of the Louisiana law can be incorporated.

LARGEST SHIP AFLOAT.

The Oceanic Successfully Launched at Belfast Ship Yards.

The White Star line steamer Oceanic, the largest ship ever built, was successfully launched at Belfast Saturday in the presence of an enormous crowd.

The Oceanic is 704 feet long and registers over 17,000 tons. She has a coal capacity sufficient to enable her to circumnavigate the globe at a speed of twelve knots an hour without recoaling.

CEREMONIES OVER DINGLEY'S REMAINS

Were Almost Majestic in Impressiveness —Forming a Commission For the Philippines—Report of the Brevet Board Handed to the President.

A state funeral, almost majestic in its impressiveness, was given the late Representative Nelson Dingley at noon Monday in the house of representatives, where he has so long been such a commanding figure.

The president, his cabinet, distinguished members of the diplomatic corps, members of the supreme court, senate and house and distinguished men in military and civil life were ranged about his bier on the floor of the hall, while the galleries, to which admission could be obtained only by card, were occupied by the families of those who sat upon the floor and other prominent personages invited to be present. Some of them, like a delegation from the New York chamber of commerce, had come from a distance to pay their last tribute of respect to the dead statesman.

Not since the late William D. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, was given a state funeral in the house during the Fifty-first congress, while President McKinley was chairman of the ways and means committee, has such an honor been accorded a member of the house.

The Brevet Board.

There was handed to the president Monday the report of the military board on brevets involving the result of the work of the board connected with the Santiago campaign. The board is composed of Generals Schwann and Boynton and Colonel Carter, and will immediately proceed to consider the claims of officers who were in the Porto Rican campaign for recognition by the bestowal of brevets. The list submitted in the case of the Santiago campaign includes the names of 504 persons. The brevets recommended will include not only the approval of the president, but must be confirmed by the senate.

Commission for the Philippines.

The commission which the president is about to appoint to proceed to the Philippines will not be subject to the confirmation of the United States senate, but will be named under reserved authority of the president, and its expenses will be paid out of the war appropriations. It is not expected to commit the United States government to a recognition of the independence of the natives, nor is it to frame a scheme of government for the islands, as was the case with the Hawaiian commission.

COMPLETE AUTONOMY PROMISED

Santiago Province Will Be Especially Favored by McKinley.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA.—Mayor Racardi has received a cable dispatch from Dr. Castillo, the representative of the business men of this city who accompanied General Wood to Washington, announcing that complete autonomy will be granted this province. Monday was observed as a holiday as a result.

Representatives of a Norwegian wrecking company who examined the wrecks of the Spanish warships Sunday, consider that the Colon might possibly be floated, but they are doubtful in the case of the Admirante Oquendo.

PAY FOR THE ARMY.

Uncle Sam Will Probably Pay the Cubans for Services.

According to Brig.-Gen. Jose Miguel Gomez, a member of the Cuban commission now in Washington, the Cuban army is sure to receive the three years' pay to which it is entitled, $40,000,000 being advanced by the United States, with the custom house receipts of Cuba as security for its repayment. The General is grateful for the way the commission has been received. The negotiations, it is expected, will be completed by the end of this month, when the commission will return to Cuba.

BENTON M'MILLIN INAUGURATED

He Was Duly Installed as Governor at Nashville Monday.

In the hall of the house of representatives Monday, in the presence of an immense throng, Benton McMillin was inaugurated as governor of Tennessee. The hall was decorated with the national colors and flowers. After prayer by Rev. John Matthews, of McKendree church, Governor Taylor delivered his farewell address.

Mr. McMillin then spoke, and on the conclusion of his address, he took the oath of office, which was administered by Chief Justice Snodgrass, of the supreme court.

MRS. BOTKIN NOT SENTENCED.

Her Attorneys Get a Stay of Proceedings Until January 23d.

Mrs. Cordelia Botkin, convicted of the murder of Mrs. John P. Dunning, of Dover, Del., appeared before Judge Cook at San Francisco Saturday for sentence, but on the motion of her attorneys, sentence was deferred until January 23d, at which time her attorneys will enter a plea for a new trial.

The convicted woman appeared in court smiling, and showed no signs of her recent alleged illness.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Wednesday.

THE SENATE.—A climax was reached today in the debate on the question of expansion, which is in progress in the senate. Heretofore all of the speeches, with the notable exception of that of Mr. Platt (Conn.) have been in opposition to what is presumed to be the policy of the administration with respect to the acquisition of the Philippines. Today Mr. Foraker (Ohio) addressed the senate in opposition to the declaration of the Vest resolution that the United States has no constitutional power to acquire foreign territory to be maintained as colonies. While much of his speech was devoted to a constitutional argument in support of this country a nation to acquire and govern outlying territory, he gave particular attention to the utterance that have been made in contravention of that position, especially those of Mr. Vest and Mr. Hoar. At the conclusion of Mr. Foraker's speech, Mr. Allen (Nebraska) continued briefly the debate upon the constitutional questions relating to the acquisition of the Philippines. He combated the position taken by Mr. Foraker, maintaining that the United States government could not constitutionally acquire the Philippine islands without the ultimate object in view of admitting them into the Union as a state. At 3:10 o'clock, on motion of Mr. Davis, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, the senate went into executive session. In a brief session at the conclusion of the executive session, Mr. Morgan (Alabama) announced that Mr. Sullivan (Mississippi) was not ready to proceed with his speech on the Nicaragua canal bill, and, on his motion, at 3:35 p. m., the senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE.—The house today completed and passed the bill for the codification of the criminal laws of Alaska, upon which it has been working intermit ently for a week. An amendment was adopted providing a high license system in the territory with a species of local option. Liquor dealers are to pay a license of $1,000 per year, and the consent of a majority of the white citizens residing within two miles of a liquor dealer's establishment must be obtained before a license can be issued. The speaker laid before the house today the resignation of Mr. Pitney, republican of New Jersey, who retired from the house in order to enter the state senate of New Jersey, to a seat in which he was elected last fall. At 4 p. m. the house adjourned.

Thursday.

THE SENATE.—Mr. Allison, of Iowa, reported the Indian appropriation bill and gave notice that he would call it up tomorrow. Mr. Hawley, of Connecticut, of the military affairs committee, reported a joint resolution tendering thanks of congress to Clara Barton and the officers and agents of the Red Cross society for their humane services toward the Armenians and towards both sides in the Hispano-American war. Under a special order the senate passed sixteen unobjected bills on the private pension calendar and at 1:10 p. on motion of Mr. Davis, went into executive session. Mr. Cockrell entered a motion to recall the bill which passed yesterday authorizing the president to appoint Brigadier-General T. H. Stanton a major-general and place him on the retired list with that rank. At 5 o'clock the senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE.—The house today promptly went into committee of the whole on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. It was arranged that there should be two hours and a half on a side to general debate. Mr. Dinsmore (dem., Ark.) said members on his side wanted an opportunity to address the house on the general subjects, but so far as he was aware they had no opposition to any item in the bill. Mr. Hitt (rep., Ill.), chairman of the foreign affairs committee, made the prelimary statement abut the measure, which, he said, carried $1,705,533, being $125,485 less than the estimates, and $46,675 less than the current law. All diplomatic and consular offices in the Hawaiian islands, Porto Rico and Cuba were abolished by the bill, affecting a saving in salaries of $43,000. Messrs. Handy of Delaware, Carmack and Gaines of Tennessee spoke on the bill. At the conclusion of Mr. Gaines's remarks, Mr. Hitt announced that his side did not desire to consume the time allotted to it and the bill was reported to the house and passed without a division or amendment. A bill was passed authorizing the Little River Railroad Company to construct a railroad through the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indian Reservations.

Friday.

THE SENATE.—In the senate today Mr. McLaurin, democrat of South Carolina, took strong ground in a carefully prepared speech against a policy of expansion by this country. He cited as one of the principal reasons why the United States should not assume dominion over people who are widely dissimilar to the people of this country the experience of the south with the negro race. He advocated the adoption of the Vest resolution declaring that this country could not maintain permanently as colonies such territory as the Philippines, and held that it would be in opposition to the spirit of American institutions to do so. Mr. Sullivan, democrat of Mississippi, and Mr. Pasco, democrat of Florida, discussed the pending Nicaraguan canal bill, the former supporting it and the latter opposing it. The Indian appropriation bill was taken up, but its consideration was not concluded before the adjournment. Mr. Sullivan advocated the passage of the pending canal measure as Mr. Morgan, in charge of the bill, proposed to amend it. In a set speech on the question, Mr. Pasco maintained that many modifications ought to be made in it before the government was fully committed to the undertaking involved in the canal undertaking. The Indian appropriation bill was called up and the reading of the measure begun. The reading of the bill was not completed, but was laid aside until tomorrow. Mr. Spooner reported from the judiciary committee a bill providing that the fifth and sixth judicial circuits each shall have an additional judge, and the bill was passed.

THE HOUSE.—The house today entered upon the consideration of the naval personnel bill. It developed much less opposition than was anticipated and the indications are that it will have a large majority when it is placed upon its passage. The last vestige of opposition to the measure from the line officers of the navy was removed today when an amendment was adopted designed to prohibit staff officers, upon whom the bill confers positive rank, from exercising command save in their own corps. The committee also asserted their purpose to offer an amendment to morrow to repeal the law giving prize money to the navy, and this announcement met with warm approval. The speeches on the bill today were filled with glowing allusions to the glories of our naval victories in the late war, and Mr. Berry, of Kentucky, created a great deal of enthusiasm by his eulogy of Schley as the hero of Santiago. All efforts to fix a time for the conclusion of the general debate failed. Without completing the consideration of the bill, the committee rose and the house adjourned.

Saturday.

THE SENATE.—At the opening of the senate session today, the blind chaplain paid a tribute to the late Nelson Dingley. Mr. Proctor, of Vermont, introduced a joint resolution providing for busts of the late Senator Morrill and Senator Voorhees to be placed in the national library. The resolution was referred to the library committee. Mr. Hear introduced the following resolution: "Resolved, That the people of the Philippine Islands of right ought to be free and independent; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the Spanish crown, and that all the political connection between them and Spain is and ought to be totally dissolved, and they have therefore full power to do all acts and things which independent states may of right do; that it is their right to institute a new government for themselves, laying a foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safely and happiness, and that with these rights the people of the United States do not propose to interfere." The resolution went over. The resolution of Mr. Allen for the appointment of a committee of five senators to investigate the conduct of the late war, was laid before the senate, and Mr. Allen took the floor in advocacy of it.

THE HOUSE.—The house of representatives assembled today under circumstances of deep and universal sorrow in the death of Representative Dingley, of Maine. As Speaker Reed entered the chamber a hush fell upon the members, who a moment later rose and with bowed heads listened to the eloquent tribute from the chaplain, Rev. Dr. Couden. Mr. Boutelle, the senior member of the Maine delegation, was then recognized for an announcement of the demise of his colleague, which was made in feeling and appreciative words. Mr. Boutelle then offered and the house adopted a series of resolutions providing for funeral ceremonies in the hall of the house at noon on Monday and for a committee of nine members to accompany the remains to Maine. The resolution concluded with a resolution to adjourn.

ROOSEVELT UPHOLDS MILES.

Former Colonel of Rough Riders Confirms Statements Made.

A dispatch from Albany, N. Y., says: Governor Roosevelt stated Friday that he had written a letter to Major General Miles confirming the condition of the meat furnished in the Santiago expedition. General Miles at Washington has made reference to the receipt of that letter. The governor, as colonel of the regiment of Rough Riders, officially made a report to the war department in September last, which contained practically the same account of the condition of the beef as was set forth in his letter to General Miles.

COSTLY FIRE IN MEMPHIS.

Big Dry Goods House Burns Entailing Loss of $450,000.

A fire which broke out in the J. S. Menken Company's dry goods store at Memphis, Tenn., Thursday night totally destroyed that building and contents, causing a loss of $450,000 with an insurance of $345,000.

The Gayoso hotel on the south of the Menken, although at times seriously threatened, received little material damage.

SAN JUAN COUNCIL OUT.

Municipal Officers Resign Because of Dissatisfaction.

A dispatch from San Juan, Porto Rico, states that the mayor and the entire city council have resigned. This action, they assert, was taken because of their inability to raise sufficient funds under the present tariff.

They are not satisfied with the so-called abrupt commands of military government, and besides, allege that they have insufficient liberty. There is however, no ill feeling.

A teacher without enthusiasm is a loaf without leaven. So!

THE CHRONICLE.

F. W. GIST, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Entered in the post-office at Columbiana Ala., as second class matter.

THE COURTS.

We called attention last week to the out-of-date condition of our judicial system. We knew at the time that most of the legal profession favored our idea of a county court to supplant the three courts we have now, but since our declaration we have received encouragement from a lay quarter, together with a request to enlarge upon the proposition so as to open up the subject with those people who think upon such questions.

But little argument will be necessary with thinking people to convince them of the advantages of the proposed system. We have already said that the present system is a relic of the days when the country was sparsely settled, the business of courts was small, and good lawyers were few. On the contrary these days the business is generally immense, and perhaps there is not a county in which there is not a lawyer fully competent to preside over a court whose jurisdiction would cover all the legal business of the county. Certainly the crowded state of our dockets and the delay in trials is all the argument necessary to the proving of the proposition that a change is needed.

As to the details of the desired change, they are simple and easily understood. The present city courts, of which there are several in the State, furnish an example of how they would work and what the advantages would be. Wherever there is a city court now the circuit and chancery courts have no business, because litigants will bring their suits where they will get an early trial.

As to the financial part of it, there will be little or no difference. The prompt disposal of cases will work quite as much saving as the extra judges will cover, and many dollars will be saved in interest, justice will be more prompt, the punishment of crime more swift, and altogether the convenience of the system will make it well nigh indispensable.

We hope to see the system of county courts inaugurated by the coming constitutional convention. We believe it will if the present officeholders do not prevent it.

DINGLEY is dead, but Dingleyism still lives to curse the people.

DOUBTLESS Mr. Aldrich got more "fair play" in Dallas the other day than he enjoyed.

SINCE Editor Pennington has caused his employer to get a licking he probably appreciates the situation of the parrot in the fable.

A COPY of the Gattling Gun, by W. Hurt, of Cleveland, Ohio, has reached us. It is on the Iconoclast order, and is quite properly named. With all its hot sarcasm it contains much good hard sense. It is monthly, at $1 per year.

IF, as we heard a good minister declare, the Anglo-Saxon race is to become the girdle of the Lord, it is high time they were putting themselves in control of their own affairs so as to be able to use a better influence in the world at large.

State Senator Deans was in town a few days ago, and when asked by Judge Longshore why he was not canvassing for the constitutional convention replied that "they made a mistake in not letting it pass two years ago." The question now is, Does he or does he not favor it?

THE fisticuff between two Congressmen in Selma last Saturday night might be made the subject of a great deal of comment and moralizing, though it is probably best to pass it by unnoticed and let the principals settle their own differences. We venture the suggestion, however, that a little less vituperation on the part of some people and little less poking of noses into other people's business might be conducive to better health. The people of Dallas County have taken a great deal, and it is not to be wondered at that the worm occasionally turns.

SOME of the road superintendents have appointed their overseers, and in many instances we learn they have appointed the same number as under the old law. For instance, in this beat there are 22 overseers, none of them having but a short stretch of road. This will be found to be a fatal mistake. Under the new law there should not be more than half the former number of overseers. The reasons are plain. In the first place, it would not take half so many sets of tools to supply them, and certainly it is folly to buy a set of tools for each of 180 overseers when no one set will be worked more than from ten to fifteen days during the year. Why not give to each of 60 overseers a set of tools and let each one work three times as many days? Secondly, one man working thirty or forty days during the the year will become more efficient than three men working ten days each, and the inspection and supervision of the superintendents would be much simplified.

Take the road from here to Shelby Springs, one of the worst in the county. There are three overseers on 6 miles of road, when one man could certainly handle the road much more efficiently and cheaply. It will undoubtedly be found to be a mistake.

A POPULIST PROPOSITION.

Probate Judge Zell Gaston, of Butler County, the leading young Populist of the State, will appear before the Democratic committee on the 26th in Montgomery and make one of the most important political propositions in the recent history of the State.

Judge Gaston will propose that if the Democratic organization will accord the Populists representation in the constitutional convention equal to their present strength in the senate, that they will go in with the Democrats to carry the convention with the people and afterwards cease to exist as a separate political party. That is to say, that he would urge upon the Populists that there would be no further need of separate parties, since all the white people had come together in electing a convention to form the organic law under which all could live in harmony and be prosperous.

If the gentleman was authorized to speak for his party his proposition would be well worth considering and accepting. The real object of the change in the organic law is to put the affairs of the State in the hands of the white people, and that being done complete harmony will easily prevail. This the gentleman evidently realizes, besides seeing that, the negro eliminated from politics, there will be practically no opposition to the Democratic party. He can very well afford to propose the disbanding of his party in return for recognition in the hour of their transition. On the other hand the Democrats, always disposed to be magnanimous to erring white men, could well afford, for the sake of the unanimity which would result, to accept his proposition. But the trouble is, Judge Gaston is not authorized to speak for his party. His suggestion, however, presents an idea that his party might adopt as its own and put in the form of a proposition from the proper source.

As a counter proposition, we have to suggest at this time that the Democratic party provide for the nomination of delegates from the State at large by primaries to be held by senatorial districts, in which every white man, regardless of past political affiliation, who will agree to vote for the convention and support the nominee of the primary be invited to participate. Following this, let every county committee provide for the same method of selection. This will pave the way for all white men who believe in white rule to come together for the future welfare of their common interests, and leave none an excuse for remaining outside the family altar. It will destroy the only weapon the officeholder will have to use in appealing to the prejudices of the people for their own interests, and will accomplish with ease what the far-seeing young Populist proposes in the above quoted statement. It will give his constituency a chance to do what his party leaders will never do, and it will give the Democratic party a chance to demonstrate its loyalty to the people's interests.

We offer this as a suggestion to our party officials, and take this occasion to serve notice that the proposition will be submitted to the executive committee of this county when it meets.

THE DISPENSARY LAW.

We have been asked to give the general provisions of Mr. Moody's dispensary bill, pending before the Alabama legislature. The following features, compiled by the author, gives a very good idea of its objects:

1. No liquor is allowed to be drank on the premises on which it is sold

2. Liquor cannot be sold between the hours of 6 p. m., of one day and 6 a. m., of the next day.

3. A man can make only one purchase in one day.

4. Liquor cannot be sold in quantities less than half a pint.

5. The dispenser, or man who sells, receives a salary which is independent of the amount of his sales. As he makes no profit by increasing his business, he has no temptation to solicit trade, sell to minors or keep open on Sunday.

6. This bill does not create a State board of control. There would, therefore, be nothing to provoke a collision between the constabulary of the State and the police of the towns and cities. Instead of providing new and expensive machinery, the bill utilizes organizations which are already here and equipped for service. Municipal governments would soon find that it was their interest to suppress blind tigers, and uphold the law.

7. While the bill does not prohibit drinking, the foregoing provisions greatly diminish temptation, and have a strong, though gentle, tendency to break up the habit of "treating." In ten or fifteen years many old topers will become gradually weaned off from their usual indulgence, and a new generation will come on which will be almost, or wholly, free from the drink habit.

There are some few details of the bill which we consider unwise. The provision which restricts the establishing of dispensaries to county seat towns we do not think just or expedient. There ought to be a prohibition of shipping from the outside to the consumer. The amendment which is pending seeking to exempt all the principal towns of the State, if adopted, will kill the measure by crippling its opportunity to do good. As the bill does not seem to interfere with existing prohibition laws it is of no local interest to this county. What we need is an enforcement of the laws we have.

OUR correspondent at Harpersville, R. B. Posey, has sent us a petition in behalf of the school bills with 45 names. We would like to have one from every precinct in the county. Cut the petition out of last week's paper, paste it on a sheet of paper, date it, circulate it and send it to us by the 1st of February. What beat will give us the largest petition for good common schools?

A GOOD MAN.

A correspondent in one of our exchanges, speaking of a certain man whom he names for delegate to the constitutional convention, thus describes him:

A man who is not for sale, lease or rent. An honest man. Sound from center to circumference, true to the heart's core. A man who will condemn wrong in a friend or foe, in himself as well as others. A man whose conscience is as steady as the needle to the pole. A man who will stand for the right if the heavens totter and the earth reels. A man who can tell the truth and look the truth and the world and the devil square in the eye. A man that neither brags nor runs, flags or flinches. A man who has courage without whistling for it—a brave man. A man in whom the current of pure love and charity runs deep and strong. Too large and strong for sectarian limits and bonds. A man who does not strive to be seen or heard in the streets. A man who knows his message and tells it. A man who knows his duty and does it. A man who knows his place and fills it. A man who minds his own business. A man who will not lie. A man who is not too lazy to work, nor too proud to be poor. A man who eats what he earns and wears what he pays for. A sober man. A modest man. A Democrat.

It occurs to us that this is the kind of a man all counties want to represent them. If there be such a man as this in Shelby County, and he believes in the right things for a new constitution, let somebody trot him out and all will support him.

HON. JNO. B. KNOX is quoted by the Anniston Index as saying, "As long as John T. Morgan is alive and wants to remain in the Senate, I'll never contest with him for the honor." Well said. If some other men we know would show their appreciation of merit as well as their judgment they will immediately declare, "Them are my sentiments." It will be much wiser for them to say it now than to have the people say it for them two years from now. The judgment displayed by Mr. Knox will bring fruit some day.

We are a bilious race. Half of us are born bilious, with a predisposition to Indigestion. Take Simmons Liver Regulator, and Biliousness and Indigestion will no trouble you. Mr. A. W. McLemm, of Johnson, S. C., a sufferer from Biliousness and Indigestion gives this as his experience after taking Simmons Liver Regulator: "I keep Simmons Liver Regulator in my home and find it a valuable remedy for biliousness, indigestion, constipation, and inactivity of the liver."

COMBATIVE CONGRESSMEN.

Robbins and Aldrich Indulge in a Fisticuff.

Selma, January 14.—Special.—At 6.30 this evening in the lobby of the Hotel Albert a personal difficulty occurred between Hon. Gaston A. Robbins, member-elect of the Fifty-sixth Congress, and William F. Aldrich, member of the Fifty-fifth Congress.

Robbins was sitting by the fireplace when Aldrich, accompanied by his attorney, E. H. Dryer, who is to conduct his contest, and G. B. Deans, of Shelby, came in. Robbins approached Aldrich, and pulling a copy of the Alabama Home, published in Anniston, from his pocket, said: "Mr. Aldrich, this paper publishes a number of scurrilous lies about me, and you circulated them over the district. I am going to hold you personally responsible," and with that Robbins let drive with his fist.

Dryer and Deans rushed up, and the former caught hold of Robbins. Several gentlemen who were near called out foul play, and Dryer was forced back, the combatants going together again. For about five minutes the mill lasted, Aldrich being punished severely and Robbins not receiving a scratch.

The articles in the Home were written by one Pennington, said to be an old man in Aldrich's employ, and were insulting to the greatest degree. It was fortunate there was no more serious result than a few bruises.

Another account, published in the Hot Blast, says:

"Robbins was not touched, but Aldrich had to call in a surgeon to fix up his face.

What Shall we Do?

A serious and dangerous disease prevails in this country, dangerous because so deceptive. It comes on so slowly yet surely that it is often firmly seated before we are aware of it.

The name of this disease, which may be divided into three distinct stages, is, flast. Kidney trouble, indicated by pain in the back, rheumatism, lumbago frequent desire to urinate, often with a burning sensation, the flow of urine being copious or scant with strong odor.

If allowed to advance, this reaches the second stage, or Bladder trouble, with heavy pain in the abdomen low down between the navel and the water passage, increasing desire to urinate, with scalding sensation in passing, small quantities being passed with difficulty, sometimes necessary to draw it with instruments. If uric acid or gravel has formed, it will prove dangerous if neglected.

The third stage is Bright's Disease.

There is comfort in knowing that Dr. Kilmer, the great kidney and bladder specialist, has discovered a remedy, famous for its marvelous cures of the most distressing cases, and known as Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root.

It is sold by all druggists.

As a proof of the wonderful virtues of this discovery, Swamp Root, a sample bottle and a book of valuable information will be sent absolutely free by mail on application to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing kindly mention that you read this liberal offer in THE CHRONICLE.

By Mrs. F. W. GIST.

Hon. S. F. Moody's dispensary bill, now pending in the senate, is receiving much earnest study and agitation. The State W. C. T. U. has endorsed it, and the clergy of the State almost unanimously are endorsing it, petitions are being signed throughout the State in favor of the bill, which is very similar to the South Carolina dispensary law. It is not a prohibition bill, but is a long stride in that direction, and eliminates the "treating" habit in saloons, and provides only the purest liquors for those who do drink. And many think that a county board of control instead of a State board of control will prove an advantage over the South Carolina law; and while Mr. Moody's bill is exciting the attention of the best element of people in the State, Mr. Burkhalter's bill, providing for the keeping open of barrooms until 6 o'clock in the afternoon of days preceding an election, and the reopening of them at midnight on days after an election, stands out in bold evidence and disparity, and we hope will meet with no favor or support, and will be doomed to die the death of a depraved idea and corrupt movement. Let the watchword of our lawmakers be, Alabama is on the upward ascent and not on a slimy descent.

***

We have several times in the past paid our respects to Edward Bok, of the Ladies' Home Journal, and so long as he hums the old song of "Keep the woman within the four walls of her home," that long will he elicit passing remarks from those who possess broader views of life and higher aspirations. Mr. Bok is scared out of his wits at the wonderful hold women's clubs are getting on the people all over the country. His little, tiny-sized cranium can't grasp the idea that the woman's club means higher education, expansive cultivation, quick comprehension, and disseminating the best that is in us. Nor is the woman's club confined to one narrow channel of work. A large percentage of them are on purely literary lines, but the larger clubs in cities have various and many departments of work. Few people outside of the ranks know that the W. C. T. U. has more than forty departments of christian work; and so the woman's club has its various departments of commendable work. There is the home department, the educational department, the reformatory department, the department of civics, of journalism, of literature, etc. Mrs. J. L. McConaughy writes interestingly in last issue of Woman's Work on Alabama's standing army of 1,000 club women. Three clubs in Alabama are educating three girls in the Montevallo school and one in Livingston. Twenty club women at Tuscumbia have purchased a $1,000 building and equipped it with a library of over 2,000 volumes, and we haven't space to enumerate the many substantial and practical works that club women are doing; and yet Mr. Bok, who ought to be caged like other small monkeys and carried about in a glass case as a living example and demonstration of the small brains and hide-bound discrepancy of some men in the world, whines his old-time tune of keeping the women inside the home. Where would the christian church of to-day be if woman had been entirely kept at home? It was in ancient days and heathenism that such state of affairs existed. Mr. Bok can retire with all others who like his company to remote ages and customs, but the women of America will go on uplifting humanity, carrying exhalted banners of advancement and civilization until every woman shall see that she was created by God for something in life worth living for and that there is work inside the home and outside the home.

We take pleasure in publishing Rev. A. T. Clark's reply to our query two weeks ago. He gives a fine interpretation of the term in question. We have always understood the term literally as referring to the Valley of Hinnom near Jerusalem.

To the Editor of Current Criticisms:

You quote from Mark 9:48, "Where their worm dieth not and the fire is not quenched," and ask to what the language refers.

The answer can be given in one word, Retribution. There can be no doubt of the serious nature of the teaching of Jesus at this point. He was teaching spiritual truth through material imagery. Anything less than this was beneath the dignity and importance of His mission.

What truth was he seeking to impress upon those who heard Him? This: Nothing should be spared that hinders salvation. Two interesting facts may be noticed here. First, the translators of King James' day (Authorized Version) in a lack of scholarly discrimination which appears in many places, translated by the one word, "hell," two Greek words of wholly different meaning. One refers to the future state without reference to condition; the other, to a condition of punishment. In the Revised Version the word "hell" only occurs where the original requires it. The passage quoted by THE CHRONICLE is one of those passages.

Browning, in his remarkable poem, Christmas Eve and Easter Day, sets out in his way the consequence described by Christ:

Thou didst attest
'Twas better spirit should subserve
The flesh than flesh refine the nerve
Beneath the spirit's play.
. . . . . Thou art shut
Out of the heaven of spirit.

A second interesting fact which may be noted in this connection is as to the use of language, especially in the communication of spiritual ideas. The word translated "hell" in Mark 9:48 originally referred, without doubt, to the Vale of Hinnom, where refuse was cremated. But the word came to be associated in Hebrew thought with future punishment, and was the word by which that punishment was indicated.

We notice that all life in our world has a physical basis. Therefore, language has a physical basis also. On this subject that brilliant thinker, Horace Bushnell, says: "The outer world which envelopes our being is itself language, the power of all language. All words are, in fact, only incarnations, or insensings, of thought."

In the passage quoted by THE CHRONICLE, the most impressive language is employed to suggest conscience and remorse in the life to come. That sin is a terrible evil in this world is a matter of observation; that the consequences are terrible is the Divine proclamation.

The little dose we administered to the Montevallo News made it pretty sick, but it admits that such things oftimes do good. But if the News would have us change our vocation and learn to cook, it will have to guess again. We claim to be the best of cooks, in proof of which we invite the editor of the News to dine with us next time he is in town. According to the News' statement, THE CHRONICLE is a most healthful publication. We all know a good laugh is worth several doses of medicine; so let everybody take THE CHRONICLE, laugh and grow fat.

***

What can it mean? Is it aught to him
That the nights are long and the days are dim?
Can he be touched by the grief I bear,
Which saddens the heart and whitens the hair?
About his throne are eternal calms,
And the strong, glad music of happy psalms,
And bliss unruffled by any strife,
How can he care for my little life?

And yet I want him to care for me
While I live in this world where sorrows be;
when the lights die down from the paths I take,
When strength is feeble and friends forsake,
When love and music that once did bless
Have left me to silence and loneliness,
And my life-song changes to sobbing prayers,
Then my heart cries out for a God who cares.

When shadows hang over the whole day long,
And my spirit is bowed with shame and wrong,
When I am not good, and the deeper shade
Of conscious sin makes my heart afraid,
And this busy world has too much to do
To stay in its course to help me through,
And I long for a Saviour—can it be
That the God of the universe cares for me?

O wonderful story of deathless love!
Each child is dear to that heart above.
He fights for me when I cannot fight;
He comforts me in the gloom of night;
He lifts the burden, for he is strong;
He stills the sigh and awakes the song;
The sorrow that bows me down he bears,
And loves and pardons because he cares.

Let all who are sad take heart again;
We are not alone in our hours of pain;
Our Father stoops from his throne above,
To soothe and quiet us with his love;
He leaves us not when the storm is high,
And we have safety, for he is nigh;
Can it be trouble, which he doth share?
Oh, rest in peace for the Lord will care!

Advice to

Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand.

These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

What are these remedies? Fresh air, proper food and

of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak throats, weak lungs and consumption in all its stages.

Important to Mothers.

The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trade-mark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over 30 years.—Phila. Bulletin.

GORE AT GURNEE.

Sheriff Vest has a boarder by the name of Henry Falkner, wo was implicated in a killing at Gurnee the other day. The following account of the fracas appears in a special to the Age-Herald from Montevallo:

A shooting scrape occurred near here yesterday between Yammie and Bonnie Booth and Newt Howard, in which Howard was killed and Bonnie Booth seriously hurt. Howard married a cousin of the Booths, and it is said had been abusing his wife for some time, she finally leaving him and going to live with the two nephews. Howard took a shot gun and followed her, but was met at the gate by the two boys, when a row followed ending in Howard firing a load of shot into the body of Bonnie Booth and in return being riddled with a load of buckshot from the gun of the two boys. Howard died in a few minutes, but the Booth boy will recover.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

You are perhaps aware that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of la grippe. During the epidemic of la grippe a few years ago when so many cases resulted in pneumonia, it was observed that the attack was never followed by that disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. It countetacts any tendency of a cold or la grippe to result in that dangerous disease. It is the best remedy in the world for bad colds and la grippe. Every bottle warranted. La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from the second attack of la grippe this year," says Jas. A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against ten for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" BIG COAL DEAL.

Fourth Interest in the Dogwood Mine Sold.

The Age-Herald of yesterday contained the following account of a transaction in Shelby property:

Walter Oliver, of Calera, was in the city yesterday drawing up the papers of a big deal in coal lands which has just been consummated in Shelby County.

The deal is for the sale of one-fourth interest in the property of the Dogwood Coal Mining Company, by Randall and Cary, the owners, to parties in Maryland. The entire property consists of about 400 acres of rich coal lands, on which there are several mines now in operation.

The price paid for the one-fourth interest was $20,000, which is at the rate of $200 per acre. It is said that a great deal of the money will be expended in opening up new mines and further developing the property.

A few doses of Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine will do more for a weak stomach than a prolonged course of any other medicine.

The Rev. Marston delivered a lecture at the Baptist church last Thursday night, on the subject of his travels in the holy land and in Cuba. He represents an orphans' home in Havana, which is caring for a goodly number of the children of dead reconcentrados. He collected something like $12 for his home while here. His lecture was quite interesting, but in some instances gave one the impression that he was drawing on the imagination. He gave Wheeler the full credit of the victory at Santiago, and Schley for the destruction of the Spanish fleet.

If in doubt as to your trouble take Simmons Liver Regulator and it will settle the whole question. "I received a great deal of benefit from Simmons Liver Regulator for Billousness, Constipation, Colds and Liver Complaint; it prolonged my life. I thought I had Consumption, was spitting blood, had several hemorrhages, and Simmons Liver Regulator gave me relief. J. F. Parker was in town Saturday.

Farmers are preparing for another crop.

The Pops don't know what to do with the new road law.

Rev. Mr. Sinnott filled his appointment at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

I have not heard a single Democrat say a thing against the new road law, but some of the Pops are cursing themselves hoarse about it.

Miss Hannah Caldwell, who has been spending the past three or four months with her uncle, Dr. Welch, at Alpine, returned home last week.

We now have the new road law, and are going to have the constitutional convention; but let us not forget to work for the dog law.

Our mail rider, Wess Wallace, had the misfortune to lose his smoke house and stove room by fire a few nights ago, and while trying to save his dwelling fell from the top and broke his collar bone. Wess is a worthy old negro, and we deeply sympathise with him in his misfortune.

United States Marshall A. B. Mitchell was in our community a few days ago. Brooks is a hustler, and is making the way hard for the transgressors.

The old folks said no, and consequently Miss Mattie Byars and Thos. Spruell skipped out by the dark of the moon and stars one night last week and were married at Wilsonville.

From what we can find out most of the superviso—overseers—appointed by the commissioners are Pops, which is alright if they are competent.

D. W. Kidd has built several new houses on his farm this winter, and has a lot of good, white, industrious men, all Democrats, living in them.

Mr. Simms, who moved to Texas several years ago, came back last week, and says this country is a much better one to live in than Texas.

If the few last elections held in this county are to be a criterion to go by, the Democrats can't elect a delegate to the constitutional convention; and why not ask the committee when it meets to give us a delegate for the State at large. McMillan, Browne or Ruffin either one would be a suitable man. The tax-paying, church-going, law-abiding citizens of Shelby could feel well assured that their interests, as well as the State's, would be looked after with either of these gentlemen.

Now, Trilby, what made you go and think that I had crawled off the fence on the Pop's side? I really think you are due me an apology.

Tobe Williamson has scraped the Needmore dirt from off his feet and moved; but Tobe will be at Harpersville when the time comes to vote for the convention.

G. W. Wallis, sr., of Creswell, passed through Harpersville Saturday en route to Cobb to see his son, who is very sick at that place with pneumonia.

THE CHRONICLE is a welcome visitor here, and there is quite an improvement in the last few copies. May it continue to improve until it is made one of the best papers in the State, is the wish of its many readers at Harpersville.

I send you a long list of petitioners to be sent to the legislature, asking for longer schools and better teachers. Harpersville is satisfied with her teacher, but there are other places with which we are not.

Bright's disease is more dreaded by physicians than any of the serious disorders with which they have to deal, because of its its insidious and malignant character. If prompt action were taken when headaches, urinary disorders, digestive troubles first appear, much suffering and sorrow would be averted. Prickly Ash Bitters will quickly stop the spread of the disease, quiet the inflammation, heal the kidneys and bladder, strengthen and regulate the liver, and drive poisons and impurities out of the system by cleansing the bowels. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

Woman's complexion depends for beauty upon digestion. Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine regulates the stomach, liver and kidneys, and secures the blessings of good digestion.

Calera.

La Grippe is almost epidemic.

W. W. Arnold, of Six Mile, was in the city a few hours last Saturday, and spent the time with your correspondent. He left a year's subscription to THE CHRONICLE.

Jason Pilgreen, son of the late R. M. Pilgreen, of this place, lost a leg by a train on the L. & N. railway near Ganadarque last night. He was taken back to Birmingham and placed in the road's infirmary.

Mr. Irwin Bailey, an old and highly respected citizen, died at his home in this city at 3 a. m. Sunday. Mr. Bailey was a veteran of two wars, and was known as a good citizen, an excellent neighbor, a clever and honorable man. He was twice married, his last wife surviving him. He was the father of five children, four daughters and one son. His remains were interred in the Bailey Cemetery with Masonic honors Monday.

The fine residence of I. W. Whatley in the west end of the city was destroyed by fire at a late hour Monday night. Total loss.

Malicious meanness seems to be on the increase. Marauders entered Mrs. McKibbon's millinery store Monday night and destroyed another lot of hats and other goods, and did some damage to the inside of the house.

The first Jewish marriage that ever occurred in Calera, and probably in the county, was celebrated here last Sunday night, the contracting parties being Mr. Phillip Baer and Miss Ida Aronson. It was quite a novelty to our people, and a great number were present to witness the ceremonies.

No healthy person need fear any dangerous consequences from an attack of la grippe if properly treated. It is much the same as a severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed for a severe cold and a prompt and complete recovery is sure to follow. For sale by Williams Bros.

Wilsonville Waifs.

We are having some bad weather now.

J. F. Pope and J. H. Millstead went to Gadsden last week for a car load of mules.

J. M. Brown, jr., returned from Birmingham Sunday.

M. P. Jackson left Tuesday for Tallapoosa, Ga., his home.

Tom Spruel and Miss Mattie Byers were united in marriage Friday at 1.30 a. m.

Mrs. E. Williamson, of Marion Junction, is visiting her mother.

J. M. Brown, sr., has purchased a new safe.

R. D. Smith and J. A. Strickland got into a serious difficulty Monday afternoon and Smith was seriously wounded. Strickland stabbed him in the back.

Mrs. H. H. Formby, Jackson's Gap Ala., writes: I am 84 years old and subject to liver complaint. I never used a medicine which benefitted me like Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine. It is prompt and specific in its action and perfectly harmless. The Zeilin and Black Draught I used are not to be compared with it. I will not use them.

Creswell Items.

There is considerable sickness through the community just now.

E. E. Wallis is in Montgomery visiting his brother, G. F. Wallis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Glaze had a very sick child last week, but we learn it is better.

There is a great deal of cotton in the fields here yet. Some of the farmers having as much as fifteen and twenty bales.

J. M. Wallis was taken with pneumonia while visiting his uncle, J. H. Lybrand and family, near Weldon, on Sunday the 8th inst., and has been very low since. We are glad to have the news that he is some better, and we hope to see him up and at home again soon.

Professor Spinks, of Harpersville, preached at the Baptist church here Sunday. The people seem highly pleased with him, and are talking of calling him to the pastorate of the church, as Rev. J. A. Butts has resigned.

Judge Russell and wife and J. P. Rowe, of Harpersville, were down Sunday attending services.

Wm. Chancellor, Esq., an old and respected gentleman, formerly of this community, but now of Childersburg, was with us a short while Sunday.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Something About the Greatest Weekly Newspaper in the Country.

REDUCED RATE FOR TWO PAPERS.

Take Your Home Paper and The Constitution and be Happy.

We call special attention to our clubbing arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing price of the two papers being only $1.50 per year, subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the claim of circulation made by The Constitution and put up a forfeit of $500 that it could be disproved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm. Mr. George P. Rowell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has just been brought to a close, the reports of no newspaper in the South could compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative sailed with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and of the 129 correspondents who went to Cuba, he was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. His special representative also accompanied the fleet in the Caribbean sea, and its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with the promptness of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manilla, the death of Ensign Bagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all given in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

Among the regular staff members of The Constitution are Joel Chandler Harris, Frank L. Stanton and others well known throughout the country; while among its special contributors are such men as Wallace P. Reed, Bill Arp, Sarge Plunkett, Betsy Hamilton, Dr. Talmage and others of national reputation.

The Constitution has just completed the thirtieth year of its existence. Clark Howell being the editor and Col. W. A. Hemphill its business manager. Its name is a household word in every southern state, from Virginia to Texas. It has always been especially close touch with the agricultural masses of the South, and in having reached a circulation which carries it into 150,000 homes it has won a unique distinction which ranks it among the greatest of American weekly newspapers.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscriptions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every southern home!

The Alabama Fertilizer

Is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State, to be the best all around fertilizer for cotton and corn.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Everyone of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER. The only objection ever raised to the ALABAMA FERTILIZER was that it costs too much.

The present price is no more than that of standard fertilizers. When requested, the ALABAMA FERTILIZER will put up, without extra cost, in bags treated by the Mutual's Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process, thereby insuring the per cet preservation of the bags for an indefinite time, and saving the contents from loss by waste in handling. These preserved bags when emptied and thoroughly washed will be found as good and strong as new, and equally useful for other purposes. Every person, farmer, merchant or dealer vitally interested in the economical production of good crops should advocate the use of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

Marriage and Friendship.

Marriage without love may be endurable, but marriage without love is intolerable. And if a man and woman have no mutual tastes and habits, friendship and even love itself will languish. Even the best and truest love loses with youth its first fire and fevor, but with mental and moral kinship a better, sauer, purer love is built on the ashes of the first. This love is made up of affection, friendship, comradeship, trust, and pervading all this a tender sentiment growing out of the dead memories of long ago.—Carrie E. Garrett, in the January Woman's Home Companion.

REGAINED HEALTH.

Gratifying Letters to Mrs. Pinkham From Happy Women.

"I Owe You My Life."

Mrs. E. Woolhiser, Mills, Neb., writes:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I owe my life to your Vegetable Compound. The doctors said I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. My menstruation had stopped and they said my blood was turning to water. I had several doctors. They all said I could not live. I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me right away; menses returned and I have gained in weight. I have better health than I have had for years. It is wonderful what your Compound has done for me."

"I Feel Like a New Person."

Mrs. Geo. Leach, 1609 Belle St., Alton, Ill., writes:

"Before I began to take your Vegetable Compound I was a great sufferer from womb trouble. Menses would appear two and three times in a month, causing me to be so weak I could not stand. I could neither sleep nor eat, and looked so badly my friends hardly knew me.

"I took doctor's medicine but did not derive much benefit from it. My druggist gave me one of your little books, and after reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel like a new person. I would not give your Compound for all the doctors' medicine in the world. I can not praise it enough."

Why They Raise Hay.

While I was up in Canada last summer a venerable inhabitant told me the reason why the farmers of the Dominion raise so much hay. He said that two or three centuries ago tithes were imposed for the benefit of the church upon all agricultural products, and a list was made of them. The farmers were compelled to give the priests one bushel in twenty-six of everything they produced, whether it was apples, potatoes, wheat, corn, onions, turnips, or any other grain or vegetable. Everything that grows was on the list except hay, which for some reason was omitted, he doesn't know why. Perhaps it was a mistake, but it is more likely the hay crop was so insignificant in those times that it was overlooked. In 1764, when Canada passed from French to British rule, the tithing law was confirmed and ratified by the treaty, and continues in force this day in the province of Quebec and wherever the Catholic church is strong. Therefore, to escape tithes, the farmers raise hay.—W. E. Curtis in Chicago Record.

Ears Beat Eyes.

Most people would no doubt be inclined to fancy that the eye was the gateway of quite the most delicate of all our senses. But this is not so. The sense of hearing has been proved to be far the most delicate of all the senses. And the sense of touch appears to be perhaps the keenest of all. The tests are very simple.

For testing sight a disc half black, half white is revolved quickly before the eyes. When it reaches a speed of twenty-four revolutions a second the colors cease to appear distinctly any longer to the eye, and the result is gray. For sound, a revolving toothed wheel makes a series of clicks, and these to the average man appear to be distinct sounds up to sixty a second. After that they cannot be distinguished apart. The sense of touch is tried by rapid blows of a tiny electric hammer on the skin. Up to 1,000 a second these blows have been felt separate and distinct.

Transvaal Gold.

Consul Macrum, from Pretoria, sends to the State Department a report of the gold output of the South African republic. Notwithstanding that the whole area of the Rand occupies only a series of miles along a belt of 30 miles, the production for a single month has reached 400,000 ounces, the average price of the September output being $18.24 per ounce. The October report was the first to go over 100,000 ounces, and the number of mills and the total of stamps is rapidly increasing. It is expected that the output of the Transvaal next year will exceed that of the combined mines of Colorado, Dakota, California, Montana, and Alaska, although it fell short of that last year.

The Sultan's Hobbies.

The estimated value of the sultan's jewels is 8,000,000 pounds sterling. If his majesty has any hobby at all, it may be said to be the purchasing of jewels and witnessing private theatricals. No professional of note—be he actor, singer or conjurer—passes through Constantinople without an invitation from the sultan. He always pays for these performances in Bank of England notes.

Strong at 110.

Mrs. Ann Smith, of Worcester, Eng., 110 years of age, has spent over 100 years of her life in traveling from fair to fair in a van. She has had sixteen children, and one of her daughters, now 80 years of age, has also had sixteen. Mrs. Smith eats four meals a day, drinks sparingly of intoxicants, smokes a clay pipe steadily, and attends to all her household duties herself.

A skilled workman is not an accidental product, either morally or intellectually. Thousands of years of discipline, by which the impulsive nature of the savage has been evolved into a comparatively self-controlling nature, capable of sacrificing present ease to future good, are pre-supposed.—Herbert Spencer.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the California Fig Syrup Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

IMPORTANCE OF THE PHILIPPINES

A Former United States Minister Says It Is Not Fully Appreciated.

Shanghai.—John Barrett, formerly United States minister to Siam, in an address before the Shanghai chamber of commerce Monday on the question of American control of the Philippines said that he feared that the opponents at home of such control did not appreciate the vital importance to American commerce and influence in the far east, where immensurable opportunities would otherwise be lost.

"The failure to assume and maintain control," said Mr. Barrett, "would forever relegate the United States to a secondary place in the Pacific. As to the difficulties of governing the archipelago, this had been much exaggerated. Aguinaldo and his followers could be pacified by a mixture of diplomacy and firmness, nor would the Monroe doctrine be violated, for the occupation of the Philippines by the United States was not a direct act of conquest, but the inevitable result of a war in which grave responsibilities had been unavoidably entailed." Mr. Barrett emphasized the fact that the nations which, like England, were chiefly concerned, approved of permanent American control, and concluded with the remark that all nations interested could safely trust to the good judgment of President McKinley.

BRAVE AMERICAN GIRL.

Won't Live With a Count Who Married Her for Her Money.

Countess Rosemont de Rouge-Aix, daughter of Mr. Steward, a Boston millionaire, has been living in Vienna incognito, as a governess in a gentleman's house. It appears that within a few minutes after her wedding she learned by chance that the count had only married her because her father had promised to pay his debts, amounting to $1,500,000. Overcome by this disclosure, she ran away, as a protest against being sold in this way, and she intends to earn her living until she can divorce her mercenary husband.

The Spanish government, on the reassembling of the cortes at Madrid, will immediately ask, says La Reforma, authority to sell the Marianne (Ladrone), Caroline and the Pelew islands, since Spain is powerless to maintain a sufficient force to defend them. The government arrived at this decision in consequence of advices from General Rios that an army of 4,000 men, a man of war and two gunboats would be necessary for the purpose.

Suicide at Bessemer.

Wm. Braun, a mechanic, employed at the pipe works at Bessemer, Ala., was found dead in the woods Sunday afternoon. The body was discovered by negroes and promptly reported to the police. At the inquest held by the coroner and jury it was decided that the deceased committed suicide. Braun was last seen Saturday night in a saloon. He was drinking heavily, being always a hard drinker. When found the man reclined on the ground, only his head being elevated about six inches. About his neck was a small leather string, which was tied to the limb of a young sapling.

To Spite the United States.

The government of Nicaraugua, it is alleged, "in resentment of some recent acts of the United States," has arranged, so it is declared, to hereafter purchase the supplies it needs for its machine repairing shops, railroads, steamboats and electric light, telephone and telegraph establishments in Europe. A large percentage of these materials has for years past been purchased through Nicaragua's commercial agent in New York city.

The Atlantic transport liner Marquette, which left London for New York on December 29 last, has not yet been reported. None of the incoming trans-Atlantic vessels of the first class which left the other side a week later than the Marquette saw any trace of the belated steamer. Anxiety is felt for her safety, as she has now been eighteen days at sea.

A BRIDE'S SORROW.

She Had Lost Her Own Perfectly Lovely Name.

She had been married just two weeks and cruel fate had torn him away from her for two whole hours, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. She had planned what she would do. She had a new book and a box of candy and some embroidery and she nobly resolved to bid him good-by cheerfully and not have tear-stained eyes when he returned either. She rode down to the station with him and he kissed her good-by. She watched him get into the train and her eyes grew misty. Two hours! If he missed the train he might be gone two hours and twenty minutes. What did he want to see that horrid lawyer for, anyhow? Surely a lawsuit, even one that involved money, was a small matter to take him away from his bride of a fortnight. The train moved slowly out of the station. He stood on the platform, waving his hat and throwing kisses to her, oblivious of the amusement of the baggagemen on the station platform. She watched the train swing around the curve and cross the bridge. Suppose the bridge should break? The train would plunge into the river and he would be drowned. But the rumble was far off now. The bridge was crossed in safety. She wished she had not married. She had always thought that widows must feel that way. What was the use of marrying only to be bereft of one's husband? She had been very happy as a girl. Very happy, indeed. Why had she given up her care-free existence to be the lonely wife of a man who cared more for money and lawyers than he did for her? Why had she done it? Simply to please him, because it was easier to comply than refuse. A boy whizzing by on a bicycle stopped and handed her a letter. She looked at the superscription, "Mrs Sidney Willis," and groaned in spirit. Even her name, her pretty aritocratic name, of which all her family was so proud, was gone. How chilly and formal and lonely it would be to be always called Mrs. Willis and never be Miss Dolly Van Schaick again. She had reached the house now and she wandered disconsolately upstairs. She thought of all the pretty things that had been said of and to Miss Van Schaick and the more she thought of it the more bitterly did she bemoan her lost name. She forgot her embroidery and her candy and her book and gave herself up to tears. She didn't even hear the whistle of the train from New Rochelle. At last there was a knock at the door. "Go away," sobbed the unhappy Mrs. Willis. "But Dolly, it's me—it's I—it's Dick. What is the matter?" besought Mr. Willis through the keyhole. Then she opened the door and told him. He was offended. It took a good many kisses and explanations to make him appreciate the superiority of Van Schaick to Willis. But, once convinced, he sympathized with her and consented to call her Miss Van Schaick for a month "until the novelty wore off."

Poet Poe Not Expelled from College.

William H. Browne writes the following letter to the Baltimore News: "I see a paragraph going the rounds of the papers to the effect that it is remarkable that Edgar A. Poe should be honored by a bust erected in the university from which he was expelled. It has been shown again and again that Poe was never expelled from the University of Virginia. Mr. J. H. Ingram, the author of a well-known life of the poet, wrote to Mr. William Wertenbaker, secretary of the faculty, to inquire about Poe's conduct and standing, and that gentleman, who was librarian during Poe's residence and knew him well, replied, not from memory only, but after searching the records, that 'at no time did he fall under the censure of the faculty.' Mr. Woodbury, another biographer, says that during Poe's residence 'he did not come under the notice of the faculty, which is stated to have been at that time unusually watchful and strict.'

The Joys of Childhood.

Johnny and Tommy, who are the noisiest children in Yorkville, were playing. "Let's play on this doorstep," suggested Tommy. "No," Jimmy said, "there isn't any fun in doing that. That's an empty house. Let's go down the street and play. I know where there's a newspaper man's house. He works all night and sleeps in the daytime." And the pair of cherubs started off to the spot where the maker of thoughts for seventy million ladies and gentlemen was trying to replenish his empty think tank by the balmy sleep process.

Liked to Be Fooled.

Said Mrs. Fondmother to her son, who is unduly partial to the softer sex: "Don't you put any reliance on what the girls tell you. They are awful liars and will fool you every time." "Yes, but how nice they do it," replied the enamored youth, with a beatific smile.

THE CANAL BILL GOES THROUGH.

Senate Passes Measure By a Vote of 68 to Six.

WATER WAY IS ASSURED

Government Will Subscribe Liberally to the Enterprise.

The senate Saturday passed the Nicaragua canal bill, decided to make the anti-scalping bill the unfinished business and continued without the completion the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill. A number of amendments were made to the Nicaragua canal bill, and there were innumerable short speeches during the day. There was, however, no opposition to a vote when the time came, and a roll call on it developed only six votes in opposition to final passage.

The Nicaragua canal bill, as it passed, continues the name of the Maritime Canal Company.

It provides for the issuance of 1,000,000 shares of $100 each. The canal company is required to call in all the stock issued except that held by the Nicaragua and Costa Rican governments. The company is also required to redeem and cancel all bonds and scrip heretofore issued by the company and to satisfy all cash liabilities.

To enable the company to comply with this requirement, treasury warrants to the amount of $5,000,000 are authorized, with a proviso to the effect that only so much of the amount shall be paid as shall be required to pay the actual cash value of the rights, privileges, franchises and property at the time of the payment, the value to be determined by commissioners to be appointed by the president. This being done, the secretary of the treasury is authorized to subscribe for 95,000 shares of the company's stock for the government of the United States. The present members of the board of directors are then to resign and a board of seven is to be appointed in their stead, consisting of five on behalf of the United States, and one each on behalf of Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

The directors on behalf of the United States are to be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate.

No two of them are to be residents of any one state, and no person who has heretofore been interested in the canal company is to be appointed to this office. They are also prohibited from being interested in contracts on the canal.

Each of the directors, except the president, is to receive a salary of $5,000 per annum, and the president is to have $6,000. All traveling expenses are to be paid. Annual reports are required. There is a provision against declaring a dividend except upon the net earnings.

The company is authorized to contract for the completion of the canal within six years. The payments are restricted to $20,000,000 annually. The canal is to be large enough "for the use of the largest sea-going vessels at a cost not to exceed the estimate of the engineers, and not to exceed $115,000,000." This amount is made a permanent appropriation for the work to be used as occasion may require.

The bill gives the government a lien upon the property to secure the repayment of the moneys advanced, and the president is empowered to declare forfeiture of the property to the United States without the necessity of judicial or other ascertainment. Thereafter a full title is to rest in the government of the United States. The president is also authorized to secure any change in or modification of the terms of the concession, either from the concessionaires or from Nicaragua and Costa Rica. In case of failure in such negotiations the president is also empowered to negotiate for another route across the isthmus.

He is further requested to open negotiations for the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty or any other treaty found to be in existence and standing in the way of construction.

The neutrality of the canal is granted, but the right to protect it against the interruptions of business between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of the United States is reserved.

EXCITEMENT IN CAROLINA.

Editor Gonzales Accuses Governor Ellerbe of Lying.

A dispatch from Edgefield, S. C., says that the state is stirred up over the charge of lying made by Mr. U. G. Gonzales, editor of "The State," against Governor Ellerbe.

Some of the county papers are demanding that Ellerbe be impeached. They say that in order to get the support of "The State" newspaper Ellerbe agreed to make certain recommendations to the general assembly now in session, and that after making this promise the governor refused to deliver the goods.

QUAY IS STILL SHORT.

Deadlock In Pennsylvania Legislature Not Yet Broken.

A dispatch of Friday from Harrisburg, Pa., says: Senator Quay is still thirteen votes short of election. There were 210 votes polled Friday, and of these the senator received 93. There has been no break in the lines of the anti-Quay republicans or the democrats.

There were forty-two absentees at the session.

GERMANY NOT RESPONSIBLE.

Kaiser's Representatives In Samoa Went Beyond Instructions.

A Washington special of Sunday says: It can be stated authoritatively that if the published reports of the events at Apia are true the acts of the German consul, Rose, and of the president of the municipal council, Raffel, were not the results of instructions from the German government, and so far as those acts were violative of the treaty of Berlin, it is not believed at the state department that they will receive the approval of the German government.

While the situation is regarded officially as requiring delicate treatment, one of the parties to the exchanges that are taking place is authority for the opinion that it will certainly yield to calm discussion, and that a satisfactory understanding will be the outcome. This is presuming that the matter can be handled entirely by the governments of the three countries, either through their foreign offices or their ambassadors.

The danger apprehended is the irresponsible action of some minor official away off in Somoa, beyond the immediate control of the authorities at Berlin, Washington and London. So far as the last reports indicate, the issue between the German representatives and the American and British representatives in Samoa had certainly not developed beyond a point where it could be readily adjusted upon a mere statement of the actual facts, for it is still believed that all the parties to the treaty are willing to live up to its provisions, which of course would involve a readiness to disavow any improper action on the part of their respective agents, and even go further and undo so much of the mischief already done by them as it might be possible to reach.

Assuming that tha trouble at Apia has passed its acute stage and that it will be adjusted satisfactorily by such measures as are required, there will remain for treatment in the immediate future the treaty relation of the three powers relative to Samoa.

CLARKE AGREES WITH DALY.

Chemist Gives Interesting Testimony Before the War Board.

A Washington dispatch says: Professor F. F. Clarke, chemist of the United States geological survey, reported to the war investigating commission Saturday that he had tested the powder furnished by Surgeon Daly as being the residium from boiling down of a portion of the condemned beef of the Panama, and which disclosed the presence of both boracic and salicylic acids.

Professor Clarke took the witness stand and said he could say nothing of the origin of the materials tested nor could he state the probable amount of chemical agents used that would be extracted in making tea from the beef without more material and longer time.

When asked as to the effect on health of using beef injected with the boracic acid, witness said it would be relatively harmless, but that the use of salicylic acid would be different, and was prohibited by most European countries.

MILLER LANDS TROOPS.

Transports Are Unloaded Within Three Miles of Iloilo.

A special to the New York World from Washington says:

General Miller's expedition has landed on Guimaris Island, three miles from Iloilo, without opposition, so General Otis cables from Manila.

The landing was necessary because of the crowded condition of the troops on the transports. Experience has proved that soldiers lose spirit and fighting qualities when confined long on board ship, so the war department asked General Otis to ascertain if it were possible for General Miller to land his expedition near Iloilo. He cabled that it was and was instructed to order a landing.

It was deemed inadvisable to have this expedition return to Manila without having landed because it was feared the natives on Luzon would think the Filipinos at Iloilo had repulsed the Americans. The president's policy of pacification will be continued and no attempt to land at Iloilo will be made at present.

The island on which the men have landed is healthy and has an abundance of water.

NELSON ON EXPANSION.

The senate was in session for five hours and a half Friday, but the session was practically barren of results.

Mr. Nelson, republican, of Minnesota, spoke in opposition to Mr. Vest's anti-expansion resolution. His address was a constitutional argument in support of the right of the United States government to acquire territory

He maintained that it was no longer an unsettled question that this country had the power, not only to acquire foreign territory by discovery and conquest or treaty, but also to govern territory so acquired.

WILL SUCCEED EAGAN.

Col. Weston to Be Made Commissary General of the Army.

A dispatch to The New York Herald from Washington says:

Whatever may be the outcome of the Eagan courtmartial, it may be confidently stated that Eagan's career as commissary general of the army is ended. His successor, Colonel John F. Weston, has already been selected. Orders have been telegraphed him at New York directing him to report for duty at once to the secretary of war.

YACHT WRECKED BY EXPLOSION.

Fate of Passengers On the "Paul Jones" Not Definitely Known.

PIECES OF BOAT FOUND.

A special from Biloxi, Miss., says: The fate of the missing yacht Paul Jones, which left New Orleans on the 3d of January for Pensacola, has at last been solved, positive news of the yacht and her ill-fated crew being received Friday at Biloxi from two sources.

Joseph Brinkman, Louisville.

Miss Florence Taggart, daughter of Mayor Taggart, Indianapolis.

Colonel Harry C. Yocum, St. Louis.

Miss Florence Yocum, St. Louis, his daughter.

The crew consisted of three men, whose names are unknown.

The United States lighthouse tender, Pansy, Captain Fields, which had been engaged for the past three days in the search of the missing party, arrived in Biloxi Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock and brought the intelligence that the wreckage of the yacht had been found during the morning on Breton island, eighteen miles from Pass a l'Outre.

The report brought by the mate and a sailor on the Pansy leaves no doubt as to the fate of the yacht and of those on board. The mate says the wreckage was scattered all over the island, and among other things picked up were the foremast of the vessel, a plank bearing the name "Paul Jones," a mirror, a table, new tires of a bicycle, a yawl with bow crushed in, and several other minor articles.

From the description of the wreck, it is clearly evident that the yatch was destroyed by exploding, as otherwise the vessel would not have gone to pieces so completely.

Had not an explosion occurred, and the vessel gone to pieces immediately, it is more than probable that some, if not all, of those on board would have made their way ashore safely.

No Trace of Passengers.

No trace of any of the missing persons was discovered, although a diligent search was made. It is possible, however, though barely probable, that some may have made their way to the almost impenetrable marsh land.

The Pansy was met on her return trip by the steamer tug Maud, which had on board Mayor Taggert, of Indianapolis, whose daughter was on board the yacht, and Mr. Jones, the owner of the vessel, to whom were related the story of the disaster.

Information brought by the Pansy is confirmed by oyster fishermen, who have just arrived and who have known of it for more than a week. The launch exploded, they say, on or about January 6th near Bird island, and everything goes to show that all on board were killed at once or drowned soon after.

The boat was operated by a gasoline engine and it is now recalled that she met with several accidents from fire on her way down the river. It is regarded as certain that the engine exploded, but from what cause will probably never be known. The force was such that it not only blew off the pilot house, but split the yacht in two.

The launch, which was owned by Lawrence Jones, a Louisville distiller, was loaned to him by Mr. Yocum and left Louisville December 8th for a trip to Florida. She left New Orleans for Pensacola January 3d.

BARR REPORTS FOR DUTY.

Judge Advocate General Ready For the Carter Case.

Colonel Thomas F. Barr, deputy judge advocate general, has reported to the war department for duty in connection with considering the long pending case of Captain Carter, corps of engineers, courtmartialed for irregularities in the government was near Savannah.

OREGON NOT TURNED.

Battleship Will Proceed to Manila and Not to Samoa.

A Washington dispatch says: The Oregon is not going to Samoa, but will go straight ahead to Manila after taking coal at Honolulu, according to the officials at the navy department.

The dispatch of the ocean-going tug Iroquois from San Francisco to Honolulu was not inspired by the desire to change the Oregon's orders, for, as a matter of fact, the navy department arranged two months ago to put the Iroquois to use as a dispatch boat between San Francisco and Honolulu pending the laying of a cable, and this trip was projected at that time.

FITZ'S MONEY COVERED.

Managers of Corbett and Jeffries Put Up the Cash.

A New York dispatch says: The managers of Jim Jeffries and Jim Corbett have covered the $2,500 which Fitzsimmons put up in this city for Sharkey to cover. It is understood that two weeks will be given Sharkey to cover the amount before Fitzsimmons says anything about fighting with either Jeffries or Corbett. Corbett says he is willing to go to a finish with Fitzsimmons.

CUBAN BANK IS "N. G."

Gen. Brooke Will Ask Department to Make a Change.

Advices from Havana state that Major General Brooke, the governor general, has made recommendations to Washington, it is understood, against the collection of taxes by Banco Espanolo in Cuba, and he has given attention to the matter of taxes due since January 1st. This question of collection of back taxes by the Spanish bank is daily gaining in importance on account of the opposition the proposal has caused.

The bank is distrusted and disliked by the Cubans because for generations the institution was Spain's agent in forcing the collection of odious taxes and because of its part in the juggling of Spanish credit during the war period. Taxes otherwise reasonable would be reluctantly paid to Spanish tax gatherers. The system would be too much of a reminder of former times, as the bank was distinctly a part of Spain's colonial system.

The bank's refusal Thursday to honor its promissory notes is considered to amount to repudiation and all this tends to increase the general distrust of the bank and dissatisfaction with the tax collection proposal.

The military administration has received many protesting telegrams from the interior of the island and many protesting petitions against the measure by the municipal council and other civil authorities, as well as the patriotic league and clubs, which will be laid on Sunday before the governor general. Cubans generally are called upon to take what dissuading action is possible that day by a demonstration with flags and banners.

The bank has taken no action toward making collections and will not proceed until the governing general issues a decree to that effect.

Major General John C. Bates, military commander of the department of Santa Clara, has arrived from Cienfuegos to discuss with General Brooke the affairs of his department. He reports that there are 25,000 Spanish troops still at Cienfuegos, though the transports are now leaving daily. General Bates will be heartily glad to see the last Spanish soldier leave there as the city is frightfully dirty. The Spaniards, however, are very well behaved.

Governor General Brooke purposes to confer with all the governors of departments so that all may act on the same lines of policy.

FOR RIVERS AND HARBORS.

Bill Is Completed and Appropriates Over $12,000,000.

A Washington dispatch says: The river and harbor bill was completed Friday night. It carries appropriations for the ensuing fiscal year aggregating $12,500,138, and in addition to this continuing contracts are authorized aggregating $16,791,533.

Other conditional appropriations, contingent upon securing certain results, amount to $770,000, but the payments on these would probably be postponed beyond the ensuing year.

The appropriations above $50,000 for harbors in southern states are as follows, the contract amount in each case being in addition to the amount allowed for the ensuing year:

Georgia—Brunswick harbor, $320,000 conditional on depth; Savannah, $50,000; Duboy bar, $70,000; Chattahoochee river, $45,000; Ocmulgee river, $20,000, and continuing contracts, $136,000; Savannah river between Augusta and Savannah, $25,000, and continuing contract, $245,000.

Alabama—Mobile harbor, $100,000, and continuing contract, $500,000; Alabama river, $50,000; Black Warrior river from Tuscaloosa to Daniels creek, $50,000, and continuing contract, $140,000; Warrior and Tombigbee river from mouth to Demopolis, $50,000.

Tennessee—Cumberland river above Nashville, $500,000; below Nashville, $100,000; Tennessee river below Chattanooga, $135,000.

WOOD SAYS FAREWELL.

General Leaves National Capital to Resume His Duties In Cuba.

Major General Leonard Wood called at the war department Friday to say Farewell prior to his departure for Cuba. The General goes to Miami, Fla., by rail. He will go thence by boat to Havana, and will have full conference with General Brooke, in charge of the island of Cuba, before proceeding to his post at Santiago.

DISPATCHES WERE UNIFORM.

Official Reports From Samoa Same as Those of Associated Press.

A cable dispatch from Berlin says: The foreign office informs the correspondent of the Associated Press that the official reports received from Samoa by the government tally with those received by the Associated Press. In any event, Germany will not support any possible irregularity inconsistent with the treaty, but the foreign office officials point out that it is not yet clear that the German consul at Apia has been guilty of any irregularities of that nature. On the contrary, the foreign office insists it still remains to be explained why Mataafe's election was declared invalid.

A PRESENT TO SCHLEY.

Rear Admiral Schley was presented with a jeweled sword Friday by his brother members of the Royal Arcanum at Carnegie Music hall, New York, in the presence of 4,000 persons.

After receiving the sword, with a graceful speech Admiral Schley buckled it to his side and shook hands with about 3,000 men, women and children.

OPPOSITION TO TREATY

Will Necessitate the Calling of an Extra Sussion of Congress.

THERE IS LITTLE HOPE OF RATIFICATION

President McKinley has almost abandoned all hope of being able to avoid an extra session. If he has to call the senate in session to ratify the treaty, he will call both houses in order that other important business may be transacted. The opponents to the treaty have offered to let a vote be taken, but Senator Davis replied that as long as there was any doubt whatever he would not agree to a vote. The opposition claim to have the names of thirty-seven senators who will vote against the treaty, and is said to have furnished them to the leaders on the other side. The administration is perplexed over the situation, but not despairing of securing the treaty's ratification at this congress; but the prospects are not so bright as to prevent the administration from making its preparations for an extra session.

The army people are rather hopeful that the treaty will be delayed until the Fifty-sixth congress. There is now no chance that the army bill will get through at this session, and should the treaty be ratified then the reorganization scheme would have to go over until next December. In fact, there is so much to be done that there is not enough time by two months in which to do it. There is every reason why the opponents should be anxious to prevent ratification now. Had the treaty been sent in early in December, and could a vote have been taken then, there would have been no doubt whatever of its ratification. The delay has certainly weakened the friends of the treaty and strengthened the opposition. The latter go so far as to claim now that if the vote could be delayed several months more the administration could be forced into an acceptance of an amendment putting the Philippines on the same footing with Cuba in respect to the government.

The opposition is reinforced from directions that the administration hardly expected it. The army is not overjoyful about annexing the Philippines. There is possibly no more selfish body in the world than the army. It has not been educated up to the idea of holding colonial possessions.

THE NEW JUDGESHIP.

The Fight Over the Rich Plum a Formidable One.

WASHINGTON.—The president Monday signed the bill giving an additional judgeship to the Fifth United States circuit court. He saw none of the applicants, but will take up the matter of the appointment Tuesday. The fight over the rich plum will be a formidable one. At the beginning of the fight the race seems to be largely between Ex-Mayor Glenn, of Atlanta, and General D. D. Shelby, of Huntsville. Mr. Glenn has the endorsement of the solid delegation from Georgia, and General Shelby has the Alabama delegation as a unit back of him, in case the president decides not to appoint a democrat. There are a number of other candidates in the field, but these two are the most prominent.

THIRTY MILLIONS

Said to Represent the Winter's Output of Gold in the Klondyke.

P. H. Hebbe, who is part owner of forty Klondyke claims, has arrived at Tacoma, Wash., from Dawson. He brings news that Dominion creek has just jumped into prominence as the producer of a first rank, excelling Bonanza and equalling Eldorado. Its claims are not as rich as a limited number of Eldorado, but its length is greater. Dominion and Eldorado together will produce from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 at the spring clean up. A conservative estimate puts the winter output at the Klondyke at $30,000,000, doubling the output of last winter.

Y. M. C. A. Building Damaged at Selma

Fire was discovered in a storeroom on the ground floor of the Young Men's Christian Association building at Selma Sunday morning, and the building was only saved from destruction by the prompt and heroic work of volunteer firemen. The reading room and parlor were badly damaged and the library destroyed. The building is a three-story brick structure, the property of the association. Their loss will probably reach $5,000, fully covered by insurance.

Spanish Governor Murdered.

The steamer Labuan, which has just returned from the island of Palawan, in the southwestern portion or the Philippine archipelago, reports the Spanish governor of the island and a number of Spanish officers were murdered by the natives while coming from church. The natives then retired to the hills, taking the women, children and some men as prisoners.

Zinc Combine.

The American Zinc company, with a capital of $5,000,000, has been organized, with J. O. Rodgers, of Toledo, O., as the leading spirit. All the leading zinc manufacturers are in the deal.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Monday.

THE SENATE.—She senate held no session for the transaction of business today. When the body convened at 12 o'clock it proceeded at once, in accordance with the resolution adopted on Saturday last, to the hall of the house of representatives to attend as a body the obsequies of the late Representative Nelson Dingley. At 1 o'clock the senate returned to its chamber. After the reading of the journal Mr. Proctor (Vermont) presented the credentials of Jonathan Ross, appointed by Governor Edward C. Smith, of Vermont, to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Justin S. Morrill. The oath of office was administered by Vice-President Hobart.

THE HOUSE.—The following bills were introduced in the house today: By Mr. Doliver, of Iowa, to redeem outstanding 4 per cent certificates on deposit issued under authority of the act of February 26, 1879. By Mr. Butler, of Pennsylvania, to reimburse petty officers and men who enlisted in the navy for one year during the war with Spain for necessary clothing, etc., paid for by themselves.

Tuesday.

THE SENATE—Almost the entire session of the senate today was devoted to the consideration of the pending Nicaragua canal bill. Speeches were made in support of the measure by Mr. Chilton, of Texas, and Mr. Turner, of Washington, and in opposition to it by Mr. Spooner, of Wisconsin. At 3 o'clock consideration of the bill under the fifteen-minute rule was begun and was continued to the close of the session. The first vote reached was on an amendment offered by Mr. Rawlins, of Utah, which, in brief, provided that the United States should have absolute control of the canal for military and naval purposes, with power to dictate the use of the waterway during the existence of war. The friends of the pending bill rallied against the amendment and it was defeated by the decisive vote of 38 to 9. A provision was inserted in the bill providing that no more than $5,000,000 should be paid the Maritime Canal company for its concession and work already done on the canal. When adjournment was taken the substitute measure offered by Mr. Caffery was before the senate.

THE HOUSE.—The house today passed the naval personnel bill without division on the final passage, thus accomplishing what the officers of the navy have striven for during more than a decade. By its provisions the line and the engineer corps are welded into an amalgamated line, staff officers are given positive rank, but their command is limited to their own corps, and a system of voluntary and compulsory retirement on three-quarters pay of the next higher rank of forty officers a year is established, which is designed to remove the congestion in the lowest rank at forty-five. The bill also practically equalizes their pay with that of army officers. Three important amendments were adopted, one creates a judge advocates corps, another abolishes prize money, and a third provides for the retirement on three-quarters pay of enlisted men and petty officers in the navy after thirty year's service. But the most important change in the bill as reported was the adoption, after a hard fight, of a substitute for the organization of the marine corps, by which the corps is to consist of 6,000 enlisted men and petty officers with general officers and staff. This will increase the marine corps by 1,300 men, and increase the cost of its maintenance $1,500,000. Several unimportant bills were passed by unanimous consent before the personnel bill was taken up.

Wednesday.

THE SENATE.—The feature of today's session of the senate was a speech delivered by Mr. Bacon (dem.), of Georgia, in support of his resolution declaring that the United States would not assume sovereignty over the Philippine Islands. Mr. Bacon is one of the orators of the senate, and as he gave himself free rein, not confining himself to notes, he spoke strongly and effectively. His peroration, in which he pictured the horrors of some of England's methods of controlling her colonial subjects, was a beautiful and forceful bit of word painting. Following Mr. Bacon's speech, the Nicaragua canal bill was taken up, and remained under discussion until 6 o'clock. Amendment after amendment was voted down, and until almost the last minute it seemed likely that a vote on the measure would be reached this evening; but just as a final vote was about to be called for Mr. Allison (rep.), of Iowa, exploded a bomb under the bill by offering an amendment providing that the secretary of the treasury should issue bonds to raise money with which to construct the canal. The friends of the measure then consented to an adjournment.

THE HOUSE.—The committee on interstate and foreign commerce had the right of way in the house today and succeeded in passing quite a number of bills of minor importance. Then the bill to grant the Pacific Cable company a subsidy of $100,000 a year for twenty years for the construction and operation of a cable was called up and a very spirited debate followed. No conclusion was reached at the hour of adjournment.

Thursday.

THE SENATE.—The senate listened further today to discussion of the policy of expansion. Mr. Turner (pop.), of Washington, delivered a speech on the Vest resolution, in which he took issue with Senator Foraker upon his recent utterances. At the conclusion of Mr. Turner's argument, Mr. Foraker took some sharp exceptions to statements made in the speech, especially those referring to him personally. He explained at length the nature of his statements, declaring, among other things, that he had spoken only for himself and had no intention or desire to pose as the representative of the administration so far as his utterances were concerned. The Nicaragua canal bill was under consideration nearly three hours. After much debate a substitute presented by Mr. Morgan for the bond amendment offered by Mr. Allison was adopted. It provides that the secretary of the treasury should not pay out for work on the canal more than $20,000,000 during any fiscal year. As there was little prospect of completing the bill today, the senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE—The house today practically decided the Brown-Swanson contested election case from the Fifth Virginia district in favor of Mr. Swanson, a democrat, by declining to consider the case. The postoffice appropriation bill was then taken up. The greatest surprise of the day was the adoption of two amendments striking out of the bill the appropriation of $171,000 for the fast Southern mail and $25,000 for special mail facilities between Kansas City and Newton, Kas. This appropriation for the Southern mail has been fought annually for six or seven years, but has always been retained. The increase in the appropriation for the pneumatic tube service from $225,000 to $300,000 was knocked out by the elimination of the provision which fell under a point of order, for the repeal of the law against the extension of this service. The house adjourned with a motion to recommit it pending. The motion carried instructions to strike out the words "newly acquired territory" in connection with an appropriation of $300,000 for mail facilities in Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippines. Senate bills were passed authorizing the Arkansas & Choctaw railroad company to construct a railroad through the Choctaw and Chickasaw nation, in Indian Territory, and authorizing the Georgia & Alabama railroad company to construct a bridge across the Savannah river from the mainland to Hutchinson Island.

Friday.

THE SENATE.—The senate was in session for five hours and a half today, but the session was practically barren of results. Only one notable speech was delivered, that by Mr. Nelson, republican, of Minnesota, in opposition to Mr. Vest's anti-expansion resolution. The completion of the Nicaraguan canal bill was prevented probably by the filibustering tactics adopted by Mr. Tillman, of South Carolina, who frankly announced that the bill could not be passed today, as he and other senators if necessary would remain in the chamber until midnight to prevent a final vote. After much discussion over several amendments the bill went over. A message from the president vetoing the bill for the relief of Albert E. Redstone was read. Mr. Caffery, of Louisiana, offered a concurrent resolution calling upon the president to furnish the senate copies of any communications received by the state department from representatives of the so-called Philippine republic, and other information regarding the islands. A house joint resolution wass passed re-appointing James D. Angell, of Michigan, as one of the regents of the Smithsonian Institute.

THE HOUSE.—The proceedings in the house were enlivened today by a wordy duel between Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, and Mr. Lewis, of Washington. During the debate on a private bill to refer to the court of claims the claim of Cramp & Sons, the Philadelphia ship builders, for damages from the government for delays incident to the building of the warships New York, Massachusetts, Indiana and Columbia, due to the failure of the government to deliver armor plate and other material for these ships on time, Mr. Lewis got the floor. Mr. Lewis made the bill the text for a general attack on army and navy contractors, whom he charged with being traitors for taking advantage of the necessities of the government in time of stress. Mr. Simpson, the Kansas populist, followed along the same lines and Mr. Grosvenor undertook to rebuke them both, Mr. Lewis, in his reply, made one of the wittiest speeches, ridiculing the Ohioan for his alleged pretensions, that has been heard in the house for months. The Cramp bill was edged out of the way after the flow of oratory ceased.

Earlier in the day the postoffice appropriation bill was passed, and just before the recess Speaker Reed put an end to the speculation regarding the chairmanship of the ways and means committee by appointing Mr. Payne, republican, of New York, to the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Dingley. This carries with it the floor leadership of the majority. At the same time he filled the vacancies in the minority representation on the ways and means committee caused by the retirement of Mr. McMillin by appointing Mr. Richardson, of Tennessee, to both places. A night session was held for pension legislation. This was the first night session for pension legislation. There was no objection and bills were passed with great dispatch. In all exactly fifty, most of them senate bills, were passed. At 10:30 the house adjourned until Monday.

Cession of Philippines.

The Spanish cabinet has decided to submit a bill to the cortes sanctioning the cession of the Philippines before presenting the peace treaty for ratification.

THE CHRONICLE

F. W. GIST, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Entered in the post-office at Columbiana Ala., as second class matter.

WHY WE ARE UNEDUCATED.

We have often wondered why so many of our people are uneducated, especially in these late days of progress along lines of increasing knowledge. We have recently discovered one of the causes. Two weeks ago we published a form of petition to the legislature of Alabama in behalf of certain bills now pending which have for their object three very essential things—a provision for a six months' term of the common schools, the selecting of more competent teachers and of more competent superintendents of education. We requested a petition to be circulated in each precinct in the county and offered to forward them to the proper source at Montgomery. The result so far has been that we have one petition—from Harpersville—and have one at this place with twelve names on it. The young lady who has it in charge here informs us that many people actually refuse to sign it.

Now here are two conditions actually opposing the education of the masses—one passive and the other active. One class of people are too indifferent to circulate a petition and another actually opposed to providing a beneficial change in the common school system of the State. It is hard to tell which is deserving of the more censure.

Those people who are too indifferent to the welfare of the rising generation to even circulate a petition in their behalf are to be pitied, or rather their posterity are to be pitied. The class who openly oppose public education on the ground of increasing taxation are more to be pitied. The cooperatives and non-residents pay at least 75 per cent of the taxes of the county, while the resident merchants and business men pay not less than 15 per cent, so that the farmer and laboring men pay but 10 per cent of the tax. Those perhaps furnish 75 per cent of the school patronage. Thus would a slight increase in their taxes be met by a tenfold advantage from other sources to their children.

Those few who oppose these necessary changes in the educational system on political grounds are too far down in the scale to be noticed. Under such conditions as these we think it a duty which the State owes to its children to force their parents to support a compulsory system. If the people have not the interest of their children at heart they ought to be forced to a sense of their neglect.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL BILL.

The Senate has passed the bill which our senior Senator has had under his charge for so long. The Age-Herald in the article reprinted below gives a concise idea of the details of the measure which means so much to Southern interests:

Senator Morgan won a great victory when he succeeded in passing his Nicaraguan canal bill by an almost unanimous vote in the Senate. The six opposition votes were cast by Messrs. Bate, Caffery, Cockrell, Martin, Mantle and Smith. The three first named are from the Mississippi valley, a valley that will be more largely benefited by the construction of a canal than any other section. Mr. Martin is a railroad Senator for Virginia, Mr. Mantle represents a State in the Rocky mountains, and Mr. Smith, of New Jersey, is a Senator who has but a few more days to serve.

The bill was amended in several particulars but in every case the amendments were accepted by Senator Morgan and the bill goes to the house in very satisfactory shape. It ignores altogether the impudent Grace-Eyre-Cragin concession, and retains the name of the Maritime Canal Company; but the name of the latter is about all that is retained. The outstanding stock of the Maritime Company is to be called in, and then the three stockholders will be the United States, Nicaragua and Costa Rica—The United States holding 925,000 shares, and the Central American Republics 75,000 shares between them. The Maritime Company will then build the canal, under the guidance of seven directors selected by the United States, in six years. Let us hope Senator Morgan will live to sail through it. The Age-Herald believes he will.

The Maritime Company may receive $5,000,000 for its rights, but this is dependent upon the value of such rights. The cost of the canal will be advanced by the United States at the rate of twenty-millions a year, up to $115,000,000. And the canal must be deep enough and big enough to float the largest sea-going vessels. The Government can take possession of the canal at any time; it can suspend payments of advance money at anytime, and it is not bound at the outset to accept the Maritime Company's scheme. It may go elsewhere. It may buy the Panama Canal.

The bill is eminently conservative and yet it looks to the construction of a canal without unnecessary delay. The people want a canal. There is no opposition to the building of such a canal except of the most selfish nature. The trans-continental railroads do not fancy such a work, and there are a few mossbacks who want all improvements made in their own neighborhood. The American people want an inter-oceanic canal, and the Morgan bill meets public expectation, and satisfies all reasonable interests. It is a great triumph of big legislation—of legislation that is world-molding. It meets every contingency, and will be an enduring memorial to the patience and rare ability of Alabama's senior Senator.

THE bill for a county court for Shelby County conforms to our idea of what the judicial system of the State ought to be, and we think it will be a good thing for the county and for the people. We hope it will pass. Whether the entire system is to be placed upon that basis, we hope to see our county enjoying the advantages of speedy trials and local administration of law which this measure will give. We stand upon our proposition that circuit and chancery courts have outlived their day, and that the regime of the traveling judge is out of date. Personal consideration may cause some to oppose it, but we think none will oppose the general principle involved.

FROM MONTGOMERY.

[Editorial Correspondence.]

MONTGOMERY, January 25.—The dispensary bill passed the Senate today with 21 counties excepted, among which was Shelby, taken out by Senator Deans on the ground, as he claims, that he had an enormous petition asking him to do so. I have not seen the petition, but am inclined to the opinion that it is confined to the town of Calera and to the whisky element. If the people of Shelby want the county put back in the bill they will have to send a big petition down to our representative, asking directly to have the county put back.

The bill was amended so that any town may have a dispensary that wants it, and this destroys the only objection which anyone could justly find to the measure. Senator Cunningham made a fine speech for the bill and put Jefferson County back in the bill.

The bill for the Shelby County court was introduced to-day. Circuit Court Solicitor Coleman is on the ground to fight the measure for the reason that it may result in a reduction of his salary in the future. It doesn't strike one as a very tenable position for a man to seek to control the local affairs of a county when they interfere with his private interests. There seems to be little opposition from any other source, and the friends of the measure will make it a party fight.

Bills will be introduced to abolish the school districts of Columbiana and Wilsonville, but they will be fought by the people of those places who favor good schools. The railroad interests will be thrown in favor of these bills.

President Reynolds, of the Montevallo School, is here in the interest of his school.

Several Shelby County people are here looking after the court bill and other local interests.

F. W. G.

A POPULIST paper, speaking of the constitutional convention, inquires:

Why not delegate Governor Johnston, Gen. John T. Morgan and Senator Pettus with the power to change the constitution, and save the expense of holding so costly a convention?

That is a good idea, and so far as we are concerned, we would be satisfied with a constitution of their making. But, fortunately for the squeamish ones, the Democratic party has so many good and smart men that they can elect 133 competent men without taking a single officeholder. The Populist party could not do that if it took all the officeholders it has in its ranks.

IF there was anything lacking to solidify the Republican vote in the Lower House of Congress in favor of not seating Hon. Gaston A. Robbins, the death of Aldrich's right hand man, George Mason, at the hands of Percy Clark, and the attack upon Aldrich by Robbins will most assuredly supply it.—Anniston Index.

The idea of making these two personal encounters grounds for sympathy in the present contest is too ridiculous to be suggested by the Index; and yet we think it likely that the contestant will prove himself enough of a political coward to use them for that purpose. Usually what is liking in evidence is made up in sneaking political trickery.

Kidney Complexion.

The pale, sallow, sunken-cheeked, distressed-looking people you so often meet are afflicted with kidney complexion.

They may also have indigestion, or suffer from sleeplessness, rheumatism, neuralgia, brain trouble, nervous exhaustion, and sometimes the heart acts badly.

Usually the sufferer from kidney disease does not find out what the trouble it until it is almost too late, because the first symptoms are so like mild sickness that they do not think they need a medicine or doctor until they find themselves sick in bed.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root will build up and strengthen their weak and diseased kidneys, purify their diseased, kidney-poisoned blood, clear their complexion and soon they will enjoy better health.

You can get the regular sizes at the drug store at 50 cents and $1, or you may first prove for yourself the wonderful virtues of this great discovery, Swamp Root, by sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle and a book that tells all about, both sent to you absolutely free by mail. When writing kindly mention that you read this liberal offer in THE CHRONICLE.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

By Mrs. F. W. Gist.

Alabama men, and Alabama women too, are wont to boast long and loud of the chivalry of our men, of the greatness of them. On board a train last summer we met a bright, enthusiastic little woman, who, when Hobson and his brave deed was mentioned, clapped her hands and said, "Oh! isn't he glorious? But then all the best and bravest things done on earth are done by Alabama men."

Apropos of these numerous expressions, Alabama bears an unenviable reputation in other parts of the country, especially at the National Capital, as to her elections and election frauds. This is vastly due to the disgraceful contests that have been aired in Congress. Be that as it may, the Democratic party of our State has fought hard, and so far has maintained white supremacy. And now, as our State legislature is striking long and hard for the betterment of existing laws, this ominous Burkhalter bill, providing for the opening of barrooms until within a few hours of opening the polls on election day, like a thief in the night, lurks and waits its turn to become a law. And if it does, what then may become the conditions on election days in Alabama? It is claimed by all chivalrous men that they would fight and spill their last drop of life blood for the sake and in behalf of our women and children. Now, let our legislators fight and drown into oblivion this iniquitous bill, and thereby protect her women and children from the debasement of fraudulent, drunken elections. Our women are not clamoring for woman suffrage—she ought to have it, and ought to be clamoring for it—but we aren't. Our gods of creation make our laws, and the women abide by them; or if they offend the law they go to jail or the gallows just the same as the criminal who has been voting all his life. Taxes are imposed upon our property, and we pay them and help swell the State's revenue. And as these conditions exist and will probably continue to exist, we then pray in the name of justice and humanity and for the good of every citizen of our beloved State that we have sober and honest elections. Should the Burkalter bill become a law, we can expect nothing but chaos, riot and drunkeness for future elections.

We are appalled at the fact that Booker T. Washington, the "great" negro of Tuskegee, has been invited and has accepted the invitation to address the white people of Birmingham under the auspices of the Lyceum of that place. We have on every occasion afforded us been venting our disgust over the fact that this conspicuous negro was allowed to address the National Young Men's Christian Association at Nashville last year; but now to see him creeping in to address the most intelligent white audiences in the State of Alabama, we are worse than disgusted. Booker Washington is a smart negro, and the chances are he will soon be a "smartie" one. He has so far lived an honest, upright life, and is doing great good among his race, and so far as we are concerned we are willing to let his well doing alone; and if the white people of Alabama or any part of them have gotten down so low that they must apply to a negro to deliver lectures of instruction to white assemblies, then we must say it is time for a revolution in the race problem. We shall be vastly surprised if Washington has anything but the walls to address on the evening he is booked to entertain and instruct Birmingham citizens.

The State superintendent of education thinks the chances are slim for the passage of the school and educational bills now pending in the legislature. Thus it is, love and greed for office among county superintendents must choke out the very best measures presented to our present assembly.

Fayne Strahan Moore, the Southern woman who has been confined in prison in New York for some time, has at last secured bondsmen for her release. Her counsel declares it is no longer a case of prosecution, but of persecution; and, we have no doubt, largely due to New York newspapers. They never fail to deal a stinging blow to anything in the South, from the South or akin to the South. We are in no wise upholding Fayne Moore; we know not whether she be guilty or innocent—that matter we leave with her and her God—but the New York press could have had less to say and less influence with the court in persecuting a Southern woman. We have no doubt many editors in New York are just as depraved as Fayne Moore.

Congressman-elect Roberts, the Utah polygamist, will hardly stand the shadow of a chance of being seated with an American Congress, which is the representative of a civilized and christianized country. And if he were seated he would be as completely ostracised from the refined society of Washington as was Murray or any other colored member of Congress.

We regret very much the loss by fire on Sunday night in Selma of Mrs. Greene's coffee and tea establishment. She had only a short while ago bought out the Nolen establishment, and was pushing the business with most satisfactory and flattering results; and it is hoped will soon resume business. Loss estimated at $1,000; insurance, $900.

The Saturday Telegram, of Selma, is saying more and hollering on longer to the agitation of good roads for Alabama than any paper in the State. Keep it up, Mr. Clarke, until we have better roads—lots better.

The (fake) faith doctor at Birmingham is creating a great sensation. It is to be hoped that people over the State will in no measure whatever be deluded by flaring accounts of his wonderful curative deeds. It is a sacrilige humbug, and the old doctor ought to be prosecuted just as any other fraud is punished. As to what the newspapers say, we must of course make allowances. The war is over, you know, and nothing else of particular sensational interest is on hand, and space must be filled up, and hearsays are easily written down. Let nobody be deceived by this old hypnotist or mesmeric "faith" doctor, Schlatter.

LOCAL LORE.

We hear from every available source that Miss Vioalo Maloae, who is attending the Montevallo school from this place under the auspices of the Studiosis of Montevallo, is progressing magnificently, and will in all probability graduate in dressmaking this session. 'Tis a pity that Columbiana women can't do as well as Montevallo women and educate another Shelby County girl at the next session of the Montevallo school.

***

A union protracted meeting will begin in Columbiana on the 1st Sunday in next month. The first week will be devoted to prayer service every evening. Then the meeting will move from church to church each week until a three or four weeks meeting is concluded. The services will be conducted by the local pastors of each respective church.

It is time for us all to kneel and pray when the blind tiger, drunkenness and gambling den are all in our midst, and other vices sufficient to send every soul in the town to perdition.

A few days since we were told that two drummers were discussing places that they liked and disliked to stop at in Alabama. One said Calera was the meanest, worst place he had ever been to. The other replied: "Oh, no, partner; Calera used to bear that unenviable reputation, but Columbiana is a long ways ahead of Calera now. They have all sorts of meeting-house religion up there and pretend to be a prohibition town, but our opinion is that Satan's headquarters are not far from Shelby County's court house.

***

Last Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Gist and Rev. W. I. Sinnott were the happy recipients of an invitation to dine with Rev. and Mrs. S. N. Burns. It goes without saying that we were dined sumptuously in the happiest style and passed a most delightful evening.

***

The petition at Columbiana favoring the passage of the Moody dispensary bill is being vigorously circulated by Mr. J. R. White. Let every man in the community come forward and sign at once. Petitions have also been sent out to each beat in the county, and it is hoped will be signed by everyone promptly, and forwarded at once to Representative Sturdivant at Montgomery. The bill will undoubtedly be acted upon this week, and all petitions should be sent in without a moments delay.

The fact that there is a petition in circulation in Calera against the dispensary bill is a sad spectacle in face of the facts that such a vast difference in the moral attitude and conditions of that place existed when prohibition extended there. The people to a large extent at Calera have become wreckless on the saloon question, and many of them declare there was as much drunkeness and lawlessness from blind tigers during the prohibition era, as there is now with open saloons. With all due respect to the citizens of Calera, we most emphatically contradict such assertions. It was our lot to be on the streets of Calera and in our buggy from there to our home almost every day during the prohibition period, and never once did we see a drunken, disorderly man there. And what is the spectacle now? Everyone in the county knows without further comment.

Is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State to be the best all around fertilizer for cotton and corn.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Everyone of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER. The only objection ever raised to the ALABAMA FERTILIZER was that it costs too much.

The present price is no more than that of standard fertilizers. When requested, the ALABAMA FERTILIZER will put up, without extra cost, in bags treated by the Mummia Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process, thereby insuring the per cet preservation of the bags for an indefinite time, and saving the contents from loss by waste in handling. These preserved bags when emptied and thoroughly washed will be found as good and strong as new, and equally useful for other purposes. Every person, farmer, merchant or dealer vitally interested in the economical production of good crops should advocate the use of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

Died—At his home in Vincent, Saturday evening, just as the sun was hiding behind the western hills, Rev. John Corley, aged about 80 years. He was wellknown all over the county, and, I might say adjoining counties, as a Methodist local preacher and a clever, upright, honest citizen, and his death will sadden the homes of many. He had lived in this beat near here just as far back as the writer of this sketch can remember until about two months ago, when he moved to Vincent. He raised a large family, but all of them had preceded him to the grave but one son, John S., whom he was living with at the time of his death. Mr. Corley was a true man, true to his God, true to his country, true to his church, and true to his friends. Enemies, yes, he had them, but we all have them, and no man liveth I suppose that doesn't. On local affairs, he was always found to be on the right side. He was taken sick Thursday night with the grippe, which resulted in pneumonia, and never rallied any more. He was buried here Sunday evening, Rev. T. P. Roberts conducting the burial service. To the bereaved son and grandchildren we extend our sympathies. We could say more about this good man, but probably someone with an abler pen than mine will say something later on.

Important to Mothers.

The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trade-mark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over 30 years.—Phila. Bulletin.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from the second attack of la grippe this year," says Jas. A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against ten for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" How to Prevent Pneumonia

You are perhaps aware that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of la grippe. During the epidemic of la grippe a few years ago when so many cases resulted in pneumonia, it was observed that the attack was never followed by that disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. It countetacts any tendency of a cold or la grippe to result in that dangerous disease. It is the best remedy in the world for bad colds and la grippe. Every bottle warranted. For sale by Williams Bros.

One's system, as a rule, is left in a very bad condition from la grippe, which opens the way for many other diseases, such as catarrh, pneumonia consumption. Avoid these dangerous results by taking our "Anti-Gripp."

PRAYER MEETING COMMITTEE.

A NEW COURT.

Bill to Establish County Court for Shelby.

A bill was introduced in the legislature at its opening this week, which is of much local interest. It has for its object the establishment of a county court for Shelby County, which is to have civil, criminal and equity jurisdiction. It will be on the same line as the various city courts of the State, and is patterned largely after the county court of Cleburne County, which was established two years ago, and which has given entire satisfaction. The bill is quite a lengthy one, but we give some of the provisions in substance.

The court, as stated above, is intended to have jurisdiction over criminal, civil and equity cases, and to be open at all times for the transaction of legal business. There will be four regular terms in each year, and four juries are to be drawn. A grand jury is to be drawn for the investigation of crimes, whose returns will be given a speedy trial. All writs from the court are to be returnable in twenty days, thereby insuring a speedy trial in civil and chancery cases.

A judge is provided for, who is to be appointed by the Governor within fifteen days after the approval of the act, and who is to hold office for six years. The salary is fixed at fifteen hundred dollars, and the appointee must be a citizen of Shelby County.

A solicitor is also provided for, who is to be appointed by the Governor, and thereafter elected by the legislature, whose fees shall not exceed $750 per annum.

The bill as introduced provides for the appointment by the judge of the court of a clerk and register, one or both, at the discretion of the judge. An amendment will likely be offered to this section providing for the appointment by the Governor of one person to fill both places.

The other features of the bill relate to the rules of practice in the court. The bar of the county generally favor the bill, and no serious opposition is heard of from any quarter.

The bill has been carefully drawn by Hon. W. B. Browne, and quite a number of our citizens went down to Montgomery to urge the passage of the measure.

Two other bills contingent upon this one will be introduced, one to abolish the present county court and the other to reduce the time of sitting of the circuit court.

Of course there will be some opposition to the establishment of this court, but so far it appears to be very inconsiderable. All those who have business in the courts express favor towards the idea, and it is believed the bill will pass.

Bright's disease is more dreaded by physicians than any of the serious disorders with which they have to deal, because of prompt action were taken when kidney and urinary disorders, digestive troubles first appear, much suffering and sorrow would be averted. Prickly Ash Bitters will quickly stop the spread of the disease, quiet the inflammation, heal the kidneys and bladder, strengthen and regulate the liver, and drive poisons and impurities out of the system by cleansing the bowels. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

Eugene Brasher, who left this place immediately upon the outbreak of hostilities between this country and Spain and went to Santiago as a volunteer in an immune regiment, came in yesterday on the afternoon train. He has been on the sick list for some time past, and has come home on a furlough to recuperate.

To the Public.

We are authorized to guarantee every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be as represented and if not satisfactory after two-thirds of the contents have been used, will refund the money to the purchaser. There is no better medicine made for la grippe, colds and whooping cough. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Try it. For sale by Williams Bros.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Shoaff, of Selma, will lecture at the Methodist church in the interest of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society on Monday, February 6, at 7 p. m. Dr. Shoaff is an eloquent speaker, and at one time delivered an address before the Southern University, which Bihsop Keener pronounced the finest he had ever heard at that place.

Mrs. H. H. Formby, Jackson's Gap, Ala., writes: I am 81 years old and, subject to liver complaint. I never used a medicine which benefited me like Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine. It is prompt and specific in its action and perfectly harmless. The Zeilia and Black Draught I used are not to be compared with it. I will not use them.

Columbiana has eleven mercantile establishments, four boarding houses, two shoe shops, two barber shops, three blacksmith shops and two grist mills and various other little enterprises; but it would be a very difficult matter to convince a stranger of this fact were he dependent upon the advertising columns of the city papers for his information.

To relieve mental worry, cure despondency and give refreshing sleep, use Simmons Squaw Vine Wine or Tablets.

The habeas corpas trial of Henry Falkner, implicated in the murder of Newt Howard at Gurnee last week, was concluded yesterday afternoon. Falkner was remanded to jail in default of an $800 bail, but it is thought will be able to secure bondsmen in the course of a few days. A large array of witnessess and spectators were in attendance and much damaging testimony given in, but all seem satisfied with the decision of the court.

COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION

Meets and Transacts Business.

On last Friday night, in the office of the Judge of probate, the Columbiana Commercial Association held its regular monthly meeting, at which time matters of interest to the citizens of our town were brought to the attention of this organization.

A proposition from Northern parties was considered, in which they offer to furnish as much as $5,000, if the people of Columbiana will furnish an equal amount, to establish a first-class college here. It was suggested that in event a deal is made with the people that Columbiana enter into a copartnership with them and to put in the city school building property as our plan in the new school. The city council will be the board of trustees for the college, and will have control of same.

The establishment of an institution of this character here would be a boon to our people, and we hope that the deal will be consummated. Another proposition to establish a local telephone exchange was discussed, and this with the school proposition was referred to the executive committee for action.

An effort is being made to secure connection with the long-distance telephone at Calera, which would give us direct telephone connection with New York, Boston, and nearly every other city of importance.

The executive committee is now at work on freight rates, and it is to be hoped that they will succeed in getting better rates, which would mean money in the pockets of cousumers of commodities.

If you cannot sleep, the cause is pretty sure to be the stomach. If that important organ be out of order the nerves will be too disordered to allow sleep. Simmons Liver Regulator will correct this. "I have been a great sufferer from loss of sleep and Dyspepsia. As soon as I feel the least nervous I take a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator and sleep all night."—Mrs. R. Bryant, Griswold, Ga.

Christian Endeavor Notes.

President, J. R. White; vice-president, Mrs. Armstrong; corresponding secretary, Miss Belle Huyette; recording secretary, Henry Milner; treasurer, J. W. Johnston.

The following committees were appointed:

Lookout Committee—Henry Milner, Chairman; Miss Belle Huyette, Mrs. L. C. Armstrong, Mrs. J. W. Johnston, Miss T. Hammond, J. W. Johnston, Dr. W. A. Lovett.

Prayermeeting Committee—J. R. White, Chairman; Henry Milner, Miss Belle Huyett.

Social and Music Committee—Miss Kate Huyette, Chairman; Mrs. J. R. White, Mrs. Henry Milner, Miss Ruby Looney.

The Christian Endeavorers through out the State and county will regret to hear of the sad death of our beloved brother, E. T. Witherby. Our county has lost its most earnest worker and it is with deep regret and sad hearts we realize our loss. May God sustain his loved ones in this their darkest hour of affliction.

L. C. ARMSTRONG.

Montevallo.

Mr. Charles B. West, a highly respected citizen, died at his residence near this place this morning (Monday). He was about 65 years of age, and had been confined to his home about two months. He leaves the record of a gallant Confederate soldier, a good, christian citizen, an upright magistrate; in which latter capacity he has officiated for ten or twelve years. A widow and two sons survive him.

Rev. P. L. Abernathy and bride were accorded a most hearty welcome to Montevallo Friday evening. The entire school formed in line and met them at the depot, with the faculty and many citizens. Mrs. Abernathy is directress of music in the Industrial school and a general favorite in the institution.

Drs. Graham and Wilkinson have resigned as school physicians, and have been succeeded by Dr. Jeffries, of Uniontown, who will make his future home in Montevallo.

Grip has prevailed to considerable extent in the surrounding country, but all patients are improving.

Ex-Editor T. N. Freeman has abandoned the Montevallo News and gone to pastures new.

Take Your Home Paper and... and be Happy

We call special attention to our clubbing arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing price of the two papers being only $1.50 per year, subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the claim of circulation made by The Constitution and put upa forfeit of $100 that it could be disproved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm. Mr. George P. Powell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has just been brought to a close, the reports of no newspaper in the South could compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative sailed with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and of the 120 correspondents who went to Cuba, he was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. Its special representative also accompanied the fleet in the Caribbean sea, and its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with the promptness of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manila the death of Ensign Bagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all given in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

Among the regular staff members of The Constitution are Joel Chandler Harris, Frank L. Stanton and others well known throughout the country; while among its special contributors are such men as Wallace P. Reed, Bill Arp, Sarge Plunkett, Betsy Hamilton, Dr. Talmage and others of national reputation.

The Constitution has just completed the thirtieth year of its existence, Clark Howell being the editor and Col. W. A. Hemphill its business manager. Its name is a household word in every southern state, from Virginia to Texas. It has always been in especially close touch with the agricultural masses of the South, and in having reached a circulation which carries it into 150,000 homes it has won a unique distinction which ranks it among the greatest of American weekly newspapers.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which he must get supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscribtions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them, having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every southern home.

Jungle Food and Jungle Poison.

Those who have travelled much through the damp jungles of India, such as the Terai, cannot have helped noticing the large amount of fungoid growth, both terrestrial and epiphytical, that presents itself, much of which is edible, but requires an intimate acquaintence with botany to determine between the poisonous and uninimical. What were not long since considered semi-savage races on the frontier are the best guides the uninitiated, however, can employ to distinguish the two classes. So close is the resemblance that it would be dangerous for the ignorant traveller to trust to his own unaided discrimination, and if the services of a human nomad are not available the fungi should be submitted to the equally au fait judgment of a tame monkey, a thing no traveler should be without. The animal must be very closely watched when sitting in judgment, especial notice being taken of his countenance. If the specimen is poisonous there is a decided look of disgust apparent as the creature throws it from him, but if non-poisonous it is torn into fragments, first smelled, and then transferred to the mouth, in which case one may rest perfectly satisfied that it is edible. Even though "Jocko" may not eat, in no case will our remote connections make a mistake, nor, for that matter, will an elephant, either. A spare elephant or two is also a handy thing to have among your luggage.—Indian Planters' Journal.

A Comparison.

"I've quit talking statesmanship," said the man with the sad blue eyes. "I remind myself of an accordeon."

"Because you utter discordant notes, I suppose," suggested the jocose friend.

"No. I'm too susceptible to pressure in any direction. One minute I'm an expansionist to the limit, and the next I come out flat the other way." Washington Evening Star.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

What does it do?

It causes the oil glands in the skin to become more active, making the hair soft and glossy, precisely as nature intended.

It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and thus removes one of the great causes of baldness.

It Prevents and It Cures Baldness

Ayer's Hair Vigor will surely make hair grow on bald heads, provided only there is any life remaining in the hair bulbs.

It restores color to gray or white hair. It does not do this in a moment, as will a hair dye; but in a short time the gray color of age gradually disappears and the darker color of youth takes its place.

Would you like a copy of our book on the Hair and Scalp? It is free.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor write the Doctor about it.

CURRENT NEWS IN ALABAMA.

General Assembly Reassembles.

The general assembly of Alabama reconvened Tuesday, January 24th. There are twenty-four more working days of this session, and the work that remains to be done will have to be hurried if anything is finished.

During the first half of the present session there was but one bill of especial general interest passed—the constitutional convention bill. Consequently there is a great deal of very important legislation to be considered, and the last half of the session promises to be exceedingly interesting. Some important general legislation is the general revenue bill, the appropriations bill, the Moody dispensary bill, the primary election bill and the public school question. Then there is the Mobile school question, which promises one of the liveliest fights of the session

Deal Confirmed by Stockholders.

The Addyston Pipe and Steel company at the annual meeting of stockholders in Cincinnati Friday, voted to increase its capital stock from its present $1,500,000 to $1,800,000. The original $1,500,000 is to be common stock, the $300,000 increase is to be preferred. This increase of $300,000 is to be applied to perfecting the company's pipe plant near Bessemer, Ala., which will have a capacity of 350 tons per day.

The above action confirms the news that the Addison Pipe and Steel company will build a pipe foundry near Bessemer.

Rumored Railroad Sale.

It is reported in Birmingham that the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad company has sold its railroad running from Birmingham to Pratt City to the Louisville & Nashville railroad for $1,500,000, and an agreement on the part of the purchaser to haul the Tennessee Company's coal from Pratt City mines for a term of years at cost. Neither Superintendent Newboldt, of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, nor Vice-President James Bowron, of the Tennessee company, could verify the report.

Raid on Moonshiners.

Deputy United States Marshals King and Robertson made a great raid among the moonshiners of Randolph county Friday night. They discovered and destroyed two small stills and one large one, and captured several operators. The large still had an immense rock furnace with a 200 gallon boiler and 300 gallon still. Over 3,000 gallons of beer were destroyed, together with the entire plant, which was very valuable.

Col. Randolph Dead.

Col. Bret Randolph, widely known as the most accomplished scholar in Alabama, and prominent in state affairs for many years, died in Birmingham Saturday of cancer of the throat, after a long illness. Deceased was a member of the famous Randolph family of Virginia, and son of Commodore Lee Randolph, of the United States navy. He served in both branches of the Alabama legislature and was for years

Huntsville Wants an Army Post.

A meeting of citizens was held in the Farmers' and Merchants' National bank at Huntsville Saturday and steps were taken to secure a permanent military post for that city. It was decided to raise about $1,000 by popular subscription to send a committee to Washington and have it stay there a month, or until its purpose is accomplished.

Postmasters Appointed.

The following fourth-class postmasters were appointed for Alabama Saturday: Goodman, Coffee county, John W. Carroll; Nellie, Wilcox county, Richard M. Dickenson; Rosa, Blount county, Thomas Bowen; Snoddy, Greene county, Rufus C. Chambers; Trenton, Jackson county, Keeble T. Jones; Wofford, Lamar county, John S. Wofford; Yale, Lee county, George W. McKinnon.

Another Cotton Oil Mill.

Selma is to have a third cotton seed oil mill, and in connection with it thirty acres of stock pens for the fattening of beef cattle for western and northern markets. The concern will be known as the Central Cotton Oil company. C. W. Hooper, L. Lamar and E. Lamar are the owners.

The grand stand and buildings adjoining at the old fair grounds, three miles from Birmingham, were burned last week. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is thought to have originated through tramps sleeping in one of the buildings. The loss is probably $3,000 or $4,000. The club house and stables escaped injury.

The Fifth Cavalry Departs.

Troops M, F, I, H and C, Fifth United States cavalry, 496 men and seven officers, commanded by Major Dimmick, departed from Huntsville Saturday for Savannah, to embark for Porto Rico. The horses and field equipment were also taken.

About Smokeless Powder.

One of the secrets of the ordinance department of the government is in regard to smokeless powder, the various receipts for its manufacture, and the most effective ways of using it. For it must be known that there are various kinds of smokeless powder, each possessing its own superiority for developing pressure of velocity. One kind of smokeless powder comes in yellow strips about ten inches long. It has no smell and looks as innocent as so much brown paper. This kind is best for the six-pounders. Then there is a kind that comes in small white grains, like so much rice. There is also smokeless powder in small, perforated disks, yellow or brown, and finally, there is a kind known as cordite, in reddish-brown strings, some of them about a foot long, like shoelaces. This is used chiefly in the one-pounders.

All kinds of smokeless powder are loaded into shells and put into the guns like revolver cartridges, but at present smokeless powder is used only in guns having a calibre of six inches or less. It is probable, however, that in the future it will be used in guns of all sizes, its advantages in action being very great.

Although smokeless powder costs more per pound than ordinary brown powder, it is not really more expensive, since its efficiency is so much greater. In an 8-inch gun, for instance, there is required for one discharge, from 112 to 125 pounds of brown powder, but the same pressure and velocity will be imparted to the 250 pound projectile by only sixty pounds of smokeless powder. And in the matter of safety the smokeless powder seems to have advantages over the ordinary kind. The only question still to be solved, and the recent war points to a favorable solution, is whether smokeless powder will keep all its good qualities and effectiveness in the face of sudden changes from heat to cold, or vice versa.

MRS. PINKHAM'S ADVICE.

What Mrs. Nell Hurst has to Say About It.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I wrote to you I had not been well for five years; had doctored all the time but got no better. I had womb trouble very bad. My womb pressed backward, causing piles. I was in such misery I could scarcely walk across the floor. Menstruation was irregular and too profuse, was also troubled with leucorrhœa. I had given up all hopes of getting well; everybody thought I had consumption. After taking five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,

I felt very much better and was able to do nearly all my own work. I continued the use of your medicine, and feel that I owe my recovery to you. I cannot thank you enough for your advice and your wonderful medicine. Any one doubting my statement may write to me and I will gladly answer all inquiries.—Mrs. NELL HURST, Deep water, Mo.

Letters like the foregoing, constantly being received, contribute not a little to the satisfaction felt by Mrs. Pinkham that her medicine and counsel are assisting women to bear their heavy burdens.

Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. All suffering women are invited to write to her for advice, which will be given without charge. It is an experienced woman's advice to women.

Strange Bust of Christ Found.

Recently the discovery in Madrid of a bust of Christ has created quite a sensation in the world of art. Collectors and dealers are puzzled to know where this masterpiece of workmanship came from, and how long it has been hidden under the dust of centuries. The bust was recently purchased by the Russian ambassador to Spain. Several experts who have examined it pronounce it to be the work of Angelo, or of Argelo, so entirely different is it from the work of modern artists. The eyes are wrought of blue rock crystal, which makes the bust strangely unique in appearance. Queen Victoria has manifested deep interest in the discovery, and has recently taken steps toward having the bust copied into marble.

Old Copper Cents.

It is estimated that there are 199,900,000 old style copper pennies somewhere. Nobody knows what has become of them, except that once in a while a single specimen turns up in change. A few years ago 4,500,000 bronze 2-cent pieces were set afloat. Three million of them are still outstanding, but are never seen. A million of 3-cent silver pieces are scattered over the United States, but it is very seldom that one comes across any of them. Of the 800,000 ½-cent pieces not one has been returned to the gov-

IVORY SOAP PASTE.

In fifteen minutes' time, with only a cake of Ivory Soap and water, you can make in your own kitchen, a better cleansing paste than you can buy.

Ivory Soap Paste will take spots from clothing; and will clean carpets, rugs, kid gloves, slippers, patent, enamel, russet leather and canvas shoes, leather belts, painted wood-work and furniture. The special value of Ivory Soap in this form arises from the fact that it can be used with a damp sponge or cloth to cleanse many articles that cannot be washed because they will not stand the free application of water.

DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING.—To one pint of boiling water add one and one-half ounces of Ivory Soap cut into shavings, boil five minutes after the Soap is thoroughly dissolved. Remove from the fire, and cool in convenient dishes (not tin.) It will keep well in an air-tight glass jar.

CURES BY B. B. B. IN ALABAMA.

The following testimonials prove all we say to be true, and the genuineness of the cures are vouched for by the Atlanta Constitution and Journal and by the paper in which this advertisement appears.

Terrible Deadly Cancer and Ulcer Cured by B. B. B.

"FREDONIA, ALA., Oct. 2, 1898.

"I had cancer or ulcer—the most eminent physicians pronounced it a cancer. My father, a fine physician, did not relieve my sufferings. I had two brothers, both very fine physicians; neither could relieve me. After untold sufferings with no relief, using eight or nine doctors, some kind friend sent me a bottle of B. B. B. After taking many times I have been exhausted and collapsed from weakening. I have got a great many people to take B. B. B. A lady living near me had an

and the bones in her nose or upper part of her mouth were eaten entirely out. She could eat nothing but strained soup; was cured entirely well by using B. B. B. when she was given up to die by three doctors.

"John V. Trammell, living near Lafayette, Ala., a trimmed up soldier of the Confederate army, one leg shot off, one arm cut off, an eye eaten out by cancer, takes B. B. B. for his cancer, and he says it is a very wonderful medicine in his case. He is and has been tax assessor and collector for years in Chambers county. He is just as jolly and lively as he can be."

"B. B. B. healed my whole body, gave me energy, cured my low spirits, and, I think, saved me to raise my children, or, at least, B. B. B. was the only earthly remedy, with God's help. B. B. B. is the best blood purifier in the whole world. MRS. M. L. ADAMS."

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS. Also Pains in Head and Ears. B. B. B. Cured Sound and Well.

"FREDONIA, ALA., Oct. 4, 1898.

"My father was in his 70th year, and he was attacked with severe rheumatic pains running all through his body. Also pains running through his head and ears. He suffered this way about a year, trying many remedies without success. Finally some one told him to try the B. B. B. which he did. Nine bottles cured him sound and well, and his attacks never returned. My mother is now in her 90th year. She keeps Three B's, and esteems it very highly. Respectfully

"ANDREW HADAWAY."

Blood Poison Cured in Four Months by B. B. B.

"BLOOD BALM CO., Atlanta, Ga.: I will say to you that I am taking B. B. B., and I am improving very much. I will try to describe my condition to you from the start. It has been thirteen weeks since there came a small sore on the root of my left forefinger, and in a few days it hurt in the fork of the fingers, and then came out on the top of the hand, and spread up the arm near the shoulder, and thought it blood poison, and later was up in knots from the size of buckshot to the size of a blue-bird's egg, and I had it lanced, and a thick pulp and yellow matter came out. It has never been any acute I have taken one bottle of B. B. B., and am bathing the afflicted parts once a day.

"As ever, your friend. Hoping you much success with your valuable remedy, H. F. SANDERS."

"RODNEY, ALA., April 22, 1898.

"Blood Balm Co: Gentlemen—I have thought for some time to write you a word of congratulation in regard to your wonderful B. B. B. Remedy. I was attacked with blood poison, and was about to lose my arm, and about the 15th of January I began the use of your B. B. B. Remedy, and I used four bottles and decided that I am well, and I still think that I am, and I cannot say too much for the remedy. God bless you, Sirs.

"H. F. SANDERS."

Typhoid Fever and Catarrh Cured.

Typhoid or any other fever leaves the blood in a terribly weakened condition, hence the patient is likely to be attacked with Catarrh. Many people think Catarrh is a local disease, but in reality it is a deep-seated Blood Disease, and only a strong Blood Remedy like B. B. B. permanently cures Catarrh.

"FREDONIA, ALA., Sept. 28, 1898.

"Blood Balm Co.—I was sick with something like typhoid fever for a whole year. I could scarcely eat or sleep any. First to last, I used seven prominent physicians from Georgia and Alabama. I could not see that I was scarcely any better, and I was getting very much out of heart. My aunt prevailed on me to take B. B. B. I got better rapidly after taking your celebrated medicine. Before taking B. B. B. I suffered very much with catarrh of the head. Since taking it, I have never had another attack. I think truly it is a great medicine. I have a brother and father with catarrh, and they are using B. B. B. I am now a strong and hearty girl, and feel glad that I took your medicine. Yours truly

"MISS E. V. ADAMS."

Chickens EARN Money

IF YOU GIVE THEM HELP.

You cannot do this unless you understand them and know how to cater to their requirements; and you cannot spend years and dollars learning by experience, so you must buy the knowledge acquired by others. We offer this to you for only 25 cents.

YOU WANT THEM TO PAY THEIR OWN WAY,

even if you merely keep them as a diversion. In order to handle Fowls judiciously, you must know something about them. To meet this want we are selling a book giving the experience of a practical poultry raiser for twenty-five years. It was written by a man who put all his mind, and time, and money to making a success of Chicken raising—not as a pastime, but as a business—and if you will profit by his twenty-five years' work, you can save many Chicks annually, and make your Fowls earn dollars for you. The point is, that you must be able to detect trouble in the Poultry Yard as soon as it appears, and know how to remedy it. This book will teach you.

It tells how to detect and cure disease; to feed for eggs and also for fattening; which fowls to save for breeding purposes; and everything, indeed, you should know on this subject to make it profitable. Sent postpaid for twenty-five cents in stamps.

VERDICT OF GUILTY IN EAGAN CASE.

Court, However, Puts In Recommendation For Clemency.

MAY NOW TRY GEN. MILES.

Report Current That Commander of Army Will Be Arraigned.

A Washington special says: General Eagan, commissary general of subsistence, has been found guilty of the charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, and of conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline, and of the specifications thereto and has been sentenced to dismissal from the United States army, but with a recommendation from the court for the exercise of executive clemency.

Under the regulations, the court having reached the conclusion that the accused was guilty, had no choice in selecting a penalty, the regulations prescribing the one punishment—dismissal—for the offense. Therefore, the only hope for General Eagon is in the direction of commutation, mitigation or disapproval.

Colonel Davis, the judge advocate of the courtmartial, finished his revision of the record of the court's proceeding Saturday afternoon and at once placed the papers in the hands of Secretary Alger.

This action settled at once any doubt that may have existed as to the routine to be pursued in the treatment of the case. As for Secretary Alger, as soon as he has read the record, he will place it at once with the president, who, under the law, is the final reviewing authority. It is his privilege to add to or take from the strength of the court's recommendation that clemency be shown.

The court surprised everybody by its recommendation of clemency. This is understood to have been done because of the testimony of some of Eagan's relatives and close friends indicating that his mind has become unbalanced. In view of the recommendation, the extreme penalty will doubtless be mitigated by the president when the case reaches him.

Miles May Be Next.

It is rumored in Washington that the president has under consideration a courtmartial for Major General Miles. How far the preparations to that end have gone it is impossible to say, but it comes from the highest authority that a courtmartial is imminent. This is to be based on the general's charges in the matter of the beef furnished the army and upon certain other matters for which he will be strongly criticised in the report of the war investigation committee to be handed to the president within the next few days.

It has been evident througout the hearings that the committee was bringing out a good deal of testimony against General Miles, and a report throwing blame on him for the selection of bad camps, for uncalled for statements about the beef furnished the army, and for other sins of commission and omission, is confidently expected.

It comes from high officials of the war department that the determination has been reached to order a courtmartial of the major general commanding the army, if the commission's report furnishes the ground for a courtmartial, and they believe it will.

ELEVATOR COMPANY ASSIGNS.

Heavy Judgment Forces Big Concern to the Wall.

Henry William Sebastian, president of the St. Louis Bridge and Iron company, has been appointed receiver of the Farmers' Elevator company, of that city, which made an assignment Saturday. The elevator, which is one of the largest and best in the city, has a capacity of a million and a half bushels. No figures are given to show the extent of the liabilities and assets.

The Farmers' Elevator company has a capital stock of $350,000 with a bonded indebtedness of $300,000 and a floating debt of $75,000. For some time past a heavy judgment has been hanging over the company and this with some other troubles caused the action taken.

SOLD AT AUCTION.

Materials On Board the Wrecked Maria Teresa Are Bid Off.

Advices from Nassau, N. P., state that the materials from the wrecked cruiser Infanta Maria Teresa were sold at public auction on January 19th.

They did not bring as good prices as expected, few articles being suitable for souvenirs. Most of the stuff sold was ships' stores and materials.

The two flags would have brought a high price, but the consuls withdrew them from sale by orders from the department at Washington.

THE SPANISH CORTES

Will Be Convoked In Madrid On 20th of February.

A Madrid dispatch says: The reopening of the cortes is fixed for February 20th. The government will introduce a bill providing for the payment of indemnity to Spaniards who have suffered through the cession of the Philippine islands to the United States. The members of the opposition proposed to raise a debate on the wars in Cuba and the Philippine islands. It is believed the session will be a short one.

WAR STAMPS UNNECESSARY.

So Say Attorney General of North Carolina and a Missouri Judge.

The attorney general of North Carolina has given the following opinion to a clerk of the superior court:

"It is not necessary for you to place a documentary, internal revenue stamp on a report made to this office. The state has the right to conduct its own business through its own agencies without interference, directly or indirectly, from the national government. A state is but a corporation and cannot act except through its own agencies. The federal government cannot require revenue stamps to be placed on the official bonds of state or county municipalities, though I notice the commissioner of internal revenue has made a different ruling. The power to take involves the power to destroy. Congress has no power to make tax deeds issued by the state void for the want of a stamp, nor can congress forbid the recording of an unstamped instrument under the state law."

Judge Hughes, of the Adrian county, Mo., circuit court, has decided a test case in reference to the war tax law, declaring it was not the intention of congress to require a stamp upon certificates of a judicial character, or if it was so intended, by the revenue act, then the law is unconstitutional. In the formation of the federal constitution, according to Judge Hughes, the states did not delegate to the federal government the power of taxation over officers or courts or any other machinery necessary for the support and maintenance of the local state government.

EAGAN VERDICT REACHED.

Courtmartial Proceedings At Washington Brought To a Close.

A Washington dispatch says: The case of Commissary General Charles P. Eagan, charged with conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman and with conduct tending to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, is now in the hands of the courtmartial appointed to try him.

The taking of testimony was closed Friday and arguments of counsels submitted. The trial had lasted three days and consumed less than eight hours of actual sitting. A session behind closed doors of an hour or so sufficed for the court to reach a conclusion and embody it in a report.

The verdict reached is altogether a matter of speculation and officially at least will not be made public by the trial board, military regulations requiring that its findings shall go through prescribed channels and be kept secret until action he had and promulgated by the proper reviewing authorities.

The testimony at the closing session of the court was directed largely to establishing the fact that the general had lost his mental balance as a result of the charges made against him by General Miles. His daughter and her husband told of the general's changed condition and intimated that they had great fears that he might at any time kill ahis ecuser.

CONFEDERATE GRAVES.

Amendment For Their Care Is Introduced By Pritchard.

A Washington special says: Senator Pritchard introduced in the senate Friday his amendment to the appropriation bill which is designed to be the first step toward carrying out the suggestions of the president for the care of the confederate graves. This amendment provides for an appropriation for the preliminary work. It is as follows:

"To enable the secretary of war to make a thorough examination and report to congress as to the number of confederate cemeteries in the United States and the location thereof, and the number of confederate soldiers buried in other than confederate cemeteries and the location of such cemeteries, with the view to ascertaining the best method of caring for the confederate cemeteries, and also for the removal, where practical or desirable, of confederate dead from private cemeteries to such confederate cemeteries, the sum of $10,000."

As the amendment explains on its face, it provides simply for paving the way for the work. This is probably all that will be done by the congress, but after the information has been ascertained it is fully expected that the work will go on and that the graves especially in distinctively confederate cemeteries will be cared for.

PROSPECTORS MEET DEATH.

Six Men Dead and Many Others Are Badly Frozen.

A Seattle, Wash., dispatch says: The steamer Cottage City, from Alaska, brings news that a number of Copper river prospecters perished in Valdez glacier. The following are known to have been lost:

Charles Khron, New York city; C. P. Smith, Chicago; Ole Evjen, Baldwin, Wis.; —— Henderson, Wisconsin; George Sweezey, New York.

There are six men at Valdez suffering from frozen feet and hands and face. A hospital has been established at Twelve Mile camp, on the other side of the glacier.

PILOT'S BODY FOUND.

A New Orleans dispatch says: A body found near Fort St. Philip was identified Sunday as that of Captain Sturtevant, the pilot of the launch Paul Jones.

From the position and clothing of the body it is almost certain that he was off duty and asleep at the time death came and that the boat was wrecked by an explosion.

SENATE PASSES THE PENSION BILL

Tom Platt Makes a Speech Defending the Expansion Policy.

PENSION FIGURES SHOWN

Peculiar interest was manifested in the senate Friday in a brief speech delivered by Senator T. C. Platt, of New York, on the general subject of expansion. Mr. Platt took for his text the anti-annexationist resolution offered by Mr. Vest, of Missouri, but in the course of his speech merely touched upon the constitutional question involved in the proposed declaration.

He spoke in a clear resonant voice, and not only because this was the first speech he had delivered in the senate since his return to that body, but also because the address was a thoughtful and well considered statement he was accorded the undivided attention of his colleagues on the floor and a large audience in the galleries.

Mr. Platt took strong grounds for the ratification of the treaty, holding there was nothing in the constitution to prevent the United States from acquiring foreign territory.

Pension Bill Completed.

Under the arrangement concluded Thursday evening, consideration of the pension appropriation bill was resumed, Mr. Gorman, of Maryland, desiring to submit some remarks on it.

After calling attention to the large amount carried by the measure—about $145,000,000—Mr. Gorman said that notwithstanding the fact that 17 per cent of our soldiers who had been and are still engaged in the war with Spain in tropical countries were suffering from illness that would make them proper applicants for pensions, no provision had been made in the pending measure for this increase in the pension roll. At this point Mr. Gorman was interrupted by Mr. Hale, of Maine, who said that he had been informed by a prominent officer of the army that if our troops were not removed from Cuba at the latest the entire army on the island would be down with illness.

Continuing, Mr. Gorman said that the war with Spain would swell the pension roll by at least 50,000 names if the troops were not recalled from the tropical clime by the first of next September.

"Within three years of this date," said Mr. Gorman in conclusion, "the pension roll will amount to $165,000,000 a year. If you add to that the cost of maintaining your army (a thousand dollars a man), the American public will, in the year 1900, expend more for its army and pensioners than any other nation on the face of the earth. That is a fact which the American people will have to face, and they ought to know in advance what is coming to them if the schemes and projects that are being forced upon us are carried out."

After a short debate the bill was passed, and at 2:07 o'clock the senate went into executive session and continued the consideration of the peace treaty.

At 4:50 o'clock p. m. the senate resumed business in legislative session, the order of business being eulogies of the late Representative Cooke, of Illinois.

A FEAST FOR CANNIBALS.

Twelve Shipwrecked Sailors Provide Feast For Savages.

A dispatch from Vancouver, B. C., says: After escaping death by drowning, eleven of the crew of the ship Manbare were captured and eaten by cannibals of New Guinea. The Manbare was bound for Sydney, Australia, when it was caught in the terrible gale of December. Near Cape Nelson it began to sink. The crew, eighteen all told, left the vessel in two boats and soon became separated.

One boat, containing twelve men, was finally thrown ashore ten miles from the cape. The sailors were seized by natives from the interior and hurried off to the village of the chiefs. The sailors were stripped and bound and killed, one each day.

TENNESSEE LAWMAKERS

Decide By Vote To Take a Rest of Nearly a Month.

A Nashville, Tenn., dispatch says. The senate and house adopted a resolution at Friday's session to take a recess from noon Saturday until February 21 in order to allow the committees time to make their investigations and prepare their reports.

The appointment of Messrs. Chambliss, Turner and Boyd as members of the penitentiary committee was announced.

TRIAL OF MAT QUAY

Fixed By the District Attorney For Monday, February 20.

A Philadelphia dispatch says: The district attorney has notified counsel for United States Senator Quay, his son Richard R. Quay and ex-State Treasurer Haywood that he had fixed Monday, February 20th, as the date for the trial of the three defendants on the charge of conspiracy in the misuse of the money of the state on deposit in the People's bank.

A BRYAN AND H TICKET

Would Please the New England Anti-Imperialist Reans.

A Washington dish says: The war with Spain prod surprises, but none greater than report which comes from New Eng to the effect that the democrats carry Massachusets if they place their ticket with Bryan the name enator Hoar. This proposition, anding as it seems at first, is noised on mere idle political gossip, i is put forth with sincerity and eatness by the friends of the venera senator from Massachusetts.

However far theinambers may have been separated ie past. Senator Hoar and Colonelyran are now occupying the same ical bed. In fact, the senator has in most of the cover inasmuch as hoes not advise the ratification of threaty, which Mr. Bryan does. Scor Hoar has declared that the quian of expansion is the most impant which has appeared in the hist of this country since the declarm of independence and equal, inis opinion, to that act. Mr. Bryanas uttered almost the identical cression, but at the same time he has thdrawn nothing that he has uttel in the past about free silver, inct he has reiterated his convictionn that subject.

New England, or bre accurately Massachusetts, is in fl sympathy, it is said, with its seniosenator on the subject of expansionnd has learned to be more tolerant offr. Bryan since the latter agress wi him. Those friends of the venerle senator see their only hope of deting expansion or more rightly the pcy of imperialism, in joining issuesith Bryan and shattering party lineon this issue.

They realize thatwith the senate composed as it will bfor the next six years, there is no dger of any free silver legislation, especially with Senator Hoar occupying the president's chair in the senate. With the fangs of free silver drawnthese New England men propose an predict that all anti-imperialists can unite on Hoar and Bryan and mak the question of imperialism the paamount issue of the campaign.

THE SAMOAN AFFAIR

Will Soon Be Amicably Settled, Says Ambassado White.

A cable dispatch rom Berlin, Germany, states that public opinion was focused on the Sa[illegible]n question the past week. The Un[illegible], has informed the correspondent of the Associated Press in Berlin thathe has had several meetings with the minister of foreign affairs, Baron von Bulow, and that assurances were given on both sides of a nature calculated to promote a speedy and successful solution of the question. Baron von Bulow's whole attitude tended to show that the German government means to do its full share in settling the matter fairly and amicably.

The preliminary negotiations thus far have not gone beyond mutual assurance of a desire for a friendly and equitable arrangement, and the negotiations will not take a more tangible shape until full, detailed mail reports are received from the agents of the three powers at Samoa. This will involve a delay of a month in the case of Germany, though the reports will reach the United States and Great Britain earlier. Until then no decisive steps or negotiations can be undertaken.

PORTO RICANS DISSATISFIED.

Not Opposed to Military, But Want a Civil Government.

An Associated Press dispatch from San Juan says: While the Porto Ricans do not offer the least resistance to the military administration, they make no secret of the fact that they do not desire its continuance. It is not that they object to the Americanization of the island, but they merely wish a civil government in some reasonable and practical form.

WYOMING WANTS FIGHT.

Alcova Sports Offer a Twenty Thousand Dollar Purse.

The Fremont Hot Springs Company, of Alcova, Wyo., have forwarded an offer to the managers of both Sharkey and Fitzsimmons of a purse of $20,000 for a fight to take place any time in June, July or August.

The only condition to the offer is the training shall be done at Alcova, which is a health resort in Wyoming.

FORMING AN ICE TRUST.

New Combine Will Include All Harvesters In Wisconsin and Maine.

An ice trust, to include all the big ice harvesters in the United States, is, according to The Chicago Chronicle, in process of formation.

John Field, president of the Knickerbocker Ice Company, Chicago, is said to be the active spirit in the effort to consolidate the ice companies of the country.

The proposed trust will embrace all the harvesters of the river and lake region of Maine, and those of Wisconsin, from which two states the greater part of the ice crop of the country is gathered.

FIGHTING THE INDICTMENT.

Attorneys of Mrs. George Make Motion To Quash.

A motion to quash the indictment against Mrs. Anna George for murder in the first degree in killing George D. Saxon, was filed at Canton, O., Friday. It is purely technical, and applies to all the work of the grand jury as much as to the George case.

It is in seventeen counts, each alleging irregularity in the organization of the grand jury.

ALABAMA LEGISLATURE.

Senator Grant Stricken With Apoplexy. Saturday's Proceedings of Our Law-makers.

The senate Saturday passed several local bills, and then took up the convict bill offered by Senator Cunningham. He explained the substitute, and while considering the bill Senator Isaac Grant, of Clark, dropped in his seat with a stroke of apoplexy, and the senate adjourned until Monday.

The house passed many local bills, but none of any importance.

The general assembly passed a resolution recommending to the President the appointment of Gen. Wheeler to the position of major-general in the regular army as soon as a vacancy shall occur, in recognition of his gallant services and able generalship at the battle of Santiago, by which he won the lasting gratitude of the American people.

A resolution was also adopted as follows:

"Whereas, Through the tenacious efforts and enthusiastic advocacy of that great statesman, Hon. John T. Morgan, the bill authorizing the construction of the Nicaragua canal has at last been enacted by the federal senate;

"Whereas, The construction of the Nicaragua canal will mean a grand evolution for the south and the whole world; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the general assembly of Alabama feels grateful to our distinguished senator for his superb courage and splendid energy exercised in procuring the end he has achieved and congratulate him on his brilliant attainment."

MISCONDUCT CHARGED

By Gov. Johnston Against County Commissioners—The Legislature.

Governor Johnston has sent to the general assembly the report of State Examiner of Banks Cowan, on the condition of the office of the court of commissioners of Jefferson county. He set forth thirteen specifications of alleged misconduct, carelessness and negligence in the management of the office, and recommended that the court be at once abolished and aboard of revenue substituted, the members thereof to be elected by the people at the next election. The matter promises to provoke a lively time in both houses. Senator Cunningham announced in the Senate when the message was read that he would have something to say on it later. He will, it is understood, lead the fight against it.

The senate reconsidered the dispensary bill and included Butler county in its provisions. As the bill now stands, as passed by the senate, the following counties are exempted from its operations: Dallas, Walker, Lamar, Fayette, Cullman, Winston, Madison, Montgomery, Mobile, Lawrence, Morgan, Blount, Limestone, Pickens, Tallapoosa, Coosa, Talladega, Barbour, Shelby, Lee, Lauderdale and Butler.

The general revenue bill has been reported to both houses. It is regarded as doubtful whether the dispensary bill will pass the house. A strong fight will be made against it there.

Daves Seated.

The house committee on privileges and elections Saturday reported unanimously in favor of the seating of Contestant Daves (Democrat) of Winston, and the unseating of Mr. Palmer (Republican), who has been serving that county in the Alabama assembly. The report was almost unanimously adopted.

FIVE DROWNED.

Steamer Austin Runs Upon a Rock and Sinks.

Disabled by an accident to her steering gear, during a trip up the sound, the steamer canal coat J. C. Austin, of New York, ran on the rocks of Norfolk, Conn., early Friday morning and sank. Accompanying her was the consort David B. Fisk, loaded with coal consigned to Westport. Five of the persons aboard the two boats lost their lives.

$40,000 Fire at Epes.

A fire at Epes, Greene county, Ala., Sunday, burned sixteen stores, which were all the business houses in the town except two. The blaze originated in F. Bowden's store, and is supposed to have caught fire from a stove. It was followed by the explosion of an oil tank, which spread the fire, and it burned rapidly, the entire row of buildings being destroyed, as the town was without fire apparatus. Only one of the losers, T. L. Smith, had any insurance. It amounted to $5,000. The total loss is $40,000. An immense cotton warehouse was saved.

Pritchard's Bill.

Senator Pritchard has given notice of an amendment he will offer to the sundry civil appropriation bill, appropriating $10,000 to enable the Secretary of War to gather information concerning Confederate cemeteries and as to the number of Confederate dead buried in private cemeteries.

BONDSMAN REJECTED.

"Pet" Strahan Moore Is Forced To Remain In the Toombs.

A New York dispatch says: Judge Bookstaver has refused to accept J. W. Campbell, the Harlem contractor, as bondsman for Fayne Moore, or Pet Strahan, and the prisoner is doomed to remain in the Toombs until her second trial or until some other bondsman is accepted. No date has been yet fixed for a second trial and no other bondsman has appeared.

CURRENT EVENTS IN ALABAMA.

Patriotic Resolution.

"Whereas, It is an earnest desire of the general assembly of Alabama, to have inculcated in the hearts of the the youth of our state patriotism and love and reverence for our common country, and,

"Whereas, The flag of our union is the emblem of freedom, proclaiming liberty to all who dwell beneath its starry folds.

"Therefore, Be it resolved by the house, the senate concurring, That the general assembly of Alabama recommend that the superintendent of education issue to each teacher of every public school in Alabama a letter embodying a copy of this resolution, and urging teachers to encourage the children of their schools to raise funds and purchase a United States flag that the same may wave over every public school in Alabama, and the glorious principles that it represents be imbibed from its association.

"Resolved further, That the secretary of state be and is hereby instructed to transmit an official copy of this resolution to the superintendent of education, together with the assurance and belief of the general assembly of Alabama that an era of unprecedented educational development will mark his incumbency."

The New Pipe Works.

President Daniel McLaren, of the Addyston Pipe and Steel company, is in Birmingham making final arrangements for the beginning of work for the construction of the great pipe plant of that company on its recently acquired property. Ever since Mr. McLaren purchased the property he has had surveyers and engineers engaged in finding the levels and preparing for the foundations of the plant, and that work will completed next week. After that is done the labor of building the plant will begin and will be hurried forward as rapidly as possible. The Addyston Birmingham district plant, when completed, will be one of the largest and most perfect in the United States, and will be capable of turning out 350 tons of pipe per day.

Leaped From a Trestle.

While returning to Birmingham from Blossburg on the tracks of the Southern, Mrs. Thomas Woodford and Mrs. T. Herbert, the wives of miners at Cardiff, discovered a train being backed down on them. They were just on a high trestle, and, to save themselves, it was necessary to make a desperate leap to the rough ground below. Mrs. Herbert was seriously, probably fatally, injured. Mrs. Woodford was hurt also, but not so badly as her friend.

Several Stores Burned.

Fire swept the business portion of Delta, Clay county, Friday night and destroyed all the mercantile establishments of that place, which is the center of a prosperous agricultural section. Among the stores burned were those of J. R. Fullerton, J. M. Hardy and Jerry Stevens. The loss will be several thousand dollars, and with little insurance.

OVER FIVE HUNDRED KILLED.

Terrible Destruction by Cyclone in the South Seas.

The steamer Aorangi, from Australia, brings the details of the terrible cyclones which swept the south seas about the middle of December, devastating villages, wrecking shipping and causing many deaths. Over five hundred natives are reported to have been killed. Capt. Pentecost, of the yacht St. Aubin, who brought in the news of the disaster to Sydney, says he saved a woman who was to have been killed as a sorceress, she being accused of having caused the hurricane. He bought her, the purchase price being a pig, and took her to another island, where she was released.

PRESIDENT UNDETERMINED

About What Disposition of the Philippines He Will Advise.

The cabinet session Friday was uneventful and practically no attention was paid to the Philippine question. The cabinet officers, after the meeting, when asked regarding the Philippines, said that at no time in the cabinet session, or privately, had the president expressed to the cabinet his intentions as to the final disposition of the islands, and added that the president had not determined what disposition the interests of the United Staets would make necessary.

A Multi-Millionaire for Senator.

The seventeenth ballot taken by the Montana legislature elected Hon. William M. Clark, of Butte, United States senator to succeed Hon. Lee Mantle. Mr. Clark is the largest individual owner of copper mines and smelters in the world, his principal properties being in Butte, Mont., and Jerome, Ariz. He has extensive beet sugar interests in California and a large copper wire works at Elizabethport, N. J. He has a plantation of 32,000 acres in Mexico devoted to growing coffee, tea and tobacco and rubber. His net income for 1898 is not far from $10,000,000.

Wants Colored Troops.

Surgeon-General Sternberg has made public the report of Lieutenant-Colonel O'Reilly, chief surgeon of the Department of Cuba, relative to the British method of caring for the troops in the tropics. As a result Dr. O'Reilly recommends that troops used for Cuban service should be recruited in the south and to be colored with white officers to a great extent.

The cause of the injuries to the cruiser Topeka will probably be investigated by Secretary Long.

BRIEFLY MENTIONED.

Near Safford, in Dallas county, Justice of the Peace J. B. Fort shot and killed a negro, Wilson Coleman.

The Elliott Car Company, of Gadsden, is over 600 cars behind with orders, and is working double force day and night.

The Third battalion of the First Florida infantry was mustered out Friday at Huntsville and the men were paid off before becoming citizens.

Josephine Self, the 5-year-old daughter of Mrs. Josephine Self, of Cordova, died Friday from the effects of burns received while standing in front of an open grate.

Hice Lawrence, the negro who killed young Morgan below Gadsden several months ago, has been indicted by the grand jury of Etowah county for murder in the first degree.

The Sloss Iron & Steel company has just sold 100 tons of pig iron to the United States government, to be shipped to Havana, presumably to be used as ballast on government transports.

During the week just passed, 1,600 tons of pig iron were shipped in bulk from Birmingham to Priesta, Austria, one of the larges shipments of pig iron made from the district in some time.

Reports from several places of the state show that snow fell Friday night from one-half to two inches deep. Not a flake was to be seen in Birmingham, the weather being too cold to snow.

Col. William Butler Duncan has given his check for $500 to the building fund of the Young Men's Christian Association at Mobile, and a few days ago Bishop Wilmer sent $50 for the same fund.

Chief Justice McClelland has decided not to contest for the place of Judge of the new Fifth Federal District, and has wired the president from Montgomery endorsing D. D. Shelby, of Huntsville.

United States Deputy Revenue Collector W. C. Hanlin, on instruction of Collector Bingham, has seized the distillery of Peter Perolio, in Jefferson county, for alleged violations of the revenue laws.

The famous bridge toll case was settled at Florence Saturday by compromise between the Business League and representatives of the Southern railroad. The compromise reduces tolls about 40 per cent.

Burglars entered the Oxford depot of the Southern railway and blew open the safe with dynamite. G. N. Meredith, the agent, had taken his cash, a large sum, to the bank the afternoon before, and the burglars got less than $10.

Bids for the erection of a new court house were opened at Lafayette Friday. The lowest bidder was Phil Yearger & Co., headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., and Danville, Ill., and they received the award of the contract. Their bid was $27,650.

The affairs at the State University are in first-class condition. The executive committee of the board of trustees at a recent meeting sustained President Powers in the course he has pursued, believing that he has been impartial, firm and just.

Mrs. F. N. Andrews, wife of the wire chief in the southern district for the Postal Cable Telegraph Company at Birmingham, died Saturday in terrible pains from a solution of cynide of potash taken accidentally. Death resulted thirty minutes after the awful drug was taken.

Near Scottsville, while Charles Stewart was out hunting with a friend named Williamson, the latter stumbled and fell, his Winchester rifle striking a rock and firing. The bullet struck Stewart in the thigh and cut an artery. He died in a few hours. Both were young farmers.

A new directory has just been issued for Birmingham. Allowing three persons each name occurring in the directory, the average used in all large cities, the directory finds the population of Birmingham and suburbs, exclusive of Bessemer and Pratt City, to be 76,500. This shows a tremendous increase in population.

The sight of a dignified court apologizing to a private citizen is not often witnessed, as was done in the case of Mrs. Ann Wallen, who was sensationally dragged into a recent forgery and stolen goods case at Decatur, it being charged that Mrs. Wallen received the goods. The court exonerated her of all connection with the case.

E. T. Wetherly died in Boston. He was assistant treasurer of the Shelby Iron Company, which position he had held many years. He had been with this company over thirty years at Shelby.

The representative of a New England cotton mill company has been in Sheffield during the past week prospecting, his object being to remove the plant to a southern location. After visiting a number of southern states he frankly admits that he was more favorably impressed with Sheffield than any point he had visited. The company asks no bonus, and a committee has been appointed by the Business Men's League of Sheffield to conduct the negotiations looking to the securing of the plant.

Mr. Garland's Funeral.

Funeral services over the remains of ex-Attorney-General A. A. Garland were held Saturday afternoon at the Colonial hotel. The parlors of the hotel and the corridors were filled with many warm personal friends that the general had made during his long residence in Washington. The Rev. Father Lee, of St. Mathews Catholic church, performed the funeral rites, and the remains were shipped to Little Rock, Ark., where the state funeral will be held.

THE CHRONICLE

F. W. GIST, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Entered in the post-office at Columbiana Ala., as second class matter.

SHELBY IN THE LEGISLATURE

The bill for the establishing of a county court for Shelby County has been considered by the judiciary committee of both houses, but has not been acted upon. The House committee is favorable to the bill, but the Senate committee seems inclined to defer to the sitting senator, being not quite as considerate to the wishes of Democrats as of their Populist colleagues.

The court house removal bill has not been heard, and no great concern seems to be manifested by either side, Mr. A. F. Wilson being rather alone in his efforts. He thinks he has the help of Judge Longshore and other Populists, but he probably does not know them. This bill will never pass the House. There is a probability that all the Shelby bills will die for want of time.

The bill to establish a depository for Shelby's funds has been favorably reported by the House committee, and if there is time it will pass.

The Senate has passed a bill to amend the road law, but we do not know in what particular.

The railroads are satisfied with the status of affairs in Columbiana and Wilsonville, and no bill will be introduced to abolish the charters.

We have it on good authority that Mr. Sturdivant will put Shelby County back in the dispensary law, and that Mr. Deans will let it stay. This remains to be seen.

The House has appropriated $15,000 for building to the Girls's School at Montevallo, and continued the annual appropriation for expenses.

FOOD FOR REFLECTION.

The Saturday Telegram always strikes to the point. There is so much of truth in the following that we republish it:

On Monday I went up the Southern railway as far as Jacksonville. On the train were about thirty negroes bound for Stanton to testify. Among them I noticed one negro porter who had openly declared that he voted for Mr. Robbins—he swore he voted for Mr. Aldrich, which is true?

How long are the white people going to put bread in the mouths of a horde of ungrateful negroes who can be corralled like Ed Moore's cattle, driven to the polls or kept away by word saunt and then go up a troup of liars to swear falsely. Wm. Smith, a negro painter, makes his living working for white people, and yet he never let's an opportunity pass to show pernicious activity against their interest. How long are our people going to endure feeding men of Smith's ilk who can't live in the North and follow their calling. How long are our people to be taxed to educate the children of negroes who all these years have proven themselves ingrates. There are many industrious worthy negroes who go their way, who join with the white people for their mutual welfare, who are worthy of and receive the patronage, friendship and the charity when needed, of the white people, but they are not of the negro pot-house-politician class. The time has come for the white people to discriminate against this class until they are driven hence

AN effort will be made in the House to make the dispensary law general for the State. For the sake of all that is good and pure in the State we hope it will be done.

The Montevallo News has appeared with Mr. J. M. Reynolds as editor. Mr. Reynolds will give the people a good, honest paper that ought to have the support of the people.

SENATOR CUNNINGHAM told the truth when he said the influence of one saloon keeper was more powerful in politics than all the preachers in a county. We have seen a practical demonstration.

THE saloon men of Birmingham have raised $46,000 to fight the dispensary law. The question is, How will it be used? Every member who votes against the bill will lay himself open to the suspicion of having accepted a bribe. It could not be used in any other way.

SHELBY County wants dispensaries, but the personal interests of two saloon keepers stand in the way of her getting them. Dispensaries in this county would run the schools in every town which had one, stop blind tigers, and do a great deal of good. Who will be more powerful the people or the saloon keepers?

IF Calera ever expects to get the courthouse she will have to stop the sale of whisky in her city limits. The people of the county are not likely to put their county seat where saloon keepers can control, not only the politics of the town, but those of the county as well. This influence succeeded in taking Shelby County out of the dispensary law. If they want the courthouse right bad they had better have it put back.

THE Anniston Hot Blast gets on its heels because Mr. Aldrich has telegraphed that the committee has decided to report favorably on a bill for a public building for that place. He telegraphed better news than that to Talladega once, but they haven't got the building yet. When the bill is actually reported it will be time to get tickled, and when it is passed it will be time to laugh. We advise our neighbor to save his congratulations until he has some tangible cause for congratulations. However, Mr. Aldrich ought to do something for Anniston—she did all she could for him in the last election.

AN ABSURD PROPOSITION.

The following communication appeared in the Montgomery Advertiser last week:

COLUMBIANA, ALA., January 23, 1899.
EDITOR ADVERTISER:

I am a middle-of-the-road Populist, and know in you my party has a formidable foe. Politically, though, we feel in you we have an enemy who fights on a high and honorable plane. I write to find out the truth of the following, to-wit:

It is reported currently here on the streets and that by the Johnston Democrats, that when the Constitutional Convention meets they will so frame the Constitution that every Populist and Republican elected to office last August will be turned out by discontinuing said offices and creating new ones in their stead to be filled by appointment by the Governor, said appointees to become the pets of the Governor and said pets are to see to it that Joseph F. Johnston is to be landed in a seat in the United States Senate. Now, we, as Populists, do not believe that any honest man in Alabama will countenance any such damnable scheme, nor do we believe that The Advertiser will endorse any such highhanded robbery of the suffrage of the people of our grand old State.

Respectfully,
B. W. BRAND.

The Advertiser replied in very plain terms to this query, and were it not that we see the idea advanced above suggested from other sources we should not notice it. We take occasion, however, to make it the text for some remarks on the general idgas that are springing up, and which are only entitled to consideration in that they may mislead the unwary.

We lay down the proposition that the idea advanced above is entirely absurd; and in the second place we do not believe it is advanced in good faith, but only to appeal to the prejudices of a people who are easily persuaded into frenzy at the suggestion of any abridgement of their rights.

The anxious author of the above inquiry is a practicing attorney of this place. We submit that if he has any knowledge of law he knows that no portion of one class of officholders can be legislated out of office without throwing out all others of the same class. This the gentleman will doubtless admit rather than to admit that he is ignorant of the principles that govern the foundation of the system he professes to practice. We must submit that it is the height of absurdity to even suppose that a convention of Democrats would legislate out of office 400 Democratic county officials for the sake of getting rid of 100 Populists, many of whom have but two years to serve. If the gentleman will think for but a moment he would see the folly of the intention he is attributing to the proposed convention in supposing that it would cast out of office 50 Democratic probate judges for the sake of getting rid of 15 Populists. The gentleman's fear is made groundless by its own absurdity, and needs not to be answered from the standpoint of honesty at all. Even if he believes Democrats capable of such underhand methods, he must concede that their own selfish interests would prevent them from doing what he seems to be afraid of.

Again if the gentleman has any conception of the ordinary rules and motives which govern men in their adoption of political methods, he must know that it is quite absurd to suppose that a convention of Democrats would jeopardize the interests and political prospects of their own people by putting their own fortunes in the hands of one man, who may or may not be their friend, for the sake of preventing the election of Populists and Republicans in a few counties in this State. In the last election 50 counties went Democratic. Are the Democrats of those counties likely to give over their chances of holding office for the future into the hands of one man and to build up a machine to their own political death for the mere purpose of keeping Popalists and Republicans from holding office in 15 counties? Another reductio ad absurdum, the anxious inquirer will have to admit.

In the third place, if the gentleman knows anything of the people among whom he lives, and he certainly has plenty of opportunity to learn their views, he knows that there cannot be found on the streets of this place a Democrat who would further the interests of Governor Johnston or any other man for the United States Senate against John T. Morgan, and that as to the successor to General Pettus they are divided as upon every other personal preference. In this the gentleman's proposition falls short of being reasonable.

Fourthly, the gentleman's statement that the scheme he has figured out is being currently reported by Democrats is to attribute to Democrats less sagacity than they must have to be the successful rogues his party believes them to be. Is it likely that a man who was seeking to do the thing he suggests would be going about boasting of their intentions? Surely not, if they expected to be successful. Such a concoction as the gentleman has solved from his imagination could not be carried out after it had been imparted to the people, and a man who had such intentions would be either a knave or a fool to give them away. One cannot be both in politics and be as successful as the Democrats have been in this State. We think the gentleman will also admit the absurdity of this proposition.

This idea did not originate with the gentleman in question. It originated as most of the other absurd charges against the Democratic party originated, in the minds of some people who are not willing to risk their chances for office with the intelligent citizens of the county, and for the purpose of dethroning the reason of their blinded followers by exciting their prejudices with imagining vain things. The gentleman who wrote the above pathetic inquiry has either allowed himself to be taken in by these wary demagogues, or else his object is to aid in the dissemination of their dangerous prejudice. To admit the latter is to put himself in the category of designing politicians who win on deceit rather than merit; to admit the former is to acknowledge his lack of that perception which usually characterizes men of his profession.

Calera.

It rains, it snows and blows gloomy weather.

All of Calera's severe cases of sickness are better.

Jason Pilgreen, who had his leg amputated some days ago as the result of a railroad accident, was brought to his home here on Saturday last and is now getting along nicely.

Mr. David Battle, an old citizen of Bibb County, for 16 years engaged in the charcoal business, passed through Calera Monday with his household effects en route to Talladega Springs, where he will reside in the future.

A committee of our prominent citizens have been down in the capital city the past week working for and against certain bills before the law-making power.

We have seen several delegations from Columbiana going to and from Montgomery the past week.

The home of the writer is very sad foo the past few days, caused by the announcement in the Birmingham Age-Herald of the death of Mrs. Kennedy, widow of the late J. S. Kennedy, of Centreville. Mrs. Kennedy was the oldest citizen of that old town. She reared a large family of loving sons and daughters, all of whom are grown and married, except one—Miss Annie, a teacher in the Industrial School at Montevallo—most of whom are left to mourn her departure. Many are the pleasant hours and moments we have spent in the home of the deceased, and sad is the thought that when we visit that home again her pleasant face and motherly kindness will not be there to greet us.

The criticism column of THE CHRONICLE was a little bit premature in last issue! The fact is, the only petition circulated in Calera opposing the dispensary bill, now pending in the legislature, was sent here from Columbiana, with a number of names from that place already attached.

Harpersville.

Hon. W. J. Bryan 1900.
Sunday was a beautiful day.
Did you just see the snow?
Oh, my! how bad the roads are.
Doctor Fields is making arrangements to move to Calera.
The measles have struck Butler's sawmill.
J. N. Warren is preparing to move his sawmill to Vandiver.
Mitchell was after the evil doers again last week.
J. H. Martin, of St. Clair County, was in town last Friday.
We heartily endorse Mrs. Gist's column last week. "Them is my sentiments exactly."
When, oh! when will this thing of the commissioners granting new public roads for this beat cease. There is almost a road now for every hand.
I. C. Shrader went over to Birmingham last week to see the faith doctor, but came back as he went, not improved.
You talk about the American-Spanish war, and Mckinley's visit South uniting the people. No such thing. You just watch McKinley and his gang at the next Presidential election and see if I am not right. They come down here and talk one way and go back home and do another.
I don't suppose that Aldrich will come to this beat for evidence in his behalf. I would not if I were him. The only unclean thing done here that I know of on election day was one of his men stopping a negro who was passing through on a wagon, and had him to go and vote for Aldrich.
Died, at her home in Vincent last Tursday, Mrs. Self, a very estimable old lady. She was buried here Friday. Mrs. Self was a member of the Methodist church and was a good woman. She leaves a husband and several children besides a host of friends to mourn her loss. Her funeral was preached at Vincent by her pastor, Mr. Roberts, who also conducted the burial service. To the bereaved ones we extend our sympathy.
It will be remembered by some of the people who were living at Columbiana during the civil war that Dock Davis was killed at the end of the war at the forks of road between the academy and courthouse. Sometime ago the postmaster at Columbiana received a letter from a man living in Minnesota inquiring if Davis had any relatives living, if so he would send a memorandum taken from him the day he was killed. The postmaster kindly forwarded the letter here to Mr. Davis's only child, a son, who was then a very small boy. He wrote for the book which was sent last week. Although this has been about 34 or 35 years ago, it has been well preserved and looks almost new. Mr. Davis prizes it very highly and will take good care of it. Some are of the opinion that this was the man who killed Davis, but he claims to have been a prisoner at the time.
Mr. Logan, a staunch Democrat of Coosa County has moved into our community. He don't think the Pops will ever run another ticket in that county. After the constitutional convention I don't think that they need ever run another ticket in Shelby, for such a thing as a Pop holdin office won't be thought of then.
Doctor Teague preached a very interesting sermon Sunday; but then he always does that. JAKE.

By Mrs. F. W. GIST.

We were deeply interested in the reports of Mr. Bondurant's lecture last Saturday to the Woman's Club of Birmingham on "Laws as they relate to woman." He cites many supreme court decisions from other States that show to a marked degree laws favorable to women as property holders and owners. But he cites no decision from an Alabama court that proves to the credit of her legislators. If he had cited a few of the late decisions of the supreme court of Alabama, he would have shown this State to great disadvantage as compared with some he did mention. However, Mr. Bondurant's lecture in tenor was to show the wonderful transformation of general laws as relates to woman, and it was no doubt an able exposition and much enjoyed.

***

The women of Birmingham have nobly done their duty regarding the Moody dispensary bill. The turning and deciding point brought about in Senator Cunningham's mind was done by the petitions from Birmingham women and children, and a nobler, more gallant fight for a good cause was never made than that of Senator Cunningham's. Thus it is; the good men may rush about all over the State getting up petitions and delegations to wait upon legislators, and at last, with thousands and thousands of petitioners of the lords of creation confronting and confusing them, one modest petition from one city in the State turns the tide in the right direction and carries the senate 22 to 2—like a righteous whirlwind in their midst. May the righteous whirlwind also strike the lower house and sweep it in the right direction!

***

At a pastors' meeting last Saturday in Birmingham Mr. P. G. Bowman insisted upon a delegation of one thousand women and children going down to Montgomery on Monday and keep the State legislature company in behalf of the dispensasy bill. If that delegation of one thousand women should go down and ask the right for every woman in Alabama to slip a little piece of paper in a box—thereby sweeping saloons from the State—the good pastors, in mass meeting; the good lawyers, championing their cause; the good legislators—in fact, nearly all the good men in the State would take to their heels and would hardly be found in the border lines of the State again soon. The men may wriggle and fight for their cause, but if they expect to win they call on the women; and well they may. But the shortest route and nearest cut would be by way of the little slip of paper. There is no getting around that fact, and every single man knows it whether he wants to know it or not.

LOCAL LORE.

The Methodist Ministers' Association met yesterday morning in the basement of Trinity church and discussed several topics of interest, chief among which was the subject of "Revivals, with Special Reference to Time and Means."

Dr. Quillian was the first speaker. He declared that there was great necessity for revivals, and that every minister should be interested in promoting them. He felt they should be under the direction of some duly constituted leader, to whose authority the other ministers should submit, and at the same time co-operate with. This leader, he said, should be the pastor of the church, and he should choose his own lieutenants.

The speaker also directed attention to the necessity of counteracting the effects of bad literature, and said that the evil should be met with good literature. He urged that during revivals all possible interest in good literature could be promoted. Good books, he suggested, should be commended and wholesome publications circulated as freely as possible during the revivals.

Rev. W. D. Hamilton also discussed the subject, taking a different ground from Dr. Quillian on the centralization of leadership, and sustaining his position by reciting two instances within his personal knowledge of, revivals at which there was no leader, through peculiar combinations of circumstances, save the Holy Spirit.

The following is good, sound advice to white people as well as colored:

Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department, had less to say on the President's trip South than most of the other members of the party. He did, however, take occasion, however, to advise some of the colored people whom he met to plant clover and raise sheep and cattle. "The trouble," he said, "is that you keep too many dogs and too few sheep. The cost of feeding one dog would raise two sheep or one hog." Another economic statement was that all the salaries received by the politicians were compared with the value of the eggs laid every year, it would be found that there was more money in hens than in politics.

Regardless of Age.

The kidneys are responsible for more sickness, suffering and deaths than any other organs of the body.

A majority of the ills afflicting people today is traceable to kidney trouble. It pervades all classes of society, in all climates, regardless of age, sex or condition.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are unmistakable; such as rheumatism, neuralgia, sleeplessness, pain or dull ache in the back, a desire to urinate often, day or night, profuse or scanty supply.

Uric acid or brick-dust deposit in urine are signs of clogged kidneys, causing poisoned and germ-filled blood. Sometimes the heart acts badly, and tube casts—wasting of the kidneys—are found in the urine, which if neglected, will result in Bright's Disease, the most dangerous form of kidney trouble.

All these symptoms and conditions are promptly removed under the influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root. It has a world-wide reputation for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

No one need be long without it as it is so easy to get at drug stores at 50 cents or $1. You can have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery, Swamp Root, and a book telling all about it sent to you absolutely free by mail. Send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention THE CHRONICLE.

Kidney disease is the enemy we have most to fear as a result of the feverish restlessness of our much vaunted modern civilization. It is a treacherous enemy, working out its deadly symptoms. The first indication of changes in the urine, frequent headaches, digestive troubles should be the signal for prompt remedial measures. Prickly Ash Bitters is a kidney remedy of superlative merit; it is soothing, healing and strengthening, quickly relieves the aching or soreness that always appears in the advanced stages, checks the progress of the disease and through its excellent cleansing and regulating effect in the stomach, liver and bowels, it brings back the strength and ruddy glow of vigorous health. COURT HOUSE REMOVAL.

Bill for an Election on this Subject Introduced.

Considerable excitement has been created here by the introduction of a bill into the Senate by Mr. Deans pending for an election on the question of the courthouse removal to Calera. The bill was introduced last week by Mr. Deans, and is the result of a trade between Populist officials here and Calera Democrats, growing out of the opposition of the former to the bill to establish a county court for Shelby County. For the influence of the Calera Democrats against the court bill the Populists have promised to support the removal of the court house to Calera.

As a proof of this deal a number of Calera Democrats appeared before the judiciary committees of the two houses and argued against the bill after several of them had expressed their approval of the measure and promised their support. The only argument used by them was that the county court would increase the expense of the county and that it would stir up strife, when they are presenting a bill that will cost much more and stir up more strife.

Section 1 of the bill provides that whenever fifty or more electors of Shelby County shall present to the mayors of Calera and Columbiana and the treasurer of the county a petition for said election, it shall be the duty of these three parties to order the election, which shall be held not more than 90 nor less than 30 days from the date of such order.

Section 2 provides that no election shall be held until a subscription be presented for $5,000, to be applied to the securing of a site for said court house in Calera. This subscription may be paid in money or land.

Section 6 provides that a registration of votes shall be had under the direction of the commissioners, and that no person shall vote unless he registers within the time provided.

Section 8 provides that the board of commissioners shall appoint the inspectors and clerks from lists submitted by each member of the board of commissioners.

Section 9 provides for the numbering of ballots, as was the rule under Republican regime in this State, and section 10 provides for separate ballots, evidently for the purpose of doing away with markers.

In section 12 there is a hidden provision for the returns to lie in the hands of one of the commissioners until the Saturday following the election, when they are to be canvassed and the result declared by the board of commissioners, who have the power to go into the returns and recount all ballots and throw out what they consider to be illegal.

The 16th section very generously [illegible] Auditor [illegible]

The provisions referred to need no comment. The five thousand dollar subscription is a well-matured plan to work off a lot of the Calera Land Co's. worthless land on the county at an enormous price. All the real expense will be borne by the taxpayers. The Calera Democrats have simply been taken in by the Populists. When the court bill is defeated by the Calera Democrats there will be no further incentive for the Populists to vote for the removal, and we are not at all afraid of them doing it when it will destroy the value of their property and put them at the expense of moving and paying extra taxes. It is all bluff on the part of the Populists, and the Calera Democrats have allowed themselves to be taken in by it. If they really want the court house removed they ought to help get the court bill established, which might make the Populists mad enough to vote for removal.

The "Regular" Army should include in its ranks every man, woman and child in the country. Too many people are irregular. Take Simmons Liver Regulator and you will soon become a "Regular." "I am sixty-two years old and for over twenty-five years was so troubled with Constipation I could not keep regular, I suffered dreadful pains in the Stomach and Liver, but have not been troubled since taking Simmons Liver Regulator."—Wm. For La Grippe.

Thomas Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash-av., corner Jackson street one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for La Grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of La Grippe to result in pneumonia. EDWIN THOMAS WITHERBY.

E. T. Witherby was born March 18, 1845, at Worcester, Mass., and died of Bright's disease in a hospital at Boston January 24, 1899.

Mr. Witherby came to Shelby from Boston nearly 30 years ago as a young man, not yet married, to take a position in the office of the Shelby Iron Co. Here, as assistant treasurer, he had a more intimate knowledge of the affairs of the company and its extensive estates than any living man.

He was a man of fine physique and great energy, always at his post of duty in business and deeply interested in all that warmed the material or spiritual moral welfare not only of the [illegible] which he lived, but of the State of Alabama and, indeed, of the world. He came of a long line of godly ancestors, whose history [illegible] country extends back to early colonial days. He was justly proud of his ancestry in a spiritual way. Many of his name and family line have died, and to-day occupy positions of prominence in the busines world.

Mr. Witherby was deeply interested in all subjects that interested intelligent men. A man of clear intelligent convictions, always ready and strong to give a reason for his faith; generous and charitable toward those who differed from him in [illegible] and religion. He was an extensive reader of books and periodicals, the higher class, and had gathered about him a large library to which he was constantly making additions. He read with discrimination and judgment, and had a remarkably judicious and ready memory. When at his office he was in his library day by day. He carefully noted and readily recalled, sometimes years after an occurrence, minor events of real significance, but of such a nature as to be unobserved by most men. He had apparently an inexhaustible fund of facts and subjects on which to draw in conversation, in which he was always ready and in which he seemed to find real enjoyment, and at the same time he was prudent and reserved in merely personal and family matters or private business concerns. He had a true missionary spirit; his interests were as wide as the needs of humanity; he believed in the Gospel as the faith for the world and necessary for human redemption, and he was always ready to give to church and missionary interests. His ideal of a church was one always open on the Sabbath and mid-week for devotional service; and his pastor could always count on his presence. And not only so, he was always ready to help as a leader in the services. In his pastor's absence he always conducted services to the satisfaction of the congregation. He was deeply interested in Christian Endeavor and in all new movements, being a man of progressive spirit. In the Sunday school was especially his place of power. He has been superintendent in Shelby for a score of years, and widely known throughout the state for his interest in this cause. He has for several years conducted a teachers' meeting on Wednesday night. His brief talks on the lesson every Sunday were always fresh, often graphic, and for the quarterly reviews he made special preparation. It has been observed that his addresses during the last year have been increasingly strong and effective, as though he knew his time was short, and what he had to say must be spoken.

No man ever made braver or more determined battle for life. He was evidently aware of the [illegible] by his physician only [illegible] his absolute breakdown he would not accept the fact nor conceal his condition to his family. He had always been a man of strict temperance in all things, and careful as to the condition of health, and believed if he maintained a resolution will he would overcome the influence that was preying upon him, especially as he came from a long-lived race. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter to mourn for one who established an ideal home.

One interesting fact may be mentioned. Mr. Witherby, when a mere boy, enlisted in the Confederate army, and was one of the youngest who ever did march in the ranks on the Northern side. It has transpired that he and A. H. Averyt, of Shelby, faced each other in opposing lines of battle in one of the great conflicts of the Civil War. For several years they have touched elbows Sunday by Sunday in God's house in happy agreement for His glory.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken all danger will be avoided. Among the thousands who have used this remedy for La Grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure La Grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Williams Bros, Druggists.

A GREAT MISSING WORD CONTEST.

The Chronicle Offers a New Plan to Its Subscribers who Take The Constitution in Combination Offer.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE SEASON.

We take pleasure in announcing a missing word problem to our subscribers in connection with the Weekly Constitution of Atlanta, Ga. This is the sentence:

It is taken from a charming, living Southern author, and is offered to test the knowledge of our people of their own writers. The missing word is a plain, every-day English word, not a compound word, nor a proper name and is used in its ordinary acceptation. The prize to be given will be 10 per cent of all the subscriptions received from contestants by the Constitution, and will be paid by the Constitution. That paper has paid on missing word contests alone nearly $10,000 in cash prizes. To one party, M. L. Brittain, was given a check for $1,083.50 for one successful guess; others have received large sums ranging from $683 to $300 on similar propositions. This contest is to run until April 1, 1899, at which time the results will be promptly and properly announced.

Every subscriber who takes advantage of our clubbing offer with The Constitution may enter his own word to fill the blank in the sentence, and must be given to us at the time of the subscription so we can forward it together with his order for the Constitution. It is a plain, fair plan and we feel sure many will hunt up the word or take a shot at it. The subscription orders under this combination offer must be sent directly to this office and not to the Constitution. We will forward everything ourselves.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Something About the Greatest Weekly Newspaper in the Country.

REDUCED RATE FOR TWO PAPERS

Take Your Home Paper and The Constitution and be Happy.

We call special attention to our club arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing of the two papers being only $1.20 per year, subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the correctness of circulation made by The Constitution and put up a forfeit of $100 that it could not be proved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm. Mr. George P. Rowell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has been brought to a close, the readers of a newspaper in the South could not compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative accompanied with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and the 120 correspondents who went to Cuba was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. Its special representative also accompanied the fleet to the Caribbean, and with its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with [illegible] as of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manila, the death of Ensign Bagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all given in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

The Weekly Constitution makes a special feature of its agricultural page, which is presided over by Colonel R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment farm, and a man who is recognized as an expert on all agricultural topics. He gives a full page every week on agricultural matters. A page is devoted to the women and a page to children, these two departments being presided over by Mrs. William King.

Among the regular staff members of The Constitution are Joel Chandler Harris, Frank L. Stanton and [illegible] and others well known throughout the country; while [illegible] its editors are such men as Wallace P. Reed, Bill Arp, Sarge Plunkett, Betsy Hamilton, Dr. Talmage and others of national reputation.

The Constitution has just completed the thirtieth year of its existence, Clark Howell being the editor and Col. W. A. Hemphill its business manager. Its name is a household word in every southern state, from Virginia to Texas. It has always been in especially close touch with the agricultural classes of the South, and in having reached a circulation which carries it into 150,000 homes it has won a unique distinction which ranks it among the greatest of American weekly newspapers.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscribtions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them, having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every south-

Standing Armies of the World.

A French statistician states that the total number of men permanently under arms is 4,250,000. If universal war broke out there would be 44,250,000 men ready to take up arms at once. Placed in one line, the soldiers of the world could cover the equator right around the earth. To pass along the whole line one would need to ride in an express train at sixty miles an hour for seventy days. If the soldiers received orders to exterminate the rest of the population they would only have to kill thirty-three persons apiece.

NO WOMAN IS EXEMPT.

Regularity is a matter of importance in every woman's life. Much pain is, however, endured in the belief that it is necessary and not alarming, when in truth it is all wrong and indicates derangement that may cause serious trouble.

The foundation of woman's health is a perfectly normal and regular performance of nature's function. The statement we print from Miss GERTRUDE SIKES, of Eldred, Pa., is echoed in every city, town and hamlet in this country. Read what she says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel like a new person since following your advice, and think it is my duty to let the public know the good your remedies have done me. My troubles were painful menstruation and leucorrhœa. I was nervous and had spells of being confused. Before using your remedies I never had any faith in patent medicines. I now wish to say that I never had anything do me so much good for painful menstruation as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; also would say that your Sanative Wash has cured me of leucorrhœa. I hope these few words may help suffering women."

The present Mrs. Pinkham's experience in treating female ills is unparalleled, for years she worked side by side with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, and for sometime past has had sole charge of the correspondence department of her great business, treating by letter as many as a hundred thousand ailing women during a single year.

Any suffering women are invited to write freely to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice about their health.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Monday.

THE SENATE.—Discussion of the policy of expansion occupied nearly all the time of the senate in open session. Mr. White, of California, one of the democrats who has announced heretofore his opposition to the treaty of peace, addressed the senate in support of the anti-expansion resolution introduced by Mr. Vest, and of the resolution offered by Mr. Bacon, of Georgia, declaring that the Filipinos ought to be free and independent. Bills were passed authorizing the secretary of the interior to authorize the territory of Oklahoma to use certain buildings at Fort Supply military reservation as an insane asylum; transfering the county of Minard, Texas, from the western to the northern district of that state; a special urgency deficiency bill carrying $30,000. The senate then went into executive session, after which Mr. Chandler called up the bill to restore to their original status officers of the army and marine corps who lost their status by reason of the promotion of other officers by reason of conspicuous conduct in battle. The bill went over on objection and the senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE.—This was District of Columbia day in the house, and the major portion of the day was devoted to local legislation. The only action of public importance was the passage of the bill to extend the navigation laws of the United States to the Hawaiian islands. Nineteen local bills were passed.

Tuesday.

THE SENATE.—Two notable speeches were delivered in the senate today, one by Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, and the other by Mr. Clay, of Georgia. While the two senators differed diametrically as to the policy of expansion, upon which they dwelt, both are in favor of the immediate ratification of the pending peace treaty. They contended that once that treaty is ratified congress will have full power to deal with conditions respecting the territory acquired during the war with Spain and not before. Mr. Lodge particularly argued for a formal declaration of peace, which could be had only by the ratification of the treaty. The senate resumed consideration of the peace treaty today in executive session. The Barry resolution for the consideration of the treaty in open session was voted down, and there was more or less talk of taking a vote, though on this point no definite decision was reached. The principle speeches of the general debate were made for the treaty by Senators Teller and Frye, and Mr. Hoar in opposition.

THE HOUSE.—The debate on the army reorganization bill opened in the house today under an agreement by which general debate is to run fifteen hours, exclusive of three night sessions; the final vote to be taken not later than 3 o'clock next Tuesday. Among the supporters of the bill are those who, like Mr. McClellan (dem. N. Y.), a son of General George B. McClellan, favor a provision for a general staff made up of officers of the regular army, and Mr. Hay, of Virginia, who favors a provision for a general staff made up of officers of the militia. Mr. Hay opposed the provision for a general staff made up of officers of the regular army, and favored

A BLOODY BATTLE

Between Aguinaldo's Forces and American Troops In the Philipptnes.

Our Losses are Estimated at 20 Killed and 125 Wounded. Insurgent's Loss Not Known, But Very Heavy.

Fight Brought On by Attempt of Three Insurgents to Pass the American Lines In Which They Lost Their Lives—News From Dewey Created Consternation in Washington.

Cable dispatches from Manila state that the long-expected rupture between the Americans and the Filipinos has come at last. The former are now engaged in solving the Philippine problem with the utmost expedition possible.

The clash came at 8:40 Saturday evening, when three daring Filipinos dashed passed the Nebraska regiment's pickets at Santa Mesa, but retired when challenged. They repeated the experiment without drawing the sentries' fire. But the third time Corporal Greely challenged the Filipinos and then fired, killing one of them and wounding another.

Almost immediately afterwards the Filipinos' line, from Caloocan to Santa Mesa, commenced a fusilade which was ineffectual. The Nebraska, Montana and North Dakota outposts replied vigorously, and held their ground until re-enforcements arrived. The Filipinos in the meantine concentrated at three points—Caloocan, Gagalangin and Santa Mesa.

At about 1 o'clock the Filipinos opened a hot fire from all three places simultaneously. This was supplemented by the fire of two siege guns at Balik-Balik, and by advancing their skirmishers at Paco and Pandacan. The Americans responded with a terrific fire, but owing to the darkness they were unable to determine its effect. The Utah light artillery finally succeeded in silencing the native battery. The Third artillery also did good on the extreme left. The engagement lasted over an hour.

The United States cruiser Charleston and the gunboat Concord, stationed off Malabona, opened fire from their secondary batteries on the Filipos' position at Caloocan and kept up vigorously.

At 2:45 there was another fusilade along the entire line, and the United States sea-going double-turreted monitor Monadnock opened fire on the enemy from off Malate.

With daylight, the Americans advanced. The California and Washington regiments made a splendid charge and drove the Filipinos from the villages of Paco and Santa Mesa.

The Nebraska regiment also distinguished itself, capturing several prisoners and one howitzer and a very strong position at the reservoir, which is connected with the waterworks. The Kansas and Dakota regiments compelled the enemy's right flank to retire to Caloocan. There was intermittent firing at various points all day long.

The losses of the Filipinos cannot be estimated at present, but they are known to be considerable.

The American losses are estimated at twenty killed and 125 wounded. The Ygorates, armed with bows and arrows, made a very determined stand in the face of a hot artillery fire and left many men dead on the field.

THE NEWS FROM DEWEY.

Admiral Dewey cabled the navy department Sunday that hostilities had begun between the American army and naval forces in and about Manila and the Filipino insurgents. The insurgents, he said, had been the aggressors and had been repulsed. The cablegram said:

To the Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C.—Insurgents here inaugurated general engagement yesterday which was continued today. The American army and navy is generally successful. Insurgents have been driven back and our line advanced. No casualties to navy.

Dewey.

The news came like a shock, for the administration, though apprised that an ugly situation prevailed in the Philippines, had clung steadily to the hope that by tact and patience actual fighting might be averted. Even those public men who felt that hostilities would follow should the treaty be ratified and the United states attempt to occupy the islands believed that Aguinaldo would not force the fighting when the treaty of peace was in the most critical stage.

The news of the beginning of another war came from Admiral Dewey. No word had been received from General Otis up to that time.

It seems to be Dewey's fortune always to be able to report favorable news, and like all of his messages that have gone before this cablegram, told of the success of the American forces in the action.

The administration learned that the insurgents had forced the issue. It had hoped all along that they could be brought to see the advantages of placing their trust in the American people, and relying upon the president to deal justly with them.

"The administration argued that with the Philippine commission fairly on the sea en route for Manila, bringing with them messages from the president and with the peace treaty still unacted on it was not to be credited that they would refuse to wait to learn the purposes of the American government, but would precipitate the long impending conflict."

READY FOR THE OUTBREAK.

While this was true the officers in Manila had not been blind to the threat contained in the situation there and every preparation has been made for just what occurred Saturday night.

It is now acknowledged that fear of an outbreak in Luzon was the explanation for the much-commented-on failure of General Miller to force a landing at Ilollo, on the island of Panay; Otis felt that he wanted all of the troops at Manila, where was located the center of danger.

GENERAL OTIS HEARD FROM.

Manila, February 5.—Adjutant General, Washington: The insurgents in large force opened attack on our outer lines at 8:45 last evening; renewed attack several times during night; at 4 o'clock this morning entire line engaged; all attacks repulsed; at daybreak advanced against insurgents and have driven them beyond the lines they formerly occupied, capturing several villages and their defense works; insurgents' loss in dead and wounded large; our own casualties thus far estimated at 175, very few fatal. Troops enthusiastic and acting fearlessly. Navy did splendid execution on flanks of enemy; city held in check and absolute quiet prevails; insurgents have secured good many Mauser rifles, a few field pieces and quick-firing guns with ammunition during last month. Otis.

QUIET RESTORED.

A dispatch was received at 1:15 Monday morning from General Otis saying the situation at that time was most satisfactory, and that perfect quiet prevails in the city and vicinity.

GENERAL GOMEZ THANKED.

President McKinley Congratulates the Cuban For Friendly Message.

The following message from President McKinley was received by Robert P. Porter at Havana Saturday and was transmitted to General Gomez:

"Hon. Robert P. Porter, Havana.—The president sends his hearty congratulations and thanks for your dispatch. Convey his cordial greetings to General Gomez and his grateful appreciation of his frank and friendly message. The co-operation of General Gomez in the pacification of Cuba will be of the greatest value for both peoples. (Signed) John Hay,

"FILIPINOS ARE SUSPICIOUS,"

So Declares Aguinaldo's Representative In London.

A representative of the Associated Press saw the London representative of Aguinaldo Sunday evening. He did not express surprise at the news from the Philippines, but declared that the Filipinos at Manila were suspicious of the attitude of the United States, and had formed the opinion that it was better to fight before the Americans were reinforced.

Keel of the New Battleship "Maine" Will Be Laid.

The keel of the new battleship Maine, the contract for the construction of which was a few months ago awarded to the Cramp Shipbuilding company, at Philadelphia, will in all probability be laid on February 15th. This date will be the anniversary of the explosion in Havana harbor of the ship of that name.

INSURGENTS RELEASE PRISONERS

Filipino Junta In Hong Kong Issues a Statement.

The Filipino junta at Hong Kong, China, has issued the following statement:

"Simultaneously with the proclamation of the republic Aguinaldo released the Spanish war prisoners as an act of grace.

"The Spanish imposition of the poll tax is enforced by the Americans with greater severity. Formerly the poor paid $2 and the rich $37. Now the lowest pay $5 and the rich $100, which is exasperating the people.

"Gambling, cock fighting, bribing, squeezing and the American abuses of the customs are causing demoralization. The Spanish corrupt, despotic system seems to be the model of the American executive.

"The Manila Filipinos are indignant at the notion of the American journals that they will tamely submit to be experimented with by America's colonial administrations, and hope the decision of the United States on Monday will be of a nature to satisfy their aspirations as frequently expressed."

AFTER GENERAL MILES.

Cabinet Decides That He Should Be Placed On Trial.

A Washington dispatch says: The cabinet Friday had the matter of General Miles' conduct and utterances under discussion, and while no order has been issued, it is stated that a court of inquiry will be ordered. In the meantime it is not likely that he will be relieved of his position as general of the army.

The matter was discussed at some length and the concensus of opinion was that such a proceeding should be had. It was argued that if the packers, who had furnished the beef to the army, had fraudulently supplied an article of the character charged by General Miles, the country had a right to know it, and if the charges were without foundation the people had an equal right to know that fact.

In justice to all concerned, it was agreed to demand that the whole truth be brought to light.

The court will probably not be ordered until after the war investigating board has made its report.

FITZ AND SHARKEY

Reach An Agreement to Contest World's Championship.

Bob Fitzsimmons and Tom Sharkey will fight to a finish at some time and place to be decided upon immediately for the heavyweight championship of the world. Sharkey has covered the $2,500 forfeit put up by Fitzsimmons.

The time placed upon the acceptance expired at midnight Thursday night and before the hour arrived a certified check, signed by Tom O'Rourke, the sailor's manager had been accepted, for the amount of $2,500, the same sum put up by the champion.

The fight is to be before the club offering the largest purse, the referee and the time of the contest to be mutually agreed upon at a conference of the principals and managers that is to follow the closing of the negotiations by the club before which the fight will be pulled off.

ROBBERS RAID DEPOT.

Three Railroads Lose Cash Through Safe Crackers.

Cracksmen raided the joint depot of the Southern, Alabama Great Southern and Central of Georgia railroads at Woodlawn, Ala., Thursday night. They blew open the Southern Express company's safe and took the contents, including $40 belonging to the railroad companies. The express company's loss is not known.

The work was so neatly done that the persons living across the street did not hear the explosion. Route Agent Agee and aids at once started in pursuit of the robbers, who are believed to be members of a gang operating successfully in north Alabama.

TO MAKE STEEL CARS.

Carnegie Company Begins Booking Some Extensive Contracts.

The Carnegie Steel Company, limited, at Pittsburg, Pa., has commenced to book contracts for steel cars to be manufactured at the big works to be built in West Homestead. The contracts aggregate between $5,000,000 $6,000,000.

The demand for freight cars is such that the Carnegie company will probably make this industry the principal branch of its business in the future.

HITCHCOCK ON THE WAY.

New Secretary of the Interior Will Soon Be Installed.

The change in the head of the interior department is expected to occur the middle of this month, though no definite word has been received from Ambassador Hitchcock, the newly appointed secretary.

The latter was expected to sail from St. Petersburg about New Year's day, but was unable to arrange his affairs there by that time, and planned to make his departure on January 28th. If he got away at that time he will reach Washington in season to relieve Secretary Bliss by the 15th or earlier.

DISPENSARY BILL FAILS.

Alabama Representutives Report Senate Measure Unfavorably.

The Alabama dispensary bill passed the senate several days ago including only twenty-two counties of the state. This bill has been under consideration by the house temperance committee which reported the bill adversely Friday morning by a vote of 10 to 5.

This practically kills the bill, as the time is so short it cannot come up except by general consent.

COMMITTEE REPORT AGAINST WHEELER.

HOUSE WILL NOW DECIDE.

Sould Report Be Adopted General Will Lose Seat.

A Washington dispatch says: The inquiry ordered by the house of representatives as to what members had forfeited their seats by reason of accepting other offices, ended Friday with a finding by the judiciary committee that Major General Wheeler, a member from Alabama; Colonel James R. Campbell, of Illinois; Colonel David G. Colson, of Kentucky, and Major Edwin E. Robbins, of Pennsylvania, had vacated their seats in the house by accepting commissions in the army.

At the same time the committee determined that none of the members of congress serving on civil commissions had thereby vacated their seats in the house.

The judiciary committee has been conducting the inquiry for several days, and after an arduous session, ending at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, the injunction of secrecy was removed.

Mr. Henderson, chairman of the committee, says that throughout the inquiry partisanship did not enter into the question. The findings are embodied in a resolution which will be submitted to the house with a report. It will take some days before this can be done. The resolution states in detail the facts as to the military appointment, acceptance and service of General Wheeler and the other army officers, and then declares their seats vacated at the time of acceptance.

No statement was made public as to the votes. It is understood, however, that on the final vote on declaring vacant the seats of the military members, Mr. Jenkins, of Wisconsin, voted in the negative, and Mr. Parker, of New Jersey, voted in the negative in the case of Major Robbins, the latter having been mustered out of service.

General Wheeler was seen after the findings was announced, but asked to be excused from commenting on the decision as it was in the nature of a judicial proceeding.

It is said General Wheeler and his associates will take no action for the present, as the finding of the committee is yet to be passed upon by the house. The fact that Mr. Jenkins voted against unseating General Wheeler and the others may lead to a minority report, although no notice of such was given.

MORGAN'S BILL REJECTED.

The Hepburn Nicaraguan Canal Measure Favored.

The house committee on interstate and foreign commerce Friday directed a favorable report on the Hepburn Nicaragua canal bill with amendment, as a substitute for the Morgan bill passed by the senate.

The essential feature of the bill as reported is that it authorizes the president of the United States to acquire by purchase from Nicaragua and Costa Rica the territory necessary to build the canal and then to proceed with the construction of the canal.

One hundred and fifteen million dollars is appropriated for the completion of the work. The changes made in the original Hepburn bill are in reducing the appropriation from $140,000,000 to $115,000,000; striking out the provision for the acquisition of full ownership, jurisdiction and sovereignty of the route; and in adding civil engineers from the navy and civil life to those of the army for the purpose of making surveys, etc.

SEXTON'S ILLNESS CRITICAL.

Brain Complication Develops and Death May Ensue.

A Washington dispatch of Friday says: The condition of Colonel James A. Sexton is again such as to give much concern regarding the outcome of his illness.

A brain complication has developed, which makes the case extremely critical.

STONE ENTERS CONTEST.

Ex-Congressman a Candidate For Governor of Kentucky.

Ex-Congressman W. J. Stone, of Kuttawa, Ky., issued an address Friday to the democrats of the state formally announcing himself a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor and declaring the platform on which he stands.

Captain Stone is in favor of the Chicago platform with a clause opposing expansion and imperialism and a platform for 1900 and the renomination of Mr. Bryan for the presidency. He will advocate "the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1, without the consent of any foreign power."

MORE TROOPS FOR CUBA.

Transport Sails From Savannah Bound For Matanzas.

The transport Manitoba sailed from Savannah, Ga., Friday afternoon for Matanzas, Cuba, with six troops of the Second cavalry.

The Manitoba afterwards will go to San Juan from Matanzas to take the Forty-seventh New York regiment home to be mustered out.

WITH THE STATE'S LAW-MAKERS.

Victory for Public Schools—Bill to Increase the Appropriations Pass the House.

By a vote of 67 to 7 the house Wednesday morning voted to increase the appropriation for the public schools from $350,000 to $600,000.

A few moments later it passed a bill appropriating $15,000 to construct additional buildings for the Girls' Industrial school at Montevallo by a vote of 84 to 1, Mr. Kyle voting "no."

The debate on the bill to increase the appropriations was brief. It was at once seen that the sentiment was overwhelming in favor of better providing for the support of the public schools of the state, and this fact shut off several speeches to the gallery on the school question.

ADVERSE REPORT.

The Moody Dispensary Bill Will Probably Be Defeated in the House.

By a report of ten to five the committee having in charge the Moody dispensary bill has agreed to report the measure to the house adversely. The committee, after a three hours' session hearing the constitutionality of the measure argued by two of the state's most eminent lawyers, first voted on an amendment excluding from the provisions of the bill the counties of Jefferson, Tuskaloosa, Calhoun, Marengo and Macon. This amendment was adopted.

A vote was taken on the bill as amended. This vote stood six for and nine against the measure. A vote was then taken on the bill as it came from the senate, resulting in an adverse report by a vote of ten to five.

The aye and nay vote was was as follows: Ayes—Hubbard, Andress, Davidson, Patterson, Green. Nays—McQueen, Screws, Carson, Bayles, Graves, Smith, Dameron, Lacey, Vaughan, Doster.

This vote is seven more than the opponents of the measure had counted upon.

A motion will be made to take it from the adverse report and place it on the calendar. This will require a three-fifths vote of the house. It is doubtful if the bill can poll this vote. Its friends have only claimed a small majority for it. Out of ninety members in attendance they say they have fifty. If they have this strength there is still a slim chance for the bill to reach the calendar. If it reaches the calendar it will pass. But under the action of the committee it would still exclude Jefferson, Tuskaloosa, Calhoun, Marengo and Macon counties.

REVENUE BILL PASSES HOUSE.

Numerous Amendments, But Only One of More Than Passing Importance.

The house Thursday passed the general revenue bill by a vote of 68 to 9. The bill as passed is practically the old law, with a half dozen amendments, most of them being merely such as would make the different sections of the measure uniform.

One amendment was important. This is a provision that all county and state officials, elective or appointive, shall pay a stipulated sum to the secretary of the state for a commission. The amounts to be paid for their commissions is graduated according to the salary paid the officials. The maximum price for commission is fixed at $5 and the minimum at $1. This one provision will place several thousand dollars in the state treasury, as it is applicable from chief justice ot the supreme court to constable. The only section of the bill which precipitated a debate is the section placing a license tag of $1 on each $1,000 of real property transferred. Mr. Hunt, of Macon, moved that this section be stricken from the bill. Messrs. Mitchell, Brandon, Kyle and Seymour supported this action. The motion to strike out was lost.

The bill was then read at length and passed.

The bill designed to protect farmers from impure, adulterated fertilizers, introduced by Mr. Pettus, was passed.

Alaska Indians on the Warpath.

A special from Vancouver, B. C., says: Indians are on the warpath in Alaska. One battle has taked place and more fighting is imminent. Four Indians were killed and several were wounded in the fighting which has already taken place. Four American deputy marshals were wounded.

A two-horse wagon loaded with furniture, and on which six persons, five men and a young woman, were riding, was struck by a fast Baltimore and Ohio freight train at the crossing at Riverton station, just above McKeesport, Pa. Four of the men were killed, and the other man so badly injured that he will probably die.

Limestone county has already four candidates formally announced for the constitutional convention, Messrs. Erle Pettus and Thomas C. McClellan, for Limestone, and Hon. W. T. Sanders and Gen. J. H. Peebles, for Limestone and Lauderdale.

Women May Vote In Arkansas.

Senator Butler, of Ashley county, introduced a joint resolution in the Arkansas state senate Friday proposing the submission of a constitutional amendment to a vote of the people for female suffrage. The resolution contemplates giving women full and equal right to vote in all elections in Arkansas.

The Cherokee-Dawes treaty has been ratified by the Cherokees by a majority of more than 1,500.

COST OF IMPERIALISM.

ARMY BUDGET THE HIGHEST ON EARTH.

Shall This Unheard-of Burden of Taxation Be Borne by the People or Shall They Protest and Be Called Anarchists?

Secretary Alger, by asking for over $165,000,000 for the support of the regular army in time of peace, has raised two questions that touch the heart and the pocket of every American citizen who does not profit by legalized injustice and oppression. These questions are: "Shall the United States be more heavily taxed for military purposes than any other country on earth?" "Shall this unheard-of burden of taxation be carried almost exclusively by people of small means, while the wealth our armaments protect goes free?" If we spend $166,000,000 a year for the army, $150,000,000 for pensions and $50,000,000 for the navy, we shall be paying $366,000,000 for military purposes. That is nearly twice as much as any power in Europe pays for the same objects. It is more than we paid in taxes for the entire support of the government as lately as last year. The amount Secretary Alger asks for the army alone is more than Germany pays for her army and navy combined. We have been accustomed to commiserate the European peasant, crushed under the intolerable burden of standing armies, and now we are asked, with no necessity whatever, to subject ourselves to a burden twice as great. But the distribution of this burden of taxation is even worse than the load itself. Mr. Rockefeller, to take the most conspicuous specimen of a class, has a fortune of over $300,000,000. His power to accumulate, possess and increase this fortune depends upon the protection of the government. Mr. Rockefeller's income is over $20,000,000 a year. That is equal to the combined incomes of forty thousand families, each living on annual earnings of $500. Under the Republican system of national taxation, which is based not on resources, but on personal consumption, Mr. Rockefeller's income, if divided among forty thousand families, would be taxed forty thousand times; concentrated in his hands, it need be taxed only once. In other words, with forty thousand times the means of a workingman, Mr. Rockefeller is not obliged to pay more than a workingman's taxes. In some respects he pays less. He uses no beer or tobacco, and so escapes the taxation levied on those humble luxuries. He does not play cards, and so does not pay for the revenue stamp on every pack. He does not live in rented rooms, and so is not taxed for his lease and his rent receipts. He does not borrow money on mortgage, subject to a mortgage stamp tax. He has his family physician, and so does not buy taxed proprietary medicines. He drinks no more tea than a sewing girl starving on four dollars a week, and if he used a quality as fine as that sipped by the emperor of China he would still pay only the sewing girl's tax of ten cents a pound. He uses no more taxed sugar than is consumed by a day laborer, and wears little more taxed clothing. Practically all of Mr. Rockefeller's gigantic income is absolutely exempt from national taxation, while every person of moderate means is taxed to the earth. Is that right? The Democracy does not think so. It believes that incomes and not family expenditures should be the measure of taxation. No extravagance in government. Necessary expenses to be met by fair methods of taxation. There is an issue ready made to the hand of the Democracy, and it is a winning one.

Free Silver Night Schools.

The organization of these schools is becoming widespread. The movement was started by Mr. George Burr Smith, attorney, of Chicago, Ill. A number of years ago, when a teacher in a country school, Mr. Smith observed, while explaining examples in exchange to a class in arithmetic, that an increasing rate of exchange with India, China, Japan, the South American states, and all countries using the silver standard, would cause untold depression in this country; for, prices being fixed in the countries using the cheaper money, would necessarily be reduced in this country, just in proportion as the rate of exchange increased. In 1895 the rate of exchange had doubled, so that our prices had decreased one-half. The effect was felt more in this country, as we were a debtor nation, so that no matter how much prices decreased, our debts must be paid with the dearer money.

The organization of these schools requires no elaborate speech making. Leaflets are furnished containing problems which show, first, the cause of the low price, next the effect upon the producing classes. A third list of problems show the foreclosure of mortgages which follows a rising money standard. Examples are also given which show the distribution of the wealth of the nation, the rise of powerful corporations, and the effect upon labor.

Leaflets for a school of twenty-five members may be obtained from the local Democratic or silver committees. Collections are taken at the close of the meetings to pay for the literature and the expenses of the county organization in furthering the movement.

Age of Combines.

From the Indianapolis Sentinel: The tin plate combine just formed is the most extensive affair of the kind ever formed in this country, as it includes all the plants in the country but four—two in Pennsylvania, one in West Virginia and one in Missouri. To avoid anti-trust laws the new concern is organized as a corporation under the New Jersey laws, with $20,000,000 preferred stock and $30,000,000 common stock. Of this sum the purchase of the plants represents $12,000,000 and the proposed working capital $6,000,000. The remainder is pure water. The preferred stock is to have 7 per cent cumulative dividends, all over this, if any, going to the common stock. To pay the dividends on preferred stock will therefore be required $1,260,000, and to pay only 6 per cent on the common stock will be required $1,080,000, or a total of $2,940,000. The promoters claim, however, that the common stock will earn more than the preferred, since the latter is limited to 7 per cent. Allowing, however, only 6 per cent for the common stock, it would require about 50 cents a box profit on 6,000,000 boxes a year to earn these dividends. This shows what tremendous earning capacity the promoters are basing estimates on, and the earning capacity is chiefly due to our tariff law, which taxes every home for the benefit of these infant promoters.

For Cheap Wheat and Dear Flour.

Every householder in this nation will have cause to regret the success of the Republican party every time he buys a pound of flour, for under the protection of that party the great milling trust has been found to control the price of bread. Thomas A. McIntyre, who went to England to obtain the consent of British stockholders in American flour mills to the formation of a combination of the principal mills in this country, so as to make a trust controlling the output, returned on the White Star steamship Majestic. He said when he landed that his mission had been successful. The object of Mr. McIntyre's trip to Europe was to obtain the consent of Richard Glyn, the president, and other stockholders of the Pillsbury-Washburn mills, to a plan to form all the great milling interests of America into a gigantic flour trust. Immediately Mr. McIntyre hurried to his office in the Produce Exchange building, where he remained closeted with his partners for several hours. To his friends, privately, Mr. McIntyre is said to have strongly intimated that his mission abroad had been successful, and that the great combination, which will control about three-fourths of the world's breadstuffs, will surely be formed. It is said that the capital of the new trust will be $150,000,000 and the capacity 95,000 barrels of flour a day. There will, it is said, be included in the combination the following mills:

Mills—	Daily capacity, brls.
Hecker-Jones-Jewell, New York.	11,000
Pillsbury-Washburn, Minneapolis	25,000
Washburn-Crosby, Minneapolis..	17,000
Northwestern Consolidated Flour Milling Co., Minneapolis	15,000
Imperial Mill Company, Duluth.	8,000
Anchor Mills, Duluth	4,000
Daisy Mills, Duluth	6,000
William Lispman Mills, Superior	2,500
Freeman's Mills, Superior	2,500
Minkota Mills, Superior	1,000
Daisy Mills, Milwaukee	3,000
Total daily capacity	95,000

Total wheat consumed daily, 500,000 bushels.

Approving Trusts.

From the Chicago Chronicle: A new combination in restraint of trade has been organized in the state of New Jersey, where eight of the large rubber companies, manufacturing all kinds of rubber goods, excepting shoes and clothing, consolidated with a capital of $5,000,000. At its meeting in Washington the National Board of Trade had under consideration the question of trusts and combines. The resolution was offered requesting congress to use its power to prevent combinations restrictive of full and free competition. This resolution failed because it did not receive the necessary two-thirds vote. The resolution was irrelevant, because the fact is that congress did all that it could reasonably be expected to do when it passed the Sherman anti-trust bill, which is now upon the statute book as a law. If, in defeating the resolution inimical to combinations, the board had gone a step further and placed itself on record as commending the chief magistrate of the United States for failure to enforce the Sherman anti-trust law, notwithstanding repeated, manifest, notorious, current violations of the same, it would have proceeded quite in accordance with its failure to express itself as hostile to illicit combinations, out of which one of its members said "he himself was making something handsome." The national administration gives no efficacy to the voice of congress condemning combinations in restraint of trade and holds idle in this respect every one of the United States district attorneys the republic over.

"In Coin."

For the benefit of public creditors, congress, by the act of March 18, 1869, pledged the faith of the United States to the payment, in coin or its equivalent, of all its outstanding obligations. It is not pretended by any one that the government has ever assumed any severer or more onerous duty to its creditors than that declared by this act, or that it has at any time undertaken to pay any of its obligations otherwise than in coin? "Dollars" are the things to be paid—coin dollars, fabricated under and in pursuance of our coinage laws, each dollar to consist in or be represented by 412½ grains of standard silver or 25 8-10 grains of standard gold—that is, the weight of the silver in the silver dollar was to be sixteen times the weight of the gold in the gold dollar.

Committee Call.

A meeting of the Democratic executive committee of Shelby County is hereby called, to be held at Columbiana on February 18, 1899, at 12 m. for the purpose of arranging for the nomination of a candidate for delegate to the constitutional convention and sending delegates to the State convention. Every member of the committee is urged to be present.

W. B. BROWNE, Chairman.

Beat 1—W. B. Browne, J. R. White, J. F. Averyt.
2—N. N. Mosteller, I. N. Carson, G. E. Abbott.
3—Sam. T. Bristow, W. D. Huggins, H. T. Caffey.
4—W. S. Cary, C. L. Meroney, J. D. Trammell.
5—John Harmon, John Waddell, Columbus Benton.
6—J. L. Tucker, J. E. Ruffin, L. N. Ray.
7—J. B. Adams, Rufus Walker, C. L. O'Neal.
8—T. W. Lester, G. W. Shaw, John Dye.
9—J. L. Ray, J. W. Taylor, J. F. Pope.
10—T. J. Martin, L. H. Cosper, D. W. Kidd.
11—J. E. Adams, B. H. Smothers, E. L. Ray.
12—Early Cross, Dock Jones, W. E. Cross.
13—H. W. Lee, G. A. Bass, M. M. DeShazo.
14—J. M. Babb, J. P. Kinnett, Robert E. Collins.
15—R. M. Hollis, J. W. Moore, R. E. Cosper.
16—C. C. Elliott, J. J. Barks, E. Chandler.
17—Bill Dennis, Taylor Ferrell, William Cross.
18—J. T. Davis.

IT is said that the administration and anti-administration Democrats are so nearly even in the legislature that the Populists hold the balance of power, and that they get whatever they want in consequence. It looks that way.

IN watching the legislative proceedings last week we came to the same conclusion which was reached by many others—that Populist members and senators have much more influence in that body on local measures than the Democrats from their counties. This has not been the case heretofore, but it appears that most of our statesmen have forgotten their duty to their unrepresented neighbors. The latter will perhaps not forget so easily.

WE congratulate Montevallo, Captain Reynolds and the Girls' School upon the donation of public land by the General Government. It will make the town; it is a glorious achievment for Captain Reynolds; it assures the future of the school. The land will yield not less than $100,000, which will provide buildings and equipments for a magnificent school of 1,000 girls. The State will surely provide for the operation, and the girls of Alabama will be the recipients of all the good.

THE Supreme Court of Alabama has just decided a case which went up from this county, and in doing so has construed the exemption law very harshly for widows and minor children. It is a case where the widow and minor children held an exemption from an insolvent estate. The court decides in effect that where an estate is declared insolvent the widow holds as a joint owner in fee, and that her interest is subject to the claims of her creditors as if she held by purchase. The practical effect of this decision is to place the heirs of an insolvent estate in worse condition than those of a solvent estate, though the former unquestionably needs the protection of the law much the worse. Another practical effect is to drive the mother out of the common home and to leave the infant children to occupy with a stranger. This all may be law, but it is not common sense nor justice. If, as is held, the law should be liberally construed in favor of women and children, we suggest that it is high time for the legislature to change the wording of the law so that the astute judges may be able to render a decision in accordance with justice. In the case referred to, if no declaration of insolvency had been made an attempt to alienate the mother's interest would have worked a forfeiture of that interest to the children, and they could have recovered against the purchaser in an ejectment suit. But because, forsooth, the estate was insolvent, and the children had naught but their interest in the little homestead, a stranger may come in and take the mother's interest, and by so doing force the children out of their home or to abide with a stranger. Of course, this is only a common sense view of it, and it appears that common sense and law are different.

COURT HOUSE BILL PASSED.

The court house bill has passed the House and the election will be held whenever a petition of 50 names is presented to the board composed of the mayors of Columbiana and Calera and the treasurer of the county. It is to be supposed that this can easily be done, and doubtless the fight will soon be opened up.

It is not our purpose to have anything to say on this subject of removal until the election is called, but at this time we desire to give a history of the bill, which we think but just to the people who are interested.

It was introduced into the Senate by Mr. Deans, and referred to the committee on privileges and elections. Messrs. Browne and McMillan, who were in Montgomery at the time, at once sought out the friends of the measure and the members of the committee and asked the privilege of appearing before the committee for a hearing against the bill. This they were promised, but they afterwards found that promises are not to be depended upon. No meeting of the committee was ever held, and without giving the representatives of Columbiana any chance to be heard a report was signed by the committee, the bill reported and passed and sent without engrossment to the House. Here it was referred to the committee on counties and county boundaries. A meeting was held on Thursday night of last week, at which the bill was argued before a minority of the committee. Columbiana representatives were told by a prominent member of the House that the committee had its mind made up and it was useless to appear. The following day the bill was reported, and placed on the House calendar. It provided for no contest and gave the option of holding the election at any time within four years. Amendments were presented to the committee providing for a contest and putting the time of election at some time during the year 1900. These the committee declined to consider. Mr. Robinson, of Mobile, very kindly consented to fight the bill on the floor of the House, and on Monday the bill was called up by some member at a time when the opposition was most likely not to be on the alert. Mr. Robinson offered the amendments mentioned above, when Mr. Bulger, chairman of the committee, arose and stated the bill provided for a contest. This was found to be untrue on a reading of the bill, and Mr. Robinson began a stormy attack on the bill and the actions of its supporters. Then an amendment providing for a contest was adopted, and the bill was passed.

We give this history to show what measures were adopted for its passage and with what utter lack of consideration the opponents of the bill were treated by the legislature. More than one member is personally interested in Calera property, and the influence of many people out of the county was brought to bear.

This question is now before the people of the county, and we presume at the proper time will be aired on both sides. Since it is to be voted upon it appears to us a plain business proposition, and all we may have to say upon it in the future will be on this line. The treatment which Columbiana's representatives received at the hands of Democratic members of the legislature will not enter into the contest before the people. It will be attended to at some future time.

COMMITTEE CALL.

Elsewhere will be found the call of Chairman Browne for a meeting of the county Democratic executive committee. We desire to urge upon every member of the committee to be present. No question of half such moment to the people of Alabama has been presented since the present constitution was framed, and every white man owes it to himself and to his posterity to give attention to it. Let there be no lack of interest, no failing of duty.

No local measure should be allowed to interfere with this question, or to divide the white people on this proposition of Anglo-Saxon government. He who fails in his duty or lets anything else interfere therewith will have to bear the responsibility of his actions, and he may rest assured that he will be held accountable. The prime object of the constitutional convention is to take the ignorant and vicious negro out of politics, and the white man who seeks to prevent it or fails in his duty will be marked for future ostracism from the pure politics which is to follow the convention's work. We call upon the members of the committee to set the pace of duty by attending the meeting, and suggest that each one, so far as is possible, come prepared to voice the sentiment of his beat as to the method of nominating a candidate for delegate.

THE Anniston Index thinks our liver is wrong because we suggested that members of the legislature who vote against the dispensary law will lay themselves open to the suspicion of having been doctored by the saloon men, and because we said Mr. Aldrich ought to do something for Anniston. Well, our liver may be wrong, but we hardly think our head is on these two propositions. When you get your public building through Aldrich's influence, please let us know; but don't let him fool you like he did about the troops.

CASTORIA.

A LESSON IN GEOGRAPHY.

Representative Sturdivant, in a speech before the House committee, on the court house removal bill, made rather a broad statement for a preacher. He said that, drawing a line through the county from Bamford to Columbiana, three-fifths of the county's population would be south of that line. Mr. Sturdivant needs to study the geography of his county. Let's see:

South of such a line we find beats 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, and Shelby box of beat 1, there being enough of beat 7 north of the line to make up for that portion of Columbiana precinct south of it. Now for the population. The population can only be gotten by the election figures, allowing one vote to five person. At the August election last the precincts north of that line voted as follows—total vote:

NORTHERN END.

Beat 1—box 1	345
8	152
9	357
10—box 1	155
10— 2	119
11	111
14	75
15	160
16	174
17	85
18	45
Total	2001

SOUTH END.

Beat 1—box 2	167
2	121
3	217
4—box 1	260
4— 2	18
5	46
Total	1137

Thus it will be seen that instead of three-fifths, there is but one-third south of Mr. Sturdivant's imaginary line. He modified his statement later, and put the line up to Helena. This would add to the south end beats 6 and 17, which voted 210, leaving the total figures at 1,791 for the north end and 1,347 for the south end. This reverses Mr. Sturdivant's claim, and puts three-fifths north of the line.

We suggest that Mr. Sturdivant get him a map and study the geography of his county before he appears before a committee again.

Judging from this letter, E. G. Talton, of Pikeville, N. C., knows a good thing when he sees it. "I had Dyspepsia, Indigestion and other liver trouble for twelve years and tried three different doctors but to no avail. I commenced taking Simmons Liver Regulator and it has done me more good than any medicine I ever used. I always keep Simmons Liver Regulator in the house and cheerfully recommend it as the best remedy known."

ONE of the best compliments we have yet seen paid to Senator Morgan is the following from the Age-Herald's Washington correspondent:

Senator Morgan has never been a leader of his party for the reason that he is not a good follower. A good general has to have the ability to be a good private. Senator Morgan leads men irrespective of parties. He is a mammoth figure in the Senate, but he never takes hold of the party helm and never commands from the bridge. If men want to follow him, well and good, but he has no power save cold, hard facts to win men to his side. He has always pitched himself above mere party and has often voted with the Republicans on great questions, as he has voted against them. It was the same with Hill of New York, in the Senate. He and Morgan differ in this respect. Morgan is a builder, and Hill an iconoclast. So when the leadership of a party, either in the House or Senate is considered, such men as Morgan and Teller are eliminated, for they know no restrictions save their own mental scope.

That is to say, Morgan is a statesman. This one word describes him, and he fits the word with all the term applies.

Kidney disease is the enemy we have most to fear as a result of the feverish restlessness of our much vaunted modern civilization. It is a treacherous enemy, working out its deadly effect under cover of the most trifling symptoms. The first indication of changes in the urine, frequent headaches, digestive troubles should be the signal for prompt remedial measures. Prickly Ash Bitters is a kidney remedy of superlative merit; it is soothing, healing and strengthening, quickly relieves the aching or soreness that always appears in the advanced stages, checks the progress of the disease and through its excellent cleansing and regulating effect in the stomach, liver and bowels, it brings back the strength and ruddy glow of vigorous health. Parsnip Complexion.

It does not require an expert to detect the sufferer from kidney trouble. The hollow cheeks, the sunken eyes, the dark, puffy circles under the eyes, the sallow parsnip-colored complexion indicates it.

A physician would ask if you had rheumatism, a dull pain or ache in the back or over the hips, stomach trouble, desire to urinate often, or a burning or scalding in passing it; if after passing there is an unsatisfactory feeling as if it must be at once repeated, or if the urine has a brick dust deposit or strong odor.

When these symptoms are present, no time should be lost in removing the cause.

Delay may lead to gravel, catarrh of the bladder, inflammation, causing stoppage, and sometimes require the drawing of the urine with instruments, or may run into Bright's Disease, the most dangerous stage of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, is a positive remedy for such diseases. Its reputation is world-wide and it is so easy to get at any drug store that no one need suffer any length of time for want of it.

However, if you prefer to first test its wonderful merits, mention THE CHRONICLE and write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton, N. Y., for a sample bottle of this remedy and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

If you want the new road law in pamphlet form send 5 cents to THE CHRONICLE; 50 cents per dozen copies.

Now is the time to renew your subscription to THE CHRONICLE and take the Weekly Constitution—both papers for $1.50. This offer only good until the first of April.

CURRENT CRITICISMS.

By Mrs. F. W. GIST.

Is the life of thirty-five or even twenty brave American men worth the entire Philippine Islands with all their mixture of Malays, half-breeds and black ignoramuses? No. Not if among them is our own father, husband or brother. For each one of those dear brave American dead there are bleeding hearts, misery, grief and sorrow. Were they slain while standing up in defence of our own beloved American soil it were different. The expansion idea may be a great thing for those who deem us too large for our own little America. But we should prefer keeping our own among our own and do battle with our own negro, who is calculated to give us trouble enough.

It is claimed by both sides, the Americans and Aguinaldo each accusing the other of precipitating the battle at Manila last Sunday, just on the eve of the American Congress casting their vote on the ratification of the peace treaty. In either event it was was a poor effort to a poor end. For Aguinaldo to sacrifice 2,000 men and 5,000 taken prisoners besides as many more wounded, is a pitiable thing to do for the sake of trying to influence the vote of the American Congress. If the Americans did it, it was a pitiable thing to sacrifice the life-blood of even one man for the same purpose.

***

"The White Man's Burden" by Rudyard Kipling, is the strongest production of latter day poems. In it we see the moanful wail of what our war with Spain means.

***

The finest oratory that has been delivered during the present session of the legislature, was brought out last Monday on the passage of a bill granting 640 acres of land to Mrs. Emma Sansam Johnson. The only comment we can make on the passage of this bill is a deep regret that it was not done years ago. This woman, whose heroic deed is unexcelled in the pages of history, may not reap any rewards or profits before time for purchasing her casket.

***

The dispensary bill has been placed on the calendar. With bated breath and anxious hearts its supporters await action.

***

The Woman's Press Association which convenes in Birmingham on the 21st has an interesting program arranged.

***

Andrew J. Carnegie adds lustre to his name, an easy, comfortable feeling to his conscience and binds Georgia to him in bonds of love, in his gift of $100,000 to Atlanta for a public library.

***

Schlatter, the old humbug, etc., left Birmingham abruptly and proceeded to get married to an old woman humbug doctor. They will probably wander somewhere else and palm themselves off as second Messiahs. Couldn't there be a law enacted to punish such frauds as these?

***

Where is the heart in Alabama that doesn't swell with gratitude, congratulation and pride over the land grant to the Montevallo school, and the $15,000 appropriated by the State for building improvements? Montevallo is the coming town of the State. Watch and see.

***

Recently in our severe criticism of the Montevallo News, under the editorship of one Mr. Freeman, we did not intend or apprehend that we would run him out of the town and, mayhap, out of the State. Nevertheless, he's gone, and his creditors are wondering where. We took it for granted that all newspaper people were able to stand criticism like so much water on a duck's back; but the point in this instance must have been he was no newspaper man. The News is neatly printed now, and there is no danger of its present editor ever running away and leaving anybody in the lurch.

***

Our short paragraphs can easily be accounted for. It is so unusually cold that we dash off a paragraph and rush to the fire.

***

We are delighted to apologize to Calera people for our misapprehension and accusation of a petition against the bill. Our authority for information would be considered by our Calera correspondent as reliable; but as it was not we cheerfully retract with our best apology. But our correspondent can't deny the ground he occupies on the saloon question.

A great many people are influenced by what others say, but no one should be influenced by a druggist and induced to take a substitute for Simmons Liver Regulator, the tried and proven cure for Constipation, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Biliousness and all Stomach and Liver Diseases. MONTEVALLO MURMURS.

News of the Growing City of Shelby.

Montevallo is in a whirl of excitement and good feeling over the news contained in the press dispatches Tuesday of the passage by the House of Representatives of the bill donating 25,000 acres of the public lands in Alabama to the Girls' Industrial School at this place. This bill had passed the Senate, and its passage by the House is the happy finale to the long-continued efforts of Capt. H. C. Reynolds for this magnificent donation to the school. The bill empowers the Governor of Alabama with the selection of the land, which at the lowest calculation will yield $100,000 to the school. It means much to the school and much to Montevallo. That amount of money, with the generous care of the State, will make the school one of the best in the United States, and the best of its kind in the South. Our town will be the observed of all who want a location for health and education. Everybody is loud in praise of Captain Reynolds for his untiring efforts in getting this donation from the General Government. He has overcome the political greed of our Congressman, as well as the unkind prejudice of Speaker Reed, and to him is due all the credit.

Property has already advanced 50 per cent here, as our people feel that the success of the school and the town is assured.

Monday afternoon a difficulty occurred between Frank Kroell and C. F. Groves, in which the latter was shot by the former in the arm. The wound is insignificant. The shooting was a sequel to an encounter on Sunday between Kroell and Lee Rice, in which the latter was struck with a brick. Rice is brother-in-law to Groves.

Fire broke out Sunday night about 12.30, and in a short while the Racket Store, run by B. F. Crabb, was burned to the ground. A small house adjoining, occupied by C. C. Vandegrift, was also burned, and some damage was done to the Hotel St. George. The loss to Mr. Crabb is estimated by him at $1,800, covered by $1,300 of insurance. The two houses were the property of Mr. Vandegrift, who had no insurance. The fire was evidently of incendiary origin, as there had been no fire in the house since Saturday, if any then. It is thought the fire started in the upper story. Mrs. Ham, who had just completed the building of a nice residence, had her household goods stored in the upstairs of the building, and they were totally destroyed.

Saul Leonard was arrested here last week and tried before Justice Harris on the charge of assaulting his stepdaughter, Miss Nelson, a young lady of about 17 years. He was fined $500 and sentenced to 6 months hard labor, but took an appeal and was placed under a $1,000 bond to await the action of the grand jury. The charge was preferred by Mrs. Leonard, the mother of the girl, who was the widow of Bud Nelson. The case will develop into quite a bad affair.

Our people are looking on in quiet disinterestedness with regard to the courthouse removal. Some new counties will be made in this section before long, and Montevallo will be the seat of one of them. With this as a certainty we are not likely to bother ourselves about the present fight between Calera and Columbiana, especially as the former might be in our way sometime. Montevallo is the coming town of this section, and her people are going to look out for themselves.

The "Regular" Army should include in its ranks every man, woman and child in the country. Too many people are irregular. Take Simmons Liver Regulator and you will soon become a "Regular." "I am sixty-two years old and for over twenty-five years was so troubled with Constipation I could not keep regular, I suffered dreadful pains in the Stomach and Liver, but have not been troubled since taking Simmons Liver Regulator."—Wm. H. Smith, West Liberty, Pa.

Dr. J. W. Sheaff delivered a lecture in the Methodist church last Tuesday night under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of this place. Although the inclemency of the weather prevented many from attending, his lecture was greatly enjoyed by those who heard it. Dr. Sheaff is indeed a brilliant speaker, and it is to be hoped he will return at some future date when all of our people may hear him.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for La Grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure La Grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Williams Bros., Druggists.

The Companion's First Subscriber.

The Youth's Companion is probably the only periodical in the world seventy-two years of age, whose first subscriber is still living and still a constant reader of the paper. The subscriber who enjoys this unique distinction is Mrs. Hannah C. Parsons, of Brooklyn, New York, now in her 85th year. She was the little sister of a friend of Nathaniel Willis, father of N. P. Willis, the poet, and founder of The Youth's Companion. When Mr. Willis had resolved upon publishing a new paper for young people, his friend had him put down his sister's name as the first subscriber. The Companion's first issue was dated April 13, 1827, and for more than seventy years this first subscriber has continued to read and enjoy it.

During the remainder weeks of 1899 The Companion will contain a fresh and varied interest for all subscribers, old and young, by presenting a volume of delightful stories and articles surpassing in attractiveness those of any former year. The most popular of living writers will give the best work of their best hours to the entertainment of the hundreds of thousands of households in which The Youth's Companion is every week a welcome guest.

New subscribers will receive the beautiful Companion Calendar for 1899, the most beautiful one ever given to Companion readers, in addition to The Companion for fifty-two weeks, a full year, from the time subscription is received.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Something About the Greatest Weekly Newspaper in the Country.

REDUCED RATE FOR TWO PAPERS.

Take Your Home Paper and The Constitution and be Happy.

We call special attention to our clubbing arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing price of the two papers being only $1.50 per year, subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the claim of circulation made by The Constitution and put up a forfeit of $100 that it could be disproved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm. Mr. George P. Rowell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has just been brought to a close, the reports of no newspaper in the South could compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative sailed with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and of the 120 correspondents who went to Cuba, he was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. Its special representative also accompanied the fleet in the Caribbean sea, and its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with the promptness of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manila, the death of Lieut. Hagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all given in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

The Weekly Constitution makes a special feature of its agricultural page, which is presided over by Colonel R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment farm, and a man who is recognized as an expert on all agricultural topics. He gives a full page every week on agricultural matters. A page is devoted to the women and a page to children, these two departments being presided over by Mrs. William King.

Among the regular staff members of The Constitution are Joel Chandler Harris, Frank L. Stanton and others well known throughout the country; while among its special contributors are such men as Wallace P. Reed, Bill Arp, Sarge Plunkett, Betsy Hamilton, Dr. Talmage and others of national reputation.

The Constitution has just completed the thirtieth year of its existence. Clark Howell being the editor and Col. W. A. Hemphill is its business manager. Its name is a household word in every southern state, from Virginia to Texas. It has always been in especially close touch with the agricultural masses of the South, and in having reached a circulation which carries it into 150,000 homes it has won a unique distinction which ranks it among the greatest of American weekly newspapers.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscriptions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every southern home!

A GREAT MISSING WORD CONTEST

The Chronicle Offers a New Plan to Its Subscribers who Take The Constitution in Combination Offer.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE SEASON.

We take pleasure in announcing a missing word problem to our subscribers in connection with the Weekly Constitution of Atlanta, Ga. This is the sentence:

It is taken from a charming, living Southern author, and is offered to test the knowledge of our people of their own writers. The missing word is a plain, every-day English word, not a compound word, nor a proper name and is used in its ordinary acceptation. The prize to be given will be 10 per cent of all the subscriptions received from contestants by the Constitution, and will be paid by the Constitution. That paper has paid on missing word contests alone nearly $10,000 in cash prizes. To one party, M. L. Britain, was given a check for $1,033.50 for one successful guess; others have received large sums ranging from $585 to $369 on similar propositions. This contest is to run until April 1, 1899, at which time the results will be promptly and properly announced.

Every subscriber who takes advantage of our clubbing offer with The Constitution may enter his own word to fill the blank in the sentence, and must be given to us at the time of the subscription so we can forward it together with his order for the Constitution. It is a plain, fair plan and we feel sure many will hunt up the word or take a shot at it. The subscription orders under this combination offer must be sent directly to this office and not to the Constitution. We will forward everything ourselves.

WINE OF CARDUI

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Monday.

THE SENATE.—An effort on the part of Mr. Allison, of Iowa, to obtain consideration in the senate today for the Indian appropriation bill precipitated a running debate, which occupied all the time until the senate at 2 o'clock went into executive session on the peace treaty. A house joint resolution authorizing the secretary of war to admit to the West Point military academy as a student Andres Poute Ruego, of Venezuela, was adopted at the opening of the session. A bill was passed changing the place of meeting of the United States court for the southern district of Mississippi from Mississippi City to Biloxi. Mr. Bacon's resolution regarding the Philippines caused a number of speeches. The senate then adjourned.

THE HOUSE —The house put in a hard day's work on the army bill today, and tonight when it adjourned thirteen of the twenty pages had been completed. The committee amendments giving the president discretionary power to reduce the size of the infantry companies and cavalry troops to sixty men each were adopted, and also a series of amendments to reduce the officers of the staff 331. A substitute was adopted for the section providing for promotions, which was designed to equalize promotions. Much of the time today was occupied in short speeches on the general proposition to increase the army and annex the Philippines, and there were several lively personal controversies.

Tuesday.

THE SENATE.—During almost the entire morning the senate had under discussion the policy of this country to be pursued in the Philippine islands. Mr. Berry, in a speech upon the resolution offered by Mr. Vest, discussed the policy of expansion without a reference to the constitutional point involved in the Vest resolution. He spoke from notes, stating his objections to the pending treaty of peace. He declared that he would never vote to place upon any people a policy against which Lee fought and against which Jackson gave up his life. An attempt by Mr. Bacon, of Georgia, to secure a vote upon his resolution, which in brief declares that the United States government will not make war upon a people seeking their freedom precipitated a lively row, which was participated in by himself and Mr. Platt, of Connecticut. Mr. Bacon declared that he would not vote for the treaty. To this Mr. Platt took exception and delivered a carefully analyzed reply. No action on the resolution was taken.

Wednesday.

THE SENATE.—For a few minutes in the senate today it seemed likely that a vote might be taken on one or more of the resolutions relating to expansion that are pending before that body. Mr. Bacon had called up his resolutions, and Mr. Chandler, of New Hampshire, had withdrawn his motion to refer them to the committee on foreign relations. Mr. Sullivan, of Mississippi, had entered a motion to substitute his resolution for those of Mr. Bacon, while Mr. Davis, chairman of the foreign relations committee, had announced that he was willing that a vote should be taken immediately. As it was evident, however, that a vote on the resolutions and amendments could not be taken before 2 o'clock, the hour fixed by unanimous consent for the senate to go into executive session, Mr. Bacon asked for unanimous consent that a vote be taken at 12:30 tomorrow. To this request Mr. Carter, of Montana, objected, and the whole question was left suspended. Mr. Rawlins, of Utah, addressed the senate upon the Vest anti-expansion resolution, devoting the greater part of his time to a defense of his position that the constitution applies as well to the people of our territories as those of the states.

Senators Teller and Hoar were the speakers in the executive session of the senate today. Mr. Teller made a set speech in support of the treaty, and Mr. Hoar replied. Both went over much ground that had been covered before.

THE HOUSE.—The house entered upon consideration of the river and harbor bill and made rapid progress. The bill appropriated directly about $12,500,000 and authorizes contracts to the extent of $18,000,000 additional. The general debate was unusually brief. Its feature was a speech in opposition to the bill by Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, who has fought every river and harbor bill for the last six years. He said he knew his opposition would avail nothing, as the votes for its passage had been arranged for by the appropriations in the bill. He particularly opposed the Mississippi river improvement, which was ably defended by Mr. Catchings, of Mississippi.

Thursday.

THE SENATE.—A notable speech was made in the senate today by Mr. Spooner, of Wisconsin. He took as his text the anti-expansion resolution offered by Mr. Vest, but did not confine himself closely to that proposed declaration of policy. He discussed the question of expansion in all its phases, and urged the ratification of the peace treaty as the best means of bringing the burning question home to the people themselves, who, he said, could well be trusted on their sober second thought to do that which would be fair, just and generous towards the inhabitants of the Philippine archipelago. Mr. Platt, of New York, laid before the senate the resolutions adopted by the legislature of New York, urging the immediate ratification of the peace treaty. In this connection, Mr. Chandler, of New Hampshire, called the attention of senators to similar resolutions adopted by the legislature of New Hampshire. Mr. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, presented a number of memorials from business men's associations of Boston, New York and Chicago, urging that the territory, except Cuba, acquired by the United States during the late war, be retained "until such time as congress may determine its final disposition."

THE HOUSE.—The river and harbor bill, carrying slightly more than $80,000,000, passed the house today by a vote of 160 to 7. This is the largest majority any river and harbor bill has ever obtained in the house. The bill attracted little opposition, and every effort to amend in any important particular failed. Saturday, February 11, was set apart for paying tribute to the late Mr. Dingley, of Maine.

Friday.

THE SENATE.—The senate today listened to arguments in opposition to expansion and in opposition to the ratification of the treaty of peace. The speakers were Mr. Money, of Mississippi, and Mr. Daniel, of Virginia. Mr. Money's address was comparatively brief, as he did not enter into the constitutional phases of the question. He vigorously antagonized the ratification of the treaty, holding that by such action the Filipinos would be admitted to the union as citizens, and that if they were not capable of self-government we did not want them. Mr. Daniel made an exhaustive argument, in which he covered all the points in the controversy. His speech was a brilliant oratorical effort and at its conclusion he was applauded warmly. Mr. Hale, chairman of the naval affairs committee, favorably reported the following joint resolution, which was adopted: That the secretary of the navy is hereby authorized to have erected in the Colon cemetery, at Havana, Cuba, a suitable granite monument to the memory of the sailors and marines who lost their lives by the explosion of the United States battleship Maine in the harbor of Havana on the 15th of February, 1898, and whose remains are buried in that cemetery, and to suitably inscribe and inclose such monument; and the sum of $10,000 is appropriated for this purpose."

THE HOUSE —At the opening of the session of the house today Mr. Burton (rep.), Ohio, chairman of the river and harbor committee, rose to a question of privilege in connection with some remarks of Mr. Hawley (rep.), of Texas, printed in the Record this morning, but which Mr. Burton claimed had not been delivered on the floor. Mr. Dockery (dem.), Missouri, who was anxious to prevent consideration of certain relief measures, which would follow in the regular course of things, made the point of no quorum. A quorum appeared on the roll call. Mr. Bailey (dem.), Texas, moved an adjournment. "It is perfectly apparent," said he, "that we can accomplish nothing today." The motion to adjourn was lost, 95 to 108. Mr. Hitt presented to the house the conference report upon the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. The report was agreed to, and at 3 o'clock the house adjourned.

Saturday.

THE SENATE.—This was another day of expansion oratory in the senate. In the open session the speakers were Mr. Chilton, of Texas, and Mr. Wolcott, of Colorado. Mr. Chilton made a constitutional argument in support of the Vest resolution, his principal objection to the annexation of the islands being that it would admit to this country both the Filipinos and their products to come in competition with our own workingmen and their products. Mr. Wolcott made an eloquent, almost impassioned, appeal to the senate for the ratification of the peace treaty.

THE HOUSE.—The house today passed the military academy bill, carrying about $600,000. It served as a text for a speech by Mr. Griggs, of Georgia, on the president's suggestion that the government care for the graves of the confederate dead. The discussion diverged from the military academy when Mr. Griggs took up the president's recent utterances as to government care for confederate graves. He referred to the devotion of southern men to the country from the days of Appomattox to those of Santiago. Let there be an end therefore, he urged, to the constant reiteration of reconciliation between the sections. That reconciliation had long ago been accomplished and with the new generation of the south, the younger men, there was no need of reconciliation, as there had been no separation. "We accept the words of the president in good faith," said Mr. Griggs, "but we insist that this shall be the last reconciliation of the sections. Let this be the final ratification of the treaty of peace between the north and south." Mr. Griggs' speech was warmly applauded and he received many congratulations. The exercises in connection with the acceptance from the state of Missouri of the statues of Thomas H. Benton and Francis P. Blair then began. A resolution accepting the statues was agreed to, and the house adjourned.

Cyclone Aftermath.

From Dale, near Birmingham, comes further information of the cyclone which passed over that place Friday afternoon. Tom King, an employe in the quarry there, had his spine broken and cannot recover. Five other men were injured, though it is not believed that they are seriously hurt. Twelve houses were leveled, causing a damage of no less than $2,500 to the Pioneer Mining and Manufacturing Company, which operates the quarry at Dale. The path of the cyclone was about 150 feet wide and it had fearful velocity. Much damage was done to farm houses in the neighborhood and in Blount county. The loss is considerable, though no definite details from there are yet obtainable.

Negoes Migrating.

Two carloads of negroes from Bordeaux, S. C., and vicinity passed through Alabama Friday en route to Rosedale, Miss., where they will settle. They are the third batch of negroes who have emigrated from the scene of riot in the Carolinas to the state of Mississippi. They will secure service on the plantations.

The application for a receiver for the Atlanta Loan and Building association was denied.

There is a new spurious $10 certificate. It is said to be a bungled affair, important details being badly imitated. It is sad to note an artistic falling off in the work of the forgers. Are they beginning to despise the intelligence of the public.

CURRENT NEWS IN ALABAMA.

CONFEDERATE RELIEF BILL.

An Important Measure Passed by the Legislature.

The house Friday passed the bill introduced by Mr. Hubbard to provide for the relief of needy confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows who are in destitute circumstances. The bill was prepared by Auditor W. S. White, and when introduced into the house was referred to a special committee, consisting of eleven old soldiers. This committee reported the bill favorably with but a single amendment.

The bill makes many important changes from the old law. It provides for the appointment of two examiners of pensions in each county, one to be a physician and the other a Confederate soldier, to pass upon the applications for pensions. It further provides for a state board of examiners of pensions to consist of three members, one to be a physician and two ex-soldiers, which has final jurisdiction in passing on applications. There was little opposition to the measure on the floor of the house, and after a short debate it was passed by a vote of 67 to 7.

STORM RAGED.

Played Havoc at Dale and Near Birmingham.

A heavy hail storm raged at Morris, in the upper part of Jefferson county, Friday. This seemed to start a cyclone, and a swath 300 yards wide was mowed for several miles. Trees, telegraph poles, houses, railroad cars and fences were blown down. Several people are reported injured, but as far as known no one was killed.

At Dale, a stone quarry camp, twelve houses and a big commissary were levelled. Several people were badly injured. Railroad cars were blown off the track and some of them propelled a mile away.

One mile above Village Springs the cyclone blew down Lige Bowden's house, seriously injuring him and slightly injuring his family. The storm seemed to break against a mountain at this point and was dissipated.

Contract Awarded.

Friday the Alabama Steel and Wire Company, which erected a two-million dollar steel, nail, rod and wire mill at Ensley City, awarded the contract for fourteen boilers to the Sterling Boiler Company of Pittsburg. The boilers will furnish 6,000 horse power, and will cost $60,000. The machine shop of the plant is completed and is at work making 200 nail machines. Contracts for engines for the plant will be awarded in the next few days. Work is being pushed at Ensley, and the steel mill and the nail plant, representing an investment of over $3,000,000, will both be in operation by June.

Rushing the New Railway.

The work on the Pine Apple and Repton branch will be done with a rush. Thomas McFarland and Jack Goodman, railroad contractors, of Knoxville, Tenn., have secured a $100,000 contract for grading on the Alabama Southern extension of the Louisville and Nashville railroad. It is more than probable that a connection for this road will be made at Selma with a road to be built from the coal fields.

Bill Passed to Legalize Primaries.

The Senate of Alabama Friday passed the bill introduced and championed through the house by Mr. Pettus, of Limestone, which seeks to legalize primary elections in Alabama. The bill throws safeguards around primaries in the state and imposes reasonable penalties for fraud, bribery, etc., in primaries. The bill only needs the signiture of the governor to become a law.

BRIEFLY TOLD.

Opelika is spending $35,000 for new residences.

The confirmation of Smith, the Opelika postmaster, who has been so bitterly fought, is now certain.

A report to the Montgomery Advertiser says that Limestone county will develop much opposition to the constitutional convention.

While attempting to board a moving Southern railway passenger train at Brookside, John Stewart, a miner, fell under the wheels and was probably fatally hurt. A leg and an arm were cut off and other severe injuries inflicted.

Isaiah Davis, colored, was hanged in Mobile Friday in the county jail for the murder of Thomas Jones, a respected and inoffensive white citizen, on July 27, 1898.

The Jackson board of road commissioners met last week and organized. Of the $250,000 worth of bonds they were authorized to issue, it was decided to offer half for sale now, and bids will be advertised for, returnable March 1.

Mr. Hurd's bill to refund Col. Robert McKee, of Birmingham, $1,450, the amount of a state bond and interest thereon, misplaced while he was private secretary to Governor O'Neal, in 1888, passed the house Friday. The bond has never been presented for payment.

Safeblowers effected an entrance into the union depot of the Southern, Alabama Great Southern and Central of Georgia railroads in the suburb of Woodlawn and, blowing open the safe, into which they had drilled holes, took the money in it, amounting to $35 or $40, and decamped, leaving no clue behind.

A cyclone passed over the western portion of Lowndes county, Mississippi, Friday. A number of cabins on several plantations were blown down and many negroes injured.

Clerk N. W. Trimble, of the United States court, has received a letter from Judge Toulmin, at Mobile, saying that he will hold an adjourned session of that court at Birmingham, beginning February 20th and continuing until March 4th. Only common law cases and no criminal or equity cases will be heard.

The Indian disturbances at Juneau, Alaska, occasions no apprehensions among the officials at Washington of a general conflict between the whites and Indians. No official word of the affair has reached Washington.

True Greatness In Medicine

Is proved by the health of the people who have taken it. More people have been made well, more cases of disease and sickness have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla than by any other medicine in the world. The peculiar combination, proportion and process in its preparation make Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar to itself and unequalled by any other.

The Home and the Nation.

The home where the citizen is made is the source of national life. The welfare of the home is the true commonwealth. Sins against the home are treason to the state; every offender against the peace and purity of the family life strikes hard and swift at the national life. Scandals in social life are deadlier than scandals in politics; the wreck of a home points straight toward the ruin of the state. The path of revolution is blazed by the unfaithful husbands; society collapses utterly when wives cease to be true. The question of criminality aside, the consequences of woman's fall are infinitely great. Humanity fell with Eve; the woman only can keep the family pure. So long as she stands guard over the home the tempter is held at bay; the catastrophe is delayed. What we euphemistically call the social evil wounds the family, but cannot kill till social customs have corrupted the women who make our homes.—New York Evangelist.

AIDED BY MRS. PINKHAM.

MRS. W. E. PAXTON, Youngtown, North Dakota, writes about her struggle to regain health after the birth of her little girl:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to your list, hoping that it may induce others to avail themselves of your valuable medicine.

"After the birth of my little girl, three years ago, my health was very poor. I had leucorrhœa badly, and a terrible bearing-down pain which gradually grew worse, until I could do no work. Also had headache nearly all the time, and dizzy feelings. Menstruations were very profuse, appearing every two weeks.

"I took medicine from a good doctor, but it seemed to do no good. I was becoming alarmed over my condition, when I read your advertisement in a paper. I sent at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking two-thirds of the bottle I felt so much better that I send for two more. After using three bottles I felt as strong and well as any one.

"I think it is the best medicine for female weakness ever advertised, and recommend it to every lady I meet suffering from this trouble."

Maternity is a wonderful experience and many women approach it wholly unprepared. Childbirth under right conditions need not terrify women.

The advice of Mrs. Pinkham is freely offered to all expectant mothers, and her advice is beyond question the most valuable to be obtained. If Mrs. Paxton had written to Mrs. Pinkham before confinement she would have been saved much suffering. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

Old Egypt.

Dr. W. M. Petrie has now conclusively proved that Egypt was inhabited by men previous to 4000 B. C. Excavations between Nagade and Ballos show that some foreign race must have driven out the early inhabitants of the country, for in the thousands of graves that have been opened by Dr. Petrie not a single object of the usual Egyptian type has been found. Dr. Petrie thinks that this prehistoric race in Egypt flourished about 5000 B. C., or possibly even earlier. The people were probably of Libyan stock, with some negro mixture, judging from the various objects discovered in the course of excavation at Nagade.

A Meteorological Phenomenon.

The buran, or snow hurricane of the Pamirs, is a meteorological phenomenon of great interest. Even in midsummer the temperature during a snow buran frequently falls to 14 degrees Fahrenheit, while in the winter of 1892-93 it dropped to 45 degrees below zero at the end of January. The buran comes with startling suddenness, the atmosphere growing dark with whirling snowflakes where scarcely a minute before the sky was perfectly clear.

Ivory Soap can be used freely; it is the best for creameries or dairies, because it rinses easily and leaves neither odor nor taste.

China's First Railway.

The first railroad constructed in China was a narrow-gauge line from Shanghai to Woosung, put down in 1876, and intended chiefly as an ocular demonstration to the Chinese. At the end of twelve months it was sold to a Chinese official, who straightway tore up the rails and deported them to Formosa. The single dummy engine of the line now reposes peacefully in the mud of some Formosan harbor, together with the wreck of the junk in which it was transported. During these twelve months of its existence the Shanghai-Woosung railroad, with its single dummy engine and its train of small cars, which, by the way, were of American pattern, carried three hundred thousand passengers. The Chinese came from far and wide to see and experiment with this new barbarian curiosity, and the people in the neighborhood, soon finding it an institution of great practical utility, became regular patrons. The predicted uprising of the people against the construction of the road never materialized, and as for the graves along the route, every farmer would manufacture as many graves as he could get dollars for permission to traverse them.

COLDEST WEATHER EVER KNOWN.

The Entire South Feels the Blizzard's Teeth.

FAR BELOW ZERO ALL OVER THE COUNTRY.

All Previous Records Have Been Broken and Great Suffering is Experienced—The Weather Bureau Explains the Unusual Fall in Temperature.

In years to come when people of the present day shall have become the oldest inhabitants," they will tell generations yet unborn of the cold wave of 1899. All previous weather records for the state have been smashed into kindling wood by the present cold spell which swooped down on the district Saturday night, reaching its severest point early Sunday morning. Reports from all portions of the state indicate the coldest weather ever experienced. At Anniston 14 degrees below zero was recorded while Selma, Montgomery, Goodwater, Opelika and many other points report from 5 to 10 degrees below. The coldest weather ever experienced in the state was recorded several years ago at Valley Head in the extreme northern portion, when 8 degrees below was reached. For twenty-seven years the lowest previous record at Montgomery was 10 degrees above on January 28, 1897.

At Birmingham the thermometer registered 10 degrees below zero, the lowest temperature ever recorded in that city.

At Anniston the coldest weather ever known in that section came Saturday night. Daniel Chapman, colored, froze to death in his bed at Oxford, and there is much suffering.

At Mobile the mercury registered 1 degree below zero, 12 degrees lower than the weather bureau record for twenty-nine years ago. The truck crops were killed, entailing a large loss.

Uniontown, Perry county, reports 12 degrees below zero and great suffering. One negro man was frozen to death.

The thermometer dropped to 7 degrees below zero at Opelika. A regular hurricane blew all night. The snow is frozen hard. A great deal of suffering exists.

Weather Unprecedented in Florida.

Unprecedented weather visited northern Florida Sunday. Sleet was followed by light snow in all of the western and middle districts of Florida. The temperature was 2 degrees below zero at Tallahassee and 9 above at Jacksonville. Early maturing vegetables were killed. What damage was done to orange trees is yet in doubt, subsequent weather being an important factor in determining. In the orange belt the temperatures were not so low as they have been. In northern Florida the weather was unprecedented.

Twelve Below at Little Rock.

All records for low temperatures in Arkansas have been broken and February 12, 1899, will be treasured up in the memory of the "oldest inhabitant" for years to come. At 11 o'clock Saturday night the thermometer in the weather bureau registered 1 degree above zero. The mercury then began its toboggan slide and at 8 a. m. Sunday it reached the lowest on record at Little Rock, 12 degrees below zero.

At 5 o'clock Sunday morning the temperature at Pochahontas, Ark., registered 22 degrees below zero. White river, a stream with an unusually rapid current is frozen from bank to bank.

Reports from all over North Texas are that the blizzard of Saturday and Sunday was the most severe in the history of the state. Loss of cattle in the Indian Territory and on the Pan Handle ranges will likely be very large. Zero weather was recorded all over North Texas Sunday morning. Snow has been on the ground at Dallas for seven days. This is the longest cold spell for fourteen years.

Dispatches from different points throughout Georgia report un-heard of weather. At Carrollton, Ga., the thermometer registered 15 degrees below. A fall of snow from two to six inches in depth covers the entire state.

THE WEATHER BUREAU

Explains the Movements of the Mercury.

WASHINGTON.—Weather conditions and general forecast: Since Sunday night the Atlantic coast storm has moved from Florida to the Massachusetts coast, with a velocity and increased intensity such as has been seldom equaled in the history of the Weather Bureau. The barometer at Wood's Hole tonight reads 28.86 inches, a fall of one inch since 8 a. m. Monday. Remarkably heavy snow has accompanied the storm, and still continues at 8 p. m. from Virginia northward.

Accompanying the snow there were northerly winds of hurricane velocity, and hurricane warnings were issued at noon on the Atlantic coast from Delaware Breakwater to East Port. So severe has been this storm that there has been an almost total paralysis of all classes of business in the middle Atlantic states. In the vicinity of Washington this storm has greatly exceeded all previous records. About twenty inches of snow has fallen since Saturday afternoon, and thirty-four inches the past eight days. Of equal interest with this storm has been the record-breaking temperature for the south.

At New Orleans Sunday morning the temperature was 6 degrees above zero, 9 degrees lower than any previous record, while at Jacksonville, Fla., it was 10 degrees above, or 4 degrees lower than any previous record. The observer at Jacksonville reports heavy snow and sleet during Sunday night, and that great damage has been done to the crops. The line of freezing temperature in Florida extended through the upper two-thirds of the state, with a maximum of 28 degrees at Tampa.

A Freeze a Blessing.

Viewed from a hygienic standpoint on the yellow fever germs, the freeze in the south is a blessing to the people of that section, according to Dr. Wyman, the surgeon-general of the marine hospital corps.

"It is just what we wanted," said he, in speaking on the subject, "and I believe it will be productive of great good in stamping out the germs that may still exist after the very thorough work which has been done by the state and national officials in eradicating all vestiges of last summer's epidemic. It certainly is a blessing to the people of the south as far as next summer is concerned."

Coldest Weather Ever Known.

The section around Vicksburg, Miss., is experiencing the coldest weather ever known. The thermometer reached one degree below zero Sunday morning. The river is frozen for 200 feet from the shore. Two negroes were frozen to death.

It is reported from Greenville that fifteen coal barges broke their tow there at 8 o'clock, and are floating down the river with the ice. Six men are aboard the barges.

Coldest Ever Known.

The thermometer reached 14 degrees below zero at Ashville, N. C., the coldest ever known. At noon the mercury stood at 10 degrees below. There is much suffering.

Twenty-Four Below Zero.

The thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero at Fayetteville, Ark., which is about 15 degrees colder than has ever been known. In the large orchards many trees have bursted open from the cold.

Farmers' Freeze to Death.

At Dallas, Texas, B. F. G. Johnson, Willis Clark and another farmer were frozen to death while attempting to walk from McKinney to their homes.

Two Children Cremated.

A special from St. Charles, La., says two children of Frank Edelman were cremated and Mary Bankins, aged 12 years, so badly burned that she will die. Edelman was badly burned in saving the other members of the family from the burning building. Babe Perkins, a white man, attempted to ride home last night. His body was found in the morning where he had fallen from his horse and frozen to death.

Col. Colson Shot.

The trouble that has been brewing for some time between Col. David G. Colson and First Lieut. E. D. Scott, of the Fourth Kentucky, culminated at a late hour Saturday night at Anniston in a pitched battle, in which Col. Colson was shot in the hip and Lieut. Scott and many others had narrow escapes.

Alabama's Legislators in Mobile.

The general assembly of Alabama left Montgomery for Mobile Monday on a special train to attend the Mardi Gras festivities. There were 155 in the legislative party, containing about fifty ladies.

Children Burned to Death.

At Woodstock, Ala., Flossie, the 4-year-old daughter of W. H. Miller, was so badly burned that she died soon afterward. While the child was in her mother's room playing with her baby brother on the floor, her dress took fire from an open grate. She ran out into the hall, screaming, and was met by her mother, who extinguished the flames, but not until the child had been fatally burned.

Burned to Death.

Near Springville a 5-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. William Meeks was fatally burned. While the mother was absent at a neighber's the child's dress caught from an open grate. He ran out, screaming, and made for the nearest neighbor's house, where the fire was entinguished, but not until the child was so badly burned that he cannot recover.

Mardi Gras Celebration.

On account of the extreme cold weather prevailing in Birmingham the Mardi Gras celebration has been postponed. There is a probability that the carnival will take place in May.

Maj. W. H. Miller, Chief Quartermaster of Camp Shipp, at Anniston, has received orders to send 300 mules from Camp Shipp to San Francisco for shipment to Manila. The mules will be forwarded as soon as transportation can be arranged. The mustering out of the troops is leaving a great many of these animals on the hands of the quartermaster.

The new boat, City of Demopolis, is held up at New Orleans with some trouble with her boilers.

CALOOCAN IS TAKEN.

The Rebels Are Easily Driven Away by the Americans.

MANILA.—The American forces at 3:40 Friday afternoon made a combined attack upon Caloocan and reduced it in short order.

At a signal from the tower of the De La Lome church, the double-turreted monitor Monadnock opened fire from the bay with the big guns of her fore turret on the earthworks, with great effect.

Soon afterwards the main battery bombarded the place from the land side. The rebels reserved their fire until the bombardment ceased, when they fired volleys of musketry at the Montana regiment as it advanced on the jungle.

The Kansas regiment, on the extreme left, with the Third artillery deployed to the right, charged across the open and carried the earth works, cheering under a heavy fire.

Supported by the artillery at the church, the troops further advanced, driving the enemy, fighting every foot, right into the town line and penetrated to the Presidencia and lowered the Filipino flag at 5:30 p. m.

The enemy's sharpshooters in the jungle on the right fired at long range on the Pennsylvania regiment, but the rebels were soon silenced by shrapnel shells, and the Pennsylvanians remained in the trenches. As the Americans advanced they burned the native huts. The rebels were mowed down like grass, but the American loss was slight.

Aguinaldo is reported to have established headquarters in Malabon for the purpose of rallying his forces for a decisive blow. In order to cover their movements the rebels opened fire on the Kansas outposts Saturday from the jungle. The firing was continued for twenty minutes without effect. The Americans reserved their fire until a detachment of the enemy emerged from the bamboos, when a well directed volley made the rebels scoot back to their cover like rabbits. Beyond this everything is quiet along the entire line.

A PACIFIC CABLE.

President McKinley Urges Speedy Action by Congress to Build One.

"As a consequence of the ratification of the treaty of Paris by the senate and of its expected ratification by the Spanish government, the United States will come into possession of the Philippine Islands on the farther shores of the Pacific. The Hawaiian Islands and Guam being United States territory, and forming convenient stopping places on the way across the sea, the necessity for speedy cable communication between the United States and all these islands has become imperative.

"Such communication should be established in such a way as to be wholly under control of the United States, whether in time of peace or war.

"The time has now arrived when a cable in the Pacific must extend as far as Manila, toughing at the Hawaiian Islands and Guam on the way. The methods of establishing this cable communication at once suggest themselves. First, construction and maintenance of such a cable at the expense of the United States Government, and second, construction and maintenance of such a cable by a private United States corporation, under such safeguards as Congress shall impose.

"I do not make any recommendation to congress as to which of these methods would be the more desirable. A cable of the length of that proposed requires so much time for construction and laying that it is estimated that at least two years must elapse before giving the order for the cable before the entire system could be successfully laid and put in operation. Under these circumstances it becomes a paramount necessity that measures should be taken before the close of the present congress to provide such means as may seem suitable for the establishment of a cable system.

"I recommend the whole system to the careful consideration of congress, and to such prompt action as may seem advisible." WM. MCKINLEY.

Naval Appropriation Bill.

The naval appropriation bill is practically completed, save in minor details, and all its essential features were made known Saturday. It appropriates a total of $45,158,605.

BARBAROUS TREATMENT.

Pillory and Whipping Post Tortures in Delaware Augmented by Intense Cold.

With the thermometer standing at zero three culprits were placed in the pillory for an hour at the New Castle jail yard at Wilmington, Del., Friday. On account of the intense cold the men were all covered with blankets, but when released they were so benumbed that they could scarcely stand. Upon being thawed out two of the three, together with six others, were sent to the whipping post. One man, convicted of murderous assault, received forty lashes, another twenty, and six others fifteen each. The back of the man who received the forty lashes was badly cut.

History's Last Page.

Madam Candaleria, the only survivor of the Alamo massacre and one of the most historical persons in this country, died Friday from an attack of la grippe. She was 115 years of age, as authenticated by her baptismal certificate in the records of the Catholic parish church.

The plague has again broken out and is causing much alarm in the districts adjacent to Canton.

CITY OF ILOILO TAKEN.

Insurgents' Stronghold Captured By the Military and Naval Forces.

THE AMERICAN LOSS WAS SMALL.

The Petrel and Baltimore Bombarded the Town—Rebels Set Fire to the City and Immediately Evacuated—Enemy's Loss Was Heavy.

MANILA.—The United States steamship Petrel (gunboat) arrived late Monday evening with dispatches from Brigadier General M. P. Miller to Major General Otis, announcing that Iloilo had been taken by the combined military and naval forces on Saturday morning.

General Miller, on receipt of his instructions from Manila, sent native commissioners ashore from the United States steamship St. Paul (transport) with a communication for the rebel governor of Iloilo calling upon him to surrender within a time stated and warning him not to make a demonstration in the interval.

The rebels immediately moved their guns and prepared to defend their position.

Thereupon the Petrel fired two warning guns, the rebels immediately opening fire upon her.

The Petrel and the Baltimore then bombarded the town, which the rebels, having set on fire, immediately evacuated.

American troops were immediately landed, and extinguished the fires in all cases of all foreign properties, but not before considerable damage had been done.

It is believed that the enemy's loss during the bombardment was heavy, but no American casualties are reported.

HIGHLY PLEASED.

The War Department Officials Hear of Iloilo's Capture.

WASHINGTON.—The Associated Press dispatches announcing the capture of Iloilo, on the island of Panay, by General Miller, was the first news received in Washington of the capture of the second largest city in the Philippines.

The news was quickly carried to the president at the white house, who received it with pleasure. Half an hour later the official announcement of the fall of the city came in a cablegram from General Otis, which General Corbin promptly made public.

There is a feeling of intense gratification among administration officials who are aware of the victory, as considerable apprehension has existed, not, however, as to the ability of the Americans to take the place when they decided upon this step, but as to the loss of life which this might incur.

SOUTHERN INDUSTRIES.

New Industries Established During the Past Week.

Among the more important of the new industries reported by The Tradesman during the week ended February 11 are brick and lime works in Alabama; brick and tile works in Arkansas; coal mining developments in north Georgia and upper East Tennessee; cotton mills in Georgia and North Carolina—the latter a $500,000 plant; a 30-ton cotton seed oil mill in Texas; a fertilizer factory in West Virginia; a large flour mill in South Carolina; a 100-stamp gold milling plant and another gold mining company in the Dahlonega district; a $10,000 hardware company in Texas; ice factories in Kentucky and Virginia; a $100,000 lumber company in Florida; a nail mill in West Virginia; two planing mills in Georgia and one in Kentucky; saw mills in Tennessee and West Virginia; a spoke and handle factry in west Tennessee; two telephone companies in Kentucky, and a wood-working plant in Alabama.

An Engine Wrecked.

Switch engine No. 456 was derailed at Coalburg, Ala., Monday morning and Engineer I. N. Trimble was painfully injured. The colored fireman was also slightly hurt, but no serious result is feared. The accident happened near the coke ovens and the engine was completely turned over, falling on the ovens. Two cars were hitched to the engine ad both left the track.

Carnegie Offers $100,00 Library.

Andrew Carnegie has offered the city of Atlanta $100,000 for a free public library, the conditins being that the city furnish the site, and devote $5,000 per year to the maintenance of the institution.

ALABAMA IEMS.

The Chattanooga Ties says: "All the machinery of the Mutual Light & Power company, which formerly did business in this city was shipped today to New Decatur Ala., where it will be used by a street car company. The property was purchased several days ago, and, it is understood, brought a good price."

Mayor John B. Weakley, Jr., of Florence, was at Hutsville Saturday, where he went to lve a talk with a member of the cotn mill firm from Ohio who is in the sith looking for a site for his mill, whh he is going to move to Alabama. Florence will make an effort to secure the location if the removal proves to be fact.

Scott Lewis, anold negro, on a wager at Hillsboro drank a quart of whisky. He was dead shortly afterwards.

DISPENSARY BILL PASSED.

The Final Vote on the Measure Was 57 to 11.

JEFFERSON COUNTY IS EXCLUDED.

But Ten Counties in Which Whisky is Now Sold Come Under Its Provisions—Senator Cunningham Will Re-Open Fight in Senate.

The Moody dispensary bill passed the House at 8 o'clock Saturday by a vote of 57 to 11. Jefferson county was excluded from the provisions of the measure only after a hard fight, the vote on this question standing 41 to 35.

But nine other counties in which whisky is now sold come under the restrictions of the bill. The counties excluded are Dallas, Walker, Cullman, Winston, Madison, Montgomery, Lawrence, Morgan, Blount, Mobile, Pickens, Coosa, Tallapoosa, Talladega, Barbour, Shelby, Lauderdale, Marengo, Crenshaw, Covington, Tuscaloosa, Fayette, Etowah, Macon, Baldwin, Marshall, Calhoun, Jefferson, Russell (except as to Girard), Lee (except as to Phoenix City), Colbert (except as to Cherokee beat), Roanoke in Randolph, Greenville in Butler and Uniontown in Perry and Cleburne and Marengo counties are exempt in so far as the manufacture and sale of domestic wines made from grapes. Lowndes, a prohibition county, was not in the bill.

The eleven who voted against the bill on the final passage are as follows: Waller (speaker), Burkhalter, Carson, Cofer, Davis, Delchamps, Robinson, Riggs and Jones, of Lee.

Lavretta would have voted against the bill, but was paired with Edwards.

The fight was made on Jefferson county. The delegation from that county was divided, and the argument between them was intense. Gibson, Houston, Davidson and Huey were for the bill. Burkhalter and McQueen hung out against it.

Senator Cunningham was in the house at intervals during the day, using his influence for the passage of the bill. "The fight is not ended as to Jefferson county," he remarked just after the vote had been taken.

The dispensary bill consumed the entire day. The morning session was devoted to a general discussion, and in the afternoon the issue was Jefferson county.

LAND COMMISSIONER.

House Passes Bill Authorizing the Appointment.

The house Saturday passed a bill providing for the appointment of a commissioner to take charge of the 50,000 acres of public land recently donated to the Industrial school for White Girls at Montevallo and the Tuskegee Normal school. The bill met with no opposition and immediately after this bill becomes a law, and the appointment of a commissioner is made, he will begin the selection of these lands. Portions of the land granted to the Montevallo school will be immediately placed on the market for the purpose of securing necessary funds to complete the magnificent proposed building during the summer months.

COURT IS APPOINTED.

Investigation of General Miles Begins This Week.

The president has appointed a court of inquiry to examine into the charges touching the meat furnished the American army during the war with Spain and other matters involved in the charges made by General Miles against the conduct of the war. The court will consist of Major General Wade, Brigadier General George W. Davis, Ninth Infantry, and Colonel Gillespie, corps of engineers, now stationed in New York.

General Miles, when seen, had nothing to say respecting the appointment of the court. He has been accumulating a large amount of evidence along the lines of the inquiry, but he has not chosen any counsel, and a large part of his evidence has been already transmitted to the war investigation commission.

Georgia Farmer and Wife Assassinated.

A revolting double assissination was reported Friday from the Grimsley plantation several miles east of Fort Gaines, Ga. At midnight Alf Boynton, colored, who lives on the plantation with his wife, mother and four children, was aroused from sleep by a knock at the door. Boynton completd with the unknown man's request and as the light fell on his face a shot from a revolver sent a bullet through his his head, killing him instantly. His wife, hearing the shot, arose from the bed and was killed.

FORTIFICATIONS BILL.

Committee Reduced the Estimates Over $7,000,000.

The fortification appropriation bill was completed Saturday by the house committee on appropriations. It carries $4,744,798, as against estimates made for this purpose of $12,151,898. The bill carries out the general policy of past congresses in strengthening the seacoast fortifications.

CURRENT EVENTS IN ALABAMA.

Hibernians Against Alliance.

Before the state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians adjourned at Birmingham the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That we, the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Alabama, prompted by our loyalty and devotion to this country, as shown in council and in battle, earnestly and vigorously protest against the proposed alliance between this country and our hereditary foes and oppressors, the English nation."

It was ordered that a copy of the resolution be sent to the President of the United States and to every member of congress. The report of the secretary showed the total membership of the Hibernians in Alabama to be about 8,000.

Burned to Death.

Mrs. Henry Ware, wife of a prominent farmer living near Mountainboro, was horribly burned last week. She was standing before the fire and her clothing ignited. She ran screaming out into the yard, but no one was present to assist her. Her eight-year-old boy dashed a bucket of water on her and then ran to the spring for more. Returning, he found his mother lying on the bed dying. She died in terrible agony, being literally baked.

Furnace Property Sold.

It is reported that the Mary Pratt furnace property, at Birmingham, has been sold for $50,000, and that the purchasers will use the property for manufacturing purposes on a large scale. As yet the names of the purchasers and the details of the transaction have not been made public. The furnace has a capacity of about 100 tons daily. It has been idle for several years on account of litigation.

New Mineral Road.

Articles of incorporation of the Anniston & Coosa Coal Field railroad have been filed with the secretary of the state. The road will extend from Anniston into the Coosa coal field, and will intersect the Alabama Great Southern at some point between Attalla and Birmingham. The incorporators are W. F. Johnston, G. B. Randolph, F. M. Hight, J. S. McKee, H. W. Sexton, and J. C. Sprowell, of Calhoun county.

Waive Notes Decision.

Judge Turner, referee in bankruptcy, at Birmingham, has received an opinion from Judge Bruce, of the United States district court, holding that bankrupts are not entitled to their exemptions against waive notes, and makes it certain that bankrupts in such cases will lose all they have in becoming bankrupts if they have no more in the way of exemptions than the average person.

Soldiers Leave Huntsville.

The 2nd Battalion of the 16th Infantry left Huntsville for Jefferson barracks Saturday. It goes to relieve the 20th Infantry, which left Sunday for Manila via New York. This leaves six troops of the 2nd Cavalry, a wagon and thirteen hundred mules, one company of signal corpse and a number of hospital corps.

BRIEFLY MENTIONED.

Preparations are being made at Florence for the entertainment of the Alabama State Sunday School Association, which will meet in that city April 12-14.

The report of the Alabama Car Service Association for the month of January shows a total of 26,881 cars handled, against 24,564 for the same month of last year, an increase of 2,317 cars.

The residence of Dr. R. A. Moseley, at Birmingham, the newly appointed consul-general to Singapore, was gutted by fire Friday. The loss is about $4,000, covered by insurance.

Long McHan, who accidently killed his wife a few weeks ago at Fort Payne, by shooting her, pleaded guilty before the jury and was sentenced to one hour's imprisonment in the county jail for manslaughter.

Peace Conference Will be Held at Hague.

Mr. Pierce, who continues in charge at St. Petersburg, has cabled the state department that the conference proposed by the Czar looking to a disarmament of the nations will be held at the Hague.

REMAINS OF GEN. GARCIA

Now Lie in State in the Palace at Havana.

The United States Gunboat Nashville, bearing the body of General Garcia, has arrived at Havana. The guns of Morro Castle and squadron saluted her. The solemn booming announced the arrival to the expectant city. Everywhere householders and ships lowered a thousand flags to half-mast, and black streamers soon surmounted the Cuban banners. By the time the gunboat had come to anchor thousands of people had crowded the water front. Two companies of the Eighth infantry, with regimental band, were lined up to receive the coffin, which, draped with the Cuban flag and bearing a wreath of flowers, was carried on the shoulders of members of the junta between the saluting ranks of regiments to to the hearse. The silent crowds, with bared heads marched to the strains of a funeral dirge to the palace, where the body now lies in the municipal chamber, guarded by details of Cuban and American troops.

A GUERRILLA WARFARE.

Filipinos Declare That They Will Fight Against Military Despotism.

REBEL CAMPS SHELLED BY GUNBOATS.

A Reconnoitering Party of Americans Has a Brush With the Enemy and Drove Them Toward the Beach—The Enemy's Loss Severe.

A Filipino dispatch from Manila says:

"The Filipino force south of Manila are concentrating at San Mateo, Antipolo and Cainta, whence they will besiege Manila.

"The Americans are now fixing the limits of their sphere of occupation. It will extend all along the coast from Paranaque to Malabon, on the shore, and from Caloocan to Mainbunga and Malate.

"There is much apprehension among the Americans who are searching all the houses, confiscating all weapons, including table cutlery and summarily arresting in the streets all possessors of arms.

"Inform the American senate and congress of these events and tell them the Filipinos are friends of America, but will fight against military despotism.

"Agoncillo, the Filipino delegate, will ask for European intervention in the interests of peace. In the meantime the Filipinos will fight.

"Aguinaldo is on his way here. He will recapture the lost positions, organize a guerrilla warfare and commence a general attack. The government and congress of Malolos are acting as usual and have passed a vote of confidence in Aguinaldo."

The Rebel Camps Again Shelled.

MANILA—Early Saturday the monitor Monadnock and the cruiser Charleston began dropping shells into the rebel camp between Caloocan and Malabon.

The enemy's sharpshooters, in the jungle on the American left, had been particularly annoying since daylight, so the Third Artillery drove the rebels out of the jungle at noon. In the meantime a few more of our men were wounded.

Bass, an artist representing Harper's Weekly, was shot in the arm. The loss of the enemy is estimated at fully fifty killed and wounded to one American killed or wounded.

A Brush With the Enemy.

MANILA.—Friday afternoon a reconnoitering party of the 14th Infantry came upon a large body of the enemy in the jungle near Camp Dewey. The rebels were attacked and fell back upon the main line of the insurgents. The 14th Infantry, the North Dakota volunteers and the 4th Calvary then engaged the enemy and drove them toward the beach, where one of the gunboats received them with a fusilade from automatic Colt guns. The enemy's loss is severe and they scattered along the beach seeking cover from the fire on the American.

The bodies of two members of the California regiment were subsequently found in the bush to the right of the line. They had been shot to pieces by the enemy. One of these bodies was identified as that of Pvt. Abnepham, but the other has not yet been identified.

THE AMERICAN DEAD.

Full List of Those Who Died in Cuba and Porto Rico Prepared.

The War Department, after long and careful work, has made up what it believes to be a full and complete list of the dead of the Cuban and Porto Rican campaigns who are still interred in Cuba. An appropriation has been made to have these bodies removed to the United States, and the Roumanian, with a large force of undertakers, has started for Porto Rico to begin this work. The War Department so far has received applications from friends and relatives of about 300 dead, who wish to take charge personally of the bodies for private burial. The Quartermaster-generals office would like to receive the names and addresses of any other persons who are authorized to take charge of bodies on their arrival in the United States.

TREATY WAS SIGNED.

The Document Was Then Transmitted to Madrid.

The official copy of the treaty of peace with Spain, bearing the signatures of the Spanish and American Commissioners, which was ratified by the Senate last Monday, was signed by the President and Secretary Hay Friday afternoon, in the library of the Executive Mansion. There was little formality observed, although a number of persons were present by invitation of the President. While signing the document the President and Secretary of State sat at the round table in the center of the library. The ceremony occupied only a few moments.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

The Spanish government has decided not to sell the Caroline Islands.

It is reported that Germany wants a new agreement relative to Samoa.

It is reported that Don Carlos has instructed his agents in Spain to stop the agitation in his behalf.

Six hundred and fifty miners employed by the Choctaw Coal company, Indian Territory, went out on a strike Friday.

KICKING BEFORE BEING SPURRED.

Our neighbor of The Sentinel gets very much wrought up over what it is pleased to term our reflection against the Democracy of itself and some of Calera's citizens, and speaks in a very injured tone thereof. Really, our esteemed neighbor is too touchy on the subject of its Democracy, seeing that it is in poor taste to defend one's Democracy before it is questioned. There was nothing in our remarks that could be construed into such a reflection, and if there were not some oversensitiveness on this score it would not have been so construed. We charged that no opposition was heard from Calera to the new court bill until the court house removal was sprung, and that then it came from the fact that some Populist leaders influenced that opposition by promising to vote for removal. When we made this assertion we were in possession of information which sustained us. We state now from personal knowledge that some of Calera's prominent Democrats expressed themselves in favor of the new court, and we state upon the authority of other truthful gentlemen that other such favorable expressions were given from that locality, and that the gentlemen who gave them afterwards appeared in opposition to the court. Our charge is also substantiated by the declarations of Populists here. In making this charge we said nothing about Calera Democracy, and no reflection could have been figured out of it. The court house removal is not a political issue, and such a trade as we spoke of would not be any sacrifice of political principle, whatever else might be said of it. Really, our neighbor is too sensitive concerning the purity of its Democracy. Its complaint is altogether uncalled for. In fact we only reply to it by way of friendly advice, lest somebody who doesn't know should think that the purity of the article needs some defense. Since the facts given above will cut no sort of figure in the court house campaign we shall not refer to them again, and if The Sentinel desires to waste its space in an uncalled for defense of its Democracy we shall gladly allow it to do so.

A WASHINGTON correspondent figures out that the negro vote elected McKinley, in that it gave him the States of California, Delaware, Kentucky, and Oregon. More than that, the negro delegates nominated him, as they have nominated every Republican candidate for the Presidency since Grant. The negro holds the balance of political power, either for nominations or elections, and in some cases both, in this nation, this State, this district, and this county; and he is for sale everywhere and at all times. This is the "white man's burden," and this is the time it shall be lifted save in the nation. Let him who fails to lend a hand beware.

WHEN will the court house election be held? As soon as Calera floats her bonds? Oh, well, then: we are not afraid of being disturbed for some little time.

LESSON IN ARITHMETIC.

Last week we took occasion to give Representative Sturdivant a lesson in the geography of his county. This week we feel compelled to give The Sentinel a lesson in arithmetic. Our neighbor makes the assertion in its issue of last week that three-fifths of the taxes of the county come from the territory most accessible to Calera. The only way to answer such assertions is to give the figures. They always tell the truth. The following table is compiled by beats from the tax books of 1898:

BEATS.	Columbiana	Calera
1	84423
2	23879
3		118767
4		235178
5		8013
6		68710
7		107681
8	43018
9	150848
10	120288
11	27763
12		33080
13		30336
14	15780
15	42675
16	95365
17		30960
Total	1309238	642675

In this table we have given Calera all the territory to which she can lay claim to superior accessibility, in the case of beat 13 even giving her territory which in the last election gave a majority for Columbiana. Doubtless The Sentinel will claim the Shelby country and beat 2, because she has a railroad running through there, but our neighbor will remember that most people who come to court come from the interior, and if they have to ride to the station they would prefer riding on 5 miles to putting up their stock and riding 11 miles on the train. So that we have given Calera all the territory closest to her by dirt road, and it so happens that all these beats lie along the railroads of which she boasts, except beats 5, 12 and 13, which we give to her by way of courtesy on account of distance. All the territory we claim for Columbiana is nearer here than Calera, and now reaches here by overland; whereas if it went to Calera overland and rail would both have to be used. An examination of the map will show that our division of territory is correct, and the figures show that more than two-thirds of the tax valuation is nearer to Columbiana and more accessible to it. When The Sentinel has learned this lesson in arithmetic it will be better prepared to teach.

THE Sentinel repeats Mr. Sturdivant's assertion that Calera is more accessible to three-fourths of our popul tion. We refer the editor of that paper to the lesson in geography demonstrated by us last week to the reverend gentleman from Bamford.

SPEAKING of Democracy, there are certain parts of the county we have not heard from on the all-important question of the constitutional convention and the restriction of suffrage to the white people. Unless we hear pretty soon we shall have to ask some questions.

THE Sentinel says Calera has the long-distance telephone and the best of telegraph facilities. Yes; we recollect receiving a death message from there 16 hours after it was filed. Awful swift down there. And the long-distance telephone would be so convenient for Birmingham and Montgomery lawyers. The people ought to move the court house so they could be sued without so much cost to the plaintiffs.

WE beg to suggest to The Sentinel that a court house ought to be located for the convenience of the people of a county. We admit that Calera is more convenient for Birmingham, Montgomery and Selma, and to that fact is due the passage of the bill. If the court house must be located for the convenience of foreign lawyers, wholesale business houses and railroad corporations we suggest that it be moved to Birmingham and let Birmingham pay the expense. If the people are to pay the expense we submit that the convenience of all the people ought to be consulted.

SENATOR Deans and Representative Sturdivant are looking after the interests of their county faithfully and energetically.—The Sentinel.

Yes; they have done well. They have forced the levy of $7,500 extra taxes to work the public roads under a law the details of which, or rather the lack of them, will make it a failure; they have passed a law that will cost the county $500 to hold an election for the purpose of taxing the people $40,000; they have passed a stock law for Wilsonville precinct contrary to their promise during the campaign and against the wishes of their partisan constituents. Yes; they have done exceedingly well so far.

THE Advocate very facetiously remarks:

You can not find a Democrat now that was in favor of the new court bill.

Pardon our disputing this assertion, but we know several. THE CHRONICLE favored it, and for what it considered good reasons. First, we favor that kind of a court, because it is home rule, and that is Democracy; second, we believe that the legal business of the county is sufficient to justify it; third, we believe the just administration of criminal law demands it. The effect it might have had on present officeholders, of either party, or those it might have created did not enter into the question; we congratulate ourselves that we can rise above such personal considerations. The Advocate is welcome to make the most of this declaration.

BY ALL MEANS A PRIMARY.

The great county of Jefferson has set the pace for the whole State by ordering a primary for the nomination of candidates for delegates to the constitutional convention. In doing this Jefferson has done a wise thing and the right thing. The Age-Herald thus gives the best of reasons why this plan should be followed by all the counties:

Of all things in the world a constitutional convention should be free from manipulation. It should come straight from the people, and the delegates should be men who are not in office, and who are not closely connected with party management.

The wisdom of this action lies further in that it paves the way for future action in party councils. When the negro shall be eliminated from politics and the burden of government rests entirely on the white man's shoulders, the days of conventions controlled by a few politicians will be over. Before that time comes we should show our willingness to let the people rule in nominations. Now is the time to begin.

The executive committee of this county will meet here Saturday. We hope it will adopt the primary plan, and invite all white men to participate. The only restrictions advisable is that the candidates for nomination should be pledged to such a revision of the franchise as will eliminate the ignorant, purchasable negro and leave the white citizen undisturbed in his rights. Further than this let the people choose their delegates, with only the further requirement that all participants in the primary pledge themselves to support the successful candidate and to vote for the convention. Upon this basis the white men of this county ought to be united for their common welfare, and a delegate elected who will represent the needs of the people.

THE WHITE MAN'S BURDEN.

That is a beautiful poem of Kipling's, "The White Man's Burden," expressive of the new duties arising from the dealing with new people and new territory. Here in Alabama the white man has a burden more serious than that of which Kipling sings. He has borne it for years, oftentimes with little help, and it has come to be very heavy. This coming July he is to pick it up for the last time, and in the last struggle he will expect each one to bear his part faithfully and well. Now is the time to make preparation for this last effort. Let us gird our loins about with truth and brotherly charity, pledging to each other our strength. If we would leave to our boys a heritage of power, to our girls a mantle of safety, to the State a bond of peace, we will forget all else in this last effort to lighten the "white man's burden." If we are men we will lift the weight from posterity; if we are puppets we will leave it, like cowards, to be borne for another generation. If we do not lift it in peace our sons will have to wipe it out in blood. Let demagogues howl and politicians sulk; let the men among us act.

THE Sentinel says two-thirds of the business of the courts come from the territory more accessible to Calera. It strikes us this is not very complimentary to that section.

WE understand now why the time for calling the court house election was extended to four years. It was to give Calera time to float her bonds. We move to extend the time to ten years. Perhaps by that time the land company down there can sell enough land to raise the money.

WE were just about to send in a bid for some of the Calera bonds at 10 cents on the dollar, but upon casting up our bank account we found that we couldn't pay for more than $1 worth at that price, and the probability of that being the highest bid scared us off.

THE Sentinel says that Calera is the railroad center of the county, and has eight mails per day. We beg to remind our neighbor that more than three-fourths of the population of the county live in the interior and come to court overland. With them accessibility is a question of distance and not of railroads.

WHEN the standing army of the United States is increased to one hundred thousand men the liberties of the people are in danger.—Advocate.

And Mr. Aldrich, whom you supported with all your might, voted for such an increase. Some people think right, but act according to other men's pocketbooks.

THE Sentinel says Columbiana is in the southeastern corner of the county. Where is Calera? Just 2½ miles from the Chilton County line, 8½ miles from the Bibb line, and 18 miles from the geographical center of the county. It is 20 miles from Harpersville, while a large territory is beyond the latter point. Columbiana is more than 8 miles from the nearest point on the county line, and only 6 miles from the geographical center of the county.

BOTH The Sentinel and The Advocate have found a mare's nest in the fact that a contributor of this paper seemed to favor the removal of the court house, while the editor spoke against it. We gave the editor of The Sentinel credit for knowing the difference between a contribution and an editorial. As to The Advocate, it is not supposed to know the difference, and its opinion is of very little consequence.

There are many disappointed, forlorn negroes shivering around railroad stations with barely enough change to get them back home from the great and much berated mardi gras festivities that did not materialize.

February 14. This is not only St. Valentine's day, but the day on which our mothers and grandmothers used to plant beans. Beautiful, balmy, Sunny Southland; verily the frigid zone has blown his icy breath upon you. And we can no longer urge the Northern emigrant hither to a land where he may go barefoot the year round and grow vegetables in January. The world moves, and most undoubtedly the north pole is moving.

Our State legislative body ought to be satisfied. It got to go somewhere, and was met with brass bands and got to make a great display on grand stands. It must now be happy, and feel that its duty is discharged and that they might as well go home.

The dispensary bill was passed, but very little exultation is felt over the fact since many of the largest counties and cities were excluded. We, for one, are sorry it passed, as we wished every county included or none at all. As it is, the saloon counties and the dispensary counties will hum and haw and be eternally a seesaw, so that by the time another legislature convenes it will be pronounced that the dispensary is a failure, and in all probability this is the beginning of its ultimate death.

The heartiest laugh we have indulged in for many a day was precipitated over the pictures of the Alabama press women as they appeared in last Sunday's Age-Herald. Miss Annie Walker is to be congratulated on her beautiful and flattering "write up" of the members of the Alabama Women's Press Club; but if they should get their eyes, or rather their hands, on the man who made those cuts, next week when they meet in Birmingham, he will never escape alive. He no doubt had in mind the old-time idea that to be really deep and intellectual a woman must of necessity be outrageously ugly. All the protest though that we can make is to beg the readers of the Age-Herald not to believe we are such an ugly set as we look to be.

***

We read with deep interest in this week's New Era a communication from John W. DuBose on Booker Washington and the Lyceum. As we failed to get last week's New Era, we missed Mrs. Ball's editorial on the subject. Washington's theory of revolutionizing the system of education for the negro is a shrewd apology of the Lyceum, and is calculated to reconcile more people than anything else that could possibly have been adduced. But we fail to comprehend why we must resort to Professor Washington to solve the problem for us. If Washington's head is longer than any white man's in Alabama, and his scheme is the greatest and grandest and one that should be disclosed and aired by himself in public assemblies of white people, then we boast no more of our beloved white men, and must bow to the superior intellect of the black man. Shall we? Never, no, NEVER. As Washington "is entered on the conquest of colored people," let him disclose and discuss his theory before and with his colored people, and if it is worth anything the white man will find it out and will act upon it. It is not anything aggressive in Washington that is to be feared—he is the best negro he country ever grew—but if he pave the way others more presumptuous and audacious will enter the conquest for recognition. Servants in our homes and negroes on the streets will at once take on the "big head."

***

As the legislature has failed to accomplish much in the way of providing for the education of the masses of children in Alabama, isn't there more and greater work for the coming constitutional convention to do? Surely the men who will constitute that body will not play and dally with the State's interests and that of her rising ad future generations. We need downright, straightout compulsory education, with means for carrying it ut. Fewer State institutions and mor funds for educating the masses. We can't look to our State legislatures for very much. This may be a sting, harsh expression, but isn't it tue for years and years our legislatos have assembled, quibbled, been pubd helter-skelter, frolicked, adjourne and gone home, accomplishing—wha? The perpetuating of ignorance ad a lot of hidebound laws that disherit the orphan and drive women om their natural homes. One-half and probably two-thirds, of our legislators know absolutely nothing of the laws on our statute books, and care ss: they don't know the population of their own counties, nor the needs of the people in them, and are half te time careless. Consequently, th North and East and civilized Westook upon Alabamians as an ignoranset of coal diggers, scarcely capable f taking their places in the civilize world. But for our two noble Senators we would be looked upon as abt the nearest nothing of any State f the American republic. In selecting men as delegates to the constitutional convention we hope our people will be cautious, and let that convention give our State something tangible and substantial. It seems impossible to get relief out of common legislation, and unless the constitutional convention rises to the emergency we are a lost people without hope. The educational qualification for suffrage will prove a stimulus and impetus for the boys' education, but will leave the girl helpless and hopeless. Compulsory education is the redemption Alabama needs. Shall she have it?

Miss Ella King, of Montgomery, stopped over en route home from Livingston, and visited Mrs. J. R. White's family and Bro. Tom Roberts Wednesday and Thursday. Miss King has been for several months studying under Miss Julia Tutwiler preparing for extensive missionary work. About two weeks from this time she will go to Cuba and will probably enter the field of christian work in Havana. She is a young woman of strong and pleasing personality and a consecrated christian.

THE Sentinel thinks THE CHRONICLE is trying to carry water on both shoulders, and that it wants to stand in with both Calera and Columbiana. The Sentinel is very much mistaken on both propositions. One shoulder is quite sufficient to supply water in Columbiana, whereas both shoulders and a dray are frequently necessary in Calera. We are not concerned about Calera or Columbiana either in the court house question. The only question that concerns us is that of the cost of removal and the increase of taxes which it will occasion. At the proper time we will discuss it on that line. Until then we will amuse ourselves with the fallacies advanced by our neighbor.

How to Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents or one dollar.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, if you send your address to Dr Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing be sure and mention that you read this generous offer in THE CHRONICLE.

I was a great sufferer from chills and fever and the more quinine I took the worse I felt. I took Simmons Liver Regulator and it entirely cured me. Whenever I had that dull, heavy feelieg and pain across the eyes I took a dose of Regulator and feel all right. I always have Simmons Liver Regulator in the house and my family all take it.—BYRON BRADLEY, Tallahassee, Fla.

Nonresident Notice.

STATE OF ALABAMA, SHELBY COUNTY:
In Chancery, Sixth district, Northeastern Chancery division.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of R. H. Pearson that the defendants, Central Trust Company of New York, a corporation doing business in the State of New York; C. S. Plumb and A. H. Plumb, who resides in Emporia, in the State of Kansas; and Thomas S. Krutz, R. W. Kelly, who reside in the city of New York; and Geo Plumb, who resides in the State of Kansas, are nonresidents of the State of Alabama, and further that in the belief of said affiant the defendants are over the age of twenty-one years. It is therefore ordered by the Register that publication be made in The Chronicle, a newspaper published in the town of Columbiana, once a week for four consecutive weeks requiring them, the said Central Trust Company of New York, C. S. Plumb, A. H. Plumb, Thomas S. Krutz, R. W. Kelly, and Geo. Plumb, to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 13th day of March, A. D. 1899, or in thirty days thereafter a decree pro confesso may be taken against them.

J. R. WHITE, Register.

The Alabama Fertilizer

Is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State to be the best all around fertilizer for cotton and corn.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Everyone of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER. The only objection ever raised to the ALABAMA FERTILIZER was that it costs too much.

The present price is no more than that of standard fertilizers. When requested, the ALABAMA FERTILIZER will put up, without extra cost, in bags treated by the Mummia Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process, thereby insuring the perfect preservation of the bags for an indefinite time, and saving the contents from loss by waste in handling. These preserved bags when emptied and thoroughly washed will be found as good and strong as new, and equally useful for other purposes. Every person, farmer, merchant or dealer vitally interested in the economical production of good crops should advocate the use of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

Dr. J. H. Gunn, of Calera, was in the city this week.

Dr. F. D. DuBose, of Shelby, was in the city this morning.

J. P. Christian was up from Shelby a short while to-day.

Sour stomach, fullness after eating, flatulence, are all caused by indigestion. Prickly Ash Bitters corrects the disorder at once, drives out badly digested food and tones the stomach, liver and bowels. For sale by Drs. Williams Bros.

Undoubtedly this is the kind of weather we read about.

Ed. Walls spent the first of the week in Birmingham.

W. B. Browne made a business trip to Montevallo last week.

Mr. Lanham, of Calera, was in the city the latter part of last week.

Miss Nell Parker is visiting relatives in Birmingham this week.

E. D. Hall attended the mardi gras festivities at New Orleans this week.

Bloating after eating, indigestion, flatulence or water brash, may be quickly corected through the use of Prickly Ash Bitters. It strengthens digestion, cleanses and regulates the bowels. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

Miss Pearl Norris went over to Birmingham to attend mardi gras, returning yesterday.

Sleighing is a rare sight in this section, but it was indulged in by several on Sunday.

Ten degrees below zero is a new experience for our climate, and a pretty rough one, too.

A heavy rain fell last night and this morning, but not enough to melt the snow.

The life preserver which has carried many ladies safely over the dangerous sea, Change of Life, is Simmons Squaw Vine Wine or Tablets.

If we are short of local matter this week, please attribute it to the weather.

Miss Ella King, of Montgomery, visited friends at the White House this week.

Bearing-down sensations, internal heat and female weaknesses are cured by use of Simmons Squaw Vine Wine or Tablets.

Walter Porter is very low with pneumonia at his father's home in this place.

To sweeten the breath, brighten the eye, clear the complexion and insure the natural bloom of health, use Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine.

Miss Lucy Smith has been confined to her room for several days past on account of sickness.

A sluggish liver causes drowsiness, lethargy and a feeling of apathy. Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine arouses the liver, and cheerful energy succeeds sluggishness.

Jasper Nabors was carried yesterday to the Sloss Iron & Steel Co. to begin his twenty-five years' sentence.

Philip Erlick went over to attend mardi gras, and it is said his presence caused the postponement.

We sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at 37 cents; 40 and 50 cents elsewhere.

Rev. S. N. Burns has some eggs of fine chickens for sale at 25 cents per setting of 13 eggs. They are of good stock and carefully selected.

The trains passing this place have been considerably delayed the past week on account of the heavy snows.

The first quarterly conference for this circuit was held in the Methodist church at this place Saturday last.

R. F. Hulgan, Brandon, Ala., says: "Have sold Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine, and find it superior to Black Draught."

J. B. Elliott says he has been "under the weather" for several days past.

There were no services in either of the churches Sunday, the extremely cold weather keeping all indoors.

The protracted meeting which was to have begun last Sunday has been postponed to a more favorable time.

Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine by expelling from the body the excess of bile and acids improves the assimilative process, purifies the blood, tones up and strengthens.

Miss Van Vranken, after a year's visit to friend's in this place, returned last week to her home in New Orleans.

COLLEGE POSSIBILITIES.

Meeting of Commercial Association on the Subject.

At a meeting of the Commercial Association Friday night last the correspondence with the college people was read and discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. Appleton seem to be favorably impressed with the statement made them of the town and its possibilities, and intimated their willingness to come down and investigate.

It was decided at the meeting to invite them down with the understanding that a trade could be easily consummated if both sides are pleased with each other when they come. Dr. Lovett was authorized to write them to the effect that our town is open to the establishment of the college upon the basis previously mentioned in the correspondence, and to give the people a statement of the value of the school property and the amount expended by the city annually, that they might see what the probable outcome of the trip might be.

This may lead yet to the establishment of a splendid college here.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe.

George W. Waitt, of South Gardiner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50 cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by Williams Bros., Druggists.

Memorial Services.

Memorial services for the late Eddwin T. Witherby will be held in the house of worship of the Church of the Covenant Congregational, Shelby, Sunday morning, February 26, at 11 o'clock.

Judge D. R. McMillan and J. R. White will speak of Mr. Witherby's public life and work: A. H. Avery of him in his business life and relations; A. H. Averyt of his work and influence as a member of the church.

For La Grippe.

Thomas Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash av., corner Jackson street one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for La Grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of La Grippe to result in pneumonia. For sale by Williams Bros., Druggists.

During the past week we have been tussling with the coldest weather ever experienced in this section of the State, and perhaps of the entire Southland. The cold wave struck us last Saturday night, and came in the shape of a heavy snow, causing the thermometer to register on Sunday and Monday at least 12 degrees below zero. Many people were unprepared for this "arctic" weather, and quite a little fuel famine resulted. This, however, was relieved by Mr. White, who had just received a carload of coal, and who very generously divided with those who were without. So far we have learned of no suffering on account of the bad weather.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable cure is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for La Grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is acertain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure La Grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Williams Bros., Druggists.

We regret to chronicle the death of Mrs. S. A. Densler, of Wilsonville, which occurred Tuesday night. She was the widow of John E. Densler, who was a prominent citizen of the county, and was one of the best loved ladies in this section. Three children survive her.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in Chicago.

Hisgen Bros., the poular South Side druggists, corner, 69th-st and Wentworth avenue, says: "We sell a great deal of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and find that it gives the most stisfactory results, especially among childre for severe colds and croup." For sale b Williams Bros., Druggists.

There is nothing hat equals our Anti-Grippe—everybdy who has tried it says so. It is prepared by us especially to combat th annoying and dangerous symptomsof la grippe and not as a cure-all.

Harpersville.

The oldest people say that this is the coldest weather they ever experienced.

Mrs. E. V. Caldwell spent last week with her father, Dr. Welch, at Alpine.

The young people here have organized a literary society, which meets every Friday night.

Mrs. Railey, a most estimable old lady, died at her home near Vincent one day last week. Peace to her ashes.

Mr. Lee Spinks, living four miles south of here, died last Saturday of pneumonia. He was sick only a few days, and his death was very unexpected. He leaves a wife and one child, to whom we extend our sympathy.

Died, at his home in Vincent, last Sunday night, after a long spell of sickness, Mr. J. J. Vincent, an old and highly esteemed citizen. He was well known all over the county, and will be missed by us all. A wife and several children survive him. Our sympathy is extended to them in their sad hour of bereavement.

Our people don't seem much interested in the removal of the court house, but I suppose that when the when an election is called they will be more enthused one way or the other. We want the constitution so amended that we can have smaller counties, and then we want a new county up here, taking a slice from St. Clair and Talladega counties. By then the B. and M. railroad will be built, and as this road is sure to come by Harpersville, wont it be so nice to have the new county seat here? Then we will ask you to move THE CHRONICLE up here, and we will have sure "enuff" town. The railroad is coming, and we are going to have the new county some day; mark what I tell you.

Seeds.

Biliousness and constipation are seeds out of which spring many of the serious diseases that afflict the human body. Sound judgment would demand the immediate removal of tais condition before it develops into something more troublesome and difiult to cure. Prickly Ash Bitters is a reliable cure for constipation and disorders of simi ar character. It not only thoroughly empties and purifies the bowels, but strengthens the bowel channels and regulates the liver and stomach, hence it performs a radical cure. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

A Handful of Stories.

The publishers of the Youth's Companion are trying to make the volume for 1899 more valuable, more delightful, more inspiring than any former one. Among the special features of the year are groups of stories, among them being three "Tales from the Cables," relating the adventures of operators at lonely telegraph stations. There will be a special group of Humorous stories; another group of "Stories of the Sea," full of the mystery of the deep, the strange adventures, the perils, the fine courage of sailors. Still another group will be "Stories by Missionaries," combining the interest of thrilling tales of adventure with that of fascinating books of travel. And these are but a handful out of the two hundred or more stories to be printed in the Companion during 1899. All new subscribers will receive the Companion for fifty-two weeks, a full year from the time of subscription, and the exquisite Companion Calendar for 1899—the finest one ever given to Companion readers, and one of the finest ever produced. A handsome illustrated announcement and sample copies of the paper will be sent to anyone addressing

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION,

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Something About the Greatest Weekly Newspaper in the Country.

REDUCED RATE FOR TWO PAPERS.

Take Your Home Paper and The Constitution and be Happy.

We call special attention to our clubbing arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing price of the two papers being only $1.50 per year, subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the claim of circulation made by The Constitution and put up a forfeit of $100 that it could be disproved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm. Mr. George P. Rowell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has just been brought to a close, the reports of no newspaper in the South could compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative sailed with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and of the 120 correspondents who went to Cuba, he was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. Its special representative also accompanied the fleet in the Caribbean sea, and its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with the promptness of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manila, the death of Ensign Bagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

The Weekly Constitution makes a special feature of its agricultural page, which is presided over by Colonel R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment farm, and a man who is recognized as an expert on all agricultural topics. He gives a full page every week on agricultural matters. A page is devoted to the women and a page to children, these two departments being presided over by Mrs. William King.

Among the regular staff members of The Constitution are Joel Chandler Harris, Frank L. Stanton and others well known throughout the country; while among its special contributors are such men as Wallace P. Reed, Bill Arp, Sarge Plunkett, Betsy Hamilton, Dr. Talmage and others of national reputation.

The Constitution has just completed the thirtieth year of its existence. Clark Howell being the editor and Col. W. A. Hemphill its business manager. Its name is a household word in every southern state, from Virginia to Texas. It has always been in especially close touch with the agricultural masses of the south, and in having reached a circulation which carries it into 150,000 homes it has won a unique distinction which ranks it among the greatest of American weekly newspapers.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which he is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscriptions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every southern home!

A GREAT MISSING WORD CONTEST

The Chronicle Offers a New Plan to Its Subscribers who Take The Constitution in Combination Offer.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE SEASON.

We take pleasure in announcing a missing word problem to our subscribers in connection with the Weekly Constitution of Atlanta, Ga. This is the sentence:

It is taken from a charming, living Southern author, and is offered to test the knowledge of our people of their own writers. The missing word is a plain, every-day English word, not a compound word, nor a proper name and is used in its ordinary acceptation. The prize to be given will be 10 per cent of all the subscriptions received from contestants by the Constitution, and will be paid by the Constitution. That paper has paid on missing word contests alone nearly $10,000 in cash prizes. To one party, Mr. L. Brittain, was given a check for $1,033.50 for one successful guess; others have received large sums ranging from $385 to $900 on similar propositions. This contest is to run until April 1, 1899, at which time the results will be promptly and properly announced.

Every subscriber who takes advantage of our clubbing offer with The Constitution may enter his own word to fill the blank in the sentence, and must be given to us at the time of the subscription so we can forward it together with his order for the Constitution. It is a plain, fair plan and we feel sure many will hunt up the word or take a shot at it. The subscription orders under this combination offer must be sent directly to this office and not to the Constitution. We will forward everything ourselves.

WINE OF CARDUI

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

has demonstrated ten thousand times that it is almost infallible

FOR WOMAN'S PECULIAR WEAKNESSES,

irregularities and derangements. It has become the leading remedy for this class of troubles. It exerts a wonderfully healing, strengthening and soothing influence upon the menstrual organs. It cures "whites" and falling of the womb. It stops flooding and relieves suppressed and painful menstruation. For Change of Life it is the best medicine made. It is beneficial during pregnancy, and helps to bring children into homes barren for years. It invigorates, stimulates, strengthens the whole system. This great remedy is offered to all afflicted women. Why will any woman suffer another minute with certain relief within reach? Wine of Cardui only costs $1.00 per bottle at your drug store.

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Rev. J. W. SMITH, Camden, S.C., says: "My wife used Wine of Cardui at home for falling of the womb and it entirely cured her."

WINE OF CARDUI

"Better Be Wise Than Rich."

Wise people are also rich when they know a perfect remedy for all annoying diseases of the blood, kidneys, liver and bowels. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is perfect in its action. It so regulates the entire system as to bring vigorous health. It never disappoints.

Goitre—"For 42 years I had goitre, or swellings on my neck, which was discouraging and troublesome. Rheumatism also annoyed me. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me completely and the swelling has entirely disappeared. A lady in Michigan saw my previous testimonial and used Hood's and was entirely cured of the same trouble. She thanked me for recommending it." MRS. ANNA SUTHERLAND, 406 Lovel Street, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Poor Health—"Had poor health for years, pains in shoulders, back and hips, with constant headache, nervousness and no appetite. Used Hood's Sarsaparilla, gained strength and can work hard all day; eat heartily and sleep well. I took it because it helped my husband." MRS. ELIZABETH J. GIFFELS, Moose Lake, Minn.

Makes Weak Strong—"I would give $5 a bottle for Hood's Sarsaparilla if I could not get it for less. It is the best spring medicine. It makes the weak strong." ALBERT A. JAGNOW, Douglastown, N. Y.

Never Disappoints

Laziness and Success.

"Laziness," said Mr. Chipperly, "is one of our besetting sins, and it is quite possible that we may be very lazy even when we are fully occupied. How many of us pitch in for all we know how, when we work, and how many of us putter around the edges and pick out the easy things and use up the time on them, and fight shy all the time of the tough proposition that somebody's got to tackle? That's the question. There are more forms of laziness than one.

"Not only is procrastination the thief of time," said Mr. Graytop, "it is the underminer of resolution. By putting off we not only lose time, but we get into a spongy, no-account, irresolute state, which may become a part of our habit in life. With this way of doing things we may scrape along from day to day, but that's all. To succeed we must get at it; and as getting at it is the opening wedge to success in life, so keeping at it is the battle that drives the wedge home."

"You have no business saying that a man was held at the pistol's point," said the editor. "A pistol has no point."

"Not even after the man points it?" asked the new reporter, who, being young, had not yet learned to treat remarks of an editor with silent contempt.—Indianapolis Journal.

TO MRS. PINKHAM

From Mrs. Walter E. Budd, of Patchogue, New York.

Mrs. BUDD, in the following letter, tells a familiar story of weakness and suffering, and thanks Mrs. Pinkham for complete relief:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I think it is my duty to write to you and tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I feel like another woman. I had such dreadful headaches through my temples and on top of my head, that I nearly went crazy; was also troubled with chills, was very weak; my left side from my shoulders to my waist pained me terribly. I could not sleep for the pain. Plasters would help for a while, but as soon as taken off, the pain would be just as bad as ever. Doctors prescribed medicine, but it gave me no relief.

"Now I feel so well and strong, have no more headaches, and no pain in side, and it is all owing to your Compound. I cannot praise it enough. It is a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to every woman I know."

BAD BLOOD

"CASCARETS do all claimed for them and are a truly wonderful medicine. I have often wished for a medicine pleasant to take and at last have found it in Cascarets. Since taking them my blood has been purified and my complexion has improved wonderfully and I feel much better in every way." MRS. SALLIE E. SELLARS, Luttrell, Tenn.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Monday.

THE SENATE.—This was a day of excitement and severe strain in the senate. The fact that the treaty was to be voted upon and that the result was hanging in the balance served to keep senators on both sides of the chamber at a high tension. Mr. Clay, (dem.) of Georgia, occupied a few minutes in the morning hour in explaining why he proposed to support the treaty. Mr. Gorman (dem.) of Maryland, followed with a notable speech. After the ratification of the treaty the senate in open session took up a joint resolution offered by Mr. McEnery, of Louisiana, declaring a policy for the Philippines and an effort was made to adopt it, but the debate occupied so much time that the resolution went over until tomorrow. The resolution in full follows:

"That by the ratification of the pending treaty of peace with Spain it is not intended to incorporate the inhabitants of said islands into citizenship of the United States, nor is it intended to permanently annex said islands as an integral part of the territory of the United States. But it is the intention of the United States to establish on said islands a government suitable to wants and condition of the inhabitants, to prepare them for local self-government and in due time to make such disposition of said islands as will best promote the interests of the United States and the inhabitants of said islands."

Mr. Allen addressed the senate upon several resolutions relating to expansion.

The senate then went into executive session, and at 3:25 p. m. resumed legislative business in open session. Mr. Aldrich moved that the senate take up for consideration the resolution offered earlier in the day by Mr. McEnery. The motion prevailed and the senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE—This was suspension day in the house, and quite a number of bills were passed, several of them of importance. The census bill prepared by the house committee went through by a vote of 147 to 42. Bills were passed extending the anti-contract labor laws over the Hawaiian islands; creating a national military park on the site of the battle of Vicksburg, and granting 26,000 acres of land in Alabama to the Girl's Industrial School of that state. The sundry civil bill was reported, and the house adjourned.

Tuesday

THE SENATE.—For two hours or more the senate today had the resolution declaratory of a policy of this government in the Philippines under discussion, but no vote was reached, and the resolution went finally to the calendar. Mr. Tillman (dem., S. C.) addressed the senate upon the resolution, making a characteristic and picturesque argument. The debate for the day on the McEnery resolution was concluded by Mr. Lodge in a brief speech, in the course of which he stated some of the facts relating to the insurrection in the Philippines against Spain, and the part Aguinaldo took in it. Further along Mr. Lodge, speaking of the restraints placed upon the American forces in the Philippines, said: "Stringent orders have gone from the president to General Otis and Admiral Dewey to exercise the greatest care in their treatment of the Filipinos, and not, by word or deed, to provoke them. A fortnight ago General Otis, in accordance with orders received from the administration, officially informed Aguinaldo that he had no intention of making an attack upon the Filipino troops; that it was his belief that the Filipinos had made a preconcerted and prearranged attack upon our troops at Manila for the purpose of influencing action upon the treaty. The Indian appropriation bill was taken up, but not completed. At 5:15 p. m. the house went into executive session, and soon afterward adjourned.

THE HOUSE.—Today and Tomorrow were set aside for the consideration of the public buildings bills. The committee had reported seventy-eight bills for buildings in thirty five States, authorizing in the aggregate an expenditure of $14,060,910. Little or no opposition developed today, and bills were favorably acted upon almost as rapidly as they could be read. There was, however, more or less good-natured chaffing throughout the session. As a result forty bills, carrying or authorizing appropriations aggregating $11,364,000 had been laid aside with favorable recommendations before adjournment was reached. Among the bills passed were the following: Newport News, Va., $75,000; Elizabeth City, N. C., $50,000; Bluefield, W. Va., $50,000; Brunswick, Ga. $50,000; Beaumont, Texas, $75,000. At 5 p. m the House adjourned.

Wednesday.

The Senate confined itself largely to the transaction of routine business today. The Indian appropriation bill, which has been pending for several weeks, was completed and passed. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was taken up, but after twenty-four pages of it had been disposed of it was laid aside for the day. The bill carries $23,400,977, an increase of $171,000 over the amount as it passed the house. A few measures of minor importance were passed. Mr. Gallinger, of New Hampshire, chairman of the pensions committee, reported a bill to restore pensions to soldiers who had forfeited them by enlistment in the war with Spain. The bill was passed. The senate, at 4:05, went into executive session, and at 5:52 p. m. adjourned.

The net result of the work during the two days allotted for the consideration of public buildings in the house was the passage of a single bill providing for the erection of a building at Newport News, Va., at a cost of $75,000. Sixty-five bills in all, carrying or authorizing the expenditure of about $12,000,000, were favorably considered in committee of the whole when the committee rose today, but because seventeen other bills reported had not been acted upon in committee, filibustering tactics were resorted to, and all efforts to advance the bills favorably acted upon in committee were blocked. Twenty-four bills were favorably acted upon by the committee today as follows: Tampa, Fla., $100,000; Anniston, Ala., $50,000; Bristol, Tenn., $50,000; Abilene, Texas, $75,000; Macon, Ga., $58,000; Winston, N. C., $50,000; Columbus, Ga., to enlarge postoffice, $50,000. Mr. Corliss, (rep.) Michigan, called up the senate bill to amend the law requiring ballots for members of congress to be written or printed so as to permit the use of machines where authorized by the laws of the state. Massachusetts, Michigan and several other states now employ machines in state, county and municipal elections. The bill was passed—94 to 44.

Thursday.

THE SENATE.—Throughout its open session today the Senate had under consideration the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Fifty one pages of the pending bill were disposed of before the senate went into executive session for the remainder of the day.

At the opening of the session the following bills were passed: To restore to their original status as to promotion officers of the navy and marine corps who lost numbers by reason of the advancement of other officers for exceptional service during the war with Spain; authorizing the Aransas Harbor Terminal Railroad Company to construct a bridge across the Corpus Christi channel, in Texas; for a light vessel off Tail of Horseshoe, Chesapeake Bay.

THE HOUSE.—Chairman Cannon, of the appropriations committee of the house, in the course of the general debate on the sundry civil bill today, sounded a note of warning against extravagant appropriations, and practically served notice that neither the ship subsidy bill nor the Nicaragua canal bill could be passed at this session. Mr. Cannon made a general statement of the revenues and expenditures for the present fiscal year, increasing Secretary Gage's estimate of the deficiency in the revenues from $112,000,000 to $159,000,000, exclusive of the $20,000,000 to be paid to Spain under the provisions of the treaty of Paris. Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio; Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, and Mr. W. A. Smith, of Michigan, although they did not enter into any lengthy discussion, took issue with Mr. Cannon, but he maintained that our revenues might be sufficient to meet our expenditures for the next two years, if no new lines of expenditures were entered upon. He indicated that it would be a close margin, and that new expenditures might mean a bond issue.

During the early part of the session bills were passed: To permit homesteaders in Florida driven from their homes by the storm of September, 1896, to return within one year and perfect titles to their homesteads. To remove the existing disability of ex-Confederates, which prevent them from sitting on federal, petit and grand juries. (This was the last of the political disabilities of ex-Confederates to be removed. The bills providing for public buildings at Altoona, Pa., and Blair City, Neb., were passed and the house then went into the committee of the whole, Mr. Sherman of New York in the chair, and took up the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill.

Friday.

THE SENATE.—Mr. Platt, of New York, presented the credentials of Senator-elect Depew. A house bill to establish a national military park to commemorate the campaign, siege and defense of Vicksburg, was called up by Mr. Money, Mississippi, and passed. The bill appropriates $65,000 for the purposes stated. Consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was then resumed. The message from the president recommending a Pacific cable was read and referred to the committee on appropriations. A bill for the relief of the Fourth Arkansas Mounted Infantry was passed.

The house today, without preliminary business, went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill. Representative Hepburn served notice that the Nicaragua canal bill would be offered as an amendment to the sundry civil bill. The amendment he proposes in the Hepburn bill was given in these dispatches last week. It appropriates $115,000,000 for canal construction and authorizes the president to negotiate with Nicaragua and Costa Rica for the route.

At the night session of the house thirty-one private pension bills were passed. Among these were bills to pension Letitia Tyler Semple, the daughter of President Tyler, and ex-Senator John M. Palmer, of Illinois, the former at $30 and the latter at the rate of $50 per month. In the course of the discussion upon the bill to pension General Palmer it developed that he was absolutely without means and was practically blind.

Saturday.

THE SENATE.—After a spirited debate of more than two hours this afternoon a unanimous consent agreement was made by the senate to vote upon the resolution of Mr. McEnery declaratory of a policy of the United States as to the Philippine Islands. The request for the unanimous consent agreement was made by Mr. Mason, of Illinois, after what seemed the conclusion of the debate on the question and after several senators who were known to be opposed to any action on the resolution temporarily had left the chamber. Upon their return to the chamber they learned what had happened in their absence and later in the afternoon Mr. Hawley (rep.) of Connecticut, gave notice that at a proper time he would endeavor to have the agreement vacated. Consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was continued and the bill was passed.

THE HOUSE.—The memory of the late Representative Dingley was fittingly eulogized in the house of representatives today by those who had been closely associated with him. The early part of the day was given to some minor routine work and the eulogies, which were a special order, had the balance of the day. The tributes came from both sides of the house and expressed a heartfulness of personal regard, as well as an admiration for the scholarly qualities of Mr Dingley.

Arab Women.

Many an Arab lady never leaves her house from the time she is married until she is carried out to be buried. A woman of the middle class is allowed more liberty, and occasionally goes out for walks, accompanied, as a rule, by a servant. The poor creature is enveloped in masses of white drapery, which makes her look like a walking bundle, and in front of her face she arranges a large, black scarf, embroidered with blue, red and white flowers. It falls low in front, and, even by holding up the ends, she cannot see more than a foot or two of the road before. I often wonder that she does not get run over when she goes out alone, for I am sure she needs a dog to guide her, quite as much as any blind man. Servants and other women of the lower classes wear pieces of black crepon wound tightly around their faces, leaving just a slit for their eyes to peep through, and they are equally muffled up in white draperies. Seen from a distance, they might be men with masks or thick black beards, as in Arab countries it is by no means easy to tell a man from a woman at first sight. The older and uglier a woman is the more prudish she seems to be about covering up her face, which after all, is rather considerate on her part. Even the greater number of negresses wear the yashmak, but the Bedouin women never do. Indeed, I am told that in the interior there is one Arab tribe whose men wear veils, and whose women go about with their faces uncovered. These are probably the "new women" of Africa.—Pearson's Weekly.

Last of Napoleon's Pensioners.

France has paid its last pension to Napoleon I.'s soldiers. In 1869 a law was passed granting $50 a year to all non-commissioned officers and privates who served ten years in the armies of the first republic or of the first empire and had received a wound. For the first year the payments amounted to $600,000; last year the sum was $50 and the last recipient is now dead, at the age of 105 years.

It takes a police force of 7,461 men to protect New York's population against crime and disorder.

The Powr of a Cyclone.

Careful estimtes of the force of a cyclone and the energy required to keep a full-fledgd hurricane in operation reveal the pesence of a power that makes the mightiest efforts of man appear as nthing in comparison. A force fully qual to 473,000,000 horse-power was stimated as developed in a West Indin cyclone. This is about fifteen tims the power that is creatable by all te means within the range of man's capbilities during the same time. Were steam, water, windmills and the strength of all men and all animals combin1 they could not all approach the tremendous force exerted by this terrile storm.

SIOUX MEDICINE WOMAN.

An Actress Said to Possess Some Valuable Indian Secrets.

Henrietta Crossman, the actress, is a full-fledged medicine woman of the Sioux tribe of Indians, among whom she is held in high esteem. It is not to be inferred from this that Miss Crossman has Indian blood in her veins. The story of how she obtained the secrets she is alleged to possess illustrates the mortal hatred which one tribe of Indians may feel toward another, while at the same time showing the gratitude and appreciation of kindness that sometimes crop out from beneath the calm and reserve of the redskin. When Miss Crossman was a baby her father, Major Crossman, a well-known Indian fighter of the regular army, was stationed in Minnesota. At that time the Chippewas were almost continually turbulent. During a brief period of peace one of the Chippewa braves took to wife a Sioux maiden. This was a serious breach of Chippewa etiquette and the new squaw had to face the bitter jealousy and hatred of several other wives. While peace lasted she was comparatively safe, but as soon as hostilities broke out again and her husband was called away to fight her life was made miserable. About this time Mrs. Crossman was deeply concerned about her baby girl, who was suffering from pneumonia and lay hovering between life and death. One evening the mother was sitting beside the cot of her suffering little one when a young squaw dashed into the house and sought protection. It was the Sioux girl who had been driven from her husband's tepee by the other wives. One of them had attempted to stab her, but the young Sioux seized the knife and thus saved her life, at the cost of a terribly wounded hand. Mrs. Crossman gave the poor creature such aid as was possible while the wounded squaw told her story. Then the dusky visitor asked to look at the sick baby, and on learning the cause of sickness declared her ability to relieve the little one, adding that her father was the great medicine man of the Sioux, and that from him she had learned many secrets. Mrs. Crossman, feeling that the Indian girl would at least not harm the child, gave permission for an experiment to be made. The squaw at once departed and in an hour returned with some herbs which she combined into a medicine which actually seemed to afford the child speedy relief. A few days later the baby was as well as ever. Then the Sioux girl disappeared and succeeded in reaching her own people. When Miss Crossman was old enough she told the story. In after years she met the Sioux woman and at the latter's request was formally chosen a medicine woman. A number of Indian secrets were confided to her, and now her fame is great among the Sioux. Thus it happens that whenever, with her company, she chances to be playing near an Indian settlement she is sure to be overwhelmed with dusky visitors, bringing all sorts of offerings. She has a smattering of the Sioux language, and it seems strange to see the big chiefs and warriors bow down to this dainty little woman.

OUR COLONIES.

This Writer Says Democratic Government Will Be Impossible.

To sum up, we find that Holland has succeeded in Java, where the population is composed of Malayans and forced labor has been enacted; that she has failed in Surinam, where the population is largely negro, and where no compulsion has been used; that England has failed wherever the population is composed of negroes and has attained a moderate degree of success only where East Indian laborers form a considerable proportion of the population and a contract labor system is in force; finally, that wherever, in these colonies which have been dealt with, any considerable industries exist the East Indian indentured immigrant is found doing the work, says W. Alleyne Ireland in the Atlantic Monthly. Any attempt to govern the tropical possessions of the United States on democratic principles is doomed to certain failure. It has been clearly shown that without forced labor, or at least some form of indentured labor, large industries cannot be developed in tropical colonies. The system under which this country might hope to achieve success with her tropical possessions is one which the United States is not likely to adopt. It is the system advocated by Froude for the island of Dominica—surely the most beautiful of all tropical islands: "Find a Rajah Brooke if you can, or a Mr. Smith of Scilly. * * * Send him out with no more instructions than the knight of La Mancha gave Sancho—to fear God and do his duty. Put him on his mettle. Promise him the praise of all good men if he does well; and if he calls to his help intelligent persons who understand the cultivation of soils and the management of men, in half a score years Dominica would be the brightest gem of the Antilles. * * * The leading of the wise few, the willing obedience of the many, is the beginning and the end of all right action. Secure this, and you secure everything. Fail to secure it, and, be your liberties as wide as you can make them, no success is possible."

Lotteries and Games.

In the Prussian Budget for 1898 occurs this curious item: "From lotteries, 82,000,000 marks"—about $20,000,000 of our money. These lotteries are conducted under the direct sanction of the state and are managed as honestly as any game of chance can be. The Italian lotteries yield $15,000,000 a year revenue; those of Denmark, about $250,000; of Holland, $250,000; of Portugal, $1,825,000.

Locomotor Ataxia and Paralysis Can be Cured.

These extreme nervous disorders were treated with wonderful success by the discoverer of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, previous to his discovery being offered to the public generally. This remedy is the only known specific in many diseases that, until recent years, were pronounced incurable. Here is the proof:

James Crocket, a sturdy old Scotchman living in Detroit, Mich, at 88 Montcalm St., was cured of Locomotor Ataxia by these pills. For many years he has been a chief engineer of one of those big passenger palace steamers plying upon the great lakes. This is a position of great responsibility and the anxiety causes a great nervous strain. Mr. Crocket says: "For fifteen years I watched the big engines and boilers without a single accident, and only noticed that I was getting nervous. Suddenly without warning I was taken sick, and was prostrated. I had the best of physicians but grew gradually worse. At a council of doctors, they said I had nervous prostration, and had destroyed my whole nervous system and would never recover. For three years I was unable to move from my bed. The doctor said I had locomotor ataxia, and would never be able to walk again.

"The pains and suffering I experienced during those years are almost indescribable. The friends that came to see me bid me good-bye when they left me and I was given up. The doctors said nothing more could be done. My wife kept reading to me articles about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. We finally decided to try them. The first box gave me relief. I continued to use them for about two years before I could get strength enough to walk. I am nearly seventy-five years old and there is not a man in this city that can kick higher or walk further than I can and to-day I owe my present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People for they saved my life."—Detroit Evening News.

Washington as President.

A Glimpse at the Life During His Two Terms.

MUCH to everybody's astonishment, at his inaugural Washington announced that, as in the Revolution, he would allow only his expenses to be paid, would receive no salary. Yielding to the plea of relieving less wealthy successors of the embarrassment of this example, he consented, afterward, to receive a yearly salary of $25,000, which he used at once in expenses incident to the office and in entertaining.

The house selected was that on the corner of Cherry and Franklin streets, near Franklin Square, New York City, referred to varyingly as No. 10 and as No. 3 Cherry street, and known as the Franklin House. It was the property of Mrs. Samuel Osgood, wife of one of the two members of Congress deputed to select a Presidential residence. It came into her possession through her first husband, Walter Franklin, the builder, a deceased merchant prince of New York. One of the largest, finest houses in the city, though not in the most fashionable quarter, it had been rented formerly as residence for the presidents of Congress. Small idea of it can be had from anything but a picture or an inventory; descriptions of it differ as widely as the describers. Quakers called it the "Palace." The French minister, writing to his home government, spoke of it as a "humble dwelling;" the simple were impressed with its elegance; the elegant with its simplicity.

The house was of brick, of three stories, amply lighted by many well-sized, small-paned windows. There was a heavy brass knocker on the single-paneled door on Cherry street, the main entrance, reached by short flights of steps, one at each side of a tiny porch. A vestibule projecting from the house formed the entrance on Franklin street. It was, for a private citizen, a large house, though simple, substantial. It was well fitted up. For repairs and refurnishing, Congress paid Mr. Osgood $8000.

A Quakeress, Mrs. Sarah Robinson, niece of Walter Franklin, the builder of the house, wrote to a friend or relative:

"April 30th of the fourth month, 1789.

".... Great rejoicing in New York on the arrival of George Washington .... Previous to his coming, Uncle Walter's house, in Cherry street, was taken for him, and every room furnished in the most elegant manner. Aunt Osgood and Lady Duer had the whole management of it. I went the morning before the General's arrival to look at it. The best of furniture in every room, and the greatest quantity of plate and china I ever saw; the whole of the first and second stories is papered, and the floors covered with the richest kind of Turkey and Wilton carpets. The house did honor to my aunts and Lady Kitty; they spared no pains nor expense on it. Thou must know that Uncle Osgood and Duer were appointed to procure a house and furnish it. Accordingly they pitched on their wives as being likely to do it better. I have not yet done, my dear. Is thee not almost tired? .... There is scarcely anything talked about now but General Washington and the Palace."

In addition to the complete furniture, including china and plate selected by "my aunts and Lady Kitty," the President brought on by sea from Mount Vernon a quantity of pictures, vases, ornaments, Sevres china and silver. Chancellor Livingston's handsome residence, containing many works of art, costly ornaments and Gobelin tapestries, was one of the few more elegantly fitted out than that of the President.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CARRIAGE.
(It has recently been added to the collection of relics at Mount Vernon.)

The house was really too small for public purposes, and for Washington's big "family," in which term he included accompanying ex-aides and private secretaries—five in all—as well as his foster-children, Nelly and George Washington Parke Custis.

Mrs. Washington arrived a month later than the President. Systematic entertaining did not begin until her coming. There were levees, dinners, and drawing rooms, with pretty ceremony, oiled with wealth and sustained with dignity.

The President's time was overrun with hand-shakers, politicians, friends and foreigners. He was compelled to institute certain hours for receptions, or levees, and to provide—which provoked comment as "aristocratical"—that seeing him should be prearranged. The levees were appointed at first for two days weekly—Tuesday and Friday—from two to three; later for one day only, Tuesday, from three to four. None were expected whose standing was not of a certain importance, and no ladies.

"Gentlemen, I feel the weight of years; I take a pair of sixes on my shoulders to-day," was the half-jocular greeting which the clergy in Philadelphia, then the capital of the nation, received from George Washington when they paid their respects to him on his last birthday as President of the United States. It was on the twenty-second of February, 1797, when he entered his sixty-sixth year, and when only ten days remained to him of his Presidential term. It had been the custom for several years to bestow upon his birthday some of the forms of ceremonial observance that had commemorated the natal days of the Royal Georges. There was ringing of bells; salutes were fired; the members of Congress waited upon him; the militia paraded, and in the evening there was a public ball. At the last it was noted that the President had relaxed much of his formality; that he was not only cheerful, but that he had attempted in his somewhat clumsy way to be jocose.

In September, 1796, declining a reelection, Washington published to the people of the United States his Farewell Address—an epitome of his characteristic and prescient views. There is not in the writings of Hamilton or of Madison or of Jefferson a sentence breathing just the beneficent, prayerful spirit of the Farewell Address of Washington.

On the 3d of March, 1797, the day before retiring from office, he gave a dinner to the President-elect and Mrs. Adams, establishing the custom that has since prevailed, that the outgoing shall entertain the incoming President, a courteous usage that has more than once seated bosom enemies together at a dreary feast. At Washington's hospitable table were also the foreign ministers and their wives; and Robert Morris, Bishop White and others. President Washington chaffed President-elect Adams on "entering servitude," and in an especially good humor raised his glass and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this is the last time I shall drink your health as a public man; I do it with all sincerity, wishing you all possible happiness."

The effect was not enlivening. Social regret at the departure of the Washingtons was sincere. Mrs. Liston, wife of the British minister, shed tears.

In a few days the Washingtons retired to Mount Vernon.

Washington's Landed Estate.

At the time of his death he was supposed to be the largest landholder in the country, being possessed of 51,395 acres, exclusive of the Mount Vernon estate, his town properties, and the real estate of his wife. The value of his property at his death, again excluding the Mount Vernon estate and the property of his wife, was estimated at $530,000. The estate at Mount Vernon included 8000 acres. In Ford's "Washington" an account is given of the stock of the Mount Vernon property.

It appears that in 1793 Washington had fifty-four drought horses on the estate, 317 head of cattle, 634 sheep, and "many" hogs. The live stock was valued at his death at $35,000. In addition to the draught horses already mentioned, he had in 1799 "two covering jacks and three young ones, ten she asses, forty-two working mules and fifty-one younger ones." Mount Vernon was a community in itself, including some 300 persons. Washington had his own blacksmith shop, his own brickmaker and masons, his carpenters, shoemaker and weavers. We can readily understand how it was that while he was President he was continually thinking of Mount Vernon.

An Old Relic.

A Pennsylvania druggist rummaging about among accumulated rubbish in his garret, found an old iron oven that once belonged to Martha Washington. With it were letters proving authenticity, and an unbroken chain of ownership up to the finder's mother. He places much value on the relic.

Could Have Shot Washington.

"It was once in my power to have shot General Washington," said a British soldier to an American as they were discussing the events of the great struggle after the concluding of peace.

"Why did you not shoot him then?" asked the American. "You ought to have done so for the benefit of your countrymen."

"The death of Washington would not have been for their benefit," replied the Englishman. "We depended upon him to use our prisoners kindly, and we'd sooner have shot an officer of our own!"

PERSONAL RELICS OF WASHINGTON.

The Uniform He Wore at the Close of the Revolution Preserved.

UST now, when the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sons of the Revolution and the Sons of the American Revolution are celebrating Washington's Birthday, and the holiday is being fitly observed all over the United States, the personal relics of General Washington and the relics of colonial days that are on exhibition in the National Museum in the National Capital form a most interesting collection.

In the collection is a complete camp equipage, which comprises in part several canvas tents in as good condition as they were when used as a shelter by the commander-in-chief of the Continental forces.

In General Washington's famous camp chest many of the articles are left just as they were when he got through with them for the last time.

WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL DINNER—HIS TOAST TO THE PRESIDENT-ELECT.

There is pepper in the pepper boxes and salt in the salt box.

Washington's uniform worn at the time he resigned his commission as commander-in-chief at Annapolis consisted of a coat of dark blue cloth, with buff facings, a buff cloth vest, with small buttons of plain gilt metal, and breeches of buff cloth. His dress suit comprised a buff woolen vest, spangled and embroidered along the edges of the collar and the front with cloth-covered buttons, and a pair of woolen "smalls," with cloth-covered buttons. The buff breeches for overwear were of silk, adorned with large buttons.

One of Washington's Love Affairs.

One of the love affairs of "the father of our country" terminated very suddenly and very unhappily. In fact, it was a case of being shown the door by Mr. William Cary, one of the pioneer F. F. V.'s.

His daughter, Miss Mary Cary, was one of the three women who might have married George Washington. History does not record how she felt about it, but her father made no secret of his views. He was a man of large wealth and aristocratic connections. His eldest daughter married George William Fairfax, cousin of Lord Fairfax, and the manager of his American estates, which amounted to more than 3,000,000 acres. Washington was employed by as a surveyor, and in one of his letters says:

"My place of residence is at present at his Lordship's, where I might, was my heart Disengaged, pass my time very pleasantly, as there's a very agreeable Young Lady lives in the same House."

He afterward "disengaged" his heart, as we must suppose, for he asked her father's permission to pay suit to Miss Mary, and received the following stunning reply:

"If that is your business here, sir, I wish you would leave the house, for my daughter has been accustomed to ride in her own coach."

CONSTITUTION DON'T APPLY

In Question of Government For Our Colonies

IS THE VIEW OF M'KINLEY

President Is Credited With Statement That Plenary Powers Will Extended Over Islands.

A statement made by President McKinley to Henry Loomis Nelson as to the American policy toward the newly acquired islands has been published in the New York papers.

The article is vouched for as an authoritative interpretation of the president's views.

According to Mr. Nelson "it is Mr. McKinley's belief, and it will be his purpose to carry the belief into operation, that the constitution does not apply to any of our new islands; that those people are not fit for self-government beyond that proposed for Hawaii; that our new possessions must not be permitted to injure any of our protected interests and that free trade with Porto Rico is right because our protected interests will not be injured thereby.

"The president believes—and this is the most important statement that can possibly be made touching his present beliefs—that congress has plenary power over Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines:

"He holds that congress may pass one tariff law for Porto Rico, another for Hawaii, another for the Philippines and that all may be different from that of the United States.

"It does not appear likely to his mind that any question can ever arise as to the civil rights of the people of these places.

"Mr. McKinley's attitude, then, toward the natives is benevolent. He desires to elevate them, to educate them, and he hopes that, in the end, they will become worthy of being entrusted with local self government. He does not think any of these natives are worthy now, except the few in Hawaii, upon whom it is intended to bestow the suffrage—a few more than possessed the suffrage under the Dole government.

"Mr. McKinley holds that the constitution only applies to a territory when it sets up thereby a treaty or by legislation. Upon this point there are authorities in his favor, but he goes beyond the authorities and holds that congress is not bound by the limitation when it enters upon the task of legislatingit, i. e.:

"It may refuse to the natives and to the American citizens who may go to our colonies, the right of jury trial, the right of free speech, the right to bear arms, the right of peaceable assemblage and of petition, freedom from unwarrantable arrest, freedom from search, and those rights which the constitution guards so jealously. But the main purpose of the president is to deal with the islands as markets for America and as the subject of commercial exploitation generally.

"The president is a thorough believer in the moral and intellectual value of commerce, and he proceeds on the theory that when a nation is doing well as a buyer and seller, it is presumptively well governed and its people are morally sound. He looks forward to benefiting the natives by expanding the blessings of Protestant Christianity and civilization by means of commerce."

It is important to digress a moment, says Mr. Nelson, for the purpose of saying that the president is largely under the influence of certain clergymen, one of whom considers he is the chosen champion of Protestantism in its imaginary war with Romanism, and this accounts in a large measure for his conviction that in spreading Christianity and civilization among the heathen he is gaining and keeping the approval of good Americans. Mr. McKinley is a loyal Methodist and is naturally stirred and moved by the enthusiasm and spirit of that important denomination.

It does not follow, on the president's theory, that if free trade is established between this country and Porto Rico there should not be a protective tariff against the products of the Philippines and Cuba; for Cuba is talked about naturally, in administration circles and in congress as if its annexation to this country was a matter of course.

One thing is settled definitely in respect to the Philippines. The open door is not to be applied to them. The Republican party will not consent to give the Asiatic world an opportunity to land its goods in the Philippines free of duty, to enjoy whatever modified tariff there may be established between the Philippines and this country.

KELLY-KENNY IN PURSUIT.

Cronje and His Army Retreating to The Fastness of the Hills.

Dispatches of Friday from Jacobsdal, Orange Free State, were to the effect that General Kelly-Kenny was still pursuing the Boers. He has now captured more than one hundred wagons. The Highland brigade re-enforced him after a forced march [illegible] Boer army.

THE SENATORIAL CAMPAIGN.

The Result to Date of the Counties That Have Acted.

All the early counties have now acted, Walker and Dale being the last to have primaries before April 14. Twelve counties have so far voted on the Federal senatorship, and these will send sixteen representatives to the next general assembly of Alabama. Of these twelve counties Senator Morgan carried six, Governor Johnston three, and Gen. Oates two. The face of the returns in Russell county gave Governor Johnston a majority of 61, but a contest was filed, and the two county's representatives are for that reason not included in the table of either candidate. Morgan and Macon counties have also held primaries and nominated candidates for the legislature, but they are to be instructed for senator at another primary on the 14th of April, so they are not included in the table. So far as instructed the nominees for representatives are as follows: For Senator Morgan—Limestone 1, Colbert 1, Clarke 2, Marengo 2, Crenshaw 1, Walker 1, total 8. For Governor Johnston—Marshall 1, Jackson 2, Winston 1, total 4. For General Oates—Coffee 1, Dale 1, total 2. To be instructed—Morgan 2, Macon 1, total 3. Contested—Russell 2.

Miss Wheeler to be Married.

The announcement of the engagement of Lieutenant W. W. Fiscus, Nineteenth United States Infantry, now stationed in the Philippines, to Miss Annie Wheeler, the youngest daughter of Gen. Joe Wheeler, has just been received by the lieutenant's sister, Dr. Blanche F. Graves, of Philadelphia. Lieutenant Fiscus' engagement with Miss Wheeler dates from the time he was a cadet at West Point, where General Wheeler's two sons were his classmates.

Cherokee Primaries.

The democratic and populite parties have each ordered primaries for officers of Cherokee county, the democrats for April 14 and the populist about two weeks later. The indications are that there will be three tickets in the field—two party tickets and one independent.

The report of County Treasurer Whorton, just published, shows $4,336.29 in the county treasury.

Senatorial Campaign Opens in Jefferson.

The senatorial campaign opened in Jefferson county Monday night with a large meeting at Lewisburg, the principal speakers being Hugh Morrow in the interest of Senator Morgan, and Felix Blackburn and C. P. Bedlow in the interest of Governor Johnston.

Col. Wyley Urged for Appointment.

The appointment of Lieutenant-Colonel A. H. Wyley, of Alabama, as a member of the Philippine commission is being urged in Washington. Wyley's experience in Santiago, where he codified the laws of that province, is regarded as making him a desirable candidate.

Child Burned to Death.

The 16-months-old child of Mrs. W. H. Fruiticher, of Birmingham, was burned to death a few days ago. The little one had in some manner gotten too near the grate and caught on fire.

Alabama Man Consul.

The president has sent the following nominations to the senate:

John A. Mulky, of Alabama, to be consul at Tuxpan, Mexico.

Navy Commander William C. Gibsono, to be captain; Lieutenant Commander R. G. Davenport, to be commander; Medical Inspector J. C. Wise, to be medical director; Surgeon F. Z. Derr, to be medical inspector.

To be second lieutenant, signal corps: William C. Harles, of Forida; Lee Hart Ghooker, of Nevada, and Hugh L. Matthew, of Tennessee.

All on Board Were Lost.

It is reported that the schooner Hardcastle capsized last Friday at Roanoke, Va., marshes, and all on board, with the exception of the captain, were lost. The Hardcastle was a small schooner and did not carry a crew of more than seven men.

Whittaker Taken to Frankfort.

Harlan Whittaker and James Sutton, suspected of connection with the assassination of Governor Goebel, were taken from Louisville to Frankfort Monday. They were handcuffed and shackeled together.

Rev. A. Sisk, a well-known Missionary Baptist, formerly of Jackson county, died near Maxwell, Franklin county.

ROBERTS' ARMY ENTERS JACOBSDAL

Red Coats Take Full Possession of Captured Boer Town.

THEY ARE WELL RECEIVED

Fears of the Inhabitants Were Quickly Allayed.

Advices from Jacobsdal, Orange Free State, state that Roberts' troops entered the captured town Sunday. The utmost order prevails there. Military police patrol the streets, but not a stick of furniture has been taken. A sentry has been placed before each store, and the soldiers are allowed to enter and purchase what they require.

Everything is so peaceful that the inhabitants express the utmost surprise, as it had been diligently reported that the British occupation meant instant looting.

Judging from the conversations of the inhabitants, the Free State is weary of the war. It is openly said that President Steyn betrayed the people. When the latter became satisfied there was no truth in the stories of the looting proclivities of the British, the townspeople welcomed the troops as friends. Since the battle of the Modder river, the town has not been garrisoned, but has been merely used as a hospitable depot.

When the Boers fired on the British Wednesday, the townspeople protested. Although the British shelling considerably frightened the women, the shells were only directed at a ridge beyond the town, which was intrenched.

The German hospital remains in beautiful order. It is clean and sanitary, and the wounded on both sides are equally well attended.

A correspondent talked with a number of the Boer wounded, and they acknowledged that the British movements had nonpulsed the burgher commanders. Even now, it is added, they are under the impression that the sole object was the capture of Jacobsdal. When informed of the relief of Kimberley, they were at first incredulous and then astounded. The landrost remains in the town.

Other advices from Jacobsdal stated that General Cronje, with 10,000 men, was in full retreat toward Bloemfontein with General Kelley-Kenny fighting the rear guard and harassing the retreat.

The Boers captured a large convoy as a result of Thursday's fighting at Riet river. The British casualties were comparatively slight in view of the tremendous bombardment. Less than thirty men were wounded and but one killed.

General French's division was enthusiastically welcomed at Kimberley. The officers dined at the club in the evening. The news of the entry into Kimberley has greatly cheered the troops, who are working splendidly.

ROBERTS ISSUES ADDRESS

Urges Free State Burghers to Cease Fighting England.

A dispatch from Cape Town says: Lord Roberts has issued a proclamation to the burghers of the Orange Free State, saying that he feels it his duty to make known to all the burghers the cause of the coming of the British as well as to do all in his power to terminate the war, and that he issues the proclamation in order that if the burghers should continue fighting they may not do so ignorantly, but with a full knowledge of their responsibility before God for the lives lost in the campaign.

LETTERS MADE PUBLIC.

Position of L. & N. In Kentucky Fight Is Explained.

Milton H. Smith, president of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, has given out for the benefit of the public the correspondence which passed between the officers of his road and Henry Watterson, of The Louisville Courier-Journal, bearing on the Kentucky election for governor.

The correspondence is highly interesting, as it furnishes a missing link in the tragedy of which Governor William Goebel was the victim.

DECISION FINALLY REACHED.

Kentucky Democratic Legislators Will Meet In Frankfort.

The adjournment of the Democratic legislature at Louisville Saturday to meet in Frankfort revives interest in the political contest and promises to put an end to the lull which has prevailed during the last few days.

There were more Democratic members in Frankfort Saturday night than had been together at any one time since they adjourned and fled to Cincinnati, Louisville and other points to avoid being arrested by the militia and taken to London, where the Republican legislature was then sitting.

More Canadian Volunteers.

Three hundred mounted Canadian volunteers for service in South Africa, the third section of the Canadian contingent, arrived at Halifax N. S., Sunday, from Toronto and Kingston and will sail for Cape Town at once.

Passed Appropriation Bill.

Late Saturday afternoon the house passed the legislative and judicial appropriation bill after having it under consideration four days.

THE * CHRONICLE.

F. W. GIST, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Entered in the post-office at Columbiana Ala., as second class matter.

CALL FOR COUNTY CONVENTION.

By direction of the Democratic executive committee of Shelby County a convention of the Democratic party of said county is hereby called to meet at the courthouse in Columbiana at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, the 21st day of April, 1900, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative and selecting delegates to the State and Senatorial conventions.

For the purpose of selecting delegates to said county conventionbeat meetings or primaries as each beat may determine will be held in each beat on Saturday, the 14th day of April, at such hour as the beat committeemen may fix for their respective beats.

The following invitation, in the language of the resolution by the Democratic State executive committee, is hereby extended:

"Be it resolved by the Democratic State executive committee of Alabama that we hereby cordially invit call conservative white voters, irrespective of past political associations or differences who can unite with us in the effort for pure and economical government, and who will support the nominees and principles of the Democratic party, to participate in the primaries of the party throughout the State.

"Resolved, further, That all persons participating in the primaries, conventions or mass meetings of the party hereafter to be held thereby pledge themselves to support the nominees of such primaries, conventions or mass meetings, whether municipal, county, state or Federal."

The number of delegates to which each beat will be entitled will be as follows, based on the vote for Governor at the last State election:

1—Columbiana	9
1—Shelby	3
2—Spring Creek	2
3—Calera	5
4—Montevallo	9
5—Tylers	1

W.B. BROWNE, Chairman.

IT has been demonstrated that a bale of cotton made into thread before it is shipped leaves three times as much money in the community as does a bale shipped raw. The local mills in North Carolina used more cotton last year than was made in that State, and her cotton was worth to her three times what the crop of this county was worth in proportion. Ours is a small start, but there is no good reason why within six years every bale of cotton raised in this county should not yield to us this increased profit.

THE cotton crop of this town this season will be about 1,000 bales. This will yield to the town about $35,000. If manufactured into cloth it would bring to the town at least $100,000. This is a plain proposition, and needs no comment. Let us act upon it. The price of one crop will build the mill. The balance will be profit to the cotton producers, the factory operatives and the stockholders. The merchants will get their share from all these

IN this issue will be found the call of Hon. W. B. Browne, county chairman, for a convention of the Democratic party, to be held on April 21st, with beat meetings on the 14th, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative and selecting delegates to the State and Senatorial conventions. It will now be in order for those who want to represent this county to announce their candidacy.

THE Hon. Billy Sturdivant says that "owing to the unsettled condition of politics in this county," he withdraws from the race for representative. He gives the wrong reason. The truth is that he withdrew because of the settled condition of politics—the settlement being unfavorable to William.

THE Advocate wants somebody to tell it what the Democratic party believes in. It would be a waste of time. The Advocate could never understand the high plane of principles that makes a man a Democrat.

THE Hon. Billy Sturdivant has taken our advice and retired from the race for representative. If he had read THE CHRONICLE and followed its advice he would have saved his five-dollar bill.

THE Johnston forces still refuse to let the people vote on the senatorship in Jefferson. The Governor is evidently afraid of the people in his own county.

BUT HALF THE TRUTH.

The Court Journal, with its characteristic demagoguery, is dragging up Senator Morgan's record on the Blair educational bill, a measure which the Senator helped to defeat about fifteen years ago. The Journal is using this incident in an attempt to show that Senator Morgan was and is opposed to the education of the poor children, and makes the bald assertion that in the defeat of this measure the Senator prevented the donation by Congress of $7,000,000 to the common schools of Alabama.

In this the Journal, as in all its charges, presumes upon the forgetfulness or ignorance of its readers, and attempts to make out a case on a small part of the truth only. Fortunately, however, some of us remember the Blair bill and Senator Morgan's opposition to it, and we distinctly remember the objectionable features of the proposed donation which made it a vicious piece of legislation under a cloak of charity.

A brief recital of the main points of the measure will serve to show this. This bill did propose to donate to the common schools a large sum of money, Alabama's share of which would have been something like $7,000,000; but there were contingencies. The following are those which formed the basis of Senator Morgan's opposition:

The donation had to be accepted in a limited time.

Each State was required to appropriate an amount equal to her proportion before she could share in the distribution.

The State and federal appropriations were required to be distributed among the white and colored children of school age in proportion to the ratio of illiteracy of the two races.

The results to Alabama would have been that in order to share in the appropriation our legislature would have been compelled to appropriate each year three times the amount we were then appropriating to common schools, or an amount that would have doubled our tax rate. This increase would have come out of the pockets of the white property owners, the negroes at that time paying but an insignificant proportion of the taxes. In the distribution, however, the negroes would have received nearly five-sevenths of the whole, while the whites would have received but little more than two-sevenths.

The Blair bill was simply a scheme to force the white people to educate the negro children, and to burden themselves beyond their ability to do it. If the Journal is at all informed on public questions it knows that Senator Morgan in opposing this vicious measure protected the interests of the white property owners of his State, then just recovering from the effects of reconstruction and civil war.

The Journal dare not reprint this bill, together with the ratio of illiteracy then existing, and let its readers judge the Senator's position for themselves. It prefers to state half the truth to catch the uninformed, though it displays its own ignorance or knavery in doing it.

Advice to Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand.

These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

What are these remedies? Fresh air, proper food and

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak throats, weak lungs and consumption in all its stages.

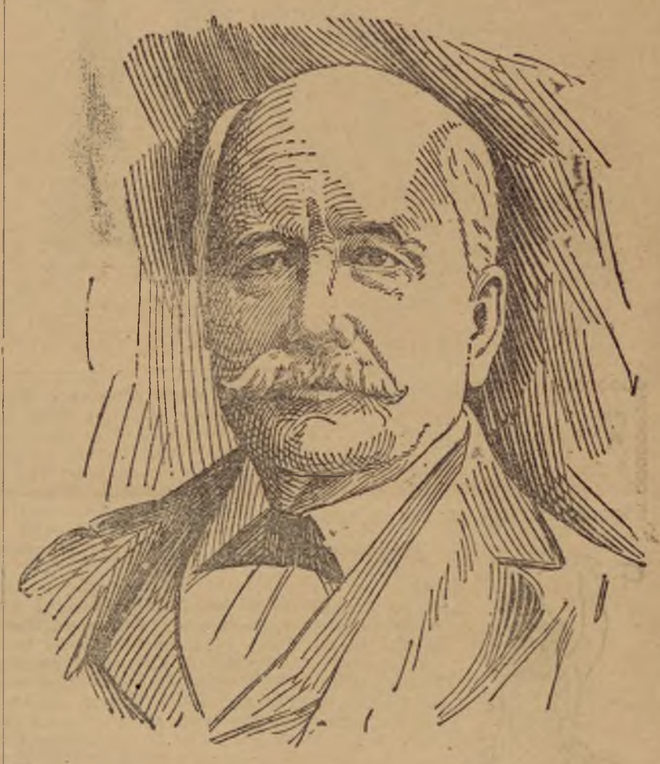
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.



Hon. Thos. Williams, of Elmore county, Alabama, ex-member of congress, statesman, orator, writer and one of the best informed men on the theoretical and practical application of commercial fertilizers. He is one of the largest cotton planters in the state, and produces his great crops upon poor sandy uplands by the skillful use of commercial fertilizers. He uses the ALABAMA FERTILIZER exclusively—after having tried nearly all other leading brands of complete fertilizers. His words, like rifle balls, are few, and go straight to the mark:

WETUMPKA, ALA., September 9, 1899.

DEAR SIRS:—Speaking from experimental tests, in results I am assured the ALABAMA FERTILIZER put up by you, is not excelled by any on our market, and I commend it to the public as a genuine fertilizer productive of good results.

The bags treated by the VEGETABLE FIBRE PRESERVER used by the ALABAMA FERTILIZER CO., successfully resisted the action of the weather and the chemicals contained in the fertilizers, also preventing all loss from wasting.

Yours truly,
THOS. WILLIAMS.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT ANALYSIS.

Bulletin No. 12, issued by the Alabama Department of Agriculture, shows the actual commercial value of the ALABAMA FERTILIZERS to be 19.33 per cent more valuable than all the complete fertilizers or guanos offered for sale in the State of Alabama for the season covered by said bulletin.

Bulletin No. 13, just issued by the Department of Agriculture, shows the actual analysis, from samples sent to the Department by dealers and consumers throughout the State, that the ALABAMA FERTILIZER is actually $3.54 per ton or 24 per cent better than the guaranteed analysis by the ALABAMA FERTILIZER CO., and this answers the question so often asked, "why the ALABAMA FERTILIZER produces so much better crops than other fertilizers of equal guaranteed analysis?" The ALABAMA FERTILIZER will be shipped in the MUMMIA VEGETABLE FIBRE PRESERVED BAGS There is no other preserved bag on the market of any value.

The Commissioner of Agriculture recommends and endorses it in the following words:

"I therefore unhesitatingly say that I believe the bags treated by the MUMMIA VEGETABLE FIBRE PRESERVING PROCESS will resist the action of the weather and the chemicals contained in fertilizers; that the meshes of the bags are so filled by the process as to prevent all wastage, and that if generally used by manufacturers, would be of inestimable value to carriers, dealers and consumers.

(Signed) "I. F. CULVER,
"Commissioner of Agriculture."

These MUMMIA PRESERVED BAGS are almost indestructible by the weather or Fertilizers. Can be hauled in the rain without material damage to bag or contents. Fertilizers put up in these bags can be hauled out to the farm at any time and kept ready for use.

The ALABAMA FERTILIZER is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State, to be the best all round fertilizer for cotton and corn.

ALABAMA FERTILIZER RECORD.

It has produced nearly four bales of cotton on one acre of poor sandy upland.

One hundred and thirty-two bushels of corn on one acre of poor sandy upland.

Two thousand and forty one bushels of corn on twenty acres of poor upland.

Land and corn accurately surveyed and measured by competent disinterested and honorable men.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Every one of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

This trade mark is registered. It is our property. It is not likely to be counterfeited, as that would subject the perpetrator to the danger of heavy fine and imprisonment (see U. S. laws respecting copyrights) It is on every genuine sack of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

As required by state law the word "ALABAMA" in large letters is found on every bag of fertilizer offered for sale in this state. Some unscrupulous persons have employed this means to deceive you.

See that the above trade mark is on the bag, and take none offered you as the ALABAMA FERTILIZER without it.

Questions Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for billiousness or indigestion. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Hall Drug Co.

COTTON FACTORY

Columbiana Mill is an Assured Fact.

251 SHARES GONE

All Taken by Homefolks as a Popular Move.

COLUMBIANA MANUFACTURING CO.

Organized with a Capital Stock of $50.000 on a Business Basis that is Bound to be a Success.

Our people have been talking about building a cotton mill in this quiet little town, and for some days steps have been taken in that direction. A subscription list was presented to the citizens about a week ago, and up to Tuesday night 204 shares of $100 each had been subscribed. It was proposed to start with a capital of $35,000.

Tuesday night a meeting of the subscribers was held in the office of the probate judge, at which a large majority of the shares were represented. Judge A. P. Longshore was made chairman of the meeting, and J. T. Leeper acted as secretary. The subscription list was called, and some increases were made in the amounts taken. The general plans of the project were discussed, and an organization was perfected.

Some visiting gentlemen were invited to take stock, and Messrs. H. A. and A. L. Jackson, of Wilsonville, subscribed for 30 shares. These, with the increases, ran the subscription up to 251 shares. A motion prevailed to raise the capital stock to $50,000.

It was then moved to fix the number of directors at five, which was amended to include the president and vice-president. The following officers and board of directors were unanimously elected:

President—Gordon DuBose.
Vice-president—A. P. Longshore.
Directors—H. A. Jackson, W. B. Browne, J. R. White, Henry Milner and W. G. Parker.

W. G. Parker was elected as commissioner to receive and collect for subscriptions.

With the organization thus completed the meeting adjourned. In a few days the incorporation of the Columbiana Manufacturing Company will be completed in all its legal details and work will begin.

The plan of subscrimption is simple, and puts the taking of stock within the reach of all. The shares of stock are of the par value of $100, and $5 per month will be paid on each share for the first five months, beginning with the first of March. At the end of five months the stock will be subject to a call of $20 per share to be paid within thirty days. In case of default of any of these payments ninety days' grace are to be allowed before the stock is forfeited. No one person is to be allowed to hold a majority of all the stock, and no stock can be sold without giving the company the refusal of it.

It is proposed to begin the making of brick within the next sixty days. The first five payments on the stock will cover the cost of the material, and the 20 per cent assessment will if needed pay for the building. The stock will then be worth the amount paid in, and if necessary can be used to raise the money for the machinery.

This is a simple business plan and is entirely feasible, having succeeded admirably elsewhere. All these small mills are paying handsome dividends, some as high as 98 per cent last year.

The directors here are all business men, and they will have no trouble in carrying the plan to success. There will be a cotton mill in operation in this town within twelve months almost without a doubt.

The subscription is still open, and every citizen is invited to take some stock. Several are already in who hold only one share, but they are welcome, and a hundred more are wanted. The mill is assured, but every additional share will hasten it to the dividend point. The money as fast as taken in will be put into property and will be safe. The amount already subscribed will put in 1,000 spindles, and will go far toward the consumption of the cotton produced in this vicinity.

If you want your job printing done in the latest style and in a neat manner bring it to this office, where we have a variety of type to select from and a printer who knows how to print correctly, tastily and substantially. Don't ask us for prices on second-class work, because we don't do that kind. Our prices for first-class work as low as any, but on other classes we don't even make bids.

The people of Columbiana are promised a rare treat in the near future in an entertainment to be given by Mrs. Stevens Collins, well known here as the sister of Hon. W. B. Browne. Mrs. Collins has distinguished herself in London, as well as in this country, and possesses rare talent. She is a lady of superior intelligence and culture. She is a lineal descendant of the celebrated William Bradford, of Boston. She is connected with some of the noble families of England, and at one time resided in Kensington Palace, the birthplace of Queen Victoria, having often entertained with recitations and readings Princess Louise and others of the royalty in London. It goes without saying that our people will have an opportunity of attending an entertainment in every way doubly worth the price of admission. Mrs. Collins lends her aid to the Presbyterian church, which is sorely in need of funds. Let everybody attend the entertainment, which will be given on March 22.

If you buy clothes that are thrown together you get them cheap; when you have them made by a skilled workman you get a valuable article that is attractive and decent. Just so with your printed stationery. When it is done by an experienced printer who has nice type and good taste you present a decent appearance to the business world. That is the kind you get at this office at prices in proportion to the quality.

They Should Know it.

Many women suffer untold agony and misery because the nature of their disease is not correctly understood. They have been led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for the many ills that beset womankind.

Neuralgia, nervousness, headache, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, rheumatism, a dragging pain or dull ache in the back, weakness or bearing-down sensation, profuse or scanty supply of urine with strong odor, frequent desire to pass it with scalding or burning sensation, sediment in it after standing in bottle or common glass for 24 hours are signs of kidney and bladder trouble.

The above symptoms are often attributed by the patient herself or by her physician to female weakness or womb trouble. Hence, so many fail to obtain relief, because they are treating, not the disease itself, but a reflection of the primary cause, which is kidney trouble.

In fact, women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same remedy.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is easy to get at any drug store for 50 cents or $1.

To prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Kindly mention THE CHRONICLE, and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

PELICANS IN THE BIG MUDDY.

From the St. Louis Republic: Pelican bend, in the Missouri river, near St. Charles, Mo., is the scene of a great annual gathering of pelicans. There is a big flat bar in the river there which has endured far beyond the usual span of a bar's existence in the treacherous, shifting current of the Missouri. This bar is the semi-annual stopping place of vast flocks of pelicans that migrate from south to north in the spring and from north to south in the fall. Persons who have observed their habits claim that they invariably arrive at Pelican bend on September 4, and remain until cold weather sends them south. The pelican is not an attractive bird. He offends both the eye and the nose. But he is commendably regular in his habits. The parent birds catch fish and after eating their fill deposit the others in their pouches under their bills and carry them to their young. These pouches will hold from three to eight pounds of fish. They are elastic, and when distended to their utmost nearly touch the ground. When empty the pouch lies closed up under the big bill and is merely a mass of wrinkles. It is this pouch that gives the pelican his characteristic and disagreeable odor, caused by particles of decaying fish. The pelican's legs are short and strong, and its feet have large webs. It is not a fast swimmer nor a rapid flyer, but it is practically tireless in both air and water. On land it is awkward and unwieldy. Its feathers are pure white except for a fluffy tuft of brown plumage that is seen on the top of the head for about six weeks in the early autumn. This tuft disappears in August and leaves a pimply bald pate that is not pleasant to view. At first the skin is red, then pink, then a straw color. By November 1 the skin on the head hardens into a horny crest, which grows as the winter progresses until by the time the bird arrives at its breeding place in the northwest it is so prominent that it is called the "centerboard" because of its resemblance to the centerboard of a sailboat. When properly cured, the pelican skins and plumage are largely used in women's garments and hats.

My Hair Was Coming Out

"About a year ago my hair was coming out very fast. I bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor to stop this. It not only stopped the falling, but also made my hair grow very rapidly, until now it is 45 inches in length and very thick."—Mrs. A. Boydston, Atchison, Kans., July 25, 1899.

It Feeds the Hair

Have you ever thought why your hair is falling out? It is because you are starving your hair. If this starvation continues your hair will continue to fall.

There is one good hair food. It is Ayer's Hair Vigor. It goes right to the roots of the hair and gives them just the food that they need. The hair stops falling, becomes healthy, and grows thick and long.

Ayer's Hair Vigor will do another thing, also: it always restores color to faded or gray hair. $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

Write the Doctor

If you do not obtain all the benefits you desire from the use of the Vigor, write the Doctor about it. He will tell you just the right thing to do, and will send you his book on the Hair and Scalp if you request it. Address,

FRENCH ENTERS KIMBERLEY

DROVE CRONJE'S BOER TROOPS FROM VARIOUS POSITIONS ALONG THE WAY,

BURGHERS BEGIN A RETREAT

England Elated at Good News and Great Praise Is Accorded Gen. French.

A London special under date of February 17, says: General Cronje, with a start of a day or two, is in full retreat from Lord Roberts, moving northward.

General French, with the cavalry, simply staid over night at Kimberley and then pushed on to get in touch with the retiring enemy. A long Boer wagon train is moving toward Bloemfontein, followed presumably by a large force of British infantry. In their hasty departure the Boers lost quanties of supplies and amunition.

Military opinion in London is that Lord Roberts will not push far after the Boers immediately because of the present problems and the need of rest for the troops. He has to feed 70,000 persons in his army and the whole Kimberley population. He must rebuild the railway from Modder river to Kimberley and revictual the latter.

General French lost a few men only in action, but the forced marches and heat have probably made many ill. Numbers of remounts must be provided.

Lord Roberts has wrought a genuine preliminary success and the impression is that he has done enough for the present. He will need to prepare for another strike. All over England there have been evidences of public joy.

In every theater and public meeting, around the railway stations and in the streets there have been expressions of gladness and jubilation over the news. The newspapers are editorially rejoicing.

Those who read the news closely see only one disturbing factor in the Cape situation, and that is the pressure of the Boers toward Lord Roberts' line of supply through De Aar, which was never more important than now.

The Boers, under Commandants Delarrey and Gobler, are making a persistent effort to penetrate to the railway. They have pushed General Clements back to Arundel and have outflanked him. All are within sixty miles, or two days' hard march of the central railway.

A special dispatch dated two days back, and just transmitted from Chieveley, says that an important move was then pending there, although contrary indications are found in the fact that 750 ambulance bearers have been temporarily disbanded and the further fact that traction engines are arriving at Durban from the front to be sent to Lord Roberts. More artillery is being sent to Lord Roberts from Cape Town.

GEN. FRENCH'S MOVEMENTS.

The following from Riet River, Orange Free State, tells how General French reached Kimberley:

"General French, in command of the cavalry division and with a strong force of horse artillery, left Modder river Sunday morning for Rambau, twelve miles east of Enslit, where the whole division concentrated. The next day he made a rapid march to Riet river, where a party of Boers contested his passage at Dekiel and Water Fall drifts. After some hours' shelling General French drove the Boers away and crossed the river.

"Yesterday (Tuesday) the column continued its march to Klip and Romdaval drifts on the Modder river, where again a short engagement ensued, General French shelling the Boers vigorously and forcing a passage.

"The Boers precipitately retreated, leaving five laagers in the hands of the British, besides a great quantity of cattle and 2,000 sheep.

"The rapidity of General French's march, and the overwhelming nature of his force, enabled him, in spite of the difficulties of water transportation, to thoroughly outwit and surprise the Boers. The British casualties were slight."

MOLINEUX SPEAKS.

Condemned Man Denounces His Prosecutor and the New York Newspapers.

At New York, Friday, Roland B. Molineux was sentenced to die in Sing Sing prison during the week of March 26 for the murder of Mrs. Katherine J. Adams. He made a statement asserting that he had not been fairly convicted, and that "yellow journalism" had put a price on his head.

After denouncing the newspapers and making quite an extended argument in his own behalf, the defendant paused, either to regain his composure or to control his temper, and went on speaking with remarkable clearness and angry vehemence.

"I denounce and despise," he said, "the act of the district attorney in attempting to villify the reputation of the pure and lovely woman who bears my name. It was the act of a blackguard and a villainous lie.

"Now, your honor (to the recorder), I am prepared for sentence. I am not afraid."

Recorder Goff, in pronouncing sentence, reminded the defendant that his counsel had already presented all the facts to the jury and that the court had but the one duty to perform.

General Molineux was asked about the fund which it was proposed for him to defray expenses he had been under by the trial, and he said, when inquiry was made regarding his acceptance:

"Absolutely and under no circumstances would I accept such a thing."

The attorneys for Molineux have filed an appeal, and the appeal will stay the execution of the sentence indefinitely. Molinex will, however, be taken to Sing Sing prison.

NO RESPONSIBILITY.

Government Won't Pay Claims For Depredations By Soldiers.

A Washington dispatch says: The house committee on war claims has reported adversely the bill for the relief of Eugene A. Stone, of Greenville, S. C. This bill asked for an appropriation of $6,992.50 for damages to property by United States troops during the war with Spain. The report is of wide importance to the south as it defines the position of the committee with regard to the claim bills, hundreds of which have been introduced this session from all states where troops were mobilized and encamped.

Several of them have been offered from Georgia, the larger number coming from around Chickamauga, Athens, Americus, Albany and Savannah. The report says:

"The idea that the Federal government is liable or ought in any view to pay for the depredations committed by soldiers is not entitled to serious consideration. The whole claim is for depredations committed by soldiers during the war with Spain. The committee reports adversely and recommends the bill to lie upon the table."

TEMPORARY PEACE.

Truce Is On Between Contending Factions In Kentucky.

A Frankfort special says: The agreement to postpone the Taylor-Beckham suit operates as a temporary truce in the legal battle over the state offices, and it is not probable that there will be any decisive changes in the situation till then, unless the return of the Democratic legislature to Frankfort adds some unexpected feature.

A part of the attorneys on both sides held a meeting Friday afternoon and discussed several plans for consolidating the various injunction cases in order to avoid a clash between the different state courts in which they are pending, but a final understanding was not reached.

PLUMBERS MAKE DEMANDS.

Strike For Shorter Work Day and a Fixed Wage Scale.

The plumbers and gas fitters of Savannah, Ga., are on a strike. They want both shorter hours and increased wages. They have demanded a nine-hour day every day but Saturday, which they want fixed at eight hours for a day's work. They want the scale of wages fixed at $1.50, $2 and $3 a day, according to experience.

The employing plumbers assert that the strike will not materially affect them and declare, if necessary, they can get out their tools and go to work themselves.

DEPARTMENT ACTS.

Secretary Hay Will Investigate Ex-Consul Macrum's Charges.

The state department has taken steps to make sure of the position it has assumed toward ex-Consul Macrum, in anticipation of an inquiry from congress, by directing an investigation into every phase of the allegations contained in that officer's statement, including especially a thorough investigation of the conditions under which the consular mail and cable service were conducted.

SUIT WAS POSTPONED.

Judge Cantrill Will Hear Taylor-Beckham Injunction Case.

A Frankfort dispatch says: The hearing of the injunction suit of Governor Beckham against Governor Taylor and Lieutenant Governor Marshall was postponed Friday to February 21st, when, unless some agreement is meantime reached, the matter will Georgeo before Judge Cantrill at

CRONJE'S TROOPS DISPERSED.

Lord Roberts Sends News of General French's Successes.

"JACOBSDAL, February 16—The following from General French was received this morning:

"'I have completely dispersed the enemy from the southern side of Kimberly, from Alexandersfontein to Oliphantsfoutein, and am now going to occupy their ground. Have captured the ememy laager's and supplies of ammunition. Casualities about twenty of all ranks wounded.'"

"'Kimberly cheerful and well.'"

Manager Cooper Testifies.

The proceedings in the Clark case at Washington, Friday, reached almost the high point of interest attained Thursday. The principal witness of the day was Mr. Walker Cooper, one of Mr. Clark's managers in the campaign.

Kimberley Seige Raised.

Friday afternoon the Commercial Cable Company, at New York, sent out the following: "We are advised that telegrams can now be accepted for Kimberley, South Africa, at sender's risk, and not exceeding twelve words."

BOLO MEN AGGRESSIVE.

War In Philippines Being Kept Up By the Insurgents.

A Manila special says: Insurgent forces estimated to number 5,000 soldiers, mostly Bolo men, attacked the American garrison in the convent at Daopoga in the province of Albay during the night of February 5. They were repulsed, however, after they had burned much of the town. One lieutenant wounded was the only loss sustained by the Americans.

JEFFERSON'S DEBUT.

HOW HE FIRST PLAYED "RIP VAN WINKLE."

It Was in His Little Room in a London Lodging House and It Almost Caused His Arrest as a Lunatic—He Tells the Story.

From Joseph Jefferson's "Reminiscences": "My approaching appearance was the important dramatic event of my life. I had been five years from America and was on my way home, and I felt satisfied that if this new version of 'Rip Van Winkle' succeeded in London, my way was quite clear when I returned to the United States. On Sunday evening, being alone in my lodgings, I got out for my own admiration my new wig and beard, the pride of my heart, and which I was to use in the last act. I could not resist trying them on for the twentieth time, I think. So I got in front of the glass and adjusted them to my perfect satisfaction. I soon became enthused, and began acting and posing in front of the mirror. In about twenty minutes there came a knock at the door. 'Who's there?' said I. 'It's me, if you please,' said the gentle but agitated voice of the chambermaid. 'May I come in?' 'Certainly not,' I replied, for I had no desire to be seen in my present make-up. 'Is there anything wrong in the room, sir?' said she. 'Nothing at all. Go away,' I replied. 'Well, sir,' she continued, 'there's a policeman at the door, and he says as 'ow there's a crazy old man in your room, a-flingin' of his arms about and a-goin' on awful, and there's a crowd of people across the street a-blockin' up the way." I turned toward the window, and to my horror I found that I had forgotten to put down the curtain, and, as it seemed to me, the entire population of London was taking in my first night. I had been unconsciously acting, with the lights full up, to an astonished audience who had not paid for their admission. As I tore off my wig and beard a shout went up. Quickly pulling down the curtain, I threw myself on a chair, overcome with mortification at the occurrence. In a few minutes the comical side of the picture presented itself, and I must have laughed for an hour. I had been suffering from an attack of nervous dyspepsia consequent upon the excitement of the past week, and I firmly believe that this continuous fit of laughter cured me."

In the new Brooklyn bridge there will be four cables used to support the structure, and measured from pin to pin on the anchor chains they will be 2985.08 feet in length in the case of the outer cables, and 02 feet shorter in the case of the inner cable. The cables are to be made up of steel wire in 37 strands, and each strand will contain 281 wires laid straight. The wire employed for this purpose is .165 inch in diameter and in the entire cable there will be 10,397 wires clamped into cylindrical form by bands of cast steel which carry the suspenders for the support of the floor beams. After these permanent bands are in place they will be covered with steel plates so arranged as to shed water. The length of the centre span of the new bridge is to be 1600 feet.

Mountain toothache is a new addition to our bodily ills. It has attacked engineers and laborers on the Jungfrau railroad at a height of 8500 feet above sea-level as a jumping toothache that attacks several teeth at a time, lasts seven or eight days and leaves the patient with a swollen face, which it takes another week to reduce. After that, the teeth are acclimatized and give no further trouble.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY.

It is said that successful trials of a telephonic apparatus without wire have been had in Italy. The instruments were installed on moving trains. The details of the experiments and apparatus are very meagre.

Three "cures" for tuberculosis are at present competing for professional favor in Italy—two of them, that of Cervello of Palermo—and that of Ruata of Perugia, consisting of medicated inhalations, and the oldest of them, that of Maragliano of Genoa, proceeding by sero-therapy.

For many years efforts have been made from time to time to measure the heat radiated from some of the brightest stars. The most successful attempt appears to be that of Professor Nichols at the Yerkes observatory. With the aid of an apparatus recalling the principle of the Crookes radiometer, he has ascertained that the star Vega, which shines very brilliantly near the zenith in midsummer evenings, send to the earth an amount of heat equal to that of an ordinary candle six miles distant. Arcturus, the star celebrated by Job, and which has a somewhat fiery color, radiates about twice as much heat as Vega.

Two Letters from Women Helped Through the "Change of Life" by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I first wrote to you I was in a very bad condition. I was passing through the change of life, and the doctors said I had bladder and liver trouble. I had suffered for nine years. Doctors failed to do me any good. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, my health has improved very much. I will gladly recommend your medicine to others and am sure that it will prove as great a blessing to them as it has to me."—MRS. GEO. H. JUNE, 901 DeKalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Relief Came Promptly

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I had been under treatment with the doctors for four years, and seemed to get no better, I thought I would try your medicine. My trouble was change of life, and I must say that I never had anything help me so much as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Relief came almost immediately. I have better health now than I ever had. I feel like a new woman, perfectly strong. I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound all the credit, and would not do without her medicine for anything. I have recommended it to several of my friends. There is no need of women suffering so much for Mrs. Pinkham's remedies are a sure cure."—MAHALA BUTLER, Bridgewater, Ill.

GEORGE AND MARTHA.

The belles and beaux were courtly when
In powdered wigs they met;
The dames were prim and stately when
They entertained, and yet
Theirs may to us seem curious ways—
In George and Martha's courting days.

The world seemed young, all nature fair,
When George a-courting went;
Yet, if we look, perchance we'll find
To gain the dame's consent,
He sang to her love's sweetest lays—
In George and Martha's courting days.

For lovers loved the same as now,
And maids were sly and coy;
And passion burned within the heart
And turned to grief or joy;
And love's fire kindled to a blaze—
In George and Martha's courting days.

Imagine, if we can, the time
When George, in velvet coat,
Sent perfumed notes to Martha's bower,
Or love-lorn verses wrote,
When Cupid sent his piercing rays—
In George and Martha's courting days.

And when, perchance, he went to woo,
Mayhap his snowy lace
At wrist and throat just brushed across
His blushing lady's face.
And eyes met eyes in fondest gaze—
In George and Martha's courting days.

So picture to yourself her smile,
As there on bended knee
The lover knelt by Martha's side,
And vowed his constancy;
For theirs were lovers' old, sweet ways—
In George and Martha's courting days.

WASHINGTON PRESENTING LAFAYETTE TO MARTHA WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON AT HOME

The Social Side of Life at Mount Vernon.

MARTHA CUSTIS first met George Washington when he was a Colonel. He was on his way to Williamsburg to see the Governor, when he was met by a Mr. Chamberlayne, who owned a plantation along the way, and was asked to stop and dine with him. Washington replied that his business was urgent, and he was only persuaded when Chamberlyne told him that he had a young widow visiting him who was rich and fair to look upon. He finally accepted, saying that it could be only for dinner, and that, the meal over, he must hasten on to Williamsburg by moonlight. He then threw the reins of his horse to Bishop, his body-servant, and told him to wait for his return. Dinner being over, the Virginia Colonel was so pleased with his company that he was in no hurry to go. He forgot all about poor Bishop and his horse, and accepted an invitation to remain over night. It was, it may be said, a case of love at first sight. Washington went on to Williamsburg next day, and on his return he called at the house of Mrs. Custis and asked her hand in marriage. She accepted and they were married in great style at her home on the Pamunkey River on the 6th of January, 1759. A honeymoon of several months was spent here, and then the couple took a wedding tour to Mount Vernon.

Mrs. Custis was twenty-six years old at the time, and Washington was three months her senior. Her maiden name was Martha Dandridge. She had been married at seventeen to Colonel Daniel P. Custis, the son of John Custis, of Arlington, who was one of the grandees of early Virginia. Martha Custis had four children, two of whom were living at the time she married Washington. By the death of her first husband she was left wealthy, and she brought to her new husband about one hundred thousand dollars in money and a large amount of real estate.

Martha Custis was a belle at seventeen, and at twenty-six she was a blooming widow. She was under middle size and had dark brown eyes and hair. Washington is said to have been a homely young man and a very fine-looking old one. Martha Washington was a very pretty girl, but not a very good-looking old woman. She was very proud of her husband, and they show the little room in the second story of the home at Mount Vernon in which she secluded herself after his death, seeing no one for months, and allowing only a cat to enter the room through a hole which was cut under the door.

General Washington stood six feet three in his slippers, and, in the prime of his life was rather slender than otherwise, but as straight as an arrow. His form was well proportioned and evenly developed, so that he carried his tallness gracefully, and looked strikingly well on horseback. There has never been a more active, sinewy

When Washington was appointed to command the Revolutionary armies, it is plain from his letters home that one of his greatest objections to accepting the appointment was the "uneasiness," as he termed it, that it would cause his wife to have him absent from home.

General Washington was a very rich man; his wife was very rich, and her three children were heirs to great wealth. He had a little principality to govern. Besides the farms about his own residence on the Potomac, with several hundred slaves upon them, he possessed wild lands in most of the best locations then known, as well as shares in several incorporated companies. He derived an important part of his influence from the greatness of his wealth and the antiquity of his family—things which were then held in much more respect than they are now. Washington's estate was worth three-quarters of a million dollars; but it gave him far more personal consequence in the country than twenty times such a fortune could at present. The rich planter of that day, living as he did on a wide domain of his own, the owner of those who served him, riding about in his coach and six, and with no near neighbors to restrain, censure, or outshine him, was a kind of farmer-prince.

It was fortunate for Washington that he came to his wealth when his character was mature. Being a younger son, he had no expectations of wealth in his youth, and he grew up in a very hardy, sensible manner, on an enormous farm, not a fourth part of which was cultivated. His father dying when he was eleven years old, he came directly under the influence of his mother, who was one of the women of whom people say, "There is no nonsense about her." She was a plain, energetic, strong-willed lady, perfectly capable of conducting the affairs of a farm, and scorning the help of others. When she was advanced in years, her son-in-law offered to manage her business for her.

"You may keep the accounts, Fielding," was her reply, "for your eyesight is better than mine, but I can manage my affairs myself."

THE BANQUET HALL AT MOUNT VERNON.

On another occasion, General Washington asked her to come and live with him at Mount Vernon.

"Thank you, George," said she, "but I prefer being independent."

And so to the last she lived in her own plain farmhouse, and superintended the culture of her own acres, not disdaining to labor with her own hands. When Lafayette visited her he found her at work in her garden, with her old sun-bonnet on, and she came in to see him, saying:

"I would not pay you so poor a compliment, Marquis, as to stay to change my dress."

Being the son of such a woman, and trained by her in a simple, rational manner, George Washington was prepared to enjoy the lot that fell to him, without being spoiled by it.

With all his wealth he was not exempt from labor. Cultivating a large tract of country, he spent much of his time in riding about to visit the different farms, to consult his overseers and superintend his improvements. It is computed that he spent about one-half of the days of his life on horseback. Like all out-of-door men, he was exceedingly fond of a good horse—a taste which he had in common with his mother, who was said to be as good a judge of horses as any man in Virginia. Nothing was more common than for him to mount his horse after breakfast and ride all day, only dismounting for a few minutes at a time.

On those great plantations far from any large town, and worked by negroes, the master was often obliged personally to superintend any operation which was out of the ordinary routine.

There were balls occasionally at Alexandria, and we find Washington attending them, and entering into the humors and gayeties with much spirit.

The usual course of a day at Mount Vernon was something like this: The master rose early, shaved and dressed himself, except that his queue was arranged by a servant. His first visit was to the stable. It is recorded of him that he once applied, with his own strong right arm, a stirrup strap to the shoulders of a groom who had ill treated a favorite horse. After a light breakfast of corn cake, honey and tea, the General would tell his guests, if he had any, and he usually had, to amuse themselves in their own way till dinner time, offering them his stables, his hunting and fishing apparatus, his boats and his books to their choice. Then he would mount his horse and ride about his farms, returning at half-past two, in time to dress for dinner at three. He was always dressed with care for this meal, as on all other occasions of ceremony. He liked plain dishes and was particularly fond of baked apples, hickory nuts, and other simple products of the country. It was his custom to sit a good while at the table after dinner, talking over his hunts and his adventures while in service during the French war. His usual toast was, "All our friends." The evening was spent in the family circle round the blazing wood fire, and by ten o'clock he was usually asleep. Such was the ordinary life of this illustrious farmer at home, before his country called him to the field to defend her liberties; and it was just the kind of life that was best fitted to prepare him for the command of an army of American farmers.

The Example of Washington.

"Yes," observed Brown, "I have long since quit advising young men to follow in the footprints left by George Washington upon the sands of time."

"But," protested Smith, "you surely will not deny that the integrity and the patriotism of Washington have raised up a standard which it should be the constant effort of every American youth to reach?"

"Oh, no," replied Brown; "I have no fault to find with either his integrity or his patriotism."

"Then why do you not consider it advisable for our young men to follow his example?" queried his friend in surprise.

"Well, I arrived at that conclusion from my own experience. You see, my father always advised me to take George Washington as the guiding star of my ambition, and insisted that I should follow with all possible exactness in the footsteps of that illustrious gentleman."

"Excellent advice. Did you follow it?"

"To the letter. I studied the life of Washington with unfailing diligence and all my actions were a reflex of his. Whatever he did, that did I."

"And you have lived to regret it."

"Bitterly."

"That is remarkable. What deed of his did you duplicate that caused your regret?"

"Well—er—Washington, you know, married a widow."

LOUBET ELECTED TO SUCCEED FAURE

French Nation's Assembly Selects A New President.

MELINE GETS MANY VOTES

New Head of Republic Is Anxious For Harmony.

A Paris special says: M. Loubet was elected president of the French republic Saturday afternoon. He received 483 votes against 270 votes cast for M. Meline, and 50 scattering.

The national assembly met at Versailles at 1 o'clock and Mr. Loubet, president of the senate, declared the sitting open amid the applause of the leftists, during which M. Loubet proceeded to drawing for tellers.

Soon the scene became animated. Crowds of people surrounded the doors watching the arrival of members. The palace was closed to the public. Various political groups held meetings at noon, and M. Cochery announced that M. Meline had definitely withdrawn his candidacy. The nationalists and the anti-Semites decided not to vote for M. Loubet.

When M. Paul DeRoulede, organizer of the League of Patriots and deputy representing the second district of Angouleme, voted, he attempted to speak from the tribune where the urns where placed; but M. Loubet forbade him to do so, which called forth protest from the rightists and applause from the leftists.

In the meantime the voting continued. While the checking was in progress the members of the assembly left the hall and assembled in the galleries and corridors, where they discussed the chances of the election.

M. Meline loudly announced that he had voted for M. Loubet.

When the sitting of the assembly was resumed the public galleries were crowded.

The tellers entered headed by M. Chauveau, who announced that M. Loubet had been elected by a vote of 483 to 270 cast for M. Meline amidst applause from the leftist and center groups. Senator Chauveau added:

"M. Loubet, having obtained an absolute majority, I proclaim him president of the republic."

The announcement was greeted with prolonged applause mingled with violent protests from the rightists, the leftists shouting, "Vive la republique!"

M. Chauveau then declared the sitting closed. A squadron of curraisuers which arrived at the palace to escort the new president was greeted by the crowd outside with cries of "vive l'armee."

The result of the election was communicated to M. Loubet and he received the congratulations of his friends. The newly elected president promised to devote his best efforts to fulfilling the wishes of the country and to "reunite the republicans who have drifted asunder by the current of unhappy events."

President Loubet's remarks brought forth lively applause from his hearers.

Power Transferred to Loubet.

The premier, M. Dupuy, then formally transferred the executive power to M. Loubet and congratulated him upon his election.

The president in thanking M. Dupuy expressed the hope of having the support of the cabinet. The senators and deputies then filed past and shook hands with the president, who afterwards received a deputation of newspaper men and through them appealed to the whole press of the country to work in unison and appeasement.

M. Loubet left the place in a carriage accompanied by M. Dupuy and followed by the ministers. The crowds along the route acclaimed President Loubet with cries of "vive la republique!" "vive l'armee!" "vive Loubet!"

President Loubet arrived in Paris from Versailles at 5:08 p. m., and was received with military honors. As the presidential carriage left the St. Lazare station a band of thirty or forty persons ranged themselves on either side of the landau under the leadership of a couple of individuals, who kept giving signals and shouts of "down with Loubet!" "resign, resign!" The general public was apparently indifferent and no hostility was displayed.

THREE FIREFIGHTERS KILLED.

Burned Structure Collapses, Burying Them In the Debris.

At 3 o'clock Friday morning while a dozen firemen were at work in the ruins of the big store of the Emerson Shoe company in Philadelphia, which was burned out the night before, a mass of iron and stone crashed down from the upper floors, burying the men beneath it. Three of the firemen were killed.

When the three men were first buried in the debris they answered the shouts of their comrades, but the unfortunates undoubtedly met death by suffocation. Five other firemen were injured, two seriously.

SPAIN BECOMES LENIENT.

She Will Release Filipino Prisoners In Caroline and Ladrone Islands.

A Madrid special states that it has been decided at a cabinet council to liberate the Filipinos who had been deported to the Caroline and Ladrone islands, in order to influence the Filipinos to release the Spaniards they hold prisoners.

It has also been decided to postpone the sale of the floating dock at Havana.

CURRENT EVENTS IN ALABAMA.

Big Cotton Mill for Huntsville.

Final arrangements have just been made insuring the erection at Huntsville of a cotton mill of 200,000 spindles, three times as large as any like industry now in the south. The corporation that will erect and operate the industry is entitled the Merrimac Manufacturing company, of Lowell, Mass., having a capital of $2,500,000. The charter has been granted and the Governor's approval affixed. The Merrimac Manufacturing company operates an immense plant at Lowell, and the new plant there will be an improved duplicate of the first. The plant will consist of many buildings, including a bleachery, printing mill for printing calico, a dye house and machine shops. Print cloths, ginghams, sateen, velveteen and fine dress goods will be among the articles manufactured. The employes will number something more than 5,000, more than half of them necessarily skilled workmen.

Disposing of Army Supplies.

The chief army quartermaster at Huntsville is rapidly disposing of the supplies now stored in the government warehouses and will advertise the buildings for sale probably within the next two weeks.

The old Fourth corps wagon train is being sent to Chattanooga in small installments through the country. Ed Stone, chief wagonmaster, has been ordered to Mantanzas, Cuba. A detachment of twenty-six wagons departed overland for Chattanooga Saturday.

Board of Revenue Appointed.

The governor Saturday signed the bill abolishing the court of county commissioners of Jefferson county and creating a board of revenue. He has appointed the following members of the board of revenue: Paul H. Earle, president; Hugh McGeever, Chambers McAdory; J. B. Elliott and R. J. Waldrop.

Election at Warrior.

The municipal election at Warrior Friday resulted as follows: John J. Savage, mayor; C. G. Anderson, James Bees, Will Gibbs, Will Kaley, Hawe Ragland, councilmen. All are coal miners excepting C. G. Anderson, who is a railroad agent.

BRIEFLY MENTIONED.

The tax rate in Alabama for confederates and widows has been raised from ½ to 1 mill.

Bunk Lee, a notorious Jefferson county convict, serving sentence at Coalburg for murder, was killed by Ernest Thomas, a fellow convict, last week.

The Lauderdale county central committee has issued a call for a primary election to be held on March 18 for the purpose of electing two delegates to the constitutional convention which meets in August.

Baily Springs university, near Florence, has suspended operations for the remainder of the term. The direct cause of the suspension was the cold spell, which caused the ruin of all the heating apparatus and the water supply, but there has been trouble brewing between President Ellis and his faculty for some weeks.

The general assembly of Alabama Saturday received a picture of the late president of the confederacy, Jefferson Davis, from Hon. John W. A. Sanford, Jr., in a beautiful and chaste address, which was responded to by President Cunningham of the senate. The picture was then carried to the senate chamber, where it will be placed on the wall of that chamber.

The Pipe Combine Completed.

Authoritative news was received at Cincinnati Saturday that the cast iron pipe company combine had been formed under the title of "The United States Iron Foundry Company." The Addyston Pipe and Steel Company, of Cincinnati, which was reported as holding the deal back, has signed the act. It receives $750,000 cash and $750,000 preferred stock. The combine is an accomplished fact.

Representative Crawford Dying.

Representative Crawford, of Texas, is ill at the Providence Hospital in Washington. He has been so low that his friends do not expect him to recover. He is suffering from a complication of diseases, which the doctors have been unable to cure.

Southern Iron Advances.

Southern iron has taken a big jump in price on the Chicago market, where No. 2 foundry is quoted at $12.75, which makes it $9.25 at the furnace with the freight rates off. This rise, which amounts to over $1 per ton, will be felt in Birmingham, and will result in an advance of miners' wages 2½ cents per ton for every ton of coal mined, the wages of the miners being based on the selling price of pig iron.

Sixth Immunes Arrive.

The transport Chester arrived at Savannah, Ga., with the Sixth Volunteer Infantry. The regiment will go into camp in that city to be mustered out.

Bryan on the Army.

Colonel William J. Bryan spoke Friday at Grand Rapids, Mich., under the auspices of the Kent County Democratic club. In denouncing the proposition to increase the army he asked why it was necessary, and said it certainly could not be on account of any disaster that had occurred under republican rule, because we are told that people are peaceable, prosperous and happy. Colonel Bryan then said the proposed increase was for subjugation, a course which the people opposed.

DECISIVE ACTION MUST BE TAKEN

In Replacing Spanish Sovereignty Over Philippine Group.

ADMINISTRATION'S PLANS.

Admiral Dewey Will Inaugurate a Naval Crmpaign.

A Washington special says: The administration has determined to rapidly extend the jurisdiction of the United States over the whole Philippine group, acting on the theory that delay in this case is dangerous, and that anarchy and a general paralysis of such interests as the islands support will be brought about through a failure to promptly replace the Spanish sovereignty over the islands by that of the United States.

The decision involves the necessity of a naval campaign, and this will be instituted as soon as Admiral Dewey receives the re-enforcements in the shape of gunboats now on the way to Manila.

Owing to the vast number of the Philippine islands, a large number of gunboats would be required to visit them simultaneously; so the program will be to have the vessels visit, in order, the principal towns outside of Manila.

The naval vessels probably will be accompanied by some troop transports, and the soldiers will be landed where necessary to hoist the United States flag and take possession formally of the ports. It is understood that there will be no attempt made at this time to displace any of the existing municipal governments except where they prove refractory and offer resistance.

M'KINLEY TO G. A. R. MEN.

President Addresses Veterans at Their Meeting In Boston, Mass.

The last day of President McKinley's visit to Boston was spent in a continual round of pleasure. At Tremont Temple he spoke to the members of the Massachusetts department of the Grand Army of the Republic, who were assembled in annual convention. To the Grand Army of the Republic President McKinley said:

"I count myself most fortunate to find upon my visit to the city of Boston my comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic in session in the same city, thus giving me an opportunity once again to look into your faces and to exchange the friendly greeting of comrades with each and every one of you.

"You fought in a holy cause, which, under the providence of God, triumphed. You not only were good soldiers, maintaining in the battle's front the honor and integrity of the flag we love so much, but since the war and in your relation as citizens to the government you have ever been loyal and faithful, preserving in peace the government which you secured in war. The sad feature about all these reunions is that our numbers are diminishing.

"Every annual roll call discloses one or another of our comrades not present, but accounted for. They have gone to join their comrades on the other side, now in the majority, sleeping within that low green tent whose curtain never turns. It has occurred to me, as it has to every old soldier of the war, that the conspicuous commanders, those who gave orders we loved to obey, have all gone from among us—Grant and Sherman and Sheridan and Hancock—and a long line besides that are treasured in the memories of the soldiers of the republic.

"I am glad to have an opportunity of living as you have had the opportunity of living in this last year, when the American people have again manifested their patriotism, their love of country, their devotion to American honor, and I want to see all the brave men of the Spanish war, north and south, in some great patriotic organization, and I know none better than the Grand Army of the Republic. I thank you and bid you all good morning."

MOTHER WITNESSES HORROR.

Sees Her Four Children Cremated While Powerless to Help Them.

A dwelling house at French Run, thirty-five miles east of DuBois, Pa., belonging to a woodman named Carison, was burned Friday morning. Carison was away from home, but his wife and five little children were in the house.

The mother was awakened by the noise of crackling wood and had just time to grasp her baby and jump from a second-story window into the snow.

She was then obliged to stand and witness the burning to death of her four other little ones, aged twelve, seven, five and two years respectively.

SHERIDAN OFF FOR MANILA.

Transport Sails For Manila With 1,835 Soldiers.

The United States army transport Sheridan pulled out from her pier in Brooklyn at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon on her way to Manila by the way of the Suez canal with 1,835 enlisted men and officers and their wives and families to the number of ninety

The Sheridan is considered the best appointed of the three army transports which have sailed from Brooklyn.

NEW SECRETARY ARRIVES.

Hitchcock Comes To Take Portfolio Held By Mr. Bliss

Hon. Ethan Allen Hitchcock, who is to succeed Secretary Bliss at the head of the interior department, reached Washington from New York Sunday evening.

The new secretary, in an interview, corrected what he said was a popular wrong impression regarding the czar's so-called disarmament proposal, made to the powers of the world.

"This proposition," said he, "is not for a disarmament, but for the calling of a conference for the purpose of reaching an agreement not to increase armaments. Such was the intention of the circular issued by him in August last."

Mr. Hitchcock was averse to discussing for publication European politics, but he said in answer to questions that the accomplishments of this country in raising an army from 25,000 to 260,000 men during the Spanish war challenged their admiration and astounded and amazed the nations of the old world. It had increased admiration for the flag, and he added:

"The American flag never flew higher in Europe than it flies tonight."

Russia, he said, was friendly to America and during the late war maintained an attitude of strict neutrality.

EXPENSE OF GROWING COTTON.

Pamphlet Will Be Issued By Agricultural Department.

Under the supervision of Statistician Hyde of the department of agriculture at Washington, the cost of growing cotton has been investigated, and the results of the investigation are to be published within a few days in a pamphlet. This report will show that the average cost of producing an acre of upland cotton in 1898 was $15.42, subdivided into the following items: Rent, $2.88; plowing, $2.81; seed, 21 cents; planting seed, 28 cents; fertilizers, $1.30; distributing fertilizers, 16 cents; chopping and hoeing, $1.31; picking, $1.37; ginning and pressing, $1.02; bagging and ties, 57 cents; marketing, 64 cents; repairing implements, 40 cents; all other expenses, 41 cents.

It was ascertained that the pounds of lint produced per acre were 255.6, sold for 6.7 cents per pound; bushels of seed produced, 16; price per bushel, 11.9 cents. The total return to the planter on the average was $19.03, which gave him a net profit of $3.61 per acre. The cost of picking cotton per 100 pounds was 44 cents, while the cost of producing the lint per pound was 5.27 cents.

Several thousand cotton planters contributed to these statistics, and of the entire number reporting, 20 per cent reported a loss, largely due to deficient production, owing to drouth and to other causes.

To produce sea island cotton costs $21.95 per acre, or an average of 11.59 cents per pound, and the total return for lint and seed of sea island cotton was $28.65, which gave the planter a net profit of $6.70 per acre.

RESORT TO BUSHWHACKING.

Guerilla Warfare of Filipinos Is Arousing American Troops.

General Otis cabled the war department Saturday the names of nine American soldiers wounded on Turiquina road, north of the pumping station, Friday. Of these, Private Geo. Adams, company A, First Nebraska, died.

The reports of such skirmishes as those noted above and the stories of frequent firing by concealed natives upon the American outposts, have conveyed the impression to the officials in Washington that General Otis is being rapidly brought to a pass where he must assume a most vigorous offensive campaign.

BRYAN ON "IMPERIALISM."

Nebraskan Addresses College Students At Ann Arbor, Mich.

Colonel William Jennings Bryan lectured on "Imperialism" at Ann Arbor, Mich., Saturday night before an audience of students, members of the University of Michigan faculty and citizens, which taxed the capacity of the big university hall.

The students of all shades of political opinions gave him a noisy and enthusiastic welcome on his appearance.

Colonel Bryan's declarations in favor of independence for the Filipinos, under an American protectorate, brought out considerable applause.

TWENTY-ONE WERE KILLED.

A Fearful Railroad Wreck Occurs Near City of Brussels.

A cable dispatch states that an express train from Calais having passengers from London on board collided Saturday with a train from Tournay, which was standing at the station at Foret, near Brussels. Twenty-one persons were killed outright and one hundred more or less injured.

There were no Americans or English among the victims.

It is said that owing to the fog the engineer of the express train did not see the signals. The scene of the wreck presented a horrible picture.

INSURGENTS WELL ENTRENCHED

Shells From Our Gunboats Fail To Dislodge Them.

A dispatch of Sunday from Manila says: "The California volunteers have abandoned Guadalupe church, which has since been set on fire, and retired to San Pedro Macati.

"The rebels still hold the country in the vicinity of Guadelupe, Pasig and Patero despite the efforts of the gunboats to dislodge them from the jungle on both sides of the river."

15—R. M. Hollis, J. W. Moore, R. E. Cosper.
16—C. C. Elliott, J. J. Burks, E. Chandler.
17—Bill Dennis, Taylor Ferrell, William Cross.
18—J. T. Davis.

The above meeting is postponed until Monday, March 6th.

W. B. BROWNE, Chairman.

LAST week the types made us say that it is 20 miles from Harpersville to Calera. Of course everybody knows it is 30 miles.

THE legislature has created the office of jail inspector with a salary of $1,800 a year. In the language of the immortal poet, "Oh—rats!"

IF you believe in the rule of the white people you can not fail to favor our plan for nominating a candidate for delegate for this county.

THE meeting of the county executive committee has been postponed to Monday, March 6, at which time we hope there will be a full attendance.

AS disfranchisers of the first water Messrs. Deans and Sturdivant are a howling success. We move that the constitutional convention employ them to formulate the franchise clause of the new constitution.

THE CHRONICLE has been charged with wanting to disfranchise a certain class of white people. Let those who made the charge meet us half way on the proposition submitted elsewhere, or at least the first part of it, and prove their faith by their works.

WE can not conceive how Alabama ever got along without the statesmanship which has been discovered and displayed by the present legislature. When the historian of the future runs up against the present aggregation he will be forced to stop.

THE Governor very properly vetoed the bill to exempt factories and other new industries from taxation. If such industries can not survive with the natural advantages which Alabama affords they would be entirely too weak to be of benefit.

IN a spirit of advice, rather than of threatening, we suggest that now is the time for white men who desire to be recognized in the future of affairs to put themselves on the right side in the present struggle for supremacy. Those who sulk or falter will be marked for a life of seclusion.

SINCE Messrs. Deans and Sturdivant have by the passage of the county stock law virtually disfranchised the niggers and poor white people on that question, we confidently expect to see them favoring the total disfranchisement of the tenantry of the county in favor of the landlords.

LAST summer the Populists were howling around over the county about the Democrats favoring a stock law and the disfranchisement of the poor white man. They won lots of votes by their howling. The first thing they did after they got elected was to pass a compulsory stock law for Wilsonville beat, and the next thing was to pass a law which puts the question for the county in the hands of the landowners and cuts off the voice of every poor white man as well as the negro.

FOR A WHITE PRIMARY.

There is but little time in which to reach a conclusion on any matters which may concern the nomination of a candidate for delegate to the constitutional convention, and yet there is time to effect an arrangement which presents itself to us in so forcible a manner that we feel impelled to call attention to it.

THE CHRONICLE has already announced itself in favor of nominating a candidate by the white people of the county. We are now ready to go further than this, and we submit the following as a plan for the nomination of a candidate irrespective of party lines. We are in favor of the following plan:

First. Let the executive committees of the Democratic and Populist parties call a joint primary, to be held on the 18th day of March, to be managed in each beat by one member of each committee, to be participated in by every white man who will agree to abide the result of the primary, the man who receives the highest number of votes in said election to be the candidate of both parties and to receive the official endorsement.

Second. The delegation from this county to the State Democratic convention to be selected by a regular Democratic county convention and to be composed of four men named by said convention and three men to be named by the Populists in any manner they see fit and certified to the county Democratic convention by the Populist executive committee, the Populists in return for this representation to support and vote for the constitutional convention and for the nominee of the State Democratic convention from this senatorial district.

In the first place this plan will insure the selection of a delegate to the constitutional convention who will be satisfactory to a majority of the white people of the county. In the second place, it will give all the white people of the county representation in the State Democratic convention, whose nominees will be elected beyond any doubt. One or both the above plans may be agreed upon by the two committees. In the event only the first plan is adopted it will guarantee the election of a delegate who will be the direct choice of a majority of the white people of the county. In the event both plans are adopted it will pave the way for a union of the white people after the convention.

THE CHRONICLE is induced to make this proposition for the reason that it believes it to be right in principle and for the common good of all our people. The constitutional convention is going to be held, and it is going to fix the qualification of voters in such a manner as will eliminate the ignorant and purchasable negro votes from politics. Shelby County ought to be represented in that convention by the very best men and the most satisfactory to the whole people. We are always willing to leave the settlement of any question to the majority of the white people, and we are more than willing to support the candidate who might be nominated in the manner suggested above, be he Populist or Democrat. We do not know how such a primary would result, but we pledge our support to the result of such an one as is suggested above.

We submit this proposition to the respective committees, and suggest that the party leaders arrange for a meeting of the two committees on the same day to discuss it. The Democratic committee will meet on the 6th of March. If the Populist committee will meet on that day the matter can be arranged and the primary held on the 18th, which is the day already fixed by the Democratic State committee.

We call upon all those people who are sincere in their desire for white rule in Shelby County from now on to take hold of this matter and push it to a successful consummation.

THE House of Representatives defeated a bill which sought to confine the public printing of the State to home offices. We learn that there was a strong lobby from foreign printeries, which, it seems, had more influence with the legislators than the home people. We suggest to our brethren of the State press and printers that if the members who voted against this bill are permitted to get along without the help of their home printers and editors for the next two years it would be a wholesome lesson. We do not claim for our profession any more than it is justly entitled to, but we have learned from an experience of fifteen years that when there is a local fight to be made the county editor is expected to make it at his own expense, at the risk of losing subscribers among those whom he flays; but during all these same years the legislature has been steadily cutting down the fees and lopping off the legal notices, while the county officers give the printing out to foreign concerns. We are not sure but our brethren, and we include ourselves, have been most to blame that they have not before now asserted their rights and left their friends the officeseeker to depend awhile on the aid of the foreign printers. However, it is most likely that the poor country editors will continue to make themselves the slaves of their party, the packhorse of their communities, the weapon of the officeseekers, with no more substantial reward than an occasional pat upon the back.

If a dollar bill hasn't the word "dollar" on it, don't take it for a dollar. If a package hasn't the word "Regulator" on it, don't take it for Simmons Liver Regulator. This must be clear to anyone, and in the matter of health one cannot be too careful. Therefore, before paying for a package of Simmons Liver Regulator, be sure you see the word Regulator on it.

HOW IT CAN BE DONE.

THE CHRONICLE wants to eliminate the negro from politics. We want to know one thing; if we were in favor of it how can it be done without disfranchising the white man that is in the same circumstances? You can not do it on a property or educational qualification. First: Some of the negroes have as good an education as the white man and some of them own property. Why not tell facts and say you are in favor of disfranchising all people that are apposed to Democracy?—The Advocate.

We will answer the last question first. The insinuation contained in that query is too absurd for even so obtuse an editor as that of the Advocate to make, and it is entirely untrue. To be perfectly candid about the matter we are not so very sure that we would always support the Democratic nominees if the negro were eliminated from politics. We should always be a Democrat and we will always have the company of the poor but honest voter, but we might not always be tied to the apron string of the party if the opposing local party were dominated by white men.

We hesitate about trying to explain to The Advocate how the negro may be eliminated without disfranchising the white man who is in the same condition. The Advocate is not given to understanding anything it doesn't want to see, and we are quite sure it doesn't want to see anything that will knock out its pets who are dependent upon the negro vote for election. For the benefit of those who can understand a proposition of political economy when presented to them we suggest two plans by which the negro may be eliminated without disturbing the white man.

The first of them is to make an educational qualification and exempt the veterans of the wars and their descendants. This would not be entirely effective, but i would eliminate a very large proportion of the ignorant and purchasable negro.

The second plan is that already adopted by Louisiana and recently adopted by the legislature of North Carolina. Under its operations no one has a right to vote save those who have a certain measure of education or a certain amount of property; but these provisions do not apply to those who were entitled to vote on January 1, 1867, or whose ancestors were so entitled to vote.

The latter proposition is plain, simple and practical. It would disfranchise every negro who is not educated or who has not property. If they have education and property they are not likely to be very dangerous possessors of the voting power. This plan can not be said to come in contact with the Federal Constitution, because that instrument is ineffective except as to members of Congress.

The proposition to disfranchise the ignorant negro voter is very easy of solution. If there are those who are educated and have property their good sense and property interests will make them at least safe custodians of the ballot when divorced from the evil influence of that great herd of vicious and corrupt voters that now puts the whole race under the ban.

Since we have answered The Advocate's inquiry, will it have the manhood to acknowledge the possibility of doing the thing, and will it come out on the right side of the issue, where every believer in white supremacy is bound to stand?

OUR correspondent from Beat 9 speaks of two rumors which we think need a bit of comment. He says some of the people there are charging the stock law up to the Democrats. This is entirely unjust. Messrs. Sturdivant and Deans are wholly responsible for the passage of the law. They introduced the bills and had them passed. They doubtless knew the sentiment of their people on the question, especially as the Populists forced the issue in the last campaign and defeated Mr. Lyman on that very issue. If there are those who are displeased with the law they should lay their complaint where it is due. Democratic influence is not at all responsible for it, and had nothing to do with it. Another rumor is that those dissatisfied with the stock law are going to vote for Calera for spite. This would be an exceedingly wise thing to do, wouldn't it? Again we call attention to the responsibility of Messrs. Deans and Sturdivant. Why please them by voting for Calera when they are responsible for the stock law? We state from personal knowledge that not a Democrat from Columbiana turned a hand toward or against the stock law, and we do not know that any from Calera did. We have no inclination to discuss the merits of stock law, but we beg to suggest to those who are opposed to it that they put the blame where it belongs.

THE Age-Herald is on its right ear because the Governor failed to appoint Mr. Tomlinson railroad commissioner. There is some degree of truth in the Age-Herald's position, and some very ridiculous features about its attitude In exposing Governor Johnston for holding up the appointments for the purpose of influencing legislation the Age-Herald has done a wise and commendable thing; but in assuming as it does that Mr. Tomlinson had an inherent right to the appointment it makes itself appear ridiculous. Neither Mr. Tomlinson nor Jefferson County had any superior claim for the place, while on the other hand Governor Johnston had no right to use his appointing power to influence legislation. If the Governor is building up a machine to put him into the United States Senate his will be the common fate of all Governors who have tried it; while the Age-Herald is presuming a little too much in threatening dire vengeance. The people will likely take care of both horns of the dilema.

CURRENT CRITICISMS.

By Mrs. F. W. GIST.

No wonder the country newspaper editors are always poor as a church mouse, and rarely have anything in his purse except a railroad pass. He takes after every hobby the people of his community insist upon; and he rides it regardless of whether those people support his paper or not, he then jumps on to the old hobby and rides it until it is worn out and he is so exhausted he can't do anymore. He sits up nights racking his brain over what to say, and through the day works his finger ends off setting it in type. He does thousands of dollars worth of work, and when he is through, win or lose, his pay from the community is their best bow and a "Thank you, sir; you are a mighty clever man and we love you." Good stuff to feed and clothe and educate a family on. These same citizens never stop to ask themselves how much they have done toward maintaining the existence of the editor or his paper. Possibly they pay one dollar per year and run a business in the town year in and year out, and never advertising a line in the town paper. Poor, hungry man; he may get his bread and butter if he can, and if not he must when vital questions arise battle his very life blood out in their behalf; and if he doesn't do it they are ready to fling it in his teeth that he owes it to them. Thank Providence, there are editors who don't happen to owe their bread and butter to the people who don't support him.

Query—Do the people of Columbiana want THE CHRONICLE to stand by them. If so, how bad? Will every lawyer, hotel, boarding house and business firm advertise liberally in its columns for one year? And will those who are not subscribers bring forward their dollar and subscribe? We always want to know just how bad people want or need the support of their town paper.

The following protest of C. P. Rogers, on last Saturday when an effort was made for a rehearing on the Bulger school bill, will go on record with the people of Alabama who are striving for better and more education for her helpless children. And Mr. Rogis to be congratulated that his protest availed nothing but the lasting contempt of those who are willing and anxious to pay the one mill tax for an educational fund.

Whereas, The house of representatives has passed an act increasing the annual appropriation for the public schools $250,000 by raising the tax rate one mill, the undersigned member, in behalf of the taxpayers of Alabama, enters his emphatic protest against such action as unwise and impolitic at this time, in view of the general agricultural depression throughout the State. And he believes that such increase of the taxes will have a tendency to drive capital from the State, and he desires that this protest be spread upon the journal of the house.

THE enactment of a stock law by the legislature is seldom satisfactory, the best way is to authorize an election and let the majority rule.—Advocate.

That is putting it mild. If a Democrat had passed the two stock laws for this county he would have been characterized as a thief, a liar and all sorts of things, but a Populist member can pass a law disfranchising the poor tenantry and the only comment is that it is unsatisfactory. A Democrat would never have passed such a law. Why don't you jump on your demi-gods? Are they above reproach? Evidently, or else you are afraid of them.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

REPRESENTATIVE Reynolds, a prominent young Populist of Chilton, has the following to say, among other things, in a letter to the Montgomery Journal:

I believe the time has come in Alabama when men should rise above party and do what they conceive to be right. I don't believe any party issue should be made in the coming constitutional convention. I believe the white people in every county should unite in sending the best men they have to make a foundation for all laws. It may be a foundation for a century to come.

Upon this very idea THE CHRONICLE offers a plan for the consideration of the people of this county.

WE believe every fairminded man in Shelby County will agree to the plan submitted elsewhere for the nomination of a candidate for delegate to the constitutional convention. The second part of our proposition may not meet with favor from either side. We do not insist on it, but we do insist that the plan for nominating the county candidate is so politic and fair as to command the support of every reasonable man.

OUR neighbor of The Advocate got awfully wrathy at the proposition to establish a county court which it thought would cost the county $1,500, but upon the proposition to move the court house at a cost somewhere between $50,000 and $100,000 it hasn't yet opened its bazoo. Doubtless the very magnitude of the latter scheme dazzles the very dim perception of The Advocate to such an extent that it is afraid to get into the fight. When a little two-by-four office is at stake it is a great calamity howler, but when the rights of the people as to stock law or the enormous cost of a court house removal is at stake it is extremely silent, we might say suspiciously so. Well, it only serves to show the calibre of The Advocate, which is decidedly small and openbored.

They Should Know it.

Many women suffer untold agony and misery because the nature of their disease is not correctly understood. They have been led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for the many ills that beset womankind.

Neuralgia, nervousness, headache, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, rheumatism, a dragging pain or dull ache in the back, weakness or bearing-down sensation, profuse or scanty supply of urine with strong odor, frequent desire to pass it with scalding or burning sensation, sediment in it after standing in bottle or common glass for 24 hours are signs of kidney and bladder trouble.

The above symptoms are often attributed by the patient herself or by her physician to female weakness or womb trouble. Hence, so many fail to obtain relief, because they are treating, not the disease itself, but a reflection of the primary cause, which is kidney trouble.

In fact, women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same remedy.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is easy to get at any drug store for 50 cents or $1.

To prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Kindly mention THE CHRONICLE, and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Notice.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of The Braddock Town and Improvement Co. at the office of R. H. Pearson, Birmingham, Ala., Monday, March 20, 1899, to elect a board of directors, and transact such other business as may lawfully come before it.

JNO. G. MURRAY, President.

Nonresident Notice.

STATE OF ALABAMA, SHELBY COUNTY:
In Chancery, Sixth district, Northeastern Chancery division.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of R. H. Pearson that the defendants, Central Trust Company of New York, a corporation doing business in the State of New York; C. S. Plumb and A. H. Plumb, who resides in Emporia, in the State of Kansas; and Thomas S. Krutz, R. W. Kelly, who reside in the city of New York; and Geo Plumb, who resides in the State of Kansas, are nonresidents of the State of Alabama, and further that in the belief of said affiant the defendants are over the age of twenty-one years. It is therefore ordered by the Register that publication be made in The Chronicle, a newspaper published in the town of Columbiana, once a week for four consecutive weeks requiring them, the said Central Trust Company of New York, C. S. Plumb, A. H. Plumb, Thomas S. Krutz, R. W. Kelly, and Geo. Plumb, to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 13th day of March, A. D. 1899, or in thirty days thereafter a decree pro confesso may be taken against them.

The Alabama Fertilizer

Is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State to be the best all around fertilizer for cotton and corn.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Everyone of the 44 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER. The only objection ever raised to the ALABAMA FERTILIZER was that it costs too much.

The present price is no more than that of standard fertilizers. When requested, the ALABAMA FERTILIZER will put up, without extra cost, in bags treated by the Mummia Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process, thereby insuring the perfect preservation of the bags for an indefinite time, and saving the contents from loss by waste in handling. These preserved bags when emptied and thoroughly washed will be found as good and strong as new, and equally useful for other purposes. Every person, farmer, merchant or dealer vitally interested in the economical production of good crops should advocate the use of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

The legislature has passed House bill 386, to establish a separate school district in Shelby County, to be known as Harpersville.

A bill has been passed allowing Calera to sell her bonds to raise the amount of her subscription to the courthouse fund.

Mothers' trusted friend, Simmons Squaw Vine Wine or Tablets, prepare the system for confinement, shortens labor and make childbirth easy.

We learn that an amendment to the courthouse removal bill has been passed providing for counting the votes at Calera.

Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine by expelling from the body the excess of bile and acids improves the assimilative process, purifies the blood, tones up and strengthens.

It seems strange after all that has been printed and said, a few people of this town have neglected to take Simmons Liver Regulator, and therefore continue to suffer with Billousness, Constipation, Sick Headache, Malaria, Dyspepsia and Liver Diseases generally. We cannot too highly recommend Simmons Liver Regulator and urge those of our fellow townsmen who have neglected to take the Regulator to begin at once if they wish to avoid further suffering.

STOCK LAW.

Shelby County May Adopt Provisions As a Whole.

Any portion of Shelby County may now become a stock law district which desires to do so.

A bill has passed the legislature which provides that any precinct or portion thereof may become a stock law district by presenting to the probate judge a petition therefor signed by a majority of the landowners of the territory described therein. Upon the presentation of the petition it becomes the duty of the probate judge to give notice by publication of a day for hearing the same, not more than 30 days from the date of the notice. Upon that day he must compare the petition with the tax books, and if he finds that the names on the petition are a majority of the landowners of the territory described he must enter upon his record books an order declaring the said territory subject to the further provisions of the act.

When these preliminaries are complied with any stock found running at large after sixty days from the making of said order may be taken up and held for damages, which are to be assessed by a jury of three. The stock may be sold for such damages and cost. The bill fixes the fees for feeding and other costs, and provides a fee of $10 to the probate judge for his services to be paid by the person filing the petition.

It will be seen that none but landowners are competent petitioners, and a majority of these may compel the establishment of a stock-law district. Landowners are usually benefited by stock law, and it is to be presumed that under the workings of this law Shelby County will soon be entirely within its provisions.

Small Jail Delivery.

George Green, a young white man who was brought here from Harpersville some time ago on a charge of grand larceny, escaped from the county jail Thursday night in a very ingenious manner. It will be remembered that when the present system of waterworks was established the old sewerage pipes were taken out, and as they were small it was not thought necessary to repair those parts of the jail through which the pipes passed. In some way Green secured a piece of iron, and by twisting and knocking was able to transform one of these places into a hole large enough to permit the passage of an average sized person. He then cut his way through the brick floor until the outer door was reached, after which he made good his escape.

It is stated on good authority that after escaping from the jail Green went direct to Harpersville and burglarized a store at that place, and has been seen on several different occasions with the stolen articles in his possession; but so far he has managed to elude the officers. They, however, feel confident of his capture, as he is said to be partly demented, and not liable to wander far from home.

Three other prisoners were confined in the same cell at the time, but neither made any effort to escape, one saying in a very jocular manner that his board had been paid for in advance and that he was determined to have the full benefit of his money so long as the snow lasted.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe.

George W. Waitt, of South Gardiner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50 cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by Williams Bros., Druggists.

County Depository.

Hon. W. B. Browne received a telegram this morning from Governor Johnston saying that the bill providing for a county depository had been arranged and approved.

This bill authorizes the commissioners court to designate a bank in which the funds of the county may be kept under such regulations as they may adopt.

The bill was amended to such an extent that when finally passed it was vetoed by the Governor. It was then found that the wrong bill had gone to the Governor. The error was discovered and corrected.

If the commissioners should establish a depository it would be an additional security for the funds, as doubtless they would require a bond of the bank. Interest might be required, and some hundred or two of dollars realized out of it.

The bill requires the bank to be located at the county seat while it is a depository.

Any druggist who recommends a substitute for Simmons Liver Regulator has for his object an extra profit, regardless of the effect on your health. Beware of frauds and imitations bearing parts of the name of Simmons Liver Regulator or resembling it in taste, smell or appearance; or in shape, size or style of package. Look carefully and see that the word Regulator is on the package, and you cannot be deceived.

The weather is changeable.

The cold spell played havoc with the oat crop.

On account of the cold weather there was not any school last week.

The roads, well, I should say, are past redemption.

Professor Spinks spent last week at East Lake with his wife and young A. G.

Pick Rowe has two dogs that are half sleepers and half barkers. They sleep all day and bark all night.

You made me say last week that Lee Spinks was dead, it should have been Lee Jinks.

Our school here is progressing finely and holding up extremely well considering so much bad weather.

If the roads are as bad from Columbiana to Calera as they are up here it will take several teams to move the courthouse, if those Calera people expect to move it by private conveyance.

Someone broke into B. H. Samuel's potatoe bank a few nights ago and stole some of his potatoes. I will bet two bits to a ginger cake that it was a Republican, for if it had been a Populists he would have taken them all.

Burglars entered R. M. Borum's store Saturday night and helped themselves to clothing, watches, shoes, etc. It is thought that George Green, who broke jail last week, is the leader as he was seen in the woods near here Sunday morning, and was at a relative's house a few minutes Sunday night with new clothing and a watch on. Every effort is being made for his capture and a liberal reward is offered by Borum for him.

Seeds.

Billiousness and constipation are seeds out of which spring many of the serious diseases that afflict the human body. Sound judgment would demand the immediate removal of this condition before it develops into something more troublesome and difficult to cure. Prickly Ash Bitters is a reliable cure for constipation and disorders of similar character. It not only thoroughly empties and purifies the bowels, but strengthens the bowel channels and regulates the liver and stomach, hence it performs a radical cure. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

Mrs. Coker, an old lady who was stricken with paralysis at the court house Saturday, died Monday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Riggins.

Stock law is the topic nowadays of our citizens. The Populists can not blame anyone except their Brother Stardivant. Give us a stock law, and we will have better stock and not have so much fence to keep up for the sake of those who take no interest in their stock, or rather those who depend on the old coalings for the support of their cows. Give us a stock law!

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for La Grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure La Grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Williams Bros., Druggists.

Stock Law in Beat 9

EDITOR CHRONICLE:

I just thought I would tell your readers that the people of beat 9 are wrathy. A stock law for beat 9 was passed without the consent of a majority of the people, so I am told by those who claim to know. There are charges of misrepresentation, unfair dealings, and the people are assembling themselves at Chapel church this morning to formulate some plan to have the law repealed. It seems that this stock law idea germinated in the minds of a few men some years ago, and the first convenient time that presented itself it sprang forth into a full-fledged law. I suppose we are just getting a taste of Republican rule in Shelby for the first time in many years; and I predict that by the time the people are called on to select a man again to represent them they will have come to the conclusion that the Lord might have called Brother Sturdivant to preach the gospel, but He never called him to make laws for a free people. It is right to give honor to whom honor is due; therefore, we are forced to say that the much-abused A. P's. soul was too full of the true principles of Democracy to legislate away the rights of the people without their consent. There are many rumors afloat—as to their truthfulness we can not vouch. Some insinuate that a trade was made pledging beat 9 to favor Calera for court house for stock law in said beat. I heard a man remark this morning that this stock law business was a Democratic move; but that is an unjust charge, for a few men of all parties favor the law, and while they might have been too zealous in working for self-interest they are good men. They have only yielded to a peculiar trait that belongs to the human family; but when the people select a man from their midst to represent them he is supposed to be a man who is broad enough, firm enough, wise enough and just enough to consider deeply the welfare of the people before he acts.

The people met to-day, the 20th, in mass at Chapel church, selected chairman and secretary and proceeded to business. A committee was appointed to canvass the beat and take every man's name for or against stock law, with amount of land attached to each name. They are to compare their lists with the tax books when they meet in the probate judge's office next Saturday week to get their lists in shape to present at the next meeting of the legislature. There is a true saying that we live to learn, and we have learned lately that some of our good people of beat 9 own more land than we thought they did.

The widows and orphans had a strong representative at the meeting in the person of Brother Richie. While he enumerated the many hardships that would befall this unfortunate class—telling how they would be deprived of range and pasturage, and how the landlord would forbid them from driving their poor cows across his land to quench their thirst—the crowd seemed to be filled with admiration and pity; pity for the unfortunate class, and admiration for that fluent speaker who stood before them. The wish of that part of the people who feel that they have not been treated right is to have the law repealed or referred back to the people and left to a vote of the land owners.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Something About the Greatest Weekly Newspaper in the Country.

REDUCED RATE FOR TWO PAPERS.

Take Your Home Paper and The Constitution and be Happy.

We call special attention to our clubbing arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing price of the two papers being only $1.50 per year, subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the claim of circulation made by The Constitution and put up a forfeit of $100 that it could be disproved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm, Mr. George P. Rowell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has just been brought to a close, the reports of no newspaper in the South could compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative sailed with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and of the 120 correspondents who went to Cuba, he was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. Its special representative also accompanied the fleet in the Caribbean sea, and its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with the promptness of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manila, the death of Ensign Bagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all given in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

The Weekly Constitution makes a special feature of its agricultural page, which is presided over by Colonel R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment farm, and a man who is recognized as an expert on all agricultural topics. He gives a full page every week on agricultural matters. A page is devoted to the women and a page to children, these two departments being presided over by Mrs. William King.

Among the regular staff members of The Constitution are Joel Chandler Harris, Frank L. Stanton and others well known throughout the country; while among its special contributors are such men as Wallace P. Reed, Bill Arp, Sarge Plunkett, Betsy Hamilton, Dr. Talmage and others of national reputation.

The Constitution has just completed its thirtieth year of its existence, Clark Howell being the editor and Col. W. A. Hemphill its business manager. Its name is a household word in every southern state, from Virginia to Texas. It has always been in especially close touch with the agricultural masses of the South, and in having reached a circulation which carries it into 150,000 homes it has won a unique distinction which ranks it among the greatest of American weekly newspapers.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscriptions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every southern home!

A GREAT MISSING WORD CONTEST

The Chronicle Offers a New Plan to Its Subscribers who Take The Constitution in Combination Offer.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE SEASON.

We take pleasure in announcing a missing word problem to our subscribers in connection with the Weekly Constitution of Atlanta, Ga. This is the sentence:

It is taken from a charming, living Southern author, and is offered to test the knowledge of our people of their own writers. The missing word is a plain, every-day English word, not a compound word, nor a proper name and is used in its ordinary acceptation. The prize to be given will be 10 per cent of all the subscriptions received from contestants by the Constitution, and will be paid by the Constitution. That paper has paid on missing word contests alone nearly $10,000 in cash prizes. To one party, M. L. Brittain, was given a check for $1,083.50 for one successful guess; others have received large sums ranging from $500 to $50 on similar propositions. This contest is to run until April 1, 1899, at which time the results will be promptly and properly announced.

Every subscriber who takes advantage of our clubbing offer with The Constitution may enter his own word to fill the blank in the sentence, and must be given to us at the time of the subscription so we can forward it together with his order for the Constitution. It is a plain, fair plan and we feel sure many will hunt up the word or take a shot at it. The subscription orders under this combination offer must be sent directly to this office and not to the Constitution. We will forward everything ourselves.

"Evil Dispositions Are Early Shown."

Just so evil in the blood comes out in shape of scrofula, pimples, etc., in children and young people. Taken in time it can be eradicated by using Hood's Sarsaparilla. In older people, the aftermath of irregular living shows itself in bilious conditions, a heavy head, a foul mouth, a general bad feeling.

It is the blood, the impure blood, friends, which is the real cause. Purify that with Hood's Sarsaparilla and happiness will reign in your family.

Blood Poison—"I lived in a bed of fire for years owing to blood poisoning that followed small pox. It broke out all over my body, itching intensely. Tried doctors and hospitals in vain. I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla. It helped. I kept at it and was entirely cured. I could go on the housetops and shout about it." MRS. J. T. WILLIAMS, Carbondale, Pa.

Scrofula Sores—"My baby at two months had scrofula sores on cheek and arm. Local applications and physicians' medicine did little or no good. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him permanently. He is now four, with smooth fair skin." MRS. S. S. WROTEN, Farmington, Del.

Pretty Underwear.

The variety of pretty silk and woolen underwear to be had at such reasonable prices, is very tempting to dainty women, yet many refrain from purchasing such on account of their liability to injure in laundrying. If the work is properly done this trouble may be avoided. When ready to begin fill a tub half full of warm water, in which dissolve a fourth of a bar of Ivory Soap, and wash the articles through it with the hands, rinse in warm water, and squeeze, but do not wring. Hang on the line and press while still damp.

AGUINALDO THE FILIPINO.

What Capt. March Has to Say of the Sanguinary Leader.

Capt. C. P. March, of the Astor battery, just returned from Manila, speaking of Aguinaldo, the Filipino leader, says: "Aguinaldo is a little fellow even for Manila. He is hardly five feet tall, and his features are Japanese rather than Filipino. His forehead is retreating, his coarse black hair is brushed up from it, pompadour style. He has no magnetism, his manner is not impressive; he is in appearance anything but a leader of men.

"He owes his influence to two facts: The more ignorant among his followers firmly believe that he is invulnerable, that a bullet shot at him would be deflected. Some of the educated leaders are faithful to him for another reason. He has sold out to the Spaniards a number of times, and has had the tact to divide his winnings with other leaders. They find it pays to side with him."

Among the curious Indian names that appear in an agreement with the Lower Brule and Rosebud agencies, recently ratified by the senate, are Big Maine, Black Elk, Charles de Shenquette, Chas. C. Packett, I. L. Bettelyoun, and Clement Whirlwind Soldier.

It takes a police force of 7,461 men to protect New York's population against crime and disorder.

YOUNG AT SIXTY.

Serene comfort and happiness in advanced years are realized by comparatively few women.

Their hard lives, their liability to serious troubles on account of their peculiar organism and their profound ignorance concerning themselves, all combine to shorten the period of usefulness and fill their later years with suffering.

Mrs. Pinkham has done much to make women strong. She has given advice to many that has shown them how to guard against disease and retain vigorous health in old age. From every corner of the earth there is constantly coming the most convincing statements from women, showing the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in overcoming female ills. Here is a letter from Mrs. J. C. Orms, of 220 Horner St., Johnstown, Pa., which is earnest and straight to the point:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all suffering women that I think your remedies are wonderful. I had trouble with my head, dizzy spells and hot flashes. Feet and hands were cold, was very nervous, could not sleep well, had kidney trouble, pain in ovaries and congestion of the womb. Since taking your remedies I am better every way My head trouble is all gone, have no pain in ovaries, and am cured of womb trouble. I can eat and sleep well and am gaining in flesh. I consider your medicine the best to be had for female troubles."

The present Mrs. Pinkham's experience in treating female ills is unparalelled, for years she worked side by side with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, and for sometime past has had sole charge of the correspondence department of her great business, treating by letter as many as a hundred thousand ailing women during a single year.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS.

Monday.

THE SENATE.—At no time during the session of the senate today was there a quorum of the body present, a majority of the members being snowbound at their homes. For the first time in many years no invocation was pronounced at the opening of the session, neither the regular chaplain nor any other minister being able to reach the capitol. A sharp debate over the unanimous consent agreement reached Saturday afternoon to vote on the McEnery resolution was precipitated early in the session and it was finally decided to meet at 11 o'clock tomorrow to consider the resolution. A bill removing the disabilities of certain persons engaged in the civil war was passed. Mr. Hale, chairman of the naval affairs committee, favorably reported and the senate passed a bill creating an admiral of the navy, it being intended that Rear Admiral Dewey should get the office. The senate non-concurred to house amendments to bills granting pensions to Mrs. Semple, daughter of Mrs. Tyler, and General John M. Palmer, and sent them to conference. Consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill was then begun. The appropriation for vegetable pathyological investigations was increased from $22,500 to $32,500, provided that $5,000 should be used for the investigation of the disease known as "little peach." The appropriation of $25,000 for irrigation investigations was increased to $35,000. Mr. Tillman offered the following amendment, which was agreed to: "To enable the secretary of agriculture to investigate and report on the cost of making tea and the best method of cultivating and preparing the same for market, so as to demonstrate whether it is practicable to introduce its culture in the southern states as a profitable industry, $5,000." The bill was then passed.

THE HOUSE.—The raging blizzard caused practically a suspension of business in the house today. The place looked like a snow palace. Ledges and parapets were banked with snow on the drives, and on the plaza in front of the building the snow had drifted into great billows, in some places ten feet deep. Only a few members managed to reach the capitol. Speaker Reed did not appear, but sent word advising that no session be held. However, at 12:05 Clerk Howell called the house to order, and sixty members responded. On motion of Mr. Grosvenor Mr. Payne, of New York, was elected speaker pro tem. District day was postponed until Thursday and the house, on Mr. Cannon's motion, then went into committee of the whole, Mr. Hopkins, of Illinois, in the chair, and resumed the consideration of the sundry civil bill. Mr. Cannon asked unanimous consent that Mr. Hepburn be allowed to offer the Nicaragua canal bill amendment at such point in the bill as he should see fit, all points of order to be reserved. After a lengthy discussion of the sundry civil bill the house adjourned.

Tuesday.

THE SENATE.—The unanimous consent agreement reached by the senate last Saturday to vote this afternoon on the resolution of Mr. McEnery, of Louisiana, declaring a policy of this government in the Philippines, was not vacated. In accordance with that agreement, the vote was taken on the resolution at 2:30 to-day, and it was adopted, 26 to 22. It was noticeable that several democrats who were present and not paired refrained from voting. An amendment offered by Mr. Bacon, of Georgia, several days ago, was defeated. The vote on the amendment was a tie, 29 to 29, and Vice-President Hobart cast the deciding vote against the measure. The vote was preceded by three hours and a half of debate. Speeches were delivered by Mr. Stewart (populist), of Nevada; Mr. Bacon (democrat), of Georgia; Mr. Hoar (republican), of Massachusetts; Mr. Hale (republican), of Maine, and Mr. Mason (republican), of Illinois.

The McEnery resolution is as follows: "That by the ratification of the treaty of peace with Spain, it is not intended to incorporate the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands into citizenship of the United States, nor is it intended to permanently annex said islands as an integral part of the territory of the United States, but it is the intention of the United States to establish on said islands a government suitable to the wants and conditions of the inhabitants of said islands to prepare them for local self-government, and in due time to make such disposition of said islands as will best promote the interests of the citizens of the United States and the inhabitants of said islands."

THE HOUSE.—The Nicaraguan canal bill was offered in the house today as an amendment to the sundry civil bill by Mr. Hepburn, chairman, who reported it, and the leaders on the respective sides engaged in a desperate struggle which involved the fate of the measure at this session of congress. After Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriations committee, served notice last week that there was no time for the consideration of the canal bill at this session, the supporters of the measure determined to force it onto the sundry civil bill as a rider, if possible. As soon as it was offered this afternoon Mr. Cannon made four points of order against it, and one of the most interesting parliamentary contests of the session was on. The debate on the points of order lasted two hours today and was not concluded. About twenty pages of the sundry civil bill were disposed of No amendments were adopted.

Wednesday.

THE SENATE.—In the senate today a bill extending "the cordial appreciation" of congress to Miss Helen Miller Gould for her patriotic service during the recent war and providing that the president should present to her a gold medal was passed. A bill was also passed providing for the admission to the naval academy as a cadet Oscar W. Deignan, one of the Merrimac heroes. On motion of Mr. Hoar, the Senate, at 12:50 p. m., went into executive session. After the executive session, an open session was held. Mr. Chandler said he was anxious to discuss the bill called a "ticket broker-age bill" which he declared was a measure of monopoly against competion. After some discussion, Mr. Carter, seeing no opportunity for an agreement, moved for adjournment, which carried, at 5:55 p. m.

THE HOUSE.—The house today settled the fate of the Nicaraguan canal bill in this congress by refusing to override the decision of the chair in committee of the whole, when the chair held that the canal bill, offered as an amendment to the sundry civil bill by Mr. Hepburn, was out of order. The friends of the Nicaraguan bill were very confident yesterday and today that they would triumph, but, after four hours' debate, the chair was sustained—127 to 109. The debate throughout was very spirited, and in the end a majority of the members refused to override the house rules. Party lines were not adhered to, the decision in favor and opposition to sustaining the chair's decision being about equal on both sides of the political isles.

The reading of the sundry civil bill was then continued. The appropriation for the deep waterways commission was increased from $60,000 to $90,000, on motion of the appropriation committee. After completing ten additional pages of the bill the committee rose. The conference report on the Newport News, Va., public building bill, which increased the appropriation from $75,000 to $100,000, was adopted. At 5:10 p. m. the house adjourned.

Thursday.

THE SENATE.—Mr. Hawley, of Connecticut, chairman of the military affairs committee, reported to the senate today the army reorganization bill. He said that the committee was evenly divided, so that an agreement has been reached to report two measures, one by each division of the committee. Mr. Hawley spoke at length in favor of the bill, while Mr. Cockrell championed the minority report. Consideration was then begun of the postoffice appropriation bill. Practically the only obstacle encountered by the bill was the committee amendment providing for special mail facilities on the trunk lines from New York and Washington to Atlanta and New Orleans, and from Kansas City, Mo., to Newton, Kansas. The amendment, which appropriated $171,238 for special mail facilities from New York and Washington to Atlanta and New Orleans, was then agreed to—42 to 10.

THE HOUSE.—A very sensational and unexpected thing happened in the house today during the consideration of the sundry civil bill. The paragraph carrying the appropriation of $20,000,000 for payment to Spain under the terms of the peace treaty was stricken out upon a point of order made by Mr. Wheeler, a Kentucky democrat, who declared that he opposed the appropriation on principle and would resort to any technicality to defeat it.

Friday.

THE SENATE.—The feature of the session of the senate today was the expression from Senator Morgan (dem.), of Alabama, to the effect that the death of President Faure, of France, might precipitate trouble, not only in France, but throughout the entire world. The following resolution was adopted: "That the vice-president of the United States, president of the senate, is requested to express to the government and people of France the sympathy of the senate of the United States in the bereavement that has so suddenly fallen upon that republic in the death of President Faure." The naval personnel bill was passed, a pension granted to former Senator Palmer, of Illinois, who was the candidate for president on the gold standard ticket, and seventy-four pension bills were passed. A bill granting to the Pasadena and Mount Wilson Railway company a right of way through the Sangabriel forest reserve, California, was passed. A bill was passed granting authority to the Pensacola and Northwestern Railroad company to build bridges over certain rivers in Alabama.

THE HOUSE.—The house today finally passed the civil sundry bill, to which it had devoted over a week. No important amendment had been adopted. The speaker's ruling upon the motion to recommit the bill, with instructions to incorporate it in the Nicaragua canal amendment, was sustained—155 to 96. The naval appropriation bill was taken up and over half the bill was completed during the remainder of the day. There was no general opposition to the measure, although it carries $84,000,000 more than the largest naval appropriation bill ever passed by congress.

Saturday.

THE SENATE.—The senate spent most of the day on the postoffice appropriation bill, but failed to complete it. After animated discussion of the pneumatic system, Mr. Cullom's amendment increasing the appropriation for this purpose and designed to extend the system to Chicago was tabled. An echo of the old start route developments was heard when several senators criticised the method by which a combination of speculators secured the star route contracts.

THE HOUSE.—The house today spent two hours upon the naval appropriation bill without making any progress and devoted the remainder of the session to eulogies upon the life and public service of the late Representative Northway, of Ohio. The paragraph in the bill relating to the naval academy, against which Mr. Mudd raised a point of order yesterday, was stricken out, the point of order being sustained. Mr. Mudd then moved an additional appropriation of $720,000 for the completion of the buildings of the academy authorized in the last naval bill. Action was deferred.

Two Men Are Asphyxiated.

John W. Funtson, a native of Champaign, Ill., and John G. Green, a native of Belasco, Mexico, were asphyxiated in their room in New Orleans Friday night. The gas meter had frozen during the recent norther, and, thawing out, escaped through the open burners.

Three children of John Banister, Dexter county, Arkansas, burned to death.

A KING'S EXECUTION GARMENT

Vest Worn by Charles I. When He Was Beheaded.

From the London Standard: The sum of 200 guineas bid the other day for the "sky-colored vest" worn by King Charles I. on the scaffold is not an exorbitant price for a relic at once authentic and ghastly. Nothing is lacking that might make a good Jacobite's flesh creep. The stains of blood have been religiously preserved by a succession of royalist owners, and it has been pointed out that of the thirteen buttonholes only twelve had been fastened. The top button had been removed, so that the illustrious victim might more easily bare his neck to the executioner. He nothing common did or mean. Upon that memorable scene. But with his keener eye, The ax's edge did try." Such was the testimony of a republican poet, and there is no doubt that the sad dignity with which "Charles Stuart" comported himself in his last days roused qualms of remorse among some of those contemporaries who had been harshest in their judgment of his public policy. Admiration of the man went far to redeem the faults of the king, and with posterity he became at once the most sympathetic figure in the history of England—not even second to Mary Queen or Scots. And of her nobody will ever believe, let the Dryasdusts bring forward what documentary evidence they please, that she painted her face and wore false hair.

It is pretty certain, if the purchaser of King Charles' silken raiment ever thinks of allowing that precious possession to pass out of his family, that it would fetch far more than he has given for it. Placed in any museum it would always be thronged with sightseers; the combination of royal associations with gruesome memories would be quite irresistible. The most superior person is attracted, though he may deny it, by such horrors as a book bound in human skin, or by instruments, like the Maiden of Nuremberg, which he knows to have been used for torturing real men and women to their death. This relish of bloodshed—as distinguished from mere love of adventurous deeds—has given vogue to whole schools of romancers; it helped to account for the sudden popularity of Mr. Rider Haggard's tales, as it made the fame of Maurus Jokai. The taste is, no doubt, morbid, and ought not to be encouraged. But it is natural and has to be taken into account. And the psychological interest of it is to show that we are not, in our feelings, so far removed from our barbaric ancestors as we like to think.

At the Queen's Expense.

The prince of Wales occasionally enjoys a joke over the queen's propensity for giving away Indian shawls. At one Henly regatta he was on a steam launch with a merry party, engaged in scrutinizing the other craft on the river. Their attention was especially drawn to a boat containing a pleasure party, one member of which was an elderly lady bearing a remarkable resemblance to the queen, and she seemed bent upon doing all in her power to heighten the resemblance. One of the company on board the launch approached the prince and ventured to draw his attention to the lady in question, jocularly suggesting that it was the queen viewing the regatta incog. Just as his royal highness was leveling his field glass upon her, she rose, and taking the shawl upon which she had been sitting, threw it about the shoulders of the young girl who was with her. "It is undoubtedly the queen," replied the prince quietly; "I see that she has just presented one of her Indian shawls."

A Touching Sight.

A touching sight was that witnessed in Burlington, N. J., when six young girls clad in spotless white walked slowly through the streets to the cemetery, bearing upon their shoulders a coffin, covered with a pall of flowers. In the coffin rested the body of a young girl, a Sunday-school classmate of the bearers. The procession moved through the middle of the street with the ministers who had conducted the funeral service immediately behind the coffin. It was not a long march, and the girls moved steadily with their burden, but there were tears on their faces and on those of the spectators who lined the way. The dead girl was burned to death a few days before while throwing waste paper on a bonfire in her father's yard, and it was one of her last requests that her classmates, of whom she was extremely fond, should carry her to her grave.

"Manjak" the Latest Mineral.

A newly discovered mineral which is of a lustrous black color and which as a fuel surpasses coal and all other substances heretofore known is found on the island of Barbadoes, in the Lesser Antilles, where the natives call it "manjak." It is thought that manjak is petrified petroleum, great quantities of petroleum being found on the same island. It contains only two per cent of water and fully twenty-seven per cent of solid organic matter, thus surpassing in utility the best asphalt of Trinidad, in which thirty per cent. of water is contained, and which has been classed so far as the very finest fuel. Mixed with turf it gives heat far superior to any known.

VOL. XIV. COLUMBIANA, SHELBY COUNTY, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, MARCH 2, 1899. NO. 11.

THE OREGON IS NEEDED.

Dewey Cables the War Department to Send the Big Warship.

THE REQUEST SURPRISES WASHINGTON.

The Dispatch is Significant, Which May Mean That There Are Signs of Foreign Interference in the Philippines—Affairs More Quiet.

WASHINGTON, (Special.)—The following dispatches have been received at the navy department:

MANILA.—For political reasons the Oregon should be sent here at once. DEWEY.

MANILA.—The Yorktown arrived. Charleston and Petrel cruising around Philippine islands. Affairs more quiet. DEWEY.

The cablegram from Admiral Dewey asking for the Oregon was received with surprise by the officials here. No one knew, or at least would acknowledge that he knew, of the political reasons which the admiral says demand the immediate presence of the peerless battleship. The cablegram was taken to the cabinet board and fully discussed there. The admiral, is said, possibly feels that the moral effect of the presence of the big ship on the insurgents themselves, and particularly upon that large element among the Filipinos that is believed to be restrained with difficulty from joining fortunes with Aguinaldo, with whom their sympathies lie, would be good.

But there is an underlying doubt whether the admiral may not be keenly sighting a gathering cloud in the east, and is looking to the prevention of any possible intervention or interference by European powers in the struggle now in progress in the neighborhood of Manila. It is believed that in the big fires much property of foreign residents and business concerns was destroyed. That these fires were caused by the insurgents is not denied, and it may be that some of the naval commanders in the east are disposed to seize upon the pretext that their interests demand protection which we cannot afford them, to make a landing or do something obnoxious to the United States, and likely to encourage the insurgents. With such a strong naval force as would be afforded by the reenforcement of Dewey's fleet by the Oregon there could not be any sound reason, nor even a plausible reason for any such action on the part of third parties.

A dispatch from San Francisco says: The Oregon arrived at Hilo February 4 and Honolulu February 5. Iris and Scandia arrived on the 12th.

Allowing for detention on account of coaling at Guam or some other point between Honolulu and Manila, it is estimated that the Oregon will reach Manila about March 10.

The cabinet gave some attention to Dewey's cable message relative to the political importance of sending the Oregon at once to Manila.

Secretary Long said: "I am sure it has no international significance. You may state that positively. Probably he wants a fine ship there as the American commissioners are about due, and it will give weight to the American representations."

FLAG RAISED OVER CEBU.

The American Forces Have Occupied the Island.

MANILA.—The steamer Nuestra Senor Del Carmen has arrived here bringing the news that the American flag has been raised over the Island of Cebu, east of the Island of Negros.

Admiral Dewey cabled the navy department that he had sent the gunboat Petrel from Manila to Cebu. It is the purpose of the admiral to establish the sovereignty of the United States at the capital of the island, which is a populous town of 35,000 inhabitants. War department reports say the island of Cebu is the most important province of the Viscayas group, its area being 2,000 square miles, and its population more than a half million. Under the Spanish regime the capital was a city of commercial and political importance.

GOING TO GUATEMALA.

Expedition Will Attempt to Overthrow the Government.

The Kansas City Times prints the details of an alleged filibustering expedition having for its purpose the overthrow of the government of Guatemala, in Central America. According to the story, a regiment of a thousand men has been formed in Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago, and a second regiment has been formed in the east. Two companies are to leave Kansas City by rail, it is said, en route to the scene of the proposed invasion, via St. Louis and New Orleans. The men enlisted at Kansas City for the expedition were all members of the 5th Missouri.

PRACTICALLY CONCLUDED.

Deal by the $10,000,000 Company for the Iron Interest in Virginia.

The underwriting syndicate to consolidate almost all the iron industries of southwest Virginia, together with coke and coal properties, of which the firm of Moore & Schley is the head has concluded the taking over of titles preparatory to the incorporation of a $10,000,000 company, of which George L. Carter, of Pulaski, Va., is to be president and manager.

RECALL OF CHAMBERS,

Chief Justice of the Samoan Islands, Is Desired by Germany.

The United States ambassador at Berlin, Andrew D. White, has had several conferences this week with Baron von Richtofen, under secretary of the foreign office, on the subject of the recent troubles in Samoa, and has received a number of documents in support of Germany's view of the situation. The interviews are of a most friendly character and mutually conciliatory.

An official, in behalf of Baron von Buelow, the German minister of foreign affairs, tells the Berlin correspondent of the Associated Press that the German ambassador at Washington, Dr. Holleben, has presented to the United States government informally and in a friendly manner, the advisibility of recalling Wm. Chambers, chief justice of Samoa. The German government is of opinion that Mr. Chambers, since the publication of the letter to his brother, which appeared in the newspapers of the United States, is an "improper person to represent the three governments in Samoa."

It is farther said that he was put there to represent the protecting powers, and that for him to criticise one of those powers "makes him manifestly unfit to serve any longer in his his present capacity."

WILL AMOUNT TO MILLIONS.

The Freeze Did Immense Damage to Crops In Georgia.

The first authentic and official report on the damage throughout Georgia by the recent cold wave shows that the loss on crops in that state will amount to several million dollars. This report is contained in a special bulletin issued by Forecaster Marbury, and is compiled from the reports of several hundred correspondents scattered through the state. Peaches were nearly all killed in the lower counties, as well as a number of young trees, but in the northern counties there is reason to believe there will be a medium crop. Apples have not suffered to any great extent. Plums and some varieties of pears have nearly all been killed. One great protection to grain was the covering of snow preceding the coldest weather.

PACIFIC CABLE.

Provision for Its Construction to be Inserted.

The senate committee on appropriations Saturday agreed to incorporate a provision in the sundry civil appropriation bill providing for the construction of a sub marine cable connecting the United States with Hawaii. The amendment provides for the laying of the cable by the United States and its subsequent ownership by the government, the navy department to perform the service and the cable when completed to be operated by the postoffice department.

The original proposition providing for the extension of the cable to the Philippines was stricken out because of the uncertainty of the tenure of the United States in the last named islands.

To Relieve Judge Randolph.

The state department at Washington is moving vigorously in the effort to secure for Judge Frank Randolph, formerly of Montgomery, Ala., a speedy and legal trial in the United States of Columbia, where he has been since 1895 in prison, charged with murder. Owing to the great distance the negotiations proceed slowly, but at last the American representative there has been moved to act and is proceeding actively to obtain complete justice for the former Alabamian. Senator Morgan, who is working hard in the matter in conjunction with former Secretary Herbert, who is chief in the movement, said that the case was in a satisfactory condition and he felt confident Judge Randolph's interest would now receive proper protection.

Vessel Destroyed by Cyclone.

The Cayman Islands, situated 150 miles from Kingston, Jamaica, were swept by a terrible storm on February 13 and 14 which devastated country districts, destroyed the shipping and caused several fatalities and much suffering among the poor islanders. The schooner Whitewater, from Mobile, was a total loss, with her entire cargo. Her crew were saved.

Another Southern System.

A prominent financier of Baltimore, who is in a position to know, said Saturday that the Florida Central & Peninsular railroad has been bought by the people owning the Georgia & Alabama and the Seaboard Air Line. He believed the intention was to incorporate the road with the other two into a comprehensive southern system.

Big Gas Concern for Nashville.

The Tennessee Gas company, capital $1,000,000, was chartered at Nashville Saturday. It proposes to erect a modern gas plant in Nashville and produce illuminating gas at $1.30 and fuel gas at $1. New York capital is behind the company.

Senator Jones Improving.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, chairman of the democratic national committee, is rapidly recovering from his recent attack of lung trouble, and showed a decided improvement Saturday.

No Case Against Senator Hanna.

The senate committee on privileges and elections decided that there was no case made in the protests against Senator Hanna, of Ohio, and ordered such a report made to the senate.

WORK OF THE LEGISLATURE.

Summary of the Important Enactments by Alabama's Law-Makers.

OFFICES CREATED AND SALARIES REDUCED.

General Appropriation Bill Not Changed Except in a Few Particulars and These Changes Are on the Expense Side of the Ledger.

The general assembly completed its labors after midnight last Thursday night. The important general legislation was left to the closing hours, and the rush was as usual very great.

Now that the session is ended, the first desire will be to know what was done and the material changes made in the laws. Before the recess the only thing worthy of mention enacted was the law submitting to the people the question of calling a constitutional convention, and the result was that after recess the matters of a general nature were very pressing, and yet local bills took up most of the time.

The revenue laws and the back tax law were amended in some particulars, but not in a vital way, only in the interest of improving the system of assessing and collecting taxes.

In spite of the message of the governor recommending and suggesting trivial and insignificant reforms and the abolishment of a number of subordinate officers, it is a fact that not a single office was abolished, but several new ones were created, and the salaries of several old ones increased. The back tax commissioner is paid a salary of $2,400, actually more than the treasurer, when it is recognized that the main purpose of the law has been subserved and the real need of the machinery no longer required.

The general appropriation bill is not changed but in a few particulars, and these changes are largely on the expense side of the ledger. The first and biggest change is the $100,000 a year for public schools; the next is $2,400 for the tax commissioner; $2,500 for the supernumerary judge, $1,500 for the adjutant general, $600 for the auditor and $300 for the messenger in the governor's office, and as the recording secretary is retained at the same salary, the expense for clerical work comes much higher than last his secretaries, as the governor suggested, all are retained, and the pay of one of them is increased.

The only decrease is that of the contingent fund from $6,000 to $3,500 a year, and the cost of interest on temporary loans from $3,000 to $1,000.

It was attempted to make a jail inspector, at a salary of $1,800 and traveling expenses, and it passed both houses, but in the last hours the senate amendment enabled the house to kill the bill.

Besides the above comes the raise in tax rate of one mill for the public school fund, which will amount to about $250,000, and the raise of one-half mill for the pension of confederate soldiers, which will amount to about $125,000. Besides the increases in the annual appropriations, there were many smaller appropriations for different purposes estimated at about $50,000.

The most important and far-reaching law passed by the assembly was that exempting cotton in the hands of producers and when purchased for shipment, and pig iron from taxation for one year and then $2 per 100 tons. This bill was prepared by Speaker Walter, and he earnestly pushed it along and at the last moment persuaded the governor to sign it. It is a great triumph for the speaker, and he is very proud that he was enabled to do so much for a class of people so seriously in need of aid.

The session just closed has been a a record breaker for the passage of bills. There passed 956 bills—several having been vetoed and failed because they were not reached by the governor. In the house 1,407 bills were introduced, and 532 in the senate. Previous to the session just adjourned, the greatest number of bills passed was by the session of 1896-97, the number being 666. At that session 1233 were introduced into the house and 494 in the senate.

The present session has not been quite so expensive, however, as the session two years ago. Up to Saturday night the auditor had issued warrants to the amount of $53,531,87 for expenses of the present session. He says that there are outstanding claims of probably $100 yet to be presented. Of this amount $141.20 was paid the special revenue committee which sat during the recess. The total expenses of the session of 1896-97 were $53,719,26. Of this amount $3,480,36 was paid to special committees sitting during the recess.

The rest of the state is watching the Jefferson county fight with the greatest interest, and it is surmised that the outcome will have a most potent effect upon the future politics of the state. There are many good lawyers who do not believe that the commissioners' law will stand the test of the courts.

The populists of the general assembly met Friday and endorsed Judge Gaston's proposition to favor a consolidated convention of the democrats which would give them nominees in the district now represented by populists in the general assembly. The matter will be urged upon the committee which meets in Birmingham in April.

The naval committee of the house directed a favorable report on the senate bill creating the grade of admiral and intended for Rear Admiral Dewey

"WHITE MAN'S BURDEN"

Has Been Taken Up by the Americans Said Hon. David Mills.

Hon. David Mills, Canadian minister of justice, was the principal speaker at the sixty-third anniversary exercises of the Detroit Bar Association Saturday. His subject was "The Comparative Constitutional Law of Canada and the United States." In mentioning the fact that the United States had recently crossed the boundary which "marks an imperial system," Mr. Mills said: "You have entered upon the work begun by the mother of free states a century ago. You, too, recognize your high calling, have taken up the white man's burden, and I am sure that the feeling of every Canadian is that this new departure in your historical development may be of great value to yourselves, and of priceless advantage to the world."

Says He Found Andree's Body.

A copy of the Siberian Advertiser which has been mailed at Berlin contains a letter from a well known Russian elk hunter named Jalin, who is a personal acquaintance of the editor of the paper. Jalin says that he went on snowshoes to hunt elk in the primeval forest south of the Yenisei. When 340 versts from Krasnoyarsk and 100 from the San Vinich gold washing on the Pit river he found a balloon and three bodies. He vouched for the accuracy of his story and asked the editor to send men on snowshoes to remove the bodies.

Pipe Combine Perfected.

The organization of the gigantic United States Cast Iron Pipe company to control the entire output of cast iron pipe in the United States has been perfected.

The new corporation will absorb the American Pipe company, which controls the pipe manufacturing plants at the following places: Chattanooga, Bessemer, Anniston, South Pittsburg and Bridgeport. The new company will also control the other manufacturing concerns, including the plant at Addyston, O., reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Democratic Caucus.

A caucus of the democratic members of the house of representatives was held Monday evening "for the consideration of the attitude of the party on the Philippines." The call was issued by Representative Richardson, of Tennessee, chairman of the caucus signed by about forty democrats requesting the caucus for the purpose designated. A plan of annexation has already been outlined.

Postoffice Re-established.

The postoffice at Pickens, Holmes county, Miss., which went out of existence on May 11, 1898, as the result of the violent opposition of the citizens to the appointment of a colored postmaster, has been re-established and J. G. Webb, a white man, appointed postmaster.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Summary of the Proceedings of the Law Makers at Washington.

Monday.

THE SENATE.—For six hours this afternoon the senate discussed the postoffice appropriation bill without, however, coming to a final vote. An agreement was reached to vote on the bill and amendments at 2 o'clock tomorrow. Mr. Hawley, chairman of the military affairs committee, moved to take up the army reorganization bill, unanimous consent having been refused to take up the measure without displacing the unfinished business—the anti-scalping bill. Mr. Hawley's motion prevailed, thus making the army bill the unfinished business. It is agreed that this action disposes finally of the anti-scalping bill for the present session. Bills were passed as follows: Attaching Clayburne, Miss., to the western division of the southern district of Mississippi; amending an act providing for the change of time and place of holding the district and circuit courts of the northern district of Texas. A senate bill was passed providing for the purchase of a site and the erection of a public building thereon in Selma, Ala., at a cost not exceed $100,000.

THE HOUSE.—This was suspension day in the house. Some minor business was transacted by unanimous consent. The senate amendments to a number of private pension bills were adopted. Mr. Mahon, of Pennsylvania, moved the passage, under suspension, of the senate bill to reimburse governors of states for expenses incurred by them in the organization of volunteers for service in the war with Spain. Mr. Mahon said there were claims from the various states for this work aggregating over $3,000,000. Under the existing law, only $490,000 of these claims had been liquidated. The bill was passed—155 to 15. Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriation committee, was then recognized and by direction of his committee, moved the passage, under suspension of the rules, the bill for the payment of $20,000,000 to Spain. The bill was passed—219 to 34.

Tuesday.

THE SENATE.—Formal discussion of the Hull-Hawley army reorganization bill was begun in the Senate today. Mr. Hawley and Mr. Warren (Reps.) and Mr. Cockrell (Dems.) opposed it, while Mr. Proctor (Rep.) addressed the Senate in favor of some amendments which he had proposed to the bill. A bill for the relief of certain Lynchburg, Va., tobacconists who had failed to pay their internal revenue taxes in time was passed. The conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was agreed to. A measure was received from the House transmitting the bill passed by that body appropriating $20,000,000 to be paid to Spain in accordance with the terms of the Paris treaty. It was referred to the committee on appropriations. The postoffice appropriation bill was laid before the senate, and its consideration was resumed. The bill was passed.

In the house the time was occupied in debating the amendment offered by Mr. Mudd (rep.), of Maryland, appropriating $720,000 to complete three buildings authorized to be erected at the naval academy at Annapolis. The naval committee, with the exception of Mr. Cummings, strenuously opposed proceeding with the work of rehabilitating the naval academy until comprehensive plans had been decided upon, but the house overruled the committee and adopted the amendment. The house reached the last page of the naval bill and adjourned with a point of order pending against a provision fixing the price of armor plate at $545 per ton. The provision in the bill went out on a point of order on the ground that it was not limited to the armor to be purchased with the appropriation in the bill, whereupon it was modified to meet this objection, and against it the point of order pending at adjournment was reached.

Wednesday.

THE SENATE.—Today's session of the senate was devoted to two special orders, the reading of Washington's inaugural address, an annual custom of the senate on Washington's birthday, and the pronouncing of eulogies on the late Senator Justin S. Morrill, of Vermont. An invitation extended by the Charge d'Affairs of France, M. Thebeaut, through Secretary of State Hay, to the members of the senate to attend the memorial funeral services of the late President Faure, of France, to be held in St. Matthew's church, this city, was read.

THE HOUSE.—The house today inaugurated the custom which has prevailed for many years in the senate of listening to the reading of Washington's farewell address on Washington's birthday. The address was read at the request of Mr. Bailey, of Texas, the democratic leader. Two hours were devoted to the naval appropriation bill, but seemingly only the threshold of the debate upon the cost of armor plate had been passed. Mr. Boutelle's amendment fixing the maximum price of armor plate at $545 per ton, but restricting the provision to the appropriation made in the present bill, was ruled to be in order, whereupon another proposition was offered by Mr. Underwood, of Alabama, for the erection of an armor-plate plant by the government, and appropriating $4,000,000 for the same. A point of order against the latter proposition was pending when the consideration of the naval bill was suspended to allow the members of the house to pay their tribute to the memory of the late Senator Morrill, of Vermont. After which the house adjourned.

Thursday.

SENATE.—During the entire session today the senate had under consideration the river and harbor bill. Good progress was made, eighty-nine pages having been disposed of.

THE HOUSE.—The naval appropriation bill finally passed the house this afternoon, after four days of acrimonious debate, most of which was spent upon the question of rehabilitating the naval academy at Annapolis in accordance with the scheme inaugurated by the appropriation of $500,000 in the last naval bill, and the proposition to increase the maximum price to be paid for armor plate to $545 per ton, existing law limiting it to $400. Upon both propositions the naval committee suffered signal defeats. The amendment to build a great armor plant was ruled out on a point of order, but after a rancorous debate in which the price to be paid for armor was cut down from $545, the price which the committee insisted was being paid for the Krupp armor, to $445, and a provision was adopted precluding the government from paying more than was paid by any other foreign government for similar armor. Mr. Moody, (rep.), of Massachusetts, created a furore by offering at the end of the bill a copy of the senate bill, to create the rank of admiral of the navy. Uproarious applause greeted the reading of the amendment, its purpose being to allow Dewey to be appointed admiral. The question of the amendment was put and it was carried with a rousing cheer.

Friday.

THE SENATE.—After a session of nearly eight hours today the senate this evening at 6:30 o'clock passed the river and harbor bill by the decisive vote of 50 to 3. The measure was under consideration throughout the day, and on several of the committee amendments a determined fight was made, but in every instance the opposition availed nothing. The sharpest contest arose over the Nicaragua canal bill amendment. A point of order was made against it, that it was general legislation, but the senate, to which the vice-president submitted the point, overruled it. It was then attacked as not being relevant to a river and harbor measure, but the latter vigorously attacked the bill, their opposition being directed especially against the canal amendment. The statement was made that the measure would never see the light of day in the house and that the canal would not be built under the proposition inserted in the bill. During the afternoon Mr. Sewell, of New Jersey, delivered a speech in support of the Hull-Hawley army reorganization bill, in the course of which he declared that the United States was now as much at war in the Philippines as it was with Spain when our army was before Santiago.

THE HOUSE.—During the general debate upon the army appropriation bill in the house today, Mr. Johnson (rep.), of Indiana, who made several notable speeches violently attacking the policy of the administration during the consideration of the army reorganization bill a fortnight ago, returned to the assault and delivered against the president and some of his advisers the most scathing philippic in the house for months. He sneered at the president and the influence which he alleged controlled him, impugned his motives, scored his sincerity and likened him to Dickens' most contemptible character, charging his secretary of war with incompetency and predicted that the president would in the end be engulfed by adverse public sentiment. The army appropriation bill was lost sight of in the general discussion of the policy of the government relative to the Philippines, and several notable speeches were made, particularly that of Mr. Settle, of Kentucky. The general debate upon the bill closed and tomorrow the bill will be taken up for amendment under the five-minute rule. Seventy-seven private bills were passed at the night session.

Saturday.

THE SENATE.—After two hours devoted to the consideration of bills on the calendar, the senate at 1 o'clock begun the consideration of the compromise army reorganization bill, which had been agreed upon by the members of the military affairs committee. Until a short time before the measure was taken up it was supposed it would be passed today without serious difficulty, but when it was learned by some senators that the bill provided for a permanent increase in the standing army, objection was heard and it became evident that the measure would have to run the gauntlet of sharp criticism.

THE HOUSE.—The house continued work on the army appropriation bill today, but failed to complete. Considerable animosity was developed during the debate and there were sharp passages between Mr. Grosvenor and Mr. Cannon on the one hand, and Messrs. Simpson, Kansas, and Cochran, Missouri, on the other. The committee arose at 2:15 without having completed the argument and took up the eulogies to the late Senator Walthall, of Mississippi. Those who spoke were Representatives Allen, Fox, Henry, of Mississippi; Spaulding, Johnson, of Indiana; McLain, Bartlett and Williams, of Mississippi. Eulogies were also pronounced on the late Mr. Love, of Mississippi. At the conclusion of the eulogies, at 5:50 p. m., the house adjourned.

CURRENT EVENTS IN ALABAMA.

MOBILE AND BIRMINGHAM.

The Southern Acquires a New Line to the Gulf.

The Southern railway has absorbed the Mobile and Birmingham railroad, securing a lease of ninety-nine years on the road and property, and thus opening for the first time a direct outlet for the iron and coal fields of the Alabama and northwest Georgia districts over the Southern railway to the gulf. The deal was made by Samuel Spencer, president of the Southern railway, in London a few days ago.

The Mobile and Birmingham has 150 miles of track between Mobile and Marion Junction, Ala. From Marion Junction it had been compelled to use the tracks of the other lines to Selma for an eastern or northern outlet. Now that the Southern has picked it up, it will become a most important link in the great system, and will be connected direct with Birmingham over that prong of the Southern once known as the Selma, Rome and Dalton, formerly a part of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system. This line already runs from Birmingham to Marion Junction, and on March 1, the day fixed for the lease to the Southern to become effective, the Mobile and Birmingham will be merged into the system, and the Southern will have a direct outlet to the gulf from Birmingham. This means that the iron and coal fields of that entire section of the south will be placed in competitive connection with the advantages of tidewater on the gulf at Mobile.

Mustering Out at Camp Shipp.

The Second Arkansas was mustered out Saturday and nearly all of its members have left for their homes. The mustered out men were very orderly. Prior to the breaking up, the officers and men presented Colonel Virgil Y. Cook and Lieutenant Colonel Dorsey C. Cabell with fine swords. Colonel Cabell was also given a fine watch. Colonel Cook gave each of his commissioned officers a gold medal. Many other gifts were made, and there was much speechmaking.

The Fourth Wisconsin will be mustered out Monday and Tuesday and the Third Alabama in about a month. The Second Infantry will then go to Cuba and Camp Shipp will be no more.

An illicit distillery captured in this state in a long time was captured by Deputy Collector W. C. Hanlin, assisted by Messrs. A. L. White and V. H. Nuckols, in Fayette county, four miles west of Ballard postoffice, last week. The still had evidently just been deserted by the operators when the officers arrived, as the fires had only been drawn a few minutes and everything was steaming hot. The still was of eighty gallons capacity, and was what is known as a "Yankee still," and was capable of turning out fifteen gallons of illicit whisky per day at a loss to the government of $16.50 a day.

Three Persons Sentenced to Hang.

Sam Rivers, Rich Hale and Theo Johnson have been sentenced to hang March 31 for the murder of old Mrs. Myers and her daughter at Troy several months ago. Rivers turned state's evidence on his accomplices in an effort to save himself, but to his surprise the jury imposed the extreme penalty. Mrs. Myers had $2,000 in gold concealed in her residence, and the trio robbed the place, killed its inmates and burned the house. Rivers is a negro.

The Republican Committee to Meet.

William Vaughan, chairman of the state executive committee of the republican party, has issued a call for that committee to meet in Birmingham Saturday. The call does not state the purpose of the meeting, but it is understood that the special subject for consideration will be the constitutional convention matter.

Gratifying to Its Friends.

The attendance at the University of Alabama is larger than it has been for several years. The catalogue for the year will show about 210, and there are now on the rolls 187 including two who are absent on sick leave. The members of the faculty state that the students are doing excellent work, too, this season.

BRIEFLY MENTIONED.

The republican postmaster at Wofford, recently appointed, refused to hold the place because the salary is too small. The former postmaster, a democrat, knowing the convenience of the office to the people, consented to take hold again for the public accommodation. Wofford is in the country district of Lamar county.

In Butler county the board of county commissioners was abolished by the legislature and a board of revenue to be appointed by the governor substituted. The commissioners stepped out, the governor has not yet named the revenue board and the county is without financial management.

Dr. J. W. Shooff, pastor of the First Methodist church of Selma, was stricken with apoplexy Saturday and is dangerously ill.

A negro miner named Davis was blown to atoms by a dynamite explosion at Ishkooda ore mines last week. He had put two charges in a hole and moved away for it to fire. He heard two explosions and thinking they were the ones he had placed went back. Just as he reached the spot the two charges which he had fixed went off and blew him to atoms.

THE CHRONICLE

Committee Call.

A meeting of the Democratic executive committee of Shelby County is hereby called, to be held at Columbiana on February 18, 1899, at 12 m. for the purpose of arranging for the nomination of a candidate for delegate to the constitutional convention and sending delegates to the State convention. Every member of the committee is urged to be present.

W. B. BROWNE, Chairman.

The following are the members of the committee:

Beat 1—W. B. Browne, J. R. White, J. F. Averyt.
2—N. N. Mosteller, I. N. Carson, G. E. Abbott.
3—Sam. T. Bristow, W. D. Huggins, H. T. Caffey.
4—W. S. Cary, C. L. Meroney, J. D. Trammell.
5—John Harmon, John Waddell, Columbus Benton.
6—J. L. Tucker, J. E. Ruffin, L. N. Ray.
7—J. B. Adams, Rufus Walker, C. L. O'Neal.
8—T. W. Lester, G. W. Shaw, John Dye.
9—J. L. Ray, J. W. Taylor, J. F. Pope.
10—T. J. Martin, L. H. Cosper, D. W. Kidd.
11—J. E. Adams, B. H. Smothers, E. L. Ray.
12—Early Cross, Dock Jones, W. E. Cross.
13—H. W. Lee, G. A. Bass, M. M. DeShazo.
14—J. M. Babb, J. P. Kinnett, Robert E. Collins.
15—R. M. Hollis, J. W. Moore, R. E. Cosper.
16—C. C. Elliott, J. J. Burks, E. Chandler.
17—Bill Dennis, Taylor Ferrell, William Cross.
18—J. T. Davis.

"The above meeting is postponed until Monday, March 6th.

W. B. BROWNE, Chairman.

THE Advocate sometime ago boasted that Judge Longshore defeated the court bill. We are wondering why he

IT is amusing to read in some of the papers that Reuben Kolb would make an acceptable delegate to the constitutional convention. For our part we would rather vote for a straight-out, consistent Populist.

THE city election for Columbiana has been called for April 3. As the mayor will be a member of the board of commissioners in charge of the court house election, the coming city election will be of more than usual interest.

DURING the week THE CHRONICLE has received a good many favorable expressions upon its proposition for a joint primary for county delegate to the consitutional convention. We hope there will be a full attendance of the committee next Monday, so that the question may be intelligently acted upon.

WE failed to see the city of Anniston included among those which got public buildings. We refer this to the Hot-Blast and Index, who were a few days ago extolling the virtues of Mr. Aldrich for getting the building. We told them then that they rejoiced too quick. With the soldiers gone and the public building lost Anniston hasn't much to show for her kindness to Mr. Aldrich during the last election.

HEREAFTER the public school teachers will be examined by a State board. That is to say, the questions will be prepared by this board and forwarded to the county superintendents in a sealed package, not to be opened till the day of examination, when all applicants will be examined together. The answers will be passed on by the State board and the certificates issued by them. The result ought to be more competent teachers. Let us hope so.

ALL this talk about Governor Johnston having his eye on Morgan's seat is really absurd, and most of it is in the imagination of those whom he has displeased. Johnston is not a fool—even his enemies have not said so—and none but one ignorant of the conditions would seriously think of opposing the good Senator from Alabama. Thrice have the politicians tried to beat Morgan, and just so many times have the people risen in their might and silenced all opposition. Even the politicians have come to respect the people's will on this point, if upon no other. Governor Johnston may or may not desire to succeed venerable Senator, but if he does he is not so unwise as to be building up a machine so far in advance of its probable hour of usefulness. Did not his own perception warn him not to do this the experience of his predecessors would teach him better.

INTO THE TRAP.

Our friend of the Sentinel complains of our figures. He says we included in the Columbiana assessment all the nonresident assessments. That is just what we expected, and we left the trap open for that purpose. The Sentinel confines its complaint to that one point, and thereby admits the truth of our apportionment. This matter settled we will revise our figures. On examination of the tax books we find $175,000 in round figures—the actual figures below that—assessed in Columbiana beat which lies in the territory contiguous to Calera. This leaves the apportionment of real and personal property between the two places: Columbiana, $1,174,238; Calera, $827,775. This is practically three-fourths of the property nearest Columbiana.

In our former figures we did not include the railroad property of the county. From the Sentinel's claims on the subject one would imagine that all the railroad property was jammed right up into the corporate limits. We present the following table of railroad assessments for the county, apportioning to each place that which is nearest to it:

RAILROAD ASSESSMENT.	Columbiana.	Calera.
Central of Georgia	$321930
Ala Mineral, ½ each	$8125	$8125
Birmingham Mineral		164945
S. & N. A.		476028
Southern, Bloctou branch		209247
Selma branch		194808
Total	656140	1127253

After all none of these figures will enter into the argument when the people go to make up their minds on the court house removal, and we only present them in answer to the Sentinel's absurd claim that three-fifths of the property of the county is contiguous to Calera. When the people go to vote on this question they will not be influenced by the convenience of railroad property nor that of nonresident corporations. It will be decided solely on this question, put by each voter to himself: "Will the removal of the courthouse to Calera be of such advantage to me as to justify the increase of my taxes which the removal will make necessary?" It will be a question of expense, and each voter will answer for himself what his portion of the expense will be. If he is willing to pay that portion, and Calera will be more convenient for him, he will vote for Calera; if he is not willing to pay his portion of the expense he will vote against removal. When the proper time comes we shall present the probable cost of removal and the necessary increase of the tax rate which the removal will compel.

WE regret the condition indicated the Federal Government to the Girls' School. Should the Governor, as is suggested by that article, undertake to select the lands himself we fear the school will be the loser. He could only select from maps, and that would be very unsafe. The best selection can only be made by personal examination, and the expense would be more than repaid by the increased value of the land. We hardly think the Governor can seriously contemplate a course which would undoubtedly result in a heavy loss to the school. We do not believe he will let any political considerations interfere with his duty to the girls of Alabama.

THE PEOPLE AND THE CONVENTION.

[Age-Herald.]

County after county is deciding to elect in beat primaries its representation in the constitutional convention. Very few, if any, counties will resort to the out-of-date convention plan, which is simply abdication by the people who should rule in favor of a small court house clique who are unfit to rule.

The controlling principle in all political action should be this, the people should have the widest desirable opportunities. When direct action is inconvenient or undesirable representative action may be brought in; but the people alone must decide when they will permit indirect action. No man, no clique or set of men, must be permitted to decide against the sovereign people. When an Orleans prince or Bonapartist attempts to seize the headship of France, driving the people out of power, we call it usurpation or some other strong name, when in point of fact it is exactly similar to and parallel with clique action in an Alabama county when it attempts to push aside the people themselves in order to steal the representation of the county. In theory the cases are throughout alike, and in practice they they differ only in the amount of gunpowder burned.

The people cannot guard too zealously their rights. Experience shows that bosses and their subservient cliques can conquer and control an American state, county or city as readily as revolutionists can gain control in the streets of Paris or in a South American state. When primaries are called every Democrat should go to the ballot box, and he should put into that ballot box his convictions, and he should then see that his convictions show on the tally sheets.

The constitutional convention should be above and beyond professional politicians. It should be in the fullest and best sense the people of Alabama. To make it fully representative it should come direct from the people, speaking in their primaries, and acting wholly free from dictation of any kind. The indications are very good that representative men will be selected—representative farmers and representative manufacturers and representative merchants as well as representative lawyers, doctors and the like. Make sure of the fact by going to the polls on the day named, and taking along all your neighbors.

The crowds attending court have a splendid opportunity this week to find someone who is just as willing to talk about the stock law as anything else.

The Duty of the Hour.

We have from time to time endeavored to impress upon the minds of the citizens of Columbiana, through these columns, the importance of hearty cooperation in our efforts to locate a college here. There are some people who are reticent in matters of this kind unless they are known leaders of the movement. To these let us give all the "glory" of the success that may be achieved. It isn't glory we seek, but the betterment of the condition of our town.

The writer feels quite sure that we cannot hope to obtain this school without earnest and concentrated efforts. Are we to sit idly by and grumble about courthouse elections and let pass a golden opportunity? A good, live, up-to-date college will do more for our town and county than a half dozen courthouses.

I am informed that Mr. and Mrs. Appleton will be here not later than March 15th, to look over the situation and see if they care to invest their money in Columbiana. If we fail to secure this school at this time, the opportunity may never be afforded us again. This college which we hope to establish, if properly supported and conducted, will be one of which we may be justly proud, and will be of great benefit to us, our children and our children's children.

We are in the "ruts." We have lapsed into a state of inactivity. We need a large dose of "anti-fogism," and in all probability, the founding of such an institution in our midst would prove the turning point in Columbiana's history.

We have come to believe that the courthouse is the only support of the town. We leave it to the good judgement of the people as to the advisability of taxing themselves to build a new courthouse just to satisfy the whims of a few people in and around Calera and the lawyers at Birmingham and Montgomery. If the people prefer this taxation, then let it go.

Let us be prepared to supplant the courthouse with an institution that will more than fill the vacancy. We need a good school and must have it. To be sure of success it must be run on business principles. Our present system will never prove satisfactory because of the uncertainty of obtaining sufficient revenue with which to pay the teachers. In our school, as it is, pupils can only obtain a public school education, whereas, if we had a thoroughly equipped college here, our children would have equal advantages with any in the State. This higher education would better fit them to fight life's battles. Hear what Pope has to say relative to a "little learning:"

A little learning is a dangerous thing.
Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring;
There shallow draughts intoxicate the brain,
And drinking largely sobers us again.

Therefore, let us all be up and doing, and let not those who refuse to help us in this fight for a higher standard in morality and civilization step in to enjoy the fruits of our labors—to exclaim, "We did it!" It has always been my observation that those who do the least work toward obtaining an enterprise usually strive the hardest to have it appear that they are the chief instruments of its success.

Education is the handmaid of christianity, and

Learning by study must be won,
'Twas ne'er entail'd from son to son.

Then too, we should strive, not alone for the benefit of self, but for the welfare of future generations—"That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth; that our daughters may be as corner stones, polished after the similitude of a palace." This, I consider, is the duty of the hour.

MURMURER.

APROPOS of the creation of the office of jail inspector at a salary of $1,800 a year, attention is called to the fact that section 1415 of the Code makes it the duty of the probate judge and circuit clerk to visit the county jail once every week, not notifying the jailer of the time of their going, and to make a memorandum of the condition of the jail, such memoranda to be presented to the grand jury. With this duty fulfilled to the letter we see no need of a jail inspector.

THE tax rate for the State will be 70 cents on the $100 for the next two years; if the county rate for general purposes is fixed at 40 cents, as it has been for the past several years, with the road tax at 20 cents, the county rate will be 60 cents. This will put the total rate $1.30 on the $100, or 5 cents above the constitutional limit. Add to this a special tax of 50 cents for removing the court house, and we will have a nice little tax of $1.80 on the $100. That will be doing exceedingly well for Populist administration.

ELSEWHERE we puplish the report of a conference of Populist leaders in Montgomery, at which the position to be taken by Populists on the constitutional convention was discussed. The position taken by an overwhelming majority of those present is right in line with our proposition to hold a joint primary in this county. Those present at the conference evidently recognize the certainty of the holding of the convention, and see the policy of putting themselves in a tenable attitude before the inevitable comes. If there is this disposition on the part of any Populists, Democrats can well afford to meet them half way.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE NEGRO VOTE.

Both branches of the general assembly of North Carolina have adopted an amendment to the State constitution limiting the privilege of suffrage by prescribing educational, property and poll tax qualifications. In other words, after the adoption of this amendment by the people, no one will have a right to vote in North Carolina save those who have a certain measure of education, a certain amount of property; but these provisions do not apply to those who were entitled to vote on January 1, 1867, or whose ancestors were so entitled to vote.

It will be seen from these limitations, qualifications and exemptions that the amendment is intended to eliminate the ignorant negro vote. Indeed, this the avowed purpose of the measure; there is no pretense of concealment about it whatever. None is necessary. Every sensible person knows and sensible negroes admit, that this ignorant negro vote is a menace in every State and county where it is formidable, and is responsible for the greater part of the trouble between the races.

Such men as Booker Washington perceive this to be the case, admit it, and do not avow any opposition to such measures or express any alarm when they are proposed. Their complacence is based on the most solid reasons, and to those shall revert presently. But there are many negroes who take a superficial view of the matter—such a view as is taken by some of the so-called friends of the negro at the North. Many of the Northern editors—not all—take this superficial view, and seem to regard the elimination of the ignorant negro vote as part of a movement to disfranchise the negro permanently. But there is no such intention, and even if there was it would be impossible to carry it out.

The reason, however, why we describe the views of this class as superficial is very simple. It is because the Northern editors, for the most part, and the professional philanthropists appear to be incapable of considering both sides of the question. They do not seem to understand why the ignorant negro vote at the South is more dangerous and more threatening than the ignorant white vote, and so they take it for granted that the movement to disfranchise the negroes has its basis in partisan politics. This is what we call the superficial view.

It must be evident to any impartial mind that even an ignorant person must, in the nature of things, get some sort of an education. He may not be able to read or write, but he will absorb views and opinions, or he will have his prejudices whetted in various directions. Now, whether an ignorant voter is a factor dangerous to the social order, or whether he is an upholder of that order, depends entirely on his associations and surroundings, and the direction in which his prejudices have been sharpened.

Now the sort of education which the ignorant voters have received and are still receiving is, as every white Southerner knows, and as many of the ablest negroes admit, the very worst they could have possibly have acquired. Following the lead of their narrow-minded and ignorant political leaders, they have been educated away from their duties as citizens, away from their responsibilities as members of the communities and have been taught to indorse every policy, every doctrine and every suggestion calculated to embarrass or undo the whites. And in bestowing this education and in warping the minds of the ignorant a majority of the negro preachers have lent a ready and eager hand, doing probably as much damage as the politicians themselves.

This sort of education, this piling of enmity and prejudice upon ignorance has been going on for thirty years, and the fruits of it are to be seen in every outbreak that has occurred, and in the attitude of the negroes toward us whenever they have succeeded in winning a little brief authority. And all these long years the whites who are the objects of this enmity have been taxing themselves to send the negro to school, to build negro churches on the way.

It is to be taken for granted, as a matter of course, that this is due entirely to their ignorance, and to the sort of education their politicians and preachers have given them. When ignorance hears fury and hate growled from the pulpit and platform its prejudices are apt to take fire and smolder and burn until opportunity kindles them into a blaze. From the very day after emancipation down to the present time the unfortunate negroes have been taught to hate the whites and to distrust them. At first they were alarmed at by statements that they were to be pressed into slavery again, and since then a thousand and one sinister suspicions and fears have been instilled into their minds, not only by the negro politicians but by the white Republican leaders of the North. The negroes have been taught to believe that the government would take care of them if only the Democrats were kept out of power, and so fear and hate have been made to do duty as political agents. This is why the South feels that the ignorant negro vote is a factor dangerous to the social order and threatening to good government.

But there is another side to this temporary disfranchisement of ignorance which seems to escape the attention of those who take a superficial view of the matter. It is not disfranchisement. It will give to the ignorant a new incentive for gaining education and property, and give a fresh stimulus to their energies in the really important affairs of life. It will take them from under the hands of the negro toadies who dance attendance on the white Republican leaders. Indeed, these negro toadies and politicians will have to turn their attention to some other mode of acquiring a livelihood, and gradually the prejudices against the whites will give way to reason and common sense, and the very elements that now make for danger and threaten to disturb the peace in every campaign will be employed in the attainment of those results that flow from good citizenship.

When the ignorant negroes are taken from under the shadow of partisanship, and are compelled to turn all their energies toward making a living, and securing education and property, they are bound to make better citizens. Free from the incendiary instruction of those who would embitter the relations of the two races, they will have leisure to study and understand the real attitude of the whites, and they will find as their minds open to a new comprehension of affairs, that this attitude is wholly and utterly different from that which they have been taught to believe it to be.

This temporary disfranchisement will make for peace and lead to a thorough understanding between the races, and this fact alone will be worth more to the negroes than all the results they have been able to secure from their enfranchisement. We think this is appreciated by sensible negroes, and this is why they do not enter any very serious protests against it. Such men as Booker Washington and Council, and others, have as high an appreciation of the duties and responsibilities of citizenship as any white men could have, and this appreciation rises from the fact that they are able to measure the relations which exist between one citizen and another, irrespective of color.

The Constitution has never taken any ground on the race problem that was not in the interest of the negroes themselves. To the mass of the race it has always turned a sympathetic side, and it has never given them any advice that was not based on a desire to see them win success as men and as citizens. And we say now that no event could be more fortunate for their future, no more enduring basis for their success could be conceived, than a measure which would compel the ignorant among them to win the ballot, with such advantages as it confers, by working for it through the enlightenment of their minds and accumulating enough property to give them an interest in the laws that are made, in the taxes that are collected, and in the welfare of their neighbors without regard to color.

In a few years from now the representative of the race will thank he even that citizenship was made valuable for them by these means.

IT is not often that we give place to long articles from other papers, but the one found elsewhere from the Atlanta Constitution is so able that we publish it. It is a clear, forcible and conservative exposition of the subject of which it treats, and is worthy of close perusal and consideration.

THE Selma Times has to say:

Morgan and Pettus should be allowed to die where they are. It is almost sacrilege for a man to even think of running against either of them. They are both nearing the sunset of life, and we, for one, want to see them stay in the Senate as long as they live.

We only desire to add that the sunset to which they are approaching is even more glorious than the noonday of any other life we know of in the present cycle, and the people are not wont to have so brilliant rays pass behind sombre clouds. There is no need to worry on this score; they will stay where the are. The press may as well turn to mooted questions and the politicians to easier prey; the people will take care of Morgan and Pettus.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of The Braddock Town and Improvement Co. at the office of R. H. Pearson, Birmingham, Ala., Monday, March 20, 1899, to elect a board of directors, and transact such other business as may lawfully come before it.

JNO. G. MURRAY, President.

Nonresident Notice.

STATE OF ALABAMA, SHELBY COUNTY:
In Chancery, Sixth district, Northeastern Chancery division.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of R. H. Pearson that the defendants, Central Trust Company of New York, a corporation doing business in the State of New York; C. S. Plumb and A. H. Plumb, who resides in Emporia, in the State of Kansas; and Thomas S. Krutz, R. W. Kelly, who reside in the city of New York; and Geo Plumb, who resides in the State of Kansas, are nonresidents of the State of Alabama, and further that in the belief of said affiant the defendants are over the age of twenty-one years. It is therefore ordered by the Register that publication be made in The Chronicle, a newspaper published in the town of Columbiana, once a week for four consecutive weeks requiring them, the said Central Trust Company of New York, C. S. Plumb, A. H. Plumb, Thomas S. Krutz, R. W. Kelly, and Geo. Plumb, to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 13th day of March, A. D. 1899, or in thirty days thereafter a decree pro confesso may be taken against them.

Done at office in Columbiana, this 14th day of February, A. D. 1899.

AFRICAN LIMBLESS COTTON SEED FREE

Anyone who sends a year's subscription to the Atlanta Semi-Weekly Journal can get postpaid one pound of the celebrated African Limbless Cotton Seed without charge.

A new prospective Southern industry should yield enough to plant a crop.

The seed were tested in a list of thirty varieties by the Georgia Experiment Station, and a bulletin recently issued by Director Redding shows that the African Limbless Cotton produced 70 pounds more per acre than any other variety, and 161 pounds more per acre than the average of thirty leading varieties. The African Limbless Cotton produced 780 pounds of lint per acre, which is nearly four times the average on the farms of the South. This shows what high fertilization and thorough culture will do with these seed. The value of the product, counting cotton at 5 cents and seed at 13 cents a bushel, was over $45 per acre. The cost of fertilizers used was $1.77 per acre.

The Journal does not guarantee results, but the result of the test at the Experiment Station make it worth a farmer's while to try these seed when they cost him nothing.

The Journal brings you the news of the world twice a week, with hundreds of articles of special interest about the farm household, juvenile topics, and every Southern farmer should have the paper. You don't have to wait a week for the news, but get it twice as often as you do in the weeklies, which charge the same price.

THE CHRONICLE and the Journal, three papers per week, sent regularly to your address, and 1 pound of the Limbless Cotton Seed for only $1.75

What Shall we Do?

A serious and dangerous disease prevails in this country, dangerous because so deceptive. It comes on so slowly yet surely that it is often firmly seated before we are aware of it.

The name of this disease which may be divided into three distinct stages, Is, flast, Kidney trouble, indicated by pain in the back, rheumatism, lumbago, frequent desire to urinate, often with a burning sensation, the flow of urine being copious or scant with strong odor.

If allowed to advadce, this reaches the second stage, or Bladder trouble, with heavy pain in the abdomen low down between the navel and the water passage, increasing desire to urinate, with scalding sensation in passing, small quantities being passed with difficulty, sometimes necessary to draw it with instruments. If uric acid or gravel has formed, it will prove dangerous if neglected.

The third stage is Bright's Disease.

There is comfort in knowing that Dr. Kilmer, the great kidney and bladder specialist, has discovered a remedy, famous for its marvelous cures of the most distressing cases, and known as Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root.

It is sold by all druggists.

As a proof of the wonderful virtues of this discovery, Swamp Root, a sample bottle and a book of valuable information will be sent absolutely free by mail on application to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing kindly mention that you read this liberal offer in THE CHRONICLE.

The Alabama Fertilizer

Is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State to be the best all around fertilizer for cotton and corn.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Everyone of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER. The only objection ever raised to the ALABAMA FERTILIZER was that it costs too much.

The present price is no more than that of standard fertilizers. When requested, the ALABAMA FERTILIZER will put up, without extra cost, in bags treated by the Mananka Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process, thereby insuring the perfect preservation of the bags for an indefinite time, and saving the contents from loss by waste in handling. These preserved bags when emptied and thoroughly washed will be found as good and strong as new, and equally useful for other purposes. Every person, farmer, merchant or dealer vitally interested in the economical production of good crops should advocate the use of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

NO COMMISSIONER.

Governor Will Select Lands for Girls School.

The following from the Age-Herald will be read with interest, as it may seriously affect the pride of our county:

By a recent act of the national Congress the Girls' Industrial School at Montevallo and Booker Washington's school at Tuskegee have come into possession of 25,000 acres each of valuable mineral lands in this State, formerly belonging to the United States. The bill passed by Congress did not prescribe which lands were to be given the schools, but made it discretionary with the Governor as to their selection.

Both the schools desired the appointment of a land commissioner to select the lands, and a bill was accordingly passed through the legislature providing for the appointment of such commissioner by the Governor. This bill met the Governor's approval, and it was generally understood that former Congressman Thos. S. Plowman, of Talladega, would be appointed commissioner. Indeed, it is said the Governor promised Captain Plowman the position, telling him it would be useless to secure an endorsement for the place. Captain Plowman had been a long, faithful friend of the Montevallo school, and had spent much time in Washington aiding the passage of the bill granting the lands.

But there was a new complication soon arising. Another Richmod entered the field. Tuskegee was evidently getting jealous, that with the commissioner, Montevallo might secure the choicest lands. Mayor W. W. Thompson, of Tuskegee, circulated a petition that he be given the position of commissioner. This petition, it is said, was signed by every member of the board of trustees of the Tuskegee school as well as by several of those of the Montevallo school.

The appointment was held up. Each of the applicants has daily expected the $2,000 plum to fall into his lap. But it is still on the limb, and from the best information it will stay there until it rots.

Governor Johnston to-day made the announcement that no commissioner would be appointed, that he would himself select the land for the schools.

This letter from Rev. Allen Moore, Clinton, N. C., speaks for itself: I suffered with deranged liver and dyspepsia four years; had a dry cough, pain in the chest and was so run down everyone thought I had consumption. I commenced taking Simmons Liver Regulator, and am now strong and well and able to do as good work as ever. I recommend Simmons Liver Regulator to anyone suffering with almost any disease.

Found Dead.

James Karr, an aged and respected citizen of this county, left his home near here on the 13th ultimo and was found on the 20th lying dead in a small stream near his house. From the condition of his body it is supposed that he had died shortly after leaving the house. He leaves a wife and several children. His memory will ever have a bright spot in the writer's heart.

J.

Mrs. James Atwater, Elba, Ala., writes: Have used Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine five years on myself and family with wonderful results. It cures sour stomach, headache, constipation and liver complaint. I think it is far beyond the cheap stuff sold by Zeilin and that of other folks who are trying to deceive the people.

In Memoriam.

Death has claimed for his victim another of our octogenarian citizens. Mr. J. H. Strickland had gone in and out among us for many years, but he had to succumb at last to the ruthless hand of the fell destroyer that smote with a fatal stroke.

The subject of this sketch was born in Anderson District, South Carolina, December 30, 1815, and came to this State when about five years old. He was married in Tuscaloosa County to Miss Mary S. Hayes on January 15, 1840. He came to Shelby County, Ala., in the year 1875. He had ten children, only five of whom are living.

He had long been an honorable member of the Masonic fraternity, and was buried with the grand honors of that order.

He had been an elder in the Cumberland Presbyterian church for more than sixty years. He died on January 31, 1899 in the eighty-fourth year of his age. May blessings rest on the aged and sorrowing widow and the bereaved children.

The curative properties, strength and effect of Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine are always the same. It can not be equalled.

Cloudburst in Chilton County.

Birmingham, Feb. 27.—A disastrous cloudburst occurred at 4 o'clock last afternoon on the line of the L. & N. Railroad between Clanton and Verbena, in Chilton County, and traffic was delayed for more than ten hours. The tremendous rainfall not only did much damage to farms but washed away a big section of the railroad track. By working all night, a large force of men were enabled to have the track rebuilt by an early hour this morning. Seventy-eight car loads of slag were used in the work. It was one of the quickest jobs in track building on record. On the Central of Georgia the same cloudburst swelled the creeks to such an extent near Sylacauga that a bridge washed away and trains were delayed many hours. Meagre reports say that much damage was done by the rain in Talladega and Shelby Counties. The rainfall in Birmingham and vicinity was heavy but the damage was not great.

Edison's Moving Pictures.

A performance of the above for the benefit of the Columbiana School, will be given one night next week. Come one, come all, and see life motion on canvass. Not a magic lantern, but actual living motion.

When you ask for Simmons Liver Regulator make sure you are getting it. Examine your purchase closely and if the word Regulator is not on it don't take it for it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. Take your trade to the druggist who gives you exactly what you ask for, and does not wear out your patience trying to shove off some fraud preparation in place of Simmons Liver Regulator.

WILL THEY SUPPORT IT?

Populists May Vote for the Constitutional Convention.

The Populist members of the general assembly and a few others from other parts of the State met at the capitol yesterday and considered the plan proposed by Judge Zell Gaston, of Butler.

There were just twenty present, and after discussing and thoroughly considering the matter of their course in the pending canvass on the question of the calling of a constitutional convention, it was decided to endorse the plan proposed by Judge Gaston and to urge upon the committee of their party the making of such a proposal to the Democrats, by a vote of 16 to 4, Balzell, Goodwin, Jarrett and Fonville voting no.

Judge Gaston's proposition, it will be remembered, was stated in full in the proceedings of the Democratic committee, which assembled in this city last month, and it was to the effect that if the Democrats would give the Populists the right to name the candidate for delegates to the convention in those senatorial districts now represented by Populists in the senate that they would join with the Democrats in favoring the call of the convention.

Judge Gaston's proposition was not considered by the State committee, because it came only from an individual and no attention in an official way could be paid to it. If it is made by the Populist committee it will no doubt be duly replied to.

The districts represented by Populists in the senate are the Fifth by G. J. Hall; Sixth, J. A. Hurst; Fifteenth, G. B. Deans; Seventeenth, A. W. Deans; Twenty-third, G. W. Brooks; Twenty-fifth, G. N. Buchanon; Twenty-ninth, D. C. Case, making seven in all, and with what they can get in the counties the Populists will have over twenty-five delegates in the convention, and for that privilege they will support the call.

Ladies desiring a contented and happy old age should use Simmons Vine Wine or Tablets, commencing at 40 years old and continue during the Change of Life.

Several of our citizens attended county court in Columbiana Monday.

More people in town last Saturday than since January 1st.

County court convened Monday with a full docket and is still busy grinding out justice for the unwary.

Never Box nor Pull the Ears.

The reason a blow on the ear may do irreparable injury is that the air, being driven suddenly and violently against the drum of the ear, might rupture the membrane and cause incurable deafness. The ears should never be pulled nor meddled with in anyway except to wash them in the gentlest manner, the orifice being cleansed with a fold of the washcloth rolled into a little cone.—March Ladies' Home Journal.

No other medicine builds up and fortifies the system against miscarriage as well as Simmons Squaw Vine or Tablets.

W. B. Browne placed a four-line local in our paper last week, advertising some mules for sale, but the notice is left out this week as he doesn't have to feed the mules any longer. The moral of this little tale is self-evident.

To restore the clear skin, the bright eye, the alert gait and sound health, use Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine.

J. H. Wilder, of the firm of J. F. Pope & Co., Vincent, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Wilder has the distinction of having his subscription to THE CHRONICLE paid further in advance than any other on our book, his time being December, 1900.

None are so blind as those who will not see. We learn that a few of our friends who neglected to profit by our advice and take Simmons Liver Regulator are still suffering in consequence. We regret to learn that anyone in town could make such a mistake, and therefore again urge upon you the necessity of taking Simmons Liver Regulator if you wish to avoid biliousness, constipation, dyspepsia, headache, malaria and all liver diseases.

SPRING MILLINERY.

Announcement of Coming Season in Hats

I am now receiving my spring goods and by the middle of March will have a beautiful and complete line of millinery and novelties, and I cordially invite you to call and examine same before going away from home to make your purchases.

Miss Mary Milner, whose exquisite taste won for her such a reputation as a trimmer the past season, will be with us again this season, fresh from the market, where she is now, getting all the new ideas, etc., in trimming.

MRS. LAURA C. ARMSTRONG.

If you want two dollars worth of newspapers and one dollar's worth of the celebrated African Limbless Cotton Seed, send us $1.75 and you will receive by return mail the seed, and regularly thereafter the Semi-Weekly Atlanta Journal and THE CHRONICLE for one year.

Harpersville.

Miss Mattie Worsham, of Irondale, is visiting J. L. Walthal's family.

E. V. Caldwell spent several days of last week in Talladega County.

Henry Stone is moving back to the Fourmile country.

I don't care who sinks, so I swim, seems to be the object of the stock law.

Our farmers are busy hauling their fertilizer to plant 4-cent cotton with.

Misses Driskell Vincent and Rosa Lide, of Vincent, spent a few days of last week in the city visiting relatives.

A large majority of the white people in this beat don't want a stock law, and will use all honorable means to defeat it.

There is still some cotton to be picked in our community.

The legislature, through Mr. Sturdivant, gave Harpersville all it asked for—the school bills and a chance for the stock law; the latter we don't approve.

J. F. McGraw spent a day or two of last week at Bessemer.

J. R. Bird is out looking for Borum's burglar, who has not been caught yet.

An old lady, whose name we failed to get, living at Cresswell, was buried here one day last week.

The fair sex are complaining of something to eat. In fact, it is getting to be very gloomy on that line at our house, for it is just bread and milk, milk and bread day after day and meal after meal, and should they pass the stock law we wont get any milk; and then the good Lord only knows how we will make out.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION:

Something About the Greatest Weekly Newspaper in the Country.

REDUCED RATE FOR TWO PAPERS:

Take Your Home Paper and The Constitution and be Happy.

We call special attention to our clubbing arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing price of the two papers being only $1.50 per year; subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the claim of circulation made by The Constitution and put up a forfeit of $100 that it could be disproved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm, Mr. George P. Rowell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has just been brought to a close, the reports of no newspaper in the South could compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative sailed with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and of the 120 correspondents who went to Cuba, he was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. Its special representative also accompanied the fleet in the Caribbean sea, and its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with the promptness of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manila, the death of Lusign Bagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all given in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

The Weekly Constitution makes a special feature of its agricultural page, which is presided over by Colonel R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment farm, and a man who is recognized as an expert on all agricultural topics. He gives a full page every week on agricultural matters. A page is devoted to the women and a page to children, these two departments being presided over by Mrs. William King.

Among the regular staff members of The Constitution are Joel Chandler Harris, Frank L. Stanton and others well known throughout the country; while among its special contributors are such men as Wallace P. Reed, Bill Arp, Sarge Plunkett, Betsy Hamilton, Dr. Talmage and others of national reputation.

The Constitution has just completed the thirtieth year of its existence, Clark Howell being the editor and Col. W. A. Hemphill its business manager. Its name is a household word in every southern state, from Virginia to Texas. It has always been in especially close touch with the agricultural masses of the South, and in having reached a circulation which carries it into 150,000 homes it has won a unique distinction which ranks it among the greatest of American weekly newspapers.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscriptions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every southern home!

A GREAT MISSING WORD CONTEST

The Chronicle Offers a New Plan to Its Subscribers who Take The Constitution in Combination Offer.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE SEASON:

We take pleasure in announcing a missing word problem to our subscribers in connection with the Weekly Constitution of Atlanta, Ga. This is the sentence:

It is taken from a charming, living Southern author, and is offered to test the knowledge of our people of their own writers. The missing word is a plain, every-day English word, not a compound word, nor a proper name and is used in its ordinary acceptation. The prize to be given will be 50 per cent of all the subscriptions received from contestants by the Constitution, and will be paid by the Constitution. That paper has paid out missing word contests alone nearly $10,000 in cash prizes. To one party, M. L. Brittain, was given a check for $1,031.50 for one successful guess; others have received large sums ranging from $585 to $800 on similar propositions. This contest is to run until April 1, 1899, at which time the results will be promptly and properly announced.

Every subscriber who takes advantage of our clubbing offer with The Constitution may enter his own word to fill the blank in the sentence, and must be given to us at the time of the subscription so we can forward it together with his order for the Constitution. It is a plain, fair plan and we feel sure many will hunt up the word or take a shot at it. The subscription orders under this combination offer must be sent directly to this office and not to the Constitution. We will forward everything ourselves.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

CORDIALLY INDORSED.

RESTORES Natural Growth OF THE HAIR —WHEN— ALL OTHER Dressings FAIL

"I can cordially indorse Ayer's Hair Vigor, as one of the best preparations for the hair. When I began using Ayer's Hair Vigor, all the front part of my head—about half of it—was bald. The use of only two bottles restored a natural growth, which still continues as in my youth. I tried several other dressings, but they all failed. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the best."—Mrs. J. C. Valuable to Women.

Especially valuable to women is Browns' Iron Bitters. Backache vanishes, headache disappears, strength takes the place of weakness, and the glow of health readily comes to the pallid cheek when this wonderful remedy is taken. For sickly children or overworked men it has no equal. No home should be without this famous remedy. Brown Iron Bitters is sold by all dealers.

"Durability is Better Than Show."

The wealth of the multi-millionaires is not equal to good health. Riches without health are a curse, and yet the rich, the middle classes and the poor alike have, in Hood's Sarsaparilla, a valuable assistant in getting and maintaining perfect health. It never disappoints.

Scrofula—"Three years ago our son, now eleven, had a serious case of scrofula and erysipelas with dreadful sores, discharging and itching constantly. He could not walk. Several physicians did not help for sixteen months. Three months' treatment with Hood's Sarsaparilla made him perfectly well. We are glad to tell others of it." MRS. DAVID LAIRD, Ottawa, Kansas.

Nausea—"Vomiting spells, dizziness and prostration troubled me for years. Had neuralgia, grew weak and could not sleep. My age was against me, but Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me thoroughly. My weight increased from 125 to 143 pounds. I am the mother of nine children. Never felt so well and strong since I was married as I do now." MRS. M. A. WATERS, 1529 33d St., Washington, D. C.

Eczema—"We had to tie the hands of our two year old son on account of eczema on face and limbs. No medicine even helped until we used Hood's Sarsaparilla, which soon cured." MRS. A. VAN WYCK, 123 Montgomery Street, Paterson, N. J.

Public Records of Virtue.

Other countries have their archives of evil deeds, carefully preserved by the law courts, but only in France are noble deeds and acts of self-sacrifice publicly filed away. Carefully classed in alphabetic order for nearly two-thirds of a century, they now fill a vast hall to almost overflowing. Anybody may consult them. A certain kind of French literature would make one suppose that France is a sink of iniquity, but seeing that these annals of virtue exist, such as the writers of no other country have at their convenience, it appears, and for the honor of France, that the fashionable French writers wallow in the stables of Augeas by choice.

German societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals have had their attention directed to the cruelties practiced by men who drive flocks of from 600 or 800 geese through the villages, giving them hardly anything to eat and beating the them brutally—often whipping out an eye.

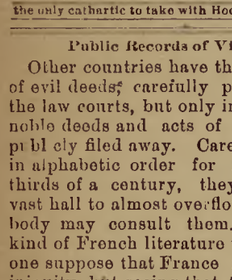
Lions Fear Umbrellas.

A German professor, in giving his experience as an explorer in the wilds of Africa, says that the best protection against lions is an umbrella, as the beasts are especially afraid of one when opened suddenly upon them.

MRS. LUCY GOODWIN

Suffered four years with female troubles. She now writes to Mrs. Pinkham of her complete recovery. Read her letter:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish you to publish what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Sanative Wash and Liver Pills have done for me.



I suffered for four years with womb trouble. My doctor said I had falling of the womb. I also suffered with nervous prostration, faint, all-gone feelings, palpitation of the heart, bearing-down sensation and painful menstruation. I could not stand but a few minutes at a time.

When I commenced taking your medicine I could not sit up half a day, but before I had used half a bottle I was up and helped about my work.

I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used one package of Sanative Wash, and am cured of all my troubles. I feel like a new woman. I can do all kinds of housework and feel stronger than I ever did in my life. I now weigh 131½ pounds. Before using your medicine I weighed only 108 pounds.

Surely it is the grandest medicine for weak woman that ever was, and my advice to all who are suffering from any female trouble is to try it at once and be well. Your medicine has proven a blessing to me, and I cannot praise it enough.—Mrs. LUCY GOODWIN, Holly, W. Va.

Biliousness

"I have used your valuable CASCARETS and find them perfect. Couldn't do without them. I have used them for some time for indigestion and biliousness and am now completely cured. Recommend them to every one. Once tried, you will never be without them in the family." EDW. A. MARX, Albany, N. Y.

MOTHERS AS MEN MAKERS.

One Self-Made Man Who Had Veracity and Courage to Tell Who Made Him.

Dr. Lorimer, of Tremont Temple, Boston, tells this story of one of our distinguished men who was introduced at a great public meeting as a "self-made man." Instead of appearing gratified at this tribute it seemed to throw him for a few moments into a "brown study." Afterward they asked him the reason for the way in which he received the announcement.

"Well," said the great man, "it set me to thinking that I was not really a self-made man."

"Why," they replied, "did you not begin to work in a store when you were ten or twelve?"

"Yes," said he, "but it was because my mother thought I ought early to have the educating touch of business."

"But then," they urged, "you were always such a great reader, devouring books when a boy."

"Yes," he replied, "but it was because my mother led me to do it, and at her knee she had me give an account of the book after I had read it. I don't know about being a self-made man. I think my mother had a great deal to do with it."

"But then," they urged again, "your integrity was your own."

"Well, I don't know about that. One day a barrel of apples had come for me to sell out by the peck, and after the manner of some storekeepers I put the speckled ones at the bottom and the best ones at the top. My mother called me and asked me what I was doing. I told her, and she said, 'Tom, if you do that you will be a cheat.' And I did not do it. I think my mother had something to do with my integrity. And, on the whole, I doubt whether I am a self-made man. I think my mother had something to do with making me anything I am of any character or usefulness."

"Happy," said Dr. Lorimer, "the boy who had such a mother. Happy the mother who had a boy so appreciative of his mother's influence."

Certain Test of Death.

Dr. Chalmers Prentice, who has been practising for many years in Chicago as an oculist, asserts that he can infallibly tell whether death is present or not by simply noting the appearance of the veins and arteries of the eye. His experiments in this line began many years ago, and he has never known his simple test to fail. In cases of suspended animation where others have pronounced death his test has proved that life still existed.

Dr. Prentice has observed that during life, when the back portion of the eye is being looked at with an ophthalmoscope, the veins can be clearly distinguished from the arteries. The former, containing venous blood, richly charged with carbonic acid gas, appear of a dark, brackish color, while the arteries, containing blood fresh from the heart, appear a bright crimson. The difference between the two shades of color is so clearly marked that mistake is impossible, and the retina appears as if made up of two separate colors.

The arteries and veins, however, are not situated in the retina, but directly behind it, in that coat of the eyeball known as the choroid. Even in the case of the blind this color distinction is present unless a cataract exists, when the use of an ophthalmoscope would be impossible.

Dr. Prentice has found that in death the shade distinction entirely disappears and the blood in both arteries and veins is transformed into a pinkish color of uniform shade.—New York Herald.

The Larynx.

The larynx has been compared to a wind, a reed, and a stringed instrument. The comparison of it to a violin gave rise to the not very accurate phrase "vocal cords," as the name of the two cushions which are its most prominent features. But no string so short as those "vocal cords" could produce a musical bass note. In fact, the comparison of the larynx to any instrument which produces only musical tones is inadequate, to begin with. There is no instrument but the larynx which produces both song and speech, and as those comparisons view the larynx merely as a producer of musical sounds, we have no other further concern with them at present. Besides, the voice can be trained for speech, elocution and oratory without a knowledge of the physiology of the larynx.

We have the power of adjusting the larynx; of varying the tension of its cords, cushions, or ligaments, as they have been variously called. We can do these things without scientific technical knowledge of how they are done, without any knowledge at all of vocal physiology; and it is the work of the trainer of the voice to teach his pupils—or her pupils we may be allowed to say—how to do them.—Chambers's Journal.

Told by Window Curtains.

Who says that the outside of a house does not tell the story of its interior? If only one looks at the shades on the windows he can say whether the feminine owner is a neatly particular woman, or a woman with slovenly ways; whether she be quietly self-possessed or nervously active. Telling character by window curtains is a new fad. If the shades of a house are invariably in the center of the glass panes and always hang in an even line, then it is safe to pronounce the housekeeper a quiet, orderly woman, whose nerves never get sharpened into edges. If, on the contrary, one curtain is up and one down, or one string missing and the other tied into tangled knots, or one stick broken and the other lying on the bias, then the reader of character promptly chronicles the woman resident as possessed of a nervous, irritable temperament, or as one too indifferent to care for the little things of life that combine to make great things.—Chicago Chronicle.

Refrigerators For Liquefying Air.

A Boston refrigerating company has fitted up a plant for liquefying air at the rate of 1500 gallons per day, and at a cost of twenty cents a gallon. The air will be placed at this factory in steel tubes or cylinders five inches thick for shipment. Each of these cylinders will be arranged to release the contents a very little at a time, and the material may thus be used for refrigerating or cooking purposes as desired.

AMONG GEORGIA FARMERS.

Interesting Particulars About Some Big Crops and How They Were Made.

Whenever one succeeds in producing or causing to be produced, such excessively large yields per acre as to spring at once into public notice and establish a national reputation as a progressive farmer and a public benefactor, by making two blades of grass, two bales of cotton, etc., etc., grow where but one grew before, immediately the entire fraternity of progressive agriculturists becomes intensely interested and wishes to know all the particulars bearing thereon.

It has been our good fortune, writes G. H. Turner, of Burgess, Miss., to inspect the lands of Messrs. G. W. Truitt and J. C. Sims, each of Troup county, Ga., both of which gentlemen have made themselves famous by raising the astonishing amount of four bales of cotton to the acre. Contrary to our preconceived ideas on the subject, we found the soils of this part of the county of Troup very poor; yet, it was on such soils that such remarkable results were achieved.

Many other good farmers reside in this section and many other fine farms are to be found, but in every single instance these farms have been made to be what they are by the quintessence of good farming, or, in other words, by maximum fertilization. Take Mr. Sims's crop, for instance. The land on which his famous crop grew was a small branch bottom of a boggy or peaty nature; had originally been very wet, but was then thoroughly drained. The first years of cultivation it was planted in cotton, receiving 300 pounds of commercial fertilizer per acre; second year, sown in oats, fertilized with forty bushels cotton seed per acre; third year, chip manure from woodpile and lot manure, together with rakings and scrapings of fence corners, were applied liberally to the entire five acres broadcast and worked in; then 400 to 500 pounds of a good ammoniated fertilizer (guaranteed to contain not less than four per cent. of potash) was applied per acre and the land planted in cotton; fourth year, fertilizer at the rate of 1100 to 1200 pounds per acre was applied, 400 pounds in drill, 400 pounds in siding furrows at first working, and the balance scattered broadcast at the last working, and the land again planted in cotton.

It was at this time that a well known fertilizer company of Atlanta, Ga., offered liberal prizes in cash for the best crops of cotton raised on five acres. Upwards of 200 farmers in the states of Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina contested, and the entire 200 averaged upwards of two bales of cotton per acre, while Messrs. Sims and Truitt, of Troup county, and R. G. Ray and M. C. Pyron, of Campbell county, averaged all around 2068 pounds of lint cotton on the five-acre patches, or ninety-two bales on twenty acres.

This year, the fifth year of cultivation of Mr. Sims' five-acre patch, that gentleman applied 2000 pounds of fertilizer per acre. The result was that the cotton grew until a man six feet tall standing on tip-toe could not reach the top of it. Added to this, it was a large bolled variety, well bolled from bottom to top, and all of it opened. The yield was 10,887 pounds of lint cotton on the five acres. The same year Mr. Ray's crop was 10,809 pounds, Mr. Pyron's 10,793 pounds and Mr. Truitt's 8,833 pounds—on five acres.

There are some points in connection with the raising of these prize crops that it would be well for all would-be-progressive farmers to carefully study: The greatest yield is obtained where the soil contains an excess of all the elements of plant food in available form over and above the requirements of the plant.

The second point is Mr. Sims's earnest advocacy of a larger percentage of potash in his fertilizers than is usually to be found. Mr. Sims stated to us that he never used any fertilizer not guaranteed to contain four per cent. of potash; that his soil needed it, and that his crops responded to its application in no uncertain manner. Mr. Sims cheerfully pays for the increased percentage of potash, well assured that—in his case at least—it is "bread cast upon the waters," and that it will assuredly return to him in future days with a liberal interest.

Youthful pupils in geography are taught in the public schools that the globe on which we live consists of a crust of earth and rock covering a core of molten lava. According to the tidal committee of the British association this is an error. They say that the earth is either solid or has an exceedingly thick crust. If the earth had only a shell of solid rock, say fifty miles in thickness, inclosing melted matter, it would yield under the tide almost as freely as a liquid. A globe of glass of the same size as the earth would yield like India rubber, and it is probable from a series of experiments that the earth as a whole is vastly more rigid than any rock upon her surface, a fact which, it is suggested, may be due to the excessive pressure in the interior. But the schoolboy will say, "Well, but volcanoes and geysers? If there is not fire down there, not many miles deep, how do they come?" The tidal committee has not included the answers in its report.

Answers to Correspondents.

This is how the Chicago News answers some of its correspondents:

Chilcoot—No, the gold leaf is an artificial product and is not found on trees in the Klondike region.

Housewife—The only sure way to prevent jelly from moulding on top is to allow a small boy access to the pantry.

Superstition—If you are unable to find a horseshoe, perhaps a bicycle tire hung over your door would prove just as decorative.

Weary Willie—Our book of etiquette is painfully mum on the subject, but we feel safe in saying that a hunting suit is the correct thing for a man to wear when looking for work.

Stop Coughing

Every cough makes your throat more raw and irritable. Every cough congests the lining membrane of your lungs. Cease tearing your throat and lungs in this way. Put the parts at rest and give them a chance to heal. You will need some help to do this, and you will find it in

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

From the first dose the quiet and rest begin: the tickling in the throat ceases; the spasm weakens; the cough disappears. Do not wait for pneumonia and consumption but cut short your cold without delay.

Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster should be over the lungs of every person troubled with a cough.

The Uses of Quinine.

For many years all the quinine of commerce came from the wild trees of Peru, but with the present great demand the refined product obtained from the wild trees of its native habitat would supply but a small proportion of the world's requirements. At the present time two-thirds of the quinine used is produced in Java, an island of the East Indian archipelago, corresponding closely to size in Cuba, and having with it many features of soil and climate in common.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

That Lost Leap Year Explained.

The Julian calendar fixes the length of the solar year as 365 1-4 days. In point of fact, it is eleven minutes and a few seconds less than this time. This annual error, trifling in the individual case, but serious as it accumulated, finally occasioned confusion of the calendar about the beginning of the sixteenth century. Various attempts were made to rectify it, and when the error amounted to about ten days Gregory XIII., in 1582, published a a bull, dated the 1st of March of that year, annulling ten days and ordering that the fifth of October of 1582 should be called the 15th.

In order that the error may not recur, it was further provided that three of the leap years which occur in a period of 400 years should not be regarded as leap years, but as common years. The three which were selected to be considered common years, were those which close the centuries and are not divisible by 400. Thus, while the year 1600 was a leap year, 1700 and 1800 were ordinary years. The year 1900 will be a common year, while the year 2000 will be a leap year. This method of adjusting the days to the year has been given the name of the Gregorian calendar, or new style.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

The Royal Society of Physicians, at Budapest, has had a debate lasting several hours to decide whether women doctors should or should not be admitted to membership of the society. Society Women and, in fact, nearly all women who undergo a nervous strain, are compelled to regretfully watch the growing pallor of their cheeks, the coming wrinkles and thinness that become more distressing every day.

Every woman knows that ill-health is a fatal enemy to beauty and that good health gives to the plainest face an enduring attractiveness. Pure blood and strong nerves—these are the secret of health and beauty.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People build up and purify the blood and strengthen the nerves. To the young girl they are invaluable, to the mother they are a necessity, to the woman approaching fifty they are the best remedy that science has devised for this crisis of her life.

Mrs. Jacob Weaver, of Bushnell, Ill., is fifty-six years old. She says: "I suffered for five or six years with the trouble that comes to women at this time of life. I was much weakened, was unable, much of the time, to do my own work, and suffered beyond my power to describe. I was downhearted and melancholy. Nothing seemed to do me any good. Then I made up my mind to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

I bought the first box in March, 1897, and was benefited from the start. A box and a half cured me completely, and I am now rugged and strong."

NEWS FROM ALL OVER ALABAMA

Stinging Resolution Introduced.

At the regular meeting of Camp Hardee in Birmingham, last Saturday afternoon, considerable interest was centered on a resolution offered by George C. Boyd, condemning the action of the legislature in regard to the bill for relief of indigent confederate veterans.

The resolution, which provoked a good deal of discussion, was as follows:

Whereas, The confederate veterans presented a bill to the last session of the legislature for the relief of indigent soldiers and sailors of the confederacy, and,

Whereas, At the instance of political influence, the said legislature passed a bill that failed to give the relief asked, and serves more as an expedient to advance the political preferment of its instigators;

Therefore, we as a camp, unhesitatingly pronounce said bill passed as a fraud and insult to the confederates of the state.

Judge Bush, who presided, called Thomas Y. Cain to the chair and spoke against the immediate adoption of the resolution. He said that the tone of the resolution was condemnatory of the legislature, which had several veterans among its members, and of the governor, who was also a veteran. That he had not read the bill himself and was not thoroughly informed as to its wording, and that he thought all the members of the camp should be intelligently informed as to the purport and phrasing of the bill before voting upon the resolution.

Judge Bush then moved that the resolution be referred to a committee of five to carefully read the bill passed by the legislature and then to prepare a resolution to be acted upon two weeks hence.

General Ferguson offered an amendment to the motion providing that the other four camps of Jefferson county be invited to meet with Camp Hardee at that time to act jointly upon the resolution.

The motion, with the amendment, was adopted by an almost unanimous majority.

Judge Bush resumed the chair and appointed as a committee G. C. Boyd, General Ferguson, T. S. Robertson, A. C. Oxford and T. Y. Cain.

Will Close on Sunday.

Th saloon men of Birmingham have reached the agreement to discontinue the Sunday selling business. For several months practically every saloon in Birmingham has been running on the Sabbath the same as on week days, the only difference being that customers on Sunday entered through trap or side doors. When arrests have been made convictions have not been secured because of the difficulty of proving by competent witnesses that money was seen to actually pass. This discouraged the police and of late no arrests have occurred. The better class of the saloon men say that they did not desire to sell on Sundays, but that they were forced to do so because the second-class establishments sold on that day and were thus getting their trade during the week. This made Sunday selling general. Now the saloon men have entered an agreement to close up on Sundays. The leaders among them have notified the authorities of their desire and have agreed to co-operate with the police in enforcing the Sunday law. If necessary they say an ordinance to more effectually cover the ground will be asked of the city council.

Wages Advanced.

At Birmingham the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company Saturday made formal announcement of the advance of 2½ cents per ton for coal mining, to take effect March 1. The books showed that iron is now selling for more than $7.60 per ton and under $8.10 per ton. When it passes the last named figures there will be another advance of 2½ cents per ton in coal mining. It was learned at the office of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company that a second advance in miners' wages will probably occur on April 1, and still another increase of 2½ cents for coal mining later. These beliefs are based on the continuous upward movement in the iron market. Every 50 cents rise now means an increase in wages for upwards of 10,000 men.

Shows a Decrease.

The record of carload receipts at Montgomery for the month of February has just been compiled by the Commercial and Industrial association. It shows a decrease of about 100 cars in comparison with receipts last year, the main falling off being in grain and hay; flour and meal (showing the country's gain in food products), in brick and lumber. The increase is in coal principally. The following is the statement in detail:

An Old Man Robbed.

One night last week two robbers entered the house of Mr. Gideon Lach, a very prosperous farmer living twelve miles above Dothan, tied him and a negro man together in the house and demanded that he and his wife hand over their money, and with a revolver in her face, the wife opened a trunk that contained the money and they got $3,800, and as they walked out they handed Mr. Loch $15, saying to him they would be liberal with him and not take all he had. After the robbers left Mr. Loch sent to Dothan for Deputy Sheriff Bryan and his bloodhounds, but when they got there it was so long and there was so much excitement, the dogs could not do anything with the track. It is thought, however, that some fellows living about six miles away are the guilty parties. Mr. Loch is quite an aged man and a cripple, and it is very hard on him.

To Have New Car Shed.

The plans have been drawn and specifications made for a $7,000 iron and slate car shed to be joined to the already handsome Union passenger station at the foot of Broad street, Selma. The shed will be 400 feet long by 78 wide, and in all probability the gate system will be inaugurated. It is confidently expected that as soon as the Southern gets the Mobile and Birmingham, lately acquired by a ninety-nine year lease, in proper shape, through trains will be run from Cincinnati to Mobile via Selma.

Business Men's League.

An interesting and enthusiastic meeting of the Business Men's League was held at Eufaula Saturday night. Mr. W. D. Jelks tendered his resignation as president and Mr. R. A. Ballowe was chosen in his stead. Mr. Harmon Lampley was then chosen vice president. Mayor P. B. McKenzie was elected secretary and Mr. W. T. Sheehan recording secretary and various committees were appointed. The league's sole object is to promote the commercial welfare of the city in every way possible.

Greenville Board of Revenue.

The board of revenue recently appointed by Governor Johnston propose to carry the new road law into effect as rapidly as possible. The recent session of the legislature passed a law authorizing the board to issue bonds to the amount of $100,000, and also to work the county convicts on the roads.

Sentenced to Life Imprisonment.

At Huntsville, Alabama, Albert Thompson, a negro, of the Tenth cavalry, was convicted in the circuit court the other day of criminal assault and sentenced to imprisonment for life. Sentence will be suspended for thirty days pending an appeal.

Thompson entered the bedroom of Mrs. Uty King, in Huntsville, while her husband was away, and assaulted her. The evidence was most conclusive and the negro would have been lynched but for the nearness of the court. The verdict of the jury was awaited with great interest, since it generally believed that the final disposition of the Thompson case would be a strong argument for or against lynch law. The jury hung all night, a majority of its members favoring the death penalty.

The Dispensary an Issue.

A conference of the leading advocates of the dispensary system who were appointed during the recent session of the legislature as a committee to guard the dispensary interests in connection with the framing of the new constitution was held in Birmingham the past week and a lengthy address to the people of the state issued. The address says that the committee hears that opponents of the dispensary will seek to elect delegates to the constitutional convention who will favor incorporating a clause in said constitution. It then recommends that voters vote for no delegates who do not publicly declare opposition to such a clause. Friends of the dispensary all over the state are urged to organize and work to this end and for the success of the dispensary. This movement injects the dispensary into the constitutional convention fight as a live issue. Senator F. S. Moody, of Tuskaloosa, is leading the movement and is chairman of the steering committee.

Republicans Will Oppose Convention.

The republican state executive committee met Saturday to begin preparations for the fight against the constitutional convention. The meeting was behind closed doors. There was a general expression against a new constitution and declarations were made that reports from all over the state show many men in other parties likewise oppose it and will co-operate in the fight against it. But final action was deferred by the committee until after the democratic county and state conventions have acted. Therefore the committee adjourned until April 1.

Daughters of the Confederacy.

The Alabama chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy elected the following officers at their meeting in Selma: President, Mrs. Wm. G. Gale, Montgomery; first vice-president, Mrs. B. H. Craig, Selma; second vice-president, Mrs. A. L. Dowdell, Opelika; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. H. Sawtill, Tuscumbia; secretary, Mrs. A. J. Beathea, Montgomery; treasurer, Mrs. P. H. Mill, Auburn; registrar, Mrs. Semmes Colston, Mobile; historian, Mrs. Alberta Taylor, Huntsville. Opelika was selected as the next place of meeting.

Favorable to Farmers.

The prospects now are that very little commercial fertilizer will be sold at Georgiana the ensuing season. It is presumed that the amount used will be less than last year, when, as compared to former years, the amount sold was unprecedented. However, there is much home fertilizers, composts, cottonseed, etc., in the country, which will go far toward averaging the crop yields, and then the cost will be more favorable to the farmer.

To Improve the Roads.

The legislature which has just adjourned authorized the issuance of about $6,000,000 in municipal and county bonds. More than half of this amount is to be expended for road improvements, and the prospects are that the next two years will witness a tremendous development in the way of the building of macadamized roads in Alabama. A dozen or more good towns have secured the right to sell bonds for sanitary and other improvements.

Legislative Acts to be Printed.

It developed that the acts of the assembly just adjourned amount, when printed, to two big volumes instead of one, as heretofore. They will be printed, the general laws in one book and the local laws in the other. The latter book will be five or six times as large as the former and will be perhaps the thickest book of acts ever published in the state.

Collection of Special Taxes.

The auditor has issued a circular from his office addressed to the assessors in regard to the special taxes levied by the last general assembly. The soldiers' tax of one-half mill and the school tax of one mill are both to be levied and collected this year. Both funds are to be kept separate from any other taxes collected.

Fire Losses at Blount Springs.

Following is the loss in detail from the fire at Blount Springs last week: Byars & Byars, saloon and store, $3,000, with $1,500 insurance: Blount Springs company, loss on building, $2,000; D. C. Rice, store and dwelling, $800, no insurance; W. F. Harrell, loss on stock, $3,000, covered by insurance; G. W. Green, damage to stock, $700, no insurance. The handsome Blount Springs hotel narrowly escaped destruction.

BRIEFLY MENTIONED.

At Carter Farney Duncan shot himself in the face while handling a gun.

The governor has appointed Colonel J. F. B. Jackson, supervisor of Jefferson county.

Dr. John B. Gregory, presiding elder of the Tuskaloosa District Methodist Episcopal church, South, died Friday morning of meningitis. He was born and raised at Foster's, Tuskaloosa county.

Governor Johnston has appointed Captain W. C. Ward to be a member of the Jefferson county board of revenue, in the place of Professor Waldrop, who declined to serve. Captain Ward has accepted, and the board of revenue is now complete.

It is reported that the dispensary in Dothon did a large business last month.

The Alabama & Florida railroad will soon be completed. The trustees are now receiving the finishing touches, and the bridge contractors will leave for Pineapple within a short time, where they will begin on the connection there.

The public roads in Butler county have been greatly improved during the past year.

Richard White, a well known colhome late Saturday night accompanied by a woman, was held up by two men, one white and the other colored, and shot to death and robbed.

A. Aicardi, one of the oldest inhabitants of Selma and known all over the state, died of pneumonia Saturday afternoon.

WHEELER CONGRATULATED

By the President and Will Soon Be Sent to the Philippines.

A Washnington special says: When General Wheeler walked into the house Friday morning he was warmly greeted. He now has the right to take part in the procedure of business but continued to be a silent member.

He was deeply touched by the action of the house at Thursday's session. When seen Friday morning he declined to say anything, for fear it would be construed into reflecting upon Mr. Bailey, who has been unceasing in his pursuit of the hero of Santiago.

"No one kows," he said, "how the effort, coming from our own side of the house, to unseat me, has hurt. It struck here," he said, laying his hand on his heart, "in order to accomplish this end, those who had it in charge have tried to reflect upon my integrity as a democrat, making it appear by inuendo that I had forsaken the principles of my party. That is what hurt. I was never a better democrat in my life, and never believed more firmly in the principles of my party. Had the house acted differently from what it did I would have felt as a knight might who had some stain placed on his escutcheon. But what pleases me more than aught else is the fact that so many of my own party, both young and old, voted against considering the question."

The president was greatly pleased over the action of the house and sent his congratulations to the little hero. General Wheeler will be given a division in the Philippines, and will be ordered there at an early date. It is understood General Wheeler himself prefers to go to Cuba, but the president desires to send him to the Philippines instead, where his statesmanship will be as valuable as his military experience.

TWO SPEAKERS CHOSEN.

Anti-Quay Men Cause Muddle In the Pennsylvania Legislature.

A Harrisburg, Pa., dispatch says During a wrangle Friday in the house of representatives as to the adjournment hour, speaker Farr declared the house adjourned and followed by the clerks and many of the members, left the chamber. Those who remained in the house by a viva voce vote elected Bliss, of Delaware county, one of the anti-Quay republican leaders, speaker, and he called the house to order, Representative Fow, democrat, of Philadelphia, called the roll and two other members acted as clerks. The roll call showed the presence of two less than a quorum, although many members sat at their desks and

Mr. Bliss made a statement after the roll call that in his judgement the house was legally in session, but the speaker had left the house and taken with him the officers and the house could do no business.

Mr. Stewart, of Philadelphia, an anti-Quay republican, said the speaker adjourned the house because he feared the house would right a wrong it had done in allowing him to appoint a committee to investigate charges of bribery.

After adoption of a motion indorsing Mr. Bliss to appoint a committee of five to take action on the arbitrary ruling of the speaker, the "rump" house took a recess until the hour fixed for the joint session to ballot on senatorship.

ADOPTING OLD SCHEDULE.

Cotton Manufacturers Will Pay Scale In Operation During 1897.

Advices received Friday from several mill centers in New England make it apparent that the action of the Fall River cotton factories taken the past week to restore the schedule of wages paid in the cotton mills in 1897 has become general.

Following the action of the Fall River mills, the mills in New Bedford and Rhode Island towns and other manufacturing centers of southern New England, the seven corporations of Lowell, the Amoskeag, Stark and Amory mills of Manchester and mills at other places have decided to advance wages on April 3d.

While, up to Friday, Maine manufacturers had not made any announcement, it is understood that some of them have the wage question under consideration.

Thus far cotton mills employing about 9,000 hands have decided to restore the schedule of 1897.

SURE OF TERMINALS.

Minds of Many Savannah Citizens Are Greatly Relieved.

Some concern has been felt in Savannah since the Georgia and Alabama road purchased the Seaboard and the Florida Central and Peninsular, lest the projected great terminals of the Georgia and Alabama be abandoned and the Seaboard's terminals at Portsmouth be used for the new system.

Anxiety on this score, however, has been allayed by the letting to W. W. Hegeman, of Pittsburg, of a $300,000 contract for dredging and piling for the terminals across the river from Savannah.

BREAK IN DEADLOCK.

A Change Occurs In the Pennsylvania Senatorial Fight.

A special from Harrisburg, Pa., says: The long-predicted break from Senator Quay came on Friday's joint ballot. Three members, Messrs. Hersh, Macky and Yates, republicans, deserted his ranks and voted for other republican candidates.

The thirty-ninth ballot for United States senator resulted:

Quay, 64; Jenks, 55; Dalzell, 13; Stewart, 7; Huff, 8; Stone, 4; Tubbs, 2; Riter, 2; Widener, 2; Rice, 2; Markle, 8; Grow, 1; Irvin, 2.

DRAMATIC SCENES ARE ENACTED IN CLOSING HOURS OF CONGRESS

General Wheeler Was Ignored By Speaker Reed While Mr. Bailey Introduced the House Resolution of Thanks To the Speaker.

AFTER AN ALL NIGHT VIGIL, MUCH WORK WAS DONE.

Senate Gives Way To Contentions of the House--Valedictory of Speaker Reed and a Brief Speech By Vice President Hobart.

The fifty-fifth congress came to an end Saturday at noon.

Wearily the house sat through the whole of Friday night, recessing from time to time while awaiting conference reports upon the appropriation bills. The leaders upon whom the strain and burden of the closing hours fell most heavily and the speaker, who had the greatest responsibility of all, remained constantly in their places watching vigilantly the progress of the contests between the two houses.

The final agreement on the river and harbor bill containing the compromise on the Nicaragua canal was secured about 3:30 a. m. The sundry civil bill, in which the house forced the senate to surrender the provisions of the Pacific cable about 6, the District of Columbia, with the provisions for sectarian institutions eliminated about 7 o'clock; the deficiency at 8:30 and the final conference report upon the naval bill about 9:30 a. m.

With the advent of the day the house began to take on the appearance of life. Members went below for their baths and breakfast and returned refreshed to their stations.

As early as 7:30 the people began to pour into the galleries, the first party to arrive being a dozen ladies, who took their places in the public galleries. The important business of the house had been virtually completed when the house recessed for an hour at 9:30. All that remained was the enrollment of bills and the final ceremonies.

The last legislative act of the house was the passage of a joint resolution authorizing the acceptance by the United States of the cession of a tract of land from the state of Massuchusetts. It was now 11:45 by the clock, but at this moment the assistant doorkeeper of the house, armed with a long pole, set back the hands of the [illegible]

But immediately afterwards came a most dramatic episode. Gen. Wheeler, of Alabama, who has carefully refrained from exercising his privileges as a member of the house pending the determination of the house as to his right to a seat in the house, arose from his old seat down near the front of the democratic side and loudly asked for recognition.

"Mr. Speaker! Mr. Speaker!" he called.

The speaker's face was flushed slightly, but he looked straight ahead as if he did not hear.

"I ask unanimous consent to speak for five minutes," shouted the general.

But the speaker disregarded him. Every eye was now rivited upon the diminutive figure of the grizzled old veteran of two wars.

The situation was intensely dramatic, but Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority, hurried to the rescue. He moved a recess for ten minutes.

"Pending that, I ask unanimous consent to speak for three minutes," demanded General Wheeler.

The speaker then turned toward him for the first time, and looking straight into the gray eyes of the general, ignored his request completely, putting the motion of Mr. Payne and declaring it carried.

As the hands of the clock pointed to seven minutes to 12, although it was really then three minutes past the hour, the committee appointed to wait upon the president marched down the aisle. The speaker had retired to his room and Mr. Payne, the speaker pro tem, was in the chair. Mr. Dalzell, in the center, announced that the committee had fulfilled its duty and that the president had made reply that he had no further communication to make.

"The president requested us to state," he continued, "that the fifty-fifth congress has performed its extraordinary duties manfully and he requested me to extend to each and every member his best wishes for his safe return to his home."

Great applause greeted this announcement. But five minutes remained. In it was enacted one of the most dramatic scenes ever witnessed in the hall of representatives.

Mr. Payne summoned Mr. Dockery, democrat, of Missouri, to the chair and he, in turn recognized Mr. Bailey the minority leader of the congress, to present the resolution thanking the speaker for the impartial manner in which he had presided over the deliberations of the house.

The chair called for a rising vote on the resolution of thanks. Every member was on his feet and the resolution was unanimously agreed to, amid prolonged applause.

Mr. Dockery, when the applause had subsided, appointed Messrs. Bailey, Bell, of Colorado, and Payne a committee to escort the speaker to the chair.

A moment later, as the speaker emerged from the lobby, escorted by the committee, the cheers that greeted his appearance made the rafters ring.

As the speaker faced the house the stillness of death settled down upon it. The speaker fairly towered over his surroundings. Slowly and with great deliberation he returned his thanks for the compliment the house had conferred upon him. He said:

Reed's Valedictory.

"In laying down for the third time the insignia of an office which has but one superior and no peer, I might, perhaps, fairly congratulate myself upon having had a great opportunity to administer a great office in the fashion indicated by the noble words known to our law, 'without fear, favor or hope of reward.' Where I have succeeded I am sure to have your final approval; where I have failed, I am sure you have given me credit for honorable intention.

"Notwithstanding any differences of opinion or of party you have given me your confidence in all which pertained to my duties here in a manner so full and ample that my memory of it will never pass away. When I compare the opportunity you have given me with what it has been possible to do, I see how much I need your kind indorsements of today, for which I return you thanks and gratitute. With pleasant memories for our past, which I shall always cherish, and for best wishes for your future, which I shall always entertain. I now declare this house adjourned without day."

Half a dozen times during the progress of his remarks the speaker was obliged to pause owing to the spontaneous applause which arose from all [illegible] the announcement that the house should adjourn sine die the applause and cheers were deafening. The galleries joined in the outburst. Patriotic songs were sung and cheers given for the army, navy, Dewey and Wheeler.

CLOSING SCENES IN SENATE.

Vice President Hobart declared the senate of the fifty-fifth congress adjourned without a day, eight minutes after 12 o'clock Saturday, after a continuous session beginning at 11 o'clock on Friday, with the exception of one hour's recess during the forenoon.

The day of the final adjournment broke with the senate in executive session, disposing of a large number of nominations. When the doors were opened there were seen a handful of tired and haggard looking senators—senators who were waiting for the final reports from the conferees on the two bills yet in dispute. Finally Mr. Hale appeared with both. The deficiency bill was quickly passed and then came the final and closing fight on the naval bill and the price of armor, and for an armor plate factory. This was finally over, and the weary senators took a short recess.

After some further discussion, the conference report was agreed to without division.

At 11:45 the senate began its last legislative session of the present congress.

Mr. Cockrell presented the usual resolution of thanks to the vice president and Mr. Vest that to Senator Frye, president pro tem, for the very able, courteous and impartial manner in which they had presided over the deliberations of the senate. Both resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Vice President Hobart then briefly addressed the senate, in which he spoke of the immense amount of work done by congress, and thanked the members of the senate for the kindness received at their hands. In conclusion he said:

"For the senators who remain and for the senators who retire from this body, I desire to convey my thanks for the kindly sentiments expressed in the resolution just adopted, and it only remains for me now, in the exercise of the duty devolving on me, to declare that the senate stands adjourned without day."

There was no demonstration whatever in the senate. There was general handshaking among the senators and many expressions of regret were heard that many senators whose terms expired were not to be present when the senate met again.

Will Try Montejo and Linares.

Admiral Montejo, who was in command of the Spanish squadron destroyed by Admiral Dewey in the battle of Manila bay and the commander of Cavite arsenal has been incarcerated in the military prison at Madrid pending trial for his conduct at Manila. The government also ordered the prosecution of General Linares, who was in the supreme command of the Spanish forces at Santiago at the time of the capitulation to General Shafter.

A Mayor Killed.

A. W. Converse, mayor of Zachary, La., was killed last week by J. Thompson, a contractor and builder, of that town. The shooting caused the greatest excitement.

Sympathy Shown to England.

To show the depth of the sympathy felt by the United States Government with the British Government and the family in the loss of the late Lord Herschell, our Government has proffered the use of a United States warship to convey the remains of Lord Herschell to England. The particular vessel has not yet been selected, but it will be one of the ships now at Havana attached to the North Atlantic squadron, if the British embassy cares to accept the offer.

Supply Schooner Burned.

The United States Gunboat Concord has arrived at Manila, Philippine Islands after a week's cruise along the west coast of the island of Luzon. The only incident of her trip was the burning of a schooner loaded with supplies for the rebels at Dagupan, the terminus of the railroad. The natives fled and abandoned the town when the gunboat anchored in the bay.

Whiskey Combine.

The Kentucky Distilleries and Whiskey company, the latest combine in the whiskey world, has purchased the plant of the Mellwood distillery in Louisville, Ky. The price is secret, but it is in the neighborhood of a million dollars.

Congressman Cranford Dead.

Representative John W. Cranford, of the Fourth congressional district of Texas, died in Washington at the Providence hospital of heart disease and other complications. Representative Cranford was about 30 years of age, and was serving his first term in congress. He was a lawyer by profession, and had been twice elected to the state senate, and was chosen president pro tempore of the twenty-second senate.

Terrific Rain Storm.

A report from Chattanooga says: The most terrific rain and wind storm ever known in this section prevailed Saturday night at 6:30 o'clock. The velocity of the wind for a time was sixty-seven miles an hour, and for sometime thereafter was fifty miles an hour. Telephone and telegraph wires were seriously disturbed and electric light wires on several circuits were blown down. Several small houses in the outskirts of the city were unroofed. Signs on the main streets and window glasses were smashed.

A Census Director Is Named.

William R. Merriam, of Minnesota, has been nominated by the president to be director of the census. The senate confirmed the nomination.

The Storm in Mississippi.

A severe, wind, hail and rainstorm swept over east Mississippi Saturday afternoon, leaving destruction in its wake. In the country southwest of Meridian the wind reached the proportions of a tornado, and left a trail of destruction in its path. Several farm houses were wrecked, fences blown away and trees uprooted, but no loss of life is reported. The telephone and telegraph wires out of Meridian are completely demoralized.

New Road Incorporated.

Articles of incorporation of the Springfield, Harrison & Southern railway have been filed with the secretary of state at Little Rock, Ark. The company proposes to construct a railroad from Springfield, Mo., to Harrison, Ark., a distance of sixty miles. The capital stock is $2,000,000 and is held by St. Louis capitalists.

Will Visit Fitzgerald.

A telegram was received at Fitzgerald, Ga., Saturday from President McKinley stating that he would visit Fitzgerald on his next trip south. The president said that he would take pleasure in meeting his old G. A. R. comrades from the north who have settled there.

Omaha to Mobile.

Articles of incorporation have been filed at St. Louis by the Kansas, Missouri & Northern Railway Company, capital $400,000. The company will begin work at once, according to President Doubleday, on a line of railroad to run from St. Joseph, Mo., to Omaha, Neb., ten miles. It is intended to extend the line to Mobile, Ala., at some future date, when the capital will be increased.

AGAINST SMALLPOX.

The Richmond, Va., Board of Health Establishes Quarantine.

The Richmond, Va., board of health has directed a conditional quarantine against Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Hampton and Suffolk.

An order was issued forbidding railroads and steamboat companies to bring to the city from the points named persons who cannot show that they have been vaccinated and are unwilling to undergo this operation.

KIPLING IS RECOVERING.

Well Known Author Is Now Convalescent.

According to the reports of his physicians, Rudyard Kipling is now far advanced on the way to recovery. All through the hours of Saturday night and early Sunday morning the favorable conditions increased. He slept peacefully many hours, and when he awoke it was clear that he had made another powerful stride toward health.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

We have inaugurated the plan of printed address on all papers mailed in packages. Subscribers can by this means tell when their subscription expires. For example, jly9 opposite your name means that your subscription expires on the first of July, 189, the figure representing the year and the month showing the date of expiration, all subscriptions expiring on the first of the month nearest the time of beginning. Please examine these figures and if your time is out renew at once. Terms of subscription are cash in advance, and we shall, after a reasonable time, discontinue those whose time has expired.

THE Advocate has almost gone into a fit over the proposition to unite the two parties in the selection of a candidate for delegate, and one would suppose that the whole thing was impossible. Fortunately, however, the Advocate is not the Populist party of Shelby County, though evidently the man who writes its editorials thinks he is.

AGAIN we have to thank the Advocate for publishing one of our articles in full instead of garbling it by an unfair quotation. We are quite willing to have our articles read by everybody as they are written. If the readers of the Advocate peruse the article copied by it they will learn something that the Advocate could never have told them.

HAD the election last year been left to the white voters there would have been no stock law forced on the people of this county without all the people having a voice in it. Sturdivant was nominated by a negro convention and elected by negro votes. Take these votes out of politics and the white people will elect men who will follow the wishes of the people in the passage of laws.

FOR about the fourth time the Advocate announces that "we are in the saddle, and we propose to drive." You ought to keep on driving; you do so well. Some of your products are such good drivers that they have driven the poor man's cows into a hired pasture without giving him even the right to object. You ought to be proud of such a feat of driving as this, and we suppose you are.

...Warrant the leaflines about to tend to disfranchise white voters. What it does know, and what makes its editor so uneasy, is that with the negro eliminated from politics in this county the crowd it has been supporting will never get office again. The vote in the last election shows that, and the Advocate is afraid to leave the politics of the county to the white voters.

SOME people are allowing themselves to be mightily fooled in connection with the possible removal of the court house. One rumor has it that the two railroads are going to foot the expense of removal, while the other is that the bill requires Calera to pay for it. There is no reason nor truth in either proposition. If the court house is moved the people will foot the bill, and it will mean a special tax of 50 cents on the $100 for a good many years. This added to the present rate will make $1.85 on the $100. If the people want to pay that much tax for the next two years let them vote to move the county seat and they will be accommodated.

WHY don't the Advocate howl now about the stock law like it did last summer when it was charging the Democrats with favoring it? It was then very much interested in the rights of the poor tenant, while the Democrats had not even thought of passing a stock law; now that its great leaders have forced the law upon the people it lies supinely indifferent to the woes of the poor man. Really, it occurs to us that when the Advocate announces that it is going to stay in the saddle and drive it makes a mistake. It is harnessed up like a goat and is being driven—by the great leaders of its party. When they pop the whip it trots; when they say, "whoa!" it stops and stands and shakes in silence.

FOR thirty years the appropriations for public schools in Alabama have been equally divided among the colored and white children, according to their numbers, without regard to the proportion paid by either race, except in the matter of poll taxes. All this time the white citizens have borne by odds the larger part of the tax burdens, while the colored children have reaped the advantage. At the same time the negro voter, unappreciative of the kindness of his white neighbors, has cast the whole weight of his franchise against the interests of a majority of his true friends. It is now time to take this illused power away from those of them who are unfitted for a proper conception of its responsibility; and it is also time to let them take care of the education of their own children. The constitutional convention will do both.

A DESIRABLE PLAN.

In an interview in the Age-Herald Hon. Syd Bowie has the following to say:

It is very much to be hoped that Judge Gaston's proposition will be accepted. In brief, it provides that if the Democracy will permit the Populist organization to select five delegates from the State at large, to be voted for by the Democrats, the Populists will endorse the twenty-eight Democrats from the State at large and will endorse the call for the convention, and both parties will unitedly support the same ticket. The merit of this proposition is that it affects a practical consolidation of both political parties in this campaign and secures an almost solid vote in favor of the call for the convention. This would remove every possible doubt by the fact that the call for the convention was fairly carried, and would restore an era of good feeling and fellowship among the white people of Alabama, which has not existed since Governor Seay's day. The proposition is just and liberal. It may be and is undoubtedly true that the Democracy will be able to elect all the delegates from the State at large to the convention, and it is equally true that in all human probability the call for the convention will be sustained.

If this proposition of Judge Gaston's is made to the State convention in an official way, in any tangible shape that may be depended upon as to its fulfillment, we are heartily in favor of its being accepted; in fact we are willing that this Senatorial district be given over to the Populists for the purposes of the plan.

As is said by Mr. Bowie, there is no doubt that the delegates from the State at large can be elected by the Democrats, but it will be wise, politic and right to make such concessions to our Populist friends. The great majority of them are Democrats at heart; the great body of them are honest and conscientious, but misled; above all, they are white men and their interests are the common interests of all. There are a few among them who are politicians, and who for the sake of office have fallen into affiliation with the negro voters, but these do not represent the masses except as they have led them into error.

The constitutional convention is to mark the beginning of a new era in political integrity and union of interests. We can well afford to prepare the way by inviting cooperation in laying the foundation for a new regime. We can do the same good office by inviting a joint primary in this county. We repeat our willingness to give this district over for the perfecting of Judge Gaston's plan if there is official assurance of fair dealing on the part of the opposition.

THE COLUMBIANA CHRONICLE intimates that the removal of the court house will cost the county anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000. Is our neighbor dreaming of the days he spent in Washington, or does he not know that the war is over and that Confederate money wont pass? Some of his friends ought to take him around and introduce him to Bro. J. E. Dykes, the county commissioner.—The Shelby Sentinel.

We are already acquainted with Mr. Dykes, and on this proposition we find him very much alive to the cost of removing the county site. Our venerable friend knows a good deal more great many people imagine, and the Sentinel might be profitably informed thereon if it would interview Mr. Dykes for a few minutes. No; we are not dreaming. We are face to face with cold facts, and at the proper time will present some estimates that will stagger our erudite friend of the Sentinel. At present we content ourself with the bare proposition that if the court house is moved long before the bill is paid in full the county treasurer will have counted out more than $50,000.

WE publish two communications suggesting Hon. T. J. Martin as a candidate for delegate to the constitutional convention. We know of no man in the county whom we would be more pleased to support than Mr. Martin, should he receive the nomination for that position. He is a good citizen, a good Democrat, an honest man. THE CHRONICLE is committed to the nomination of a candidate by a primary election of the white voters of the county. If that plan is adopted Mr. Martin would make a strong race therein. If our plan fails we would be delighted to support him as the nominee of the convention. The first thing to decide is the most feasible plan of nomination, and after that the man. The former judiciously settled, Mr. Martin, if selected, would be entirely worthy the support of all men who desire a strong and faithful representative.

THE stock law will be a live issue in Shelby County politics next year. The Advocate is in favor of allowing the voters in each beat to settle the question for themselves, and is opposed to settling it in any other way.—The Advocate.

It was a live issue in politics last year. The Populist ticket was elected by charging that the Demscrats were in favor of stock law. Believing Mr. Sturdivant to be opposed to it enough people voted for him to elect him, and he repaid them with the very thing he was elected to prevent. It is between two fires. Its leaders on one side and the people on the other make an interesting position, but as usual the people are left to fight their own battles, and the leaders keep the Advocate very quiet.

THE disposition of the Populists to work with the Democrats in the matter of selecting delegates to the constitutional convention augers good for the white people of the State. Many hope that it will prove the first step to a union of all the intelligent people of Alabama.—Birmingham News.

It is a good sign that the Populists are offering in some places to join with the Democrats. In all such instances their cooperation ought to be accepted.

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Elsewhere will be found a call for beat meetings and county convention to send delegates to the State convention. At the meeting of the executive committee Monday the proposition for a joint primary was submitted but it was decided to leave the matter to the convention. So that when the convention meets it will decide whether it will authorize the submission of the proposition to the Populist committee or whether it will at once nominate a candidate for county delegate.

It is to be hoped that the delegates will come prepared to act upon the question, because it is an important one. In many counties joint action is being taken by the two parties for the purpose of insuring the election of a good man who will represent the white people and who will be a competent and safe representative. With the proper spirit of fairness and good will on both sides such a union of interests will accomplish much good, and it is very desirable. Let the beat meetings send up good and true men to the convention, and let those be prepared to pass upon this matter.

OUR opinion is that whenever a constitutional convention in Alabama disfranchises the negro that it will at the same time disfranchise the poor white man, and we are opposed to both.—The Advocate.

Exactly; with all your howling about disfranchising white voters, the real trouble is that you are afraid to have the ignorant negro set aside. We are glad to see you admit it; we know now where to place you.

OUR friend of the Sentinel first got touchy on the subject of Calera Democracy. Now it gets on its ear about Calera's water supply. The brother ought to know by this time that Democracy and water are two very incongruous things. Though, seriously speaking, if Calera is as short on Democracy as she is on water in the summertime we insist on having the time of election changed. However, as long as she keeps her present supply of good red liquor, the shortness of water need not worry her. The removal of the court house will never hinge on the question of water; so the good brother need not worry about his supply of the crystal liquid. Taxes, friend Graham, is what we are studying about up here.

THE Advertiser very tersely says:

The people realize the importance of the great question and the character of men nominated for delegates to the convention will have much to do with the success of the convention call. If men, a majority of whom can be dominated by one man, as was the case with the last legislature, are put forward, it is very doubtful whether the people will risk in their hands the making of a new constitution.

We do not know whether one man controlled the recent legislature, or whether it was controlled by anybody or anything, even its own better judgment, but we have the utmost faith of men in the constitutional convention. When we see such men as Tillman, of Jefferson; Knox, of Calhoun; Lomax, of Montgomery, and others announced we feel very sensibly the comparison. The duty of every county is to elect its ablest and best men and to let no party prejudices stand in the way of doing so. A primary election by the white voters is the best way to insure that end.

AFRICAN LIMBLESS

GOTTON SEED FREE

Anyone who sends a year's subscription to the Atlanta Semi-Weekly Journal can get postpaid one pound of the celebrated African Limbless Cotton Seed without charge.

One pound of these seed will plant one-fifth of an acre, and with proper attention should yield enough to plant a crop.

The seed were tested in a list of thirty varieties by the Georgia Experiment Station, and a bulletin recently issued by Director Redding shows that the African Limbless Cotton produced 70 pounds more per acre than any other variety, and 161 pounds more per acre than the average of thirty leading varieties. The African Limbless Cotton produced 780 pounds of lint per acre, which is nearly four times the average on the farms of the South. This shows what high fertilization and thorough culture will do with these seed. The value of the product, counting cotton at 5 cents and seed at 13 cents a bushel, was over $45 per acre. The cost of fertilizers used was $4 77 per acre.

The Journal does not guarantee results, but the result of the test at the Experiment Station make it worth a farmer's while to try these seed when they cost him nothing.

The Journal brings you the news of the world twice a week, with hundreds of articles of special interest about the farm household, juvenile topics, and every Southern farmer should have the paper. You don't have to wait a week for the news, but get it twice as often as you do in the weeklies, which charge the same price.

THE CHRONICLE and the Journal, three papers per week, sent regularly to your address, and 1 pound of the Limbless Cotton Seed for only $1.75

JOHNSTON & CO.

The Alabama Fertilizer

Is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State to be the best all around fertilizer for cotton and corn.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Everyone of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER. The only objection ever raised to the ALABAMA FERTILIZER was that it costs too much.

The present price is no more than that of standard fertilizers. When requested, the ALABAMA FERTILIZER will put up, without extra cost, in bags treated by the Mummia Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process, thereby insuring the perfect preservation of the bags for an indefinite time, and saving the contents from loss by waste in handling. These preserved bags when emptied and thoroughly washed will be found as good and strong as new, and equally useful for other purposes. Every person, farmer, merchant or dealer vitally interested in the economical production of good crops should advocate the use of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES.

Good Work of the Commercial Association.

When our commercial association was organized one of its chief aims was to secure a reduction of freight rates to our town. The executive committee, of which Dr. Lovett is chairman, was instructed to go to work on that line. As a result of their labors the following letter was received from the superintendent of the Alabama Mineral division of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad was received recently:

ANNISTON, ALA., Feb. 17.

Mr. W. A. LOVETT,
Columbiana, Ala.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of February 4 noted, also previous communication, which was referred to me by Mr. De Funiak. In this connection I beg to say, for the information of the honorable committee which you represent, that the discrepancy in rates which you refer to is a matter which was up some time ago, but owing to the necessity of having the question considered through the machinery of the S. E. M. V. Association some delay has ensued. The revised line of rates, however, was decided on at the eleventh meeting of the Association, held December 13-16, and the following was adopted:

"Your subcommittee recommends that rates from the Ohio and Mississippi river crossings, etc., be established as follows:

"From Louisville, Ky., lowest combination, but not higher than L. & N. local rates and not higher than Montgomery differentials under Cincinnati on classes and commodities.

"From Cincinnati, lowest combination, but not higher than L. & N. local rates, and not higher than Montgomery differentials over Louisville.

"From Memphis, Tenn., 4 cents per cwt. less than Louisville.

"From Nashville, Tenn., Montgomery differentials under Louisville, but not lower than 62.2 per cent of the Louisville rates.

"From New Orleans, La., same rate as from Memphis, Tenn."

This basis will bring the rates to Columbiana in proper alignment with those effective to Calera, Shelby, etc. They will be issued in a short time, and I hope will be satisfactory. I also hope that the merchants of your Club will route their business via our line, for the reason that if we do not receive liberal patronage, the Columbiana business will be no longer attractive to us, and to handle a smaller portion of the business would be an expense rather than a source of revenue, and would sooner or later force us to abandon train service to that point. The question of abandoning the Columbiana branch has already been agitated twice within the past two years, on account of the small amount of business we receive.

Yours, truly,
W. E. KNOX, Supt.

In connection with the latter portion of this letter, we are informed that the merchants of this place are already giving this road as much of their freight as pays them to do so, and of course if the reductions in rates pan out to their advantage they will not be slow to take hold of them. The L. & N. management seems to be always ready to meet a town half way, and they deserve the good will of the people who have business to give to a road. In this case they will not be slow to show their appreciation.

I will not sell goods to parties who do not settle promptly at the close of each month.

J. H. HAMMOND.

FOR COUNTY DELEGATE.

Contrary to our usual custom we give space to the following communications:

HARPERSVILLE, March 7.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:

As the time for selecting a delegate to represent Shelby in the constitutional convention is drawing near we wish to suggest the name of Thomas J. Martin as a man who, if elected, would fill this high office with great credit to himself and county. Mr. Martin is known, not only in Shelby, but throughout the State, as a clean, conscientious and capable man, worthy of any office. He has never been approached on this subject, but we are confident that he would respond to a call from his friends, who are numerous in every beat in the county. What say other beats?

VOTERS OF BEAT 10.

VINCENT, March 7.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:

The time for selecting a delegate to represent us in the constitutional convention is fast approaching, and we in this neck of the woods would be glad to have T. J. Martin. Let us hear from you, Brother Martin.

CITIZEN.

Tomorrow night is the regular meeting night of the Commercial Association. All the members should attend. This organization has already accomplished some good, and it may be the means of doing some more.

To restore the clear skin, the bright eye, the alert gait and sound health, use Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine.

George Averyt, of Shelby, was in the city last wkek. From him we learn that the firm of Averyt & Averyt will open a store at Ensley, in Jefferson County, at an early day. It will be conducted by Mr. George, his brother remaining in charge of the business at Shelby.

Miss Mary Milner, whose exquisite taste won for her such a reputation as a trimmer the past season, will be with us again this season, fresh from the market, where she is now, getting all the new ideas, etc., in trimming.

MRS. LAURA C. ARMSTRONG.

A Letter to Superintendent Williams.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., March 1.

SIR: The session of the General Assembly of Alabama which has just adjourned, passed an act providing for uniform examinations, and creating a State Board of Examiners.

For your information and for the information of teachers, I wish to state the most important provisions of the act.

1. The act creates a State Board of Examiners, whose duty it is to prepare the questions, furnish them to the County Superintendents, examine and grade the papers, and issue the certificates to the teachers.

2. Examinations are held only on the first Monday of the last month in each scholastic quarter by the County Superintendent, who shall break the seal containing the questions in the presence of the teachers. When the examination is completed the County Superintendent will immediately forward the papers to the Secretary of the Board of Examiners.

3. Each applicant for examination shall, before starting on the examination, deposit with the examiner fees as follows: For third grade, $1; second grade, $1.50; first grade, $2.

4. Under this law there are four grades of certificates—first, second, third and life. A third grade certificate is valid for two years, a second grade certificate for four years, and a third grade certificate for six years. Third and second grade certificates will be issued to the same teacher but twice. A life certificate may be issued to teachers who have taught ten years under a first grade certificate.

5. The branches upon which an examination must be held for the different grades are practically the same as under the old law, with the exception that Alabama history is added to the requirements for second grade, and Alabama history and school law are added to the requirements for first grade certificates.

6. Under this law all teachers will have to take the examination. No one is exempted except those who can obtain a life certificate. Every teacher drawing public funds, whether assistant or principal, must procure a certificate. A certificate under this law entitles the holder to teach in any county in the State.

7. The first examination under this law will be held in June. In the meantime teachers will work under their present certificates. County Superintendents will hold no examinations before that date. Under this law teachers who hold certificates under the old law, as well as those who have no certificates, will have to procure certificates.

JOHN W. ABERCROMBIE,
Superintendent of Education.

A great many people have taken advantage of our clubbing offer with the Atlanta Constitution, and if you wish to receive the benefit of the low price for the two papers your subscription should be sent in immediately, as the offer will not last always.

Harpersville.

The heaviest rain of the season fell here Saturday night, accompanied by a severe hail.

Mrs. Spinks, who has been spending the past five months at East Lake with her father, returned home Saturday, very much to the delight of her many friends and our big professor.

Berry Robertson, while playing with some little boys one day last week, fell and broke his collar bone.

Several opposers of the stock law met in town Saturday evening to talk over the "lost cause," but finally decided to go home and weep no more, but prepare for the emergency by building pasture fences and finding watering places for their stock.

The chimney to the court house at this place fell down one night last week, and of course the commissioners will build another by only mentioning to them the fact that we need it; and we suggest that a suitable committee be appointed to apprise them of this fact.

Colonel Kidd has gone to Birmingham with a drove of goats.

Rev. Mr. George, a young theologian of Howard College, filled the Baptist pulpit here Stturday and Sunday.

How is this for corn planting time? Rain, snow, sleet and the windiest kind of weather.

Rev. J. W. Sandlin, district secretary of missions for North Alabama, will preach at the Baptist church on Friday, the 17th. The public are cordially invited to come out and here him.

JAKE.

Messrs. W. R. Oliver, Jno. B. Randall, W. E. Brinkerhoff and a Mr. Baird, the two latter of Dogwood, were in the city Monday. They came to conduct condemnation proceedings for a railroad right of way from their mines at Dogwood to the main line of the Southern's Blocton branch.

One of the heaviest wind and hail storms known in this section visited us last Saturday night, when hail stones as large as small hen eggs, and some measuring from two to three inches in circumference, were easily found. Several fences were blown down, and considerable damage to glass windows was done by the hail; in many instances whole windows being completely destroyed.

WANTED Reliable man for Manager of Branch Office I wish to open in this vicinity. If your record is O. K. here is a good opening. Kindly mention this paper when writing. A. T. MORGAN, Cincinnati, O. Illustrated catalog 4c postage.

Kidney Complexion.

The pale, sallow, sunken-cheeked, distressed-looking people you so often meet are afflicted with kidney complexion.

They may also have indigestion, or suffer from sleeplessness, rheumatism, neuralgia, brain trouble, nervous exhaustion, and sometimes the heart acts badly.

The cause is weak, unhealthy kidneys.

Usually the sufferer from kidney disease does not find out what the trouble is until it is almost too late, because the first symptoms are so like mild sickness that they do not think they need a medicine or doctor until they find themselves sick in bed.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root will build up and strengthen their weak and diseased kidneys, purify their diseased, kidney-poisoned blood, clear their complexion and soon they will enjoy better health.

You can get the regular sizes at the drug store at 50 cents and $1, or you may first prove for yourself the wonderful virtues of this great discovery. Swamp Root, by sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle and a book that tells all about, both sent to you absolutely free by mail. When writing kindly mention that you read this liberal offer in THE CHRONICLE.

No other medicine builds up and fortifies the system against miscarriage as well as Simmons Squaw Vine or Tablets.

Advice to Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand.

These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

What are these remedies? Fresh air, proper food and

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak throats, weak lungs and consumption in all its stages.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Something About the Greatest Weekly Newspaper in the Country.

REDUCED RATE FOR TWO PAPERS.

Take Your Home Paper and The Constitution and be Happy.

We call special attention to our clubbing arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing price of the two papers being only $1.50 per year, subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the claim of circulation made by The Constitution and put up a forfeit of $100 that it could be disproved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm. Mr. George P. Rowell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has just been brought to a close, the reports of no newspaper in the South could compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative sailed with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and of the 120 correspondents who went to Cuba, he was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. Its special representative also accompanied the fleet in the Caribbean sea, and its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with the promptness of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manila, the death of Ensign Bagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all given in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

The Weekly Constitution makes a special feature of its agricultural page, which is presided over by Colonel R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment farm, and a man who is recognized as an expert on all agricultural topics. He gives a full page every week on agricultural matters. A page is devoted to the women and a page to children, these two departments being presided over by Mrs. William King.

Among the regular staff members of The Constitution are Joel Chandler Harris, Frank L. Stanton and others well known throughout the country; while among its special contributors are such men as Wallace P. Reed, Bill Arp, Sarge Plunkett, Betsy Hamilton, Dr. Talmage and others of national reputation.

The Constitution has just completed the thirtieth year of its existence. Clark Howell being the editor and Col. W. A. Hemphill its business manager. Its name is a household word in every southern state, from Virginia to Texas. It has always been in especially close touch with the agricultural masses of the South, and in having reached a circulation which carries it into 150,000 homes it has won a unique distinction which ranks it among the greatest of American weekly newspapers.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscribtions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every southern home!

A GREAT MISSING WORD CONTEST

The Chronicle Offers a New Plan to Its Subscribers who Take The Constitution in Combination Offer.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE SEASON.

We take pleasure in announcing a missing word problem to our subscribers in connection with the Weekly Constitution of Atlanta, Ga. This is the sentence:

It is taken from a charming, living Southern author, and is offered to test the knowledge of our people of their own writers. The missing word is a plain, every-day English word, not a compound word, nor a proper name and is used in its ordinary acceptation. The prize to be given will be 10 per cent of all the subscriptions received from contestants by the Constitution, and will be paid by the Constitution. That paper has paid on missing word contests alone nearly $10,000 in cash prizes. To one party, M. L. Brittain, was given a check for $1,033.50 for one successful guess; others have received large sums ranging from $385 to $800 on similar propositions. This contest is to run until April 1, 1899, at which time the results will be promptly and properly announced.

Every subscriber who takes advantage of our clubbing offer with The Constitution may enter his own word to fill the blank in the sentence, and must be given to us at the time of the subscription so we can forward it together with his order for the Constitution. It is a plain, fair plan and we feel sure many will hunt up the word or take a shot at it. The subscription orders under this combination offer must be sent directly to this office and not to the Constitution. We will forward everything ourselves.

"Only the First Step is Difficult."

The first step in Spring should be to cleanse Nature's house from Winter's accumulations. Hood's Sarsaparilla does this work easily. It is America's Greatest Spring Medicine. It purifies the blood, as millons of people say.

It makes the weak strong, as nervous men and women gladly testify. It cures all blood diseases, as thousands of cured voluntarily write. It is just the medicine for you, as you will gladly say after you have given it a fair trial.

Bad Blood—"Although past 70 years of age I am thoroughly well. It was three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla that made me so after spending over $60 in medical attendance. My trouble was a raw sore on my ankle." MRS. LOUISA MASON, Court Street, Lowell, Mass.

Running Sores—"After worrying four months I gave my children Hood's Sarsaparilla and it cured them of running sores. Hood's Pills cured me of dyspepsia and constipation." MRS. KATE E. THOMAS, 31 Governor St., Annapolis, Md.

Consumptive Cough—"Five years ago I had a consumptive cough which reduced me to a skeleton. Was advised to take Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did and recovered normal health. I have been well ever since." MATILDA BRIDGEWATER, Cor. Pearl and Chestnut Sts., Jeffersonville, Ind.

HOBSON'S RISE.

The Greatest Material Promotion Ever Given as a Recognition of Gallantry.

The President's nomination of Richmond P. Hobson to be advanced ten numbers, from No. 1 on the list of assistant naval constructors, is said by naval officers to constitute the greatest material promotion as a recognition of gallantry in the history of the naval service. It will make Hobson a captain at the age of 30. His advancement amounts to 250 numbers in the line of the navy, which is remarkable in comparison with the single number secured by Admiral Dewey, eight numbers by Admiral Sampson and from three to five each by other officers during the war with Spain.

Pneumatic Thimbles.

Pneumatic thimbles for typewriters and pianists are the latest devices for nerve economy. The incessant and regular pounding of the sensitive finger tips renders the owners of them nervous wrecks in a majority of cases, to say nothing of callous and cracked finger ends and broken and split nails. The new thimbles are of rubber, coming in sets, according to the size of glove worn, and are said to not only save the nerve shock, but also to increase the speed and strength of the stroke.

Boiler Explosion.

In an official French investigation of recent boiler explosions, 15 in number, not one of the boilers was found to have had tubes of iron or steel, the tubes being of brass in 14 cases and of copper in one. In eight of the boilers the tubes were more than four inches in diameter.

Royal Wedding Cake.

Royal wedding cakes are never sent out until they have matured at least six months. The actual baking process lasts from five to seven hours. So great is the demand for cake on the occasion of a royal wedding that the makers have always a stock of 2,000 pounds in the seasoning room.

OPEN LETTERS FROM

Jennie E. Green and Mrs. Harry Hardy.

JENNIE E. GREEN, Denmark, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I had been sick at my monthly periods for seven years, and tried almost everything I ever heard of, but without any benefit. Was troubled with backache, headache, pains in the shoulders and dizziness. Through my mother I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has done me so much good. I am now sound and well."

Mrs. HARRY HARDY, Riverside, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham the story of her struggle with serious ovarian trouble, and the benefit she received from the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This is her letter:

"How thankful I am that I took your medicine. I was troubled for two years with inflammation of the womb and ovaries, womb was also very low. I was in constant misery. I had heart trouble, was short of breath and could not walk five blocks to save my life. Suffered very much with my back, had headache all the time, was nervous, menstruations were irregular and painful, had a bad discharge and was troubled with bloating. I was a perfect wreck. Had doctored and taken local treatments, but still was no better. I was advised by one of my neighbors to write to you. I have now finished the second bottle of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am better in every way. I am able to do all my own work and can walk nearly a mile without fatigue; something I had not been able to do for over two years. Your medicine has done me more good than all the doctors."

He's hitchin' up the hosses an' a-follerin' the plow!

Ef a feller feels like singin' in this weather, let him sing,

MY LUCKY FIND.

I WAS almost in despair. What a lot of trouble I have brought on myself for my good nature! Police investigations and reports, annoyance, chagrin, perhaps, at the outcome. Yes, it was enough to make a man swear!

And the cause of it all was Baby Mouse, hapless Baby Mouse! But, before you, dear reader, will understand why Baby Mouse should be to blame you will want to know who he is. It's a strange story, and yet sweet and tender withal. And it ends well—that's its best part.

Three months ago I was coming home with the evening shades. It was bitter cold, and I rejoiced in anticipation of my cosy, warm home and the simple, dainty meal which my old housekeeper, Johanna, knew how to prepare so well. I was lost in just such comfortable bachelor reverie, when I descended from the L road to wend my way toward my little Washington Heights home. I walked rapidly and soon reached there. Opening the iron gate that led into the tiny garden patch in front of the house, I saw a small package lying on the frozen snow.

"A present from somebody," I said half aloud, stooped and picked up my find. My hands, a bit numb with cold, despite my fleece-lined gloves, had scarcely grasped the bundle when it began to kick and squirm. Nor was that all. It raised such lusty howls that my neighbors' windows flew up, and they stuck out their heads to see what it meant.

It would have done me good to see my face just then in a convenient mirror.

All the nursery tales of cry-babies and bewitched castaways came to my mind with a rush. I felt like depositing the lively packet in the place where I had found it, but that would have been worse than murder to leave such a little mite out in the open with the thermometer at ten above zero. I had no desire to make the acquaintance of the State attorney.

But, better than all, great pity swelled my heart for the unfortunate creature whom loveliness had cast away, and as fast as I could run with my burden I ran into the house. Johanna met me in the door.

"See what I have brought you," I said, with a laugh.

The good woman gazed with horror on the squirming, shaking babe and held out her hands.

"Doctor, what does it mean?" she gasped.

"It means, Johanna, that for the next few days you are going to bathe and feed and fondle this little waif, just as you did me once upon a time."

And then I told her the story of how I had found Baby Mouse.

In the lamplight I examined the little foundling, and Johanna, too, looked him over with critical eyes. He was a jolly little youngster, eight months old; perhaps, with chubby face, eyes as blue as a summer sky and lips that soon took on cherry hue, as their blue, pinched look died away in the genial warmth of the room and Johanna's embraces that alternated with mine.

Johanna brought out fresh linen, arranged a bed and bathed and washed the foundling. Tucking him comfortably away in an improvised crib, she gave him a bottle filled with milk, and when he had appeased his hunger he fell into a peaceful slumber. I kissed the baby's brow and said to Johanna:

"I am going to report that case to the police in the morning, and I'll ask them to let me keep the little one until his relations are heard from."

Johanna gave me an amazed look.

"My life is so lonely," I continued, "he may bring some color into it!" I may have sighed as I walked away.

"You haven't forgotten, doctor," answered the good woman, "no matter how hard you've tried."

Next day I went to the Chief of Police. He recorded the case and had no objection to my keeping the baby. This is the way I came into possession of a lovely and beautiful child. Johanna and I decided to call him Robert, but his pet name—Baby Mouse—was older than that, and it clung to him.

And now you know who Mouse is.

Nobody ever came to claim him, and my heart opened to the tender waif as it had never opened before.

Mouse, of couse, was treated like a king. Now and then Johanna would say, "You are spoiling the child, doctor!" But she was as weak as I with regard to Mouse.

He grew and prospered like a flower in the sunshine of our love and was the lustiest youngster on the block.

But there must be rainy days as well. One day Mouse was taken ill, and before night we knew that he had been attacked with diphtheria. With flaming cheeks and trembling hands he lay in his crib, and I bent over him with breaking heart. Long nights of anxious watching followed. At last care and tender nursing drove death from the door, and the doctor told me that the danger was passed. But another blow came severer even than Mouse's illness. My old faithful servant had caught the infection and had to take to her bed.

There I was, a helpless man, with an ill woman and a convalescent babe on my hands.

Surely it was a desperate situation. I engaged a trained nurse to wait on the sick, but I could not expect her to look after me too. The little comforts to which I had been accustomed dropped away one by one.

"If only my wife was here!"

My wife!

Yes, I had been married—in fact, I was still married. And this, too, is a strange story.

My wife was an only child, spoiled by rich and indulgent parents. When I took her to my modest home I discovered that she had many little faults—all women have—and I thought I could wean her away from them. The big faults, of course, I was willing to condone, for they were part of the bargain.

My wife was a bit gay, a bit frivolous, a bit stubborn and a bit too fond of dress. But I loved her with all my heart, and she loved me. And because I loved her I endeavored to cure her of these little imperfections.

It was a difficult piece of work. Sharp words were spoken on one side, tears shed on the other, and the upshot of the matter was that one day my wife left me and returned to her parents. They wrote me a long letter expressing regret that my wife could not live with me.

My life became dreary and sad, and I believe I was on the short road to hypochondria.

Mouse came just in the nick of time and saved me from that fate. I gave him all my love, and he was all the world to me. But my present dilemma was due to the coming of the little castaway. "Mouse, Mouse," I said more than once, "what have you done?"

There were days when I dreaded to go home—two sickbeds, nothing to eat for myself; forsooth, a cheerless, lonely home.

When I sat down by Johanna's bed, she tried to console me as best she could, but her cheerful words fell upon deaf ears.

One evening in March I again wended my way homeward. I thought of Mouse, of Johanna, of the trained nurse, and was in the worst possible humor. Opening the door with my latchkey, I hung my overcoat on the rack and made more noise than was necessary in taking off my rubber shoes. I went into the dining-room, and——

Had Johanna been prowling about in spite of the doctor's express orders to remain in bed? The tea steamed over the alcohol lamp. There were fresh bread and golden butter, ham, cold roast beef; the evening papers were nicely stacked on one side; on the other, my box of cigars, the ash tray and the matches. Just as Johanna was wont to arrange things in the good old days, before Mouse interfered.

I went into the next room where Mouse was kept. The lamplight was muffled, but in the semi-darkdess I recognized the form of the trained nurse bending over the baby's crib.

"The trained nurse! Was I dreaming? I knew that head, with the daintly molded cheek, the rich blond hair, gracefully arranged at the back."

I had kissed it many times. A step, and I was near her.

"Anna!" I cried. "My wife!"

I caught her in my arms. She pressed her head to my breast and whispered——

"Richard, forgive me!"

It was not a dream. It was sweet reality. Again the lovely woman in my arms whispers——

"Can you forgive me, Richard?"

I can only kiss her again and again and listen to the story of her coming.

Johanna had written her in what a plight I was. She had told her about the coming of Mouse, the child's illness and her own, and my helpless condition in the face of all this trouble. And then Johanna had lectured her about the great virtue of forbearance and other wholesome truths with regard to the married life of two people who in reality loved each other.

The old woman's words went straight to Anna's heart. She came, and I held her in my arms and begged her to stay forever.

By this time Mouse had been aroused from his peaceful slumber. When he saw me, he stretched out his little arms, and I took him and laid him into those of my wife.

"Will you be a mother to him?" I asked.

"I will love him as you do," answered the sweet woman by my side. And thus peace has once more come into my house.

And the cause of it all was—Mouse. Blessed Mouse!

Domestic Problems.

If a housewife twist in one hour and fifteen minutes 93 "lamp-lighters," when 1250 matches can be bought for 5 cents, at what rate per hour does she value her time, assuming the worth of the paper to be zero? 2. If the aforesaid woman will take six steps across a room and six returning, each step being of 22 inches, to save one match, how far would she consistently walk to save 5 cents carfare? 3. If a man can drive from boards in 50 minutes 78 nails of a certain size, what wages is he earning per hour, nails being worth 4 cents per pound, and there being 100 of this size in one pound? 4. In a certain climate, underwear at the price of $4 per winter will insure against colds. Assuming that under wear costing $1 per season will lead to two visits from the doctor at $1.50 each, what is the saving by the purchase of the cheaper material? 5. Oil is worth 9 cents per gallon. Lamp A burns 45 gallons in the reading or sewing period of one year; lamp B 35 gallons. Spectacles A cost $4.50; spectacles B, $0.25. If lamp B and spectacles B are used, the eyesight is made useless in 8 years for a person whose expectation of sound eyesight with the use of lamp A and spec. A is 23 years. Making no allowance for deterioration of lamps or spectacles, estimate the value of eyes per pair.—Puck.

Counterfeiting in the South Pacific.

The next place where counterfeits are liable to turn up in big quantities is the Philippines. It is not generally known, but there has been a great deal of crooked money in circulation on the islands for years. It is supposed to emanate from somewhere in Hong Kong, and traders in the South Pacific all carry outfits for testing.

IS THIS YOUR STORY?

"Every morning I have a bad taste in my mouth; my tongue is coated; my head aches and I often feel dizzy. I have no appetite for breakfast and what food I eat distresses me. I have a heavy feeling in my stomach. I am getting so weak that sometimes I tremble and my nerves are all unstrung. I am getting pale and thin. I am as tired in the morning as at night."

What does your doctor say?

"You are suffering from pure blood."

FAMILIAR SCIENCE.

Heat is a sensation of warmth.

The sun is an inexhaustible source of heat.

Electricity was known to the ancients; they knew that when amber (the Greek word for which is electrom) is rubed, it acquires the property of attracting other bodies.

Electricity, like heat, exists in all matter; but it is often in a latent state; friction disturbs it, and brings it into active operation.

Lightning is accumulated electricity, discharged from the clouds, which electricity is produced by: (1) The evaporation from the earth's surface. (2) The chemical changes which take place on the earth's surface. (3) Currents of air of unequal temperature, which excite electricity by friction, as they come in contact with each other.

Lightning sometimes kills men and beasts, because, when the electric current passes through a man or beast, it produces so violent an action upon the nerves, that it destroys life. It is, therefore, dangerous to be in a crowd during a thunder storm. (1) Because a mass of people forms a better conductor than an individual. (2) Because the vapor arising from a crowd increases its conducting power.

Thunder is the noise made by the concussion of the air when it closes again, after it has been parted by the lightning flash. A part of the noise is owing to certain physical and chemical changes produced in the air by the electric fluid.

Water is a fluid, composed of oxygen and hydrogen in the proportion of eight parts of oxygen to one part of hydrogen.

Fighting Women.

The devices of savage mothers to avoid being bothered by their children are numerous, yet none of them is stranger than that of the Dahomey woman who simply wraps it into the shawl or scarf with which she covers her own loins and lets it hang there while she goes about her work. The women take a keen interest in all the fighting, for there is a picked band of a thousand Amazons that marches to war with the other warriors. The average temperature of this delightful country is about 80 degrees, so the men and women do not overburden themselves with clothing. Their children run around naked as soon as they can, and their mothers do not devote very much time to their education. The fact that women take part in the hunting and fighting make them far more highly respected than is usually the case among savages. Then, too, a large number of the women are taken as wives by the king, and not a few are devoted to the service of the national idol, so that there is quite a scarcity of women, and as a consequence they are in great demand and respected accordingly.

Light Effect.

Prof. Zickler recently found that a ray of ultra violet light transmitted as many as 200 meters (over 200 yards) will work a telegraph instrument at that distance. Rays of this kind have the property of causing an electric spark to pass between two highly charged conductors, which but for the light would not spark. This effect is made to work the telegraph instrument.

A Japanese traveler, Mizutani Shiursoku, is said to have discovered an island lying about 600 nautical miles to the east of Bonins. It is only some seven and a half miles in circumference, and is peopled only by penguins. The Japanese government has decided to name the island Minamiteri-Shima, or Southern Bird island.

NOTES OF SCIENCE.

When petroleum is burned in 2 lamp, according to Dr. Crafts, but a per cent. of the energy is utilized as light, the rest being wasted as heat. He also told the people of the Lowell institute of Boston that in one motor on the market 25 per cent. of the energy of petroleum had been successfully utilized.

Texans recently shipped their first cargo of cotton for the Japanese markets. It consisted of 13,832 bales and was loaded on the Japanese steamer Tamba Maru. She is said to be the first vessel ever loaded at a gulf port for Japan, and will go by way of the Suez canal to Kobe, Yokohama, and Nagasaki. Englishmen command the vessel, but her crew is made up entirely of Japanese.

Seven exploring expeditions operated in Labrador last year, and reports from all have been received by the Geographical and other societies of London. The consensus of opinion, as derived from these reports, is that the country is by no means such a sterile region as has been supposed. Geologically the formation of the country is very like that of the Klondike region, and there are scientists who believe that there will be rich discoveries of gold and other metals there. Vast forests of spruce pines exist, and there are other valuable timber trees of good size and commercial value. Under colonial grants lumbermen from Nova Scotia and Newfoundland have arranged to cut timber there this spring, and at least one well equipped party of mining experts and geologists will make an exhaustive search this summer for mineral wealth.

American ironworkers have once more shown their superiority over those of other nations in a recent competitive contract for furnishing vaults for a safe deposit company in Buenos Ayres, the capital of the Argentine Republic. English, German, and American makers were invited to compete for furnishing a vault, to weigh 600,000 pounds and accommodate 15,000 safe deposit boxes. The quality of the metal used as well as the method of construction proposed were submitted to the closest scrutiny, and the decision was that the American offering was far and away the strongest, most cleverly conducted, and in every way the best. So the contract was given to the American company, the Remington & Sherman company, of this country. The sum involved is about $150,000, and for this the Argentine firm will secure one of the largest and strongest plants of the kind ever built, as well as one that will include all the most modern devices in locks and the intricacies of safety construction.

Profits of Bull-Fighting.

During the last season a popular toreador in Spain took part in sixty-five fights and killed 133 bulls. His net profit was $60,000, and the only injuries he sustained were a bruise on the foot and a rather bad wound on the leg. The risks are, of course, great, but the men are so extraordinarily agile, that grave accidents seldom occur. Sometimes one will be badly gored, but a week or two of hospital treatment will generally set him on his legs again. These men, often uneducated, and proceeding from the lower classes, are courted and feared, and even the larger newspapers of Madrid are careful to give nothing but praise of them, for fear of incurring their enmity.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. Golson Will Hang.

After being out an hour and a half, the jury in the case of Will Golson, the negro charged with killing Deputy Sheriff Warnock Sunday afternoon, November 27th, brought in a verdict in the criminal court, Birmingham, fifteen minutes before midnight Saturday night finding him guilty of murder in the first degree and fixing the penalty at death. The court room was crowded.

A Busy Plant.

The Huntsville Spoke and Handle company has been purchased by the Southern Handle company from the Farmer's and Merchant's National bank, the consideration being $25,000. The company has been operating for several months and has been doing an immense business. Several large consignments of spokes and handles have been shipped direct to Australia.

Lieutenant Webb Dead.

Lieutenant Webb, 16th United States infantry, died Saturday night at Lowry-Westmoreland Infirmary, Huntsville, after an illness of several weeks. He came from Cuba in bad health and exposed to the cold while in camp made him an easy victim to disease. Lieutenant Webb was unmarried. It is a singular fact that Lieutenant Webb is the first commissioned officer of the army who has died at Huntsville since the military camp was established there.

Decatur's Cotton Mill.

A big deal was closed Saturday by which New Decatur gets a million-dollar cotton mill. It is to be located on the site of the United States Rolling Stock Company, an immense place built during the boom, which has lain idle for years, and which has been in litigation for three or four years between the Decatur Land Company and the Rolling Stock people, a contract having been in existence between the two by which the plant was to be kept intact and operated for a term of years. This contract the Rolling Stock company attempted to abrogate by removing the machinery. Mandamus proceedings were instituted and the removal stayed. Proceedings by the land company to recover its title in the rolling stock property being finally successful, it now transfers it to A. Strauss & Co., of New York, for a healthy cash consideration and a written stipulation that a million-dollar cotton mill is to be erected on the site within the next six months. The mill would have been built a year ago but for litigation.

Improvements at Bessemer.

The contract has been let for the improvement and enlargement of the Alabama Great Southern depot at Bessemer. A forty-foot addition and a baggage room will be added. It is also announced that the streets in the vicinity of the depot will be much improved by quantities of chert.

Railroad Property Assessed.

The state board of assessment met in Montgomery last week and concluded the work of assessing the railway property of all roads except the Southern and Mobile and Ohio. The average assessment was about the same as last year. Since the board's last meeting there have been two additional roads constructed, which has increased the track mileage and property, and will otherwise increase the state's revenue considerably.

A Verdict for Plaintiff.

At Birmingham the jury in the case of J. J. Shannon, administrator of the estate of W. H. Shannon, deceased, against Jefferson county in the city court Saturday, brought in a verdict for $1,000 damages for the plaintiff, after having been out all night. W. H. Shannon was a member of a riding party of young people that were precipitated into a creek near Ensley City by the bridge on the county road breaking through. Shannon was killed and a number of others injured. Faulty construction of the bridge was alleged. A number of suits were brought against the county, but this is the first to be tried.

St. Vincent's Hospital.

Ground was formally broken on the site for the new St. Vincent Hospital at Birmingham Saturday morning. Quite an assemblage of prelates and prominent citizens were present. Brief speeches were made by H. H. Sinnige, president of the St. Vincent Hospital association; Father P. A. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Paul's Catholic church, Rufus N. Rhodes, and Dr. B. L. Wyman. The ceremonies were simple. Father O'Reilly moved the first shovel full of dirt, and work was then commenced on the new $100,000 structure. The building will be five stories high. The hospital will be conducted by the Sisters of Charity, who have temporary quarters at present at the old DeBardeleben residence property on the Aguinaldo Takes Revenge.

It is reported in Madrid that Aguinaldo has redoubled his opposition to the release of the Spanish prisoners now in the hands of the insurgents because General Polavieja, now minister of war, caused Dr. Rizai, who drew up the statutes of the Philippine League, and was therefore practically the instigator of the revolt in the islands, to be shot in December, 1896.

Shot His Son by Mistake.

Robert S. Shaffer, living near Edgefield Junction, Tenn., heard a burglar on his porch about three o'clock Saturday morning, and, seizing a gun, he pointed in the direction he thought the burglar was standing. Owing to the darkness, Shaffer made a mistake and the rifle ball passed through his six-year-old son, who was asleep. The little fellow died in an hour.

Rides for the Prince.

Tod Sloan, the famous jockey, sailed for England the other day on the Lucania. He will ride for the prince of Wales at the Easter races, and will also continue to ride for the Beresford stables.

Babies Thrown From Windows.

A six-story tenement at No. 4 Bayard street, New York, caught fire early Saturday morning. Twenty families were aroused from their slumber, and it is believed that some lives were lost. As yet no bodies have been found. The tenement burned like tinder, and a number of people were forced to drop from windows into nets. Several little children were thrown from the windows and were caught by the firemen below, escaping uninjured.

SECRETARY ALGER WILL INVESTIGATE

Alleged Illtreatment of Colored Ex-Soldiers In the South.

MANY COMPLAINTS MADE.

Grievances Reported by Ex-Members of Immune Regiment.

A dispatch from Washington says: The war department was thronged Friday, with negroes and officers of the Eighth immune regiment and by officers of the Tenth lodging complaints with the officials of their treatment in the south.

Secretary Alger will investigate the matter, as there has been nothing but complaints from every territory through which these regiments have passed. The officers deny misbehavior on the part of the men and lay all the blame on the community through which the trains have passed.

Friday morning one of the majors of the Eighth immunes, colored, who visited the department, made a report to the adjutant general in regard to the soldiers and their conduct, and told some very startling stories in regard to their reception at Nashville.

The officer told General Corbin that at Nashville the police entered the cars where the immunes were and attacked and beat them in a horrible manner, and not only did this but robbed the soldiers; in one instance $15 being taken from one of the colored soldiers.

The adjutant general told the major to make a written report of the affair and to include a statement in regard to other incidents of the trip.

An officer of the Tenth immunes also stated to General Corbin that the report that the state militia at Griffin, Ga., had fired into the car containing the soldiers, and where there were women, was true, and that he was surprised that a number of women as well as soldiers were not killed.

This officer was also asked to make a written report, and when these are made the department intends to make them public.

The department wishes reliable reports from cities and towns in both Tennessee and Georgia in order that Louisville "Air Line" Railway Said to Have Changed Hands.

It is published in Birmingham, Ala., that the Southern railway has purchased the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis Consolidated railroad, known as the Louisville Air-Line, and will hereafter be in the competition for the great western grain and other traffic for the south with the Louisville and Nashville and Illinois Central railroads.

The deal is said to have been consummated in New York and will raise the amount of track of the Southern railway to comfortably near the six-thousand-mile mark.

The new line acquired is over 374 miles long and gives the much desired entry to the west.

MUST KEEP LOOKOUT.

People Should Dodge Falling Electric Wires, Says Judge.

Judge J. M. Norwood, in the Savannah, Ga., city court, rendered a decision Friday morning, the final result of which will be awaited with much interest by lawyers. The effect of Judge Norwood's decision is that people driving on the streets and pedestrians must be on the lookout for electric wires, and if they see them when it is possible for them to do so and then run into them, the company owning the wires is not responsible in damages to the party injured.

TO ADDRESS LEGISLATURE.

Hon. W. J. Bryan Accepts an invitation of Tennessee Solons.

A Nashville dispatch says: Hon. G. W. Wade, secretary of the committee appointed to invite Hon. W. J. Bryan to address the Tennessee legislature on the issues of the day, has received a letter from Mr. Bryan accepting the invitation and naming Wednesday, March 22d, as the date for the speech.

BODIES EN ROUTE HOME.

Remains of Officers Killed In Manila Are Aboard Transports.

A cable dispatch from Manila says: The remains of Colonel W. E. Smith, Major E. McConville, Captain David S. Elliott and Second Lieutenant Eugene S. French, who were killed in action, were shipped home Friday by the United States transport Scandia, with military honors, the Second Oregon volunteers furnishing the escort through the city.

Major General Lawton, who arrived on board the United States transport Grant, from New York, on January 19th, landed and formally reported to Major General Otis.

A MILLION DOLLAR MILL.

Big Cotton Manufacturing Plant to Be Built In New Decatur.

A big deal was closed Saturday at New Decatur, Ala., by which that city gets a million dollar cotton mill. It is to be located on the site of the United States Rolling Stock company, an immense place built during the boom, which has lain idle for years, and which has been in litigation for three or four years between the Decatur Land company and the Rolling Stock people.

NEWS FROM PORTO RICO.

Inhabitants of Island Said to Be Greatly Dissatisfied.

The Chicago Tribune prints the following special correspondence from Porto Rico from a Tribune correspondent:

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, March 4.—The real situation in Porto Rico is not understood. People in the states generally regard Porto Rico as a sort of haven of peace. The war department has just requested of General Henry that he immediately report how many regular troops he could spare from the island.

"I need twice the troops I have," said the general at his residence in San Juan. "Because of the easy victory of our troops here in the war and the apparent friendliness of the natives to the American soldiers when they invaded the island, a notion prevails in the states that there is little necessity for a strong force to maintain order in the island. The idea is erroneous.

"The conditions here are alarming. These people have been given every opportunity, but they have thrown them aside. They are clamoring now for local self-government. They are no more fit for local self-government than I am to run a locomotive. More troops are needed in the island. The seeds of discontent planted by professional agitators are rapidly growing, and can be kept down only by a strong military force.

"The ill feeling between the natives and the American troops seems to grow stronger every day. The American officers have to maintain the greatest vigilance to prevent their men from wreaking vengeance on the natives, and especially on the native police, for acts of violence that are continually committed against the troops."

MAHON HAS ENOUGH.

States Positively and Emphatically That He Will Drop Prosecution.

Martin Mahon, the New York hotel man, who is now in Atlantic City, N. J., says that he will not return to New York to testify against Fayne Moore.

Mahon figured prominently as prosecuting witness in the badger trial which resulted in sending William Moore to prison for nineteen years, but he says he was so badly treated while on the witness stand in that trial that he will not present himself to testify in the trial of Mrs. Moore. Mr. Mahon's statement made to a reporter is as follows:

You may state, positively, that I shall remain here, or at least without the jurisdiction of New York courts, for at least a year; that I will not, under any circumstances, appear against Mrs. Moore, and that I do not fear the proceedings in contempt which I have been threatened with. My business in New York has been so adjusted that I can remain away indefinitely, and, if necessary, I will go abroad to escape annoyance. I believe every man is master of his own action.

"I did what I thought was right in instituting the case against Fayne Moore and her alleged husband, but I was badgered and ill-treated worse upon the witness stand than I had been by them, and I will not undergo such an ordeal and uncalled for hounding again.

"All rumors that I have been bribed or begged into not appearing in the retrial of Fayne Moore are absolutely and unqualifiedly false.

"This is the first, last and only statement I shall make regarding my position."

CAUSES ANNOYANCE.

Complaints of Discharged Soldiers Worry Department Officials.

A Washington dispatch says: Regarding the report from Atlanta of rioting by the Tenth colored immune regiment after its muster out at Macon, Ga., it was said at the war department Thursday that no official report had been received and that as the troops in question had been mustered out of the service they would have to be dealt with by the local authorities for any breach of law they might have committed.

The fact is, however, that the repeated occurrences of this sort are becoming a sore question with the war department, and it is highly probable that hereafter troops to be mustered out will be sent to their own state and given their discharges there.

BRIGADIER GENERALSHIP

Offered Wheeler as an Incentive to Keep Him In Service.

A Washington dispatch says: The president has asked General Wheeler to accept the commission of brigadier and remain in the army. There is no major generalship to which he can be appointed in the new organization.

General Wheeler has the matter under consideration, but has not given a final answer. It is understood, however, that General Wheeler will do as the president wishes in the matter and will now start for the Philippines, where the administration thinks his experience will prove most valuable.

KIPLING'S CONDITION.

Author Is Yet Very Weak--Told of His Daughter's Death.

A New York dispatch states that Rudyard Kipling is now "in the most te ious period of convalescence and still very weak," and that he is not "progressing as fast as the public had been led to believe."

Unable to keep Mr. Kipling in ignorance of his favorite daughter's death, the news was broken to him Friday night by Dr. Durham. The blow was a heavy one, but the father bore up bravely.

CUBAN ASSEMBLY IMPEACHES GOMEZ.

Deposes Old Warrior as General-In-Chief of Army.

DELINQUENCY THE CHARGE

Gomez Accepts the "Verdict" With Good Grace

A special from Havana says: The Cuban military assembly in public session Saturday afternoon impeached General Maximo Gomez and removed him from his command as general-in-chief of the Cuban army, the first ballot taken resulting in 26 votes being cast in support of the motion to impeach and remove General Gomez against 4 in opposition. The meeting lasted from 2 until 7 o'clock.

General Gomez's only supporters were General Cespedes and General Nunez. The original motion, which was introduced by Senor Manuel Sanguilly, provided for the abolition of the grade of general-in-chief, but an amendment was offered to this by Senor Aguerro, which read "to abolish the grade of general-in-chief and to remove General Gomez for failure in his military duties and disobedience to the assembly."

Senor Aguerro declared that Gomez was insubordinate and should be punished, and Senor Sanguilly insinuated that the general was a traitor to Cuba.

Much passion was evident in the speeches, in some of which Gomez was declared to have been delinquent in his duties and disobedient because he had accepted the proposition of Robert P. Porter, President McKinley's special emissary, without consulting the assembly; because he had taken upon himself the arrangements for the payment and disarming of the Cuban troops independent of the assembly, and because he had declared to the assembly that he would observe its rulings in so far as he considered them beneficial to Cuba.

The assembly declared that the $3,000,000 was insufficient, and that it has not yet accepted the proposition. The discussion of this question will soon be taken up, now that General Gomez has been removed.

Senor Gonzales de Quesada, who accompanied Mr. Porter to Cuba, was had deceived. Senor Gualberto Aguerro likened the present conditions confronting the assembly to those that confronted the French chamber when it was proposed to impeach President MacMahon.

Colonel Morra and General Nunez declared that the present step was useless, and would make the assembly ridiculous in the eyes of the world.

General Gomez is believed to be stronger than the assembly in the affection of the Cuban army. Many privates are anxious to leave the army and go to work, especially when they are able to obtain money to start them in life anew.

The position of the assembly is notably weak, as the military administration supports General Gomez, as do also the planters and property owning element, who are tired of the Cuban army, which subsists half upon charity and half upon contributions levied by means of threats.

General Gomez received at Molinas Saturday evening a telephone message announcing to him the decision of the assembly. He answered calmly: "All right, I enjoy the situation."

GEN. WHEELER'S VIEWS.

Is Anxious to Go to Philippines While Fighting Is Under Way.

General Joseph Wheeler saw the president Saturday concerning his future status. Subsequently he said that while the question of his remaining in the army had not been definitely decided, it was probable that he would not remain in the service. He thought the president would be unable to find a place for him and he was not pushing the matter.

"But I would like to remain in the service," he said, "and be sent to the Philippines, where there is fighting. I would not care so much to stay in the army if I had to remain in this country."

OFFICERS' FAMILIES DEBARRED.

As a Place of Residence Manila Is a Dangerous Location.

The war department Saturday gave out the following cablegram received from General Otis:

"Manila not safe place for officers' families. Great difficulty experienced in caring for those now here and their safety one of the chief causes of anxiety. Officers' families should remain in the United States."

Under such conditions, the seretary of war regrets that no more families of officers or enlisted men can be permitted to accompany troops.

A FATAL SMASH-UP.

Freight Trains Crash Together and Two Men Are Killed.

In a head-end collision between two freight trains near Bradley's station, Conn., on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad Sunday morning, two lives were lost and several others of the train's crew severely injured, though none fatally.

Thirteen cars, mostly loaded with cotton, left the track, and ten of them went down a very steep embankment. The damage to rolling stock will not exceed $10,000.

TAKEN FOR PICKPOCKETS.

New Orleans Police Arrested Secret Service Men.

A Washington dispatch says: The Federal and local authorities in New Orleans have clashed in a very peculiar way. It seems that during the Mardi Gras in the Crescent City the secret service men from the treasury department went there on matters appertaining to their business. Two of them were arrested and landed in jail, the charge being that they were pickpockets.

The secret service chiefs here pronounced the whole matter a mistake and a blunder on the part of the police of New Orleans.

Secretary Gage takes the side of his men and has ordered the solicitor of the treasury to write the district attorney at New Orleans to demand an apology for the treatment the Federal officers received and to demand further that the police who made the arrest be punished to the extent of dismissal from the service. Up to the present time the local authorities have not acted but promise that they will investigate the case and see whether or not there was any grounds for the arrest of the Federal detectives for pickpockets.

WILD TENTH IMMUNES

Create Disturbances On Their Way Through North Carolina.

A Raleigh, N. C., dispatch says: Further particulars in regard to the conduct of the Tenth immunes have been received from the towns along the Seaboard Air-Line.

Between Atlanta and Monroe they shot Flagman Sam Sealy in the heel, inflicting a painful wound. At Monroe they raided the dispensary, carrying off some seventy-five packages of whisky. At Henderson they came near killing an old white man named Crozier.

In Weldon, the last point at which they stopped in North Carolina, their conduct was the worst. At the point of a pistol they forced John Battle, a worthy colored man, to drink seven glasses of whisky. Battle fell down senseless soon after drinking the liquor and died before a physician could be summoned.

The riotous troops forced their way into stores and saloons, taking whatever they wanted. They fired upon a switchman who failed to run at their command and spoke insultingly to those whom they met upon the streets.

Have Been Received.

Professor S. A. Knapp, the special commissioner of Secretary Wilson to the orient to investigate the advisability of eastern plants and seeds for use in this country, and secure specimens of those that are valuable, has submitted his primary report summing up the work.

There are a number of seeds and plants selected for experiment with a view to common usage here, and they include persimmons, the eastern product of which is a far more edible fruit than ours; bamboo, Japan plums, pears, camphor trees and hagi. All the persimmon and pear seedlings have reached here and have been distributed to experimental stations

LIBERTY TREE PLANTED.

Santiago's Mayor Makes a Talk to Three Thousand School Children.

Senor Bacardi, mayor of Santiago, planted a tree of liberty in the Plaza Dolores Sunday in the presence of more than 3,000 children representing the different schools of the city, as well as a large concourse of citizens. He spoke of the glorious deeds of Cuban patriots during the past thirty years and of their uphill struggle in the face of immense odds. He paid a warm tribute to the good work done by General Wood during the American occupation

SUCCESSOR TO TALMAGE.

Dr. Sunderland Again Takes Charge of Washington Church.

The Rev. Dr. Byron Sunderland has been appointed pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Washington City to succeed Rev. Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage.

Dr. Sunderland already has served the church forty-five years and since his resignation last June, when Dr. Talmage took charge, has been the pastor emeritus.

FATALITIES IN ARMY.

Statement of Deaths From All Causes for Nine Months.

A Washington dispatch says: The following statement has been issued showing the total number of deaths reported to the adjutant general's office between May 1, 1898, and February 28, 1899: Killed in action, 329; died of wounds, 125; died of disease, 5,277. Total, 5,731.

REBELS ON THE RUN.

Filipinos Retreating Before Americans' Shot and Shell.

A Manila special says: General Wheaton's newly formed divisional brigade advanced at 7 o'clock Sunday morning from San Pedro Macati for the purpose of carrolling the enemy.

It is now moving on Pasig, meeting with slight resistance, as the rebels are in full retreat. A gunboat is clearing the jungle along the river banks, which have been carried as far as Guadalupe.

MONEY FOR CUBANS LOADED ON SHIP.

Transport Meade Carries Three Millions In Silver and Gold.

WEIGHS FORTY-EIGHT TONS

The Treasure Strongly Guarded While Being Transferred.

A New York special says: The United States transport Meade sailed Saturday for Havana, passing quarantine at 5:15 p. m. She has on board the $3,000,000 provided by the United States government to pay Cuban troops. Of the total amount half is in gold and half in silver. The weight of metal is forty-eight tons.

Much interest centered in the removal of the treasure from the subtreasury. A large crowd gathered and watched the proceedings.

Captain Littell, of the quartermaster's department, had charge of the detachment of soldiers from the forts in the neighborhood of New York City. There were about fifty men, each with a Krag-Jorgenson and a full belt of cartridges. They formed in line at the treasury building and the boxes and safes of coin were passed out between them.

Half a dozen ordinary trucks were in readiness in the street and men dragged out the money on small hand trucks to the Pine street entrance of the buildings.

Half the money was in iron safes about a foot and a half high and weighing about 100 pounds each. All the money was got on the trucks and eight men boarded each one. They stood on the safes or casks holding their rifles, and the trucks were then driven through Broad street.

The treasure was then taken to pier 3, East river, where the General Meigs, of the government service, was in waiting to receive it. The soldiers again formed in line and a dozen policemen stood at the gang plank while the money was being placed aboard the Meigs. There were over a hundred casks and safes in all.

The Meigs steamed over to Brooklyn, where, at pier 22, the coin was placed on the Meade.

Paymaster General Garey, accompanied by Major Rogers, of the pay-master's office, will have charge of the Rolls Incomplete.

A dispatch from Havana says: The only obstacle now in the way of paying off the Cuban troops is the completion of the rolls, a work which is being hastened by Inspector General Roloff. He says that in some cases the rosters are missing or too defective to be useful. He points out that the insurgents often have no paper, pens or ink.

General Gomez explains that 6,000 commissioned and 1,000 non-commissioned officers are relatively large numbers in an army of 32,000 privates, but that these officers in many cases received their appointments because the Cubans have had no other way of recognizing bravery and stimulating enthusiasm.

"It may seem," he says, "a cheap sort of promotion, but it meant a good deal to the Cubans."

SWUNG FROM SAME GALLOWS.

Man and Woman Expiate Crime of Murder Together.

At St. Scholastique, Quebec, Mrs. Cordelia Poirier and Samuel Parslow were hanged on the same gallows for the murder of Mrs. Poirier's husband. Life was declared extinct in eight minutes, the necks of both having been broken.

Mrs. Poirier was firm and collected throughout. The crowd inside the jail jeered at her, but her composure did not desert her, and at the suggestion of the executioner she turned and faced the jeerers and stood erect and prayed to the last.

Parslow exhibited much less courage, and was more dead than alive when the drop fell. The condemned were taken to the scaffold separately, and were prevented from seeing each other by a screen placed between them.

CONTRACT LABORERS

Are Landed In Large Numbers In Puget Sound Cities.

Labor circles in the northwest are much agitated over reports which are received with general credence that hundreds of Japanese contract laborers are being brought into Puget Sound cities.

Every month from 500 to 1,000 Japanese laborers are landed at Tacoma, Vancouver and Portland. Practically all pass in through the requirements of which are sound body and $30 in cash. It is said that hundreds of these men are finding employment on various railroad lines.

A PROBABLE CHANGE.

Civil Government May Displace Military Rule In Cuba.

The administration is contemplating a change in some features of the government in Cuba. It is probable that the military government will, to a certain extent, be replaced with civil government. The head of the government must of course remain military, but the change in contemplation is to have civil officers in place of the military men in the cabinet and subordinate positions.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

We have inaugurated the plan of printed address on all papers mailed in packages. Subscribers can by this means tell when their subscription expires. For example, Jly9 opposite your name means that your subscription expires on the first of July, 1899, the figure representing the year and the month showing the date of expiration, all subscriptions expiring on the first of the month nearest the time of beginning. Please examine these figures and if your time is out renew at once. Terms of subscription are cash in advance, and we shall, after a reasonable time, discontinue those whose time has expired.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Democrats will hold beat meetings or primaries Saturday, and a county convention will be held on Wednesday of next week. At that convention several important things are to be considered.

In the first place seven delegates will be selected to the State convention. These delegates will have to act on the nomination of a delegate at large from this senatorial district; they will probably be called upon to vote on the proposition of the Populists in line with Judge Gaston's plan; they will doubtless have to vote on a resolution in favor of referring the constitution back to the people after it is framed. These are three important matters at this time, and men ought to be sent to represent this county who are conservative and who will act for the best interests of all the people, and who will stand for the wisest policy, regardless of any past political feeling that may have been engendered in our midst. We believe the Gaston proposition ought to be accepted if made in good faith, and we believe it would be the part of wisdom to give this district over to the Populists for the purpose of that plan. We also believe it right to refer the constitution back to the people for ratification. We hope the county convention will select as its delegates to the State convention seven men who will favor these two policies.

In the second place our county convention will be called upon to decide whether we shall propose a joint primary for county delegate, or whether it will nominate a candidate and whom it will name. The delegates ought to come prepared to act on this proposition, and to base their actions on the high ground of right and good judgment. We hope to see a full convention, and we hope to see all partisan spirit subserved to the good of the one great issue before us—the future government of the State and County.

COST OF COTTON PRODUCTION.

Figures sometimes lie, but they are interesting, all the same. J. L. Watkins of the division of statistics, Department of Agriculture, has issued a 90 page pamphlet, relating to the cost of production of cotton. His calculations are based the crop of 1896—a long time ago—and not on 1898:

"On 3,335 upland plantations the average cost of cultivation was $15.42 per acre; the average total return $19.03—leaving a net profit per acre of $3.61. The average cost of picking was 4c per 100 pounds, and the average cost of producing lint cotton was 5.27 cents a pound.

Rent	$ 2 30
Plowing	2 99
Seed	23
Planting seed	23
Fertilizers	1 87
Distributing fertilizer	24
Chopping and hoeing	1 28
Picking	2 90
Ginning and pressing	1 00
Bagging and ties	54
Marketing	56
Repairing implements	39
Other expenses	39
Total	$14 93

The total return per acre was $18.08, thus leaving a total profit of $3.15 per acre. The average yield was 242 pounds of cotton, which was sold at 6.69, and 15 bushels of seed, sold at 12.6 per bushel. These Alabama figures were obtained from 350 reports sent up from 61 counties, eighty farmers reported a loss and 270 a profit.

The cost per bale of 500 pounds in Alabama is thus given:

Rent	$ 4 75
Plowing	6 25
Seed	45
Planting seed	50
Fertilizers	3 85
Distributing fertilizers	50
Chopping and hoeing	2 66
Picking	6 00
Ginning and pressing	2 05
Bagging and ties	1 10
Marketing	1 15
Repairing implements	50
Other expenses	80
Total	530 85

SINCE the Populist State executive committee has decided to propose a compromise to the Democratic State convention, there can be no impropriety in the county convention making a proposition for a joint primary to the county Populist committee. The proposition will likely be made, and we hope the Populists will meet us half-way, notwithstanding the efforts of a few rabid ones against it.

IT is a source of congratulation that the selection of the public lands for the Girls Industrial School and the Tuskegee Normal Institute is to be left to two such careful men as Messrs. Plowman and Thompson. The cost of selecting will be more than repaid by the increase in the value of lands which careful work on the part of the commissioners will accomplish.

DEMOCRATS should attend the beat meetings Saturday, and send good conservative men to the county convention.

A WISE COMPROMISE.

We publish elsewhere an account of a meeting of the Populist State executive committee, and are pleased to note that it decided to officially endorse the proposition of Judge Gaston to compromise on the question of the constitutional convention. The plan referred to is to put five Populists on the State ticket for delegates at large, and in return for that the Populists are to vote the ticket and for the convention. This action on the part of the Populists is a wise one. It shows that they are in sympathy with the main objects of the convention, and that they are willing to cooperate with the Democrats in framing a constitution which will protect all interests and satisfy all parties. It goes almost without saying that the Democratic State convention will accept the proposition, and that the plan will be perfected. In doing this the Democrats will be controlled solely by their desire to do the right and fair thing. A straight Democratic ticket could be easily elected, but it would be unwise to reject the overtures of the Populists, and it will not be done. The convention will be called and the new constitution framed in a non-partisan spirit. When it is over the white people will be together, and political integrity will be once more the rule in this State. Men will be elected on their merits, instead of by the power of their money or their ability to sway the prejudices of the viciously ignorant voter.

Since this happy solution of the question for the State at large there is all the more reason why the same solution should be made in the counties; all the more reason why the Democrats of this county should propose a joint primary and the Populists should accept.

Let us by all means rise above party lines and send a delegate from this county who is the choice of a majority of the white people.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTS.

From a compiliation by the Birmingham News, we give the following total products in the various lines for the year 1898, in Alabama:

Pig iron	tons	1.033.076
Coal	"	6.509.215
Coke	"	1.330.254
Iron ore	"	2.202.158
Limestone	"	490.858
Lime	bbls	128.361
Bauxite	tons	13.848

WE publish a communication from Rev. J. E. Bird on the dispensary question as related to the constitutional convention. The people will do well to consider this matter in selecting their delegate.

Who Will be Shelby's Delegate?

EDITOR CHRONICLE:

The talk is out that the saloon men and their friends are going to make an effort to elect delegates to the constitutional convention who will incorporate principles into the new constitution that will forever do away with the dispensary plan of regulating the whiskey traffic. This, the christian people of the State are opposed to.

We do not want the seeds of misery and death in the constitution of the State. The constitution of free, intelligent people should not contain principles that would directly or indirectly endanger the public morals, the public safety, the public policy, or the public happiness. Our understanding is, that the purpose of the constitution is to protect these very things. Of course the whiskey men are fighting any effort on the part of the State to regulate the whiskey business. But human experience teaches us that it must be regulated, or else the morality and economy of the State suffer.

We believe the higher courts have decided many times that the regulation of the liquor traffic lies entirely within the police power of the State; that the State can regulate or entirely destroy such traffic, if, in its discretion, it should think the peace, wealth, morality and happiness of its subjects demand it. We believe the wisest and best statesmen of our country have declared that a wise regulation or total prohibition of said traffic would add greatly to the public good. Then why should not the makers of a new constitution consider this question? Our people need the best constitution that the accumulated wisdom of the centuries can produce. It is foolish not to profit by the experience of the past.

Now, who is to be the delegate from Shelby to the convention? The christian people of the county demand a man who is in favor of the dispensary system of controling the liquor basiness, or something better. They want a man who is competent to help make a new constitution and then he must be vigilant that the whiskey men do not get in a provision that will destroy the power of the State to regulate said business. Such a man will receive nice treatment at the hands of the christians of this county without regard to denomination, and they are not going to split hairs as to his political colors.

It is the duty of every christian in this county to watch this matter and see that a real friend of the dispensary goes to the convention.

CURRENT CRITICISMS.

By MRS. F. W. GIST.

One of the most interesting and brilliant gatherings in Alabama for a long time was the meeting of the Alabama Press Women in Birmingham last Tuesday. We were not present, but from press reports we infer that it was a grand success, and hope much inspiration and encouragement was diffused among the various members of the Press Association. The same officers were reelected, with Mrs. W. C. Jemison as vice-president, instead of Mrs. Hildreth, who recently resigned.

There is a movement on foot to consolidate Woman's Work, the new club magazine at Montgomery, and the New Era, of Birmingham. This is what should be done by all means. We came to this conclusion before either publication was ever issued, and feel very much gratified that the editors of each have agreed upon an effort to consolidate. It is hoped that every club in the State will agree and fall into harness in the movement and make it a glorious success. The State Federation is having a hard time getting an "official organ," and this movement will make it easier than anything yet presented or thought of as an "official organ" for the Federation.

***

The State Federation of Women's Clubs will meet in Mobile April 4th. The Woman's Club of Columbiana will be reported "defunct," world without end. Speaking of meetings—press associations and Federations—we pause to remark that the most interesting meeting under our observation for the past twelve years was the organization of the Southern Lime Co. in Calera last week. All manufacturers south of the Potomac were represented and an organization affected that will, in all probability, prove to be the redemption of the lime business, which has for years been so demoralized.

The Montevallo News has changed hands again. We are looking with open-eyed expectancy for something to appear sure enough this time.

"The Head and Front of Mormon Offending," by Mrs. Frank Leslie in last issue of Frank Leslie's Monthly, is a most interesting article.

Several of our friends have enquired the why and wherefore of our absence from the columns of THE CHRONICLE recently. We have been engaged day and night in a sadder, yet pleasanter duty, that of nursing our beloved mother through a serious and critical illness.

The address of Mrs. G. C. Ball to the Travelers Protective Association in Birmingham last week was most interesting, and shows conclusively to the gunner in my arm what the future holod to my hand.

Who was it said that Mrs. Chappel Cory is the brightest and most interesting woman in the State? Not far wrong anyway.

***

We're most too far off to meddle, but we do hope Mr. Mel Drennen will get the nomination for mayor of Birmingham.

The Methodist Woman's Missionary Society is developing into a most interesting organizttion. The meeting last month was an unusually interesting one.

Mrs. Lovett's paper on missionary work in Cuba deserves especial comment; and Mrs. Jackson's letter to the society from Miss Atkinson, now in the field of work in China, was of deep interest relative to the little Chinese girl, five years of age, that the society has adopted to educate and christianize. Mrs. T. J. Weaver also read an able paper on prayer for the missionaries. The following committees were appointed by the president, Mrs. Burns:

Committee on entertainment of delegates to the district missionary meeting, to be held here fourth Sunday in May, Mrs. A. E. Jackson, Mrs. J. R. White; committee on music, Miss Kate Huyette, Miss Sallie Lawrence, Mrs. Willie White.

At the regular meeting to-day at the Methodist church several interesting papers were read, and a touching message from Bro. Tom Roberts to the society was read by Mrs. J. R. White; after which the election of officers for another year was made, and the same officers were reelected, with Mrs. White added as corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Mamie Johnston was elected delegate to the annual missionary meeting to be held at Tuskaloosa next fall.

We are much pleased to note the progress this society is making after its struggle for months with little or no encouragement, and with apparently no reward. The attendance at the meetings are not yet half as full as they should be when one considers the immense membership the Methodist church has here. There should be the livest, largest missionary society here in the district, and we trust the women will arouse more and more until this end is reached.

We return thanks to the ladies of the Methodist Missionary for the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church are due, and are hereby tendered to Mrs. Gist for courtesies shown us, and our work in offering space in THE CHRONICLE for any communications we might desire to have published concerning our society, and for the favorable mention she has made about our work.

POPULISTS AGREE

On Proposition to Compromise with Democrats.

The Age-Herald has the following account of a meeting of the Populist State executive committee held in Birmingham yesterday:

The State Populist executive committee met at the Metropolitan Hotel in this city yesterday morning for the purpose of considering the matter of the constitutional convention, chiefly as to Judge Zell Gaston's proposition for an agreement between the Populist and Democratic committees as to the selection of delegates from the State at large. There was a good attendance, and warm interest was manifested.

Among the leaders present were Judge Gaston, of Butler; Frank Baltzell, of Montgomery; Sena or G. B. Deans, of Shelby; I. L. Brock, of Cherokee, and Major J. H. Harris, of Chambers.

Concerning the very important questions involved there was an amicable but animated discussion, at the conclusion of which, the committee adopted, by a vote that was practically unanimous, the following resolution:

THE ACTION TAKEN.

"Resolved, That a committee of five, composed of Zell Gaston, J. H. Harris, I. L. Brock, N. Fuller and Frank Baltzell, be appointed to confer with the committee of five appointed by the State Democratic executive committee with reference to according the People's Party the same number of candidates from the State at large to be elected to the constitutional convention:

"That the chairman of the respective county executive committees of the People's Party of Alabama, are requested to call their committees together to take such action as they may deem proper, in regard to the question of a constitutional convention, at as early a date as they think best, unless action has already been taken.

"That this committee adjourn to meet in Montgomery on March 28th, at 8 p. m."

Frank Baltzell presided over the committee and I. L. Brock acted as secretary.

The sub-committee of the Democratic committee which is to confer with the committee of five from the Populists consists of Chairman Robert J. Lowe, of Birmingham; Sidney J. Bowie, of Anniston; R. H. Jones, of Lauderdale; Charles R. Bricken, of Crenshaw, and Sidney Lyons, of Mobile. These were appointed at the last meeting of the Democratic committee.

EFFECT FAR-REACHING.

The action of the Populist committee at this juncture in politics is of far-reaching importance. It is a triumph so far of Judge Gaston's plan and purposes for bringing the two parties together.

Both the State committees have now taken the preliminary steps towards an agreement, and it is not too much to predict that such an agreement will be formally arrived at before the end of this month.

Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, March 14.—Dr. Wm. Edwin Hall, of the New York "International" lectured in the college chapel Sunday afternoon, to the great enjoyment of his audience. His topic was, "Yesterday, Today and Forever." He will return and deliver another of his lectures Friday night.

Dr. J. B. Hawthorne arrived this morning and will lecture at the chapel tonight.

The sight-seers of the community are witnessing the removal of a disastrous wreck on the Southern today. Last night about 1 o'clock southbound fast freight broke through a small trestle about a quarter of a mile north of the station with a loud crash and completely wrecked sixteen cars, fourteen loaded with general merchandise, one oil tank car, and one car of machinery, engine and boiler, all thrown into a tangled and confused mass. The locomotive, J. W. Green, engineer, and a car of pressed brick passed the trestle safely. Only one man was hurt, a negro brakeman, whose ankle was smashed and leg broken. The wrecking crew arrived promptly, and with them Superintendent Ewing, who is personally supervising the wreck. All trains will be delayed here till late this afternoon.

COUNTY CONVENTION CALLED

Anyone who sends a year's subscription to the Atlanta Semi-Weekly Journal can get postpaid one pound of the celebrated African Limbless Cotton Seed without charge.
One pound of these seed will plant one-fifth of an acre, and with proper attention should yield enough to plant a crop.
The seed were tested in a list of thirty varieties by the Georgia Experiment Station, and a bulletin recently issued by Director Redding shows that the African Limbless Cotton produced 70 pounds more per acre than any other variety, and 96 pounds more per acre than the average of thirty leading varieties. The African Limbless Cotton produced 785 pounds of lint per acre, which is nearly four times the average on the farms of the South. This shows what high fertilization and thorough culture will do with these seed. The value of the product, counting cotton at 5 cents and seed at 13 cents a bushel, was over $45 per acre. The cost of fertilizers used was $11 77 per acre.
The Journal does not guarantee results, but the result of the test at the Experiment Station make it worth a farmer's while to try these seed when they cost him nothing.
The Journal brings you the news of the world twice a week, with hundreds of articles of special interest about the farm household, juvenile topics, and every Southern farmer should have the paper. You don't have to wait a week for the news, but get it twice as often as you do in the weeklies, which charge the same price.
THE CHRONICLE and the Journal, three papers per week, sent regularly to your address, and 1 pound of the Limbless Cotton Seed for only $1,75

The Alabama Fertilizer

Is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State to be the best all around fertilizer for cotton and corn.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Everyone of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER. The only objection ever raised to the ALABAMA FERTILIZER was that it costs too much.

The present price is no more than that of standard fertilizers. When requested, the ALABAMA FERTILIZER will put up, without extra cost, in bags treated by the Mummia Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process, thereby insuring the per cent preservation of the bags for an indefinite time, and saving the contents from loss by waste in handling. These preserved bags when emptied and thoroughly washed will be found as good and strong as new, and equally useful for other purposes. Every person, farmer, merchant or dealer vitally interested in the economical production of good crops should advocate the use of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

LAND COMMISSIONERS.

Two Appointed to Select School Lands.

We republish from the Age-Herald an account of the appointment of two commissioners to select land for the schools named under the recent act of Congress:

A joint meeting of the board of trustees of the Industrial School for White Girls, at Montevallo, and the Industrial and Agricultural School at Tuskegee, was held in the office of the Governor today, and they "set down on" the Governor.

The joint session was called by the Governor for the purpose of selecting the lands granted these schools by the National Congress. By order of the Governor, State Geologist Eugene A. Smith was on hand to furnish the board with information regarding the best public lands in the State. It was the Governor's plan to select the lands at once. The act of Congress granting the lands authorized the Governor to select them. The General Assembly of Alabama passed a bill providing for the appointment by the Governor of a commissioner to select the lands.

And herein the trouble arose. The Governor gave his promise to appoint former Congressman T. S. Plowman, commissioner. W. W. Thompson, the mayor of Tuskegee, later became an applicant for the position. The readers of the Age-Herald will remember the announcement made in these columns several days ago that the Governor had determined to make the selection of lands himself in order to evade the very troublesome appointment.

When the two boards met this morning neither side were willing to leave the selection of the lands to the Governor. True, it would cost about $2,000 to pay a commissioner, but this was preferred to the Governor's scheme.

But the boards let the Governor down easy. As each school wanted the commissioner, a motion to have two commissioners appointed prevailed. The Governor told the boards to retire and agree upon whom they desired, and that he would act upon their recommendations. The boards were also to agree upon the salary to be paid the commissioners.

The boards retired, and each held a short session. The Montevallo board was unanimous for Colonel Plowman. The salary, they agreed, should be at the rate of $2,000 a year. It will require probably six months for the commission to perform its duties.

The members of the Montevallo board present were H. Austill, of Mobile; Sol D. Bloch, of Camden; A. H. Alston, of Clayton; Thomas S. Plowman, of Talladega; W. W. Wadsworth, of Wadsworth; Frank S. Moody, of Tuscaloosa; W. R. Dortch, of Gadsden, and O. P. Fitzsimmons, of Birmingham.

The Tuskegee board endorsed W. W. Thompson for member of the board and agreed with the Montevallo board as to salary. The members of this board present were G. W. Campbell, president; C. W. Hare, Warren Logan, Lewis Adams and J. W. Adams.

The two commissioners are to prosecute their work as rapidly as possible, and when they have agreed on the 25,000 acres to be selected, they will report back to the Governor, who will call another meeting of the boards to superintend the division of the lands. The land numbers will then be sent to the secretary of interior who will Dr. Eugene A. Smith, the State Geologist, said this morning that all of the most valuable mineral lands in this State which had formerly belonged to the United States had been taken up in homestead entries. This will make the selection much more difficult, as the commission will want the best of that remaining. Colonel Plowman said he believed that lands could be selected which would readily sell for at least $4 per acre. This would net the schools $50,000 each.

The board passed resolutions thanking President Reynolds and President Washington for their splendid work in securing the passage of the bill granting the lands through Congress.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hardy, of Calera, were in the city today.

Flushed checks, throbbing temples, nausea, lassitude, lost appetite, sallow complexion, pimples, blotches, are warnings. Take Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine.

Trains on the Southern were delayed Tuesday on account of a wreck which occurred Monday night this side of Montevallo. Fourteen freight cars were ditched, and one of the train hands had a leg broken.

Ladies desiring a contented and happy old age should use Simmons Vine Wine or Tablets, commencing at 40 years old and continue during the Change of Life.

The southbound passenger on the Southern did not reach this place until 12 o'clock last night, the recent heavy rains doing considerable damage to the road between here and Rome.

Mrs. James Atwater, Elba, Ala., writes: Have used Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine five years on myself and family with wonderful results. It cures sour stomach, headache, constipation and liver complain'. I think it is far beyond the cheap stuff sold by Zeilin and that of other folks who are trying to deceive the people.

In the course of a few days our job department will be somewhat enlarged by the addition of a complete and up-to-date series of new type, which will look very nice on business cards and other stationery which we are expecting daily.

Rev. S. N. Burns filled his regular appointment at the Methodist church Sunday morning. He announced that beginning with the fourth Sunday in the present month he would preach on the fourth Sunday night in each month hereafter in addition to his regular work.

The largest returns yet made from an investment seem to have been realized by Mr. J. P. Hickman, of Monticello, Ga. We give his experience: "I have been using Simmons Liver Regulator in my house for six years and have not had a doctor for my family in that time. I have five children and one dollar's worth of Simmons Liver Regulator saves a one hundred dollar doctor's bill."

Fire in Central Hotel.

Tuesday night about 8 o'clock the alarm of fire was given at the Central Hotel, and for a few minutes the destruction of the building was seriously threatened. The blaze started in a clothes press, among some towels and napkins, in rather a mysterious manner, but was extinguished before the walls of the room was on fire. Mrs. Weaver was away from home, and it was in her room that the blaze started. No fire had been in the room, nor even a light. A servant had just been in to get towels and napkins, but denied that he even struck a match while in there. The family and guests were at supper at the time. No serious damage was done, owing to the prompt work of those who quickly gathered after the alarm.

Cotton Statement.

The cotton season is about over with our merchants, and there will be very little more handled here. Up to the present time there has been bought by the merchants of this place the following number of bales:

Columbiana Mercantile Co.....	393
Total.....	1,902

This is but very little, if any, in advance of last year's transactions.

L. B. Riddle went up to Wilsonville Sunday.

The young people of Fourmile met at the new Center schoolhouse Saturday night and organized a debating society. Subject for debate next Saturday night, 18th instant: "Resolved, That stock law would be beneficial to beat 9." Everybody invited to attend, the ladies especially. We hope for success in this venture, and after awhile we want to have the Tiptop society. Please lend a helping hand.

Some of our friends say they don't want a stock law, that it is the worst thing ever sent on the people. Well, who is to blame? The people are to blame with the whole thing. We must consider these things before we send a man to make laws for us. Let us elect a Democrat next time and see what he will do for us.

Kidney Complexion.

The pale, sallow, sunken-cheeked, distressed-looking people you so often meet are afflicted with kidney complexion.

They may also have indigestion, or suffer from sleeplessness, rheumatism, neuralgia, brain trouble, nervous exhaustion, and sometimes the heart acts badly.

The cause is weak, unhealthy kidneys.

Usually the sufferer from kidney disease does not find out what the trouble it until it is almost too late, because the first symptoms are so like mild sickness that they do not think they need a medicine or doctor until they find themselves sick in bed.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root will build up and strengthen their weak and diseased kidneys, purify their diseased, kidney-poisoned blood, clear their complexion and soon they will enjoy better health.

You can get the regular sizes at the drug store at 50 cents and $1, or you may first prove for yourself the wonderful virtues of this great discovery. Swamp Root, by sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle and a book lately free by mail. When writing kindly mention that you read this liberal offer in THE CHRONICLE.

No other medicine builds up and fortifies the system against miscarriage as well as Simmons Squaw Vine or Tablets.

Advice to Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand.

These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

What are these remedies? Fresh air, proper food and

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak throats, weak lungs and consumption in all its stages.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Something About the Greatest Weekly Newspaper in the Country.

REDUCED RATE FOR TWO PAPERS.

Take Your Home Paper and The Constitution and be Happy.

We call special attention to our clubbing arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing price of the two papers being only $1.50 per year, subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the claim of circulation made by The Constitution and put up a forfeit of $100 that it could be disproved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm. Mr. George P. Rowell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has just been brought to a close, the reports of no newspaper in the South could compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative sailed with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and of the 120 correspondents who went to Cuba, he was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. Its special representative also accompanied the fleet in the Caribbean sea, and its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with the promptness of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manila, the death of Ensign Bagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all given in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

The Weekly Constitution makes a special feature of its agricultural page, which is presided over by Colonel R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment farm, and a man who is recognized as an expert on all agricultural topics. He gives a full page every week on agricultural matters. A page is devoted to the women and a page to children, these two departments being presided over by Mrs. William King.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscriptions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every southern home!

A GREAT MISSING WORD CONTEST

The Chronicle Offers a New Plan to Its Subscribers who Take The Constitution in Combination Offer.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE SEASON.

We take pleasure in announcing a missing ta, Ga. This is the sentence:

It is taken from a charming, living Southern author, and is offered to test the knowledge of our people of their own writers. The missing word is a plain, every-day English word, not a compound word, nor a proper name and is used in its ordinary acceptation. The prize to be given will be 10 per cent of all the subscriptions received from contestants by the Constitution, and will be paid by the Constitution. That paper has paid on missing word contests alone nearly $10,000 in cash prizes. To one party, M. L. Brittain, was given a check for $1,035.50 for one successful guess; others have received large sums ranging from $585 to $100 on similar propositions. This contest is to run until April 1, 1899, at which time the results will be promptly and properly announced.

Every subscriber who takes advantage of our clubbing offer with The Constitution may enter his own word to fill the blank in the sentence, and must be given to us at the time of the subscription so we can forward it together with his order for the Constitution. It is a plain, fair plan and we feel sure many will hunt up the word or take a shot at it. The subscription orders under this combination offer must be sent directly to this office and not to the Constitution. We will forward everything ourselves.

"Out of Sight Out of Mind."

In other months we forget the harsh winds of Spring. But they have their use, as some say, to blow out the bad air accumulated after Winter storms and Spring thaws. There is far more important accumulation of badness in the veins and arteries of humanity, which needs Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This great Spring Medicine clarifies the blood as nothing else can. It cures scrofula, kidney disease, liver troubles, rheumatism and kindred ailments. Thus it gives perfect health, strength and appetite for months to come.

Kidneys—"My kidneys troubled me, and on advice took Hood's Sarsaparilla which gave prompt relief, better appetite. My sleep is refreshing. It cured my wife also." MICHAEL BOYLE, 3473 Denny Street, Pittsburg, Pa.

Dyspepsia—"Complicated with liver and kidney trouble, I suffered for years with dyspepsia, with severe pains. Hood's Sarsaparilla made me strong and hearty." J. B. EMERTON, Main Street, Auburn, Me.

Hip Disease—"Five running sores on my hip caused me to use crutches. Was confined to bed every winter. Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my life, as it cured me perfectly. Am strong and well." ANNIE ROBERT, 49 Fourth St., Fall River, Mass.

NOTES OF SCIENCE.

M. Pierre Germain, of the French telephone service, is the inventor of a new load-speaking telephone, through which it is said that speech can be heard a hundred yards from the instrument. A thorough test is now being made by the French minister of commerce, and much commercial value from the invention is anticipated.

Protective mimicry, that cunning device of nature to preserve animals from their enemies, is well shown in the eggs of certain fishes, notably the California shark, known as Gryopleurodus francisci. The shark is of a sluggish habit, lurking among rocks, and its dark egg resembles a leaf of kelp or seaweed folded up spirally. It is deposited among the beds of kelp, and clings to the leaves by the edges of the spirals. The young shark bursts open the end of the egg and swims away. Another shark's egg of the Pacific coast has tentacles, which clasp the seaweed, and also imitate its appearance.

SINGULAR STATEMENT.

From Mrs. Rank to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter to Mrs. Pinkham from Mrs. M. RANK, No. 2,354 East Susquehanna Ave., Philadelphia, Pa., is a remarkable statement of relief from utter discouragement. She says:

"I never can find words with which to thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

"Some years ago I had womb trouble and doctored for a long time, not seeing any improvement. At times I would feel well enough, and other times was miserable. So it went on until last October, I felt something terrible creeping over me, I knew not what, but kept getting worse. I can hardly explain my feelings at that time. I was so depressed in spirits that I did not wish to live, although I had everything to live for. Had hysteria, was very nervous; could not sleep and was not safe to be left alone.

"Indeed, I thought I would lose my mind. No one knows what I endured.

"I continued this way until the last of February, when I saw in a paper a testimonial of a lady whose case was similar to mine, and who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I determined to try it, and felt better after the first dose. I continued taking it, and to-day am a well woman, and can say from my heart, 'Thank God for such a medicine.'"

Mrs. Pinkham invites all suffering women to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice. All such letters are seen and answered by women only.

Cleaning Out Old Apple Trees.

When a tree dies in an orchard, or becomes so old that it is not worth while to keep it longer, it is better to dig it out than to cut it down, leaving a stump that will be in the way for years. Dig each side of the tree so as to uncover as many roots four or five feet from its trunk as possible. Then go to the top of the tree and hitch a chain to one of the stoutest limbs, and have a horse at the other end of the chain to pull. After cutting off as many roots as you can get at, start the horse, and the tree will come over. If in pulling some lower roots will be found that hold the tree it is easy to cut them off with an old, dull axe. The roots of trees are generally more easy to cut than the parts exposed to light and air above ground. Besides, the tree as a lever strains the roots so that it is more easy to cut them. Many a man has plowed, cultivated and mowed around stumps, when, if he had taken out the tree whole, he would have a good piece of ground where the stump was, and it would have cost him comparatively little more labor.

Proper Grinding of Food.

Most dairymen and farmers who feed cattle in any quantity agree that ground food is a decided saving in the cost of rations besides being of great benefit to cows in showing an increase of milk. When grains, and especially corn, are to be ground care should be taken that the work is done by a machine that will crush the feed thoroughly—not cut, but mash it. In this way it is easily digested, while if simply cut the particles are sharp, irritating to the digestive organs and apt to cause scours. Whether the feed be ground fine or coarse is a matter of opinion, although of course the animal will masticate it more or less, and if fine and bolted by the animal it will do no particular harm. As corn is so largely used for feed, particularly when ground food is used, much discussion has been raised as to whether the cob should be ground and fed with the grain. While it is admitted that the cob has no nutritive value, it may be used when bran is not to be had to lighten the heavier grain. The main point is to have all grain food mashed rather than cut in the grinding and have it of the best grade.

A Mistake That Is Made.

Most beginners can easily trace their mistakes with poultry to a desire to breed and raise exhibition fowls, which they can send to the show room. Poultry breeders of years of experience, who have spent both time and money, find it difficult indeed to get even a small per cent. of show birds from a large flock. Still the novice, who does not even know when he has a good fowl, will hazard his time trying to do what others with a knowledge of the subject find so difficult to accomplish. Exhibition birds are truly the life of our pure bred fowls, but if the average beginner will only content himself to try and produce what is termed good breeding stock and leave the show birds to those with more experience, the cry of failure will not be so often heard. The exhibitors of show birds, though, are much to blame for the beginner's failure, because they encourage the belief that what they have done others can easily do. Such is not the case, and the sooner we learn to be content with good, vigorous breeding stock, the better it will be for everyone interested in the business of poultry keeping.—Farm and Home.

Potatoes for Seed.

For years there has been an annual controversy over the question of the superiority of northern grown seed potatoes for planting. The several experiment stations have reported results of tests favorable to both sides of the question. The hard-headed potato specialist makes good his argument in favor of northern grown potatoes for seed in this manner: Undoubtedly the climate of the north is more favorable to the growth of the Irish or white potato than that of the south, and it naturally follows that the tubers intended for seed will not sprout as quickly in the north as in the warmer climate of the south, hence lose none of the vitality necessary to make good top growth. This seems plausible and the same object, retarding the sprouts, may doubtless be accomplished by keeping the tubers in cold storage. This retarding of sprouting is the foundation for the claim that the second crop of potatoes is best for seed purposes, for ripening later in the season they naturally sprout later than the earlier matured tubers under similar conditions of temperature. In the south obtaining the second crop for seed is an easy matter and is well worthy the attention of southern potato growers. In the middle states the second planting is done about the middle of July, the seed being selected from the first crop harvested early in the month and spread out on the barn floor in the sun for ten days or two weeks to be "sun-sprouted." The tubers from this second crop are as good for the following season's planting as seed tubers from the far north.—Atlanta Journal.

Corn and Melon Insects.

An insect which does much injury to corn is the corn ear worm. This pest is very common throughout the United States. It not only attacks corn, but is known as the boil worm of the south, where it does a great deal of harm to cotton by eating into the boils of cotton and destroying them. It is also known occasionally as a tomato worm, and besides bores into the stems of several kinds of plants. The insect is double brooded in the northern part of the United States, and three-brooded in the southern part. In some sections it is destroyed by placing a lantern in the field, under which are set pans or plates containing water and kerosene, the lantern attracting the moths before their eggs are laid, and by their flutterings about they finally become lodged in the pan of water and kerosene below, and are killed. In the case of the insect as an enemy of corn, it can be destroyed to a considerable extent by seeking out and destroying the worms as they are found in the corn, but the best remedy by far is in the protection of blackbirds, which hunt and destroy the worms while they are working in the ends of the corn ears.

The melon louse can be destroyed by using a spray of kerosene emulsion on the vines attacked by it. The formula for making this emulsion has been so often described in the various reports of the department of agriculture and the various experiment stations throughout the country, that it is not necessary to repeat it here. It is advisable in spraying for this louse to have some sort of extension arrangement by which the spray can be applied to the under surfaces of the leaves.

Experience In Applying Manures.

During the fall of 1886 I moved quite a lot of manure just as it was taken from the stables. Not caring to pile it so late I put it into the spreader and applied it to the outside of a field—began and encircled the entire field. I had enough to cover a strip eight rods wide around the field. We had an open winter with much rain. Before spring it was apparent that the manure was having a very beneficial effect. By the time I could get on the ground to put the field in a spring crop quite a growth of weeds and grass had sprung up. It was my intention to finish manuring the field in the spring, but a press of farm work and late spring prevented.

There was a most marked showing of the fall manuring. The second season I planted a later crop and in May finished the field. I applied a coating of manure consisting of two loads of well-rotted to one of the fresh. A dry summer followed and I was disappointed in the result of the early summer dressing, but the effect of the fall dressing was very marked, and the crops were much better on that part manured 18 months before. These are cold facts.

My experience quite agrees with that of A. A. Southwick in a recent issue. I have purchased and spread thousands of loads. I plead experience as a justification in differing from Mr. Read. If the commonly accepted theory about manure and manuring be true our waste and refuse matter would pollute the soil. The new light shining for the scientific farmer is proving to be the truth, and answers "What is manure?" "What is humus?" "How does humus perform a part second only to the soil itself in converting manures and fertilizing matter into available plant food?" The new philosophy proves that the soil is only a medium, that the countless numbers of bacteria attack manurial matter in the warmer season in the field and in the manure heap at all seasons, digest it and reconvert it into plant food. It tells how to build up the soils so as to make more plants. More plants mean more animals, more animals mean more gold for the farmer, and more manure to make the soil still richer.—Robert C. Morris in New England Homestead.

Appetizing Rations for Cows.

A variety in the ration makes the feeds more palatable, inducing the cow to eat a greater quantity and yield more milk. Whatever makes the feed taste better or makes it more enjoyable to the cow increases its value for milk production. Early cut hay is best for the dairy cow, not only because it contains more protein than that cut late, but because its aroma and flavor make it more palatable to the cow. The appetizing effect from the early cutting and careful curing of all forage crops increases their feed value for milk production. Freshly harvested and freshly ground grain are the most palatable to the dairy cow and will give best results. Dairymen who grind feed should grind often, as grain that has lost its freshness is not the best relished by the cow.

Often the dairyman has a large quantity of coarse, rather unpalatable, rough fodders, such as corn fodder and overripe or slightly damaged hay, which he must feed, and has only a limited quantity of choice roughness to feed with it. In this case, best results can be secured by giving the more palatable roughness in the morning or with the grain night and morning and feeding the poorer roughage as the last feed at night, to be eaten at the cow's pleasure during the night, or else put in racks in the yard for midday meals. Palatable feed in the morning gives a contented cow through the day, and this contentment brings more milk.

When several kinds of feed are given it is usual to throw them together into the manger and let the cow eat at will. This method does not secure the highest milk yield. [Bulletin 81, Kansas experiment station.] You do not want your soup and pie served together on the same plate, and neither does the cow like this method of serving her food. If all the feedstuffs for a meal are thrown together, the most palatable are eaten first. In separating and eating these, the others are "mussed" over and when the cow comes to eat them, they do not taste good and she will not eat enough to produce the greatest milk yield. We like to feed our most palatable roughness and give this just before the milkers go to their meal. When the milkers come back from eating, the cows have finished their first feed and the less palatable roughness can then be given them. It will not then have been slobbered on, and it will be better relished and more of it eaten. This method of feeding requires time and care, but it pays.

If the cows are given their rough feeds in racks out of doors, it will pay to put feed in these racks often, so that the feed will be clean and appetizing. Mangers, feed troughs and racks should be kept clean and fresh from old, soiled feed, both as a matter of health and because the food in a clean manger smells and tastes better. The dairyman's rule should be to harvest feed in its most palatable form and give it to the cows in the most appetizing manner.—American Agriculturist.

Its Natural Effect.

"How many of these sheep got out of here?" asked the angry farmer.

"I don't know," replied the new hired man, rubbing his eyes. "After I'd watched five or six of 'em jump over the fence I seemed to lose the count. That always puts me to sleep."—Chicago Tribune.

AN EXCELLENT COMBINATION.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERPRISE BASED ON MERITS.

The Importance of Informing the Public of the Value of an Article Through the Leading Newspapers.

The few remedies which have attained to wide-world fame, as truly beneficial in effect and giving satisfaction to millions of people everywhere, are the products of the knowledge of the most eminent physicians, and presented in the form most acceptable to the human system by the skill of the world's great chemists; and one of the most successful examples is the Syrup of Figs manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Unlike a host of imitations and cheap substitutes, Syrup of Figs is permanently beneficial in its effects, and therefore lives and promotes good health, while inferior preparations are being cast aside and forgotten. In olden times if a remedy gave temporary relief to individuals here and there, it was thought good, but now-a-days a laxative remedy must give satisfaction to all. If you have never used Syrup of Figs, give it a trial; you will be pleased with it, and recommend it to your friends or to any who suffer from constipation, over-feeding, colds, headaches, biliousness, or other ills resulting from an inactive condition of the kidneys, liver and bowels.

In the process of manufacturing the pleasant family laxative made by the California Fig Syrup Co., and named Syrup of Figs, figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste; but the medicinal properties of the remedy are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinally laxative and to act most beneficially. As the true and original remedy, named Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The Company has selected for years past the leading publications of the United States through which to inform the public of the merits of its remedy.

Interesting Excavations.

M. Gayet, a Frenchman, has made interesting excavations on the site of ancient Antinoe, in Egypt, which was built by Hadrian 240 A. D., and flourished in Roman times. He has discovered a number of Egyptian temples, including an oratory of the date 1822 B. C.; the field of offerings made by pilgrims to the shrine of Antinous, and the famous Necropolis. In the Byzantine portion of the latter he has unearthed some well preserved mummies, each clad in gray attire and wearing a portrait mask. Among them is that of Empress Sabine, wife of Hadrian, with her little curly locks forming a sort of diadem to her brow. The dresses will be of much value to costumers, especially as their colors are fresh. They consist in general of a white shirt, embroidered with flowers, etc.; a scarlet robe, and a mantle of ornamented cloth. The footgear is black stockings, with leather shoes. The headgear is a turban, trimmed with lace. Jewelry, vases, statuettes, zithers, mirrors, etc., were found along with these. Apparently the Graeco-Roman women of Antinoe were all blonde, but analysis of their hair shows that they dyed with henna.

PHILIPPINE WOMEN.

They Have Graces of Form and Figure and Pretty Eyes.

Much has already been written concerning the women of the Philippines, for the subject is engaging, says a Manila letter in Collier's Weekly. For all their dark faces they have figures the grace of which is accentuated by the very garments they wear. They have lustrous dark eyes and luxuriant black hair, in which they take great pride; it is long, thick and glossy, anointed with cocoanut oil, cleaned and washed with lime juice, and usually worn in a coil or knot held by a golden comb or ornamented pins.

Hats and bonnets are unknown among the Filipinos, so no doubt many an American husband wishes he lived here. The native women have finely shaped feet that never knew a stocking, they wear low slippers of an Oriental pattern, sometimes wooden shoes. The dress of a Filipino woman usually consists of a single garment with wide sleeves; a pina-cloth handkerchief is generally worn around the neck, and every one wears a rosary or a crucifix. Housekeeping in the native section is quite primitive in its details. Lovemaking, courtship and marriage are here conducted in the manner common to Oriental lands, the lover serving the father for his future wife. Fifteen years is the customary age for marriage here in the Philippines.

Husbands Guaranteed.

There is one country in the world where all of the women, no matter how plain they may be, can be certain of securing husbands. In fact, this is guaranteed to them by law. This country, where none need remain in single blessedness is Siam. There every woman who has reached a certain age without finding a husband, can, if she will only express the wish, be registered as one of the "young daughters of the king," that is, she is placed under royal protection, and the king must provide her with a husband. This duty is discharged very simply. If any male Siamese commits a crime, or even is guilty of a misdemeanor, he is neither fined nor sent to prison, but is compelled to marry one of the women officially under the protection of the king. If their violation of law has not been very serious they are permitted to make a selection from among these "royal daughters," but if the crime has been a grave one the malefactor is compelled to marry that one selected by the court, and, of course, she is the ugliest or worst-tempered of them all. Owing to this ingenious system no woman in Siam need go through the world unmarried, but perhaps some of the ladies from New England—and others—would prefer not to marry under conditions such as these.

Modern Science Recognizes RHEUMATISM as a Disease of the Blood

There is a popular idea that this disease is caused by exposure to cold, and that some localities are infected with it more than others. Such conditions frequently promote the development of the disease, but from the fact that this ailment runs in certain families, it is shown to be hereditary, and consequently a disease of the blood.

Among the oldest and best known residents of Bluffs, Ill., is Adam Vangundy. He has always been prominently identified with the interests of that place. He was the first President of the Board of Trustees, and for a long time has been a Justice of the Peace. He says: "I had been a sufferer of rheumatism for a number of years and the pain at times was very intense. I tried all the proprietary medicines I could think or hear of, but received no relief.

"I finally placed my case with several physicians and doctored with them for some time, but they failed to do me any good. Finally, with my hopes of relief nearly exhausted I read an article regarding Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which induced me to try them. I was anxious to get rid of the terrible disease and bought two boxes of the pills, I began using them about March, 1897. After I had taken two boxes I was completely cured, and the pain has never returned. I think it is the best medicine I have ever taken, and am willing at any time to testify to its good merits."—Bluffs (Ill.) Times.

Tobacco Consumption.

Enough persons yet chew tobacco to warrant the making of over 185,000,000 pounds of plug and 12,000,000 of fine cut, while the snuff takers, who seem obsolete, took nearly 14,000,000 pounds to titulate their nostrils. In 1897 there were 4,135,594,125 cigars made, and just a little less than 5,000,000,000 of cigarettes and little cigars, or in all 9,062,871,139. That means 120 for each man, woman and child in the country; but this is nothing when we know that there are cigarette fiends who will consume 7,000 to 10,000 each in a year, and a cigar smoker of ordinary habit will take anywhere from 1,000 to 1,500 cigars a year.

Bridges-Tree's photo-theodolite for photographic surveying, which is in use by the United States geographical survey, has been adopted by the Indian meteorological department, the French, German and other governments. Maps may readily be made from the photographs obtained, and experiments conducted in various universities throughout the world seem to indicate a great future for the method.

RUSSELL'S BIG BOLL PROLIFIC COTTON SEED.

The most prolific variety of cotton ever produced. Makes from one to two bales of cotton per acre on ordinary land. On account of large size bolls this cotton can be gathered at much less expense, a picker being able to pick twice as much of this cotton. This is a distinct variety of cotton from any other. The seeds are large and dark green. This cotton took first rank at the Experiment Stations of Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi. Mr. Russell made in '97 42 bales on 14 acres; in '98, made 78 bales with one mule. Buy and plant these seed and make twice as much cotton as you would of other cotton. All seed are select and from Mr. Russell's farm. Price of seed, 1 bu. $1.50; 5 bu. lots, $1.25 per bu.; 10 bu. or more, $1.00 per bu. Send money order, registered letter or check to J. T. THE CHRONICLE.

Democratic at all Times and Under all Circumstances--Consequently Opposed to Monopolies.

VOL. XIV. COLUMBIANA, SHELBY COUNTY, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1899. NO. 14.

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF ALABAMA

Storm Does Great Damage.

A disastrous cyclone passed through the upper part of Cleburne county, ninety miles east of Birmingham, Saturday night, ten lives being lost and several persons injured. Dwellings, barns, fences and everything in the track of the powerful wind were razed to the ground as though mere toys.

The dwelling house of Lewis Coffee, tax assessor of Cleburne county, was picked up bodily and carried some distance before it was dashed to the ground a mass of broken timbers and bleeding human bodies. Twelve people were living in the house at the time, and Coffee, together with nine members of his family, were killed.

The path of the cyclone was between the towns of Heflin and Edwardsville, and before the wind had spent its fury an awful sight of devastation was left as a reminder of its terrible force.

AT SELMA.

The terrific wind storm passed over Selma at 8 o'clock Saturday night. It played a most remarkable prank with the spire of the First Methodist church. The steeple, which is about thirty-five feet high and octagon in shape, was hurled from its base above the roof of the church and sent like the stick of a sky rocket through the roof and about six feet into the floor above the Sunday school room, leaving it standing at an angle of about 45 degrees. Fortunately no one was injured.

MANY HOMES DESTROYED.

The cyclone passed through Hazle Green, a small town in the northern part of Madison county, at 6 o'clock Saturday evening and destroyed many homes.

Heavy rains all day have swelled the creeks and small rivers of Madison county to unusual proportions, and many bridges have been swept away. People in the lowlands, in the southern part of the county, will lose much property.

Water covered portions of several streets in Huntsville, and trains at the Southern railway depot ploughed through water fifteen inches deep.

The President Declines.

For the second time President McKinley has declined an invitation to visit Birmingham. Early in the summer when there was talk of having a peace jubilee he was invited to come, but refused. Several weeks ago when it was announced that he would make a southern trip an invitation was extended him by the Commercial club. Saturday the following reply was received by J. A. VanHoose, chairman of the special committee on invitation:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, March 13, 1899.

Dy Dear Sir—The president has received your favor of the 8th instant, and requests me to express his regret that his engagements are such as to prevent him from giving himself the pleasure of accepting the very cordial invitation of your club to visit Birmingham.

Assuring you and your associates of the committee that the president appreciates your courtesy in this matter, believe me, very truly yours,

J. A. PORTER,
Secretary to the President.

Uneasiness About Dr. Crowe.

Friends of Dr. Crowe, state chairman of the populist executive committee, are apprehensive for his safety. He went over to Madrid, Spain, early in January, it being said that he went for the purpose of giving assistance to a Spanish relative, who was an officer under Campos, and who was charged with having deserted and captured in battle. It is stated that the officer sent a letter to Crowe's father, and the latter being dead, it fell into Dr. Crowe's hands. The latter begged for assistance, and also protection of a daughter who was about grown. Crowe got papers from the state department at Washington, and also from Consul General Osborn, at London. He went to Spain as an Englishman. Whether he was successful or not cannot be learned.

State Board of Examiners Appointed.

Superintendent of Education Abercrombie has announced the appointment of President John L. Dodson, of Oxford college, and Principal G. W. Brock, of the Alexander City high school, who with himself, constitute the state board of examiners for the public school teachers of the state. The new law requires that all teachers must stand examinations regardless of any diplomas they may have. The members of the state board of examiners are allowed $5 per day, and are not allowed to sit exceeding two hundred days in the year.

Third Alabama Mustered Out.

The Third Alabama regiment, colored, was mustered out at Anniston Sunday and Monday. Few of the men live in Anniston and nearly all are leaving for their homes in other portions of the state. This is their home state and it has been impressed upon them both by officers and white and colored friends that they should uphold the good name of the regiment and of their race in Alabama by not pursuing the riotous course of the negroes of other regiments when mustered out.

The field hospital has closed, the patients being transferred to the regimental hospitals. The field hospital equipment and supplies were delivered to the camp quartermaster and nothing remains but the magnificent buildings in charge of a hospital steward and two privates.

The mustering out of the Third Alabama will leave only eight companies of the Second infantry in Anniston, and they will go to Savannah this week.

Selected Their Delegates.

In the democratic primaries held in Jefferson county for the purpose of selecting delegates to the constitutional convention to be held in August, the following have the number of votes to be elected: Frank S. White, Hugh Morrow, John P. Tillman, Reuben F. Kolb, Lee C. Bradley, Robert Lowe. All are Birmingham people and are prominent.

New Jewish Temple.

The contract has been awarded for the erection of a new Jewish temple in Selma. The temple is to be built of pressed brick and stone, and is to cost in the neighborhood of $15,000. It will be 55x89 feet, and will be 52 feet in height, surmounted by a dome. The building is to be ready for occupancy by June 1st, and will be handsomely finished.

Accidently Shot.

Milton High, a prominent young man of the southern part of Madison county, was accidentally shot Saturday afternoon while fox hunting. He laid his gun down on a large rock, and in some way it was discharged, the entire load of shot entering his right arm. Amputation will probably be necessary.

CORONER'S JURY MAKES VERDICT

Hot Springs Riot Inquest Has Reached a Temporary Conclusion.

At Hot Springs, the coroner's jury in the killing of Thomas Toler, chief of police; Thomas Goslee, police sergeant; J. E. Hart, city detective, and Louis Hinkle in that city Thursday, after being in session six hours, rendered a verdict against Sheriff Coffee, William and Ed Spears and Will Watt, embracing the following propositions:

"It was not justifiable homicide or manslaughter, but all should be committed to jail without bail to await the action of the grand jury, which meets in about ten days."

PEACE TREATY SIGNED.

Articles of Agreement Between Spain and United States Officially Approved.

A Madrid special says: The queen regent has signed the treaty of peace between Spain and the United States. The signed treaty will be forwarded to the French ambassador at Washington, M. Jules Cambon, for exchange with the one signed by President McKinley. No decree on the subject will be published in the official gazette.

Jury Gives $12,500 For an Arm.

An important damage suit was decided at Meridian, Miss., Saturday, when the jury, which had for a week been hearing the case of E. T. Clements against the Alabama Great Southern and New Orleans and Northeastern railroads, brought in a verdict of $12,500 in favor of the plaintiff. Clements was a brakeman. About a year ago he was on a car which was being transferred from the Alabama Great Southern to the New Orleans and Northeastern, at Meridian. It was a dark night, and in putting on the brakes Clements fell between the cars and had one of his arms cut off. It developed that there was a defect in the brake.

Veterans Will Attend

At Huntsville, Egbert J. Jones camp, United States Confederate Veterans, held a meeting last Saturday night and decided to have a large representation at the approaching reunion at Charleston. Nearly all of the members paid their dues so as to be eligible to attend the reunion as veterans.

TEN BODIES BURIED IN ONE GRAVE

Additional Details of Saturday's Tornado In Cleburne County, Ala.

Additional details of Saturday night's cyclone near Edwardsville have been received. The following is a list of the dead and wounded so far as known:

Dead: Lewis Coffey, aged 55, tax assessor of Cleburne county, and the following members of his family: Mrs. Coffey, aged 46; Leila, aged 22; James, aged 20; Lula, aged 18; Jacob, aged 13; Deveroe, aged 8; Dollie, aged 10; Grover, aged 6; John, aged 4; unknown woman near Heflin.

Wounded: Bessie Coffey, aged 12, daughter of Lewis Coffey; will die; Mrs. Runnells, aged 75; will die; Myrline Stanzell, aged 5; will probably die. Mrs. J. H. Cason, Tom Runnells, Wood Stanzell, Andrew Stiepan, all seriously hurt; Mary Stiepan, Lizzie Runnells, J. H. Cason, Georgia Stanzell, Gainesville Stanzell, Tosh Stanzell, Coleman Stanzell, all badly bruised.

Several other persons were more or less seriously injured, but their names are not known. The path of the storm was about 200 yards wide and it traversed the country for twelve miles, beginning in the northern part of Cleburne county, near Iron City, and moving southward. Those who saw it say that there was an immense funnel-shaped cloud and that it bounded along like a rubber ball, rising at intervals and leaping for several hundred yards without any damage. Then when it descended it would pick up houses and crush them to pieces, uproot trees or twist them off level with the ground and sweep all before it.

In the same neighborhood the residences of J. W. Wilder, J. H. Cason, Andrew Stiepen and Ben Stanzell were wrecked and all their occupants injured. Near Heflin a white woman, whose name cannot be learned, was killed and five persons in the same family were injured. It is estimated that about fifty building were destroyed, between twenty and twenty-five persons injured and over a score of farms devastated.

The funeral of the Coffee family occurred Sunday. Ten bodies, some of them mangled beyond recognition, were buried in one grave.

A STORM IN CHILTON COUNTY.

Eleven Houses Blown Down and Two Negro Boys Killed.

A terrific windstorm, accompanied by rain and hail, passed through the extensive plantation of Samuel Curry in Chilton county Saturday night. Eleven tenement houses were blown down and two negro boys were killed. Seventeen other tenants were injured.

Cyclone in Georgia.

A special from Waynesboro, Ga., says a cyclone passed over Burke county at 3 o'clock Sunday morning. In the vicinity of Waynesboro four people were killed. Several houses were demolished and much damage done. There were eleven houses blown down on Walker McCatchern's farm, six miles from Waynesboro. One house, near town, was completely demolished, while it was occupied by eight negroes, but they all escaped uninjured.

Fatalities in Mississippi.

At Bethlehem, Miss., Will Wickes' house was destroyed by a tornado and a child killed. Lee Lemmons was hurt by a falling limb. On Dr. R. J. McCall's place the roof was torn from the residence of Mrs. Lemmons.

PATRICK WALSH DEAD.

The Distinguished Georgian Succumbs to Nervous Prostration.

Hon. Patrick Walsh, ex-United States senator and mayor of Augusta, Ga., died at his residence Sunday after three months' illness of nervous prostration. Mayor Walsh was one of the most prominent men in Georgia and had national recognition as an earnest champion of southern development and perhaps the best authority on the material resources and manufacturing products of the south.

Mr. Walsh was born in Ireland, January 1, 1840. At 12 he was apprenticed in the Charleston Evening News and in due time became a journeyman printer. He came to Augusta in 1862, and has ever since been identified with the press of the city for twenty-five years past as editor and proprietor of the Augusta Chronicle.

Roasted His Own Child.

Louis Lumpkin, a negro living near Scottsboro, Alabama, is under arrest charged with a most heinous crime, that of roasting his little grandson over a fire. The boy is a little fellow abou 8 years of age, and Lumpkin, it is charged, held the naked child over an open fireplace, burning him so badly that the physicians say he cannot recover. The people are highly indignant over the affair.

The Iris Arrives at Manila.

The United States distilling ship Iris, which left Honolulu for Manila with the United States battleship Oregon on February 20, arrived at Manila Sunday.

Spain May Protest.

Senor Silvela, premier and minister of foreign affairs at Madrid, had a conference Sunday with the French ambassador regarding the liberation of Spanish prisoners in the hands of the Filipinos. Spain, it is reported, has determined to protest to the civilized world against the attitude of the Americans in hindering the efforts of Gen. Rios, Spanish commander in the Philippines, to liberate the prisoners.

AGUINALDO GROWS FURIOUS

Executes Those Leaders Who Favor Cessation of Hostilities.

GENERAL LAGARDA EXECUTED BY REBELS.

Report From General Otis—Gunboats Have Complete Possession of the Laguna de Bay—Two Hundred Insurgents Killed—Attack Repulsed.

MANILA, PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.—It is reported on hitherto reliable authority that Aguinaldo is taking extreme measures to suppress signs calculated to cause a cessation of hostilities. Twelve adherents of the plan of independence, residents of Manila, have been condemned to death because they were out advising surrender and that all loyal Filipinos have been called upon to perform the national service of dispatching them.

On Friday last General Lagarda visited Malolos for the purpose of advising Aguinaldo to quit. He argued with the insurgent leader and attempted to convince him of the folly of his persistence in the face of overwhelming odds.

Aguinaldo was furious at the advice and ordered General Lagarda to be executed immediately. The unfortunate general was promptly decapitated.

GEN. OTIS' REPORT.

Gunboats Have Complete Possession of Laguna De Bay.

The war department Sunday received the following dispatch from Maj.-Gen. Otis regarding operations against the insurgents:

"Our improvised gunboats under Captain Grant, Utah artillery, have full possession of Laguna De Bay; troops, inhabitants and property on shore of lake at our mercy. Wheaton's brigade on Pasig river line drove enemy northeast into province of Morong.

"Last evening enemy attacked portion of his force south of Pasig, killing two men and wounding twenty of the 22d infantry. This morning Wheaton moved against the insurgent force, driving it to the south sixteen miles, experiencing very slight loss. Enemy left 200 dead on field."

Attack on Iloilo Repulsed.

The mountain banditti of the Pany Islands recently threatened a serious attack upon Iloilo, but they were repulsed with a loss of 200 men by General Miller.

TROUBLE WITH MEXICANS.

Riot Occurs at Laredo—Resulted in Many Being Wounded.

The crisis in the disturbance at Laredo, Tex., over the carrying out of the state health officer's regulations in suppressing the smallpox epidemic seems to be passed. When the work of removing the patients was resumed Monday morning the scenes of Sunday were repeated, and Captain Rogers, of the State Rangers, and four assistants attempted to disperse the crowd, but were fired upon, and Captain Rogers received a bullet in the left shoulder. The Rangers returned the fire, killing Agapito Herrera, an ex-policeman, who was leading the rioters with a Winchester, and another Mexican, and wounding a woman, a sister of Herrera, who had fired at the officers from the window of a house near by. Several other Mexicans were wounded, but the number cannot yet be ascertained, as they escaped in the crowd. Dozens of people report seeing wounded men, but how many saw the same ones is not known.

Col. Bullard Remembered.

The officers of the Third Alabama regiment, Monday at noon, in camp at Anniston, presented Colonel Bullard with a handsome repeater movement gold watch. The gift was given as a token of esteem felt for the colonel by the officers of the regiment for his uniform kindness throughout the time of service by the regiment.

Alger Going to Cuba.

Secretary Alger expects to leave Savannah Thursday for a trip to Cuba on the regular trip of the transport Ingalls. He has never been to Cuba and takes the trip both to familiarize himself with conditions there and to get a brief respite from official duties at Washington.

Roasted His Own Child.

Louis Lumpkin, a negro living near Scottsboro, Alabama, is under arrest charged with a most heinous crime, that of roasting his little grandson over a fire. The boy is a little fellow abou 8 years of age, and Lumpkin, it is charged, held the naked child over an open fireplace, burning him so badly that the physicians say he cannot recover. The people are highly indignant over the affair.

A Brewery for Huntsville.

A large brewery will probably be established at Huntsville within the next few months. The representatives of a large Chicago brewing company are there to inspect several sites placed at their disposal and will make a favorable report to their company. Negotiations are also being conducted for the erection of another flouring mill.

A Lieutenant Killed.

At Camp Churchman, Albany, Ga., Lieutenant D. K. Bridges of the Third Mississippi was accidentally shot and killed. While getting out of his carriage his pistol struck against the wheel and it was discharged, killing him instantly.

The Rome correspondent of the London Daily Chronicle says: "Although there is no immediate alarm, it is generally felt that the pope's life is ebbing away. Communications have recently passed between the different cabinets relative to the eventuality of a conclave."

The Second Illinois volunteer infantry and One Hundred and Sixty-first Indiana volunteer infantry have been ordered from Havana to be mustered out.

RIOTING IN HAVANA.

Three Policemen Killed and Twenty-five People Hurt.

A Monday's cable dispatch from Havana says: During the trouble between the Havana police and the populace last night three policemen were killed and about twenty-five persons were wounded on both sides. Public opinion supports the police without reserve.

There seems to be concerted action among the Nanigos, the secret society of the lawless class here, to attack the police upon every possible occasion. All the trouble of the last two nights occurred in the outlying districts which are inhabited by the worst classes.

The police station at Cerro was attacked yesterday evening by a number of colored men, bad characters from the city slaughter house. The police repelled the attack and the rioters left three men badly wounded when they retired.

Chief of police Menocal gave orders to suspend the public balls last night, and General Ludlow, in command of of the city of Havana, sustained the chief of police. As the police were approaching the place where the ball of the Society of the Pilar was in progress, near Cerro, for the purpose of dispersing it, in accordance with orders, people opened fire on them from the house. The fire was returned by the police. The result of the fusilade was that two policemen were seriously wounded and eighteen of their opponents were wounded.

In different wards three policemen were assassinated while on duty. The murderers crept up behind them and stabbed the officers to death.

Three negroes in Galiano street attacked the policeman on that beat with knives. The officer defended himself with a revolver, killing one of his assailants and wounding another one. The third man escaped.

A Cuban officer attached to the command of Colonel Acea attacked a policeman on San Rafel street with a machete. The officer shot him through the heart.

An American negress was killed by a stray bullet.

Two of the prisoners captured admit there was a conspiracy to drive the police out of the city by a series of outrages.

CYCLONE STRIKES SELLERS.

Only Three Houses Were Left Standing in the Town.

A cyclone swooped down on the little town of Sellers, Ala., Saturday afternoon, leaving but three houses standing. Five beautiful little homes, four general merchandise stores, five tenement houses, a nice public school building, a large steam mill and ginnery and a number of barns were completely demolished, while the roof of the depot was removed, two residences twisted from their original positions and a number of telegraph poles blown down is the serious damage to property. Six persons were more or less seriously wounded, as follows:

Mrs. C. S. Boyd, shoulder and back seriously bruised by flying timbers; C. S. Boyd, severe gash across head; James A. Poole, injured in spine and legs; Mrs. Johnsie Jones, slightly bruised; Becky Sloane, colored, leg broken and other bruises. An unknown negro had an arm broken. A mule and a horse were killed, and other stock and cattle injured.

Sellers is a small town on the Luverne branch of the Plant system of railroads, twenty-five miles southwest of Montgomery. It is a new town, having been built within the past six years. The total loss in the little town will foot up about $25,000.

MRS. PLACE ELECTROCUTED.

Mrs. Martha Place was executed at Sing Sing prison Monday. She was the first woman to die in the electric chair in the state of New York, and she went to her death quietly. Her death was instantaneous, but two shocks were given.

Mrs. Place murdered her stepdaughter, Ida M. Place, a mere girl, on February 7, 1898. She first threw acid in the girl's eyes and then smothered her. This was early in the morning in their home in Brooklyn. She waited the entire day for her husband to return and then attacked him with an axe, fracturing his skull and otherwise seriously injuring him. Place, however, recovered.

McKinley at Jeckyl Island.

President McKinley reached Jeckyl Island Monday, the beautiful winter home of a number of eastern millionaires, on St. Simon's sound, ten miles up the coast from Brunswick, Ga. With him are Mrs. McKinley, Vice-President Hobart and Senator Hanna. They are guests of ex-Secretary of the Interior, Cornelius N. Bliss, whom the president promised to visit last year. In another cottage on the island is Speaker Thomas B. Reed. All persons in any way concerned in their presence at Jeckyl assert that positively and unreservedly, the visit of the two political rival leaders at the same time is only a coincidence.

John Sherman Growing Worse.

A cable dispatch from Kingston, Jamaica, says: The American line steamer Paris, with the party of American excursionists who are touring in West Indian waters, sailed at 6 o'clock Monday evening. Mr. John Sherman is worse, and is not likely to survive the night. The hot weather has greatly weakened Mr. Sherman, and his doctors feel that unless a change for the better comes very quickly all hope must be abandoned.

THE PRIMARY ELECTIONS

Very Light Vote Cast in All Parts of the State.

HAYNEVILLE DEMOCRATS' RESOLUTIONS.

Opposition to Calling a Convention Caused a Small Vote in Many Counties—High Waters Kept People From the Polls.

Reports from over the state concerning Saturday's democratic primary election for constitutional convention delegates show that as a rule a rather light vote was cast. In many counties the heavy rains and high water kept down the vote, while in others little interest was shown. In some decided opposition to calling the convention caused a small vote to be polled.

BLOUNT.—Indications point to a vote of only 800 in Blount county. All good beat Ward for county delegate. The race for delegate at large is close between Hill and Robinette. The county seems to be generally opposed to the convention.

BUTLER.—C. E. Hamilton was elected without opposition. The populites met and endorsed the Gaston proposition made to the democratic executive committee.

BARBOUR.—In the primary held Saturday forty-one delegates were elected to the county convention. They go uninstructed. Clayton sent twenty delegates to the county convention instructed for Maj. J. N. Williams.

BIBB.—The entire vote was cast for W. F. Hogue for delegate at large. Indications are that J. D. Cooper has defeated C. O. Collier for county delegate.

COLBERT.—James T. Kirk was elected delegate over Joe H. Nathan by a large majority.

CULLMAN.—George H. Parker was nominated for county delegate by practically a unanimous vote. R. L. Hitt carried the county for delegate at large over Robinette and Cofer.

CALHOUN.—There was little interest in the election at Anniston. Delegates to the county convention will choose both county and district delegations. Other beats in the county took little notice of the election, the vote being very light in every section.

CONECUH.—Delegates from this beat will go to the county convention uninstructed.

CHILTON.—Clanton's delegates to the county convention elected are for J. Alex Moore for county delegate and W. L. Sampey for district delegate.

DALE.—Returns in Dale indicate a solid delegation for Carmichael against Oates for delegate at large. Henry county is for Oates and Geneva for Carmichael, giving Carmichael 10 to Oates 8, but there will be a contest of Geneva, which may change this situation. W. W. Kirkland was elected county delegate from Dale.

DALLAS.—H. S. D. Mallory, J. R. Satterfield and B. F. Ellis were elected county delegates and F. L. Pettus defeated H. L. McKee for delegate at large by a tremendous majority.

ESCAMBIA.—Thirty-five delegates were chosen to the county convention. The beat meeting was addressed by Representative Smith, who explained the objects of the convention.

ETOWAH.—No convention was held, the chairman failing to issue the call. A convention has been called for the 27th instant.

JACKSON.—Heavy rains made the vote Saturday very light, no election being held in many precincts. Scottsboro gave Moody 137 and Armstrong 112 with their opponents far behind.

JEFFERSON.—Hugh Morrow, John P. Tillman, Lee C. Bradley, Reuben F. Kolb and Robert J. Lowe were elected county delegates to the constitutional convention.

LEE.—The ticket headed by R. M. Green was elected in this beat by 150 majority. It is generally believed that W. J. Samford and Gen. George P. Harrison will be elected delegates. The People's ticket by Judge W. B. Gullatte was elected by a majority over the County Committee's ticket.

LOWNDES.—A beat meeting was held at Hayneville Saturday. H. N. Caffey was made chairman and F. M. West secretary. The delegates elected to the county convention will vote for Col. W. Brewer and Evans Hinson as county delegates to the constitutional convention. Brewer and Hinson seem to be the choice of the whole county.

At the beat meeting held here the following resolutions were offered by George E. Gordon, and were unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, By the democrats of Hayneville in beat meeting, That we are not impressed with the necessity of a constitutional convention in this state at this time; the purpose of its promoters seeming to be to break down the bar to the maximum of taxation and to disfranchise many of our voters who pay taxes, and therefore, have a right to vote. And we consider that it will only entail a further large draft upon our state treasury. Therefore,

"Our beat delegates are hereby instructed to take all such action in our county convention to further the sentiment here expressed."

LIMESTONE.—A small vote was polled on account of high water. At Athens, Sanders, candidate for delegate at large, leads Peebles. McClellan, for county delegate, leads Pettus.

LAUDERDALE.—A small vote was polled in this primary. W. M. Camper, editor of the Florence Times, and Emmett O'Neal were elected county delegates without opposition. There is doubt as to the popularity of the constitutional convention movement in this county.

MACON.—A heavy rainstorm made Saturday's vote very light. At Tuskegee, Hon. W. F. Foster beat C. W. Hare for county delegate by 100 majority, and has probably carried the county.

MOBILE.—The election Saturday was quiet, and the vote light. Indications are that the county delegates will be D. P. Bestor, Gregory L. Smith and C. L. Lavretta. The race between E. M. Robinson and R. H. Clarke for delegate at large is very close. With all the city precincts and six county beats heard from, the vote stands 993 for Clarke and 992 for Robinson.

MORGAN.—Roads, bridges and telephones were washed away Saturday, and no definite returns have yet been obtained, except at Decatur and at New Decatur. They indicate that Samuel Blackwell and Judge J. C. Eyster are elected county delegates.

MADISON.—A very light vote was polled. At the Huntsville box J. W. Grayson received 247 votes, all that were cast, for delegate at large. For county delegates Robert E Spraggins received 229, A. S. Fletcher 217, Daniel Coleman 53, Robert Bentley 23. Telephone wires and bridges are down and the country cannot be heard from.

MONTGOMERY.—Tennent Lomax was nominated delegate at large without opposition. Edward A. Graham, Thomas H. Watts and W. S. Thorington were nominated for county delegates. McDonald is probably the fourth man, having the lead over Gilchrist.

PIKE.—A lively fight for delegates to the county convention took place at Troy. Walter C. Black, candidate at large, defeated Perry Richardson by a majority of three to one. Only four beats have been heard from and all of them are favorable to Black.

RANDOLPH.—Thirty-eight delegates were elected to the county convention, which meets on Wednesday. S. Henderson, Captain W. A. Handler, or S. B. Gaston will probably be the delegate to the constitutional convention.

SUMTER.—Four beats have been heard from, viz: Livingston, Eppes, York and Cuba. They gave Chapman 255, Seymour 157 and Rogers 231. Indications point to the nomination of Chapman and Rogers.

TALLADEGA.—Talladega instructed its twenty-seven delegates to the county convention to vote for C. C. Whitson and Cecil Browne for county delegates. Heavy rains have kept back returns from the country beats.

TUSCALOOSA.—The election of the delegates to the constitutional convention passed off very quietly. The following was the vote of the Tuscaloosa box: William Cochrane Fitts, 438; Henry A. Jones, 395; George A. Searcy, 480; J. S. Yerby (populist), 152. The following beats have been heard from: Northport—Fitts 62, Jones 103, Searcy 63, Yerby 63. Cottondale—Fitts 60, Jones 59, Searcy 109, Yerby 77, Brookwood—Fitts 69, Jones 73, Searcy 92, Yerby 31.

WALKER.—There has been a spirited canvass between J. H. McQuire and J. H. Bankhead, Jr., in this senatorial district for delegate to the constitutional convention. The district is composed of Walker, Fayette and Lamar counties. Walker county has gone for Mr. Bankhead by a large majority.

A telegram has been received from Fayette stating that Bankhead had carried that county by a large majority. Nothing has been heard from Lamar county. Walker and Fayette have nine delegates out of fourteen, and Mr. Bankhead's nomination is assured.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

THE CHRONICLE feels highly gratified at the unanimity with which the county convention acted upon its proposition looking to harmonious action by the white people in the matter of a delegate to the constitutional convention. There was some opposition to the declarations contained in the resolutions presented, but it was on a question of policy, and the convention was found to be in favor of these declarations. Upon the question of local agreement there was not a dissenting voice.

Analyzing the resolutions we find that the Democratic party of this county occupies a safe, conservative, yet firm position on the principal issues involved in the call for a convention.

It stands for a government by intelligent and honest citizens, but it believes that all white people are capable of self-government and entitled to recognition in the management of governmental affairs.

It recognizes the right of the people to finally pass upon the new organic law, and that this right should be expressed as a means of restraining those who shall be charged with its framing.

It goes on record as being opposed to any increase in the burdens of taxation, and thus proves its interest in the welfare of the common citizenship and its respect for their wishes.

It declares its belief in the right of the people through their representatives to regulate or restrain a recognized evil, and gives assurance that no advantage shall be given either side of the great temperance question by constitutional enactment.

It expresses its approval of the effort to combine the interests of all parties and to lay aside all partisan feeling in this important matter.

The plan adopted to further the cause of harmony in this county is at least worthy of respectful consideration by the Populists, and we believe it will be accorded. It may be true that the Populist party by reason of its control of a majority of the present voting strength of the county has the power of electing whomsoever it will; but it is equally true that the Democratic party might sit still and take to itself all the advantage to be gained by the work of the constitutional convention. The latter has seen fit to open the way for harmony and peace in the future, and we believe there is enough of reason and judgment in the Populist party to induce it to begin to act now for the future.

The Populist committee meets here Saturday. It will be informed of the action of the Democratic convention and invited to name a committee of conference.

IN his charge to the grand jury Judge Brewer called attention to the bond of Judge Longshore and instructed the jury to carefully investigate it. The rumor was soon current that the charge was the result of a complaint and that some of the Columbiana Democrats were trying to persecute Mr. Longshore. Upon this rumor it is being sought to prejudice Mr. Longshore's friends against Columbiana in the court house removal fight. Judge Brewer was asked about the matter by a CHRONICLE representative, and he authorizes us to say that the charge was given of his own volition, and that the matter has not been mentioned to him since the last term of the court, at which time Judge Longshore had not gone into office. When the bond was approved he did not have an opportunity to investigate the solvency of the sureties, and he desired it done now simply for his own protection, as well as for that of the county and Judge Longshore. Judge Brewer also stated that he had been misinformed as to one of the principal sureties being on certain other bonds. We only print this information because of the puerile effort to lay a false charge at the door of Columbiana Democrats upon which capital is sought to be made at the expense of our town. The statement of Judge Brewer as to his reasons for charging the jury specially on this point shows the absurdity of this wily rumor.

WE publish elsewhere a certified copy of the courthouse bill. Those sections indicated as amended are taken from a second bill which was passed amending the original. The law governing the election and proposed removal is contained in the form as published. It will be well to preserve this copy of the paper, so that when the matter comes to a vote you may know exactly what the law on the subject is. It is too early to discuss the law, but at the proper time attention will be called to the important provisions. In the meantime the people may inform themselves thereof.

SOME MEN AND SIGNS.

From the reports of the primaries held last Saturday throughout the State we gather a partial list of the men who will compose the coming constitutional convention.

Among them we find such men as Jno. B. Knox, of Calhoun; T. S. Plowman, of Talladega; George A. Searcy, of Tuscaloosa; R. M. Cunningham, of Jefferson; M. L. Stansel, of Pickens; W. F. Hogue, of Perry; Wm. C. Oates, of Henry; Geo. P. Harrison, of Lee; Tennant Lomax, of Montgomery; F. L. Pettus, of Dallas; and R. H. Clarke, of Mobile, for the State-at-large. Then there are also selected from the counties such men as H. S. D. Mallory and B. F. Ellis, of Dallas; Thos. W. Coleman, of Greene; Frank S. White and Jno. P. Tillman, of Jefferson; Emmett O'Neal, of Lauderdale; W. J. Samford, of Lee; Willis Brewer, of Lowndes; W. F. Foster, of Macon; J. H. Minge, of Marengo; E. A. Graham and Thos. H. Watts, of Montgomery; Sam Blackwell, of Morgan; A. C. Davidson, of Perry; Jno. W. Inzer, of St. Clair; C. C. Whitson and Cecil Browne, of Talladega; Wm. C. Fitts, of Tuscaloosa.

These are but a sample of the men who will compose the convention. They are men with whom the interests of all the people will be safe. No uneasiness can be felt with such men as these in charge. They are able, experienced and honest. No more could be asked. With these there will be none of the wild legislation that characterized the legislature. There will be no hope of reward or fear of punishment to influence their acts; they will act solely from a sense of right and duty owing to their people. With these men the convention is assured, and its results awaited with complacency.

The reports also show that the constitution will undoubtedly be referred to the people for ratification.

LET HARMONY PREVAIL.

This Sentiment Freely Expressed by Leading Populists.

During the past week THE CHRONICLE has interviewed two of Shelby County's prominent Populists on the subject of united action on the part of the white people in electing a delegate from this county to the constitutional convention. Both were found to be heartily in favor of it.

One of these, a gentleman of standing and influence in the Populist ranks, acknowledged the need of a new constitution, and said he favored such action on the part of the people in a nonpartisan spirit as would insure harmony to follow the work of the convention. He expressed his belief in the good intention of the Democrats to act fairly in the matter, and thought there was no good reason why the people of this county should not act in harmony. He had no particular plan to suggest, further than a conference between the two committees.

The other gentleman, who is prominent in the local ranks, said emphatically that he was willing the convention should be held, and added that he did not care how many negroes were disfranchised, so that the white people's rights be not abridged. He suggested as a plan for harmonious action that the Democrats of this county select from the Populist ranks a man who would be most nearly satisfactory, and that the Populist nominate such man, and that he be elected, without any opposition. His plan is unique, but it shows his willingness to compromise. He said he intended to present his plan to the Populist committee at its meeting next Saturday and to urge its adoption.

It is plain to be seen even now that if the State convention acts wisely there will be every opportunity to unite the white people on this great question.

CURRENT CRITICISMS.

By MRS. F. W. GIST.

This is the beginning week of circuit courting for Shelby County, and we have lawyers galore in our midst; lawyers of a high class, and lawyers of a low class; lawyers who follow up their profession with purposes of honor and integrity, who search only for the merits in their cases as related to the laws of our state and country. There is no more beautiful, lofty, higher-reaching profession than the lawyer of this type. But the low-class man who calls himself a lawyer, and who has no higher ambition than that of pilfering his neighbors' lawful rights, disinheriting orphans and robbing women of their only earthly home and place upon which to lay head and, aside from all these, uses his client's money and resorts to every low-bred chicanery and trickery by which he may eke out enough to subsist on—all such "lawyers" ought to be stricken from the bar of legal practice. They are a scapegoat for all low-minded refuse offal of the community in which they live, and for such offal to be allowed to ride such scapegoats into decent and legal courts is a dark reflection on what should be the tribunals of law and justice.

We are writing a book, entitled "The Widow's Road," in which we deal at some length upon lawyers, courts, judges, and various other things and nuisances and their attitude to the widow; also woman's chance in business in the South compared to that of the North.

The burning of the Windsor Hotel in New York last Friday afternoon was a most horrible and distressing incident. A private letter from a friend, who was an eye-witness to the scene, says it beggars all description. To see people leaping from the roof and from seven-story windows, to fall crushed and dead to stone pavements, is enough to rend the heart of anyone, and it is difficult to read the accounts without bursting into tears.

This fire is another object lesson to the observant of the magnitude of the sin of the tobacco habit. For the sake of the lighting a cigar, behold what destruction of life and proverty. When will our fellow-creatures learn absurdity and sin in the use of tobacco and whisky?

Lynching in the South has become a menace to its people, a stigma upon her society and a reflection upon her good government. It has reached the point of wholesale murder, executed at and by the hands of large mobs of white men with intent and purpose of cold-blooded murder, and that for any and all sorts of offenses. Our white men have been defending themselves and their lynch law upon the plea of the negro's attack upon white women, but they can no longer hide behind this flimsy mask. To be sure they will still lynch for that offense, but not for that alone. Their thirst for negro blood is growing to an alarming extent. The incident in Georgia last week is a stigma upon our righteous loving people, and that such occurrences are possible and actually a truth is appalling to a law-abiding and christian people. Conditions with the black man in the South are growing worse and worse; and how true seems the remark Senator Morgan made at our fireside last fall: "No living man in America can foretell what the outcome will be."

A certain lawyer in attendance at court this week, who is a home-maker in every sense of the word, and takes no stock whatever in politics, was urged once upon a time to attend a certain beat meeting, whereupon he replied, "I am beating all the meetings you can muster up; I'm busy helping the ladies with their icecream supper." That man is one of the best citizens we know of.

The county Democratic convention, which assembled here on Wednesday, decided to postpone the election of a delegate to the constitutional convention. Brethren, you are all in an awful dilemma. For once you would no doubt do better to let the ladies call a convention and select a delegate for Shelby County. Don't you know we would select a good man who would ably represent our county? Then if you don't do as well, what shall we think? Remember the man you select must represent us women and children.

A GOOD WOMAN GONE HOME.

Last Sunday at her son's home in Jemison, Mrs. Mattie Mooney crossed over the river to bright shores beyond. She recently spent several months in Columbiana and was a sister of Mrs. Chapman. She was a highly cultured christian woman, who possessed many friends. AN ACT.

To provide for the permanent location of the County site of Shelby County, Alabama, by a vote of the qualified electors of said county.

Section 1.—Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Alabama that whenever fifty or more electors of said Shelby County, shall present to the Mayor of Calera, the Mayor of Columbiana and the Treasurer of Shelby County, State of Alabama, who are hereby created and appointed a board of commissioners for the purpose of this act or their successors in office a petition in writing praying for an election to ascertain the wishes of the people of said county as to whether the county site of said county shall remain at Columbiana the present county site of said county, or be removed to the city of Calera in said county, it shall be the duty of said board of commissioners to order an election and fix the time of holding the same which shall not be more than ninety (90) days, nor less than 30 days from the time of filing of such petition.

Section 2.—Be it further enacted that no election shall be ordered under the provisions of this act, until there shall be secured free of charge to Shelby County a bonafide subscription of the aggregate sum of Five thousand Dollars to be applied to the securing of a proper site and for the erection of a new courthouse in the city of Calera. such subscription to be payable in money, but the Court of County Commissioners of said county may accept in lieu thereof if they deem it advisable, a conveyance or conveyances of real estate at its market value for any part of such subscription. If the result of said election is in favor of the removal of said county site to the city of Calera, the Court of County Commissioners of said county, shall as soon thereafter as practicable not later than 20 days meet and determine whether they will accept such subscription in cash or any part thereof in land, and will in thirty days after the decision by said Court of County Commissioners, said cash subscription shall be paid in money to the County Treasurer, or a deed to the property accepted by the Commissioners Court as aforesaid, conveying the land so donated and accepted to Shelby County, and shall be filed in the Probate office for record.

Section 3.—Be it further enacted that said Board of Commissioners herein above named shall be and they are hereby authorized to receive subscriptions to the fund to be donated to said county to be payable in the event the result of said election shall be in favor of the removal of said county site to the city of Calera.

Section 4.—Be it further enacted that if such election should result in favor of the removal of the county site to Calera, no order removing said county site to Calera as herein provided shall be made by said Board of Commissioners until the just and full sum of five thousand Dollars has been paid into the Treasury of Shelby County either in money or in land at its market value as provided by this act.

Section 5.—Be it further enacted that such Board of Commissioners shall give notice of said election at least sixty days prior to the holding of said election, and the purpose for which the same is to be held by publication in some newspaper published in the county.

Section 6—(As amended)—Be it further enacted, That registration books shall be opened in each voting precinct and ward in said county on the day fixed by said Board of Commissioners for the registration of the voters of said county which said registrars shall be appointed by said Board of Commissioners on the day said Board of Commissioners shall order the election and the books of registration shall be kept continuously open thirty working days. A registrar shall be appointed for each voting place, in precincts having more than one voting place. No person shall be entitled to vote in said election unless he registers before said registrar in the precinct or ward in which he resides within said time. The registrar shall require each and every elector who desires to register for the purpose of qualifying himself to vote in said election to take and subscribe the following oath which shall in each case be administered by the registrar to the elector so registering: "State of Alabama, Shelby County, I, the undersigned elector do solemnly swear that I am a citizen of the United States, and of the State of Alabama and over the age of 21 years, and that I have resided in said State one year next preceding the date fixed for holding the courthouse election for said county, and in said county three months, and precinct (specifying the particular precinct in which the elector desires to register), thirty days, and that I am a duly and legally qualified elector and am not in any way disqualified by law from voting in the approaching election to determine the location of the county site of said county. That I am not disqualified by reason of conviction of any crime under which I would be disqualified under the general laws of the State." The several precinct and ward registrars shall, immediately upon the closing of the books of registration, in their respective precincts and wards, make a true copy and list of names registered in such precinct or ward and certify the same; and shall immediately after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for registration deliver the original registration list, together with certified copy thereof to the Board of Commissioners for said election, who shall file and securely keep the same. And such Board of Commissioners shall deliver to the inspectors of the election, appointed as hereinafter provided, for the several precincts or wards, immediately preceding such election, the certified copy of said registration for said precinct or ward returned by the beat registrar.

Section 7.—Be it further enacted that only such persons shall be qualified or authorized to vote at said election as have duly registered, and have qualified themselves to vote by complying with the provisions of this act.

Section 8—As amended—Be it further enacted, that it shall be the duty of the said Board of Commissioners, at least twenty days before the time appointed for holding said election as prescribed in section one of this Act to meet at the Court House at Columbiana and select and appoint three inspectors, two clerks and one returning officers to hold and conduct said election in the several voting wards and precincts of the county respectively. One of said inspectors and one of said clerks shall be appointed in each voting precinct and ward of said county upon the recommendation of the Mayor of Columbiana. One of said inspectors and one of said clerks of each precinct and ward in said county shall be appointed upon the recommendation of the Mayor of the city of Calera, and a third inspector and returning officer for each precinct and ward of said county shall be selected by said Board of Commissioners. In the event the Mayor of Columbiana shall fail to recommend a person for inspector and clerk for each voting precinct and ward of said county, the Mayor of Calera and Treasurer of Shelby County shall appoint one person from each of said voting precincts and wards, who is favorable to the location of said county site remaining in Columbiana, if practicable to do so; and if the Mayor of the City of Calera shall fail to recommend a person for inspector and clerk for each voting precinct and ward in said county, the Mayor of Columbiana and Treasurer of Shelby County shall appoint one person from each of said voting precincts and wards, who is favorable to the removal of said county site to Calera, if practicable to do so, and said Board of Commissioners shall notify or cause to be notified such persons so appointed as aforesaid of their appointment; the true meaning and intent of this act being to provide for a full and fair representation of both sides in the conduct of said election.

Section 9.—Be it further enacted that in the conduct of said election the clerks of said shall make and keep a true and correct list of the persons who vote in their respective precinct or wards, numbered consecutively in the order in which they voted, and the inspectors of said election shall not allow any person to vote in said election whose name does not appear upon the registration list furnished him for said precinct by said Board of Commissioners. In said election each person who is duly qualified and registered under the provisions of this act shall be entitled to one vote. Said inspectors shall correctly number each ballot with the number to correspond with the number opposite the electors name on the poll list.

Section 10.—Be it further enacted that the elector who desires that the county site be removed to Calera shall have written or printed on his ballot, the words "For Calera," and the elector who desires that the county site shall remain at Columbiana shall have written or printed on his ballot the words "For Columbiana."

Section 11—(as amended)—Be it further enacted. That the polls for said election shall be opened at the usual voting places in the several voting precincts and wards in said county by the inspectors appointed as herein provided for, not earlier than eight o'clock a. m. nor later than nine a. m. and shall be kept open continuously until 5 p. m. In case any election manager, clerk or returning officer, appointed as hereinbefore provided, shall fail to appear and discharge his duties as such in the conduct and holding of said election, it shall be the duty of the remaining inspectors, clerks and returning officers to fill the vacancy thereby caused by the appointment of another inspector, clerk or returning officer, as the case may be, and in filling such vacancy it shall be their duty to appoint an inspector, clerk or returning officer entertaining the same views as to the retention or removal of said court house as the absent inspector, clerk or returning officer, if practicable. Provided, however, that such absent inspector, clerk or returning officer shall be appointed upon the recommendation of the voters present at the time who entertain the same views as to the retention or removal of said court house, as the absent inspector, clerk or returning officer. Provided such persons shall make such recommendation.

Section 12—(As amended)—Be it further enacted. That immediately after the closing of the polls on the day of said election provided for it shall be the duty of the inspectors of the election at the several precincts and wards in said county to count the ballot and certify the number of votes cast for Columbiana and the number of votes cast for Calera, and they shall also securely seal up and label the ballots cast at said election so as to show the precinct or ward in which they are cast and shall deliver the same together with the certificate of the result of such election and the registration list for said precinct, together with the poll list of electors in said precinct, securely sealed to the returning officer of said precinct or ward, and it shall be the duty of said returning officer within forty eight hours after receiving such returns ballots, registration list and poll lists, to deliver the same to the Board of Commissioners or to such one or more of them as may be present at the office of the Mayor of the city of Calera, to be by such Mayor securely kept until it shall be necessary to remove the same to Columbiana for the purpose of canvassing the returns and declaring the result of said election. Said Board of Commissioners, or a majority of them, shall have the power and it shall be their duty in making said canvass and ascertaining the result of said election if they shall deem it necessary and proper to examine and recount the ballots for any precinct or ward in said county. And they shall also if they deem it necessary and proper examine and compare the original registration lists or poll lists made for said election with the registration lists or poll lists sent up with the several returns. They shall also have power and authority to reject in such count any ballots shown to be illegal.

Section 13.—Be it further enacted that said Board of Commissioners upon the conclusion of said count shall certify in writing the result of said election, a copy of which shall be filed and recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of said County. And they shall also publish the same in some newspaper published in said County giving the number of votes cast for Columbiana and the number of votes cast for Calera.

Section 14.—Be it further enacted that if upon a canvass of the returns of said election it shall be found that a majority of the legal votes cast in said election were in favor of the removal of the county site of said county to the city of Calera, then said city of Calera shall thereafter be the county site of said Shelby County, and it shall be the duty of the county commissioners as soon after the results of said election is ascertained as is practicable to select a suitable location within the city of Calera and to erect thereon a suitable courthouse for said county. And they are hereby authorized and empowered to purchase or receive by subscription or donation a fee simple title to any lot or lots of land so as to vest the title in the county of Shelby and proceed to erect on said lot or lots so selected a suitable courthouse for the use of said county, and to provide suitable places for the holding of courts within necessary places for the county officers. If said election shall be decided in favor of Calera it shall be the duty of the court of county commissioners as soon as practicable thereafter to provide a suitable building for the use of the officers of said county and such officers shall remove as soon as practicable to such places as is provided.

Section 15.—Be it further enacted that in the event of Calera receiving a majority of all legal votes cast in said election the court of county commissioners shall as soon as practicable thereafter sell all the land and other property except the county poorhouse belonging to the county located in or near the corporate limits of the town of Columbiana and turn the proceeds thereof into the county treasury or use the same or any part of it in the erection of a suitable courthouse for said county in the city of Calera. Provided that nothing in this act shall prevent the court of county commissioners from using of any material in said building in erecting a new courthouse.

Section 16.—Be it further enacted that any duty herein required to be performed by said board of commissioners to-wit: The Mayor of the city of Calera, the Mayor of the city of Columbiana, the County Treasurer of Shelby County, Alabama, may be performed by a majority of said board in case of a disagreement, among the members of said board or a failure or refusal of any member of said board to act.

Section 17.—Be it further enacted that if any person desiring to vote in said election shall falsely take and subscribe the registration oath as provided in this act, he shall be guilty of perjury and liable to indictment therefor.

Section 18.—Be it further enacted that for the registration of electors for said election as herein provided, said registrars shall receive the sum of three cents for every elector lawfully registered by him, to be paid by the County Treasurer upon the written order of said board of commissioners.

Section 19.—Be it further enacted, that each inspector, clerk, or returning officer shall receive the sum of one dollar and half per day for services rendered under this act, the same to be paid by the Treasurer upon order of said board of commissioners.

Section 20.—Be it further enacted that before entering upon the discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act, said board of commissioners shall each take and subscribe an oath to fairly and faithfully and impartially perform the duties required of them by this act.

Section 21—(As amended)—Be it further enacted. That before entering upon the discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act, each registrar, inspector, clerk and returning officer shall take an oath faithfully and impartially to perform the duties required of them by this act, which oath may be administered by any person authorized to administer an oath, or by one another.

Section 22.—Be it further enacted that if any officer or person having any duties to perform under this act shall wilfully or corruptly fail or refuse to perform the same, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than $100.00 nor more than $500.00 and imprisoned in the county jail or sentenced to hard labor for the county for not less than 6 months.

Section 23.—Be it further enacted that if the election herein provided for shall not be called and held within four years from the approval of this act, then its provisions shall be null and void.

Section 24.—Provided that the election under this bill shall be contested as is provided by law in this State in elections for probate judges by any ten citizens of Shelby county and an appeal shall lie to the Supreme court from the judgment of said contest in the same manner as appeals from judgments or contests of election of probate judges.

Section 25.—Be it further enacted that all acts in conflict with this act be and the same is hereby repealed.

Section 6—(Of amended bill)—Be it further enacted. That said act shall be amended by adding thereto the following additional sections, to-wit:

Section 26—Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the Board of Commissioners of Shelby County to furnish the several registrars and inspectors of election with necessary blanks and stationery for the purpose of making the registration of votes and holding elections as provided in this act, and it shall be the duty of the county treasurer of Shelby county to pay for such blanks and stationery on the order of the Board of Commissioners.

Section 27—Be it further enacted. That the petition for holding the election and the several orders and proceedings made and had thereon by the Board of Commissioners, created by this act may be filed by said Board in the office of the Judge of Probate of Shelby county, who shall thereupon record the same in the minute books of the probate court of said county, when so filed or recorded a certified copy shall be admissible in evidence in the several courts of the State, but the failure to so file or record shall not affect or invalidate any election held thereunder.

Section 28.—Be it further enacted. That if said election results in favor of the moving county site to Calera it shall be the duty of the court of county commissioners to have erected as soon as practicable all public buildings for the county at Calera except the poorhouse, and if they deem it advisable they may have the buildings now at Columbiana belonging to the county of Shelby, removed to Calera or use the material in them or any part thereof towards the erection of any buildings at Calera, the county may need; or they may sell the buildings at Columbiana, as in their judgment may be for the best interest of the county.

Section 29—Be it further enacted. That this act and the act to which this is amended shall take effect immediately upon the passage and approval by the Governor.

Approved February 20, 1899.

The recent storms in the State have been most disastrous to life and property. The prediction is that we are to have continued heavy rains throughout the spring. The outlook is that we will have late gardens, no fruit and few flowers—still the birds may sing, and the thermometer rise.

It is refreshing to find a person speak as Dr. W. K. Grayson, of Florence, Texas, who says: "I am pleased to state that I can and do recommend Simmons Liver Regulator to my patients with the happiest results, it being all you claim for it. COUNTY CONVENTION.

Delegates Selected and Nominations Postponed.

The Democratic county convention met yesterday, and selected delegates to the State convention, but deferred the nomination of a county candidate.

Dr. D. L. Wilkerson was elected chairman of the convention and F. W. Gist was elected secretary.

Delegates were enrolled from Beats 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11, 13, and 16.

On motion of W. B. Browne a committee was appointed to nominate delegates to the State convention, and the following were named: W. R. Oliver, T. J. Martin, D. L. Wilkerson, J. F. Pope, D. R. McMillan, J. T. Delaney and John Averyt.

These were elected, and a motion was adopted empowering those who cannot attend to appoint their alternates.

F. W. Gist presented the following series of resolutions:

The Democratic party of Shelby County, assembled, declares its belief in a just, capable and honest government; and to that end desires such a change in the Constitution of this State as will place the governing power in the hands of those who are competent to properly administer it; but is opposed to the disfranchisement of any white citizens of this State.

We believe that the new Constitution when framed should be referred to the people for final ratification.

We are opposed to any increase in the tax rate above the present Constitutional limit.

We are opposed to any curtailment of the present power of the legislature to regulate, control or prohibit the sale of whisky as the people may in their wisdom desire.

To these ends we instruct our delegates to the State convention to work and vote.

We view with gratification the movement toward the harmonious action of the white men of all parties, and recommend that our delegates to the State convention do all in their power to bring about a union of effort on the part of the Democrats and Populists.

Looking to such harmonious action, be it

Resolved, That the chairman of this convention appoint a committee of five persons of, which the chairman of the county executive committee shall be chairman, and that said committee is hereby authorized and directed to meet a like committee from the Populist party of this county for the purpose of agreeing, if possible, upon some plan of nominating a candidate for delegate from this county to the Constitutional convention; provided that such plan shall be subject to the approval of the executive committee. And in the event said committee fail to accomplish its object it shall call another primary election or convention not later than the 15th of May.

W. S. Cary moved to strike out the second, third and fourth paragraphs. This was opposed by Messrs. Oliver and McMillan, and the motion to amend was tabled.

The resolutions as a whole were adopted, and the chair appointed the following committee to act under the authority of the latter paragraph:

W. B. Browne, J. H. Gunn, D. R. McMillan, F. W. Gist and T. J. Martin.

The convention then adjourned.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

Seeks to Prevent Change In Constitution.

Tuesday night at the Baptist church a mass meting of citizens was held, and an orgization of those who incline to the promotion of temperance was effected. The purpose of this organization is to create and consolidate an interest in the possible action of the coming constitutional convention upon the whisky question. It is being rumored that the whisky men of the State will make an effort to have the constitution so changed as to prevent the regulation of the whisky traffic by means of the dispensary system. The friends of this system throughout the State are called upon to combat this effort, and to do all in their power to have the constitution left as it is on this point. They seek no further advantages than the law now gives them, and only ask that the legislature and the people be left to work out this question as they see fit.

At the meeting Wednesday night Rev. S. N. Burns was made chairman and W. F. Thetford secretary. Several members were enrolled.

A committee was appointed to correspond with other portions of the county for the prpose of effecting other organizations. This committee consists of Rev. S.N. Burns, Rev. W. I. Sinnott, Rev. C. W. O'Hara and J. R. White.

A paper was read by Mr. Sinnott, and adopted, with a motion to present it as a memorial to the Democratic county convention which met yesterday.

The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

The following address has been issued by the organization:

To the citizens of Shelby County.

Some of the citizens of Columbiana, in a meeting held at the Baptist church on the evening of March 21, organized a non-sectarian and non-political association for the purpose of giving formal, and as far as possible, united and full expression of the moral sentiment and abiding conviction of Shelby County's population concerning the action of the constitutional convention and the powers it shall confer upon the legislature by constitutional provision, in its relation to the liquor traffic.

It is desired that the entire county be organized, and we shall, therefore, announce more fully through the papers of next week plans designed, and how to proceed with such organization.

The following paper was unanimously adopted by the meeting:

The undersigned citizens of Shelby County, Ala., in convention assembled, believing that, according to the immemorial custom of the several States of the Union, as well as the numerous decisions of the various and highest courts of the Nation, the legislature as the voice of the people should always have untrammeled power to regulate, restrict or prohibit altogether the manufacture and sale of intoxicants, we, therefore, respectfully, yet most earnestly, urge, irrespective of political parties or questions, that all political parties will nominate only such delegates for the convention, soon to be held within the State, as will avow themselves and are known to be opposed to any restriction or curtailment by constitutional provision any of the powers given to the legislature of our State by the present constitution.

We furthermore and hereby express our fixed purpose always to oppose the election or appointment of such delegates, of whatever political party or affiliation, that would be in favor of such abridgement of the constitutional powers of the legislature of Alabama.

SAMUEL N. BURNS, President.
W. F. THETFORD, Secretary.

OUR BANK

Lends Money to Farmers on Easy Terms.

Prosperity has at last struck us and our bank is taking advantage of it. Mr. DuBose opened here April 1, 1893, and has since that time been patiently studying the conditions that prevail around him, and making for himself a reputation and credit. He now seems to feel pretty secure in his position, as is evidenced by the fact that he has taken on a line of business which is unusual with bankers in this county; we refer to the fact that he is lending money directly to farmers, payable in the fall, at reasonable rates. It has been pretty generally supposed that banks are enemies to the common people; but we notice that our bank is making itself very popular with all classes, and we take pleasure in commending Mr. DuBose as a banker whose probity is proverbial, whose financial standing has never been successfully questioned and whose clean business methods and courteous manner commands the respect of all who come in contact with him. Mr. DuBose well deserves the success that has come to him, after long and faithful service of the public.

The above appears in The Advocate for this week, and is a deserved compliment to a safe and reliable business man.

TERRIFIC CYCLONE

In Chilton County---Three Killed and Seven Badly Injured.

Montevallo, March 20.—News comes from the Curry neighborhood, in Chilton County, four miles south of here, of a terrific cyclone that passed over that section Saturday night. All of Curry's outhouses and fences were swept away, with the result of three killed and seven badly injured.

Frank Mulkey, a prosperous farmer near by, had his house blown down, and his wife and children were caught in the falling timbers. The house then caught on fire, and it was with difficulty they were rescued.

On his place was a field of forty acres of oats, which were literally blown out of the ground. The chickens were all killed and were stripped of feathers by the wind as clean as if they had been picked.

A dog was found with a rail blown completely through it, and the rail was stuck in the ground, holding the dead animal up in the air.

A wagon belonging to a negro was completely destroyed, leaving only a twisted tire and bolster.

A negro woman ran from her house with her baby, and the child was blown from her arms and carried a mile away in one direction and the woman in another.

A high wind, rain and hail storm prevailed here, but no damage was done.

Regardless of Age.

The kidneys are responsible for more sickness, suffering and deaths than any other organs of the body.

A majority of the ills afflicting people today is traceable to kidney trouble. It pervades all classes of society, in all climates, regardless of age, sex or condition.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are unmistakable; such as rheumatism, neuralgia, sleeplessness, pain or dull ache in the back, a desire to urinate often, day or night, profuse or scanty supply.

Uric acid or brick-dust deposit in urine are signs of clogged kidneys, causing poisoned and germ-filled blood. Sometimes the heart acts badly, and tube casts—wasting of the kidneys—are found in the urine, which if neglected, will result in Bright's Disease, the most dangerous form of kidney trouble.

All these symptoms and conditions are promptly removed under the influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root. It has a world-wide reputation for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

No one need be long without it as it is so easy to get at drug stores at 50 cents or $1. You can have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery, Swamp Root, and a book telling all about it sent to you absolutely free by mail. Send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention THE CHRONICLE.

The Alabama Fertilizer

Is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State to be the best all around fertilizer for cotton and corn.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Everyone of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER. The only objection ever raised to the ALABAMA FERTILIZER was that it costs too much.

The present price is no more than that of standard fertilizers. When requested, the ALABAMA FERTILIZER will put up, without extra cost, in bags treated by the Munnma Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process, thereby insuring the per fect preservation of the bags for an indefinite time, and saving the contents from loss by waste in handling. These preserved bags when emptied and thoroughly washed will be found as good and strong as new, and equally useful for other purposes. Every person, farmer, merchant or dealer vitally interested in the economical production of good crops should advocate the use of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Something About the Greatest Weekly Newspaper in the Country.

REDUCED RATE FOR TWO PAPERS.

Take Your Home Paper and The Constitution and be Happy.

We call special attention to our clubbing arrangements with The Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga. The clubbing price of the two papers being only $1.50 per year, subscriptions to be sent through this office and the terms to be cash.

It is a fact perhaps not generally known that The Weekly Constitution has the largest circulation of any newspaper on the western hemisphere. Only a few months ago a large newspaper directory questioned the claim of circulation made by The Constitution and put up a forfeit of $100 that it could be disproved that it had more than 100,000 circulation. The Constitution promptly accepted the offer and submitted its books to the representative of the firm. Mr. George P. Rowell, publisher of the newspaper directory, acknowledged his error publicly and paid the forfeit.

The Constitution, while being a Democratic newspaper, is first and above all things a newspaper. It is a twelve-page, seven-column weekly, making eighty-four columns each week. Its subscription price is $1 a year, but if taken under the arrangement with this paper we can give them both at the price above named.

The Constitution has a special correspondent in every important city in the United States and a representative in all of the leading centers of the world.

During the war with Spain, which has just been brought to a close, the reports of no newspaper in the South could compare with its news presentation from the front. Its special staff representative sailed with the army when it first embarked from Tampa, and of the 120 correspondents who went to Cuba, he was one of only seven who remained to see the flag hoisted over the public buildings in Santiago. Its special representative also accompanied the fleet in the Caribbean sea, and its Washington special service covered every detail of the important war reports originating at the capitol.

The Weekly Constitution during the late Spanish war served the news of all the notable events, from first to last, with the promptness of a daily. The victory of Dewey at Manila, the death of Ensign Bagley, the movements of troops and fleets, the destruction of Cervera's fleet, the operations in Porto Rico, the treaty, and the unfurling of the stars and stripes over Morro castle, Havana, were all given in The Weekly on Monday, on the very day the news first appeared in the daily.

The Weekly Constitution makes a special feature of its agricultural page, which is presided over by Colonel E. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment farm, and a man who is recognized as an expert on all agricultural topics. He gives a full page every week on agricultural matters. A page is devoted to the women and a page to children, these two departments being presided over by Mrs. William King.

The Constitution will send a sample copy of its great Weekly free to anyone sending his own name and the names of six neighbors on a postal card.

Every man should take his county newspaper before anything else, and next to this he should take a good general newspaper, such as The Constitution. His county paper gives him the local home news, which is not supplied by a newspaper furnishing the general news from all parts of the country and from all over the world. Before a man seeks information from outside, he should first feel sure that he is being kept posted on what is going on at home. That is why he should take his county paper first. When, however, the opportunity is offered to get the best weekly newspaper in this country with your home paper, the inducement is such as to elicit prompt response from our readers.

We will be glad to receive clubbing subscriptions with this paper and The Constitution, and if there are any who are now subscribers to this paper, who wish to take The Constitution also, we will be glad to receive subscriptions to the latter and forward them having authority from that paper to do so.

The Constitution should be in every southern home!

A GREAT MISSING WORD CONTEST

The Chronicle Offers a New Plan to Its Subscribers who Take The Constitution in Combination Offer.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE SEASON.

We take pleasure in announcing a missing word problem to our subscribers in connection with the Weekly Constitution of Atlanta, Ga. This is the sentence:

It is taken from a charming, living Southern author, and is offered to test the knowledge of our people of their own writers. The missing word is a plain, every-day English word, not a compound word, nor a proper name and is used in its ordinary acceptation. The prize to be given will be 10 per cent of all the subscriptions received from contestants by the Constitution, and will be paid by the Constitution. That paper has paid on missing word contests alone nearly $10,000 in cash prizes. To one party, M. L. Brittain, was given a check for $1,033.50 for one successful guess; others have received large sums ranging from $385 to $300 on similar propositions. This contest is to run until April 1, 1899, at which time the results will be promptly and properly announced.

Every subscriber who takes advantage of our clubbing offer with The Constitution may enter his own word to fill the blank in the sentence, and must be given to us at the time of the subscription so we can forward it together with his order for the Constitution. It's a plain, fair plan and we feel sure many will hunt up the word or take a shot at it. The subscription orders under this combination offer must be sent directly to this office and not to the Constitution. We will forward everything ourselves.

THE CHRONICLE.

AFRICAN LIMBLESS COTTON SEED FREE

Anyone who sends a year's subscription to the Atlanta Semi-Weekly Journal can get postpaid one pound of the celebrated African Limbless Cotton Seed without charge.

One pound of these seed will plant one-fifth of an acre, and with proper attention should yield enough to plant a crop.

The seed were tested in a list of thirty varieties by the Georgia Experiment Station, and a bulletin recently issued by Director Redding shows that the African Limbless Cotton produced 70 pounds more per acre than any other variety, and 161 pounds more per acre than the average of thirty leading varieties. The African Limbless Cotton produced 789 pounds of lint per acre, which is nearly four times the average on the farms of the South. This shows what high fertilization and thorough culture will do with these seed. The value of the product, counting cotton at 5 cents and seed at 13 cents a bushel, was over $45 per acre. The cost of fertilizers used was $4.77 per acre.

The Journal does not guarantee results, but the result of the test at the Experiment Station make it worth a farmer's while to try these seed when they cost him nothing.

The Journal brings you the news of the world twice a week, with hundreds of articles of special interest about the farm household, juvenile topics, and every Southern farmer should have the paper. You don't have to wait a week for the news, but get it twice as often as you do in the weeklies, which charge the same price.

THE CHRONICLE and the Journal, three papers per week, sent regularly to your address, and 1 pound of the Limbless Cotton Seed for only $1.75

Advice to Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand.

These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

What are these remedies? Fresh air, proper food and Scott's Emulsion of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak throats, weak lungs and consumption in all its stages.

Not a Party to the Case.

Many anecdotes were told of the late Judge Cox, of the district bench of Washington, D. C. One of them will bear retelling. A young lawyer, defending a criminal before him, and whose idea of eloquence seemed to consist in continually calling upon the Creator, concluded with this remarkable peroration: "I ask your honor for God's sake to have mercy on my client!" The judge adjusted his spectacles, asked for the papers, examined them with much deliberation, and then said: "The plea for mercy for God's sake cannot be entertained by the court. After a careful examination of the papers I do not find that God is a party to the record in this case."—Argonaut.

THE ILLS OF WOMEN

And How Mrs. Pinkham Helps Overcome Them.

MRS. MARY BOLLINGER, 1101 Marianna St., Chicago, Ill., to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I have been troubled for the past two years with falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, pains over my body, sick headaches, backache, nervousness and weakness. I tried doctors and various remedies without relief. After taking two bottles of your Vegetable Compound, the relief I obtained was truly wonderful. I have now taken several more bottles of your famous medicine, and can say that I am entirely cured."

MRS. HENRY DORR, No. 806 Findley St., Cincinnati, Ohio, to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For a long time I suffered with chronic inflammation of the womb, pain in abdomen and bearing-down feeling. Was very nervous at times, and so weak I was hardly able to do anything. Was subject to headaches, also troubled with leucorrhœa. After doctoring for many months with different physicians, and getting no relief, I had given up all hope of being well again when I read of the great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing. I decided immediately to give it a trial. The result was simply past belief. After taking four bottles of Vegetable Compound and using three packages of Sanative Wash I can say I feel like a new woman. I deem it my duty to announce the fact to my fellow sufferers that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable remedies have entirely cured me of all my pains and suffering. I have her alone to thank for my recovery, for which I am grateful. May heaven bless her for the good work she is doing for our sex."

AFFAIRS AT THE CAPITAL CITY

Interesting Events Happening at the Nation's Headquarters.

CLIMAX IN THE PHILIPPINES IS NEAR.

Cable Dispatch From General Otis Is Regarded as Most Important—Another Blow is Planned at the Rebels—Recruiting the Army.

Advices have been received from Manila which indicate that the climax may occur at any hour. The officials here are very well pleased with the condition of affairs, but will not at present discuss the details of the dispatches. The indications are that hostilities may end within a very short time.

The cable dispatch from General Otis is regarded as most important by those reading it, as indicating that hostilities might cease very suddenly in the Philippines and a collapse of the insurrection come at any time.

The reasons for the belief of General Otis that a climax might come at any hour was not stated, but his assumption was based on the favorable reports he had received from various sources that the Filipinos were tired of the war and Aguinaldo's leadership. It is believed at the war department that the methods in which the Americans have conducted the fighting has done much to convince the Filipinos of the uselessness of trying to drive out the United States forces. The fighting had been of different character to that which they were accustomed to when the Spaniards were in possession of Manila.

General Otis's cable has caused a great deal of gratification. It was sent to the president at Thomasville.

* * *

General Otis is planning another blow at the insurgents in execution of his scheme of hastening the ending of the rebellion in Luzon before the advent of the rainy season. The fact appeared quite incidentally in a cablegram received from him, in which he replied to an inquiry from the war department relative to the discharge of the volunteer soldiers serving in his army. These soldiers are entitled by the promise of the war department, and perhaps by the terms of their enlistment, to be recalled to their homes as soon as they can be relieved by regulars.

General Otis said that the men were willing to stay in the Philippines as long as they could be of active service, and then he added he was about to have some work of the most importance, indicating that another general movement forward was in prospect. This understanding is confirmed by the report from Manila to the effect that another column in addition to that of Wheaton's is being formed under Lawton's lead, and it is believed that this will be pushed rapidly northward from Manila enclosing between itself and Wheaton's column, the largest body of the insurgents remaining in the neighborhood of Manila.

* * *

It has been announced at the war department that the work of recruiting the army up to the full force of 65,000 men allowed by law would be finished within thirty days. Recruiting stations have been established wherever good results were probable, and no difficulty has been found in filling the ranks. This is particularly true of regiments destined for the Philippines, that station being the choice of a majority of the new men. A good proportion of the recruits are from the volunteer regiments already out of service, and the recruiting officers stationed at points where the volunteers were mustered out have been unusually busy. The re-enlistment of these seasoned soldiers in such numbers is particularly gratifying to the war department officials. After discharging from the regular army all those entitled to muster out by reason of the expiration of their terms of enlistment for the war with Spain, the force to be recruited under the recent army reorganization law numbered about 23,000 and from the progress already made this number will be mustered in by the middle of April.

* * *

The president has become interested in having the volunteer troops in Cuba hurried out of the island before there is any danger of infection from yellow fever.

He has given important instructions to the war department upon this matter, and the quartermaster's department is making a great effort to secure transports and have them ready to embark troops within a few days. It is desirable to have all troops destined for southern camps landed in the United States before April 1, when the quarantine regulations of the south will make it very difficult to get them into this country. The quartermaster's department has started several transports for Cuba which have not been in active service of late.

* * *

The Spanish government, through the French ambassador, M. Cambon, has presented to the state department a representation as to the condition of the Spanish prisoners held by the Philippine insurgents, setting forth what they consider the serious results arising from General Otis' recent prohibition of efforts by the Spanish authorities to secure the release of the prisoners.

SCIENTIFIC NOTES.

An electrical instrument has been invented by which it is sought to make the various ranges of temperature audible in an ordinary telephone receiver. The apparatus resembles an ordinary electric battery box. From one side extends a long insulated wire, carrying a small coil of bare wire. On the other side is the telephone receiver. If the temperature of a pail of water is to be tested the coil of bare wire is thrust into the pail, and the observer, with the telephone to his ear, proceeds to turn the pointer on a dial in front of him. A loud buzzing is heard in the receiver. This is caused by the fact that the pointer is not yet at the figure representing the temperature of the water. As the indicator nears this figure the buzzing sound in the receiver becomes fainter until the figure is reached, then it stops. The instrument does excellent work in the cold-storage warehouses. Formerly refrigerating plants had to be operated continually under high pressure, because the temperature of any particular room could not be ascertained without opening it, which was not always advisable. The consequences was that all the rooms had to be kept cold. With the new instrument the temperature of any room can be told by using its indicating dial and receiver in the office of the warehouse.

C. E. Linney has written an interesting article on the effect of approaching storms upon song birds. The restlessness of domestic animals and barnyard fowls before atmospheric or electrical disturbances is well known, and its various phases have been often noted, but data as to the behavior of song birds under similiar conditions are not easily found. During a night in August a very severe electrical wind and rain storm prevailed over the northern district of Illinois. One observer noticed that for forty-eight hours before the storm not a sound was heard from the numerous song birds in his district. This observation excited a good deal of curiosity on the subject, and Mr. Linney, who began to investigate it, received many letters. Some of the correspondents confirmed the experience, while others stated that birds invariably sing louder and more persistently before a great storm. The greater part of the testimony went to show that the birds were more restless at such a time. This conclusion is strengthened by proverb lore, and Mr. Linney gives the following weather proverbs referring to song birds and storms: When birds cease to sing, rain and thunder will follow. If birds in general pick their feathers, wash themselves and fly to their nests, expect rain. Parrots and canaries dress their feathers and are wakeful before a storm. If the peacock cries when he goes to roost, and, indeed, much at any time, it is a sign of rain. Long and loud singing of robins in the morning denotes rain. Robins will perch on the topmost branches of trees and whistle when a storm is coming on.

Cultivation of Lasting Charms.

The old proverb about riches having wings is even more true of good looks. A few years more or less, and with first youth first beauty fades. A dainty skin becomes wrinkled, glossy hair grows dim—an illness, an accident, and loveliness has gone forever. That woman is wise who, whether she be plain or beautiful, cultivates lasting charm of manner or mind, to last long after mere outside charms to admiration have faded and been forgotten.

EASTERN PLANTS AND SEEDS.

Persimmons, Jumbo and Japanese Plums Will be Tried in This Country.

Professor. S. A. Knapp, the special commissioner of Secretary Wilson to the orient to investigate the availability of eastern plants and seeds for common use in this country, and secure specimens of those that are valuable, has submitted his preliminary report summing up the work.

There are a number of seeds and plants selected for experiment with a view to common usage here, and they include persimmons, the eastern product of which is a far more edible fruit than ours; bamboo, Japan plums, pears, camphor trees and hagi. All the persimmon and pear seedlings have reached here and have been distributed to experiment stations.

The persimmon, the report shows, is the most universally used of all the fruits in Japan. This makes the first importation of the seedless variety of the persimmon, which is dried and preserved like a fig.

Some plums were purchased in Japan for hybridizing our native plums. The bamboo is used in Japan for an infinite variety of purposes and it is even a table delicacy. Whether the American taste will be trained to use the bamboo as a food is not ventured, but the report says it will thrive in many of the southern states and be of great value in various ways. Among other uses, it is suggested as a material for eavetroughs, light fences, staging poles, rafters, etc. It is the product of a warm climate and in rich, moist soil frequently grows sixty feet in one year. Camphor trees were selected because this variety will stand the frost of our gulf states and the tree is large and ornamental. The bark of the paper mulberry, it is urged, will go well with the bamboo for a variety of purposes. The Crypome Japonica is the principal tree used in reforesting the mountains of Japan and it will be a valuable addition to the woods of the southern states. Hagi or lespidigu bicular is a new forage plant apparently of great value. It stands the drought well, is similar to alfalfa in characteristics and nutritive value, but more hardy, thrives on poorer soil and has a more vigorous growth.

Mayor Quincy of Boston recently ordered the heads of the various municipal departments to ascertain how many horses and vehicles are under their control. The returns show that the city owns 1,023 horses and 976 vehicles. Of the former 849 are draught horses and 176 are used for driving purposes.

Sister Mary Helen Ellis, one of the few survivors of the band of Roman Catholic Sisters of Mercy who, under Miss Nightingale, went to attend the English soldiers in the Crimean war, died lately at Walthamstow, England, in her 82d year.

A SONG OF HOME.

The summer day is over,
And weary with honest toil,
Home, through the fields of clover
That springs from the fertile soil,
Plods now the sturdy farmer
With grimy hands, and though
Soiled too, indeed, is his suit of tweed,
But little cares he, I trow.

In the housewife's hand awaiting
Is a cake of Ivory Soap,
And we hear her say: "Hie dirt away,
'Tis this that gives us hope."
So he takes the shining treasure,
And laughing with delight,
Cries: "See it float, the magic boat
That makes my home so bright."

A WORD OF WARNING.—There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

GLADNESS COMES

WITH a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of illness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the only remedy which promises internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is, therefore, all-important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

THE HIGHEST OBJECT

Of the art of advertising is to correctly inform the public of the merits of any article, and truthful statements always prove most effective in time. The valuable reputation acquired by the California Fig Syrup Co. by reason of the excellence of the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, which it manufactures, confirms the statement, which the company freely makes, that the best of remedies only should be used when needed by the human system. The more one takes of salts and pills the more constipated the system becomes, while on the other hand one enjoys both the method and the results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and overcomes habitual constipation permanently; also biliousness and the many ills resulting therefrom. The great trouble with all other purgatives and aperients is not that they fail to act when a single dose is taken, but that they act too violently and invariably tend to produce a habit of body requiring constantly augmented doses. Children enjoy the pleasant taste and gentle action of Syrup of Figs, the ladies find it delightful and beneficial whenever a laxative remedy is needed, and business men pronounce it invaluable, as it may be taken without interfering with business and does not gripe nor nauseate.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

Is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and therefore we wish to impress on all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. When buying note the name, California Fig Syrup Co., printed on the front of every package.

Probate Judge

An Easter Incident.

BY ALBERT BIGELOW PAINE.

"I AM going to give you the money, Nell, and let you buy it yourself," said Mrs. Thorne rather wearily. "What with company yesterday, and getting your dress ready to day, and Flaxie cross and half sick with a cold, I simply haven't the courage to go to the milliner's with you."

The little girl looked up brightly. She was barely thirteen, and the thought of going all alone to Miss Prim's for her new Easter finery was rather pleasant to her.

"Oh, mamma, you don't need to go! I'm sure you don't! I can pick out just what I want, and if you don't like it when it comes home we can change it, you know. I might go down right away and see what Miss Prim has. May I, mamma?" and the little girl rose eagerly.

"Why yes, Nell, I suppose so. You can tell Miss Prim that you want to see what she has and the prices, and that you will be in to-morrow to take one. Don't go over two dollars and a half, Nellie. That is all I can afford this time. That ought to buy really a very nice hat for a little girl. Not too much trimming, remember. I don't believe in so much show for Easter as some folks make. Goodby, dear; be home early."

Nellie had been hastily putting on her things as her mother talked, and was out the door almost before she had finished. She tried to walk at first, but her feet kept going faster and faster, until she was fairly in a run, before she was half way to Miss Prim's little shop, that was quite in the centre of the village.

At Miss Prim's she was all upset. There were so many hats, and most of them so pretty and becoming, that she could not choose. She had almost decided upon a dainty little Leghorn, trimmed with violets and daisies, when her eye caught a hat in another case that made her forget all the others. It was richer and more profusely trimmed. When Miss Prim placed it besides the others they looked cheap and scanty.

"Oh, Miss Prim, how much is it?" she asked breathlessly.

"I have been asking four dollars for it, but it is so near Easter now you may have it cheaper. You may have it for three and a half."

The girl's face fell. It was a dollar more than she could pay.

"I am afraid it is more than mamma can afford this year," she said regretfully.

All the way home she thought of that beautiful hat. She walked rather slowly now, thinking and thinking very hard. She knew it would be useless to ask her mother to buy the more expensive hat. Mrs. Thorne was kind, almost indulgent with her children, but she was firm in what she told them. Nellie did not enter the house as gayly as she had left it, and her mother thought her tired.

"You have been finding it hard to choose, Nell," she said, smiling. "Tell me about it."

"Yes, mamma, there were so many, I picked a Leghorn straw, trimmed with violets and daisies. It is two and a half. Miss Prim had another a good deal like it, only lots finer and more trimming, for three and a half that had been four dollars."

"OH, MISS PRIM! HOW MUCH IS IT?"

"The cheaper one will do very well this year, I'm sure," said her mother gently. "We have had a good deal of expense, you know."

The little girl was very quiet that evening and went to bed early. Far in the night she woke with a start. She had been dreaming of the two hats and Miss Prim. In her dream she had said to Miss Prim, "I cannot buy it, because I have only two dollars and a half," and Miss Prim had said, "Why yes, you have, Nellie; you have a gold dollar put away in a drawer at home." It was this that had made her jump and wake up, for she did have a gold dollar that her uncle, Henry Thorne, had given her once when she was a baby, and it was put away in a drawer, just as Miss Prim had said. She had not thought of this before, and it was of no use to think of it now, for though she had never been told not to spend the dollar, it was only because her mother believed she would never even dream of doing so.

But Nellie did dream of it, over and over, and each time she woke with a start and lay awake a long time. She was pale and silent next morning, and when she set out for Miss Prim's the money that her mother had given her she carried in her little purse, while deep down in her pocket was Uncle Henry Thorne's gold dollar. She had not fully decided yet that she was going to spend it, but she had felt for it where she kept it in a little ring box under her clothes the first thing when she got up that morning and the little ring box had been pushed back under her clothes empty when she came down to breakfast.

Miss Prim was unusually pleasant that morning. She brought both hats out to the light for Nellie to see and said there was more than a dollar's difference in the two, and Nellie could see that herself. But Miss Prim looked a little surprised when she saw the gold dollar.

"Why," she said, "I haven't seen one for a long time. I'll keep it, I guess, for a little niece of mine." Then she wrapped up the hat for Nellie, talking pleasantly.

When Nellie started with her purchase there was a feeling of triumph in possessing it that wore off as she walked along. She did not feel at all happy in the way she had expected. She remembered now for the first time that her mother would no doubt wonder at the cheapness of the hat and speak of it in a way that would make her silence equal to a falsehood. She had never told her mother an untruth. Then she remembered how happily she had tripped away to Miss Prim's yesterday. It did not seem to her that she could be the same little girl.

But Mrs. Thorne said less than Nellie had expected. She was tired and only kissed her pretty daughter.

"Why, Nell," she smiled, "I don't see what you would want of more trimming than that. I think a good deal less would have answered. It's rather old for you now, but will be nice with a little alteration for next year."

With a sigh of relief Nellie took her purchase to her room. That night she dreamed again. Over and over she thought Miss Prim's niece had come to see her and brought the gold dollar. Her mother had seen it and said, "Why, that is Nellie's gold dollar that her Uncle Henry Thorne gave her." And then the little girl had said, "No, it isn't; it's mine, that my Aunt Hester Prim sent me on Easter."

When she was dressed in her pretty new gown and ready to go to church next morning she certainly looked very sweet, though she was so pale that her mother said, "I'm afraid you are not well, Nellie. The excitement has been too much for you. Easter isn't only for pretty things, my dear."

Flaxie's cold was no better, and Mrs. Thorne did not go to church. By and by she prepared dinner, thinking Nellie would be home presently and be hungry. Somewhat before she expected her the door suddenly flew open and the little girl burst into the room. The new hat she flung on the table, and rushing to her mother she burst into a torrent of tears and sobs.

"Oh, mamma! mamma!" she wailed. "I deceived you. It is the one that cost a dollar more, and I spent the gold dollar that Uncle Harry Thorne gave me when I was little!"

Mrs. Thorne looked grave.

"Tell me all about it, dear," she said gently.

And Nellie told her everything, dreams and all.

"And then the sermon was about the Resurrection," she concluded, tearfully, "and the preacher said that even our new dresses and our new hats were—were symbols of—of a new life, and cried as if her own childish heart were breaking.

Mrs. Thorne went herself to Miss Prim's the next day. The little milliner had not parted with the gold dollar, and when she heard the story of it she exchanged it willingly and said she would exchange the hat too. At first Mrs. Thorne thought it best not to do this, but after reflecting a few moments, decided that it would be too severe on Nellie to make her wear so long the hat she now hated, and when she left took the pretty little Leghorn that Nellie had first chosen. Nellie herself returned a little later with the other, and Miss Prim kissed her and gave her some lemon drops, and told her that she had proven herself a sweet and worthy child. And Nellie may have cried the least bit, but she was very happy.—New York Herald.

FLOWERS IN OUR CHURCHES.

In No Other Country Are They Used to Such an Extent at Easter.

As long as the high festival of Easter has been celebrated the custom has prevailed of removing all signs of mourning from the church, relighting the candles and unveiling the statues and crosses. The use of flowers as decorations is a much more recent custom. In England it is first mentioned by a writer in the Gentleman's Magazine in July, 1783, who conjectures that "the flowers with which many churches are ornamented on Easter day are most probably intended as emblems of the resurrection, having just risen from the earth in which during the severity of the winter they seem to have been buried."

In the early days of this country flowers were seldom seen as decorations, and it is only within the last quarter of a century that they have been used with reckless extravagance. In fact, the first attempt to decorate old Trinity Church in New York City for Easter is still within the memory of those living. A sweet smelling, inoffensive little bunch of blossoms, that had been carefully chosen, was placed in the font on Easter morning. But such a furor was raised by the members of the church against the innovation that it was thought best to remove the intruder before the afternoon service. To-day the church is always decorated on Easter Sunday. In no country in the world are flowers used in such abundance at Easter as in America.

Christ is risen! Hear the song,
Filling all the isles of air.
Where the stars of glory throng,
Where the angels answer prayer
Christ is risen over all—
Every claim of mortal sense,
Sin no longer need enthrall,
Death no more life's ardor quench.

Christ is risen! Evil powers
Flee like mists the morning sun,
Truth descends in healing showers,
God and Goodness shine as one!
In these resurrection hours
Let us from our idols turn,
Wreath the cross with Easter flowers,
And the risen Christ discern.

Easter Day.

If you wake up Sunday morning when it's quiet in the street,
And you hear the church bells chiming far away;
If their melody is rich and more than usually sweet,
It's because they're ringing in the Easter Day.

When you see the streets alive with women radiant and fair,
And hats of every fashion, hue and ray,
Till you think a million butterflies are winging in the air,
Then you'll know for certain that it's Easter Day.

If you notice during service, when the Lenten prayers are read,
And every pretty woman kneels to pray,
That she's taking in the bonnet of her neighbor just ahead,
You'll excuse her, 'cause you know it's Easter Day.

When you tuck the blessed little 'uns in bed so snug and tight,
And "Now I lay me down to sleep," they say,
Just tell 'em 'bout their Savior 'fore you kiss 'em all good night,
And thank the Lord we've got an Easter Day.

The Mohammedan Easter.

Bairam is the name of the Mohammedan Easter. It follows Ramadan, which corresponds to Lent, and lasts three days. During this time visits are exchanged and presents made in much the same spirit as that which characterizes our Christmas. At Constantinople the streets are thronged and bands of music parade day and night. The decorations of the boats in the Bosphorus are striking and beautiful. The Sultan celebrates the day by worshipping in the mosque, after which he gives an informal reception to his friends in the palace of Dolma-baktche. During this reception the Sultan occupies a throne of great splendor placed in the midst of the vast and beautifully decorated audience hall.

Easter in Olden Time.

Easter was at one time celebrated by feasts and games held in the churches. These at first were decorous and useful in bringing the congregations together in rejoicing after the seven duties imposed upon them during Lent. The custom was abandoned because of the excesses, which became a scandal to the Church.

An Easter Superstition.

It is curious, in view of the modern view of Easter and the "Easter parade," to find the superstition still extant in East Yorkshire, England, that it is very unlucky not to wear new garments on that day. In that district rooks will ruin your other clothing if you fail to wear some new thing.

THE THIRD GEORGIA BACK FROM CUBA

Regiment Arrives at Savannah and Is Thoroughly Fumigated.

WILL GO OUT AT AUGUSTA

Colonel Berner Has the Mustering Out Point Changed.

General Carpenter telegraphed from Cuba to the war department Saturday that the Third Georgia United States volunteers, with 46 officers, 921 men, 21 civilian employes and 15 horses, sailed from Neuvitas for Savannah at 5 o'clock Saturday morning on the transport Logan.

After an uneventful voyage the Logan reached the Savannah quarantine station, at 12:30 o'clock Sunday, and there it stopped so that the men might go through with the process required of all passengers from Cuba, namely, fumigation.

The most interesting feature in connection with the return of the Third Georgia, so far as has yet been learned, is that the regiment, contrary to all expectations, will be mustered out at Augusta, instead of Savannah or Griffin. This was decided upon and will be done at the request of Colonel Robert L. Berner, who said he would prefer to have his regiment taken to Augusta to remaining in Savannah.

Four of the volunteer regiments go to Augusta—the second South Carolina, part of which is already there, the Third Georgia, the Fourth Virginia and the Second Illinois. Eight others to be brought back will be mustered out in Savannah.

The Work of Disinfection.

The Third Georgia regiment was unloaded at once on the arrival of the Logan and the work of disinfecting the men was begun. They had to remove their clothing, put it all into one big pot and have the disinfecting gases run through it. When the process to which the officers, even the colonel, are subjected as well as the men—was completed, the regiment was hurried up to the city as rapidly as possible.

The Georgians are in excellent condition and there is no sickness among them. The fumigation, however, is a matter of precaution taken in all cases and to which all troops will have to submit.

TESTIMONY OF ROOSEVELT.

New York's Governor Says Canned Beef Was Unfit To Eat.

The army court of inquiry investigating the charges made by General Miles that the beef furnished the soldiers in the Cuban and Porto Rican campaigns was unfit for use, convened in New York City Saturday.

Before the hearing began Major Lee said he believed Governor Roosevelt would be the only witness heard.

Upon his arrival Governor Roosevelt shook hands with several members of the court, and then took the stand, after Colonel Davis had administered the oath. The governor described the organization of the Rough Riders at San Antonio, Texas, and told of the issuance of rations.

"When was the first complaint you heard of the rations?" asked Colonel Davis.

"May I answer that in my own way?" asked the governor.

"Certainly."

"Well, it was aboard ship at Tampa, I saw a man—think his name was Ash—I know he came from Kentucky—throwing away a can of the so-called roast beef. I asked what was the matter, and he said he could not eat it. I told him not to be a baby, and that he did not volunteer for a good time, and ought to be able to eat what came. I thought no more of the matter until I heard that complaints were being made on all sides. Then I made inquiries, and was told that the roast beef was part of the regular ration, and that only the volunteers were complaining.

"I spoke to Colonel Wood about it, and said it was the regular ration. I ate a mouthful or two myself, but I did not like it. I could not eat it."

PREACHER STUART TALKS.

Says Tennessee Has Not Had Four Sober Governors Since the War.

In an interview in Knoxville Sunday night, Rev. George R. Stuart, coworker of Rev. Sam Jones, said:

"Notwithstanding the favorable criticism of the press of this and other states, I will reiterate my statement, made a few weeks ago, that Tennessee has not had four absolutely sober governors since the war. I mean teetotaler when I say absolutely sober.

"Benton McMillin has not yet stood his test, but I am sure he will make a clean, sober governor, as he does not drink. I do not include Brownlow nor McMillin in my statement."

BIG IRON PIPE DEAL.

Arrangements Perfected and Chattanooga Concern Benefited.

Information was received in Chattanooga Saturday night that the pending deal to consolidate the cast iron pipe works of the country, which includes the American Pipe Company's plants, among which is the Chattanooga foundry and pipe works, had been concluded. The Chattanooga concern, it is stated, gets $850,000 out of the transaction.

DEADLY BLAZE AT MEMPHIS.

Four People Meet Death In Burning Boarding House.

In a fire at Memphis, Tenn., Friday morning at Mrs. E. B. Nolen's boarding house at 104 Court street, there was a property loss of not more than $2,500, but four lives were lost and six people more or less seriously injured.

The dead are: Mrs. Lilly Chapin, thirty-three years old; Roy Chapin, ten; Chester Chapin, four; Thomas Bull, sixty.

The injured are: Miss Katie Loyd, Preston Loyd, Paul Martin, Robert Campbell, Mrs. C. A. McMillan and Diggs Nolen.

Mrs. Nolen's boarding house was patronized by regular boarders, as well as by roomers and transients. At the time of the fire there were twenty-one people in the house.

The fire originated in the front room on the first floor of the building. A fire from the grate ignited the hanging curtains in the early part of the night and a prompt response by the fire department succeeded in extinguishing the flames without damage. The guests retired at the usual hour.

At an early hour Friday morning flames were seen issuing from the house and the inmates wildly rushing about in a franctic effort to escape. The department again responded promptly and after the fire was under control the search revealed the charred bodies of the dead.

In one of the front rooms on the second floor the bodies of Mrs. Chapin and her two little sons were found. These died of suffocation. They were only slightly burned.

M'KINLEY IN FLORIDA.

Makes Flying Trip to Tallahassee. Reed Goes Too.

President McKinley and quite a large party left Thomasville Friday for a flying trip to Tallahassee, Fla.

The president heard a good deal of Tallahassee, largely through President Frank Thomson of the Pennsylvania railroad, who has a place there, and as the distance is only about sixty miles, through a rather interesting country, he decided to visit the ancient capital.

A special train was provided by the Plant system, including two Pullmans, an extra coach and a baggage car.

At Tallahassee the party was received by Governor Bloxham and a local committee. The town had been elaborately decorated in honor of the president. Salutes were fired, an escort provided, a regular program carried out and the visit was more of a ceremonious affair than any feature of the present southern trip.

Speaker Reed left Jekyl Island Friday morning for a trip to the Florida resorts, and was scheduled to arrive a few hours ahead of the presidential party.

The fact that Speaker Reed went to Florida was the occasion of much surprise to every one. It has set the politicians guessing again.

MOB STILL AT WORK.

Three More Lynched Bodies Found In Arkansas Woods.

A dispatch of Friday from Texarkana, Ark., says: Details of the wholesale lynchings reported to have occurred in Little River county are slow in coming in. Three more dead negroes have been found in Red river bottoms between New Boston, Tex., and Rocky Comfort Ark.; two of them—Joe King and Moses Jones—having been hanged or shot to death. The third body was stripped entirely naked when found.

A justice of the peace held an inquest over these bodies and a verdict was returned by the jury declaring that the men "came to their death from natural causes or were frozen to death." The verdict is regarded as a grewsome joke.

MAY CAUSE SPLIT.

The Bryan-Belmont Incident Causes Stir Among Democrats.

A Washington dispatch says: "The fear is prevalent among democrats here that the Bryan-Belmont incident will make permanent the split in the democratic party. It was generally believed that the gold men who left the party to the support of Palmer and Buckner in 1896, would return to the democratic ranks and act with the democratic organizations in 1900, doing what they could, however, to subordinate the silver issue to other questions.

"Both sides which have shown some spirit of compromise and willingness at least to try to join issues, are greatly disturbed on account of this incident."

HAUPT FOUND GUILTY.

Savannah Embezzler Gets Ten Years In the Pen.

George W. Haupt, defaulting treasurer of the Duffy street Baptist church, at Savannah, embezzler of the funds of the Georgia Pine Railroad company, and forger, so convicted in the superior court, must serve ten years in the Georgia penitentiary. Such was the sentence of Judge Robert Falligant in the trial of the case.

SHERMAN TRANSFERRED

From Steamer Paris to United States Cruiser Chicago.

A Santiago dispatch says: Mr. John Sherman has been safely removed from the American line steamer Paris to the quarters prepared for him on board the United States cruiser Chicago.

Dr. Graff, of the Paris, who examined Mr. Sherman after he was transferred to the Chicago, says both lungs are practically clear and that the patient is doing well.

MALABON FIRED BY THE REBELS

Desperate and Heavy Fighting In Neighborhood of Manila.

FILIPINOS USE STRATEGY

Their Tactics Cause Americans To Lose Heavily.

A Manila special says: The Americans Sunday morning found the important town of Polo and a number of small village west of the railroad deserted and burning. They were advancing along the railroad.

During the day the Washington volunteers, who held Pasig Saturday, had an engagement with a band of insurgents, who drove in their outposts. In the fight the Filipinos lost several.

At 9:30 o'clock a. m. the Filipinos began burning their stronghold at Malabon, and their forces fled from the city in the direction of Malalos.

The insurgents will make their last stand probably at Malalos.

The Americans have advanced along the line of the Dagupan railroad, driving the Filipinos from Malinta and Newcanayan, where there were 3,000 inhabitants.

Saturday night the brigades of General Harrison Gray Otis and General Hale encamped in the enemy's trenches at Newcanayan and that of General Wheaton at Malinta.

General Wheaton's brigade formed a junction with the remainder of General McArthur's division at Malinta, and the two, leaving General Wheaton there, marched along the railroad to Newcanayan. This place was fortified and for 300 yards from it there were trenches on each side of the track. These were taken possession of by the American troops. The movement of the Americans will be pushed in this direction.

The Filipinos realizing that the railroad is the crucial line, have constructed row after row of trenches, running diagonally on both sides of the track at a distace of a few hundred yards apart.

This work was designed most intelligently, and has evidently been done under the direction of experts. It represents an enormous amount of labor. Most of the rebel positions are protected by thick earchworks, a majority of them topped with stones and provided with loopholes. Some have sheet-iron roofs.

The day's work of the United States troops consisted of storming three successive trenches. The Filipinos occupying them were completely hidden.

The enemy poured a strong fire from every trench until they were disturbed by a flanking volley, when they would disappear into the woods and jungle, only to make a stand at the next line.

The American loss was remarkably small, seven being reported killed and twenty-five wounded. It is known that the Filipinos were so protected that they suffered little. No dead insurgents were found in the trenches. Forty prisoners were taken by the Americans, and it is estimated that the rebel casualties numbered twenty.

American Loss Heavy.

Further particulars of Saturday's fighting show that twenty-six dead and one hundred and fifty wounded in the hospital is the latest statement of the American losses in the engagement with the Filipinos. The day's fighting furnished a specimen of the difficulties with which the Americans have to contend.

The Filipinos never, except opposite Malabon, permitted their opponents to get within several hundred yards of them.

They would fire a few volleys from their cover and then scuttle back to another cover, repeating these tactics for miles.

Many of the trenches had gullies and connecting paths through the cane and brush, enabling them to retreat unseen.

The problem the Americans have to face is to drive or lure the insurgents to fight in force. The trenches seem thinly manned except in the vicinity of Malabon.

The Americans, fighting a hidden foe, suffered greater loss in proportion than did the enemy.

SPANISH REPRESENTATIVE

Will Be Accredited to United States At An Early Date.

Much interest attaches in Washington to the report in diplomatic circles that diplomatic relations between this country and Spain will be resumed at a very early date.

The rule has been for a lengthy period to elapse between ratification of peace treaties and the reappointments of diplomatic agents to represent the recently contending powers. The custom has sprung largely from pique and an impression that a prompt resumption of diplomatic relations would be inconsistent with the dignity of the defeated country.

STRIKE OF GARMENT MAKERS.

Six Thousand Workers In Philadelphia Ordered Out.

The executive committee of the Garment Workers' Union at Philadelphia ordered a strike of the 6,000 garment makers of the city, beginning Saturday at noon.

The purpose of the strike is principally to secure the abolition of subcontracting as well as higher wages and increased rates for government work.

AGUINALDO'S ARMY BADLY DEFEATED.

Onslaught Was Terrific and Rout of Enemy Was Complete.

AMERICAN LOSS HEAVY.

Between Three and Four Hundred Rebels Were Killed.

The New York World prints the following Manilla cable under date of March 24th:

"A sweeping victory over Aguinaldo's forces has just been won by the United States troops.

"The total American loss is estimated at about 100, including both the killed and wounded.

"The Filipino loss is between 300 and 400."

A dispatch received at Washington from Manila states that the enemy are extremely active in the vicinity of Malabon preparing defenses, evidently anticipating an attack. They keep well under cover. A small body of rebels, however, emerged from the jungle on the extreme left Friday and fired upon the Kansas troops in the trenches, fatally wounding Private Cohen, of company B, and Private Muser, of company E.

The Oregon volunteers and the Twenty-second regulars marched to the front Friday. The Third and Seventeenth regiments have disembarked from the Sherman. General H. G. Otis's brigade struck their tents Friday morning, and an early move is probable.

Sixteen English refugees arrived from Dagupan, the railroad terminus, on board the steamer Saturnus. They report that the natives are generally friendly, and the officers invariably courteous.

Mr. Higgins, manager of the railroad, and about a dozen unmarried men in charge of various business interests declined to take advantage of the opportunity to leave. Nothing has been heard from the two American planters at Calumpit since hostilities began.

According to Filipino accounts, a thousand Americans have been killed, the fatalities being especially heavy at Caloocan, where the United States troops "rushed like madmen against a storm of bullets."

Two Spanish prisoners, who have escaped from Polo to the lines of the Kansas regiment, report that the Filipinos have concentrated their forces at Malabon and Polo. They add that only Aguinaldo's body guard is at Malolos, and that the rebel leaders apparently intend to stake their fortunes on a fight at Malabon, where it was expected an engagement would take place Friday. If defeated, it is further asserted, the rebels intend to disperse to the swamps and mountains.

The rebels were putting their bolos in front, believing that the bolosmen's charms will avert the bullets. The bolos of the Filipinos greatly outnumber the rifles in their hands. The rebels are further said to have admitted that they could not stand the American shells and bayonet charges.

The escaped Spaniards corroborated the stories told of food shortage among the rebels, and they added that their hospitals are short of supplies.

FOR FINAL ADVANCE.

Otis Is Making Preparations To Crush Aguinaldo.

It is understood at Washington that General Otis has so far matured his plans of campaign that within a week or ten days he will be able to begin the movement which is expected to mark the destruction of Aguinaldo's army.

Although stragglers and fugitives may infest the army of Luzon for some time, it is believed that after Otis has delivered his next blow the insurgent army, as an organization, will have ceased to exist.

The new movement will be, it is understood, by a combined land and water attack, though it is not expected that the navy's part in the program will be particularly prominent.

Otis has procured thirteen of the Spanish gunboats formerly owned by the Spanish government, and these are to play an important part in the development of the campaign.

FRANCIS PIERPONT DEAD.

"Father" of State of West Virginia Passes Away In Pittsburg.

Hon. Francis Pierpont, the first governor of West Virginia, died Friday night in Pittsburg, Pa., at the residence of his daughter.

Ex-Governor Pierpont was the union governor of the restored government of Virginia organized in Wheeling at the outbreak of the war by the citizens of what is now West Virginia, and who then opposed the secession. He was the principal agitator of the division of the state before the war and a prime mover in the organization of West Virginia and has since been known as the father of that state.

HARMONICUS ACTION POSSIBLE.

The action of the Populist executive committee on last Saturday in accepting the invitation of the Democratic convention to a conference and in the naming of a committee for that purpose discloses a possibility of the white people of this county getting together on the election of a delegate from this county to the constitutional convention. Of course the result of the conference cannot be foretold, and it largely depends upon the action of the State convention along this line; but the chances are in favor of agreeing upon some plan that will prevent a local fight for the place.

Under the resolutions passed by the Democratic county convention the committee appointed are in a position to agree to any plan which will be equitable and which will not sacrifice any principles involved. The Democrats are committed to the elimination of the ignorant and corrupt negro vote, but against the disfranchisement of any white people; they are committed to the submission of the constitution to the people for ratification; they are pledged against any change in the constitutional tax limit, and against any change in the present power of the legislature to deal with the liquor traffic. Our committee is prepared to agree to the selection of any man who will adhere to those four propositions, be he Populist or Democrat. If such a man can be agreed upon by the conference, it need go no further in its deliberations. If such a man cannot be agreed upon, then the fairest and best solution will be a white primary, to be jointly held and participated in by both parties.

This joint committee of conference should keep one thing in view—that they represent the white people of Shelby County, and that their deliberations will be to the view of harmonizing these, not only now, but in future local affairs. We speak advisedly when we say that in this move the Democrats are wholly sincere in their desire to pave the way for harmony in the future, and that they seek no advantage nor consideration to which they are not entitled on the part of the Populists. It is a plain proposition for united action, and there should be no doubting of motives. Among the Democrats of this county are many, if not most, of those upon whom burdens of taxation fall heaviest; it were absurd to think that they seek not the best interest of the taxpayer.

Keeping in mind that the interests of all white citizens are in common, and that this question may be settled from a non-partisan standpoint, and forgetting altogether the interests of the officeseeker, there is no good reason why our people should not elect the very ablest, safest man in the county to represent us in the work of revising the organic law.

AMONG the features of the court house removal bill, the most difficult to understand is that providing for the registering of the entire voting population for this special election. What good reason there can be for expending something like $125 to register the vote of the county we can not see. We would really be obliged to someone for information on this point. We would also like to know why the election is to be held under an old system that was the outcome of Republican carpet-bag rule, instead of under the present law governing general elections. We might also ask why the vote must lie in the mayor's office at Calera until the day for the final count. It occurs to us that in these three strange provisions it is a case of "Evil be to him who evil thinketh.

WHAT the last legislature didn't do in regard to taxes could hardly be thought of. A license fee of 25 cents was levied upon bicycles, which, together with 10 cents for the probate judge, must be paid by every person who owns and rides a wheel. The licenses are now ready for issue, and if not taken out by April 1 it will cost a great deal extra.

The executive committee of the Alabama Press Association met in Montgomery Wednesday and decided the meeting of the Association should be held in Birmingham June 14. And that night the convention will start on an excursion trip to Niagara Falls. These trips are always enjoyable.

Storms, storms, is the watchword now, and the conspicuous headlines of the dailies. Our cyclones seem to be no respecter of houses or institutions, church steeples, hotels and the State penitentiary all sustain damages or are completely demolished, as well as private residences, school houses, barns and manufacturing plants. On last Tuesday much damage was done and loss of life at Opelika, Montgomery, Selma and Riderville in Alabama, also at many points in Georgia.

CURRENT CRITICISMS.

By Mrs. F. W. GIST.

The desecration of the Sabbath in America is not decreasing, but is increasing. In large cities the Sunday "outing" is a thing looked forward to from one Sabbath to the next. Sightseeing, rowing, racing, and especially bicycling is indulged in to the heart's full content; and for those who work or are shut up in offices the entire week these recreations are less harmful, in our estimation, than other desecrations that are carried on in the country by a certain class of farmers. One Sunday recently we were out in the heart of the country, in the center and heart of this great and civilized Alabama! A team came along the Montgomery dirt road drawing a full loaded wagon of corn and being driven by a bright, good-looking white boy of 12 or 14 years. We enquired of our companions what it meant. The good man of the farm had deliberately sent his son with a team on Saturday evening several miles across the country to haul the load of corn home on Sunday while the horses couldn't be plowing. It rained so much the following week that same farmer was unable to plow for nearly ten days, and he had time enough to haul 1,000 bushels of corn. But "they say" he invariably makes use of Sunday in some like manner. A nation, a country or an individual will never prosper in a willful desecration of the Sabbath.

Apropos of the above-mentioned violations of the Lord's day, there is a joke on your humble writer. Being such an interested reader of the New Era from its first issue, and even before it appeared! we sent it week after week among our neighbors, hoping they would become interested also and subscribe for it, when suddenly we were informed that it was never read, owing to the fact that it is a Sunday publication. But the climax of the many interesting features connected with that gathering of distinguished women was reached on Tuesday evening of the convention when Mrs Belle R. It is a good plan to teach each child of the household to say grace at the table. We know a little girl who will not touch her tea or little baby biscuit when at play with her tea set, until she has bowed her head and repeated a blessing. This same little girl's brothers and sisters almost have a family row when father is gone and the family gather around the board; each one desires to be the chosen one to say grace. Mother has solved the way out by having each one and herself repeat grace in concert like a Sunday school repeating the Lord's prayer in concert when the superintendent is absent.

Miss Helen Gould has been informed that she will be presented with a gold badge from the fire department of New York, so that she may enter the fire lines of any fire in the city. This is done in recognition of her services during the lamentable Windsor Hotel fire. How about letting Miss Helen vote, brethren? We do believe if she wished it you would never open your mouths in protest. Well, there are lots of Helen Goulds in America, only their names are not Helen Gould, nor is their bank account equal to hers. We are glad to see Miss Helen recognized as she should be, even if it is her name and money doing a whole lot of it. Wonder if Miss Helen is the first and only woman in New York who has ever opened her doors to the distressed during a fire? Lots of them down South have—plenty of them right here in Columbiana, but we are not all Helen Goulds' nor Annie Wheelers'. People would think from the parade in the newspapers that Annie Wheeler was about the only woman who nursed the soldiers in the late war with Spain; this, however, not because of her money, for she has none, but because her father is a fighter. We are not grudging Miss Annie her fame and honor at all. But why single out one or two and make such ado? We want more of the women counted in.

Parsnip Complexion.

It does not require an expert to detect the sufferer from kidney trouble. The hollow cheeks, the sunken eyes, the dark, puffy circles under the eyes, the sallow parsnip-colored complexion indicates it.

A physician would ask if you had rheumatism, a dull pain or ache in the back or over the hips, stomach trouble, desire to urinate often, or a burning or scalding in passing it; if after passing there is an unsatisfactory feeling as if it must be at once repeated, or if the urine has a brick dust deposit or strong odor.

When these symptoms are present, no time should be lost in removing the cause.

Delay may lead to gravel, catarrh of the bladder, inflammation, causing stoppage, and sometimes require the drawing of the urine with instruments, or may run into Bright's Disease, the most dangerous stage of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, is a positive remedy for such diseases. Its reputation is world-wide and it is so easy to get at any drug store that no one need suffer any length of time for want of it.

However, if you prefer to first test its wonderful merits, mention THE CHRONICLE and write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton, N. Y., for a sample bottle of this remedy and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

AN ACT.

To provide for the permanent location of the County site of Shelby County, Alabama, by a vote of the qualified electors of said county.

Section 1.—Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Alabama that whenever fifty or more electors of said Shelby County, shall present to the Mayor of Calera, the Mayor of Columbiana and the Treasurer of Shelby County, State of Alabama, who are hereby created and appointed a board of commissioners for the purpose of this act or their successors in office a petition in writing praying for an election to ascertain the wishes of the people of said county as to whether the county site of said county shall remain at Columbiana the present county site of said county, or be removed to the city of Calera in said county, it shall be the duty of said board of commissioners to order an election and fix the time of holding the same which shall not be more than ninety (90) days, nor less than 30 days from the time of filing of such petition.

Section 2.—Be it further enacted that no election shall be ordered under the provisions of this act, until there shall be secured free of charge to Shelby County a bonafide subscription of the aggregate sum of Five thousand Dollars to be applied to the securing of a proper site and for the erection of a new courthouse in the city of Calera, such subscription to be payable in money, but the Court of County Commissioners of said county may accept in lieu thereof if they deem it advisable, a conveyance or conveyances of real estate at its market value for any part of such subscription. If the result of said election is in favor of the removal of said county site to the city of Calera, the Board of County Commissioners of said county, shall as soon thereafter as practicable not later than 30 days meet and determine whether they will accept such subscription in cash or any part thereof in land, and within thirty days after the decision by said Court of County Commissioners, said cash subscription shall be paid in money to the County Treasurer, or a deed to the property accepted by the Commissioners Court as aforesaid, conveying the land so donated and accepted to Shelby County, and shall be filed in the Probate office for record.

Section 3.—Be it further enacted that said Board of Commissioners herein above named shall be and they are hereby authorized to receive subscriptions to the fund to be donated to said County to be payable in the event the result of said election shall be in favor of the removal of said county site to the city of Calera.

Section 4.—Be it further enacted that if such election should result in favor of the removal of the county site to Calera, no order removing said county site to Calera as herein provided shall be made by said Board of Commissioners until the just and full sum of Five thousand Dollars has been paid in to the Treasury of Shelby County either in money or in land at its market value as provided by this act.

Section 5.—Be it further enacted that such Board of Commissioners shall give notice of said election at least sixty days prior to the holding of said election, and the purpose for which the same is to be held by publication in some newspaper published in the county.

Section 6.—(As amended)—Be it further enacted, That registration books shall be opened in each voting precinct and ward in said county on the day fixed by said Board of Commissioners for the registration of the voters of said county which said registers shall be appointed by said Board of Commissioners on the day said Board of Commissioners shall order the election and the books of registration shall be kept continuously open thirty working days. A registrar shall be appointed for each voting place, in precincts having more than one voting place. No person shall be entitled to vote in said election unless he registers before said registrar in the precinct or ward in which he resides within said time. The registrar shall require each and every elector who desires to register for the purpose of qualifying himself to vote in said election to take and subscribe the following oath, which shall in each case be administered by the registrar to the elector so registering: "State of Alabama, Shelby County, I, the undersigned elector do solemnly swear that I am a citizen of the United States, and of the State of Alabama and over the age of 21 years, and that I have resided in said State one year next preceding the date fixed for holding the courthouse election for said county, and in said county three months, and precinct (specifying the particular precinct in which the elector desires to register), thirty days, and that I am a duly and legally qualified elector and am not in any way disqualified by law from voting in the approaching election to determine the location of the county site of said county. That I am not disqualified by reason of conviction of any crime under which I would be disqualified under the general laws of the State." The several precinct and ward registrars shall, immediately upon the closing of the books of registration, in their respective precincts and wards, make a true copy and list of names registered in such precinct or ward and certify the same; and shall immediately after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for registration deliver the original registration lists, together with certified copy thereof to the Board of Commissioners for said election, who shall file and securely keep the same. And such Board of Commissioners shall deliver to the inspectors of the election, appointed as hereinafter provided, for the several precincts or wards, immediately preceding such election, the certified copy of said registration for said precinct or ward returned by the beat registrar.

Section 7.—Be it further enacted that only such persons shall be qualified or authorized to vote at said election as have duly registered, and have qualified themselves to vote by complying with the provisions of this act.

Section 8.—(As amended)—Be it further enacted, that it shall be the duty of the said Board of Commissioners, at least twenty days before the time appointed for holding said election as prescribed in section one of this Act to meet at the Court House at Columbiana and select and appoint three inspectors, two clerks and one returning officers to hold and conduct said election in the several voting wards and precincts of the county respectively. Inspectors and one of said clerks shall be appointed in each voting precinct and ward of said county upon the recommendation of the Mayor of Columbiana. One of said inspectors and one of said clerks of each precinct and ward in said county shall be appointed upon the recommendation of the Mayor of the city of Calera, and a third inspector and returning officer for each precinct and ward of said county shall be selected by said Board of Commissioners. In the event the Mayor of Columbiana shall fail to recommend a person for inspector and clerk for each voting precinct and ward of said county, the Mayor of Calera and Treasurer of Shelby County shall appoint one person from each of said voting precincts and wards, who is favorable to the location of said county site remaining in Columbiana, if practicable to do so; and if the Mayor of the City of Calera shall fail to recommend a person for inspector and clerk for each voting precinct and ward in said county, the Mayor of Columbiana and Treasurer of Shelby County shall appoint one person from each of said voting precincts and wards, who is favorable to the removal of said county site to Calera, if practicable to do so, and said Board of Commissioners shall notify or cause to be notified such persons so appointed as aforesaid of their appointment; the true meaning and intent of this act being to provide for a full and fair representation of both sides in the conduct of said election.

Section 9.—Be it further enacted that in the conduct of said election the clerks of said shall make and keep a true and correct list of the persons who vote in their respective precinct or wards, numbered consecutively in the order in which they voted, and the inspectors of said election shall not allow any person to vote in said election whose name does not appear upon the registration list furnished him for said precinct by said Board of Commissioners. In said election each person who has duly qualified and registered under the provisions of this act, shall be entitled to one vote. Said inspectors shall correctly number each ballot with the number to correspond with the number opposite the electors name on the poll list.

Section 10.—Be it further enacted that the elector who desires that the county site be removed to Calera shall have written or printed on his ballot, the words "For Calera," and the elector who desires that the county site shall remain at Columbiana shall have written or printed on his ballot the words "For Columbiana."

Section 11.—(as amended)—Be it further enacted, That the polls for said election shall be opened at the usual voting places in the several voting precincts and wards in said county by the inspectors appointed as herein provided for, not earlier than eight o'clock a. m. nor later than nine a. m. and shall be kept open continuously until 5 p. m. In case any election manager, clerk or returning officer, appointed as hereinbefore provided, shall fail to appear and discharge the duties as required in the conduct and holding of said election, it shall be the duty of the remaining inspectors, clerk and returning officers to fill the vacancy thereby caused by the appointment of another inspector, clerk or returning officer, as the case may be, and in filling such vacancy it shall be their duty to appoint an inspector, clerk or returning officer entertaining the same views as to the retention or removal of said court house as the absent inspector, clerk or returning officer, if practicable. Provided, however, that such absent inspector, clerk or returning officer shall be appointed upon the recommendation of the voters present at the time who entertain the same views as to the retention or removal of said court house, as the absent inspector, clerk or returning officer. Provided such persons shall make such recommendation.

Section 12.—(As amended)—Be it further enacted, That immediately after the closing of the polls on the day of said election provided for it shall be the duty of the inspectors of the election at the several precincts and wards in said county to count the ballot and certify the number of votes cast for Columbiana and the number of votes cast for Calera, and they shall also securely seal up and label the ballots cast at said election so as to show the precinct or ward in which they are cast and shall deliver the same together with the certificate of the result of such election and the registration list for said precinct, together with the poll list of electors in said precinct, securely sealed to the returning officer of said precinct or ward, and it shall be the duty of said returning officer within five (5) eight hours after receiving such returns, ballots, registration list and poll lists, to deliver the same to the Board of Commissioners or to such one or more of them as may be present at the office of the Mayor of the city of Calera, to be by such Mayor securely kept until it shall be necessary to remove the same to Columbiana for the purpose of canvassing the returns and declaring the result of said election. Said Board of Commissioners, or a majority of them, shall have the power and it shall be their duty in making said canvass and ascertaining the result of said election if they shall deem it necessary and proper to examine and recount the ballots for any precinct or ward in said county. And they shall also if they deem it necessary and proper examine and compare the original registration lists or poll lists made for said election with the registration lists or poll lists sent up with the several returns. They shall also have power and authority to reject in such count any ballots shown to be illegal.

Section 13.—Be it further enacted that said Board of Commissioners upon the conclusion of said count shall certify in writing the result of said election, a copy of which shall be filed and recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of said County. And they shall also publish the same in some newspaper published in said County giving the number of votes cast for Columbiana and the number of votes cast for Calera.

Section 14.—Be it further enacted that if upon a canvass of the returns of said election it shall be found that a majority of the legal votes cast in said election were in favor of the removal of the county site of said county to the city of Calera, then said city of Calera shall thereafter be the county site of said Shelby County, and it shall be the duty of the county commissioners as soon after the results of said election is ascertained as is practicable to select a suitable location within the city of Calera and to erect thereon a suitable courthouse for said county. And they are hereby authorized and empowered to purchase or receive by subscription or donation a fee simple title to any lot or lots of land so as to vest the title in the county of Shelby and proceed to erect on said lot or lots so selected a suitable courthouse for the use of said county, and to provide suitable places for the holding of courts within necessary places for the county officers. If said election shall be decided in favor of Calera it shall be the duty of the court of county commissioners as soon as practicable thereafter to provide a suitable building for the use of the officers of said county and such officers shall remove as soon as practicable to such places as is provided.

Section 15.—Be it further enacted that in the event of Calera receiving a majority of all legal votes cast in said election the court of county commissioners shall as soon as practicable thereafter sell all the land and other property except the county poorhouse belonging to the county located in or near the corporate limits of the town of Columbiana and turn the proceeds thereof into the county treasury or use the same or any part of it in the erection of a suitable courthouse for said county in the city of Calera. Provided that no thing in this act shall prevent the court of county commissioners from using of any material in said building in erecting a new courthouse.

Section 16.—Be it further enacted that any duty herein required to be performed by said board of commissioners to-wit: The Mayor of the city of Calera, the Mayor of the city of Columbiana, the County Treasurer of Shelby County, Alabama, may be performed by a majority of said board in case of a disagreement, among the members of said board or a failure or refusal of any member of said board to act.

Section 17.—Be it further enacted that if any person desiring to vote in said election shall falsely take and subscribe the registration oath as provided in this act, he shall be guilty of perjury and liable to indictment therefor.

Section 18.—Be it further enacted that for the registration of electors for said election as herein provided, said registrars shall receive the sum of three cents for every elector lawfully registered by him, to be paid by the County Treasurer upon the written order of said board of commissioners.

Section 19.—Be it further enacted, that each inspector, clerk, or returning officer shall receive the sum of one dollar and half per day for services rendered under this act, the same to be paid by the Treasurer upon order of said board of commissioners.

Section 20.—Be it further enacted that before entering upon the discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act, said board of commissioners shall each take and subscribe an oath to fairly and faithfully and impartially perform the duties required of them by this act.

Section 21.—(As amended)—Be it further enacted, That before entering upon the discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act, each registrar, inspector, clerk and returning officer shall take an oath faithfully and impartially to perform the duties required of them by this act, which oath may be administered by any person authorized to administer an oath, or by one another.

Section 22.—Be it further enacted that if any officer or person having any duties to perform under this act shall wilfully or corruptly fail or refuse to perform the same, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than $100.00 nor more than $500.00 and imprisoned in the county jail or sentenced to hard labor for the county for not less than 6 months.

Section 23.—Be it further enacted that if the election herein provided for shall not be called and held within four years from the approval of this act, then its provisions shall be null and void.

Section 24.—Provided that the election under this bill shall be contested as is provided by law in this State in elections for probate judges by any ten citizens of Shelby county and an appeal shall lie to the Supreme court from the judgment of said contest in the same manner as appeals from judgments or contests of election of probate judges.

Section 25.—Be it further enacted that all acts in conflict with this act be and the same is hereby repealed.

Section 6.—(Of amended bill)—Be it further enacted, That said act shall be amended by adding thereto the following additional sections, to-wit:

Section 29.—Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the Board of Commissioners to furnish the several registrars and inspectors of election with necessary blanks and stationery for the purpose of making the registration of votes and holding elections as provided in this act, and it shall be the duty of the county treasurer of Shelby county to pay for such blanks and stationery on the order of the Board of Commissioners.

Section 27.—Be it further enacted, That the petition for holding the election and the several orders and proceedings made and had thereon by the Board of Commissioners, created by this act may be filed by said Board in the office of the Judge of Probate of Shelby county, who shall thereupon record the same in the minute books of the probate court of said county, when so filed or recorded a certified copy shall be admissible in evidence in the several courts of the State, but the failure to so file or record shall not affect or invalidate any election held thereunder.

Section 28.—Be it further enacted, That if said election results in favor of the moving county site to Calera it shall be the duty of the court of county commissioners to have erected as soon as practicable all public buildings for the county at Calera except the poorhouse, and if they deem it advisable they may have the buildings now at Columbiana belonging to the county of Shelby, removed to Calera or use the material in them or any part thereof towards the erection of any buildings at Calera, the county may need; or they may sell the buildings at Columbiana, as in their judgment may be for the best interest of the county.

Section 29.—Be it further enacted, That this act and the act to which this is amended shall take effect immediately upon the passage and approval by the Governor.

Many so-called bitters are not medicines, but simply liquors disguised, so as to evade the law. Prickly Ash Bitters is not of this class. It is strictly a medicine, acting primarily on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and for the dangerous diseases that attack these organs it is a remedy of the first grade. There is nothing objectionable in its taste. It has a very agreeable flavor and is acceptable to the most delicate stomach. Sold by Drs. Williams Bros.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

Examined 44 Cases and Returned 37 True Bills.

To the Hon. George E. Brewer, Judge of the Seventh Judicial Circuit:

We, the grand jury organized at this term of the Shelby circuit court, beg leave to report that we have diligently inquired into the offenses against the law coming to our knowledge and have returned indictments in all cases where we thought the evidence justified it, except in a few unimportant misdemeanors which we think it unadvisable to make presentments for.

We have docketed 44 cases, examined 125 witnesses, and returned 37 true bills.

We have examined the books and vouchers of the county treasurer, and find same correct and all cash accounted for. We attach hereto his report, and find that he has on hand the amount of cash belonging to the county with which he is chargeabble.

We have examined the books and accounts of the county superintendent of education, and find all funds properly accounted for.

We have also examined the accounts of the sheriff for feeding prisoners, and find the same correct.

We have also examined the fee book of the probate judge, and report that the same is neatly and accurately kept and no illegal fees charged.

We wish to report that some of the records in the office of the judge of probate should be recopied, especially minute books from 1843 to 1851 and the Alabama Tract Book; also there are several volumes of records which should be rebound; and we recommend that the county commissioners have this work done at once.

We also examined the jail and premises, and find that some repairs are needed on the jailer's house, and we recommend that the county commissioners have this attended to. We found the jail cleanly and well kept, and the prisoners sufficiently fed.

We also examined the house for the poor, and while the inmates are sufficiently well fed, there is not as much cleanliness as there should be. Beds, bed-clothing and wearing apparel should be looked after and made more cleanly, and some additional blankets will be needed for another winter.

We have carefully examined the bonds of all county officers, and find them sufficient, except R. O. Camp and Geo. F. Peters, notaries public, which have become insufficient by reason of the fact that the bonds of each of said officials have only one lividg surety. We report that said bonds should have additional sureties.

We wish to thank your honor for your very able and clear charge; and we also desire to express our appreciation of the services of our worthy sheriff for his promptness in reaching witnesses, and of our bailiff, Mr. James Davis, for his faithful attention to his duties; and we also desire to express our thanks to our worthy solicitor for the valuable services rendered to our body during its sitting.

And now, having performed our duties to the best of our ability, we pray to be discharged.

This March 29, 1899.

J. C. FARLEY, Foreman.

The facts derived from impartial investigation shows that farming conducted on a right basis pays probably a larger per cent of profit than most other lines. It is also profitable. We are in receipt of a small pamphlet from the Manufacturer's Record, of Baltimore, containing the opinions of a Northern financier upon the advantages the South holds out to those contemplating the establishment of manufacturing industries, and of the remarkable progress it has made during the past eight years in the development of its iron and lumber trade. He gives the South credit for the production of three-fourth's of the world's cotton, speaks of the vast possibilities of its shipping interests, and predicts that it is only a question of time when the South will become the center of the commercial activity of the entire world.

STATE CONVENTION

Meets and Nominates Delegates.

The Democratic State convention, which convened in Montgomery yesterday, after much confusion, pandemonium, and in fact disgraceful scenes, settled down to substantial work, and the best and strongest element of Democracy in the State finally ruled the convention.

The following platform was adopted and delegates at large nominated:

We, the Democrats of Alabama in convention assembled, do hereby declare as follows:

1. That we favor the holding of a constitutional convention for the purpose of so regulating the right to vote as to perpetuate the rule of the white man in Alabama.

2. That the constitutional convention shall regulate all questions of suffrage so as not to conflict with the Constitution of the United States, and for the best interest of the people and taxpayers of the State of Alabama.

3. That there shall be inserted in such constitution a provision limiting the rate of taxation by the State, counties and municipalities, and that such rate shall not exceed the rate now fixed by the present constitution, but a lower rate if practicable.

4. That the proposed new constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the people for its adoption or rejection.

5. That we pledge our faith to the people of Alabama not to deprive any white man of his right to vote, except for conviction of infamous crime.

6. That section 39 of article 4 of the present constitution in reference to the removal and location of the State capital shall remain unchanged.

7. That the provisions and restrictions in the present constitution as to corporations shall remain unchanged.

8. That we hereby instruct all Democratic members of the constitutional convention faithfully to carry out the above pledges.

The following resolution was adopted, by a vote of 332 to 166:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that a constitutional convention be held.

Delegates were elected from the districts as follows:

1. W. T. Sanders, of Limestone.
2. A. F. Murray, of Morgan.
3. Robert L. Hipp, of Blount.
4. John W. Grayson, of Madison.
5. J. B. Starnes, of Marshall.
6. Amos Goodhue, of Etowah.
7. Jno. B. Knox, of Anniston.
8. Thos. S. Plowman, of Talladega.
9. J. J. Robinson, of Chambers.

The Housewife's Daily Burden.

It is a common remark with hundreds of men that they wonder "what women find to do at all." Sometimes curiosity gets the better of a man and he asks his wife what she has done all day. "Oh, a hundred and one little things," she says. Then he thinks of some momentous scheme over which he has been working all day, and makes a mental comparison, in which his wife's work takes second place. He overlooks the fact, however, that a woman's life in the home is made up of "little things," and that these same "little things" are not only necessary, but that they are absolutely vital to the even adjustment of the domestic machinery of his home. They are "little" only in a woman's eye; they would instantly assume proportions of magnitude if the man's hands were to try to do them.—Edward Bok in the April Ladies' Home Journal.

Indigestion is the direct cause of diseases that kill thousands of persons annually. Stop the trouble at the outset with a little Prickly Ash Bitters; it strengthens the stomach and aids digestion. Sold by Drs. William Bros.

J. F. Pope presents his spring announcement in this issue. We have not seen his stock, but we are sure it is complete, as it always is. He calls especial attention to his millinery department, in which he excels. Miss Horne, who has charge of this department, is prepared to please the ladies, who are invited to give her a call.

The family that keeps on hand and uses occasionally the celebrated Prickly Ash Bitters is always a well regulated family. For sale by Drs. Williams Bros.

Saturday night was the time predicted by the Rev. Hicks when a terrific cyclone would sweep this portion of the country, and not a few of our people had their old pits and cellars in readiness for the reception. The time of its coming has been indefinitely postponed, however.

POPULISTS ACCEPT

The Invitation to a Conference on County Delegate.

Pursuant to the resolution of the county Democratic convention a communication was addressed to the Populist executive committee, informing it of the action of the Democrats and requesting a conference. This communication was delivered to Chairman Wilson last Friday, with the suggestion that the earliest day possible be named after the Democratic State convention.

The Populist committee met on Saturday, and the communication was considered. It was decided to accept the invitation to a conference, and a committee was appointed for that purpose. The committee is M. S. Wilson, chairman of the executive committee; A. P. Longshore, G. B. Deans, Jno. B. Randall and H. M. Norris. Saturday, the 1st of April, was named as the day for the meeting of the two committees.

We are informed that the executive committee named Messrs. G. B. Deans, Jno. B. Randall and J. R. Beavers from whom to be selected a candidate satisfactory to the Populists.

Vandiver Echoes.

Miss Daisy Walker is on the sick list this week, measles presiding.

Mrs. J. L. Vandiver was stricken with epilepsy Sunday morning. Drs. Abercrombie and Babb were immediately summoned, and after some few hours of faithful work she succeeded in gaining consciousness, and is now improving nicely.

Col. E. L. Higdon and Dr. Addison, of Birmingham, visited the family of Dr. Babb last week.

The writer is informed that lightning struck the barn of William King at Dunavant last week, setting it on fire and completely destroying it, together with 1,500 pounds of meat, 150 pounds of lard, and all the corn.

G. E. Brashier and daughters made a business trip to Birmingham last week.

Mr. Brashier and W. I. Whitfield killed two fine gobblers at the turkey blind last Saturday morning.

Mrs. Dr. Babb made a business trip to Leeds last week.

J. N. Warren visited in the Magic City this week.

Success to THE CHRONICLE and its many readers. JOKER.

Excuse short comings of THE CHRONICLE this week. The woman editor didn't know she had to get up the copy until a late hour.

A Card.

As stated in last week's issue, we will now further explain the work which is desired to be done in organizing the county for the purpose of giving expression to the sentiment of the people with reference to the convention, if held, in relation to its action on the whisky traffic.

Let all ministers hold special meetings in their several charges, secure the names of all who will join in the movement, elect a president and secretary, and appoint proper persons to canvass and solicit for members who will pledge themselves to do all they can to prevent the curtailment of the power of the legislature to legislate on the liquor business. When organization is effected let the several secretaries write immediately to W. F. Thetford, Columbiana, Ala., giving the names of the president and secretary of each society, and the number of members. Let the president and secretary certify that the number of members returned is the correct number belonging to each society.

Let everyone be assured that the movement is non-political, non-sectarian, and that we want all classes and conditions of men and women to be represented in a universal protest against any interference with the powers now granted to the legislature by the present constitution in dealing with the liquor business. Let good temperance laymen also take up the work and push it at once. Hoping to have ready and full responses from the people all over the county.

Yours sincerely and fraternally,
SAMUEL N. BURNS.
Pres. Tem. Work, Shelby County.

Rev. Mr. Roberts filled his appointment at the Methodist church last Sunday.

The Harpersville Literary Society is progressing finely.

M. M. Robertson is riding for the grand jury in this part of the moral vineyard.

Mr. Isaac Burchfield, of Arkansas, has been visiting relatives in our community since I last wrote you.

The peach crop is almost going to be a failure and pears and apples are damaged to some extent.

Dr. Teague is in town and will preach at the Baptist church Sunday.

We say let the Democrats nominate a Democrat for delegate, one who is a Democrat, and not afraid to tell it, one with brains and common sense, and one who will work in the interest of the whole people. If we get beat it is no more than has been done in the past. It would be very nice for the white people to get together; but I can't see that the Democratic party has ever done anything for those people to leave it, and I, for one, say let's put a ticket in the field and not depart from the principles laid down by Jefferson and maintained by Jackson. If we claim to be Democrats we can't do otherwise. JAKE.

"Peace Hath Her Victories

No less renowned than war," said Milton, and now, in the Spring, is the time to get a peaceful victory over the impurities which have been accumulating in the blood during Winter's hearty eating. The banner of peace is borne aloft by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It brings rest and comfort to the weary body racked by pains of all sorts and kinds. Its beneficial effects prove it to be the great specific to be relied upon for victory. Hood's never disappoints.

SCIENTIFIC NOTES.

An easy way to clean a chimney of soot has been discovered by a Maine man. Instead of going to the top of the chimney and probing with rods, he begins at the bottom. There an opening is made, and he fires upward a revolver charged with a blank cartridge. The concussion, it is said, will clean out the soot. He also claims that the burning of a piece of zinc in a stove will clear the stove and its funnel of soot.

A writer in Cosmos, M. Emile Mason, argues that the East Indian dugong or lamatin is the natural foundation for the myths or sirens, nereids, and tritons. A female dugong recently captured in the Red Sea has a head and bust which, when seen at some little distance, might be taken for a mermaid. The lamatin has also a vibrant voice, and these two combined make a good base for the theory which the writer has advanced with a good deal of elaboration.

Some of the more advanced of the physicologists now claim that the back lobes of the brain are the seat of the higher intellectual faculties, a theory which is in direct opposition to that of the phrenologists and to popular opinion as well, the latter being that a high forehead is a proof of superior intelligence. To the large hind head has been attributed an unusual degree of animalism. Dr. C. Clapham, an anthropologist of high repute throughout Europe, has given arguments in favor of the posterior lobes in a recently published paper, which shows that man, of all creatures, has the most highly developed posterior lobes, and that the ablest men and races have them in the highest perfection. Idiots and confirmed lunatics, according to his investigations, have these imperfectly developed or in a very bad state.

Street Scenes in Madrid.

It will interest Americans to know that the citizens of Madrid always howl derisively when they see a certain dog that bears a fancied resemblance to a pig. They have named the dog "McKinley," and his life has not been worth living since the Spaniards were forced to their knees by a nation presided over by a man bearing that name. The artist, William Bengough, humorously depicts a scene when McKinley takes his walks abroad.

Another of Bengough's pictures shows a feather-flying time in the market-place in Madrid. Live chickens are the principal articles of commerce at this exchange. The senoras, as may be seen by the picture, are not always peaceably disposed.

Where all the blind in Madrid come from is a mystery to Bengough. He writes that all the streets are haunted by hundreds of these unfortunates, who outnumber the other large classes of beggars. The halt, the maimed and the blind abound in Madrid since the war. Most of these unfortunates claim to have come by their injuries fighting the terrible Americans.

Rear Admiral Albert Kautz, who has been dispatched to Samoa to look after American interests there, is an Ohio man of 60 years of age. He was a chum and classmate of Dewey at Annapolis, and made his first cruise as a midshipman on the old frigate Colorado.

RANDOLPH MAY BE HANGED.

A Colombian Jury Returns a Verdict of Deliberate Manslaughter Against a Former Alabamian.

The following cablegram was received at the state department Saturday from Secretary of Legation McNally, of the United States legation at Bogota, Colombia:

"Randolph tried yesterday at Medellin. The jury has returned a verdict of deliberate homicide."

The cablegram is dated March 21st and in all probability is the end of one of the most prolonged efforts ever made to save the life of an American citizen.

Francis C. Randolph is from one of the best families in the south. He was a hero on the southern side in the war between the states. After reconstruction he was the first democrat to be elected probate judge of Montgomery county, Ala., and for several terms he filled that lucrative and honored position on successive re-elections. Several years ago he suddenly disappeared, and it was found that he was about $26,000 short in his accounts. He fled to South America. He went to Colombia and it was in the little town of Calli, in that country, that he killed a man, September 5, 1895. The man was a reputable German merchant named Simmonds, who was held in high esteem in the community. The killing grew out of a dispute in Simmonds's house over some property he had sold to Randolph, who was living under the assumed name of Charles Radford. Randolph admitted the killing and was thrown into prison. His Alabama friends, notably ex-Secretary Herbert, interested themselves in his behalf and induced the state department to employ attorneys to defend him. Their efforts in his behalf, however, were fruitless.

Illicit Distillers Raided.

Deputy Collector John F. Lanier and three deputy marshals made three very successful raids upon moonshine stills in Jackson county. The first still destroyed was one of the finest ever run upon in the moonshine business, belonging to William Walker, and being valued at $300. It was found three miles west of Holly Tree. The outfit was complete in every particular, consisting of a 150-gallon tank still, condenser, charge box, eight fermenters of 100 gallons capacity, three of 1,500 gallons capacity, one of 5,000 gallons capacity, iron boiler and a 90-foot copper worm. The still had a capacity of thirty-five gallons of whiskey a day.

Three miles southeast of Larkin, the officers destroyed Richard Fowler's still, which had been licensed for making brandy, but had branched off into the moonshine business.

Child Seriously Burned.

Little Eva Williams, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Williams, was badly burned at Attalla Saturday. She was standing in front of an open grate when her clothes became ignited. Miss Nellie Fields who tried to extinguish the flames was also burned.

Philippine Policy not Yet Decided.

The administration will not decide upon its permanent policy respecting the Philippines until the Schurman commission reports. It feels that its present knowledge of the islands is too indefinate as a basis for a fixed policy. Moreover, an immediate decision is felt to be needless since, for the present, the only problem is the restoration of law and order and the establishment of stable peaceful conditions. This and the appointment of a diplomatic representative at Madrid are two of the most important matters remaining open. The Madrid mission probably will be raised to an embassy soon after payment of the indemnity.

Prominent Mill Man Killed.

AN OPERATION AVOIDED.

Mrs. Rosa Gaum Writes to Mrs. Pinkham About it. She Says:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I take pleasure in writing you a few lines to inform you of the good your Vegetable Compound has done me. I cannot thank you enough for what your medicine has done for me; it has, indeed, helped me wonderfully.

For years I was troubled with an ovarian tumor, each year growing worse, until at last I was compelled to consult with a physician.

He said nothing could be done for me but to go under an operation.

In speaking with a friend of mine about it, she recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, saying she knew it would cure me. I then sent for your medicine, and after taking three bottles of it, the tumor disappeared. Oh! you do not know how much good your medicine has done me. I shall recommend it to all suffering women.—Mrs. ROSA GAUM, 720 Wall St., Los Angeles, Cal.

The great and unvarying success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in relieving every derangement of the female organs, demonstrates it to be the modern safeguard of woman's happiness and bodily strength. More than a million women have been benefited by it.

Every woman who needs advice about her health is invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass.

There is a rumor in Washington that Gen. Joe Wheeler may be the next secretary of state, in case Alger should be induced to resign, or be otherwise got rid of. The president, it is said, would appoint Wheeler for manifold reasons—to enthuse the south, to reward a hero, to show the democrats the breadth of the presidential mind, and to announce that money is not the issue, but that expansion is.

London's Antiquated Lights.

Piccadilly, one of the greatest thoroughfares in London, receives its only light at night from antiquated lamp posts, which were originally designed to hold oil lamps, and when gas came in vogue were re-arranged for their present use. The committees of every club in Piccadilly—with one exception—addressed a joint communication to the Vestry of St. George's, Hanover Square, on December 20 last, requesting that this great thoroughfare should be efficiently lit either with electricity or otherwise. The ratable value of the combined clubs amounts to about $150,000. Evidently municipal bodies are as autocratic in London as they are in America, for up to date no action has been taken in the matter by the vestry.

A novel way of illuminating a railway tunnel has been devised in Paris. Any Girl Can Tell

A physician who makes the test and is honest about it can tell you that, in many cases, the number of red corpuscles in the blood is doubled after a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

That this means good blood may not be entirely clear from the doctor's statement, but any girl who has tried the pills can tell you that it means red lips, bright eyes, good appetite, absence of headache, and that it transforms the pale and sallow girl into a maiden who glows with the beauty which perfect health alone can give.

Mothers whose daughters grow debilitated as they pass from girlhood into womanhood should not neglect the pill best adapted for this particular ill.

Frank B. Trout, of 103 Griswold Ave., Detroit, Mich., says: "At the age of fourteen we had to take our daughter from school on account of ill health. She weighed only 90 pounds, was pale and sallow and the doctors said she had anæmia. Finally we gave her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. When she had taken two boxes she was strong enough to leave her bed, and in less than six months was something like herself. To-day she is entirely cured, and is a big, strong, healthy girl, weighing 130 pounds, and has never had a sick day since."—Detroit Evening News.

The genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold only in packages, the wrapper always bearing the full name. At all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N.Y. 50 per box.

Fish Suffer in Cold Water.

It doubtless occured to very few people to pity the fish during the extreme cold weather of last winter, yet they suffered quite as much as other animals, only in a different way. Like all other creatures, fish must have oxygen to breathe, but instead of taking it in the form of air they get theirs in solution with the water in which they live. This supply must, however, be constantly renewed from the air, and when the water is frozen over for any length of time, the stock is, of course, shut off, and the fish suffocate just as much as you would shut up in a box. This is more apt to happen in ponds and small lakes, as in all large bodies of water air holes are sure to exist at frequent intervals. If you should examine these air holes, you would always find large schools of fish congregated about them, eager for the fresh oxygen.

An Excellent Combination.

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.

THE CHRONICLE.

Probate Judge jly1

Democratic at all Times and Under all Circumstances--Consequently Opposed to Monopolies.

VOL. XIV. COLUMBIANA, SHELBY COUNTY, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1899. NO. 18.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Cahaba River Wreck Suit.

At Birmingham the case of Wiley G. Lansford vs. the Louisville & Nashville railroad reached an end Friday night when the jury returned at 11 o'clock a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $7,662.50 damages. The suit was for $40,000 damages and grew out of the Cahaba river bridge disaster. The trial lasted eleven days and was hotly contested to the finish.

Recruiting Office at Anniston Closed.

The army recruiting office which has been conducted in Anniston for the past six weeks by Lieutenant John H. Parker was closed Saturday. Lieutenant Parker and his clerks, Messrs. Luckie and Murray, have gone to Savannah, where Lieutenant Parker will assist in mustering out a number of volunteer regiments and establish another recruiting station.

About 125 recruits were secured in Anniston, which is considered good work in view of the fact that the recruiting office was not established until just before the last regiment stationed there was mustered out.

State Pharmaceutical Association.

The Alabama State Pharmaceutical association will meet in Birmingham on May 9 and 10. A meeting was held by the local association in the rooms of the Commercial club Friday afternoon for the purpose of arranging for the reception and care of the delegates to the state convention. The meeting was presided over by President H. H. Sinnige. The meeting resulted in the details being referred to an executive committee composed of the president and George Baines, J. L. Parker, G. B. Forbes, G. B. McVay and Arlie Barber. A large attendance is expected at the state convention.

Short In His Accounts.

State Examiner Purifoy has reported to the governor the result of his investigation of the office affairs of former sheriff H. Ben Ferrell, of Russell county. The report charges a delinquency of more than $6,000, the amount having accrued mostly from various errors in feed bills and in charges for removal of prisoners. This being the most considerable shortage that has been developed by the examiners since the E. B. Lott investigation, considerable interest attaches to its outcome. Mr. Ferrell is an exceedingly popular man in his county and is highly regarded there. His defense will be awaited with interest all over the state.

A Wonderful Invention.

Reese Hutchison, a young electrician, graduate of Auburn college, Alabama, exhibited in Mobile one day last week his apparatus for making the deaf hear. He augments vibration and enables deaf mutes to hear words spoken in ordinary tone, and also to hear piano, guitar, the phonograph and enjoy the music. The apparatus for use of the deaf is the size of a pocketbook and is connected by wires with audiphone to be held at the ear. Two totally deaf men were experimented with. They stood fifty feet from the piano and marked time of the music, laughing with delight over the novel experience.

Good Resolutions.

The sixth annual industrial congress of negroes was held at the Agricultural and Mechanical College for Negroes at Normal last Saturday. The attendance covered a larger territory than on any former occasion. Prof. W. H. Councill is president. After much discussion the congress resolved that there is still a need of a thorough literary, moral and industrial education of the negro; that the negro should buy homes and small farms, keep out of debt, pay taxes promptly and obey the law and cultivate friendly relations with all men. A feature of the congress was an industrial exhibit by the college. The next congress will be held in October and will be a representative body rather than a mass meeting.

Big Deal in Lands.

The Richmond Trust and Safe Deposit Company, which is supposed to represent John Shelton Williams, of Richmond, was recently conveyed a large tract of mineral property about Gate City, and the amount paid was $120,000. The deed by which the property of the Mary Pratt furnace was transferred was also filed for record, the consideration being $50,000. A quit-claim deed to certain property in Gate City was also filed, the consideration being $9,024. The John Skelton Williams syndicate is supposed to be the purchasers of all this property, and the entrance of the Seaboard Air-Line into Birmingham, besides the building the of blast furnaces and a steel mill, are the stated outcome.

Don't Like the Revenue Law.

Merchants, saloonkeepers and business men generally of Huntsville have raised a strong protest against the new state revenue law passed by the last legislature, requiring an additional license for nearly every line of business.

Wholesale liquor dealers were required to pay an additional tax of $225 and retail dealers had to come up with $35.50 additional. Every line of business requires an additional license, this after the annual license had been secured. Huntsville lawyers believe the revenue law is unconstitutional and it is likely that a test case will go up from this city. A majority of the business men pay the license under protest and Probate Judge Stewart has refused to be a party to the law and does not collect the fees allowed him.

Mine Inspector's Report.

Chief Mine Inspector Hooper has filed the following report with the governor:

"During the month of March two men were killed in the mines in this state, James Osborn, colored laborer, killed at Mountain Top by falling rock. McClendon Hawkins, suffocated by powder smoke at Patton No. 2.

"This last case I had investigated by Assistants Culverhouse and Duncan, and I attach a copy of their report hereto. I am of the opinion that their explanation is the correct solution of this unfortunate accident.

"Mr. Culverhouse, assistant inspector, reports the convict mines in good condition, with the exception of some water caused by the heavy rains. So far during the present year no convict has been killed or seriously injured by falling rocks or coal, and I have every reason to believe this year will show the minimum of accidents of this class in the convict mines.

"J. deB. HOOPER,
"Chief Mine Inspector."

Alabama Dentsts.

The Alabama Dental association, which held its thirtieth annual convention in Anniston last week, adjourned to meet in Mobile on the first Tuesday in May.

Just prior to the adjournment the association elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Dr. P. R. Tunstall, of Mobile.

First Vice President—Dr. J. P. Corley, of Greensboro.

Second Vice President—Dr. W. E. Proctor, of Sheffield.

Secretary—Dr. W. J. Reynolds, of Selma.

Executive Committee—Drs. T. M. Allen, of Birmingham; R. C. Young, of Anniston; T. B. Whitby, of Selma.

Press Editor—Dr. R. C. Young, of Anniston.

Dr. R. B. Chapman, of Troy, was re-elected as a member of the board of examiners.

During the sessions of the convention the board of examiners examined and admitted to practice about fifteen young dentists.

The visitors were entertained at various musicales and receptions during their stay in Anniston.

Christian Endeavor Meeting.

The convention of the Christian Endeavor society of Alabama at Birmingham last week was attended by a large number from all over the state. The session lasted until Sunday night. The officers of the society are, in position, S. J. Cassells, of Montgomery, president; Miss Naldo Allen, of Birmingham, secretary, and T. S. McAloney, of Talladega, treasurer.

President Cassels delivered his annual address, which was a very able document. John Willis Baer, of Boston, secretary of the Christian Endeavor society of the world, conducted a "practical parliament" and also delivered an address on "The Tenth Legion."

Friday night a prayer and praise service was conducted by E. A. Smith, president of the local union, and Mr. Baer spoke on "Christian Ideals." The election of officers for the ensuing term resulted as follows:

President—Rev. O. P. Speigle, Birmingham.

World's Vice-President—S. J. Cassels, of Montgomery.

Secretary—Miss Naldo Allen, Birmingham.

Vice-Presidents—Presbyterian, R. W. Cecil, Birmingham; Methodist-Protestant, Rev. C. P. McDonald, Montgomery; Cumberland Presbyterian, C. C. Russell, Selma; Congregationalist, A. T. Clark, Shelby; Christian, Rev. E. T. Spicer, Selma; Methodist-Episcopal, Fred S. Ball, Montgomery.

An Important Ruling.

Acting under the advice of the attorney-general of the state, the Alabama State Board of Examiners announces that a state certificate for a State Normal school, through the state superintendent's office, as authorized by the law governing, is valid under the "new law" and all Normal graduates are therefore exempt from the examinations. This means much to Normal graduates, whose state certificate, per the state superintendent of education, is thus made of the best authority and valuation.

The Troy, Ala., State Normal college issues under the above law state certificates for two, four and six years, and for life, as per course taken, and students and teachers are admitted on reliable testimonial as far along on the course as their attainments will warrant and afforded the best of facilities to compete for a state certificate, or diploma and degree, as may be warranted.

The summer term, beginning April 18 to 24, to last ten weeks, will have classes in all the branches of the state examinations, and on through the college curriculum besides. This affords a fine opportunity to prepare for a state certificate in a good school, which sends its teachers over a wide expanse of territory, on the call of school officers to President Eldridge for same.

Texas is Opposed to Trusts.

The anti-pool trust or corporation trust bill has been introduced in the Texas senate by senator Davidson.

The bill follows the Arkansas anti-trust law closely and will undoubtedly be passed by the present legislature.

The bill is considered the most drastic ever introduced into a Texas legislature, but coming at the time it does it will receive the very heartiest support.

Thirty-six Persons Drowned.

The Glenogle, which has arrived at Victoria, B. C., from the Orient, brings news of a collision between the steamers Hokushin Maru and Kitami Maru off Ofuyu Cape, in the province of Teshio Hokkaido, on the 30th ultimo. The Hokushin sank immediately, and on board, thirty-six persons, were drowned. The other vessel made for shore and succeeded in getting into the shallows, where she stranded.

CUBAN MUSTER ROLLS.

Forty-eight Thousand Names Shown on Face of the Lists.

The Cuban army muster rolls which were delivered the other day to Governor-General Brooke show on their face 48,000 names—6,000 commanding officers and 42,000 non-commissioned officers and privates.

At the meeting between General Brooke and General Gomez with the other ten Cuban generals pleasant things were said all around.

There seems to be no doubt that Major-General Lee will be appointed governor of the province of Pinar del Rio and of all Havana province outside the city of Havana combined in a single military department.

Arkansas Will Have a New Capitol.

A telegram from Little Rock, Ark., says: The bill introduced by Senator Kimball, of Hot Springs, providing for the erection of a new state capitol at a cost not to exceed $1,000,000, has passed the house, and now awaits the governor's signature.

The new capitol is to be erected on the site of the present penitentiary, and that institution is to be removed to a point outside the city limits. Enough granite has already been tendered the state for the erection of the capitol.

Sheridan Reaches Manila.

The United States transport Sheridan, formerly the Massachusetts, which sailed from New York February 19th, having on board the Twelfth and a battalion of the Seventeenth infantry, has arrived at Manila after a smooth passage.

One the night of April 11th Lieutenant Mayer disappeared from the ship. The weather was intensely hot and the lieutenant was sleeping on the deck. It is supposed that he fell overboard.

Three privates and six children of privates died from pneumonia.

Around the World In 33 Days.

The Russian Minister of Railroads, it is announced in a special dispatch from Saint Petersburg, says that when the Trans-Siberian Railroad is completed it will be possible to go around the world in thirty-three days.

Four persons were burned to death in a fire at the Northumberland county almshouse at Chatham, N. B., Saturday. The institution was destroyed, with a loss of $10,000.

THE DOLLAR JEFFERSON BANQUET ATTENDED BY TREMENDOUS CROWD

William Jennings Bryan Was the Principal Speaker of the Evening And Was Accorded An Ovation By the Diners.

NEBRASKAN DECLARES PLATFORM MUCH STRONGER

All Kinds of People Dressed In All Kinds of Clothes Were Present As Partakers of the Repast or as Spectators.

The dollar Jefferson dinner of the Chicago platform democrats at the Grand Central Palace, New York, Saturday night, in point of numbers, was one of the biggest affairs ever held in the city. Nearly 3,000 men and women sat down at long tables in the various rooms of the big palace. There were all kinds of people there, dressed in all kinds of clothes. There were four Japanese and three Chinese present, but the Chinese were merely spectators, and sat up in the second gallery. They said they had come to see Bryan.

The main hall presented a different aspect from that of the Metropolitan opera house at the $10 dinner of the Democratic club. There were no flower embellishments, but just great long avenues of tables covered with plain white plates.

The only ornaments were bunches of celery and graniteware coffee pots. The boxes about the hall were festooned with flags, with silken banners suspended between the flags. At the back of the stage were two American flags draped, one bearing the portrait of Jefferson and the other that of Bryan. Small portraits of Bryan were interspersed between the flags on the balconies.

On the stage was an immense floral horseshoe of carnations, roses and heliotrope, it had, worked in flowers, the words, "Women's Bryan League." Below the red carnations in white roses was the name "Bryan." Surrounding all were the numerals "16 to 1." Back on one of the cane-bottom chairs was a magnificent boquet of roses, American Beauties. But not even on the guests' table was there a single flower.

There were 150 policemen in and about the place.

The women to the number of 475 dined in the long hall just off the second gallery. They sat down to the tables at 5:30 o'clock. The first excitement of the evening occurred when the Russian-American Democratic Association, 250 strong, from the eighth assembly district, marched in. They were received with cheers.

There was no concerted attempt to seat the 3,000 diners simultaneously. All were told to go in and sit down. About 7 o'clock nearly every seat of the men's tables was occupied, and the service began. Over 600 waiters began work shortly before 7 o'clock. The menu included soup, fish, roast beef, turkey, ice cream, ceffee and cigars.

Three thousand bottles of wine were served.

William Jennings Bryan did not arrive until shortly after 7 o'clock. Crowds on the outside signaled his appearane by tremendous cheering. He came in a cab, and was escorted through a tremendous crowd to the waiting room outside the main hall.

Then he was escorted to the guests' table, a long table in front of the platform. Following came the speakers of the evening

The band played "Hail to the Chief" as Bryan was hurried down one of the main aisles. There was tremendous cheering and waving of napkins.

Diners stood on chairs and tables waving frantically. The demonstration lasted for five minutes.

The crowd was a thoroughly representative one, and before the dinner was concluded hundreds of the diners left their seats and began to shake hands with Colonel Bryan. This was stopped with much difficulty.

At 9 o'clock the committee and the speakers ascended to the platform.

Bryan received a vociferous ovation, the diners in many instances again standing on chairs and tables and the women waving napkins wildly.

James R. Brown called the meeting to order, and introduced George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, who was given a fine reception. The crowd in the galleries meantime had increased, and there were at least 5,000 people in the hall. The mention of Henry George's name evoked an extraordinary demonstration.

O. H. P. Belmont was next introduced, and read from manuscript. John Clark Ridpath spoke on "Thomas Jefferson." When Mr. Ridpath said that Jefferson stood above Adams and Otis, and was the most intellectual democrat that ever lived, a hundred voices shouted:

"No, no! Bryan!"

At the close of Mr. Ridpath's speech a horseshoe of flowers was presented to Colonel Bryan, who arose and bowed.

In introducing Mr. Bryan, Chairman Brown said that Abraham Lincoln had come out of the west to save the nation, and another man had come from the west to save the nation.

A perfect tempest of applause from the men and women broke out. The applause subsided, but started again. The band ctruck up, but could scarcely be heard as it played "The Stars and Stripes Forever." Hats were thrown up into the air; women waved their cloaks and handkerchiefs. There was a maelstrom of discord. Bryan raised his hand deprecatingly, but the more he did this the more the crowd cheered. It was a wild, frantic demonstration. It lasted for at least five minutes.

Talks of Democracy.

Mr. Bryan began his speech as follows:

Mr. Chairman, Democrats, Ladies and gentlemen—I esteem it a great privilege to be permitted to attend this, probably the largest banquet ever given in the United States. (Interruption of cheers for Bryan.)

I appreciate the kindness which has been manifested by your action and by the words of those who have preceded me. I shall carry back to my western home new courage from your meeting and shall be glad to tell the people in other states that in New York there be those who are true to the principles of democracy, as written in democracy's latest creed. (Cries of "bravo!")

The object of this banquet was to give Chicago platform democrats a chance to celebrate the birthday of Thomas Jefferson. (Cries of that's it.) There was a banquet given in honor of Thomas Jefferson two nights ago and the discussion of the price per plate obscured to some extent the difference between that banquet and this. A democrat has the right to pay whatever he pleases for a dinner, if he has the money.

The character of a political banquet is determined not by the cost of it, but by the sentiments which are woven into the post-prandial oratory.

We have not one word of hostility to utter toward those democrats who left the democratic party in 1896. Far be it from us to criticise any man whose judgment or conscience leads him out of the democratic party. When the republicans met at St. Louis, some of the republicans left the republican party rather than adapt themselves to the platform written out at St. Louis.

A party is an association of the people for the purpose of giving force and effect to political opinions held in common. They talked to us about harmony! The only kind of harmony that is possible is harmony between those who think and act together to give force to their common opinions.

There can be no harmony between those whose opinions are as antagonistic as the opinions set forth in the Chicago platform and in the Indianapolis platform.

All that we ask is that those who come into the democratic party shall be a part of the democratic party.

His references to the Chicago platform and his declaration that his nomination had not come from bosses was received with tremendous cheers. He caused great enthusiasm when he declared that the Chicago platform was a menace to those who robbed others, and he created a furore when he stated that the platform was disliked by those who had their hands in the pockets of the people.

The speaker declared that an income tax should be enacted and that government by injunction should be discountenced.

Tumultuous applause greeted his reference to the drafting of the soldier and the unwillingness to tax the rich. He said:

"The war has shown that when this government deals with an individual its power is unlimited, but that when it deals with property its power is limited. It can draft the citizen, but it cannot touch the dollar.

"In the hour of peril the nation can take the son from his mother, and the husband from his wife, and stand them up in front of an enemy's guns, but it dare not lay its finger upon the wealth of the rich and make them contribute their share." (Tremendous cheering.)

In reference to his nomination Mr. Bryan said:

"It is a compliment to receive a presidential nomination from any national convention, but I am proud that my nomination came from a convention, not of bosses, but of democratic citizens. (Loud applause.) It has vindicated that platform and every plank of it is stronger today than it was when the platform was written."

SUCCEEDS STORER.

Lawrence Townsend Appointed Minister to Brussels, Belgium.

The president has appointed Lawrence Townsend, of Pennsylvania, to succeed Bellamy Storer as United States minister to Brussels, Belgium.

Mr. Townsend is at present United States minister at Lisbon, and his transfer leaves a vacancy in the Portuguese mission, for which a selection has already been made and will shortly be announced.

SPANISH CONSULS NAMED.

Queen Regent Will Soon Send Forth Her Representatives.

The official gazette published at Madrid contains a royal decree appointing the Duke de Arcos to be Spanish envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the United States. The decree also creates consulates at Havana, Manila, Iloilo, San Juan de Porto Rico and Cienfuegos.

Senor Larrea, now Spanish consul at Antwerp, is transferred to Havana.

LOOKS BAD FOR QUAY.

Red, Blue and Black Bank Books Admitted as Evidence.

The prosecution in the trial of ex-United States Senator Quay at Philadelphia, succeeded in having admitted as evidence the three books found in Cashier Hopkins' desk after the People's bank failure, and on the pages of which the commonwealth alleges will be found the evidences of conspiracy between Mr. Quay, late ex-Senator Benjamin J. Haywood and John S. Hopkins, the dead cashier. These books are the famous "red book" over which the legal battle as to its admissibility has waged since the early part of the week and which ended Saturday in a complete victory for the prosecution, the "black book" and the "blue book."

In the "red book," it is charged by the prosecution, will be found calculations by Hopkins of interest on state funds, which interest was paid to then State Treasurer Haywood and Senator Quay. The "black book" contains records and entries pertaining to stock transactions alleged to connect the defendant with Hopkins in using state funds for speculation. The "blue book" is asserted to be a record of individual loans by Cashier Hopkins, and, it is charged, will show that Senator Quay was loand money without sufficient security.

EXPORTS ON INCREASE.

Iron and Steel Industry Shows a Remarkably Big Growth.

The bureau of statistics, in an article furnished the press Sunday says that the exportation of manufactures in the fiscal year 1899 is likely to show an increase of more than $30,000,000 over that of last year, and that iron and steel alone will supply more than one-half that increase.

In the eight months of the fiscal year for which the treasury bureau of statistics figures are now available, the exports of iron and steel are nearly $16,000,000 greater than in the corresponding months of the preceding fiscal year, showing a gain of 36 per cent over those of last year, and nearly 70 per cent over those of the preceding year.

CUBAN OUTLAWS AT WORK.

Bandits Are Active In Pillaging Plantations and Residences.

News has been received from Marianao that fifteen mounted bandits raided the Vinellos plantation, ten miles from Havana, at twilight Friday. They then rode into Caimito, where they plundered two dwellings, and then went to a third, where a dance was in progress. The raiders fired a volley at close range, killing a Cuban captain, one soldier and a bystander and wounding a sergeant, soldier and two bystanders.

The affair was reported at General Lee's headquarters and three detachments of cavalrymen were sent on different roads to the district in pursuit of the bandits.

BIG ORDER FOR BEEF.

Kansas City Concern Will Send 1,500,000 Pounds to Philippines.

One of the largest contracts for dressed beef ever placed by the United States government has just been arranged with a Kansas City packing house.

The contract is for 1,500,000 pounds of best export dressed beef to be shipped to the Philippine islands for the government troops.

The beef will be furnished in Kansas City, and twelve carloads of the order will be started at once.

TO FIGHT ALLIANCE.

German-Americans of Chicago to Form A National Association.

German-American citizens of Chicago met Sunday night and formulated plans for the organization of an association, which will be national in character, and having as its object opposition to an Anglo-American alliance. Those in attendance represented the leading German-American clubs, societies and churches of the city.

NOT ANXIOUS TO RE-ENLIST.

Volunteers, as a Rule, Desire to Return to Their Homes.

That the volunteers wish to return to this country is evidenced in a report ceived at Washington which shows evidence that of those who have been given an opportunity to re-enlist with the offer of a bonus in travel pay of over $500 only about 7 per cent will accept.

A DIFFERENCE IN FIGURES.

Cuban Muster Roll Does Not Tally With American Count.

The Cuban army muster rolls, which were delivered to Governor General Brooke, through Senor Domingo Mendez Capote, are prepared in new clerical style, the 1,200 broad sheets showing on their face 48,000 names—6,000 commissioned officers and 42,000 non-commissioned officers and privates.

The United States military authorities make no attempt to reconcile the 42,000 non-commissioned officers and privates indicated by these rolls with the 13,219 given in the estimates prepared under the direction of the provincial governors.

COLYAR CASE WENT OVER.

Trial of Alleged Conspirator Is Postponed at New York.

The examination of A. S. Colyar, Jr., charged with attempt to kidnap Nicholas A. Heckman, the principal witness for the state in the case against Roland B. Molineaux, was commenced in police court in New York Friday and adjourned until Monday without any result having been reached. Magistrate Sims heard the testimony.

INSTRUCTION GIVEN TO COMMISSIONERS

By the Three Powers Are Uniform and Conciliatory.

NO DIFFERENCES EXIST.

Members Will Deal With Situation as They Find It.

A Washington special says: After hearing from the British and German embassies Friday morning the state department was enabled to announce positively and finally that the three parties to the Berlin treaty had agreed upon the instructions to be given their Samoan commissioners, and that it was certain that the commission would leave San Francisco on the 25th instant for Samoa on the Badger.

The instructions to the commissioners are identical, the three governments having accepted a form which compromises the differences that have existed up to this point.

The commission is empowered to deal with the situation as it finds it in the Samoan islands upon its arrival. This applies to acts necessary to place the affairs of the islands in a peaceful and satisfactory condition for the time being. Whatever the commission does in this direction is understood to be of a temporary character and subject to the approval of the three powers.

As to the merits of the bitter controversy between the representatives of the different powers on the island which led up to the unfortunate outbreak of April 1st, the commissioners are expected to make a thorough and impartial investigation and report the results to their respective governments. The latter, will by ordinary diplomatic exchange, apply any corrections that seem to be necessary.

The commissioners will have no power to alter the treaty of Berlin. They mey make recommendations to that end, and where they are unanimous, it is probable that their recommendations may be accepted for changes in the treaty.

At the British and German embassies the Samoan commission is considered settled beyond further question and all attention is now being given to the departure of the commissioners.

The German ambassador, Dr. Von Holleben, called Friday on Secretary Hay and communicated an official dispatch from the Berlin foreign office, saying definitely and positively that the commission matter had been settled, and that the commissioners should leave at the earliest possible moment. It is understood that the German communication removes all question of doubt by reciting the text of the note delivered on Wednesday by the British ambassador at Berlin to Baron Von Buelow, the German minister of foreign affairs.

Baron Sternburg has received his instructions from Berlin. It is expected that the foreign office will send supplementary instructions to San Francisco so as to reach him before he sails. Mr. Elliot, the British commissioner, has received preliminary instructions concerning matters of detail. The main instructions are to leave at once, but by mail if sufficient time is permitted.

There will be no joint meeting of the high commission in Washington, and the members of the commission who are in the city say there is positively no warrant for statements that any advance decision or line of action will be taken.

TESTIMONY RULED OUT.

Prosecution In the Mrs. George Case Has a Set-Back.

During the trial of Mrs. Anna George at Canton, O., Friday, numerous threats by Mrs. George against the life of George D. Saxton were testified to by witnesses. Many of the statements were coupled with Mrs. George's story of the alleged wrongs to her at Saxton's hands which she told the witnesses in connection with her threats.

All was not smooth sailing for the state Friday. The prosecution had expected to identify a chemical analysis of the cuticle taken from Mrs. George's hands when she was arrested and prove thereby that the discoloration was due to powder smoke. The testimony was ruled out. The witness was not allowed to testify.

WILL SHOW ALIBIS.

Three Alleged Baker Lynchers Dropped From Indictment.

A Charleston dispatch says: When the government rested its case in the Lake City lynching trial Friday morning counsel for the defense suggested that the names of Clark, Kelly and E. Rodgers be dropped from the indictment, as they had not been connected with the murder by the evidence. District Attorney Lathrop accepted, thus leaving eight men at the bar.

The defense announced that it would seek to show that Baker was killed by a masked mob that rode into Lake City, and further to establish alibis for the defendants.

BIMETALLIC CLUB MEETS.

Officers For Ensuing Year Elected at Montgomery, Ala.

The Montgomery County (Ala.) Bimetallic Club held its annual meeting Friday night and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Gordon McDonald, president; John W. A. Sanford, Jr., vice-president; A. M. Moner, secretary and treasurer. It is understood the president will appoint Hon. Pat McGonley to the chairmanship of the executive committee.

DEMOCRATIC STATE PLATFORM.

We, the Democrats of Alabama, in convention assembled, do hereby declare as follows:

1. That we favor the holding of a constitutional convention for the purpose of so regulating the right to vote as to perpetuate the rule of the white man in Alabama.

2. That the constitutional convention shall regulate all questions of suffrage so as not to conflict with the Constitution of the United States, and for the best interest of the people and taxpayers of the State of Alabama.

3. That there shall be inserted in such constitution a provision limiting the rate of taxation by the State, counties and municipalities, and that such rate shall not exceed the rate now fixed by the present constitution, but a lower rate if practicable.

4. That the proposed new constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the people for its adoption or rejection.

5. That we pledge our faith to the people of Alabama not to deprive any white man of his right to vote except for conviction of infamous crime.

6. That section 39 of article 4 of the present constitution in reference to the removal and location of the State capitol shall remain unchanged.

7. That the provisions and restrictions in the present constitution as to corporations shall remain unchanged.

8. That we hereby instruct all Democratic members of the constitution to faithfully carry out the above pledges.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY PLATFORM.

The Democratic party of Shelby County, in convention assembled, declares its belief in a just, capable and honest government; and to that end desires such a change in the Constitution of this State as will place the governing power in the hands of those who are competent to properly administer it; but is opposed to the disfranchisement of any white citizen of this State.

We believe that the new Constitution when framed should be referred to the people for final ratification.

We are opposed to any increase in the tax rate above the present Constutional limit.

We are opposed to the curtailment of the present power of the legislature to regulate, control or prohibit the sale of liquor as the people may in their wisdom desire.

IN the election on the courthouse removal in Calhoun Anniston is reported to have won by about 1600 majority.

THE Governor, up to the last reports, had not called the legislature together, but the indications are that he will do so.

THE Populist massmeeting was a failure. They explain it by saying their people were at work. Possibly true; but the time has been when the Populists would risk the loss of a crop for the sake of participating in a political meeting. A clearer reason would be given if it were worth the while.

THE Populists have gotten around to the old convention plan. They have always been controlled by the bosses of their party, but with a semblance of fairness by the primary route. From now on, if they exist any longer, they will throw off all disguise and dictate with a high hand and untrammeled with any qualms of conscience.

THE Governor has power to convene the legislature in extraordinary emergencies—for what? Clearly for the good of the people. Johnston proposes to convene it for the good of the Democratic party, so he says. Johnston is kind, but it is our opinion that the Democratic party can take care of itself better than the legislature can.

NEXT year there will be to elect in this county a sheriff, tax collector, tax assessor, treasurer, superintendent of education, senator, representative, two commissioners, thirty-six justices of the peace and eighteen constables. If the present conditions remain, the campaign will be simply a question of buying the negro vote, and the party with the most money will win.

IF the constitutional convention act is repealed it will be done by a minority of the Democratic members acting with the Populists against the majority of the Democrats. This would be a victory for the Populists, and they are now laughing in their sleeves at the prospects. If this is the good of the party which Johnston has in view, we beg to be excused from any such aid.

THE Governor's action makes the disfranchisement of the negro all the more necessary. He has struck a blow at party fealty from which it will be hard for the party to recover. Unless the negro is disfranchised the want of party loyalty in the future will place the negro in power, either by giving him office or a dangerous influence in the nomination of men who can buy him.

LITTLE Billy Brandon is not going to resign his seat in the legislature until after the extra session, although he is holding another office of profit. The spirit of the constitution is to be violated by calling the legislature together, and it is to be violated by double officeholders participating in the deliberations. It is about time we had a new constitution, if the present one is so pliant.

GOVERNOR Johnston has a funny way of seeking advice as to the best means of preserving Democratic unity. He proposes to call a special session of the legislature for the good of the Democratic party, and then asks Populists for advice thereon. The Governor must be very much displeased with the present management of the party that he has to go to Populists for advice as to how to run the party.

WHO FOR, WHO AGAINST.

An anonymous correspondent in the Montgomery Journal, who thinks he is acquainted with the people of Alabama, gives the character of the people who favor the constitutional convention. He classifies them as follows:

First, some candidates for the convention; second, the Palmer and Buckner men; third, the executive committee of the party; fourth, the attorneys of all classes of corporations; fifth, the boomsters of land companies, speculators and developers, and, sixth, a few people who are frightened into its support by the party lash. All the other people, says this noted sage, are opposed to it.

We wager that this anonymous wonder is either a second class officeholder, an officeseeker, or a Republican. It matters little which, he knows no more about the great heart of the people on this question than he evidently knows about party law.

His vaporings set us thinking as to who do favor the convention and who oppose it, and we find that up here in the hills they are classified as follows:

Those who favor the constitutional convention for the purposes set forth in the Democratic platform are—

First, all Democrrts, regardless of their belief on any other policy of the party favor it, and they do so because they are Democrats and consequently believe in the perpetuation of white supremacy by methods recognized by law; because they believe in honest elections and pure politics, and know that these can not prevail so long as the negro in his present condition and with his present characteristics is a factor in our body politic; because they desire to see men elected to office on their merits, and not because of their ability to buy an irresponsible element of voters or their power to sway their prejudices by false reasoning.

Second, all those white Populists who sincerely believe in honest elections and the success of merit and who are not afraid to risk the pledges of the Democrats to submit the new constitution back to them for final ratification, or who have not been blinded by the scarecrow tales of their leaders.

These two classes compose all our people, with two exceptions. They are opposed to any change for reasons that are plain.

The first of these classes are the leaders of the Populist party, who are either in office or hope to be, and those whom they can lead about by the nose with a few insinuations and tales of persecution. These are opposed to disfranchising the negro because they depend upon his votes to put them in office.

As we intimated above there is a large element of Populists who will vote against the convention, not because they are opposed to disfranchising the negro, but because they are afraid to risk the Democrats to make a constitution which they may not have a chance to ratify or reject. If they could be convinced that the work of the convention would be submitted to them for approval they would vote for it. They have been taught to distrust all men, and it is distrust and not desire that controls their sentiment on this question.

IT is not often that we find anything of an editorial nature in the Advocate worthy of comment, but in the last issue we find this sentence: "The calling of the convention should not be made a party issue." Yet the Populist committee called a massmeeting to be participated in only by those opposed to the calling of a convention. In other words, the Democrats ought not to make the calling of the convention a party issue, but the Populists ought to make the opposition a party issue. That is about as clear a distinction as a Populist editor could possibly make on any point.

ONE of our Populist officials, who is recognized as a conscientious man, was interviewed one day this week on the subject of the constitutional convention. He unhesitatingly declared himself in favor of the disfranchisement of the negro, and said he would be in favor of the calling of a convention if he was sure that it would be passed upon by the people after it was done. Many of them say the same thing. To these we can only suggest that the Democratic party, strong as it is could hardly afford to violate its pledge to refer to the people, a pledge made not only to Populists but to Democrats who would otherwise oppose the convention.

A CAREFUL reading of the following from the Selma Times will give some idea of the needs of a constitutional convention as well as the sentiment which prevails in the black belt:

The Old Guard, the boys in the trenches, have the same blood coursing in their veins that they had in '76 and they are willing to do or die. They will ever hold aloft the banner of white supremacy. Like the little band that gathered around the immortal Lee at Appomattox, we are few in number but dauntless in spirit.

But years of ceaseless toil, enemies from without and pie hunters from within, has told on the Old Guard, and they have turned to the Democratic party for relief. The cry has gone forth, "Help us or we sink." We have gone to the white people of Alabama and asked them to relieve us of the "black man's burden." We do not ask for the disfranchisement of a single blue-eyed, straight-haired Caucassian, whether he owns five cents worth of property or knows a letter of the alphabet. What we want and what we ask for is to have the pillow of darkness that threatens to engulf us rolled back from our portals.

Governor Johnston thinks this can be done by an amendment. The party does not think so, and Governor Johnston is not wiser than the party.

CURRENT CRITICISMS.

By MRS. F. W. GIST.

MOBILE, ALA, April 7, 1899.

My Dear Mrs. Gist:

Our convention closed after the session of yesterday morning. The last of the three delightful entertainments came off last night in the beautiful temperance hall of the Masonic Temple—a concert by the Clara Schuman Society, by far the most nearly perfect concert by amateurs I ever heard. As the graceful and lovely Mobile women appeared, mind and music and high soul breathing in fall and manner, it is impossible to describe their charm. I had often heard them extolled—their beauty, patrician manners, wit and tact—but such women must be seen to be appreciated. Had this concert come off the first night of our arrival, I am safe in asserting that its influence would have elevated the tone of the convention.

That convention had in it some fine, forceful women, and was presided over by one who has always seemed by many reasons entitled to that preeminence assigned her among Alabama women, and who never demonstrated her womanly and official qualifications to more high purpose than during these Federation days.

The subject of greatest moment was of course the reformatory school for boys, and the report of Mrs. R. D. Johnson, telling that this is really and truly a thing achieved, its charter granted and an appropriation made. The account of how it was achieved was received with great enthusiasm. Mrs. Haley's report on traveling libraries gave great pleasure and satisfaction. The club extension report by Mrs. Cecil Browne showed an increase of clubs by fourteen. The education committee report was a succinct summary of the improvement made during the year in the public school system, and quoted Superintendent Abercrombie's assurance that much was due to the work of the Federation. The report included an outline of educational work as it is being done by the Federation of other States, and was incidentally a demonstration of some of the advantages of belonging to the General Federation.

A debate on the Eternal Feminine was brilliantly conducted by Birmingham women. A symposium on woman by Mobile women and one Sheffield woman was, in the estimation of many, that number which elicited most profound interest. A granddaughter of Admiral Semmes spoke on the Modern Woman, and in a manner that made Mobile and as much of Alabama as was present share the pride she expressed when, in silvery tones, her bright face luminous, she said, "I am proud that I am an American woman, prouder still I am an Alabama woman, and proudest of all I am a Mobile woman." This sentiment is one that contributes in each ardent lover of her home city to elevation of her own by greatest effort, and is akin to the fervent love of Virginia felt by her brilliant sen. John Randolph, who having expressed his zeal for the commonwealth of Virginia, said 'twas this spirit in each and all that kept a country prepared at every point with defenders of the home.

It would be impossible to tell of the many fine talks and papers. I must tell you that we had the honor of listening to an address by the distinguished guest of Mobile, Mrs. W. B. Lowe, who said that in the many State conventions she had attended she had never been more impressed by the character and intelligence of officers and delegates. Mrs. Lowe made warm personal friends and awakened a lively interest in the General Federation.

An official organ, Woman's Work, already adopted through the vote of the majority of the clubs, was presented to the Federation by its owner, Mrs. E. H. Fitzpatrick, of No Name Club, Montgomery, and was accepted with a resolution of thanks. An offer of consolidation from the New Era was rejected.

The Woman's Club of Birmingham was received with the Federation, and as it makes one section overwhelm the rest in numbers, a basis of representation had to be arranged in order that justice to all be maintained.

Some changes in the constitution were made, but as these are matters requiring great accuracy I would rather refer you to the constitution itself when it shall have been published.

The entertainments were a brilliant feature—a drive down the shell road, a boat ride down the bay, an afternoon tea at Mrs. John G. Mann's, and a farewell reception after the Schuman concert, already spoken of.

The most valued thing Mobile did for the Federation was to bring us in contact with her noble women. On all the impression was made that the right city had the Federation and the right woman was in the right place and must be kept there.

The same officers were reelected; not simply out of compliment to them, but that the organization might not lose the benefit of their first year's experience.

Hoping everything good for the Columbiana club, I am, cordially,

A CLUB WOMAN.

P. S.—The corresponding secretary and recording secretary declined to serve on account of the pressure of domestic duties, and Mrs. H. T. Inge was elected corresponding secretary and Mrs. James Jackson recording secretary, the former of Mobile, and the latter of Tuscumbia.

***

The club woman and the clubs singly and collectively have had to, and will have to continue, to elbow themselves and ingratiate their purposes and works into the minds and hearts of all thinking and unprejudiced men in order to draw out their sympathies, services and aid they have undertaken to accomplish. For instance, can Mrs. Johnson, with all her energy, tact and skill, build the proposed boys reformatory without the sanction and assistance of the men and outside women of our State? Most assuredly not. Do we realize how keenly we are being watched, and that the least wrangling among us will be ridiculed and will degrade us in the estimation of this same public. The press of the State has so far been charible and silent, so far as we have seen, in not abusing the disruptions and little grievances recently enacted at the Federation in Mobile, and surely it is in the province of our press women to do much for the cause of allaying and smoothing out these little ruffled places. Better far to throw the mantle of charity over all errors and blunders, than pursue a downward course of antagonism that will carry us to a pit of helplessness where we will have neither ability or influence to carry on the wishes and high purposes so dear to the club woman's heart. Our president erred almost unpardonably, yet 'tis better to pardon. What have we to gain in the next year's work not to do so? After all, we never could have calculated that she was immaculate and without blame or error—who amongst us is that? It is time, sisters, to get our Bibles down and turn to Proverbs; you know where to find these words: "A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up anger."

THE Governor is getting the addresses of county executive committees, presumably for the purpose of inducing them to take sides with him in his effort to defeat the will of his party. He has been furnished with those of Shelby. THE CHRONICLE can speak with authority when it warns him that he will get cold comfort from them. They are all Democrats, and Democracy in this county means submission to the will of a majority expressed through a convention of Democratic delegates. Our county convention adopted a platform almost identical with the State platform, and we in Shelby are against the Governor, first because we want to be, and second because it is our duty to be.

Attention, Fellow-Veterans.

In the year 1897 we had a grand rally of the old boys of this county, and the writer would like to have an expression from the old Confederate soldiers of the county in regard to one more reunion some time this summer. This is a move without politics, partyism or anything else save the kind feeling we have or should have one for another as brothers. We have been wonderfully blessed. Should we not assemble ourselves together, what few of us have been left, and rejoice and give thanks to Almighty God for His goodness and for the preservation of our lives? Think of it, brothers.

Now, I would suggest that a representative from each beat meet at some point in the county and select a place for the grand rally. Have you any interest in this move? If so, let m hear from you.

AFRICAN LIMBLESS COTTON SEED FREE

Anyone who sends a year's subscription to the Atlanta Semi-Weekly Journal can get postpaid one pound of the celebrated African Limbless Cotton Seed without charge.

One pound of these seed will plant one-fifth of an acre, and with proper attention should yield enouga to plant a crop.

The seed were tested in a list of thirty varieties by the Georgia Experiment Station, and a bulletin recently issued by Director Redding shows that the African Limbless Cotton produced 70 pounds more per acre than any other variety, and 161 pounds more per acre than the average of thirty leading varieties. The African Limbless Cotton produced 780 pounds of lint per acre, which is nearly four times the average on the farms of the South. This shows what high fertilization and thorough culture will do with these seed. The value of the product, counting cotton at 5 cents and seed at 13 cents a bushel, was over $45 per acre. The cost of fertilizers used was $4 77 per acre.

The Journal does not guarantee results, but the result of the test at the Experiment Station make it worth a farmer's while to try these seed when they cost him nothing.

The Journal brings you the news of the world twice a week, with hunereds of articles of special interest about the farm household, juvenile topics, and every Southern farmer should have the paper. You don't have to wait a week for the news, but get it twice as often as you do in the weeklies, wplch charge the same price.

THE CHRONICLE and the Journal, three papers per week, sent regularly to your address, and 1 pound of the Limbless Cotton Seed for only $1.75

10 CENTS IN SILVER pays for your name in the American Farmers' Directory, which goes whirling all over the United States to publishers, etc., and you will get hundreds of free sample copies of agricultural journals, magazines, newspapers, etc., for two years or more. The Alabama Fertilizer

Is said, by over 12,000 farmers in this State to be the best all around fertilizer for cotton and corn.

It is the oldest brand now sold in Alabama, and is just the same as it always has been. Everyone of the 48 premiums given during a series of years through the Commercial and Industrial Association for the greatest yield of cotton and corn on a specified area of land was awarded to farmers who used exclusively the ALABAMA FERTILIZER. The only objection ever raised to the ALABAMA FERTILIZER was that it costs too much.

The present price is no more than that of standard fertilizers. When requested, the ALABAMA FERTILIZER will put up, without extra cost, in bags treated by the Mummia Vegetable Fibre Preserving Process, thereby insuring the per cet preservation of the bags for an indefinite time, and saving the contents from loss by waste in handling. These preserved bags when emptied and thoroughly washed will be found as good and strong as new, and equally useful for other purposes. Every person, farmer, merchant or dealer vitally interested in the economical production of good crops should advocate the use of ALABAMA FERTILIZER.

Advice to Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand.

These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

What are these remedies? Fresh air, proper food and

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak throats, weak lungs and consumption in all its stages.

CONFEDERATE PENSIONS.

How to Proceed in Making Applications.

The Governor has appointed Dr. A. T. Rowe and S. H. Gist as pension examiners for this county. This board will keep an office open for the examination of applicants from the first Monday in June for thirty days. Blanks for applications are now in the hands of the Probate Judge, and can be obtained by those who desire them.

The applicant for pension must make oath to the following facts:

That he is a resident citizen of Shelby County, and that he resided in said county on the 1st day of January, 1899.

That he enlisted in the service of the State or Confederate States, giving company and regiment and rank, date of enlistment, place of enlistment, date and place of honorable discharge.

That he is now unable to make a living by manual labor, and on account of what physical ailment.

His age and post-office address.

That he does not own property, in his own name or that of his wife, to the value of $400; that his annual income does not exceed $400; that he has no children upon whom he can depend for a support.

This oath must be made before any officer authorized to take acknowledgements.

Applicant must also give the affidavits of two persons that they know the applicant, and that they know of their own personal knowledge that he did serve as set forth in the application, and that he did not desert the service, but was honorably discharged.

Applicant must also file a list of his or her real and personal property and the value of the same.

Widows must testify to the same facts in connection with her husband's service, and her own physical and financial condition, and that she has not remarried since the death of her husband who was in the service.

These applications must be filed with and passed upon by the county board, and if approved placed in the proper class. They will then be passed upon by the State board, and if approved will not have to make application again.

If physically unable to appear in person before the board, applicants' papers must show it, and they will be passed upon accordingly.

News was received here Saturday of the death of Lemuel Crumpton in Birmingham on Friday of small pox. The news of his death caused universal regret at this place, as Lem was a much liked and highly esteemed young man. He died Friday morning, and was buried that afternoon.

POPULIST MASSMEETING.

Anti-Convention People Make a Small Showing.

Last Saturday was the day set for the Populist massmeeting to nominate a candidate for delegate to the constitutional convention. A call had been issued by Chairman Wilson, inviting everybody, regardless of party, who opposed the convention, to attend. About 1 o'clock a few people gathered in the courthouse and were called to order by H. M. Norris, Chairman Wilson being absent. Hon. A. P. Longshore was elected chairman and O. O. Bird was made secretary.

When the meeting was opened there were just 14 people in the house, but a few more dropped in until the number was increased to 22. There were 10 from Columbiana, 5 from Calera, 1 from Bridgeton, 1 from Montevallo, 1 from Bamford, 1 from Wilsonville, and 3 scattering.

The chairman stated the object of the meeting to be to select delegates to the Populist State convention on the 3d of May at Birmingham, and the nomination of a candidate. He called for volunteers to attend the State convention.

A motion was made that the chair appoint the delegates. The motion prevailed, and the following were appointed:

Jasper Holcombe, J. T. Porter, G. B. Deans, of Calera; J. P. Pearson, of Columbiana; W. E. Harrison, of Montevallo; R. F. Cox, of Bridgeton; Robert McEwen, of Wilsonville; Jno. S. Pitts, of Vincent. Eight alternates were appointed in the same manner.

Then came the question of nominating a candidate. B. W. Brand wanted to nominate, and wanted the candidate to be a straight Populist. W. A. Tallant wanted to postpone, and Mr. Cox wanted to nominate. Mr. Brand moved to proceed to a nomination, and placed the name of Jno. B. Randall before the meeting.

A division of the question was had, and on the motion to nominate the vote was 6 ayes and 8 nays. So the nomination was postponed.

Mr. Holcombe then suggested that the delegates to the State convention be authorized to make a nomination when they got together. Mr. Brand moved that a county convention be held for that purpose, and that each beat be entitled to 3 delegates. Mr. Pearson opposed this representation, and finally a basis of one delegate to every 25 votes cast for G. B. Deans for Governor was agreed upon. The date of the convention was fixed on the third Saturday in May, which falls on the 20th. Each beat is to hold a beat meeting or primary on the 13th of May.

Under the above basis the beats will be entitled to the following delegates:

Beat 1	11
2	3
3	5
4	8
5	1
6	2
7	3
8	4
9	9
10	5
11	2
12	2
13	2
14	2
15	2
16	3
17	1
18	1
Total	66

The Populists present at the meeting seemed somewhat at a loss to know how to proceed in the matter of a nomination. It is known that Senator Deans desires to be in the constitutional convention if one is held, but his real position is not very well understood by his constituents, and they are somewhat afraid to risk him. Some of the middle-of-the-road people want to nominate Jno. B. Randall, of Calera, but it is known that he is quite willing for the negroes to be disfranchised, and this would constitute an element of weakness. It is said that the friends of Judge Longshore want to nominate J. R. Beavers, but as Mr. Beavers is a Democrat he is not satisfactory to a majority of the Populists. Only these three have been mentioned, and as there were so few present at the meeting no expression was taken.

Mr. Brand wanted the meeting to declare Governor Johnston a good Populist, but the chair ruled him out of order.

The Presbyterian juvenile society will meet at the residence of Mrs. Gist tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Remember Friday, instead of Saturday.

Will Bowie, colored barber in the employ of John Cromwell, skipped out by the light of the moon Saturday night, leaving several unpaid bills and an extremely bad name behind.

C. H. Bradshaw and family, of Vance, and T. M. Goodwin and wife, of Oxmoor, came over Sunday to be at the burial of Mrs. Bilbrey.

Monday morning, while hauling logs for the Sterrett Lumber Co., George Lawley was thrown from the dray, one wheel running across his body, very seriously injuring him. He was brought home on a litter, where he is being cared for. It is hoped his injuries will not prove fatal and that a soon recovery may be given him.

J. W. Goodwin and wife, of Brighton, are visiting the family of T. B. Falkner.

Death has again invaded this community, taking from it one of its best and noblest women. Mrs. Dovie J. Bilbrey, wife of G. M. Bilbrey, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Falkner, died Friday night, April, 14, 1899, after one week's intense sufferings and agonies. Mrs. Bilbrey had given up her home and came to minister to the wants of an afflicted mother, but the Lord called her first. She joined the Baptist church when 16 years old and was ever a consistent member, living an exemplary life to all around her. She leaves a husband, three little children, father, mother and two brothers, J. H. and J. S. Falkner—the latter of Columbiana—besides many relatives and friends to mourn her demise. She was 29 years of age at the time of her death. Her remains were interred in the cemetery here Sunday, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. S. V. McGinnis, who performed the marriage ceremony in February, 1890. May we all meet her in the beyond, where partings come not. XXX

Weeping for the Dead.

There is nothing more pathetic than the lamentations of woman over the loss of their ones. We have often heard it, and it ever brings a sadness over us that time only can erase.

Last Saturday morning the news reached Mrs. Wm. Parker, of Wilsonville, and her sister, Rena, who was with her at the time, that their brother, Lemmie, had died at Birmingham of small pox. Realizing that they could never see his face again in life, their grief was intense. We are told that Lemmie Crumpton was a bright young man, making his final preparation in school to go out into the various walks of life; but he is dead. We often wonder why it is that these young men, so full of life and hope, should pass away—but such is life. There is a hand, unseen by man, that is shaping the destiny of all, and as we tread the pathway of life we know not what tomorrow will bring. C. A. M.

W. H. Bird, teacher of Mt. Era school, will give an exhibition at that place on May 5, beginning at 7 p. m. An interesting programme has been prepared, and all are invited, a special invitation being extended to the county superintendent.

In last week's issue we stated that Lee Rice was found guilty of perjury and sentenced to one day's confinement in the county jail, when we should have said "for contempt of court," he having excused one of his witnesses without proper authority.

What Shall we Do?

A serious and dangerous disease prevails in this country, dangerous because so deceptive. It comes on so slowly yet surely that it is often firmly seated before we are aware of it.

The name of this disease which may be divided into three distinct stages, is, first, Kidney trouble, indicated by pain in the back, rheumatism, lumbago frequent desire to urinate, often with a burning sensation, the flow of urine being copious or scant with strong odor.

If allowed to advadce, this reaches the second stage, or Bladder trouble, with heavy pain in the abdomen low down between the navel and the water passage, increasing desire to urinate, with scalding sensation in passing, small quantities being passed with difficulty, sometimes necessary to draw it with instruments. If uric acid or gravel has formed, it will prove dangerous if neglected.

The third stage is Bright's Disease.

There is comfort in knowing that Dr. Kilmer, the great kidney and bladder specialist, has discovered a remedy, famous for its marvelous cures of the most distressing cases, and known as Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root.

It is sold by all druggists.

As a proof of the wonderful virtues of this discovery, Swamp Root, a sample bottle and a book of valuable information will be sent absolutely free by mail on application to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing kindly mention that you read this liberal offer in THE CHRONICLE.

A Norway Dinner.

An American in Norway writes: "I recently went to a by no means unusual sort of dinner party given by a wealthy political man, where twenty-three courses composed the menu. Refraining from a statement of the number of wines accompanying this feast, let me offer for contemplation the fact that services thirteen and fifteen, each of heavy meat, were divorced by (course fourteen) a rich plum pudding with sweet sauce. Dinner began at 5 o'clock; the women left the table a little before 8! At 9 the men rojoined them for talk, music and cards, and at 11 the dining room doors again opened to reveal a supper table laden with every cold delicacy, from a bird to a caviare sandwich, calculated to tempt and restore fainting humanity."

THE DUTY OF MOTHERS.

Daughters Should be Carefully Guided in Early Womanhood.

What suffering frequently results from a mother's ignorance; or more frequently from a mother's neglect to properly instruct her daughter!

Tradition says "woman must suffer," and young women are so taught. There is a little truth and a great deal of exaggeration in this. If a young woman suffers severely she needs treatment and her mother should see that she gets it.

Many mothers hesitate to take their daughters to a physician for examination; but no mother need hesitate to write freely about her daughter or herself to Mrs. Pinkham and secure the most efficient advice without charge. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

"My health became so poor that I had to leave school. I was tired all the time, and had dreadful pains in my side and back. I was also troubled with irregularity of menses. I was very weak, and lost so much flesh that my friends became alarmed. My mother, who is a firm believer in your remedies from experience, thought perhaps they might benefit me and wrote you for advice. I followed the advice you gave, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as you directed, and am now as well as I ever was. I have gained flesh and have a good color. I am completely cured of irregularity."
